

The GOLDEN FLEECE

By JASON
When Jason made the recent claim that, "The University of Idaho has the most beautiful women in the Pacific Northwest," many people kind of splintered to themselves, or just outright called us a prevaricator (sounds better than liar doesn't it?)

One of our coeds, Jackie Taylor, has been chosen one of 12 finalists in the national "Miss Esquire Calendar Girl of 1951" contest—the only Pacific Northwest coed so honored as far as we now know.

Our logic professor may accuse us of arguing from the specific to the general, but we now say: "We told you so."

On Blood
And with that for confidence, we make another claim. No other campus has as much blood as ours—blood they will donate freely to the Red Cross for use in Korea, that is.

In the only student-sponsored drive of its kind conducted among universities and colleges in the United States, almost 20 per cent of the University of Idaho student body, gave a pint of their blood each.

We challenge any other institution of higher learning to do as well.

On Weekends
Ever spend a weekend night at home?

You didn't have a date for any of the many reasons, and you wanted someplace to go where you could meet other people—preferably of the opposite sex.

We know how that place can be furnished, with little effort.

The new Student Union building offers excellent opportunities for the establishment of a regular weekend mixer. Enough different student bands may be located to play, for advertisement purposes, or bands may be formed on the spot for the dancing music.

If a band could not be found, a juke box would do. A few tables scattered, at which parties could play cards or drink soft drinks, would add atmosphere.

Get Acquainted
A place has long been needed in Moscow, where both men and women could go, with or without dates. The Student Union building could be that place.

Some coeds may not wish to appear out on weekend nights without an escort; but there are enough different reasons why she may not have a date on one specific night that she should not be disgraced by this. Anyway most of the males would be glad to see them at a mixer that they wouldn't think about why the gal didn't have a date. The males need no excuse—statistics pal.

According to some of the campus males, it's easier to get acquainted at a dance than to meet a coed in a restaurant or someplace else. So let's have dances for better chances.

Detists Lose Business
Saturdays game between Idaho and Oregon State must have been quite a pain for dentists. Three Idaho players, Roy Colquitt, Jim Tallant and Bob Holder, lost teeth during the encounter.

Pullman Features Infantry Chorus

The famed de Paur Infantry Chorus will open the 1950 Moscow-Pullman community concert series. This singing group is scheduled to appear in Memorial gym November 21 at 8 p.m.

Students will be admitted with ASUI activity cards. The community concerts are sponsored by the ASUI in conjunction with the Moscow-Pullman community concert association.

LDS Wins 100% Plaque As Campus Drive Closes

L.D.S. Institute was the first campus living group contributing 100 per cent to the 1950 Campus Chest drive which netted $1,054.01 by yesterday afternoon. Six groups have not turned in their totals.

A plaque was awarded L.D.S. as all members of the living group turned in a $1 donation at 8 a. m. November 6, the opening day of the drive.

Students To Receive Vote In Councils

Student opinion will receive a voice in standing councils and committees of the general faculty of the University of Idaho, due to a recent administrative action.

An Executive Board request recently asked for student representation on Operations Council, Public Events committee, Board foundation committee, and traffic and safety committee. Operations Council, only, refused to admit a student member, "because of the nature of some of their business which does not directly affect students."

Named To Committees
Student representatives, who must come from Executive Board membership, have already been named to the three committees accepting student representatives.

Don Wills will sit on the Public Events committee which plans, announces, and directs university public events, assemblies, and commencement.

The Borah foundation committee, set up to achieve objectives the foundation established at Idaho in memory of the late United States Senator William E. Borah, will have as student representatives Ralph Fothergill and Harry Turner. This committee plans the annual Borah Peace conference.

Opinions Aired
Andy Christiansen will voice student opinion on the Traffic and Safety committee. This committee formulates and recommends traffic and parking policies, and enforcement for campus normal procedures and special events. Fire and safety hazards are also checked by this group.

"Student inclusion on these committees will undoubtedly derive benefits for the faculty, administration, and student body," said ASUI president Vern Bahr today, "and further promotes the principal of cooperation between these groups."

"Student interest will be increased and their opinions better aired by the new policy," according to Bahr.

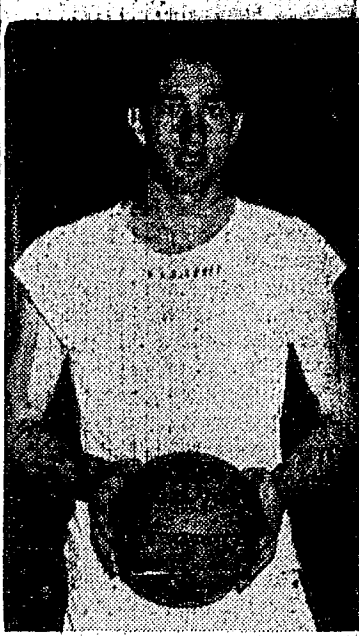

Men Report To Spokane For Exams

Thirty-five University men will report to Spokane for pre-induction physical examinations on Wednesday, November 15. These men are transfers from other boards to local draft board No. 29 in Latah county. Their examination reports will be forwarded to the board with which they are registered according to Mrs. Le-one S. Helmsworth, clerk of the local board.

