THE IDAHO ARGONAUT, Official Publication of the ASUI

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1950

The GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

A recent vote of hands was called at Lindley hall on the question: "Shall we keep class officers and give them something to do, or do away with them completely?"

The vote was 40 to do away with them, 18 to keep them. It was a hurry-up vote, and the same results may have been obtained in any living group.

Mass confusion never tends to record an accurate vote. Time and understanding is required before this can be accomplished.

We don't believe all of those forty dissenting voters really understood the issue, or had time to think it over.

Let's Keep Them And we don't think class officers should be done away with.

Some argue that at the present time they are just figureheads. This of course depends to a certain extent on the officers. They do run class weeks, all of them, which follows the democratic principle of having elected, rather than appointed (as would be the case if class officers were abolished) officials for them.

Cost of running such elections has been brought up, in comparison to benefit. However, the cost is not extreme.

ASUI Executive Board discussed class officers briefly last week, and referred the problem to another group for further discussion along lines or additional duties for class officers. Jason believes that the additional duties idea is alright, as long as the duties are not degrading.

Old Tradition: Class officers are a tradition of long standing among the nation's schools. Their job could well include the furthering of the traditions of the classes themselves.

Of the whole thing we might draw this analogy. The general population, or the rulers, of the United States do not tell governments of states what to do. The states themselves do that. Hence the classes themselves should be responsible for their officers or whether they have any.

Orchids: The Argonaut offers congratulations to KUOI. Troubled with difficulties of moving to their new quarters in the Student Union Building and adapting their equipment to stay within FCC regulation under different conditions, the station officially goes on the air this afternoon.

Breakfast: The Student Union cafeteria now has butterhorns for sale in the mornings. We feel obligated to say this here, for we have been informed that by leaving that information out of another story in the last Arg, only two of six on hand had been sold by Saturday noon.

How Come?: It's a wonder no one ever found out before. The Washington State college Evergreen, student newspaper, announced Wednesday in a big front page story that "Butch," their famous Cougar mascot, was a female--not a male as we had always thought. Oh well, you can't always keep a secret.

Rumor Department: Students going home for Thanksgiving next year may have a longer stay--legally--according to a rumor which crossed our desk today. Understanding is that a plan is now being considered to make it a 4 1/2 day holiday.

Walenta To Assist With ASUI Book: Donna Jo Walenta was appointed assistant editor of the ASUI Handbook at the Associated Women Students meeting last night. AWS will have a special section in the handbook next year devoted entirely to the women.

Plans for the luncheon with the WSC council on December 9 were discussed at that time.

Attention Cowpokes: Anyone interested in riding on the university rodeo team please contact Howard Harris at Christman hall as soon as possible.

Either We Start Coach--Or Else

Tackles Don Ringe and Bill Fray soak up Arizona sunshine in their BVD's and at the same time make plans for Head Football Coach Dixie Howell to soak up water in the swimming pool at the Jokake Dude Ranch near Tempe last week.

Vandal Voice To Be Heard Permanently

KUOI, The Voice of the Vandal, is now on a permanent broadcasting schedule. The station will go on the air at 1 p.m. this afternoon, leaving the air at 11 p.m. on week days, and midnight on Friday and Saturdays.

Due to engineering difficulties, KUOI in the past has had limited coverage on the campus. Now that many of the technical problems are improved, the station has full campus coverage. This was accomplished in a large part by the advice of one of the Mutual Broadcasting company's engineers from station KNEW in Spokane.

Broadcast All Games: KUOI will begin handling the basketball games with the Idaho-University game, December 8. The Voice of the Vandal will be the only station to carry all freshmen games, as well as all varsity games.

Studio Cast To Present Three Plays: December 12, 13, and 14 are the dates set aside for the three one-act plays to be presented in the University Student Theatre. These plays are being directed by members of the advanced play production class under the supervision of Miss Jean Collette, head of the drama department.

Marvin Alexander is directing "The Dreamy Kid" by Eugene O'Neill, assisted by Ted Gallagher. Edmund Rostand's "The Romanians" is under the direction of Joan Coble, assisted by Fred Burton.

