Music Department Officials Chop Annual Pep Band Tour

The GOLDEN FLEECE

by Jason

"Death creeps in on little cat's feet," said a great poet once. (The quotation isn't completely accurate, but it fits the shoe here so we will wear it.)

That is exactly what is happening to a cherished tradition here at the University of Idaho. The tradition (it is old enough to be termed a tradition) of the Pep Band is slowly, but certainly being throttled.

Alumni of the University remember the Pep Band when it was the snappiest musical group in the state of Idaho. University students and high school students got a taste of the old Pep Band Friday night when an appearance was made at the basketball game, without the direction of director Kermit F. Hosch.

It was quite noticeable that those high school students present rather enjoyed the soft strains of "Tiger Rag" and some of the other old favorites. Strangely enough this was accomplished without the aid of oboes, piccoloes, bassoons, nor any of the other "necessary" instruments.

As an outfit sponsored by ASUI, the Pep Band has not played music of the high-brow type, but instead the more popular and jazzy music. They have been exponents as much of "show" as of music and consequently have been as welcome as a million dollars to high schools all over the state.

The "throttling" action started two years ago when the ASUI Executive Board (after considerable pressure) voted to place the music department in an advisory position to the band. It was then that the music department started choosing the type of music and deciding when and if the Pep Band should tour high schools.

The second step came last year when the Executive Board (sadly enough and after pressure) recommended that Pep Band members should be chosen from University Concert Band. This threw the reins of dictatorial power right into the hands of Mr. Hosch, who was also U. Band director.

This year the Pep Band is taking it's last desperate gasp for air as the fingers tighten more firmly. The Pep Band tour was cancelled. The one slight reward for services rendered at pep rallies, athletic contests, and other events was deprived of the group.

The fourth and final step will come next year. The last gasp will have been long gone. The Pep Band will be eliminated and in its stead, the University Concert Band under the direction of one Kermit F. Hosch will lull high school students to sleep all over the state.

But before that happens, let's look into the reasons for the cancellation of the tour this year. The biggest reason was that "tonal color" was lacking. Mr. Hosch agreed that the band sounded better this year than they had in the past. They were welcomed in the past, but this year high school students needed "tonal color," such as piccoloes, oboes, bassoons, etc. My, how high school students have changed since last year.

What A Pity The music report to President Buchanan stated that "sending this organization on tour would be comparable to sending the Vandaleers out without a tenor section, or fielding a football team without tackles or ends." Come now, isn't that just a bit absurd? Jason is sure that something could be worked out. The Pep Band themselves are willing, but the difficulty seems to lie with one person, Mr. Hosch. As one Executive Board member pointed out last Tuesday, Mr. Hosch has been consistent in his views. Consistency is a fine trait but if carried too far may be compared to the trait attributed to the old "Army mule."

As Ralph Waldo Emerson once stated, "A foolish consistency is the hobgoblin of little minds." (No offense.) It seems a shame that the wants of so many should be denied by the whims of so few. Yours for better relations and Happy Easter!!

Little International Queens

Terryl Willey, Bobbie Hargis, and Barbara Pearce were chosen recently by the Ag club to vie for 1951 Little International Queen. The two not winning will reign as princesses during the show scheduled for April 16 through 21. Carol Korvola was last year's queen.

Tenor Appears Wednesday At Moscow High School

Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock Roland Hayes, outstanding tenor, will present a concert at the Moscow high school auditorium. Tickets are on sale at the Owl Drug store and the Student Union bookstore for $1.50 and $2.00. Reginald Boardman accompanies the noted singer.

Mr. Hayes has been heard in the largest cities throughout America and sung before many of Europe's kings and queens. His artistry has caused critics to list him among the first in the musical field. He has also won degrees as Doctor of Music from Boston, Harvard, and Ohio Wesleyan universities.

After Heywood Brown heard Roland Hayes in a concert at Town Hall during Holy Week, he said, "Roland Hayes sang of Jesus, and it seemed to me that this was what religion ought to be. It was a mood instead of a creed, an emotion rather than a doctrine. There was nothing to define and nothing to argue. Each person took what he liked and felt, whatever he had to feel, and so there was no heresy. And as for miracles, music itself is a miracle."

Begins With Bach To begin his program, Roland Hayes will sing, "We Gott der Herr nicht bel uns halt," Bach. Also included on part one will be "Allor Che Sorge Astro Lucente," and "Round About the Fairy Ring," Handel, and "Adelaide," Beethoven.

Continuing the program, Mr. Hayes will sing for part two "Die Post," "Der Wegweiser," and "Der Schmetterling," Schubert; "Rengaine," Henri Tomasi; and "Tournement," C. Saint Saens.

Part three will include five Afro-American Work songs arranged by Frederick Hall. They are: "Lord, How Come Me Here?," "Po' Me," "How Long 'Fo De Sun Go Down?," "Day is Done," and "Git Up Chillon, Go Roun' De Wall."

Feature Easter Numbers Especially appropriate for Holy Week will be the last part of Mr. Hayes' program, which will include "My Songs" from the "Life of Christ Series," arranged by Roland Hayes. Included will be "Prepare Me One Body," "Sister Mary," "Lil' Boy," "Plenty Good Room In My Father's Kingdom," and "An' He Never Said a Mumblerin' Word."

Before Mr. Hayes begins his concert he closes his eyes and prays, saying, "Lord, as I sing, please blot Roland Hayes out. Let the people see only Thee."

