

May Fete-Song Fest Welcomes Mothers Over Weekend

The GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

Well, a busy weekend has left Jason and probably the rest of the campus a little "pooped" out and possibly slightly confused—with finals and makeup work hanging over our heads, you know. If you've kept up, then you're lucky and wise.

"What spirit those guys have got. It's the best I've seen from an Idaho team in many years." Comments like that were frequent at the intra-squad football game last Saturday.

The Whites, reputed to be the underdog, readily upset the Red team and showed much "do-or-die" in doing it. It is really great to see spirit as that shown last Saturday.

Many frosh this year and newcomers to the Idaho varsity looked pretty good in the spring skirmish. Jason predicts that everyone will have a hustle next fall to hold down a berth on the squad. Let's hope there are no "free rides," for competition is the best decider in any contest.

The Old Question

Jason wonders, as many people before him have wondered, just why so many people will sit back and do nothing while a few have to carry the burden. Why is it that they are so irresponsible that they couldn't be depended upon to show up for their own wedding. If this shoe fits you, dear reader, then wear it.

Jason went in for a bit of culture last Friday when he attended "Pagliacci" sponsored by the Opera Workshop. Much to his surprise, Jason enjoyed it very much and hopes that in the future opera will find a permanent place here at Idaho.

Chuck LaFollette and cast were excellent in Jason's opinion. (He is not a professed opera critic, but just enjoyed it.) It is certainly too bad, however, that "Pagliacci" couldn't have been Friday and Saturday instead of Thursday and Friday. In that way many mothers would have had the chance to go, especially since there was nothing else scheduled Saturday night.

The many chukholes about campus were still unfilled and many complaints were voiced when visiting cars encountered these unwelcome "craters" last weekend. Ah well, Jason, be content.

Faces Will Be Lacking

"Oh, not him. I don't like him. He is not what we want." That precisely seems to be the main criterion for selecting a person for certain honors about the Idaho campus. Instead of judging a person on what he has done or on the basis of merit or achievement, the popular way seems to be to decide whether "he is a good guy."

Jason sincerely repents at editorially chastising a sister publication, but he feels that "Gem of the Mountains" has overlooked several "campus personalities" who merit a place in the personalities section. Whether this was done deliberately, Jason doesn't know but believes it slightly smells of personal prejudice from which every publication should be entirely free.

This is not a "sour grapes" rendition for Jason was interviewed for the section recently. Whether he will appear next year in the Gem is, however, another thing.

Jason hopes that when the Argonaut staff elects its annual choice for the outstanding man and woman of the 1951 graduating class.

Honoraries Tap Members While McCormick Reigns

Awards, tapping of new honorary members, and the crowning of the May Queen highlighted the May Fete celebration Saturday afternoon in connection with the Mother's Day weekend on the campus. The May Fete activities were held in the Memorial gymnasium when rain caused the festivities to be moved from the Ad building lawn.

May Queen Janice McCormick was officially crowned by President J. E. Buchanan and led the procession with attendants Willa Schumann, page, and Helen Daniels, maid of honor. Flower girls and train bearers were Jan and Donna Kindschel, Brian Forney, and Galen Forney.

Stop Before You Read This! We Claim No Responsibility

Looking back through the files of the old Argonauts, we came across this little brain-storm in the issue of May 4, 1934. At least we are swiping stuff from our own paper instead of another publication.

The Romans had no "u" in their alphabet and no double "u," so they used "v" where possible and thus vssally got along vvell enough. Vntfortnately, thrugh an established affection, it is still the fashion to vse the Roman "v" on buildings, particularly public buildings, and in mvch of the more formal decorations in pvblic places. Among the most stanch vvhlders of this cvstom are the various departments of the Vnited States government, as vvell as the city fathers, member of covnly boards and library boards scattered around the country, vvho vvould rather be dead than considered not vp to snuff in matters of art. The architects themselves tend to be fixed in their vvays when it comes to chiseling letters above a library vvindow, but vvve think that could be managed iff only it vvasn't for this cvrsed fear of the elected dignitaries that they vvill be led into something artivstically vvrong.