Those who will receive physicals are: John G. Harris, Thomas P. Donaldson, James M. Duncan, Thomas E. Rowland, Richard D. Fisher and Howard D. Mead. Others are Jerry M. Allen, Boyd E. Founds, Richard D. Fisher and Founds, Arvon R. Anderson, Francis A. Schultz, Samuel L. Nichols, George J. Vehrs, Ray H. Anstine, David M. Williams, Jimmie D. Vergobbi, Frank D. Morrison, and Henry J. Gandiaga.

Report for Physical
Also reporting will be Mark W. Martin, Warren F. Crabb, John B. Drips, John T. Mackay, Robert A. Johnson, and Carmon R. Estheim. Richard H. Kakisako, Robert W. Swanson, Herbert M. Mead, David A. Craner, Richard W. Newton and Ralph M. Hartwell were listed. Leonard Apple, Roland K. Fiedemann, Donald R. Masters, Willis A. Knox, Charles A. Ohs, and John R. Ramos are others named.

In Wreck

Bill Choules, 6-foot 2-inch forward on the University of Idaho basketball team, was seriously injured in an automobile accident near Sandpoint, Idaho, Sunday. Choules' back was said broken and his legs paralyzed in the accident.

According to reports an operation will be performed Thursday to restore motion to his legs, but he undoubtedly will not play basketball this season. Doctors report his present condition "satisfactory."

Choules and his wife were returning to Moscow from Bonners Ferry, where they had been visiting, when his car left the slipper highway near Sandpoint. Mrs. Choules suffered only minor injuries.

Choules played freshman basketball for the Vandals two years ago but laid out last year to gain experience while retaining eligibility. His loss to the 1950-51 team is a big one, according to Head Coach Charles L. "Cheerful Chuck" Finley. "He was a good boy, and will be hard to replace," said Coach Finley. "We hope he gets well fast."

Atom Bomb Film To Be Shown To Idaho Students

A motion picture entitled "The Medical Effects of the Atomic Bomb" will be shown Thursday at 7:30 in room 110 of the Science hall. Three reels of film with a total showing time of 1 hour and 37 min., will be shown. The film is sponsored by Alpha Epsilon Delta, pre-med honorary.

These films are shown primarily for the benefit of pre-medical, pre-nursing, pre-dental, and other interested science students, according to Dr. H. W. Steffens, supervisor of the program.

Cover Mechanisms
The first reels is a 32 minute, sound and color film organized to show the physics, physical destruction and casualty effects of the bomb. The second reel, also sound and color, will cover the mechanism of thermal, traumatic and radiation effects, clinical observations, a diagnosis and prognosis, along with pathological material for illustrative purposes.

Third reel, intended for the non-professional, as well as professional audience, shows the part that medical personnel may play in atomic bombing. This includes preparatory measures that should be taken by every large city in order to keep casualties at a minimum.

Play Tickets
Reservations for "Antigone" for Wednesday and Thursday nights may be made by calling Miss Jean Collette at 8496 or going to the U Hut. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

Painter To Play For Annual Bawl

Carl Painter and his orchestra will be featured at the annual Ag Bawl next Saturday night at 9 p. m. in the Student Union ballroom.

Levis, plaid shirts, and cotton dresses will set the style for the dance. Decorations are being planned around a harvest theme.

Tickets Are $1.50
Tickets may be obtained from Ag club representatives in all mens' living groups for $1.50, or from Ag club president, Harry Isaman.

Floyd Rowbury and Bob Schild, have been chosen as Ag Bawl chairman and assistant chairman, respectively. Bill Ringer and Howard Shepard are in charge of arrangements for intermission. Jim Walkington and Frank Cochran head the committee for decorations and posters.

Three departments of the University college of agriculture will be represented by the following patrons and patronesses: Dr. and Mrs. George W. Woodbury, horticulture; Dr. and Mrs. William E. Foltz, agriculture economics; and Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Hodgson, animal husbandry.

Studio To Present "Antigone" In U-Hut Theatre Wednesday

Forum Starts On Tuesday Of Russia

"If we are ultimately to secure peace, we must understand institutions and the attitudes of the peoples and the government of the Soviet system," said Dr. Boyd Martin, when he announced that a Russian forum will begin here.

First discussions for students and faculty are scheduled tonight at 7 o'clock in the Borah room, second floor of the Student Union building.

Must Know Russia
"If war is forced upon us, a thorough understanding of the Soviet system would be essential to our victory. We dare not be ostriches at a time when the future of civilization is at stake," Dr. Martin, university chairman of social sciences, continued.

Major periods of Russian history, presented by Dr. Frederick Church, chairman of history, will be first in the lecture series. Professors Joseph Zelenak, Harry Caldwell, John Howell, and E. Malcolm House will be discussion leaders.