School Will Continue There is no basis to the rumor about closing school because of illness reports Dr. Alley, university physician.

No "Modern" Equipment, States Department Head

The university music department officially put the "axe" to the annual Pep Band tour recently. Hall Macklin, department head, refused to recommend the tour in a music report to President J. E. Buchanan.

Three Picked As Finalists For Ag Queen

Bobbie Hargis, Hayes; Terryl Willy, Gamma Phi; and Barbara Pearce, Theta, were chosen as the three finalists in the Little International Queen contest. One will reign over the Little International celebration April 16 through 21.

These candidates will be introduced at a banquet April 3 and the queen will be announced about the second week in April.

Schedule Speech Contest The finalists were chosen by the Board of Directors of the Little International from a field of 11 candidates. The board will also pick the winning candidate to reign as queen.

Last year's queen was Carol Korvola who reigned with princesses Erlene Clyde and Ruth Wood.

The Ag club — Alpha Zeta extemporaneous contest will be concluded at the banquet April 3, with finalists Don Mitchell and Billy Leatham competing. The topics will be given the two speakers shortly before the banquet.

Audio-Visual Dept. Changes Offices

The Audio-Visual Center recently completed moving into the former Alumni Center. The moving permitted this department to offer better service to all departments and organizations.

Recent equipment purchased include a new film strip and slide projector, a Keystone overhead projector, and three new screens. The department recently purchased two new film strips which makes a total of 15 new ones for the year.

Offered to All In the new quarters there is room to show pictures and previews to approximately 40 people. These services and others are offered to all departments and organizations who care to use them.

Sign For Deposits Students living in town having dormitory room deposits and want the deposits held over until next semester are asked to sign for deposit holding at the Director of Dormitories office, second floor of Ad Offices building.

Seniors Eligible Senior members of Phi Eta Sigma, freshmen men scholastic honorary, are eligible to apply for one of two $300 scholarships to be used in graduate study.

All interested members may secure application blanks from Dr. Erwin Graue in his office.

Pi Gamma Mu Taps. Seven social science students were recently tapped by Pi Gamma Mu, national social science honor society.

Juniors and seniors tapped were Myron Johnston, Roger Swanson, Tomas Tomasson, Raymond Kratzer, Kyrum Sweet, James DeLeve, and Joan Price.

Inflation and banquet are scheduled for April 4.

Students Rideless As Vacation Begins

Classes will officially adjourn for the Easter holiday Thursday afternoon when students will head for their respective homes for a vacation extending through Monday, March 26.

Worship Is Offered On Easter Morn

Every university has its traditions that are polished and honored by the passing of time, and Idaho is no exception. One traditional practice that occurs annually is the Eastern Sunrise service, sponsored by the Inter-Church council.

This year the Easter Sunrise services will be conducted at the new Campus Christian Center at 7:30 o'clock Easter Sunday morning. The scheduled program includes:

Dr. Adam Will Speak Prelude, played by Joan Parks, followed with a vocal solo by Susan Staley. The invocation will be given by Elizabeth Winegar after which the congregation will sing "The Day of Resurrection."

Dr. Oscar M. Adam, director of the Campus Christian Center, will speak on "Tremendous Daybreak." John Blom will introduce Dr. Adam. The congregation will sing a closing hymn, and Blom will offer the benediction.

Everyone Invited The Easter Sunrise service committee consisting of Marilyn Pond, Frank Haglund, and Gene Larsen extends an invitation to all students and faculty of all denominations. Preceding the service, Easter hymns will be broadcast from the Christian center as a reminder of the "Tremendous Daybreak."

In past years the Easter service has been in different churches throughout Moscow, or in front of the Administration building.

Additional information can be obtained in the SUB lobby, or from Jim Bowley, SUB manager.

Permission for coeds remaining on campus during the holidays has been set at 11 p.m. Thursday and Sunday, and 1 a.m. on Friday and Saturday nights. All women's living groups will remain open.

Skits To Advertise Spinster Skip Soon

Coeds will have a chance to grab the male at the annual Spinster Skit scheduled for March 31, in the SUB ballroom.

A prize will be awarded for the best "corsage" worn by an Idaho male. The corsages are to be made by the women and will be judged on the basis of originality and novelty.

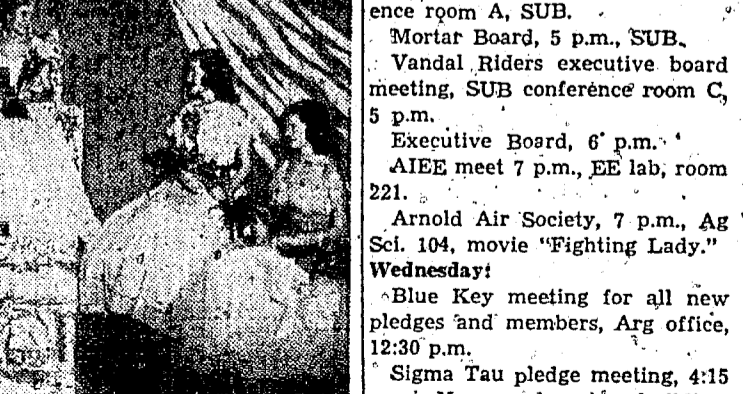

Tickets on Sale Dancing will be from 9 p.m. to midnight and tickets are selling at $1.50. They will be sold in all women's living groups.

Skits will be presented by members of Mortar Board, sponsoring organization, to advertise the Spinster Skit.

