

Blue Barron's Music To Be Heard Tonight At SUB

The GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

Count your lucky pennies, men. You don't realize just how close that you come to having four lovely coeds seated on the ASUI Executive Board.

Think of it men. Four ladies with a fifth (lady) as AWS (Associated Women Students) already has an ex-officio member on the Board in Yvonne George, AWS prexy. Five women to control the purse strings and destinies of the Associated Students of the University of Idaho. That is, providing the four voting members could "talk" some guileless voting male on the Board to side with them. (Jason would have been immune since he does not have a vote.)

Just think what a hairy time the Idaho coed would have had next year. Good solid ASUI dollars would undoubtedly have gone down the drain paying for fashion shows, True Romance and Confession, and all the multitudinous activities labeled "Women Only."

Steady Boy

Instead of blood drives, there probably would have been drives dedicated to the proposition of creating bargain counters at the Ad building. And perhaps other drives such as rummage sales, bazaars, and hunger, thirst, and (don't say that word, Jason! Remember April 1) drives.

ASUI athletics probably would have been transformed to ASUI cosmetics. Intramural teatime would have been installed, not to mention various and sundry other enjoyable pastimes most aptly constructed to fit the needs and desires of the Idaho female. Perhaps instead of the Idaho football team taking trips, the Vandal knitting club would journey to Vassar. (Jason does not mean to slam our lady politicians, but women in general have been known to be incompetent. No offense.)

How did this near disaster just about befall the Idaho male? Well, after every election there is usually some interesting behind-the-scenes story. In this case the Idaho female decided to take up the "cloak and dagger." For those of you who haven't heard, the story goes something like this:

Ever since woman was given the right to vote, she has demanded more and more each year. She is no longer willing to take a back seat to man, even in campus elections, it seems. (Jason wonders how long it will be before women lobby to pass legislation forcing men to bear children.)

Prior to the recent ASUI elections, the Idaho coed, spurred on by Mortar Board, took up the cry, "Arise, ye wretched slaves of Idaho! Unite, for the common good of woman." The ultimate aim, of course, was to elect all four women to the Executive Board. Some time back they had even thought of running a woman for president. Wow!

To gain their end they would have had to cross party lines. This is where the bottleneck came in to eventually defeat our cunning creatures.

"Talking Is a Woman"

However, before they met their Waterloo, our doughty Napoleoneses, championed by Mary Clyde (who carried out most of the leg work), Helen Means, and Marie Hargis, had organized a formidable bloc of votes. They were just beginning to filter in the women's groups to pledge votes for their unity campaign when the blowup came.

Greek caucus somehow got wind of the whole plan. (A woman never could keep a secret). Since only one of the four women on the ballots was a United Party member, the caucus naturally put the kibosh on the entire plan.

The night before elections, the eight sororities received telephone calls threatening them with expulsion from the United organization should they go along with the "crazy" plan. The girls lost their nerve.

Jason always knew that there were some reasons for a caucus and that they did some good. Whew! The Idaho male owes a lot to the

National Students Hold Regional Conference Here Starting This Morning

An address by Al Lowenstein, national NSA president, opened the NSA Northwest Regional Conference on the Idaho campus this morning. Under the joint sponsorship of Idaho and WSC, the conclave will bring together student leaders from Washington, Oregon and Idaho schools.

This year's meeting is designed to promote discussion of existing problems in student government. A secondary purpose is to facilitate more efficient student government. The conference is a pioneer movement in the coordination of overlapping student body functions.

Vern Bahr extended a welcome to the conference delegates attending this morning's session. Marv Jagels, Idaho delegate, also addressed the opening gathering. A speech by Pat Tiggard, WSSF national officer, was included in the morning's agenda.

Officers Meet

Following the first addresses, officers of the Northwest region reported on specific duties during the past year. Mary Francis Caveneau, chairman of the Regional Commission on Educational Affairs, gave a brief report on regional activities. Also speaking was Carol Morgan, chairman of the Commission on International Student Relations. Marv Jagels, chairman of the Student Affairs Commission, reported on commission activities.

This afternoon, the conference will be divided into four commissions consisting of International Student Affairs, Student Government Affairs, Coordination of Regional Activities and Educational Affairs. All commission meetings are scheduled for the Student Union building.

Touching off the WSSF Drive slated for the Idaho campus May 7-11 will be the conference discussion of WSSF activities and the ways which American students can assist foreign students.

Try For Name Bands

Also on the conference schedule is the discussion of an item which would coordinate dance dates on the Northwest campuses in order to secure big name dance bands for schools in the region. The item is under the sponsorship of Seattle Pacific College. Plans for student cooperatives, faculty rating plans and Student Union functions will be considered during the three day conclave.

Conference meetings will be open to all students. Arrangements have been made for special Protestant services at 11 o'clock in the Christian Center. A tour of the WSC campus is scheduled for 3 o'clock this afternoon. Delegates will tour the Idaho campus at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

An informal buffet dinner will be held in the North Ballroom of the Student Union. The conference will close with an open meeting at 8:30 o'clock Sunday morning.