Cast Listed: "Bumblepuppy" by J. W. Rogers is directed by Norm Green, assisted by Doris Moore. The three cast members in this production are Stowell Johnson as Andrew; Bill Beamer as Hamlet, and John Fonburg as Gentry.

The production staff for this series of plays is headed by technical director Shirley Pettijohn. Wayne Smith heads the construction and stage crew. Those working on this crew are Don Taylor, Ron Greening, Keith Keefer, Clyde Winters, Norm Jones, and Marvin Alexander.

Band Clinic Starts With Banquet

Last night marked the beginning of the annual Idaho Band Clinic which started with a banquet at the Ad club for visiting directors and friends. Following the dinner was the first reading session of the clinic by the University Concert band in the Auditorium.

Various meetings will be conducted today, starting at 8:30 a.m. and ending with a dinner at the Green Room in the Moscow Hotel at 5:45 p.m.

After two meetings Saturday morning there will be a lunch and evaluation of the clinic at the Vandal Room in the Student Union building.

WAC To Interview Women Applicants For Army Corps

Second Lieutenant Dortha J. Johnson, WAC, from Seattle, and Master Sergeant Dorothy Rutherford, WAF, from Spokane, will interview prospective applicants who are graduating seniors or students doing graduate work, for appointment as second lieutenant in the Women's Army Corps, United States Army.

Applicants must be college graduates or seniors anticipating graduation by June 30, 1951, between 21 and 27 years of age.

Contact In SUB: While on the campus Lt. Johnson and M/Sgt. Rutherford will be guests at Hays hall, where they may be contacted in the evenings. During the day from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., they may be contacted in the main lobby of the Student Union building from December 4 through December 10.

The deadline for filling applications in the Sixth Army Headquarters is January 15, 1951. This is a continuing program and graduating seniors of the class of 1952 will have the same opportunity next year.

Get Gem Settings Before Christmas

All students who have not had their Gem portraits taken should do so before Christmas. Call one of the three Moscow studios and arrange for a sitting. This applies as well to the town men and women who wish their pictures in the Gem.

As the work on the Gem of the Mountains progresses, cameramen may be seen with more frequency on the campus, taking the nearly 2,000 pictures that will appear in the 1951 edition.

War Hits Idaho Campus; Battle Fought In Arboretum

Bang, Bang, you're dead. Sounds like kid stuff? There's a lot of people here who don't think it one bit childish. Freshmen and sophomore ROTC infantry students participated in tactical maneuvers last Tuesday night in such a manner that instructors in charge felt they performed better than most participants in OCS maneuvers.

The classes were divided into 16 groups and sent out into the cold, dark night on various reconnaissance patrol missions. The problems took four hours to complete, and students are excused from the same number of hours of class time.

Mather And Clausen Star: To give an added kick to the evening, a skit was presented prior to the releasing of squads. Bill Mather and Paul Clausen played the leading roles, illustrating various mistakes made by patrol members. An example was given showing how easily a small light or match can be seen at night, and how well sound carries.

Ambushes, abandoned machine gun and observation posts constituted but a few of the tactical problems encountered. It was up to the patrols to decide what they could take back and what had been booby trapped. As an example of the strenuousness of the maneuvers, Wayne Anderson, football player, in spite of his good condition, reported that he was "popped."

Are We Training Russians?: Every army needs an enemy, and in maneuvers the enemy is important. A very clever and elusive opponent was discovered in the freshman members of the Pershing Rifles. They even caused one patrol to lose two men, but they were later rediscovered so all ended well.

Blank ammunition was fired during the ambush, creating a real and somewhat startling effect. Patrols were shown a movie on night patrolling while waiting their turn to leave. ORC and senior class members helped supervise the games.

Officials in the ROTC office report that the highest grade received on the combined test and maneuvers was by one Chuck Prohaska. If that gentleman would report to the office and return his M-1 rifle he will be given his grade. It seems there is no such person registered in school, and the ROTC department fears we are even TRAINING Russian spies. Now what senior would pull a trick like this?

What Have We Here--Ooops!: Startling and embarrassing situations were encountered throughout the maneuvers by different patrols. One patrol reported a most embarrassing find in the Arboretum.

As a whole, ROTC officers were well pleased by the entire show, and plans are being considered for making it a yearly affair. They give great applause to the students engaged, who report that they feel the maneuvers are one of the most practical things ever done by the department.