Inter-Frat Plans Dance For April The Inter-fraternity council has marked April 14, as the date for its annual formal dance. This year's dance will be in the large ball room of the Student Union building with Parke Enders and his 10 piece melody men orchestra from Pullman furnishing the music.

The Council has voted to cut the cost of the formal affair by changing the price of tickets from $2 to $1.25 per couple, and eliminating corsages. Dancing is scheduled to begin at 9 o'clock.

"Sweetheart" Winner

Pretty as the picture, Miss Joan Kaeser, Delta Gamma freshman, was elected Idaho's "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" for 1950-51. The announcement was made during intermission of the chapter's annual "Sweetheart" formal held in Eagles hall last Saturday evening. Flanking the new "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" are the four finalists, Margaret Alley, Alpha Chi Omega; Jeanne DeMott, Alpha Phi; Nadine Drake, Delta Gamma; Charlotte Pennington, Kappa Alpha Theta.

To Play Or Not To Play

It has finally come to pass that the friction between the music department and the Pep band has ignited an explosion. We have been expecting this for some time, and it comes as no great surprise that the music department has finally made their big play to submerge the Pep band into an insignificant role in campus functions (including, of course, representing the University off the campus).

A recommendation was recently issued by the music department to the effect that the Pep band was unfit to represent the University on an annual tour of the state. The major reason, given by the department was that the Pep band had insufficient instrumentation to perform before high school students.

It seems to us that if the Pep band is fit to perform before the students at the University, they should be able and fit to perform before any assemblage of high school students. However, it is not our purpose in this column to discuss the question of whether or not to send the Pep band on tour. We are more concerned by the fact that an academic department of the University has apparently gained control of an ASUI organization.

The music department established a beachhead last year in their efforts to control the Pep band when they managed to have that organization placed under their advisory control. They also were able to gain the power to pick only members of the Concert Band for the Pep band.

With the power the music department now wields over the Pep band, it is quite conceivable that they will try to merge that organization into the Concert band. They might also be able to accomplish their long standing desire to send the Concert band on tour in place of the Pep band.

Now the ASUI Executive Board is faced with either turning the Pep band over to the music department entirely, or of attempting to return that organization to ASUI control once again. Then, too, the music department would probably be delighted to have the Pep band done away with entirely.

When one department can gain control of an ASUI function, it is very possible that it could happen elsewhere. We do not accuse the administration of trying to wrest control of ASUI functions from the students, but it is amazing to see just how much an academic department can accomplish in the guise of advisorship.

We do not believe that any other department is trying to gain control of an ASUI function, but it could happen in years to come if the music department is able to establish a precedent.

The Pep band question is of interest to all of us, and we are eagerly awaiting its outcome. Idaho students have demonstrated the ability to govern themselves capably, and we hope it will remain that way. D. H.

Clean Tables—Low Prices

We hate to bring this up again, but a good many Bucket patrons are neglecting to clear their tables when they leave. It is probably caused by forgetfulness, but those who do not clear their tables are doing all they can to cause a raise in prices at the Bucket.

When students neglect to clear their tables, it causes one or two Bucket employes to work almost full time clearing tables. If this practice continues, the Bucket will be forced to hire additional help to take care of the overload.

Overhead expenses at the Bucket are kept low because of the small number of employes needed when each customer clears his table. However, if more help is needed to clear tables, the costs will be forced to raise.

It's up to you. You can keep expenses down, or raise them depending on whether or not you clear your table in the Bucket. D. H.

3-to-1 Ratio Exists Coeds Reign At Idaho

Have you ever wondered when you spoke to someone on this campus, whether you were speaking to a native Idahoan or to someone from out of state? Probably, three times out of five they were native Idahoans, for out of 3,056 students on this campus, 2,237 of them are resident of Idaho.

Can you imagine anywhere, else, girls, where there are 704 women and 2,352 boys? Sounds wonderful, doesn't it? What about you fellows—now you know why it's necessary to call for a date so far in advance—for all you know there are 2,351 others doing the same thing. There are still 3 men to every coed on this campus, so keep on your toes, men!!

Fewer Vets
The number of veterans now numbers 784. This is a decrease from last semester, because some of the lucky guys have obtained their degrees, and left.
Whether we are from the state or out of state, male or female, veteran or not, we are all students of the University of Idaho, and when we leave we take with us