"One thing we want perfectly clear," Dr. Martin added, "is that the forum is interested only in facts for educational purposes—no propaganda." The purpose of these forums is to inform university citizenry about Russian institutions.

Home Ec Women Attend Workshop

Rosie Schmid and Naida Whybark represented the Home Economics club at the annual workshop held in Tacoma, Washington last week. Rosie was president of the province at the day, and a half meet.

Eleven schools were represented at the Province of America Home Economics association at College of Puget Sound. This meeting is held annually to discuss problems and ideas of the various clubs throughout the area.

Kampus Keys Half Gone-Selling Fast

The 1950 Kampus Keys are now on sale in the graduate manager's office for those who have not yet purchased one. More than one-half of the 1500 guides printed this year have already been sold, and the demand may exceed supply. Students should buy the little blue book as soon as possible.

Idaho Team Wins Unofficial Debate

Idaho emerged the unofficial winner from the Gonzaga invitational debate tourney held last week in Spokane. No winner was named because of the practice nature of this event, but Idaho had the highest percentage of wins. Other schools participating in the tournament were NICE, WSC, Whitworth and Gonzaga. Idaho had seven teams entered, and each team debated three times. Idaho had a total of 14 wins out of 21 tries.

Represent Idaho
Two undefeated Idaho teams emerged from the tournament. They were Charles and Herman McDevitt and Kerit Lake and Dick Gibbs.

Other Idaho debaters in the tourney were Phyllis Payne, Dorothy Ennis, Marvin Jagels and Marjorie Haggerty. Also Kenneth Kornher, Betty Westberg, Lois Odberg, Bob Gibbs, Dean Holyoake and Hugh Swanstrom.

Each school was required to supply five judges. Representing Idaho were Dr. A. E. Whitehead, Ed Flester, Donna Jean Broyles, Marilyn Marsh and William Van Alven.

Students Perform In Music Recital Tuesday Afternoon

This afternoon at 4:45 a student recital will be held in the University Auditorium. Pianist Elizabeth Wilcox will start the program with the first and second movements of Sonatine, by Ravel. Nancy Shelton, alto, will sing "Spring Dreams" by Schubert. She will be accompanied by Joan Parks. "Etude in E Major," by Scriabine will be played by Gail Graham, pianist.

John Sheeley, Leo York, Arthur Woodbury and Kermit Hosch form a Clarinet Quartet. They will play "In Modo Religioso," Opus 38, by Alexandre Glazounov and "Twilight in Blue," Opus 732, by Robert Stoltz.

Peters Sings
Mozart's "Alleluia" will be sung by Barbara Fitch, soprano. Mrs. Fitch will be accompanied by Joyce Fisher. Francis Mission, pianist, will play "Two Excursions" by Samuel Barber.

Soprano Joanne Peters will sing "Un bel di" from "Madame Butterfly" by Puccini. Marilyn Pond will be accompanist. Last on the program will be Dick Coulter, pianist, who will play "The Engulfed Cathedral" by Debussy.

Weight Problems Solved With Proteins

Are you burdened down by weighty problems? Are you considered the round, jolly type when you long to be a real "party girl"? Are you getting rickets, scurvy and malnutrition from dieting in a vain effort to lose weight? If your answer to these questions was a rousing "yes," the following bulletin from the University of Wisconsin Experiment Station will be of interest to you. Touchingly titled "Reducers—Please Note" the bulletin reads, in part:

"More than normal amounts of protein should be included in any weight-losing diet. Many 'dieters' assume that a satisfactory way to reduce is simply cut down on fats, sugars and starches, but the Wisconsin studies show that while losing weight the body needs extra proteins to hold nitrogen balance. Lack of sufficient protein during the teens can affect health in later life."

Women's Music Honorary Initiates

Dear Jason

Dear Jason: I have a problem! My decision may be the turning point of my life.

I must decide whether to go back east to a tall, dark, wealthy, handsome man who is madly, passionately, devotedly, and definitely in love with me, or to remain at the U. of I. and fall madly, passionately, devotedly, and definitely in love with a member of the TKE fraternity.

What shall I do? I'll expect your answer in the Nov. 14th issue of the Arg.

I thank you. Desperately,

Dear "Desperately"

Lady, Jason is not in the habit of giving advice to the fovelorn, but if you will drop into the Arg offices in person, or send a picture and your name, he'll see what he can do.

Jason

Holiday Turkeys Sold On Campus

Turkey hens will be available for retail sale for Thanksgiving at the university poultry department.

The turkeys will be dressed although not drawn. Weights will range from 13 to 16 pounds. Orders will be taken until 4 p. m. Friday by calling 8662.

Those placing orders for turkeys may call for them Tuesday afternoon, November 21 at the poultry farm on the university.

Saturday Ends Vets Bookstore Credit

University student bookstore purchases, utilizing veteran's credit cards, must be made prior to noon Saturday, according to Chet Kerr, manager of the bookstore.

Veterans making purchases after Saturday noon will have to pay for items out of their own pocket.

