Mothers Honored During Campus May Fete Activities

The Golden Fleece by Jason

"I'd Walk A Million Miles For One of Your Smiles," a very popular vocalist who died just recently used to sing about "Mammy." Yes, Al Jolson is dead, but the thoughts that he left did not die with him.

There have been many queen contests in and around the campus this year. We, of the Argonaut staff, have decided to join in on these contests and pick a queen. Our unanimous choice was Mom.

We would like to show you our new buildings, our old traditions, and in fact, everything that is Idaho. Most of all, however, we just want to step back, hold you by the shoulders, look at you, and say, "Glad you could make it."

Your activity schedule is pretty full, Mom. You have got two big days ahead of you. At 1:30 p.m. Saturday, the May Fete procession begins. From then on out you will be pretty busy as you can see by a schedule printed on this page.

This May Fete is just what the name implies—a fete or honor for you, Mother. On the Ad lawn Saturday afternoon, you will see our Spurs, which is a sophomore women's service honorary, dance around the Maypole in traditional spring fashion.

Workshop Presents Opera "Pagliacci"

Last night a large audience attended the first performance of the opera "Pagliacci," presented by the opera workshop in the University auditorium. Tonight an even larger crowd is expected to attend the opera.

Ella Woods Of Home Ec To Retire

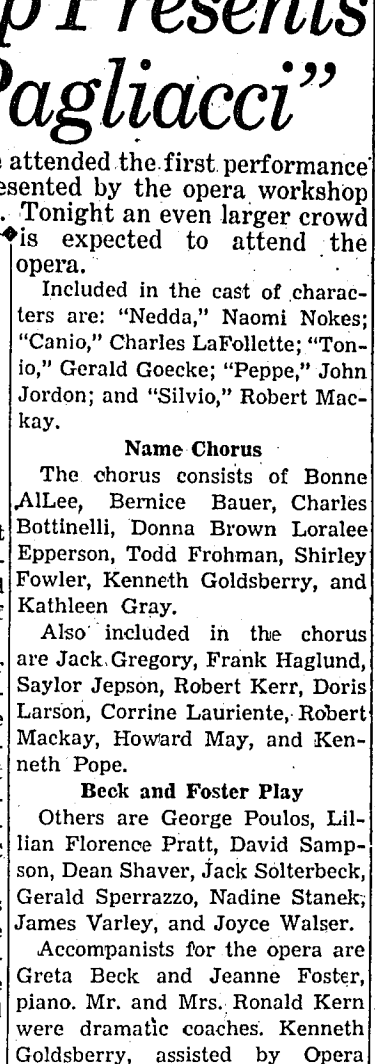

Dr. Ella Woods, home economist with the Idaho agricultural experiment station since 1927, will retire July 1 with the title of home economist, emerita.

Dr. Woods has been the author or co-author of numerous bulletins and research papers in the field of human and animal nutrition. Among the more important studies in which she has been engaged was the pioneer work concerning the increased vitamin C value of the immature potato.

Dr. Woods collaborated in studies demonstrating that methionine is the limiting amino acid in dry peas and beans. Of special interest to college administrators and dietitians was her work on the ascorbic acid content of the blood of students and of food as served in the various dining halls.

Dr. Woods is an Idaho graduate. (Cont. on page 2 Col. 4)

May Queen

Janice McCormick will be crowned Queen of the May and will reign over May Fete activities this weekend. Starting at 2 p.m. on the Ad lawn, the Mother's Day weekend will end with the Song Fest on the Ad steps at 3 p.m. Sunday. Janice is a home ec senior from Caldwell, presently residing at Hays hall. She was formerly president of the Associated Women Students.

VA Calls Attention Of War Veterans To School Deadline

July 25 is the deadline for starting G.I. bill courses of education and training for most World War II veterans. This coming term, the VA says, will be the last during which most veterans will be permitted to enter or reenter G.I. Bill training.