Football Film Shown

Movies of the Idaho-Boston university football game will be shown this Sunday afternoon in the Borah room at the Student Union. The pictures of the game will be shown at 2:30 p.m.

Idaho Men Direct Crop Improvement

Idaho will share in the International Crop Improvement association program in Kansas City, December 6 to 8. Four men working with production of certified seed will attend. Eugene W. Whitman, Boise, university Extension Service Agronomist, is chairman of the bean certification committee.

Others from Idaho who will participate are T. C. Blackburn, Boise, manager of the Idaho Crop Improvement association; Ben Finkel, Craigmont; and Oliver Baum, Ashton, both directors of the state association.

Discuss Standards: Whitman said the international group would discuss unification of standards for many common crops, including those in which Idaho is particularly interested. Production and use of certified seed, he said, is becoming more important year after year.

Harry Wellhausen, formerly of Twin Falls and now from Tennessee, is president of the international association.

New York Alums To Reserve Seats

Arrangements have been made with Madison Square Garden to reserve a special block of tickets for Idaho alumni attending the Idaho-Long Island university basketball game in New York on December 25.

Notices of these reservations have been mailed to 250 Idaho alumni in the New York vicinity who can obtain their tickets by presenting these notices before December 20 at Madison Square Garden.

Included In Tour: The university basketball team's vacation tour includes games with St. Joseph's college at Philadelphia and LaSalle college at Atlantic City in addition to the New York game.

Campus Groups Asked To Supply Organization News

Campus organizations, honoraries, activities, and groups are requested to compile information about their respective organizations and turn it into the office of the ASUI president.

This information should include the official title of the organization, the approximate membership, and the functions, purpose, and activities of said organization. In addition to this it is desirable to have the requisites for membership, dues, if any, and the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of the current officers.

Cards Typed: All this information, except the officers will be typed on especially prepared cards which will be put in a semi-permanent file that will be made available to the student body. The officers' names and addresses will be placed on a small index card, which will be clipped on to the main file, so that it may be renewed each year.

This project is inaugurated by the Student Activities Board in answer to the needs of various students for an available source of information about campus organizations and how to get in touch with their officers.

For the greatest value to be had by this file it is desirable that this information be compiled and turned in at once. This includes practically every campus organization except the living groups.

Enrollment Is High For Current Year

Idaho's current enrollment totals 4,048 for both resident and extension students at the University, Registrar D. D. DuSault recently stated.

"Two hundred resident students are also enrolled in extension courses, but these duplications have been deducted," explained DuSault. "A total of 4,048 different students are being served at this time."

In addition, the university will provide instruction during the year for 10,732 4-H boys and girls, and about 800 summer school students. Another thousand persons will attend special conferences and meetings, bringing the total to be served during the year to about 15,580.

Placement Cards

ASUI placement cards are still available in the General Manager's office. Anyone interested in working on student committees should fill out a card.

Travel Bureau Open

The ASUI travel bureau, sponsored by NSA, is operating at all times for students desiring transportation or riders.

Any students with cars who can take riders to games or their respective homes are especially urged to sign up in the SUB manager's office.

A new nine-hole short course will be added to the ASUI golf course, ASUI prexy Vern Bahr announced at the Executive board meeting Tuesday evening.

Money for the addition was allotted last year. Five will be ready for operation next spring and the other four as soon as the grass on the greens has matured, Bahr reported. Greens on the short course will be as good as those on the regular nine-hole course, with 90 to 130 yards between holes.

With the new expansion, facilities will enable students to receive free instructions, in addition to the P.E. golf classes offered, and take some of the load off the regular course.

In a review of last year's operation of the golf course, Bahr pointed out further features of the student owned installation which now embraces 60 acres of land, valued at $30,000. Also on the property is a new golf club house, estimated value about $35,000.

Student Owned

The course is one of the very few student owned golf courses in the United States and has a national reputation as one of the best nine-hole greens around. Such notables as Patty Berg and Ben Hogan have gone the rounds here. The course was designed by Frank James, who has designed some 60 fairways in the Northwest. James serves as professional and manager of the Idaho course.