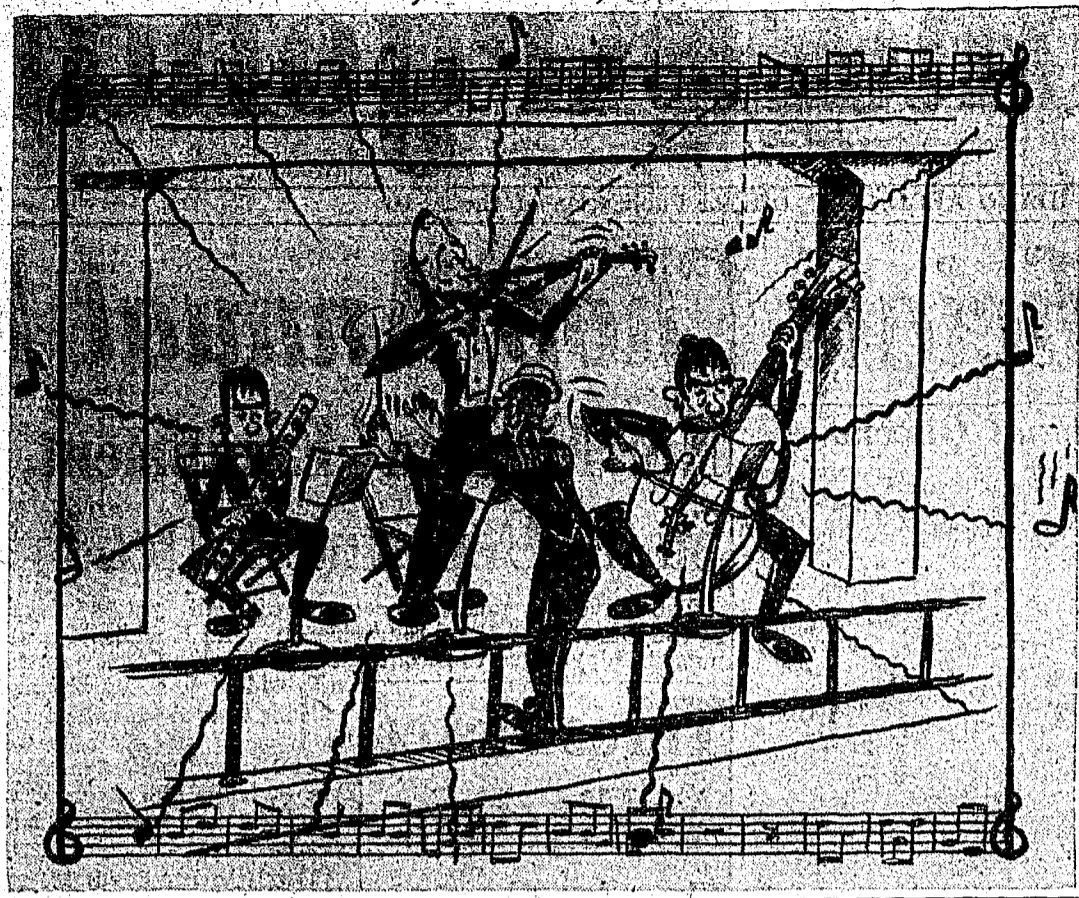

More Foreign Study Offered Idahoans

The Conference Board of Associated Research councils announced competition for 70 government awards for university lecturing and advanced research in foreign countries. Awards are available in the general fields of education, humanities, natural science and social science.

Studies will take place in Australia, New Zealand, India, Pakistan, Philippines, Burma, and Thailand. Application forms and complete information are now available from the Executive Secretary, Committee on International Exchanges of Persons, Conference Board of Associated Research Councils, 2101 Constitution Avenue, Washington D.C. Deadline for the application forms is April 15, 1951.

all our memories and say, "For all this we give thanks to thee, to thee, our Idaho!"
Veterans' enrollment was at its peak with 2188 in 1946-47 compared with the 783 this semester. This number is yet a decrease from last semester's 877 veterans. In 1946-47 the total enrollment was 3456 when compared with 3056, with the veterans comprising 63 per cent of the enrollment, and then 26 per cent this semester.

Go, Vandals, Go!

Dear Jason

The history of the Pep Band starts in the early '20s. It has traditionally been an all-male musical organization for the purpose of promoting spirit in the student body and publicizing the university. At one time it was rated as one of the top musical aggregations of its kind in the northwest. The advisor had no particular connection with the Music Dept. until the reorganization after the war with the U. Concert Band director as advisor. At that time the advisor merely made suggestions which he thought would be beneficial to the band, and the group was permitted to vote on them. After a vote was taken the policy agreed on was followed.

An example of the present situation occurred several weeks ago at a special meeting of the Pep Band members. Our present advisor, Mr. Kermit F. Hosh, University Band Director, put before the group a proposal to increase the Pep Band to 39 members. This would necessitate, of course, transforming the Pep Band into a mixed group.

The present ruling is that all new Pep Band members have to be members of the U. band also (which excludes many fine musicians on campus that could be members, but have conflicts or labs, so as to make attendance three times a week to U. Band, besides meeting every Tuesday evening for Pep Band, untenable). Thus most of the present 21 members are now in U. Band. Naturally the proposed additions would come from the U. Band, leaving us with... practically the entire complement of the U. Band (a very shrewd move as the U. Band has no money for another trip.

Back to our meeting. This proposal was unanimously defeated, much to the chagrin of one K. F. Hosh. He intimated at that time that if his proposals were defeated he might not feel justified in recommending the Pep Band for a trip. Which is just what happened and necessitated the writing of this journalistic gem.

However this denial did not come from the logical person, Mr. Hosh, but from the higher echelons of the music dept. Another interesting fact in regard to this letter of denial was the fact that the letter was sent to all parties concerned except the A.S.U. executive council or president. This council is the governing body of all univ. activities (including Pep Band) and appropriates the funds for all such activities. However the music dept. doesn't seem to consider the A.S.U. important enough to consult in regards to the fate of one of its organizations (except to kick in the cash).

This denial was made on the basis of lack of certain "tonal color" instruments, which by the way were never deemed necessary in past years. This year, however, the cultural level of the high schools to be toured seems to have raised to such a degree that the pep band, although competent to play for university functions, would be unable to satisfy the aesthetic needs of the average high school student. We always considered the purpose of the Pep Band tour to appeal to the majority of the students, rather than to the few prospective music students. But perhaps we were mistaken?