A veteran actually must be in training by the deadline. He will be considered in training, even though he has temporarily interrupted his course for the summer vacation or for other reasons beyond his control.

Any Old Books?

Buchanan, Graue And Lyle Address NW Alumni Groups

President J. E. Buchanan, Dr. Erwin Graue, and Jim Lyle, alumni secretary, were in Portland May 4 to attend an alumni dinner meeting. About 60 attended the first meeting of this group.

Rifle Club Dances

The Moscow Junior Rifle club is sponsoring a dance at the Eagles Lodge Friday, May 18. Tickets are $1 per couple and refreshments will be served.

McCormick Reigns As Spurs Dance In Traditional Afternoon Program

Mother's Day Song Fest is scheduled for 3 p.m. Sunday. The May Queen's procession will start at 1:30 p.m. on the lawn in front of the Ad building when Janice McCormick will be officially crowned "Queen of the May" by President J. E. Buchanan.

Idaho's Symphony Plays Old Classics At Spring Concert

With Carl Klaus conducting, the University Symphony orchestra will present a new type of program at its spring concert Tuesday evening, May 15, at 8 p.m. in the Auditorium. The program will consist entirely of operatic excerpts.

10 Idaho Students Called For Draft

Ten University students have been notified to report for physical examinations next week, according to local draft officials. The men called are Kenneth Jenkins, William Goodman, John Edwards, John Harrington, George Figge, Leonard Apple, Larry Morrison, Richard Pratt, William E. Smith, and Donald Larson.

Idaho's Model UN Delegates Take Russ Part

Five students from the University recently traveled to Stanford University to attend a conference on the United Nations. The delegates, who were sent as representatives of the Idaho Cosmopolitan club, were Joyce Merrill, Tomas Tomasson, Po Ping Wong, Jens Middelboe and Willi Lange.

All-Campus Variety Show Tonight Climaxes Week-Long WSSF Drive

Tonight's all-campus Variety show, scheduled for 8 o'clock in the central ballroom of the Student Union, will climax the current World Student Service Fund drive on the Idaho campus. The week long drive has been aimed at the collection of books and educational equipment for students all over the world who are trying to obtain a higher education without these facilities.

Independents Elect

The Independent Caucus officers were elected recently. New officers are Bob Gibbs, president; Stowell Johnstone, vice president; and Mary Gerard, secretary-treasurer.

Dance Group To Perform On Saturday

Highlighting Mothers' Day weekend activities will be the presentation of the fourth annual Orchestral and Pre-Orchestral spring program Saturday at 8 p.m. in the University auditorium. This year's program has been divided into four portions. The first, Pre-Classic Dance Forms, is an interpretation of 14th and 15th century dances by members of Orchestral. "Daily News," the second division, will spotlight members of Pre-Orchestral. Familiar sounds will provide the background for the third section, "How Would You React To This Sound?"

Groups Award Members

Awards will be presented to outstanding members from several student groups including Alpha Lambda Delta, Intercollegiate Knights, Holy Grail, WRA cup, and Navy awards. Next on the program, two numbers will be sung by the University singers, "Way! Way!" arr. by Niles, and "Lost in the Stars," by Weill. Dolores Knight is accompanist.

Music for the program was composed by Freddie Miller with the exception of a Prokofiev sonata used in one section of the program.

1951 Gem Finished For Registration

"Either we'll get the 1951 Gem of the Mountains out for registration next year or die in the process," fervently commented Jerry Bunnell, editor of the 49th volume of the annual.

Openings to Photomount

Anyone who desires to work on the photomounting staff is urged (Cont. on page 3, col. 3)

Here Is KUOI—Now What?

In the last few weeks we have been glad to see campus radio station KUOI pull itself out of oblivion and begin to make some noise.

The powerful little six-watter has been speaking in a low voice most of the year due to moving to new quarters and the struggle to obtain new equipment. Since a radio station is a delicate thing to uproot from one spot and transplant in a new place, we can understand the difficulties that have been incurred by the people who give life to those six watts.