Women Lead Support

A sincere thanks to those few who turned out to welcome the Vandals home from the toughest game of their season. Splendid cooperation was afforded by all parties contacted. Such a tremendous turnout—we know WSC couldn't have done as well, but that is probably because they had to get up even an hour earlier than we did.

At least 10 males and a much greater representation from the campus women's groups were on hand to help the team carry their luggage. It looks like the women support athletics better on this campus than men. —Arg Staff

$250 Richer

Winner of a new annual music scholarship to the University of Idaho is Barbara Clouser, senior from Payette. The award of $250 was granted by the Presser Foundation of Philadelphia on a basis of talent, scholarship and interest in teaching music.

Students Attracted With Lib Display

Attracting the attention of many Idaho students is the current library display on the first floor of the Ad building. Designed to simplify the process of writing a research paper, the exhibit is entitled "Help Yourself to a Good Research Paper."

Colorful pictures suggest the various reference tools to the student. The card catalog, government publications, public documents, yearbooks, almanacs, encyclopedias, and the Readers Guide are recommended aids.

Special indexes such as the Farm Index are featured in the display. This month's exhibition is one of a series of displays planned by the library staff. Special holiday exhibits will be designed throughout the year.

Noodnick Finds Kind Soul Who Explains Facts Of Life

Hearing that the games played in the basement of the student union had scared the devil out of Noodnick last week, a kind soul named Boogerditty took pity on the little man with the pointed head and took it upon himself to complicate Noodnick's life.

Boogerditty, with his kind and gracious manner, won the confidence of Noodnick, and explained a few facts of life. After a few hours of fast talk, the little man with the spiral brain became pacified and had two new words in his vocabulary—bowling and billiards.

In fact Noodnick was even induced to go back to that place from whence he fled last week. Boogerditty took Noodnick's trembling body down to the Buckle basement to show him that those people down there really had a purpose in life.

Noodnick finally got the idea of pool and billiards, but he wasn't much impressed. He had more of a fascination for bowling, so Mr. B. went about teaching the little man the fine art of the game.

Our hero had his own ideas as to how the game should be played, however, and decided that the object was to keep from hitting the pins. Noodnick felt sorry for the fellow at the other end of the alley, and did his best to keep him from working so hard.

He finally became so good at the game that he could get the ball in the gutter almost every time. To Noodnick's warped little mind this made sense, and now you can't drag him from the alleys.

The moral? Well, even a moron has his day.

Yost-Irwin Elected New Ag Officers

George Yost, Emmett, was re-elected chairman and Carl D. Irwin, Twin Falls, secretary of Idaho's agricultural consulting council at the fall meeting last weekend. Yost represents the horticultural interests of the state and Irwin the Idaho crop improvement association on the advisory group.

Members of the advisory council heard university staff members, reviewed current activities at the university and presented tentative plans for the next two years during their two-day session.

Reviews Program
President J. E. Buchanan reviewed the building replacement program and Dr. J. E. Kraus, research director of the agricultural experiment station, reported on projects that will receive special emphasis during the coming two years.

C. O. Youngstrom, associate director of extension, reported on field service activities of the college of agriculture. Giving the agricultural advisors a report on enrollment and teaching phases of the college was H. A. Winner, assistant dean of agriculture.

Dalton Publishes New Road Bulletin

Idaho's engineering experiment station has recently published a new bulletin on the maintenance of county and rural roads. Author J. C. Dalton, former professor of civil engineering at the university, is now with a corporation in Oregon.

Written as a manual for county and rural road maintenance crews, the booklet gives instructions on road building, repair, organizing of maintenance crews, snow and ice control, culverts, use of road oil and many other phases of the work. Complete tables and measures for use in the field are in the back of the booklet.

Home Ec Coeds Have New Home

Six senior home economics coeds moved to the Home Management house Sunday. Barbara Heyer, Norma Daugherty, Lona Carney, Ruth Lotzpiech, Virginia Scheuffele, and Rosie Schmid will "keep house" until December 17. Miss Shirley Newcombe is faculty supervisor at the Home Management house.

Lange, Germany, Attends Idaho One Year

By Marilyn Fleming
Willi-Karl Lange of Frankfurt, Germany, is another exchange student attending the university on a one-year scholarship. Before coming to Idaho he attended the University of Frankfurt, Germany, where he studied law.

Willi is very much interested in foreign relations. Last summer he attended a meeting of the Security Council at Lake Success. One of his chief interests lies in the European Youth Movement now underway in Europe. This movement, he explained, is working toward the establishment of one central government for all of the European countries. He is a member of the Foreign Relations club and the Cosmopolitan club here at the U. of I.

Appreciates Help
The informal relationship between teachers and students is very new to Willi. He greatly appreciates the assistance teachers give the students outside of class. Campus living is also new to Willi, for in Frankfurt there were no living quarters on campus. He thinks the group living offers an excellent opportunity for students from all over to get acquainted. Anyone wanting to know more about our university as compared to German universities will find Willi living at Lindley hall.