Last year over a third of the student body--1,200--bought season tickets, at $1.50 per semester, or about one-fifth the average costs among other colleges. In addition, almost 300 others bought green fees. According to James, as high as 275 students used the facilities during a single day last year. A good load for a nine-hole course is usually considered around 150.

Faculty Allowed: One-third of those playing were coeds and two-thirds males, or just about the same ratio found in enrollment.

Students themselves run the course through ASUI and it is primarily for student use. Faculty members however are allowed to use the facilities. Faculty rates are $12.50 per year.

During the summer the general public is welcomed at the course, due to the low student summer enrollment. Rates then are $1 per day, or $25 for the entire summer.

The librettists, Giovanni Targioni-Tozzetti and Guido Menasci, took their subject from a tale of Sicilian life by Giovanni Verga. The opera was first produced in Rome, Italy, May 18, 1890, in the Italian language; Idaho's performance is in English.

Love Highlighted In Henry VIII At SUB

By JERRY MCKEE "Henry VIII," presented in the Borah Theatre Wednesday night, was a success, due largely to the element of comedy in the play, although basically it was not a comedy film. The interpretation of Charles Laughton in the title role was very good, except that in the final scene his makeup made him look as if he had been hit by a heavy fall frost.

Also worthy of mention was Elsa Lancaster, as the petite German princess and card-shark. Her presentation of the drunken princess was one of the highlights of comedy in the movie.

Presented Way of Life Although the show varied considerably on historical detail, it did give an interesting insight into how the people of that time lived and loved, especially loved. Over 300 people attended the two performances of "Henry VIII," sponsored by the ASUI film committee. It was the first time most of those in attendance had been in the new Borah Theatre. Although the open projector gave off considerable light and noise, and front seats offered a distorted view of the screen, the all-over presentation of the movie was acceptable to the audience.

Memorial Gymnasium Site Of Court Curtain-Raiser Tonight

By Ron Johnson

San Francisco's nasal toned sports announcer, Ira Blue (pronounced Blew) the most outspoken miker on the Pacific slope, came up with a real gem of an idea earlier this week. Ira, who is a rabid northern (California) sports adherent, bitterly protested the Pasadena bowl committee's Sunshine State selection of Long Beach for the Little Rose Bowl December 9 against Boise JC.

Mr. Blue contends that Santa Rosa JC, a ten game winner that closes its season tonight in a game with once-defeated Monterey, is California's strongest jaycee representative and should have received the bowl invitation. But Blue isn't one to lay down his drumstick when someone takes away his drum. He's cooking up a "soup" bowl game for December 24 in Kezar stadium. The opponents in his "day before Christmas contest" will be the winner of the Santa Rosa-Monterey fracas this evening, and the victor of the Little "Nose" Bowl December 9. Oh yes, Mr. Blue expressed hopes that the Boise Broncos trample Long Beach JC with a score somewhere in the vicinity of 187 to 0. Why pick it so close Ira?

I see that the United Press released a pre-season basketball rating Wednesday and not one single Pacific coast quintet was listed among the nation's top ten. UP did check UCLA number eleven (as an act of courtesy to their scribes in California) and Washington 16th. IDAHO WAS NOT PLACED IN THE FIRST 30 and neither were any other coast squads.

Smoke Rings

I don't know what UP sports writers put in their pipes when they dreamed up this pre-season rating but it's about time they wake up to the fact that there's more than tall-stands of timber, fur trappers and the Barbary Coast in the Pacific area.

Joe Harris, a nationally known Philadelphia hoop prognosticator picked Idaho as a 29 point favorite over Idaho State Saturday night in Memorial gymnasium. Mr. Harris made no forecast for tonight's game but Vandal Coach Chuck Finley did and it wasn't by a 29-point advantage.

Local athletics move indoors tonight and tomorrow evening as the Idaho Vandals open their 1950-51 basketball season with a two night stand at Memorial gymnasium against the Idaho State Bengals from Pocatello. The two game series will give local fans an early season indication of what Coach "Chuck" Finley has in the way of a basketball team this year, and to what extent it stacks up with the high pre-season ratings of the sportswriting dopsters.