Vv Vve Could Say!!
Appoint some long-eared politician to be postmaster general or some pale javved banker to be secretary of the treasury, and immediately he comes to think of the architectural "v" as one of the niceties of life. He vvouldn't vvant it otherwise for the vvorld. Ovfvdge!
When a fellovv gets to vvriting "v's" and "vv's" thus, he vvitimately grovvs so vvildly cvnfused and involved that mvch as he vvould like to continue and conclude his argument, he merely vvtters thank that the inscriptions on public buildings are brief, vverevpon he mvtters "Vvovv!!" and Vvhevvi!! and vvinds vp vvithout further vvords, save to add that according to this spelling there is a bird-in-Nevv Zealand name the "Vvavv-vvhi" and a pest in American knovvn as the "vvillovv-vvrom."
Thus they vvrote in 1934. Thank God those Romans lost their influence before we came along to edit the Argonaut.

Now attending Boise high school, Neil is active in music, athletics, public speaking activities, and holds a student rank of major in the high school ROTC program. Neil will begin his studies at Idaho in September.

Albertson Elected Head Of Home Ec

Pat Albertson was elected president of the Home Ec club for the coming year at the last meeting of the group for this year.
Other officers elected were Naida Whybark, vice president; Lois Saunders, secretary; Marya Parkins, treasurer; Nathalie Bales, historian; and Carol Petersen, key girl chairman.

class, they consider carefully the merits of each individual. He would like to see it completely clear of personal prejudice.
Council Has Power
Executive Board Tuesday night appointed a chairman and members of the newly-formed Student Activities Council. This council is a form of last year's student activities board. The new council wields much responsibility as it recommends to the Executive Board prospective chairman for Homecoming, Dad's Day, All-University Day, and the other main weekend activities. The council also supervises these committees. Jason believes the choice of Cleon (Kelly) Kunz as chairman of this important council was a good one as were the choice of members.
Charles Decker has been re-appointed faculty advisor for the ASUI Executive Board. Jason is glad to see this for Mr. Decker has been sympathetic with student views the past year. He is willing to cooperate and that is commendable for cooperation should be the byword with faculty and students.
And we down here can't kick too much this year for they up on "the hill" have been very cooperative this year. The remainder of the ASUI recommendations (discipline report, Pep Band, and registration) have come out of committee and now are on President Buchanan's desk. He will now submit them to Academic Council. Good luck, recommendations.

Hamilton Tops FFA

Carl Hamilton was elected president of the collegiate chapter of FFA Thursday.
Other officers are Benny Nicholas, vice president; Waymen Snider, secretary; John Reik, treasurer; Mary Jagels, reporter, and Floyd Rowbury, sentinel.

Band members themselves cannot possibly hope to become affiliated with our group as they fail miserably in meeting our qualifications (check back issues of the Argonaut... spring 1948). However, when any group, regardless of its intentions attempts to break from the significant, we as the SIM alumni must heartily endorse the movement.

PS: please forgive our insignificant attempt to make known the wishes of Idaho's most insignificant group... we do not intend to lend any influence to the matter as that would be against our very cause. I would like to explain why this bit of correspondence comes after the matter at hand has become no longer newsworthy. I felt that any earlier letter might, heaven forbid, shed a ray of influence on the controversy, and 2, since the SIM has no desire to be influential or to be influenced in any way, the Argonauts that we read are a month behind the more recent publications.
Sincerely,

Vandals Host Spokane Outfit Here Today--Weather Pending

Anderson Toes Slab

The Idaho baseballers, resting like a fabled frog in the well of the Northern Division standings, step out of league action this afternoon to host the Boone Avenue ball boys from Gonzaga university at MacLean field, providing the atmosphere is not too damp for the contest. The Vandals are seeking their first triumph in ten outings. Game time has been set for three o'clock.

Sophomore flipper Wayne Anderson, who kept his hurling arm in tone last Saturday by pitching passes from the quarterback slot in the spring grid game, will get the starting call from Coach Chuck Finley. Anderson's backstop will be Jerry Ogle.