Orchasis Planning Christmas Dances

DeForrest Tovey was chosen as the juggler for the Christmas Orchasis presentation of "The Juggler," at the meeting Wednesday. Plans were made at the Orchasis and pre-Orchasis meetings for intramural dances. Any house may compose a dance, but only two pre-Orchasis members may participate in each house and no Orchasis members may compete. Dances may be composed of Christmas carols but this isn't essential, and dances should not last over three minutes.

Mrs. Billie Reeves has offered her assistance to any group who feel they need help. Dances should be presented to Orchasis on November 29. Two groups will be chosen for the Christmas program.

Spokane Couple Announces Troth

A miniature wishing well revealed the engagement of Lois Dodson, Spokane, to Stanley Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Martin, also of Spokane.

The announcement was made Thursday night at the Kappa Alpha Theta house. Table decoration was the wishing well from which small cards saying, "Stan and Lois," were drawn. A colonial nosegay bearing the diamond was presented to Miss Dodson as part of the announcement.

Judge Gives Delivers Speech At Law Banquet

The Honorable Raymond L. Givens, Chief Justice of the Idaho Supreme Court addressed 140 members and guests of the Bench and Bar at the Ad club Friday night as honored guest at the annual banquet of the law students' association.

Judge Givens called special attention to the important role which a strong international judiciary might play in settling international disputes. He illustrated the point by drawing an analogy to the present position of our federal courts in settling disputes between the states. He concluded his speech with references to the part played by attorneys in shaping the course of the law through the decisions they obtain from the courts.

Guests Introduced
Jim May, Bench and Bar president, presided as toastmaster at dinner. He was assisted by Charles Blanton, who introduced the law professors and their wives, and by Julius Peterson, who introduced the Moscow attorneys.

Attorneys and their wives attending the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Alsager, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Estes, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Felton, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Huff, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Martinson, and Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Schimke. President May introduced Dr. and Mrs. William Folz as special guests.

Wives Entertain
Dinner entertainment was provided by a law student quartet consisting of Ray Cox, Dean Mosher, Bill Smith and Ivan Woods. A sextet composed of law students' wives, including Mrs. Ray Cox, Mrs. Reynold George, Mrs. Jim May, Mrs. Bill Smith, Mrs. John Turnbull, and Mrs. Ivan Woods, also entertained. Dean Edward S. Stimson read a humorous poem written by himself concerning trials and tribulations of the life of a law school dean.

ROTC Midshipmen Perform At Dayton

The Navy ROTC drill team participated in flag raising ceremonies and half-time ceremonies Friday evening at a football game in Dayton, Washington.

Composed of 26 midshipmen, the team performed before an enthusiastic crowd of about 1200. The trip was made under the sponsorship of the American Legion Post at Dayton.

Capt. William Sullivan, U.S.M.C. accompanied the team as faculty advisor.

Idaho Band Ends Season With Dad's Day Activities

The University Band completed its football show season with the Dad's Day activities November 4.

The 70-piece marching band performed six different half-time shows this year, beginning their season at Boise with two performances. One was Friday night for the Boise Junior College game, and the other Saturday afternoon for the Idaho-Utah clash. The trip to Boise was the first time the complete Idaho band accompanied the football team out of Moscow.

The 70-piece marching band performed six different half-time shows this year, beginning their season at Boise with two performances. One was Friday night for the Boise Junior College game, and the other Saturday afternoon for the Idaho-Utah clash. The trip to Boise was the first time the complete Idaho band accompanied the football team out of Moscow.

Form Idaho
The colorful marching unit performed before an estimated audience of 70,000 during the football season. Highlighting performances was formation of the state of Idaho while playing the Alma Mater. A new twist was given in Boise when the band formed a huge heart and sang "I Love You Truly," saluting southern Idaho residents.

Director Kermit Hosch remarked that he was "very pleased" with the performance of the band this year. He added: "The cooperation among those concerned, the IKS, Spurs, General Manager of Athletics Gale Mix, and coach Dixie Howell, was extremely helpful. My sincere thanks to all of them."

Johnson Arranges
Led by drum major Wally Johnson, the band was sparked by majorettes Bonese Collins and Barbara Kirk. Special band arrangements for various shows were made by Johnson, assistant to Director Hosch.

A concert band is now being formed from the marching unit and is being drilled for their annual Band Clinic at the end of this month. The clinic is designed to help band directors of the surrounding territory who will meet at the University to hear new literature and discuss various band problems.

The first all-college band concert of the year will be performed February 8, at 8 p.m. in the University Auditorium.

Art Organization Plans Activities

Plans were laid for the year's activities by the Art Club, campus art society, in a recent meeting. Arrangements were made for several card parties and a spring exhibition of work done during the year.

During the meeting, Edgar Neal, was elected treasurer of the organization and Keith Keefer was appointed general chairman of the club's annual Christmas card project.

Members are chosen on the basis of artistic ability and interest in the field. Persons wishing to join the Art Club are asked to report to the Art building or to contact Ken Keefer.

Entries In Contest Financially Richer

Two Idaho agricultural engineering students are $150 richer for having submitted entries in the James F. Lincoln arc-welding contest. Marvin Heatrick received $100 as a fifth place winner in the agricultural producers division, and Dick Lloyd was awarded $50 for his sixth place entry.