We would, like from our advisor, an itemized account of the expenditure of our annual $100 new music fund, this year. We deem this necessary because of the poor quantity of new music presented to us by Mr. Hosh. This fact is so obvious to the members of the Pep Band that it seems strange Mr. Hosh didn't recognize this poor quality of music. Could this be due to ignorance or lack of cooperation of our advisor?

We would like to present our recommendations as to how our organization should be run, if that is not expecting too much.
1. That the Pep Band should be returned to the fold of the ASUI and completely divorced from the music dept.
2. That the advisor should be designated as an advisor and not a director with dictatorial powers.
3. That the U. Band membership requirement should be eliminated and also any academic credit, making Pep Band an honor organization.
4. That the student director be allowed to pick the music from which to choose our programs.
We feel that this problem is as much the entire student body's as it is our own, and would appreciate your views and suggestions concerning our dilemma. After all, man, this could happen to you!
The Pep Band

Dear Jason,
The recent action taken by the Music Department concerning the cancellation of the Pep Band tour through north Idaho bears all the earmarks of a group of spoiled children who, in not getting their own way, have become so frustrated they will sacrifice their best interests to hurt someone else. This frustration appears to be the result of several factors which, if Idaho is to have a free and unfettered Pep Band representing the students, we as students must attempt to eliminate.
The regulation which forces the members of the Pep Band to be voluntary members of the University concert band is not in keeping with the spirit of free and unhampered educational practices at the University of Idaho. Such a regulation hinders, rather than helps, getting the best men for Pep Band members. There are several qualified men on the campus who have stated their desire to play in the organization but, due to a noticeable clash in personalities, they will not become members of the concert band which is necessary at the present time before joining the Pep Band. Therefore, the elimination of that regulation is highly desirable.
Still another regulation which says that the advisor to the Pep Band must be chosen by the Music Department is not in the best interests of the group. Such a regulation does not guarantee harmony and close workmanship between members of the group and the advisor, quite to the detriment of the band. Therefore, the band members should be allowed to choose their own advisor. This advisor should be one who would be willing to work with the group in choosing and transposing the music in order to allow a wider selection of music which would remove the band from the present status of an over-rated high school pep club. The members of the band are better than that. They realize that the students are growing rather weary of hearing the same music each time they appear in public but have been able to do very little about it.

The recent action which cancelled the tour of North Idaho was quite unwarranted. The reason given was that the type of program proposed was not a satisfactory presentation of the University. The report to the President stated that although the Pep Band was capable of putting on a satisfactory rally performance or playing at ball games it did not have enough instrumentation to perform for high school students. How many high school students actually care whether the Pep Band contains Oboes, Bassoons, and French Horns? Such a statement concerning instrumentation is utterly ridiculous and unfounded. I wonder what basis the Music Department had for measuring the likes and dislikes of the high school audiences?

The entire issue boils down to whether we want our Pep Band to assume the status of a minor concert band under the rigid control of those same frustrated faculty representatives or whether we want a band which is able to play the type of peppy entertaining music commonly found in the itinerary of a pep band. I feel that if certain men in the Music Department had their way we would be subjected to the lulling strains of Beethoven or Bach floating lazily over the heads of a victory hungry crowd of ball fans. It could happen!

My solution to the whole mess would be to remove the Pep Band from any influence which might be imposed by the Music Department. Allow the membership to be chosen from anyone on the campus who could qualify. Allow the members to choose their own advisor—not necessarily from the Music Department. Let's get the Pep Band just as far from the concert band as possible. We might have a representative and satisfactory group then.

High school students, plagued with the world situation and the draft at their doorstep, certainly would rather hear a sharp, peppy group than a more sombre outfit described by the music department.

In that way they would know that there is still some life left in the old college despite the pending war. If the music department would like to impress upon high schools that we also have the "highbrow" element, Pep Band members could give a short summary of what the University offers in the way of music during the tour.

Annual Tour For Pep Band Favored By Polled Students

For many years, the annual Pep band tour has been a big event for many Idaho high school students. The student body of the university seemed to think that it was a pretty swell organization, too. We were all proud of our Pep band, so you can imagine what a blow it was to find out that upon recommendations from Hall Macklin, head of the university music department, the tour has been cancelled.

Mac's Cracks

To quote the music officials: "They are entirely without the 'color' instruments required in modern standard band repertoire, since they have no French horns, flutes, piccolo, oboe, or bassoon." Well, we are of the opinion that these instruments, whatever they are, are not necessary in a pep band. However, to make sure that it wasn't our opinion alone, we decided to take a poll from varied and assorted sources, and try to determine just exactly what the opinion of the students is on the issue in question.

"Do you think that the instruments mentioned in Mr. Macklin's letter are necessary in a 'Pep Band'?"

Lees Burrows - Phi Delta: In my opinion, such instruments are completely out of place in a pep band. I think that high school students are much more interested in hearing modern, peppy music instead of what might emit from an oboe, piccolo or bassoon.

Harold Brammer - Campus Club: "Well, I think that when a pep band is scheduled to play at a high school, the students expect to hear 'pep' music and not a concert."

Chester Takatori - Chrisman Hall: "I think the Pep Band, performing the type music it has been playing, has been well received in the Idaho high schools, and should continue playing, if the people like them."

Dolores Hove - Hays Hall: "I don't think those instruments are necessary in a Pep Band. I think our band is great the way it is."

Norm Walker - ATO: "I don't even know what those instruments are—but I don't think that they are necessary for the type of music the Pep Band plays. Cornets do the job fine."