Now, after several months of waiting for new equipment and the troubles of getting said equipment installed, the Voice of the Vandal is again speaking in audible tones. A new console unit at the station has made much of the difference.

This year "Kouee" has gone through a metamorphosis. It has gained a place in the sun under the sponsorship of ASUI, and has been moved into studios which are second to none for such a station. Now that the transplanting process has apparently been accomplished successfully, we are looking forward to a Voice of the Vandal that will sound off in loud clean tones.

The station has grown steadily since its beginning almost seven years ago. We hope that nothing in the future will happen to stunt the growth of the station. We would like to see more power—longer hours of operation, and a more thorough coverage of campus activities as well as more diversified programming.

Most of these improvements have been largely impossible to accomplish with the equipment that was available to the staff. The station is now in a position to grow and improve, and we really hope it will come about.

While we are on the subject we might as well go ahead and discuss the future possibilities of the station. There are two courses that KUOI might follow—both are entirely up to the students since the station is under ASUI.

In the first instance, the station may continue as a student organization with the present general system of operation. Secondly, it might be placed on a standing comparable with the radio voice of that other college across the border. In other words, the station might be placed under control of the University with courses being taught in radio.

A continuation of the present method of operation certainly has its good points. As a student run station it has the personal touch that can not be found on any other type of station. It gives anyone on the campus a chance to participate in the operation of the station, and the programs can be produced with only the students in mind.

On the other side of the ledger, the station could be operated along the same lines as KWSC. Although we do not know of any official discussion or plans for such a program for KUOI, the possibility has been widely discussed by students on the campus. Furthermore, such a program for our station is not impossible and it should be seriously considered in case the possibility becomes an actuality.

Again we repeat that the University has to our knowledge made no consideration of placing KUOI on an academic basis. We are bringing this up because it might be a benefit to the students as well as the University to have the station on such a basis.

We have heard several persons comment that they would like to see the station operate like KWSC. Whether or not that would be the best thing is for you to decide—we take no stand on the matter one way or the other.

Were KUOI to be placed on an academic basis, as is the station across the border, it would be operated on a near-professional standard. It would also prepare students for jobs on commercial stations when they graduated from the course.

While we know that students working on KUOI are gaining valuable experience, and that many of them have found jobs on commercial stations, they would have a much better chance for jobs if the training were more complete. Of course it would mean that everyone would not have an opportunity to work on the station, but it would result in semi-professional radio.

Consider the two possibilities. They both have good points and a few bad ones. The type of radio station we have in the future may depend on your opinion. KUOI, the Voice of the Vandal, or KUOI, the radio service of the University of Idaho? —D. H.

We wish to welcome all the Mothers to the campus and to Moscow.

We sincerely hope that you will have an enjoyable time while in Moscow.

Remember, Mother?

Remember, Mother, how you and Dad were kept awake all night when we were breaking our first teeth. Remember, Mother, how proud you were, and startled too, when we spoke our first word. Remember, Mother, how embarrassed you were when we tipped over Mrs. Smith's best flower vase. And remember what a hard time you had getting us all ready for that first day of school. And how happy you were when we made a present for you in school. Somehow, the older we became, the less we would remember your birthday.

Remember, Mother, those trying days when we would come home from school with the world upon our shoulders and certain that our troubles were the worst anyone could ever experience. Remember that period when it was almost impossible to buy clothes because we were all arms and legs, and how Sis cried because none of the boys ever looked at her. Yet later, she had so many boyfriends she couldn't handle all of them.

Remember, Mother, how you beamed when your friends remarked how well-mannered your children were; or how it hurt you when a prim teacher's remarks that your boy would be a second John Dillinger reached you from across the back fence. Somehow that boy always managed to straighten out. Perhaps it was your prayers that turned the trick, Mother.