These sophomores accounted for half of Idaho's awards in the $25,000 national contest. Other Idaho winners were David Fulton, fifth place, and Charles J. Lord, sixth place.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

Number 6...THE TURTLE

They had our slow-moving brother moving at too fast a pace with those quick-trick cigarette tests! A fast puff ... a swift sniff ... a quick inhale ... a rapid exhale. Terrapin's head was spinning - didn't know if he was coming or going! But he slowed down to his own speed - decided there was no need to rush. After all, he figured, how could anyone possibly prove cigarette mildness so fast? And he was right, too! That's why we suggest: The sensible test ... the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke - on a pack after pack, day after day basis. No snap judgments needed. After you've enjoyed Camels - and only Camels - for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste) we believe you'll know why ...

Vandals Drop 34-19 Conference Tilt To OSC; Game Features Rough Play Best PCC League Season Ends With Stunning Blow

By Phil Johnson

The superlative passing arms of quarterback Gene Morrow and halfback Gene Taft and the break-away running of Taft and Sam Baker, proved too much for the University of Idaho Saturday afternoon as Oregon State ground out their first conference win of the 1950 season in topping the Vandals in Corvallis 34-19.

Stymied for the first time this season, Idaho's powerful rushing game was held by the stout Oregon State defensive alignment to a net of 155 yards. Prior to Saturday's conference clash, the Vandals led the nine PCC schools in rushing defense. The Beavers, however, found the Idaho forward wall easy to penetrate as they rolled up a total of 281 yards on the ground.

Oregon State kept the Idaho defense off-balance during a greater portion of the contest by snapping the ball within a split-second of the Beaver backfield shift. As a result — in many cases OSC backs were through the line and into the secondary before the Vandal defense had moved to meet the shift. Conference rulings stipulate a two-second interval between the backfield shift and the snapping of the ball. OSC was shaving it close.

Gale Mix, General Manager, who accompanied the team to Corvallis, came back with the report that the students at Oregon State college are poor sports. There were times during the contest when the student body threw cards from their card section at the players and members of the Idaho coaching staff sitting on the sidelines.

Fight Tooth and Nail
Three Vandals suffered the loss of ivories during the course of play. There was an instance when Jim Tallant, Vandal defensive guard, came charging over to the sidelines with his hand closed tight. Going directly to the bench he went up to Coach Ramsey and stated: "Here coach, you keep this for me 'till after the game." It so happened that Tallant was holding one of his front teeth knocked out in the rough play. Roy Colquitt, another Vandal guard and defensive center Bob Holder both lost teeth in the fray — but were unable to return with the evidence.

The Beavers were the first to score. Using a combination of running and passing plays, the ball was carried over with 9:58 remaining in the first period. The drive which covered 45 yards was culminated when Taft skirted left end after taking a handoff from Baker 14 yards away from the final stripe. Arvid Niemi's conversion was good and Oregon State led 7-0.

Vandals Counter
Idaho, after having had a touchdown romp by Bob Mays called back late in the second quarter, started a sustained drive from their own 36 and went the rest of the way in 10 plays with Wayne Anderson completing the drive with a pass to Glen Christian that covered 25 yards. Christian's placement after touchdown was wide and it was 7-6 at halftime.

There was plenty in the way of action and excitement during the second half of play. After the Beavers tallied twice in the third period for a comfortable 21-6 lead Idaho roared back. Opening up with a dazzling array of speed, Dixie Howell's backs carried the ball from their own 36 to the goal line — 64 yards distant — in five plays. The climax of the drive featured a pass from quarterback Max Glaves to Jerry Ogle in the end zone. Christian's conversion attempt split the uprights and the Vandals were once again in the game at 21-13. No further scoring resulted in the third period.

Oregon State's first charging backs and the passing of Morrow netted the Beavers 76 yard, seven play drive for their fourth TD of the afternoon or a 28-12 lead.

Chadband Goes 78 Yards
With three minutes remaining in the contest the stage was set for the longest run of the day. Morrow's long pass was picked out of the air by Idaho's defensive line-backer Jim Chadband on the Vandal 24 and run back the rest of the way 76 yards for Idaho's third and final score. Chadband, a demon on defense, played much of the contest on offense — relieving the injured King Block, and in so doing turned in an excellent performance for the afternoon.

Striking back Oregon State netted another touchdown before the gun barked the end of the contest. Outstanding players for the Vandals were numerous. Defensive back Dick Iorns on three different occasions halted what would have been long jaunts for touchdowns. Oregon State's pass receivers were held in check by Wayne Anderson and Jim Chadband — with many of the completions coming on pure luck. Unconsciously the Beaver

Idaho Frosh Run Boston U Plays In Varsity Practice

The injury ridden Vandals rolled into Moscow Sunday afternoon and began working out the bruises and sore spots from the 34-19 defeat at the hands of the Oregon State Beavers.

The Vandals have but four days to heal injuries and polish their pass defense before hopping the transcontinental airways to display a little West coast football against Boston university.