The visitors from the Southland come to Moscow with a record of no victories and two defeats, but their performances in these two contests indicate that they are a team to be reckoned with. Led by 6' 5" Dewey Cunningham who is incidentally the tallest man on the squad, the Bengals have a fast, scrappy team with several good shooters. Another outstanding ballplayer on the State roster is forward Wes Leach who is one of the top scorers on the club. Standing 6' 2" he is especially apt in his execution of the right-handed pivot shot. Other starters for the Bengals will be Melbern Clark, 6' 1", at forward, and Leon Morris, 5' 10", and Byron Jones, 5' 11", at the guards.

An interesting feature of the ISC team this year as far as local fans are concerned lies in the Bengal coach. The squad is being tutored this season by Steve Belko, who last year was frosh football and basketball mentor at Idaho. Belko, a former All-Northern division basketball player and football star at the University in 1938, is in his first year at Idaho State. While at Idaho he was known for the fine frosh teams which he produced, and 14 of the 15 members of the Idaho varsity of this season were coached by Belko at one time or another.

The Vandals will also be presenting a formidable line-up that will have a big advantage in height over their opponent. Finley announced yesterday that his probable starters will include Nick Stallworth, 6' 6", and Dick Reed, 5' 9", at the forwards, Bob Wheeler, 6' 6", at center, Ken Barker, 6' 6", and Sam Jenkins, 6' 3", at the guards. Finley will have 15 men suited up for the contest.

Coach Steve Belko and his 1950-51 Idaho State courtmen acquainted themselves with Memorial Gym last night as they held a light workout prior to tonight's game. The ten man squad from Pocatello indicated they have a hard driving team and several lads with a good eye for the hoop. The big weakness is height according to Coach Belko. This will be a definite disadvantage to them as the Vandals have one of the tallest quintets in the school's history.

Freshman Basketeers Break Ice

Idaho's freshman hoopsters will raise the curtain on the 1950-51 basketball season at Memorial gym tonight when they face the ineligible of the varsity squad. Coach Art Smith's quintet will also meet Newport, Wash., high school in Saturday evening's preliminary event.

Coach Smith, who replaced Idaho State mentor Steve Belko, and former Idaho hoop star Preston Brimhall, have been working their frosh charges against the varsity for several weeks. Sixteen names grace the yearling roster at present, but Smith intends to shave this number to twelve after the weekend games.

Stan Wilcox, All-State forward last year from Coeur d'Alene, Tom Flynn, All-State guard in '50 from Lewiston, and Dwight Morrison, Washington All-State center from Walla Walla are the outstanding members mentioned by Smith. The frosh coach added that this trio will comprise the nucleus of tonight's starting five, but the other two starters won't be named until gametime.

A bachelor is a man who never Mrs. anything.

Boxers Don Gloves In Mid-December Varsity Smoker

Coach Frank Young speeded up boxing turnouts this week with less than a month remaining before the Vandals open the season, December 28, against Louisiana State at the Sugar Bowl.

During sessions the men worked on four two-minute rounds, punching the light and heavy bags, fundamental drills with their partners and exercises. Road work continued, at every break in the weather, as an essential part of the conditioning program.

Varsity and freshman alike are training with their eyes on the inter-varsity smoker scheduled for December 15 at Memorial Gym. The smoker is planned to give Coach Young, as well as fans, an opportunity to watch the men box under actual competitive conditions. The bouts will definitely have a bearing on final squad positions according to Young.

At the present time the tentative lineup boasts a powerful array of veterans and newcomers who have looked good in practice: 125-Frank Echevarria-junior; 130-DeForest Tovey-senior; 135-Norm Walker-senior; 145-Bud Walker-junior; 155-Len Walker-senior; At 165-pounds Verl King, junior who boxed at Idaho in 1943, has been looking exceptionally good. At the last two weights senior Vern Bahr, sophomore Larry