Pete Hester - Moscow: "They don't have harps in the band do they? Well, then, they don't need oboes, piccolos or bassoons."

Dick Coulter - Sigma Nu: "Oboes, piccolos and bassoons are definitely not necessary in a pep band—they're not needed for the type of music the pep band plays."

So it is not just our opinion alone. Everyone asked seems to agree with us. The fact that the Pep Band lacks so-called "color instruments" does not seem sufficient reason for suspending their tour.

WRA Ball Teams Play Against WSC Members Tapped

Two Idaho WRA basketball teams will meet two WSC teams today at 4 p.m. in the women's gym.

Two representatives from each team competing in the current WRA basketball tournament will compose the Idaho team. Spectators are invited.

New WRA members recently tapped were Darleen Towery, Lela Talbot, Wanda Grey, Cecil Gasser, Isabelle Linker, Jean Sutton, Colleen Hinchey, Dale Greenman, Barbara Dudgeon, Joy Ann Kern and Sue Kohring.

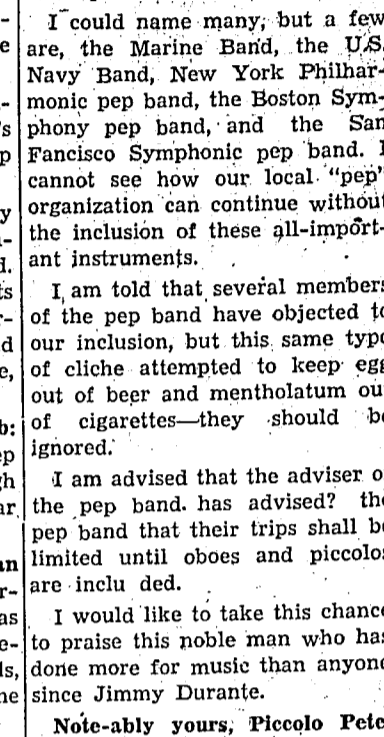

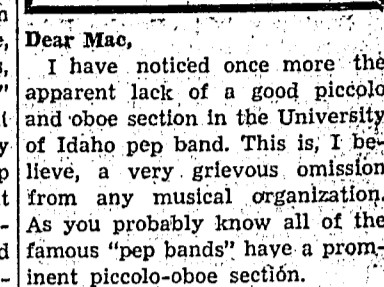

Top WRA Pledges
Others include JoAnn Carpenter, Hazel Dean, Betty Judd, Doris Larson, Suzann Moore, Pat Hancock, Delores Tycz, Terry Willy, Beverly Alger, Martha Johnston, Joanne Harwood, Colleen Alder, Linda Archibald, Virginia Fox and Mary Kerr.

More coeds tapped were Joyce Kildgaard, Beverly McNece, Blanche Pelleberg, Joan Walsh, Joyce Molsted, Joanne Reed, Dawn Moore, Mary McDonald, Margaret Kimbrough, Terrill Horton, Ann Holmes, Pat Hart and Isabelle Clyde.

Winning Living Groups Displayed

Jim LaGrone, representative from Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Ted Fisher, Idaho club, display trophies at T&I dance Friday night. Both trophies were awarded for the winning booth, the Dutch windmill inhabited by Kappa Alpha Theta.

Georgia Stamenetz, Ila Sample, Marilyn Williams, Rita Reynolds, and Pat Harris sit in front of the Dutch windmill which won first place for the booths. Kappa Alpha Theta unfortunately was not awarded a trophy although they inhabited the booth. Dave Kling, SAE, drew the background for the prize-winner.

Garbed in white "sheet-ropes," the Hays hall Goddesses were awarded the trophy for total contributions. Their over-all total amounted to $82.70.

Students attending Friday night's affair will remember these quaint Easter bunnies. Alpha Chi Omega was awarded a trophy for having the highest number of tickets per woman. They garnered $81.70.

Indoor Meet Marks Shattered At WSC Track Event Friday

Idaho track coach Stan Hiserman had nothing but praise for his 1951 track team after their participation in a record-breaking ninth edition of the annual Washington State intercollegiate indoor track meet held in Pullman last Friday afternoon. The Vandals' next outing will be in Moscow on April 7, against Whitworth college.

The nippy field house air didn't keep the host of athletes representing Idaho, WSC and EWCE from breaking many meet records. Seven new meet marks were established. Idaho and WSC claimed three apiece and EWCE copped one.

Vandal pole vaulter Dave Martindale soared to a foreign height by clearing the bar at 13 feet 4 inches. His leap broke the old field house mark of 13 1/2 inches set by Makela of Idaho in 1939. Martindale's jump also posted a new school record which was formerly held by Max Lattig at 13 feet 3 inches.

Glen Christian broke his own meet record in the 70-yard dash as he outdistanced the rest of the field and checked in with a 7.1 time. His old time was 7.2.

In the 70-yard high hurdles Keith Ben topped the timbers at a 8.9 clip and finished ahead of the Cougars highly publicized Australian star Peter Mullins.

Competition in the 300 yard-dash was rugged but Idaho's Don Miller ran away with top honors and established a new record by roaring over the distance in 32.3. Miller chopped off seven-tenths of a second from the previous time established by Higgins of WSC in 1949. Because of the large field entered in this event, several heats were staged, and the best time, instead of a run-off was used in selecting a winner.

Duane Taylor, a transfer from Utah State, won the discus throw for Idaho.