The Boston Terriers, despite their 3-3 record for the season, boast one of the strong teams on the East coast. They field a big hard running squad capable of upsetting the apple cart of any team in the nation. Coach Aldo Donelli's squad has downed Duquesne, William and Mary and New York university while losing to such powerhouses as the University of Miami, Syracuse and St. Bonaventure.

Donelli generally recognized as one of the nation's top, offensive football strategists, is this fall coaching his fourth Boston U eleven — and it is rated as one of the best teams the Eastern school has ever had.

The Idaho eleven will run up against several top Eastern players Saturday. Running from the halfback position for Boston is Bobby Whelan who last year ranked fifth in the nation in the rushing department. In the quarterback slot the Terriers have nationally known and respected Harry Agganis. Last year as a junior he ran the team to a 15th place in the Associated Press national poll.

The Idaho squad has been working against Coach Art Smith's freshman squad since the end of the fresh season. Smith's men have been running Boston style plays and alternating offensive squads to give the Vandals some pass defensive practice.

BU And Tempe Tops

Boston university and Arizona State (Tempe) came home with the bacon last Saturday.

The Terriers from bean town blew apart the New York-university squad 41 to 13 and Arizona State, sparked by Whizzer White who scored three times, walloped the University of Arizona 47 to 13.

receivers picked arials out of defenders hands, and were even making shoe-string catches of the soggy ball.

Bob Mays should receive praise for his fine exhibition of punting in the contest. Late in the first period he booted from the Oregon State 43 and the ball rolled dead one inch away from the goal line. The Vandals had two punters in the contest Saturday and between the duo they netted 39 yards on each kick. Replacing Mays in the fourth period to do the booting chores was Harry "Buck" Nelson, an untried sophomore who on two kicks averaged 44 yards.

The Vandal team on a whole should be congratulated for the fine game they played against the Beavers and win or lose, we did produce the best sports.

The Vandals threw everything they had at the Beavers Saturday including some teeth. At least three Vandal players lost a chopper or had one partially injured by some elbow slingin' Beaver lineman.

One Vandal lineman who had a little ivory trouble in turning in a top performance for the Idaho cause was All-Coast guard Roy Colquitt.

Roy says the Beaver blockers were really hitting with everything they had. Spirit was high on the OSC squad. They were out for their first conference win and they drew the top defensive team on the coast for their opponent. Beaver players admitted that team work and timing was better against the Vandals and that was the best game they had turned in this season.

All-Coast Guard

Roy Colquitt

The 195-pound guard has been one of the elements that rated the Vandals in the top spot last week. The California Bears however, took over top honors in this department by virtue of their 35-0 routing of UCLA.

Before coming to the University of Idaho in 1937, Roy attended Central Junior college in his home state, Mississippi. Prior to that he spent two years as one of Uncle Sam's Navy men.

Roy was an outstanding athlete at Forest, Miss. He specialized in football at which he earned four letters. The three-year letterman for the Vandals also earned plenty of awards in other sports while at Forest. Roy modestly admits that sports are his hobby.

The greatest honor of Colquitt's gridiron career was his selection as All-Coast guard by the Pacific Coast Coaches association last year. The P. E. major won the respect of all Idaho's opponents and their coaches by his ability to diagnose plays and smart defensive play.

Weinmann Wins Cross Country Run

Chuck Weinmann, of the Idaho cross country team, posted a good 15:13 time to lead the field in a cold, three mile jog at Pullman last Friday afternoon. Despite his efforts Idaho lost to Washington State College, 20-35.