BOXING

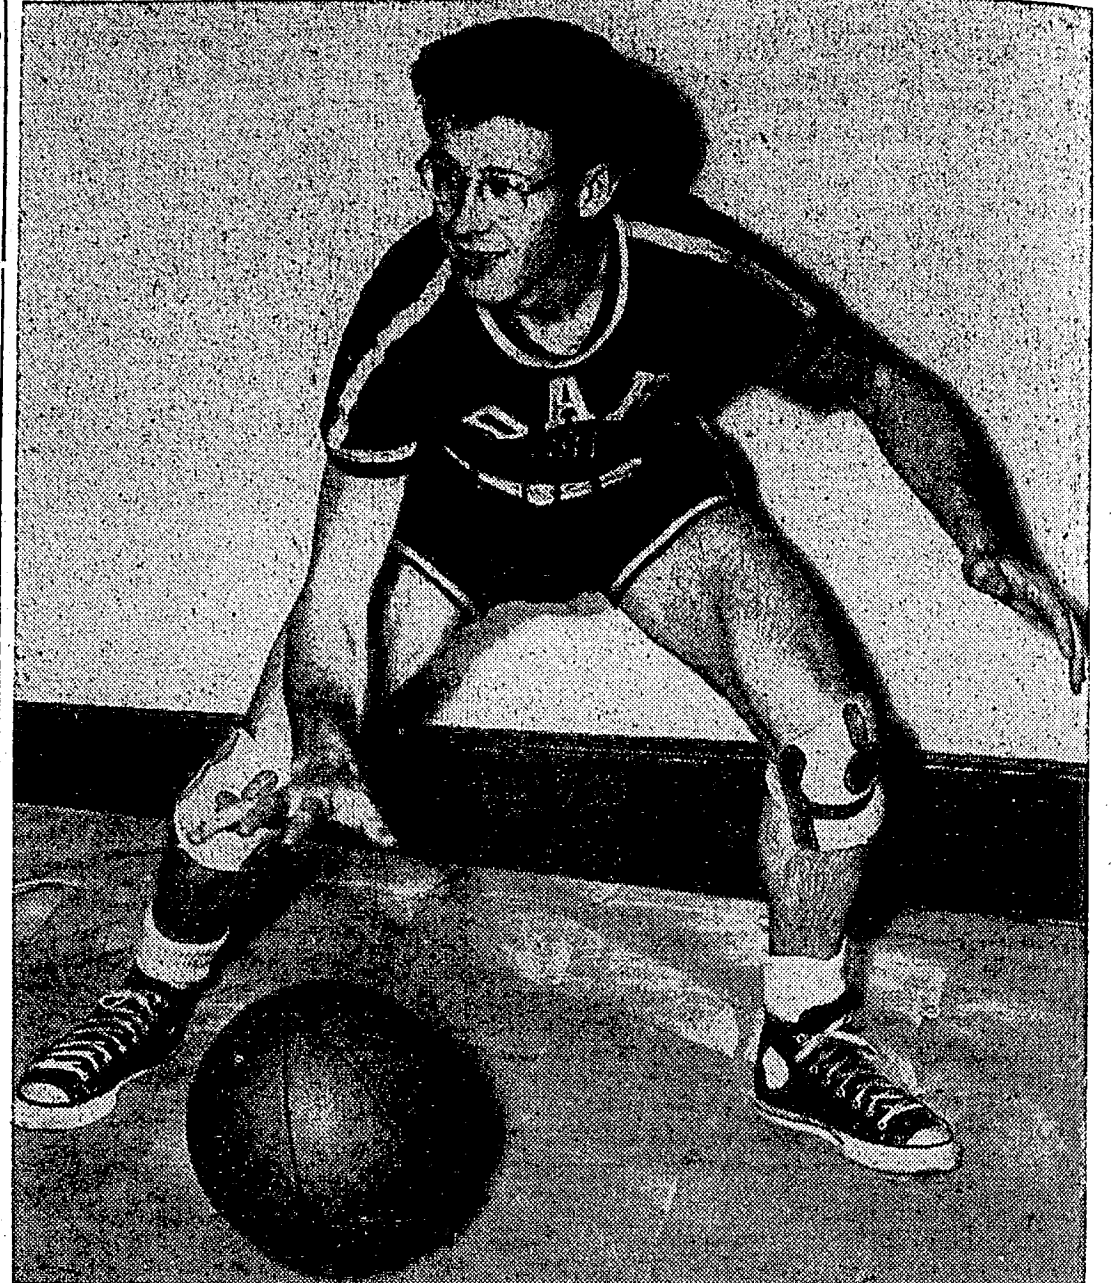

All men eligible for varsity boxing competition draw uniform from equipment room and report to Gym Annex, Monday at 4:30, for a team picture.