WSC's Bill Parnell, who represented Canada in the 1948 Olympics, churned past a large field of competitors and captured the 1000-yard run with a sizzling 2:15.8 time. It bettered the old mark by six-tenths of a second. Parnell also captured the mile and a half affair but Vandal Chuck Wienman, who has not had an opportunity to reach peak condition, ran a strong second, after leading for most of the race, and pressing Parnell down to the wire.

Hiserman's frosh team also made an outstanding showing. Southpaw Van Der Beets pole vaulted 11 feet and also participated in the high jump. Don Baker put on a thrilling stretch drive to win the 1000-yard event with a 2:28.2 time. Emerson Clark, Idaho state high school 440 champ last year, won going away in the 600-yard dash with a 1:17.8 time. Bob May was edged out in the frosh 1 1/2 run and Parker Compau finished second in the broad jump.

Versatile Eric Roberts, who shares his efforts between the maple court and the cinder track, displayed a graceful eastern roll in capturing the high jump by soaring a new meet record of 6 feet 3 1/2 inches. The old mark of 6' 3" was held jointly by Roberts and Mann of College of Puget Sound and was set in 1950. Bruce Sweeney of Idaho went 6 feet for third place. It was the first jumping he had done this season.

Other old marks that faded were in the shot put and javelin. Swerin of the Cougars rocketed the shot 48 feet 2 1/4 inches and bested Frank Mataya's efforts in 1949. Werner of EWCE tossed the spear 187 feet 9 1/2 inches and erased a record distance set by Throne of WSC in 1949. Myron Hodgins of Idaho was a close second.

Don Wisdom of NICE took off behind the board but still managed to soar 22 feet 4 inches. Unofficially he leaped 23 feet 5 inches. Bruce McIntosh of Idaho went over 22 feet on three occasions, but scratched each time.

IM Basketball

Intramural 'B' basketball action last night saw two games go by the 'sudden death' method. At the end of the regular playing time TKE was tied with Christian Hall 21-all, the TKE's sinking the first winning shot in the overtimes. In the other sudden killer, Eagle and Anchor took advantage of controlling the tip to drop a tough PDT five 14 to 12.

Other results were: DTD beat Lindley Hall No. 2 14 to 12. KS knocked over Lindley Hall No. 1 23 to 15. SC' warded past Willis Sweet 27 to 8. PGD won from PKT 28 to 12. LDS trampled Pine Hall No. 1 54 to 15. ATO decisoned PH No. 2 19 to 16. NM squeaked past Idaho Club 26 to 25.

Bill Burton, Burley forward, drives in hard and sinks a looping shot against a Lewiston Bengal in the consolation bracket of the Idaho state class A tournament here Saturday night. His efforts weren't enough, however, as the Lewiston squad went on to cop the game 54 to 47. Idaho Falls waltzed off with a 48 to 40 win over Preston in the championship contest. The Tigers, led by Les Roh, named outstanding player in the tournament, reached the finals by downing top-seeded Nampa high school. (Photo by Hamilton.)

Baseballers Move Outside For First Batting Practice

Assistant baseball coach Ozzie Kanikkeberg, pinch-hitting for coach Chuck Finley who is attending the NCAA basketball tournament in Kansas City, introduced his squad to the outdoors for the first time this season after spending several weeks in the confines of the Gymnasium.

Kanikkeberg said continued good weather will be necessary in order for the squad to get in playing shape for the Banana Belt tournament at Lewiston April 2 through 9. He added that it will take hard work by the team to catch up with NICE and WSC who have already played three games against each other. The Cougars dropped the Loggers in all three contests by scores of 9-4, 6-0 and 5-1.

Yesterday 25 players reported for the first batting practice. The team has added depth this year, but it still is in need of power hitters. New prospects who may provide the Vandals with that extra wallop are three sophomores, outfielder George McCarty, first sacker Bruce McIntosh, and catcher Jerry Ogle, a high school All-American from Spokane.

The Vandals will have veterans Cless Hinkley, Van Briggs, Jim Achinson, Lloyd Schiller, and sophomore Flipper Wayne Anderson to handle the mound chores.

One hand to back up the pitchers besides Ogle are letterman Dick Merrill and sophomore O'Dell Black.

Joe Zavesky, top Idaho belter last season, with a .255 average will probably get the nod for short-stop chores. Kanikkeberg plans to take the team to Lewiston during the week for some pre-tourney workouts.

Football Staff Completed With Signing Of Nikeevich

The University of Idaho board of regents yesterday approved the appointment of John (Nik) Nikeevich, former UCLA football star, to the post of assistant football coach, according to an announcement made by President J. E. Buchanan. Nikeevich, who received high recommendation from the Los Angeles school, will replace Gene Harlow, now a member of the University of Oregon coaching staff.

President Buchanan also revealed that the vacancy created by the call of Arthur L. Smith, freshman coach, to active duty with the Air Force, would not be filled, as freshmen would play with the varsity during the coming season. Smith has been granted a military leave of absence.

Nikeevich, although only 27, brings to the staff of Head Coach Dixie Howell considerable football experience. He is one of the 14 four-year football lettermen in UCLA history. In addition, he is one of seven Bruin footballers ever to play first-string all four years on the Uclan varsity, and to earn all-coast right guard honors in the process. Four years of high school football were played at Phineas Banning school in Los Angeles.

Ending his playing career in 1949, Nikeevich spent last season as assistant coach to Tommy Harrison at UCLA in grooming Bruin reserves. He also took graduate studies at UCLA, where he received a B.S. degree in physical education with a minor in speech. During the war, he served three years with the Navy.