State Board Approves Plans For New Home Ec Building

Funds for the erection of the four-story structure, about a $500,000 project, were provided by the last legislature. The building will be of brick and concrete construction. Collegiate-Gothic design will be in keeping with the other buildings in the main University quadrangle. Architects are Whitehouse and Price of Spokane.

Engineering Building Doomed

To make way for the new building, the old Engineering building, closed since completion of the new Engineering building and the addition to Kirtley Engineering laboratory, will be torn down. The old Engineering building was constructed in 1904 and recently condemned by engineers.

The new structure replacing it will offer many contrasts in modern design and arrangement. Be-

Engineers' Confab Set Today At 2

The annual meeting of the Pacific Northwest Section of the American Society for Engineering Education is scheduled at the University today and tomorrow, Dean Allen S. Janssen, section president, has announced.

The meetings will open at 2 p.m. today, with registration and a tour through the University's new engineering buildings. After an informal dinner at the Student Union the group will meet for a general session on "education for nuclear engineering," led by Dean Janssen.

Conclude With Banquet

Major session of the two-day meeting will be at 9 a.m., Saturday. F. B. Farquharson, director of the University of Washington engineering experiment station, will lead the group in a discussion of engineering research.

The meetings will end with a banquet at the Moscow hotel with a welcome by President J. E. Buchanan. A talk entitled "Economics in Engineering" by Dean Donald J. Hart, of the school of business administration, is also slated.

LaFollette Stars In Student Opera

For its second performance the Opera Workshop has scheduled Leoncavallo's "Pagliacci" for 8 p.m. on May 10 and 11.

Featured in the leading roles are: Canio, the strolling actor and master of his troupe, Charles LaFollette; Nedda, his wife, Naomi Nokes.

Reserve Places Now

Other principals are portrayed by John Jordan as Peppo, an actor in the troupe; Bob Mackay as Silvio, the villager Nedda falls in love with; and Jerry Goecke as Tonio, the cynical clown.

Tickets for the opera may be obtained at the Student Union building upon presentation of a student's activity card. Since the May Fete falls upon this weekend, students are urged to make reservations early for themselves, their parents, and their friends. Adult tickets will be only fifty cents.

Plays Here Tonight

Blue Barron, noted for his combination of swing with sweet music, tonight plays for the first annual Junior-Senior ball. Barron is noted for his "Music of Yesterday and Today."

First Annual Junior-Senior Ball Features Decorations By Living Groups

Song Fest Slate For Mother's Day Finals Selected

Ten living groups have been named for the final participation in the Song Fest, slated for May 13. Naomi Nokes, chairman for SAI, listed the following women's groups: Alpha Chi Omega, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Pi Beta Phi, Kappa Alpha Theta, and Delta Gamma. These groups won out in the women's competition held Monday night.

Men's groups who survived the elimination Wednesday night were Beta Theta Pi, Phi Delta Theta, Eagle and Anchor, Phi Gamma Delta, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, reported to John Schaprowsky, chairman for Phi Mu Alpha.

Song leaders for these groups are requested to be present at a meeting Tuesday at 5 p.m. in the Music hall for the drawing for the order in which they will sing in the Mother's Day event. Those groups wishing to change their non-competing selections are requested to do so before this time.

Music Graduates Test Conducting Skill Sunday

Graduates will get a chance to test their conducting in the Sunday afternoon band concert. The concert will be given at 4 p.m. on the University lawn.

"Allegretto" from Symphony No. 5 by Shostakovich will be conducted by graduate assistant Wallace A. Johnson. Shostakovich, one of the great Russian composers of our time, often writes music of a flippant, ironic nature. The "Allegretto" is typical of the style.

Visit Far Away Places

"Nightbeat", a musical description of night life in New York, will be directed by Allen Anderson. "Nightbeat" takes the listener to Chinatown, the Latin Quarter, Harlem, and Broadway.

"El Relicario," a South American number in quick time, will be directed by John Sheeley.

"Komun, Sussur Tod," a chorale number by Bach, will be directed by Richard Atwood.

Other numbers on the program include: "Sabre and Spurs," Sousa; "Larghetto from Symphony in C Minor," E. Williams; "In The Camp of the Ancient Britons," Ketebeby; "Blue Tail Fly," arr. Fred; "St. Louis Blues March," Handy; and "French National De-file," Turlet.

Claus To Direct Tuesday's Concert

The University Symphony orchestra, Carl Claus, conductor, will inaugurate a new type of program when it appears in concert, Tuesday, May 15 at 8 p.m. The program will consist wholly of operatic selections by orchestra, soloists and chorus.

Assisting the orchestra will be the Vandaleers, conducted by Glen Lockery, and the University Singers, Norman Logan, conductor. Five soloists will appear with the orchestra. They are: Shirley Fowler and Joanne Peters, sopranos; Jack Gregory and Kenneth Pope, tenors; and Gerald Goecke, baritone.

To climax the program, the combined 180 voices of the Vandaleers and the University Singers will perform with the orchestra the Pilgrims Chorus from the opera "Tannhauser," by Richard Wagner.