Moyer and senior Marv Beguhl are the top flight contenders. Also looking well at 140 pounds is sophomore Barb Jea.

On the freshmen side of the picture the Vandals have come up with some high-flying talent which includes: 133-pounds, Berry Winzler, 135, Jack Webster; 146, Dean Gosselin and Duane Guillick; 150, Lynn Nichols; 155, Ted McAlan D'Andread Dade; 160, Don Anderson, and 190, Ray Horn.

Today athletic officials announced a minor change in the boxing schedule. The Vandals will box Gonzaga at Spokane on February 27 instead of March 1, as previously released.

Mr. Contrast

The 1950-51 court lid-lifter gets underway tonight as Chuck Finley's high ranked hoopsters fire away against the Idaho State Bengals. Diminutive forward Dick Reed will be on hand to begin his third varsity season for Finley and promises to be one of the key men on this year's attack. Reed is the contrast on the Vandal squad. Standing only 5'9", he is seven inches under the squad's average of 6'4". Pre-season sportswriters have ranked the Idaho maple men as one of the top twenty teams in the nation. The preliminary contest begins at 5:45 with the main event scheduled at 7:30.

THE VANDALS OPEN THEIR 1950-51 BASKETBALL SEASON TONIGHT AGAINST IDAHO STATE COLLEGE LET'S GIVE THE TEAM THE SAME SUPPORT AND SPIRIT WE HAVE SHOWN ALL THROUGH FOOTBALL SEASON. LET'S ALL ATTEND THE GAMES TONIGHT AND TOMORROW NIGHT!

Final Pigskin Tabulations Substantiate Good Season

With the last varsity football game safely in the books, a final analysis of the season's work by individuals on the Vandal football team is now set for public consumption in form of more statistics. Figures released by Ken Hunter, university publicity director, show that several of the Vandals fared extremely well during the past season.

The outstanding feature cropped up when the three year work of halfback John Brogan was tabulated. The Idaho co-captain in this period has amassed a total of 3307 yards through all forms of offense which is close to two miles of ground covered in football gear.

Two other seniors also turned in outstanding totals, these being Bob Mays with a total of 1894 yards and King Block with an 1120 yard aggregate. Block in this period has scored 72 points, Brogan 71, and Mays 48.

Now to get down to 1950 figures. Total offense leader was Glen Christian with an average of 5.3 yards on 89 trips with the ball. He was followed by Jim Chadband, 5.2 yards on 44 attempts; Max Glaves, 4.9 yards in 58 plays; Block, 4.4 on 92 carries; Brogan, 3.6 on 151 plays, and Mays who averaged 3.6 yards on 109.

Christian also led all rushers as he gained 468 yards on 90 attempts. Block with 406 yards and Brogan with 355 were also close to the top.

receivers on the end of the aerials, but the most outstanding was sophomore wingman Jerry Ogle who snagged a total of 22 passes for 341 yards gained. Christian was in second position with 12 catches and 196 yards.

Mays was the outstanding punter with an average of 37.7 yards on 28 boots. Brogan lofted 22 kicks for a 34.1 yard average.

In the pass defense department Wayne Anderson and Jim Chadband each picked out three aerials to top this phase of the game. Brogan returned 16 punts for 242 yards and 7 kick-offs for 127 yards to lead this phase of yardage gained.

Christian amassed the greatest total of points as he hit pay-dirt for 64 counters—a result of nine touchdowns and 10 extra points. Christian's 10 conversions out of 14 attempts was also tops. Other leading scorers for the Vandals were Block with 42 points and Chadband with 36 counters.

Yearling Watermen List Two Opponents

"Willing but not especially outstanding," is the term Coach Eric Kirkland uses to describe his Vandal freshman swimming team. He urges any interested plungers to try out for the squad.

The freshman swimming schedule for 1951 includes meets with Washington State college and Grays Harbor junior college. Kirkland points to Jim Lambert and Rich Bradbury as the squads two top tankmen. Both have shown promise in the freestyle.

Other team members are Ken Fisher and Paul Matthews, distance; Don Chevalier and Neal Hamilton, diving; Jim Keating, backstroke; and Pete Dickson and Joe De Marsch, relays and backstroke.