As a player, Nikeevich collected 235 minutes of playing time in 1946, 303 1/2 in '47, 257 in '48, and capped his collegiate career with a 322 minute total, fourth among all Uclan gridlers in 1949.

His heads-up play throughout his college career accounted for more than one touchdown and game-saving effort. Most notable achievement was his feat in the Washington State game of 1949 when he blocked a Cougar punt in the late moments of the game to set up UCLA's fourth and game-winning touchdown.

Nikeevich's knowledge of football was a great aid to Head Coach Red Sanders during the 1950 season when his ability to teach the reserves offenses and defenses of opposing squads paid off with the Bruins piling up a six-win, three-losses record.

In addition to his football proficiency, Nikeevich is also an outstanding boxer. He won the California Intercollegiate heavyweight championship in 1947, and is considered one of the best fighters in Bruin history.

A family man, Nikeevich is married to Barbara Brewer, attractive and talented former UCLA swimming star. They have two children, a girl and boy. The Nikeevich family is expected to show up on the University of Idaho campus by the end of the week.

College Athletics Investigated By NSA Committee

The US National Student Association (NSA) has announced the establishment of a national committee to investigate the entire field of intercollegiate athletics.

Among the things the committee will consider will be athletic hiring and firing policies, the amount the student participation in formulating athletic policy, and the extend of commercialization and subsidization in athletics.

Nationwide Committee The committee will be composed of students and teachers from all sections of the country.

Following is a statement from NSA president Allard K. Lowenstein: "The United States NSA, composed of 335 colleges and universities, and representing more than 800,000 students, is deeply concerned with the developments in the field of intercollegiate athletics.

"Last August NSA stated, 'The decisions of athletic administrations too frequently reflect and overemphasize financial expediency. Further, we called upon our member schools to attempt to improve the tenure of those in athletic positions as one way to de-emphasize the importance of always winning.

"It is the hope of NSA that this committee will provide the type of information that will enable our colleges and universities to restore athletics to its proper place—athletics that will provide a maximum of honesty and a minimum of sham."

Mittmen Walk Off With Second Spokane Invitational Crown

The Pacific Coast intercollegiate invitational boxing tournament at Sacramento will be the site of the Idaho ring warriors' next engagement. Coach Frank Young's scrappers will enter the capital city's three day mitt tourney March 29-31 and follow up with the National championships at Michigan State April 5-7.

Bantam-weight Frank Echevarria, welter-weight Norm Walker, and light-heavyweight Larry Moyer punched out decision championship decisions for Idaho in the second annual Spokane Invitational boxing tournament Saturday, as the Vandals registered their second consecutive team title. Idaho concluded the glove-thrashing proceeding with a total of 24 points. Gonzaga finished second with 18, Idaho State 14, and Washington State 5.

Dave Smith, Gonzaga's sophomore pride and joy, evened his count with Len Walker, two-time NCAA champion, by copying a hairline decision from the Idaho lad in their 155-pound battle. Smith bore in on Walker the entire distance, racked him with a stiff body attack in the second and third rounds and all-in-all, gave Len a rough evening. The decision was unanimous and Gentleman Dave was presented the outstanding participant award of the tournament for his evening performance.

Frank Echevarria racked up his third consecutive victory over Gordon Simanton of Gonzaga in the 125-pound go. Frank displayed too much class for Simanton as he out-hit, out-danced and out-boxed the Bulldog to a split decision.

Norm Walker blasted game little Paddy Garver of Idaho State with an explosive, looping right hand to the head for three rounds in the 145-pound bout. Garver was a stiff better but Walker never allowed him to throw much leather as he kept Paddy on the defense, catching and ducking right hand smashes.

Larry Moyer and Bob Blanton of Idaho State provide the best match on the card with three action-packed rounds of hefty hitting, most of the action and hitting coming from Moyer. Larry packed the heavier artillery and staggered his willing opponent with well-directed left hooks and a chopping right uppercut. Blanton took a nine count in the second round.

Ed Sanders, Idaho State heavyweight, supplied the oohs and ah's of the tournament. Sanders, who weighs a few pounds less than a locomotive and hits with the impact of an express train, knocked out OC heavyweight Vern Christianson of WSC in :56 seconds of the first round. Sanders, twice the national junior college champion, cooled Christianson with a six-inch left uppercut. Actually, he was setting Christianson up for a right cross but Vern never

Lettermen Bolster 1951 Tennis Squad

Coach Eric Kirkland and his tennis squad found the concrete courts dry today after a week-end of spring weather and moved their practice outside. Twelve racket swingers reported for the first official limbering up exercises and indications point to greater team depth than last season.

Stu Dollinger, Howard Berger, and Jack Seull top the list of returning letterman. On hand to lend a helping racket are transfer John Schober from Pasadena junior college, and Bob Zimmerman, top varsity reserve last season.

The pleasing gleam in Kirkland's eyes comes from last year's freshman team, one of the best Idaho has had. Heading the list of first year varsity men are: Bob Gleason, Saylor Jeppson, Don Bolling-broke, Bill Taylor, Skip Pierce, and Fred Thompson. No schedule has been released yet.

Cowboys To Meet

Members of the Vandal Riding club are asked to remember their next meeting, March 27, the day after Easter vacation. This meeting is important. Plans for the club dance and participation in the intercollegiate rodeo will be discussed.