Broadcast Song Fest

Campus radio station KUOI will rebroadcast the Mother's day song fest at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, May 13, to enable the groups participating to hear their own performance.

Blue Barron and Mardi Gras decorations will provide the background for the first annual Upperclassmen's ball tonight in the SUB ballroom. Each campus living group will contribute decorations in keeping with the famous carnival theme, while couples dance to the music of Blue Barron and his orchestra.

Tickets are now selling for $3 a couple in all men's living groups for the semi-formal junior and senior dance which will begin at 9 p.m. Tickets will also be on sale at the door.

Each living group is constructing a standing floor decoration to provide colored side walls for the ball. A $20 limit has been set on each decoration, and the dance committee will pay $15 to each living group submitting their decoration.

A cash prize of $25 will be given to the winning group in the men's and women's divisions for the decorations judged the most outstanding. The decorations must be kept comparatively small, according to Al Foucar, general chairman, to be placed not more than five feet from the wall. The decorations may be any idea along the Mardi Gras theme.

All living groups are asked to have their decorations arranged in the SUB between 1 and 6 p.m. today.

Blue Barron, MGM recording star, will furnish dance music featuring Pat Laird, popular blonde vocalist and the Three Blue Notes. The orchestra is heard on juke boxes currently playing "Let Me In, I Hear Music." Blue is a graduate of Ohio university.

Barron has appeared in leading theatres, ballrooms and hotels throughout the country including New York's Astor Hotel and Capitol theatre, and the Casa Loma Ballroom in St. Louis. His radio appearances include the Coca Cola Show and the War Manpower Commission's Sunday Serenade.

Barron is creator of the "Music of Yesterday and Today" stylization in music including current hits and old favorites in his list of songs.

Idaho Beats WSC In Papers' Contest Conducted By SAE

The Spokane Chapter of the Society of Automotive Engineers recently conducted a student papers' competition between the University of Idaho and Washington State college. In this competition, C. C. McMullin from Idaho took first prize, and Joffrey Myers, also of Idaho, won third prize.

N. F. Hindle, professor and head of the department of Mechanical Engineering, recently returned from Salt Lake City where he attended a meeting of the Regional Administrator's Committee of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. He was one of the representatives of the Inland Empire section, of which he is now serving as vice chairman.

Tour Cites

Seniors in Mechanical Engineering are now making a week's field trip to the coast where they are visiting several plants. Those included in the visit are Isaacson Iron Works, Seattle; Bethlehem Pacific Coast Steel Corporation, Seattle; Boeing Airplane Company, Seattle; and Pacific Car and

Prof's To Help In Business Clinic

Charles Marshall, assistant professor of marketing, will participate in the annual educational and sales clinics jointly sponsored by the Idaho Real Estate Brokers Board and the Idaho Real Estate association. The clinics are scheduled from May 2 to May 5.

WSSF Drive For Pakistan Books Starts

Scheduled to get into full swing on the campus Monday is the World Student Service Fund drive, May 7-11, for money and books aimed for Pakistan by freight-free transport where they will further learning and American relations in education.

Formed in connection with the World Student Relief organization originated during the last war to aid countries in improving their educational facilities, the WSSF is the American branch of the group. This drive has been combined with the Campus Chest in previous years but due to the small realization, will operate as a separate function this year.

Variety Show Planned

Boosting the drive throughout next week is a 20-minute documentary sound film entitled "This is Their Story" depicting the need for educational aid in foreign countries. It will be shown to all living groups at scheduled times. Miss Pat Tiggard, social worker from Oakland, Calif., who is on the Idaho campus in connection with the WSSF drive and NSA meeting, spoke to sociology students in the Borah room at 11:00 this morning.

WSC and Idaho talent will unite in a Variety Show presentation in the SUB ballroom Friday at 8 p.m. No admission will be charged but the audience will be asked to make contributions to the fund.

Need Tons of Books

Books of all types are needed, regardless of their age, and especially those containing technical material as chemistry, engineering, home economics, math, and physics. Technical reports and trade magazines are acceptable. Boxes will be placed in living groups for the book collection and Alpha Phi Omega will pick them up.

Veterans living in Vet's Village and faculty members are requested to call 4046 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday of next week for pick-up service.

Extensive work has been done to promote this campaign at the university and among Moscow residents by committee members. Carlos De Meyere, Belgium student, spoke to the Women's Faculty club this week regarding the need for this type of aid. Will Lange from Rotenburg, Germany, was a guest speaker at the Moscow Ministerial association.

"Roses" Film

The pagentry of the 1951 Tournament of Roses will be shown to Idaho students this Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Student Union Borah theatre. This color film contains shots of the Rose Bowl parade, the queen, all half-time activities, and the card section. No admission will be charged.

