

The GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

While other parts of the nation shiver in cold, early snow has melted here, and student's are basking in sort of an "Indian summer." Its length, however brief, is welcome to all.

Thanksgiving vacation is over, and three and one-half weeks of school and 21 shopping days remain between now and Christmas.

In addition several basketball games are on tap — beginning Friday and Saturday nights with a two game series against Idaho state.

End Among Top 20

At the end of last season, the Idaho Vandals ranked 56th in the nation according to Dunkel's rating. In three short years the Idaho eagles had jumped to 56th from 493rd place according to this nationally famous authority. Pre-season dopesters, including "Look" magazine, have picked them to end up among the top 20 this season — even without the services of Bob Pritchett and Dick Geisler who sparked the squad last season.

Head basketball coach, Charles L. "Cheerful Chuck" Finley says of this: "The team this year will be as good as student's demand they be."

By this we took it that with student support, and demand that the team play its best brand of ball, we can reach or exceed our ranking among the top 20 teams in the nation.

Out to Win

In our last three years at Idaho it seems that the basketball squad has always started slow, ending up the season in glorious fashion. We would like to see them for once start the season, as well as end it, in winning ways.

Perhaps our slow start, is because, in our sheltered position here in Vandalville, we forgot about the competition. We had to get beat a few times before we realized that the other team was out to win too, and we had to really play to get a victory.

In practice, a person can pace himself, and whether the practice lasts 30 minutes or three hours, he can keep going the same way. But in a game it is different. You have to put all you have into it to win.

Keep Spirit

Championship teams realize this — or they wouldn't be champions. Persons who have observed practice this year know that we have a potential championship team. Their patterns are as smooth as we have seen, and their ability and know-how is the best we have ever seen.

The purpose of this dissertation is simple: We think we have a team this year that can play any team in the nation. The last three years we have had teams almost as good. But during the last three years, a slow start has put us out of the running for any higher honors. We don't want to see this team start slow.

We don't have to lose games to become possessor of a truly competitive spirit, as teams the last three years have done.

We all know they CAN play ball. It is up to us to see that they DO play ball.

Get Best Deal

Several persons have asked Jason what has happened on the cleaning issue. As far as we are concerned it is closed. In true free-enterprise fashion, students are taking their cleaning to the outfit that offers them the best deal. Competition is the backbone of the American system. We hope we have inspired some.

Thanksgiving Dinners

Duncan (Hines) Do-er ate so much over Thanksgiving vacation that space is not available to rate them all here. He will report, however, that the TKE's served the best Turkey on the campus. Future ratings will appear under a separate heading on page two, instead of Jason's column.

Duncan has definitely decided on one place he won't eat. That is in the college cafeteria at the University of Buffalo. Not only is it too far away, the customary pickle enhancing the hamburger is now considered a separate item — a penny a pickle.

Main street restaurants take note.

Commissions For Women Offered Now

Regular Army commissions in the Women's Army Corps have become available to qualified college seniors and graduates, said Colonel Charles F. Hudson, professor of military science and tactics.

Initial colleges invited to participate in this program are land-grant colleges of each state and the state universities in which women are enrolled, and in which there are senior ROTC units.

Offers Varied Life

WAC career planning is designed to create efficient and versatile women officers; and it offers them varied assignments, travel and financial security. Applicants must be college graduates or seniors anticipating graduation by June 30, 1951, between 21 and 27 years of age. Those with prior military service may, in some cases be older.

Applicants must also be unmarried with no dependents under 18 years of age, and pass the regular army physical examination. Those accepted will be chosen by interview, investigation and a review of college and employment records.

Receive Commission

Successful applicants will receive second lieutenants' commissions in the Organized Reserve Corps and a training course at Camp Lee, Va.; graduates from this course are to be tendered Regular Army commissions.

Colonel Hudson also stated that the final date for receipt of application to Sixth Army Headquarters is January 15, 1951. Additional information and the necessary forms may be secured from room 105, Memorial gymnasium.