"Why Mothers Get Gray"

Remember, Mother, our first Junior Prom when Sis worried so much if she looked all right in her first formal and the only reason Bud went was because he could use the family car for the first time.

Remember, Mother, how after that came the times that "make Mothers gray." How you worried when Sis would go out and you just knew that she was sitting in a parked car with that Jones boy that neither you nor father approved of. But all your fretting about Sis's secret plans to elope just faded away with time. And remember, Mother, how you wished that Bud wouldn't stay out all hours of the night with that "rough" crowd he was running with.

Then came high school graduation. Do you remember, Mother, how you marveled at how fast time flew by and here were your babies growing away from you? They were soon to go out in the world by themselves, to eventually marry and become Fathers and Mothers just like yourself.

Sure, you remember, Mother. You remember all this and many more things that we have forgotten. You remember because we are an actual part of you conceived in your image. You remember, Mother, and enjoy this weekend because it is planned all for you. We may seem ungrateful at times, but honestly we do also remember Mother.

—B. C. J.

Saturday, President Buchanan, Dr. Graue, and Mr. Lyle journeyed to Seattle, where they were guests of the Boeing Airplane company at a luncheon. They were conducted on a tour of the activities of this organization. Many Idaho graduates and former students are employed by this company in various capacities.

Speak In Seattle

Saturday evening a banquet was given in Seattle with between 150 and 160 Idaho alumni attending. President Buchanan, Dr. Graue, and Mr. Lyle were again on the program. There were representatives from the class of 1905 through 1950 present at this banquet.

Officers of the Seattle group are as follows:
J. T. Peterson, '49, president; Frank O'Brien, vice president; Mrs. Dorothy Peebles Griffin, '42, secretary-treasurer; Robert Dudley, '37, Robert Jones, '09, and Mrs. Helen Kurdy Goodrich, '32, directors.

ber state of the United Nations. Three hundred delegates from 59 different schools were present and participated. The Idaho delegation represented Byelo Russia, one part of the Russian bloc. The purpose of the Russian bloc was to show the general observer Russian technique in delaying the work and purpose of the United Nations.

The students studied United Nations reports and employed devices used in these reports. In this way a realistic and convincing portrayal of Russia's part in the organization was achieved. In order to form a definite policy, night meetings were scheduled to plan and direct the following day's activities. The Idaho delegation sat in on meetings of the Political and Security Committee in addition to attending the daily sessions of the General Assembly.

Try to Settle Korea

On the agenda were such important questions as the Pacific settlement of the Korean question, granting of representation to Red China, and an accusation that Yugoslavia had been invaded by Russian satellite states. The Security Council and other committees brought the resolutions before the General Assembly where they were discussed thoroughly and then either accepted or rejected by the Assembly.

The main speaker at the conference was Dr. Ralph Bunche, who also presided over the General Assembly sessions. Dr. Bunche stressed the necessity of strengthening democracy at home by abolishing racial discrimination, and other inequalities. He emphasized the importance of a change in policy by the European powers and the United States in the Far East. Colonial exploitation must be replaced by equality and equal opportunity for all peoples, he said.

Only such program as this which provides food and education and strengthens and encourages native initiative will be an effective weapon in combating Communism in these countries, stated Dr. Bunche.

Telegrams of congratulations on this "Model United Nations" were received from such notable personages as Eleanor Roosevelt, Warren Austin, Herbert Hoover and Governor Warren of California.

Participation by Idaho students in this conference was made possible by the sponsorship of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Eagles club and the Council of Church Women in Moscow. Their financial assistance provided transportation and registration fees for the delegates.

Spring Formals Continue As Picnics Move Into Year's Social Calendar

Willis Sweet and Sigma Nu have planned their annual spring formal dances for this weekend. Delta Chi elects officers for the coming semester, and sponsored a traditional spring picnic at Lake Chatcolet.

Delta Gamma
The annual Senior Dinner was given May 1. Following dinner a skit was presented by the senior class.