Something Old, Something New

"Old Executive board members never die, they just fade away," remarked the bright person in the above photo. A joint meeting of the old and new ASUI Executive board was held last Tuesday, and the former turned over the reins (and headaches) to the latter. With the exception of Andrew Christiansen and Harry Turner, standing at the left, the old group is seated around the table: ASUI vice-president Dick Reed, Jerry McKee, ASUI secretary Rosie

Schindl, President Vein Bahr, Don Wills, Hyde Jacobs (new ASUI prexy), Ralph Fothergill and Gary Sessions.

World Peace Through WSSF

If you can imagine attending classes in half-bombed out buildings; and working with few books and little equipment, you have some idea of what students in many foreign countries are going through to get an education.

But even though you may be able to picture such conditions in your mind, you probably still do not have a very good idea of the hardships that students in the war-ravaged countries are going through.

Most students in American colleges cannot understand the desire for education of foreign students, because most of us in this country do not take our education nearly so seriously, and we also take it for granted. Foreign students do not take education for granted, and take it much more seriously—in fact so seriously that some of them work eight hours a day to rebuild their schools and the rest of the time studying.

If we can understand such things and if we can believe that education is something more than something the old man pays for, we should be willing to extend a helping hand to those students in other countries who are much worse off than we.

There is an organization working to give books and equipment to students of foreign colleges who really need help. That organization is the World Student Service Fund. It has been doing a wonderful job since it's beginning in 1936; and with our help it can continue to do so in this period of extreme need and crisis.

The WSSF is sponsoring a drive for funds and books next week—no loud pleading to our sympathy, no exciting noises, just a chance for us to kick over a few shekles and a couple of books that are gathering dust on the shelf. That doesn't seem too much to ask.

Behind WSSF is the idea of building a sense of student relations in the world, and of simply acting like human beings by giving help to those who are in need. Even Russia has realized the tremendous influence such a program has on students in war-torn countries. That country has tried numerous times to move in and undermine the activities of such organizations as WSSF. Russia has given help to such students—but at the same time Joe's henchmen are right on hand to preach the Russian way of thinking.

On the other hand WSSF is non-political, and in no way tries to influence the thinking of students it helps. In the absence of outward influence, WSSF does much to help establish peaceful relations on the part of foreign students toward this country. Giving something without demanding something in return goes a long way in making a person believe there is something good left in the world, and it will create a more sincere and kindly feeling between human beings.

Giving to WSSF is a step further on the road to world peace—intangible and distant as it may seem. Such organizations as WSSF are well worth giving to. Nothing miraculous will be accomplished by your contribution, but add it to the contributions of people all over America, add some time and the result is a big batch of help for needy students. The long range result is a world worth living in.

It's worth giving to a cause like that—think it over.

Navy Has Program Letters To The Ed For Idaho Coeds

Commander Asbworth of the Navy Reserve Officer Candidate school program for women will speak to all Idaho coeds interested in the ROC Monday afternoon at four o'clock in the Women's gymnasium.

The program Commander Asbworth will introduce provides officer training during the summer months, allowing no interference with the regular college curriculum. By attending two six-week sessions in two summers, a woman can earn a commission while still an undergraduate.

Then when a coed receives her college diploma and reaches the age of 21 she will be commissioned as an Ensign in the Naval Reserve. One feature of the program is that a college woman enlists in the Naval Reserve to apply for Officer Candidate school and for some reason is not accepted, she will be discharged from the Naval Reserve on request prior to August 1 of this year.

The ROC program is aimed primarily at women pursuing general studies, who intend to complete their college education, follow a civilian career, and wish at the same time to obtain full status as a Naval Reserve officer on inactive duty.

Dear Jason

Dear Jason:
For Jason's information and that of the rest of the campus, the three living group dances scheduled for this Friday will be held as per schedule and not postponed. Apparently the Calendar Committee considered the idea of postponing these functions, but decided not to, because of the late time at which Blue Barron was finally booked.

The statement to the effect that the dances had been postponed, which appeared on the front page of this Tuesday's Arg, has caused considerable confusion and disruption on the part of at least a hundred students, and was apparently published as a result of some-one's propagating a fallacious rumor. It is suggested that, in the interests of developing a few good editorial practices, Jason be sure to verify his material and check its source before putting it in print.

University Accepts Oregon Lawmakers Extend Taxation In New Program

New scholarships were made available at Idaho today following an announcement by President J. E. Buchanan, of gifts formally accepted by the Regents.

C. I. Canfield, president of the First Trust and Savings Bank of Moscow, established a second annual $250 scholarship. The first was started in 1947. Following Canfield's suggestion, one award will go to a freshman man and one to a freshman woman.

New Sears Fund
The Sears-Roebuck Foundation provided a new award with a $200 scholarship, for a freshman in home economics. Dr. C. J. Pugh, national scholarship commissioner for Kappa Sigma fraternity, advised that Donald Prisky, a junior member of Kappa Sigma, has been awarded a $200 scholarship.

Other gifts included $600 from the Idaho Power company for 4-H activities, and a sugar-beet and vegetable thinning machine from the Dixie Rowcrop Thinner and Weeder company of Dallas, Texas. The machine has been on loan to the department of agricultural engineering since 1946, and now will be taken to the Aberdeen branch experiment station for research work there.