Idaho Represented At Legal Conclave With 8 Delegates

Seven delegates of Idaho's Kent chapter of Phi Alpha Delta, national legal fraternity, represented Idaho at the annual conclave of District I of the fraternity in Seattle, November 18. District I is comprised of chapters at the state universities of Idaho, Montana, Oregon and Washington.

The delegates met as a general discussion group in morning and afternoon sessions for the transaction of business. Special interest was shown in the legal aid project of the fraternity. The aid program provides free legal services and advice for those who are financially unable to obtain legal assistance otherwise.

Placement Program

The discussion of a placement program for helping graduating law students, contact lawyers, and commercial firms throughout the state and District I as a means of finding employment or locations for opening law offices also received special attention.

A reception and banquet were held at the Washington Athletic club following termination of the business discussions. The Honorable Fred Hamley, Justice of the Supreme Court of Washington, was the distinguished guest and main speaker at the banquet.

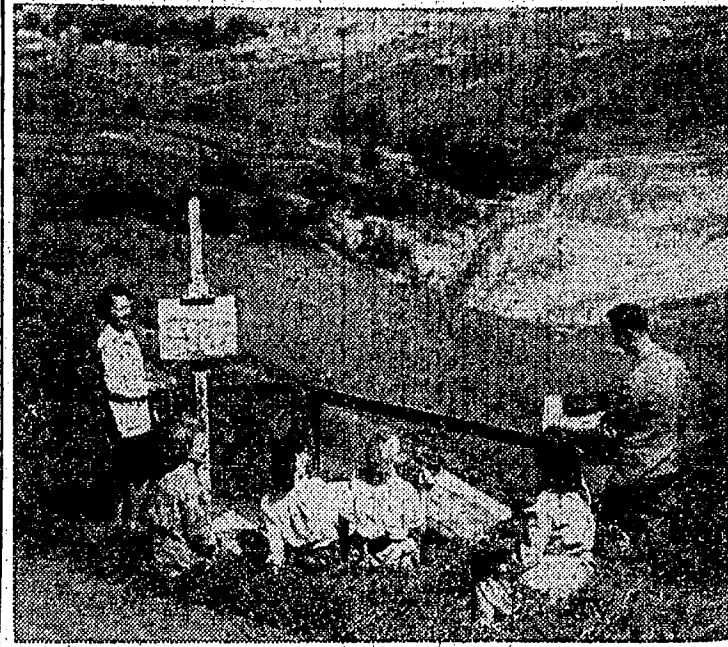

Moscow Named

Moscow was selected as the site of next year's conclave, and the date was left open to be decided by Idaho's College of Law were Ed Aschenbrenner, Charles Blanton, Charles Creason, Julius Peterson, Francis Rasmussen, Nels T. Sahl and John Stover. Blanton and Sahl were vice justice and clerk respectively, for Kent chapter, and Peterson is a member of the National Board of Tribunes of the fraternity.

Coeds And Engineers Enjoy Sunny Fall Weather At Idaho

While other parts of the nation shivered in the cold, engineers and artists, as shown above, basked in the balmy weather of Moscow (Idaho, that is). Though the above picture wasn't taken yesterday, it could well have been true.

While Pittsburgh, and cities on the eastern seaboard were lashed by severe winds and driving snow, Moscow (Idaho, that is) and the University of Idaho peacefully basked in the late fall sunshine.

On the university tennis courts, coeds playing tennis in shorts formed a pleasant contrast to the grim headlines telling of snowbound cities and industries in the East. Such weather is not uncommon at the University of Idaho. In 1949, golf and tennis were popular sports until after December 1.

Engineers Still Survey

Lawns of the university have been crowded with engineering students completing surveying lessons while the fall weather holds out. "We have a specified amount of outside work to do," said Robert Schelostke, sophomore student. "If that storm had hit the West coast, we would probably be out here on snowshoes." Phillip Ard, another sophomore engineering student, was quick to agree that he was all in favor of the weather at the University of Idaho.