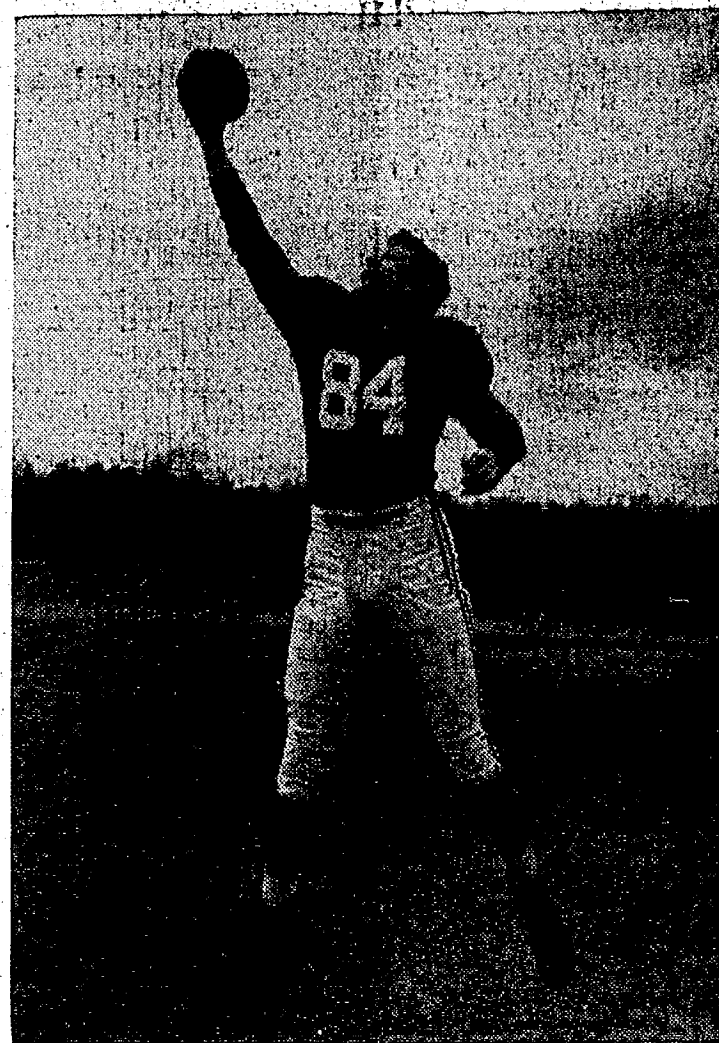

The Vandals, running without the services of veteran John Allynson, failed to place but one man in the first six places. Allynson is in the infirmary. Finishing only two-tenths of a second behind Weinmann was Lee Cave of WSC, followed by Bill Parnell, Hal Deck, Phil Matsen, Clem Eischen and Louis Manatoy.

Besides Weinmann Idaho entered Glen Casebolt, Bob May, Ron Baker and Ben Dody. Coach Stan Heiserman said that no future meets have been scheduled yet.

A Brace Of Tough Boston University Terminal Men

Here are two 6-foot 2-inch, 190-pound Terrier ends who will line up against the Vandals in Fenway Park Saturday afternoon. Thomas Oates (left), one of the top ends in the East, was Boston's second scoring leader last season. He snagged five touchdown passes during the year and excels on defense as well. George Sullma (below) is the best offensive wingman in the university's gridiron history. Sullma has captured All-New England honors the last two campaigns and last year grabbed 19 pitches for 241 yards and four touchdowns.

Basketeers Start Heavy Workouts

The Vandal varsity courtmen, 20 strong, began full time work this week as Coach Chuck Finley scheduled seven practice sessions a week for his squad. Finley has been shifting around various starting combinations in the full court scrimmages and starting berths for the Idaho State series to be played at Moscow December 1 and 2 have not been tabbed. Idaho to date has been working primarily on fundamentals and timing.

Elsewhere in the northern division loop, Coach Tippy Dye of Washington has been using a starting five that includes two sophomores. In the guard spots Dye has letterman bombardier Louie Soriano and sophomore Mike McCutchen. Bob Houbregs, a high scoring center up from the frosh aggregation appears slated for the pivot spot and lettermen Frank Guisness and LaDon Henson have been playing as forwards.

OSC Veteran Loaded
At Oregon State Coach Slat Gill has been using a combination of four lettermen and one sophomore as the starting unit. The lettermen veterans include Bob Payne and Jim Padgett, forwards, and Dan Torrey and Bill Harper, guards. At present, lone sophomore in the first quintet is Bob Edwards, 6-6 ex all-state center from Corvallis high. Another sophomore who stands a chance of cracking the starting five is Dan Johnson, a speedy transfer guard from Compton junior college.

Forward Will Urban, mainstay of the Oregon team last year, has been having trouble with an injured foot. Coach John Warren's varsity scrimmaged the freshman last week and Urban was forced to referee part of the game.

Five Veterans at WSC
Over at Washington State, Coach Jack Friel has five lettermen playing on his first two teams. On the opening five Friel has been using the services of Leon Mangis and Seymour Sturmans at guards, Pete Mullins and Eric Roberts at the forward positions and George Rosser in the center circle.

Bob Gambold, Scott Foxley, Dwight Pool and Bud Roffler are expected to strengthen the returning veterans at the close of the football season.

Betas Pace Mural Race With 511 Points

With results of touch football, fall tennis, cross country, and swimming in the record books, the accumulative intramural standings find Beta Theta Pi leading the pack with 511 points. Breathing on the Betas' necks are Alpha Tau Omega with 491 points, Lindley hall with 486, Willis Sweet with 485, and Kappa Sigma with 470.

In recapping the four events, Willis Sweet captured independent football honors by whipping Lindley hall as Sigma Nu grabbed the Greek championship by disposing of Phi Gamma Delta. Fall tennis laurels went to Delta Tau Delta, Campus Club chased home the cross country turkey, and SAE took swimming for the fourth consecutive year.

Following the five leaders in total points are:

6 Sigma Alpha Epsilon	438
7 Campus Club	403
8 Sigma Chi	405

Idaho Mittmen Start Sparring Sessions

Idaho's boxing team, co-holders of the NCAA crown last year, entered their second week of ring work yesterday as the mittmen began full scale preparation for the opening bout with Louisiana State university at New Orleans on December 28.

Including freshman, about 30 leather pushers are working out under coach Frank Young. The ringmen are sparring two, two-minute sessions but roadwork is still on the training schedule.