Jason doesn't quite know what to think about this Mortar Board. It is supposed to be a senior women's "wheel" honorary, but they sure have some of the funniest ideas. Overthrow of the eminent domain of the male seems to be their biggest ambition.

In fact, rumor has it that one of these Mortar Board members actually wore the male pants for a night. A Homecoming queen, whose fiance is not here, attended a recent Sigma Nu masquerade ball dressed as a strapping male. "His" date?—A lovely blonde Phi Phi married at the time.

ASUI To Present 3 One-Act Plays

Dates for the three one-act plays, "Boor, Bear, or Bore?" "The Devil and Daniel Webster," and "Hands Across the Sea," have been set, and the plays will be produced in the South Ballroom of the SUB Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday, May 15, 16, and 18 at 8 o'clock under the general direction of Miss Jean Collette. Thursday, May 17 is being reserved for the showing of "Great Expectations" by the ASUI in the Borah room of the SUB.

Costuming for the plays will be relatively simple. "The Devil and Daniel Webster," which requires period costumes, will utilize the greatest part of the costume committee's time. Modern costumes will be used for the other two plays.

Since the play is arena style the audience will be surrounding the players and the use of seats is limited. Stage lighting, though, will be used for the productions.

Predestination Is Forester's Pitfall

By Dad Aschenbrenner

Least this gem of social information never be known and appreciated by the "desperate" or the "cunning," let the fact be known of the forthcoming marriage of Howard "Hugo" Heiner, senior forestry major, to Miss Peggy Fieger of Moscow.

Hugo early decided to be a bachelor. But alas, one day he accepted the honor of acting as best man at a forestry student's wedding. You guessed it—Peggy Fieger was maid-of-honor at that wedding. The frightful fact of the matter is that Hugo is the fourth consecutive forestry-major-best-man to marry a nurse-maid-of-honor.

Forecast: Robert Gorsuch (best man-to-be), sometime in the not too distant future, he being a senior forestry major, will marry nurse . . . . . ?

IS YOUR COMPANY HERE?

SHOWN here are just a few of the important concerns NP has served for a good many years (names on request from Northern Pacific Railway, St. Paul, Minn.) Even if your business isn't represented above, we hope that you, too, are on our "permanent customer list."

WHY DO THEY ALL SHIP NP? Well, there are many reasons. We can't put our finger on any one thing in particular . . .

IT MIGHT BE OUR CONVENIENT ROUTE. For Main Street of the Northwest serves so many important business and distributing areas and centers of population—593 to be exact—between the Midwest and the North Pacific Coast.

PERHAPS IT'S OUR FAST NEW DIESELS. Just since 1940 we've put 211 diesel units in service, added nearly 15,000 new freight cars, made improvements to roadbed and structures to give your freight a smoother, safer ride. And more new equipment and improvements are coming!

MAYBE IT'S NP'S EXTRA-SERVICES—Like

our daily passing report that helps locate your shipment anytime—anywhere on our line. Or our freight claim and traffic representatives who'll advise you on loading "problem" shipments and securing them for safer delivery.

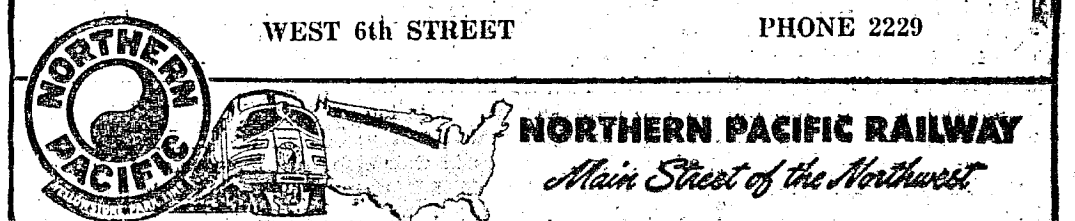

IT COULD BE ANY OR ALL OF THESE REASONS. But one thing we know for sure. Today, Main Street of the Northwest is busier than ever. Not too busy, though, to give your freight the same efficient NP service as always.

TRAVELING? Aboard the streamlined NORTH COAST LIMITED, you'll enjoy real western hospitality on our all-room Pullmans and "Day-Nite" Coaches. And famous NP meals are just as hearty, just as delicious as ever!

Records At Stake Tomorrow When Vandals, Huskies Clash

Idaho's thinclads will be gunning for five new meet records tomorrow when they engage the University of Washington track team at Neale stadium. Field events will commence at 1:30.

Coach Stan Hiserman's Vandals, however, would mostly like to whip the Huskies in the meet, for not since their 61-61 deadlock in 1903 have the Idahoians gained an equal standing with Washington.

Though the Vandals could hold the upper hand in garnering first places, the Huskies have a better balanced unit and should cop a greater number of seconds and thirds.

George Widenfeldt, the Huskies' Swedish exchange student, is almost a cinch to erase the 6 feet 1 inch high jump mark which has existed since 1903. Idaho's Bruce Sweeney should get a share of the high jump glory as he has cleared 6 feet 2 inches earlier this season in the home pit. Widenfeldt soared 6 feet 5 5/8 inches in the PCC meet last year.