There is one problem with the weather, though, according to Roy Bell, photography instructor at the university. His students are having trouble getting snow pictures for their Christmas cards.

Carnival Is Scheduled By Ski Club

The Vandal Ski Club members tentatively outlined their functions for the 1950-1951 winter season at a meeting last week. Among the events they will sponsor are a steak fry, the annual winter carnival, and a ski school to be run in cooperation with the Women's Recreation Association.

The winter carnival and ski club dance, jointly sponsored by the Vandal ski club and the Inter-collegiate Knights, are scheduled for February 10. All living groups should start making plans for participation.

Movie Shown

Registration for the ski school will take place in the women's gymnasium with dates being announced in a later edition of the Argonaut. Classes for beginners and intermediate skiers will be organized for all persons wishing to take advantage of this opportunity. A ski tow will be made available for general skiing before the end of the Christmas vacation although the exact location is not yet certain.

The steak fry will take place this Friday at 9 p.m. in the Moscow Legion Cabin. All members of the ski club and their guests are invited. Entertainment will be provided by members of the club with the feature attraction being a group of Norwegian exchange students singing Scandinavian songs. Music will be from records and dresses will be jeans and plaid shirts.

The third meeting of the Vandal Ski club will be Thursday at 6:45 p.m. in the Borah theatre. All people interested in skiing should attend the meeting. A movie will be shown.

Hart And Marshall Attend Conference

Dean Donald J. Hart and Professor Charles E. Marshall of the Idaho school of business administration attended a meeting of the Northwest Business Administration conference, during the week end in Seattle.

Northwest universities and colleges were represented to discuss responsibilities and public relations of colleges of business administration, curricula in business courses, and needs of various types of industry in training of students. Hart participated in a deans' panel November 25.

de Paur Chorus Attracts Students

About 6000 interested listeners filled the Memorial gym last Tuesday to hear the famous de Paur chorus in the first in the 1950 series of community concerts.

Spontaneous applause greeted Captain de Paur and his chorus at the opening of the program. After each number the audience showed its delight by the applauding. Thunderous enthusiasm was also shown by the clapping at the end and beginning of each part of the program.

A hush fell over the whole gymnasium as the de Paur chorus sang their last number, "The Lord's Prayer." In spite of the late hour, the chorus was called back for two encores: "Hospodui Pomulni," a Russian song, and an air force version of the "Whiffenpoof Song."

Ad's New Addition Completed Soon

"The new addition to the Ad building should be ready for occupancy sometime towards the end of December," said George Gagon, University engineer, yesterday.

Gagon called attention to the unique fluorescent strip lighting in the new addition which will house the Bursar, Registrar, general administrative offices, and some departmental offices. He also said that interior decorators have already begun work, the decoration having been chosen within the last ten days.

Completing Work

General finishing work is now in progress, with Electric Smith Inc. of Spokane completing the electrical work, and Detweiler and Detweiler of Twin Falls finishing the remaining mechanical operations.

University Student Dies From Wound

Jacob M. Peterson, 20-year-old university student from Boise, died last Monday night of injuries incurred in a hunting accident near Moscow.

His condition was reported as critical last Monday by physicians attending him at a local hospital. After this report, however, a blood clot, caused by the double-barreled shotgun wound, formed in Peterson's left leg resulting in his death.

Are Your Things Strewn About On Campus?

Are you one of those persons who accidentally lose such articles as keys, pens, books, watches, or articles of clothing?

Such a person is Miss (or Mrs.) E.M.V. who wished to know the correct time. Upon rolling back the sleeve of her sweater she found nothing but a bare wrist.

Inquire At Bursar

If E. M. V. and anyone else who find themselves in the same predicament wish to recover their lost articles, they cannot do so by merely scouring every foot of the campus with a fine tooth comb. Not only will they spend many precious hours that could be utilized more effectively at a study table, but they are apt to lose the comb also.