Weekend guests were Audrey and Juanita Kugler, Missoula, and Pat Tiggard, representative of W.S.S.F. from Oakland, California. Delta Chi

The annual spring picnic was planned at Lake Chatcolet Sunday. Guest at the picnic and for the weekend was National Field Secretary for the fraternity, Ed Brown.

Election of officers for the fall semester was conducted Monday. President for the coming term is Buck Schiller; vice president, Chuck Williamson; house manager, Dutch Engert; and "F," Ed Smith.

Marvin Hawthorne and Jim Gunby were guests for dinner at the chapter house Thursday.

Kappa Alpha Theta
Guests at the Sweetheart Dinner were Jack Sullivan, Earl Newell, Dick Reed, Bob Burnham, Jack Pepper, Don Papineau, Crusty Hamon, Fred Cully, Bill Meyer, Art Swenson, Bill Hoblet, John Telgener, Bill Mather, Phil Kinison, Ross Newland, Pat Duffy, Lindsey Larkin, Chub Williams, Marshall Roberts, Jim LaGrone, Jim Lind, and Warren Taylor. The dinner was given Thursday May 10.

Sigma Nu
The annual upperclassmen's formal dinner dance is scheduled tonight at the chapter house. Dancing will follow at the Eagles club, with music furnished by the Art Woodbury Quintet.

Hays Hall
The annual Junior dinner was sponsored Wednesday evening. Conduct records of each junior were used as place cards on the guest table. Seniors reigned as judges while the juniors were tried and sentenced for the "crimes" they have committed during their past three years at Hays.

Pi Beta Phi
Zoe Ann Wendle was a dinner guest Wednesday night. A weekend guest last week-end was Maureen Jones, Boise, and Nina Walrath, Orofino.

Delta Tau Delta
Recent dinner guests were Dean and Mrs. Allen Janssen, Sheila and Alfred Janssen, Lt. and Mrs. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Orvel Anderson, Donna Jean Broyles Hayes. Dean Janssen, Merle Stoddard, and R. K. Bonnett were weekend guests.

Willis Sweet Hall
"Spring Scenes" is the theme chosen for the annual Willis Sweet Spring formal, slated for tomorrow evening. Perry Pring and his orchestra from Spokane will play for the event, which will begin at 8:30 p. m. and last 'till 12:30 a. m.

Stowell Johnstone is general chairman for the dance, assisted by Woody Bernard, Jim Harding, and Bill Pickard. "The decorations, if not sensational, will undoubtedly be the most unique seen in years," commented Kent Paynter, Willis Sweet social chairman.

Alpha Chi Omega
Recent dinner guests were Glen Lockery, Miss Shirley Newcomb, Shirley Bauer, Cheney, and Maureen Jones, Boise. A week end guest was Joar Mitchell, NSA delegate from Marylhurst college. Becky Hill was chosen chairman of the spring formal ball, and Lucille Schrome is in charge of the Mother's Day events.

One sad note, however, has been injected into the coming weekend. A hit-and-run driver smashed into a new Ford owned by one of the campus mothers. The Kappa Alpha Theta housemother was that victim. Her car was legally parked, but evidently one of the campus speedballs figured it needed a new face.

Now housemothers, as we all know, don't make a great deal of money. Mrs. Bender's insurance didn't cover this needless accident. Most hit-and-run drivers do not have a conscience, but there is always hope.

At any rate, let's be a little careful this weekend, especially. The car we hit may be driven by a Mother and why mar her weekend? Happy Mother's Day, Mother.

CORP. THE AMERICAN TOBACCO COMPANY

I am a fellow who designs. In fact, I study art. I'm smoking Lucky Strike, of course, that is, because I'm smart.

Arnold Friedmann
Pratt Institute

My girl friend likes my big blue eyes. She likes the way I croon. But when I light a Lucky Strike, just watch my baby swoon.