In the sprints, Glen Christian will shoulder the major burden for Herman's crew since Dick Newton will be sidelined with a pulled muscle. Accompanying Christian in the century will be Loren LaFoe, No. 2 man on the mile relay foursome. Don Miller and Ted Nowak will supplement Christian in the 220-yard dash.

Miller could also shatter the 440-yard dash record of 49.1 seconds established by Earl Robinson of Washington in 1947. Miller has already traveled the quarter in 48.9 against WSC.

Dave Martindale is expected to best the pole vault record of 13 feet. The Idaho vaulter has soared 13 feet 6 inches previously this season. Against Oregon last week, he narrowly missed clearing 13 feet 9 inches but failed as he unshelved the cross bar with his hand.

Duane Taylor, with a heave of 162 feet against Whitworth, will be striving to eclipse the present record of 156 feet 9 3/4 inches. In ND competition, Taylor has pitched the platter 157 feet 3 inches.

Pacing the Vandals in the javelin will be Myron Hodgson, who has previously rocketed the spear 189 feet 3 inches. Charles Tubin leads the Huskies in this department with a toss of 180 feet. The record stands at 187 feet 1 1/2 inches.

Two evenly matched quartets will battle to a possible record in the mile relay. All four Washington men run fairly even times. Idaho is undefeated in the mile relay and is running one-tenth of a second off the record with a 3:22.4 time.

Idaho's Sweeney and Donaldson of Washington should provide a crowd pleaser in the 220-yard low hurdles. Donaldson tops the barriers at 24.8 while Sweeney is pushing 24.5.

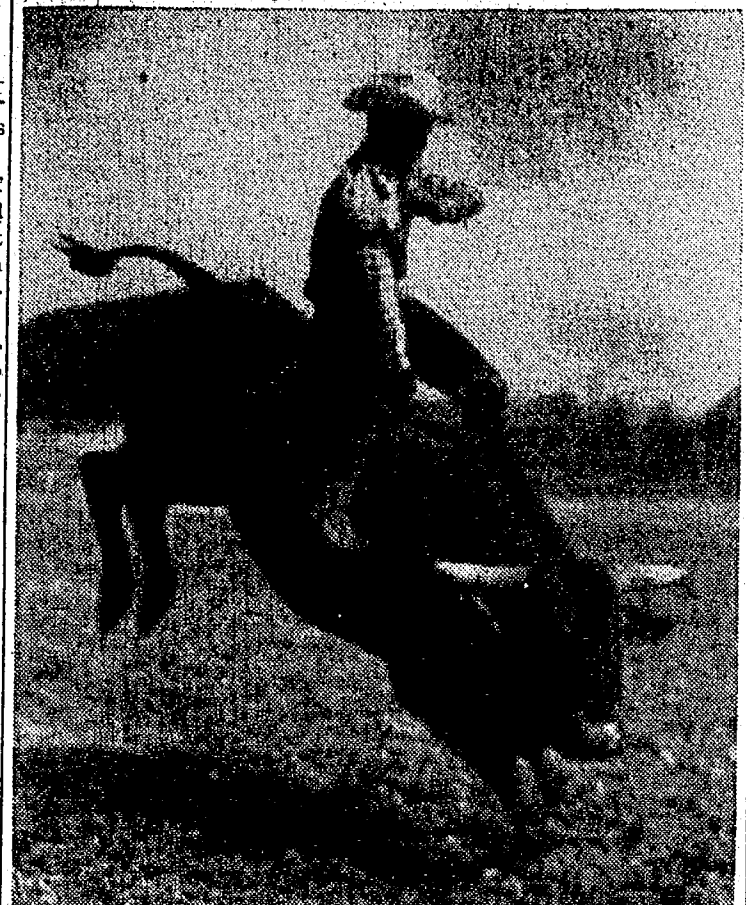

If he has a good day, Idaho miler Chuck Wiemann should hold his own. Vanderhoof of Washington has posted the best time in this event with a 4:30 time.

The Huskies are expected to sweep the shot put and will field a flashy two miler in George Abbey and a top half miler in Morgan, who has been clocked at 1:55.5.

Coach Hec Edmundson's cindermen arrived in Moscow today and will work out this afternoon on the Neale stadium track. Washington suffered its initial loss of the season to the University of California last week. The Vandals sport a 1-2 record as they have dumped Oregon State but dropped decisions to Oregon and Washington State.

Meet results:
1903—Washington 61, Idaho 61
1927—Washington 69 1/2, Idaho 61 1/2
1947—Washington 89, Idaho 42
1948—Washington 94, Idaho 37
1949—Washington 86, Idaho 45
1950—Washington 85, Idaho 45

Bully For Our Side

A man could hurt himself this way. For the Vandal Riders, there'll be plenty of such action this week-end at the Lewiston Round-Up grounds.