A simple method of recovering lost articles is to inquire at the Bursar's office and take your pick of the many fine mentionables that have been turned in by honest students.

Skyway Careers Open To Women At Mid-Year End

Driving It Home

We are now in the midst of holiday seasons—Thanksgiving past, and a somewhat longer Christmas vacation coming up. Many students go home every weekend anyway, and in three weeks we will all be on the highways. So it's not too early—in fact it should never be too early—to take a look at the statistics and plain reasoning in regard to driving.

A new word—teenicide—has crept into the American vocabulary in the last few years. By the word is meant deaths from driving of autos by anyone between 14 and 25. Persons of this age are definitely more instable emotionally. Too many of those above 20 never had the advantages the present teenagers have of driver education in high school.

But even driver education can't correct all bad habits. Those who "just pick up" driving as they go along acquire all the bad habits of those who showed them, plus developing a few of their own. The new driver education program in Idaho will be a tremendous aid in remedying this situation of teenicide, at least in part.

Says Emily Post, on motoring manners, "Children are natural mimics and copy the behavior of their parents as the perfect thing to do. And when a child sees his father or mother, or both, behaving without the slightest consideration of the rules of courtesy on the highway—often in striking contrast to their normal politeness at home—the child naturally believes that, somehow, 'good manners take a holiday when you drive a car'!"

Now for a few statistics and facts. Driver A and Driver B participated in a road test on a 295-mile stretch of road. Driver A reached a top speed of 65 mph. His average speed was 46 mph. He passed 126 cars. His elapsed driving time was 6 hours 25 minutes. Driver B never went over 50. His average was 43 miles per hour, he passed only 62 cars, and his total time for the trip was 6 hours 50 minutes. Driver A saved 25 minutes on a near 300-mile trip. He passed almost twice as many cars, each passing being a potential accident, used 11 per cent more gasoline, and 50 per cent more oil. How can anyone figure he saved anything?

In one-fourth of all fatal accidents, either the driver or pedestrian had been drinking. Twenty-three out of every 100 adult pedestrians killed in traffic accidents last year had been drinking. Eighteen out of every 100 drivers involved in fatal accidents last year had been drinking.

Seventy-two per cent of last year's traffic fatalities occurred in rural areas and in cities with under 2,500 population. Even small towns aren't safe, and most fatalities occur in these small towns due to passers-by not bothering to cut their speed in compliance with signs.

There were 31,500 traffic accident deaths in 1949, and 1,100,000 persons were injured in the accidents. One in less than 150 persons is injured to some degree each year in the United States. That, figuring you live until you're seventy-five, gives you a fifty-fifty chance of getting hit, and death is 80 per cent!

Religion Stages A Comeback; What Are Falsies Doing??

Here's some information for all you sexy girls running around the campus. Dr. E. Stanley Jones, in an interview with a reporter of the Spartan Daily, revealed that "The person who emphasizes sex will get the least out of it." Take it from there, girls. Look more like Cinderella.

He goes on to say that these persons give sex predominate emphasis over moral teaching. They will be the ones who find themselves faced with problems in marriage and who will likely end up with broken homes.

An example of overemphasis of sex is the use of synthetic devices such as falsies. Dr. Jones feels that such emphasis is due to the lack of religious training. He believes there is sound basis for believing in evolution, but that many colleges and universities fail to teach the whole picture.

Can't Draw Line
"There is evolution, but it takes God to run it. I cannot see that a definite line can be drawn between evolution and God. God is as necessary for evolution as he is for anything else," says Dr. Jones.

He claims that high schools, colleges and universities are making a mistake by not teaching religion in their curricula. He believes formal education teaches everything about life but how to live. Many others have made similar statements concerning life. (Since Idaho has religious classes, do you suppose we have a lower percentage of falsies on the campus than is normal?) Does this wearing of synthetic devices, also include girdles?

Dr. Jones goes on to state that he believes moral training should be included in our educational system.

"Education should teach young people about the three driving urges; self, sex, and herd. If you make society (herd) your God, you are afraid of it. The same is true of sex.

"In recent years religion and education have been separated in most cases. I believe that facts are now driving us back toward religious emphasis in the schools. Life demands a religious basis." Time magazine last Friday came out with an article along the lines that religion is making a comeback.

Students Less Cynical
Dr. Jones feels college students of today are less cynical than after the First World War. He says the average college students are interested in moral emphasis, and that their minds are more open toward moral concepts.

We have here an interesting situation. Two factors — religion and falsies—inversely related to each other. Religion is making a comeback—so watch the air go out of falsies!

Industry Film Shown
A movie telling of the important industries and occupations in Idaho will be shown tonight to the Business School Chamber of Commerce. All business students interested in a Chamber of Commerce here are urged to attend. This invitation is also open to any student who may intend to affiliate with the Chamber of Commerce in his home town after graduation.

Kirkland's Fish Hold Tank Time Trials

The addition of several new swimmers to the Idaho varsity squad varsity squad was announced yesterday by Coach Eric Kirkland. Letterman breast-stroker Tom Gentry has returned, and Jim Moore, who previously was turning out for boxing, is making a fine diving debut.

Kirkland was impressed with Gentry's showing saying, "that's where we needed help last year."

In 50-yard free-style time trials veteran Bill Hobbelt posted a 24.8 time, and newcomer Al Dickson, who is new to swimming, was clocked at 25.8. Dick Wartena looked good in the distances.

ASUI Cards Await Immediate Pickup

Over 50 ASUI cards have not been picked up by students, according to ASUI secretary Beverly Garrison.

The cards are in the General Manager's office and should be picked up immediately. They admit students to all ASUI functions.

SUB To Feature American Movie

The first American movie of the season, "Henry VIII," will be presented tomorrow night in the new Borah Theatre in the Student Union Building. Two showings will be given, at 7 p.m. and 8:30 p.m.

The movie portrays the story of King Henry VIII of England chasing six of his wives. Although not basically a comedy, "Henry VIII" contains many humorous moments. The lavish set features authentic Tudor settings.

Earned Award
Included in the star-studded cast are Charles Laughton, Merle Oberon, John Loder, Wendy Barrie and Robert Donat. Laughton's performance in the lead role earned him the Academy Award for 1938.

This will be the first movie shown in the new 20-seat Borah theatre, which was recently furnished with silver and gold plush seats. The usual 25c admission will be charged. The ASUI film committee sponsors "Henry VIII."

Students Request More Classroom Equipment

It is common talk among doctors that students (of any size, shape or intellect) are very apt to develop back trouble because of their sitting habits in class and almost any other place they are lucky enough to find a place to sit.

We all know that the posture of most students is far from perfect, but we believe that it has a purpose around here. By this is meant the seating facilities in the majority of classrooms on the campus.

Students Know
The students know whereof we speak, but it is doubtful that the faculty has knowledge of the torture of sitting in antiquated chairs that were undoubtedly built for mitts (unless, of course, they too attended class at this institution.)

A prime example of such dilapidated furniture may be found in any classroom in the Ad building. Any person who is over four feet tall and 90 pounds in weight has one hell of a time sitting straight, let alone comfortably.

Taking Notes Not Easy
These chairs are so low, so rickety, and so close together that it is impossible to sit in one and take notes without slouching.

But the Ad building is not alone in the torture department. Except in the newer buildings the furniture is equally murderous. In many cases one must sit down delicately and brace oneself all through the class hour to keep the chair from collapsing.

Unless the university can obtain better furniture, we would suggest clearing the classrooms and have each student bring a camp chair to class. To heck with our backs, we just want to be able to sit down in the manner prescribed for normal human beings.