College Cowboys Ride Rodeo Stock In Lewiston This Week

More than 65 college cowboys are checking their rigging and testing their lariats this morning as the Northwest's biggest Inter-collegiate Rodeo opens arena action today at the Lewiston Round-up grounds. The show, sponsored by the Hackamore club at Washington State and the Student Rodeo club from Moscow, begins at two o'clock this afternoon, tomorrow and Sunday.

Harley Tucker, stock producer of Joseph, Oregon, has some of his top bucking stock lined up for the three day affair. Tom Hadley, from Indianahoma, Oklahoma, will do the announcing. Hadley, a graduate of New Mexico A & M, won the bulldogging championship at the Cow Palace, San Francisco, in 1949.

Thirteen Idaho students will get their share of arena dust. Signed up to participate are Bob Schild, John Holt, Howard Harris, Vern Gasser, LaVere Gasser, Bryan Stone, and King Block.

Other entrants are Bob Wilkinson, Jack Pfeiffer, Roger Allison, Isabel Clyde, Jim Gerard, and Les Matthews.

Events are bull riding, calf roping, wild cow milking, saddle

The University of Idaho diamondmen will be seeking their initial conquest of the Northern Division season Monday when they play host to the Oregon Webfoots at MacLean field.

Vandal mentor Chuck Finley will probably pin his hopes Monday on the sidarm slants of Lloyd Schiller, who has dropped two contests in ND play. Cless Hinkley will probably work the second game of the series at MacLean field Tuesday.

After seeing charges drop eight contests in a row, coach Finley is expected to shift his line-up around for the umpteenth time this season. Bruce McIntosh will probably move back to the initial sack since George McCarty's stick has been colder than an ice pick. Sophomore Bob Sell is slated to start in the outfield.

McIntosh tops the Vandal batsmen with a .407 mark on 11 safeties in 27 trips to the platter. Catcher Jerry Ogle follows with 10 bingos in 28 at bats for a .357 average.

In their home opener last Tuesday at MacLean field, the Vandals were dropped by Washington State 7-5.

THE NEST"

The recent dismissal of the Idaho football coaching staff rocked the world in a mild manner. No earthquakes were recorded on the Fordham university seismograph, but last week President Buchanan received a newspaper from Rome, Italy, and what do you think the lead story was? 'Idaho Tosses Out Entire Football Coaching Staff.'

The story, dated-lined, MOSCOW, Ida., reported the resignations hit the campus like a bombshell. Either the 'Italians hold' a special interest in Idaho sports, or the news editor saw the words Moscow and bombshell and got carried away.

One of the local drugstore coaches was telling Coach Finley the other day what a wonderful baseball team Idaho had this season. He apparently had the Vandal team doped out as efficiently as a major league manager, for when he finished his recitation, Finley nodded his head and said: "You know, you're right, and some day you're going to have a bad day and get beat forty to nothing."

Emerson Clark, Idaho's versatile freshman trackster, pulled a real beauty yesterday afternoon. After winning the mile run in 4:29 and the 880 yard dash in 2:00.6 in a freshman meet at Pullman, Clark returned to the Idaho campus, and jogged a couple of miles around the Neale Stadium cinder path. He told coach Hiserman that he just felt too refreshed.

SAE Thinclads Emerge As Intramural Track Titilists

Twelve winners came away from Neale Stadium on Wednesday afternoon in possession of individual track championships, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon emerged as team champion after three days of eliminations in the annual intramural track meet held this week. SAE racked up 205 points to roll up a commanding margin over second place Phi Gamma Delta's 167. Sigma Chi pressed the Fijl's for runner-up honors as they scored 163 1/2 markers. Tom Flynn, who is better known to Vandal sports fans as an outstanding basketball star, proved to be as adept at the track sport as he added 56 1/2 points to the PGD score. Dick VanDerBeets was second in the individual point totals with his 47 for SAE. 300 participants were counted on the field at one time or another during the three day period.

Flynn inaugurated his string of outstanding performances with a convincing victory in the 100 yard dash. Out in front from the start, the "Flynn" Fijl had runner-up Block of SAE by 5 yards at the finish in the excellent time of 10.4. Hobbs of Pine Hall, Gandiaga, SAE; Caldwell, SC; and Luscher, SC followed in that order.

In the 50 yard dash Flynn again broke the tape, this time by only a yard, in the time of 5.8 seconds. Other point winners were Hobbs, second; Caldwell, third; Block, fourth; Gandiaga, fifth; and McClun of PDT, sixth.

The 200 yard dash was won by Bill Luscher of the third place Sigma Chi team. He covered the distance in 22.8 seconds, to win handily over Williams, also of Sigma Chi. Jasper, SAE, and Anderson, PGD, followed.

Boyd of TKE crossed the line first in the 300 yard event in the time of 36.1 seconds. Barber of SC was second, Runner of PGD, placed third, and Hess, KS, followed in fourth place. Walt Dell had the best qualifying time the day before, but due to other commitments he was not entered in the final race.

Tissaw of Kappa Sigma covered the 600 yard course in 1:36.1 to win in the event for the third straight year. Weinman of WS, Barber, Lindley, and Anderson, Chrisman, trailed Tissaw across the line.