Harlow Calls Skiers

Ski Coach Gene Harlow has announced a meeting of past and prospective ski team members at 4:30 Wednesday in room 106, Memorial gym. All male students interested in varsity skiing should attend this meeting.

There is to be folk and social dancing under the direction of Miss Coffee, of the P. E. department. During the intermission there will be a short program presented by both clubs.

All members should attend.

Bob: The Japanese consider Bing Crosby the funniest comedian in the movies. They think he's got his pants on over his rickshaw.

Bing: (To Judy Garland about Bob) You shoulda seen him, kid, when he had a sponsor the summer. He was beside himself—and a more unattractive couple you've never seen!

BOB-BING version of "Goodnight Irene." Sometimes she sleeps in pajamas. Sometimes she sleeps in a gown. But when they're both at the laundry Irene is the talk of the town.

BOB: (Approach his new golden-bronze sport jacket) I'm glad you like it. The Chesterfield people like it too. It's made of tobacco leaves.

BING: Well, it's appropriate. You've got the pouch for it!

BOB: You know, in Japan hissing is a national custom... On a quiet night you'd think the whole nation had developed a slow leak!

BING: (To Claudette Colbert) You know Bob and I are going to make a picture in Paris. The only thing that's holding us up is a script. CLAUDETTE: Well, that never stopped you before!

Enjoy Bob and Bing on radio: Bob every Tuesday night on NBC and Bing every Wednesday night on CBS.

Scorehappy Sun Devils Dump Dixiemens 48-21 At Tempe

Whizzer White Runs, Passes Arizona State Over Vandals

A tired, sun-tanned squad of Vandals rolled into Moscow yesterday afternoon following a 11-day pigskin jaunt around the country in which they wound up the 1950 season with a three, five, one, record.

The Vandals' win over Boston University gave them three wins against five losses including the Arizona setback, and a tie with WSC for the season. The trip was probably best summed up by defensive line backer Bob Hilder. "It was wonderful, but it's nice to be back."

Accommodations and hospitality were grand throughout, except for two hours Saturday night in Tempe. An Arizona citizen, Willford (Whizzer the scoundrel) White did everything with the pigskin but deflate it (he probably could have done that, too) as he sparked his Arizona Sun Devils to a 48-21 victory over the Gem Staters. White, who was tagged one of the best backs in the Southern conference, personally accounted for five TD's and passed for two others.

Boston Beans and Burlisque Not much time was spent in the Massachusetts capital. The flying Vandals checked in at the Kenmore hotel late Thursday evening and worked out Friday. Saturday afternoon they proceeded to show the Terriers a bad day as halfback Glen Christian led his teammates to a 26 to 19 win. Halfback Dave Murphy recalled part of the trip at this point, "We might not have spent much time there, but some of managed to work in a burlesque show before we headed South."

The Howell congregation flying high from their 26-19 Beantown win invaded the Jokeak Dude Ranch in sunny Arizona Sunday, and worked out the kinks and sore spots in the ranch swimming pool. Workouts prior to the Tempe game were hot and tiring. Ol Sol baked the area throughout the week and old timers recall it as one of the warmest Thanksgivings in Arizona for some time.

Things were rather dead around the famous winter resort until the spud diggers arrived there. A few days later some of the boys decided to play cowboy. Guard Pete Hester thought he would pull a Gene Autry and display a bit of fancy riding through the Arizona hills. He mounted his horse and end Billy Mullins, wanting to give him a good start, gently kicked the beast. Hester momentarily forgot how to control the animal and ended up riding full speed through an Arizona orange grove. He got his man but ended up with a few pre-game scratches and cuts.

Center Vern Baxter was probably the most thoughtful man on the trip. Always thinking of his teammates, Baxter had no less than a dozen dates lined up for the team after the game. "Just thinking of the future," he exclaimed.

Managers John Reager and Don Hutchinson, who do all the behind the curtain work for the Idaho football team, worked in a little unscheduled swimming on the side. In fact Hutchinson, junior manager, was so overwhelmed with the resort pool that with a little persuasion from some of the players he jumped in clothes and all.

English Channel Next? Senior manager Reager was too smooth for this foul play however. He took his in an irrigation canal. Following a secret rehearsal between one of the bus drivers and the players, the driver faked a flat tire on the way back to the Dude Ranch and Reager was the first to investigate. That was the end, brother. John didn't have a chance for that old canal was right there with outstretched arms.

Food was excellent during the entire escapade. Defensive star Jim Chadband's first comment was, "EAT, Lord how we ate." Halfback Bob Mays took a liking for the eating part of the trip, also, especially in Phoenix. He ran across some grapes, one of his many favorite dishes, and retired to an overhead balcony to eat grapes and spit the seeds down on the peasants below.

Whizzer White, the Arizona State version of a Texas jack-rabbit, closed a fabulous collegiate gridiron career by scoring five touchdowns and passing for two more in defeating Idaho, 48-21, at Tempe Saturday night.

However, Mr. White's performance lost some of its luster in the opinion of the Vandals in that three of the four Tempe second period tallies were on the tainted side. In each instance Arizona State linemen illegally trespassed beyond the line of scrimmage as the ball carrier reared back and flipped an aerial to an awaiting receiver downfield.

The Vandal defense, noting the position of the opposing linemen, naturally expected a running play but were caught completely off guard by the maneuver. Idaho's coaching staff raised a violent protest but to no avail as the officials were unable to reach an agreement among themselves.

The first of these three gifts was a 34-yard pitch by White to teammate Bill Gosselin in the end zone. Minutes later White took over the receiving chores and nailed a flat pass from Harold Helf and raced 16 yards for six points. Two minutes passed before White again handled the ball, was trapped, and escaped to heave the pigskin to the welcoming arms of Marvin Wahlin in the end zone as numerous Tempe linemen wandered nonchalantly down the field.

The Vandals opened the evening's fireworks early in the second stanza. As Johnny Brogan grabbed an Arizona punt, and scampered 86 yards to pay dirt behind excellent blocking. Glen Christian booted the extra point and the Vandals led, 7-0.

A few plays after the ensuing kickoff, the Arizona Whizzer spangled Aja's pass and outdistanced the Vandal secondary to complete a 59-yard trek for the score. Shoeless Bobby Fuller converted and the count was knotted at 7-7.

(Fuller barefooted the ball through the uprights six times during the course of the game to run his season's total to an impressive 48 out of 51.)

The deadlock was of short duration though as the Sun Devils capitalized on the "wide-awake officiating" to zoom to a 28-7 halftime lead.

Shortly after the intermission Idaho's Wayne Anderson intercepted a pass on the Tempe 29. Brogan then flipped the oval to Jerry Ogle who romped as far as the 616-foot line, and King Block plowed across for the six-pointer from there. The only other Idaho scoring was accounted for later in the third canto as Christian slipped around left end for a five-yard jaunt to cap a 67-yard touchdown march.

Meanwhile, White was continuing to chew up yardage as he rambled for touchdowns of 54 and 43 yards in the third period and climaxed the Arizona scoring with a five-yard plunge in the final quarter.

Two Tested Hotshots

Guard Sam Jenkins, a 6-3 letterman junior, and center Bob Wheeler, 6-6 senior monogram winner, are two boys Coach Chuck Finley will be counting heavily on in the two-game series against Steve Belko's ISC Bengals this weekend at Memorial gym. Last season Wheeler canned a total of 194 points and Jenkins snapped the cords for 186 counters. Three national basketball publications tabbed Jenkins and Wheeler as the Vandals' scoring punch again this year.

Idaho State Opens Vandal Hoop Season

With the season opener slated for this coming week-end at Memorial gymnasium, the Idaho Vandal hoop squad worked to perfect a defense yesterday which coach Chuck Finley hopes will stop the Idaho State Bengals who oppose the locals in a two game set on Friday and Saturday.