Crisp of LH was top man in the 1320 yard run with a time of 3:44.1. Johnson of WS, Nesbitt, LH, and Nealey SC occupied the VanDerBeets dominated both hurdles races as he ran the 120 yard high timbers in 17.3 seconds to win by several yards, and later came back to take the 200 yard lows in 24.3 seconds. Other top men in the highs were Parsons, KS, Schultz, DTD, and Shirley, TKE. Finishing behind the winner in the lows were Shirley, Iorns, SC, and Daugherty, SAE.

The results of the field events which were printed in a previous issue of this paper saw Flynn take the broad jump, Ken Larsen of PKT the shot and discus, and VanDerBeets, the pole vault.

Netmen Serve With Ducks And Beavers

Coach Eric Kirkland's tennis men will have a double chance to post their first conference win this weekend when they tangle with Oregon this afternoon and Oregon State tomorrow morning. Today's action is slated to begin at 2 o'clock and tomorrow's play will begin at 10.

Kirkland has named Jack Scull, Stu Dollinger, Bob Bolingbroke, Bob Zimmerman, and Fred Thompson to handle the Vandal chores. Idaho has dropped three conference meets to Oregon, Oregon State, and Washington State, plus two pre-season openers to Whitworth, and Vanport junior college of Portland.

The OSC Beavers have one of the strongest teams in Northern Division play. The Orange net team holds a record of five wins and two setbacks. Today's action should be a close match and a good one for spectators to watch. Idaho lost to the Ducks, 5-2, on their Willamette trip, but have

Linkmen Entertain Orange Saturday

Idaho's linkmen will meet Oregon State's luckless golf team tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock on the University golf course. The Beavers, last year's Northern Division champions, have dropped two straight matches and will be seeking their first conference victory.

The Vandals hold a 1-1 record by virtue of a win over WSC, and a loss to the Washington Huskies. Last weekend the Orange men dropped a close meet to Oregon, but OSC's brilliant number one man, Dick Yost, took medalist honors with a 71 in 18 holes.

Spring Grid Tussle Next Saturday

Coach Frank James has named Dale Faylor, Wendell Coombs, Bud Quackenbush, Fred Stringfield, Bob Rawlins, and John Drips as Idaho club swimmers.

The Vandal team is presently playing the Oregon Ducks. The teams teed off this morning at 8:30 and should be through with the match by noon. Following today's match with the Vandals, the Ducks will journey to Pullman for a meet before heading back to the Willamette Valley.

Coach James has asked all University students to please stay off the course Friday and Saturday in order that the players will not be held up in play.

Spring Grid Tussle Next Saturday

One week from tomorrow, Raymond "Babe" Curfman, head football coach at the University of Idaho, will introduce his 1951 gridders to the public in the annual intra-squad tilt that will be staged on the Neale stadium turf.

The Vandals have been hard at work under the watchful eye of Curfman during the spring drills and have been operating from the split-T formation. The game will feature the bumps and bruises of any regular season football contest.

In past recent seasons the squad has been divided more or less equally, and a definite rivalry built up between the Red and White squads. Even the coaching has been paired off. That will not be done this spring, according to Coach Curfman.

"The coaching staff," said Curfman, "will handle both squads and make their substitutions to test the ability and team work of the individuals rather than to see one team win over the other. In other words, the game will be to point up combinations and individuals in preparation for the fall season."

It will be the first opportunity for many of the fans to meet the new football coaching staff. Those include, besides Curfman, John Nikkevich, former UCLA star, in charge of guards; Mack Flenniken, end coach; and Jerry Williams, defensive star from the Los Angeles Rams, backfield coach. Williams was selected this spring to coach pass defense and offense and will return to the Rams this fall.

The Vandals are still in the need of a line coach who will be selected following the spring practice.

Spring Grid Tussle Next Saturday

One week from tomorrow, Raymond "Babe" Curfman, head football coach at the University of Idaho, will introduce his 1951 gridders to the public in the annual intra-squad tilt that will be staged on the Neale stadium turf.

The Vandals have been hard at work under the watchful eye of Curfman during the spring drills and have been operating from the split-T formation. The game will feature the bumps and bruises of any regular season football contest.

In past recent seasons the squad has been divided more or less equally, and a definite rivalry built up between the Red and White squads. Even the coaching has been paired off. That will not be done this spring, according to Coach Curfman.

"The coaching staff," said Curfman, "will handle both squads and make their substitutions to test the ability and team work of the individuals rather than to see one team win over the other. In other words, the game will be to point up combinations and individuals in preparation for the fall season."

It will be the first opportunity for many of the fans to meet the new football coaching staff. Those include, besides Curfman, John Nikkevich, former UCLA star, in charge of guards; Mack Flenniken, end coach; and Jerry Williams, defensive star from the Los Angeles Rams, backfield coach. Williams was selected this spring to coach pass defense and offense and will return to the Rams this fall.

The Vandals are still in the need of a line coach who will be selected following the spring practice.