The Steve Belko-coached southerners have an edge on the Vandals in that they now have two games under their belts. In a pair of contests with Utah State last weekend the ISC five dropped both by scores of 62-54 and 69-55, but Finley reports that they have a tough, fast club despite their losses.

No starting five was named by the Vandal coach, but included on one five in yesterday's workout were such seasoned performers as Dick Reed, Nick Stallworth, Bob Wheeler, Sam Jenkins, and Ken Barker. This could very well be the opening five on Friday night.

On another quartet Finley had Herb Mead, Bill Mather, Hartley Kruger, Stuart Dollinger, and Herb Millard. Completing the squad are Sherill Williamson, Roger Lillibridge, Ken Loudermilk, Bob White, and Bruce McIntosh. The only injury at the present time is a broken nose sustained by Millard. If he is unable to suit up for the weekend contests Rod Polard will take over.

Also announced yesterday was the preliminary contest to be played at 5:45 Friday evening between the Idaho Vandal Babes and Newport, Wash., high school which is coached by former Vandal "Lefty" Auer. These same two teams will meet again on Saturday evening at the same time.

Arg Photoman Sets Weightlifting Mark

Argonaut photographer Bradford Caffrey grabbed two of the three Olympic lifts in the light day evening at the Spokane YMCA weightlifting contest.

The Idaho freshman from East Haven, Conn. set two Spokane records in the process. Caffrey placed first in the two hand snatch by hoisting 165-pounds and won the clean and jerk with a 230-pound lift. In the military press he was second.

Sportscasters Pick Chadband On Defensive Squad

Chalk up another point for the University of Idaho's 1950 football squad. Joltin Jim Chadband has been picked as defensive right half on the Tidewater Associated Oil company's all-coast team.

The squad was picked by more

Tide Water Pick

than 35 Associated sportscasters and commentators who were asked to make their selections from players of all college teams on the west coast. The mikesmen selected only those players that they had seen in action during the 1950 collegiate season.

This was Chadband's third varsity year with the Vandals. The San Jose senior has been an outstanding performer on offense as well as defense. In stature, Jim is 6 feet 2 inches, weighs 198 pounds and is 23 years of age.

Picked in the defensive backfield with Chadband was quarterback Carl Van Heuitt of California, left half Roland Kirkby of Washington and fullback Ollie Matson of USF. LaVerne Torgerson, center from WSC, was also one of the defensive players chosen.

On the offensive squad, Washington and California held a complete monopoly on the backfield selections. Don Heinrich and Hugh McElhenry, the two record breakers from Seattle, were selected quarterback and fullback, respectively. From California, Jim Monachino and Pete Schabarum tied down the left half and right half positions. Only one other Northern Division player was selected on the offensive squad. Arvid Niemi from OSC, was chosen for the left tackle position.

Boise Broncos Get Pasadena Bowl Bid Against Long Beach

The Boise Junior College Broncos, who on November 17 posted their 40th straight football triumph, announced through head coach George Blankley yesterday that they have been invited to play in the fifth annual Pasadena Little Rose Bowl contest on December 9. Thus the Broncos will be able to test their strength against the unbeaten Vikings of Long Beach (California) City College, who have chalked up nine straight wins while scoring 285 points to their opponents' 63. Long Beach, which is led by Jack Price, a quarterback who has completed 58 of 102 passes this year, is expected to give the Boise crew its toughest go since the start of its long win streak. The contest, to be played in Pasadena's famed Rose Bowl, is expected to draw upwards of 70,000 fans.

The United Press gave honorable mention to Idaho fullback King Block and guard Roy Colquitt yesterday when the all-star football lineup was released from San Francisco.

Block and Colquitt are both seniors. Last season Colquitt was named an All-Coast guard by the Associated Press.