Anderson and pitcher Cless Hinckley tossed round-about no-hitters for Idaho Saturday but they won't get credit for their performances in the record book. The two moundsmen were scheduled to work the Oregon State double-header until the games were cancelled because of wet grounds. The contests will not be replayed.

The Zags, a fairly strong club, have been bolstered by the return of Wilbur Johnson, an alling outfielder who was the club's leading hitter last season.

Radio station KUOI will carry a play-by-play broadcast of the fray, air time being set for 2:55.

Whites And Hart On the March

Halfback Larry Hart, flashy tight-knit ball-toting sophomore transfer, was a thorn in the side to the Reds last Saturday during the annual spring football contest. Hart, who racked up two touchdowns for the Whites, is shown breaking into the secondary after taking a handoff from quarterback Wayne Anderson (28) during second quarter action. The carry was good for nine yards. (Photo by Wilde.)

Curfman's Reds Suffer Defeat

Spring Grid War Favors White Shirts By 18-8 Count

By Ron Johnson

A sparse gathering of local football fans got a good look at Babe Curfman's new split-T formation and in the process viewed a rough and spirited contest which saw the John Nikcevic-Jerry Williams coached Whites edge the Curfman Red-clads by an 18-8 count in Saturday's intrasquad game at Neale stadium. The main features of the contest included a wide open style of play from the new formation, accurate passing by the White quarterbacks, good line play by both teams, and weak pass defense and protection.

Many of the performers, most of them veterans of last year's squad, were singled out for special commendation. Among the Whites, Wayne Anderson, junior quarterback, was probably the most valuable man on offense as he completed most of the 10 passes which were successful for the winners. He also called a good game in other respects. A newcomer to the Vandal fold, Larry Hart of Tuscon, Arizona, distinguished himself with his shifty running which accounted for two of the White tallies, one of which was at the end of a spectacular 49 yard pass play. Linemen who sparkled for the winners on offense were ends George Macinko and Lowrey Bennett, while Bob Holder and newcomer George Leferts had much to do with the success of the White defensive game.

On the Red squad senior halfback Dave Murphy was the spark of the attack with his fine running and was the only outstanding back on the losing eleven. However, the defense provided a few more standouts, mainly tackles Don Ringe and George McCarty, and guard and captain Steve Douglas.

Losing Hurts

Injuries proved to be a detriment to the Reds during the contest as both its veteran quarterbacks, Dick Zyzak and Max Glaves, were injured to some extent.

Red Menace

The Reds started out like a house afire to begin the second half of play, and at this time they made their only goal-crossing of the day. Steve Douglas recovered a White fumble by Anderson on the 12 yard line and on the first running play of the series Murphy skirted a beautiful 12 yards for the score thus bringing the count to 12-8. Lester Diehl's kick for extra point was blocked by Bruce west.

Anderson's passes again were the spark in the final touchdown drive of the day late in the fourth period. Passes to Bennett and Macinko, which covered 10 and 20 yards respectively, brought the ball to the midfield stripe from which point Anderson flipped a short pass to Hart who went all the way behind the key block of Macinko. Anderson missed his third conversion in succession and the score stood at 18-8.

Idaho and WSC put the final touches to their spring football training programs last Saturday by staging intrasquad contests, and one of the most interesting sidelights to the games was the squad rosters. Of the 55 competing players on the Neale stadium turf Saturday, 34 were out-of-state boys. The tables were turned at Pullman; 46 of the 70 Cougar players were from Washington. Maybe that's why they call it Washington State.

Courtmen Finish Net Slate Saturday

Netmen will hang their rackets on the wall Saturday afternoon after they end the season in Northern Division play at the University of Washington. Coach Eric Kirkland's crew has failed to post a conference win this season, but are looking forward to making it rough for whom ever they meet in the coast town this week-end.

Six players make up the possible traveling list, with Bob Bolingbroke, Stu Dollinger, Jack Scull, and Bob Zimmerman getting a check after their nom as probable travelers. Bob Gleason and Fred Thompson complete the tentative list.

The Huskies are expected to walk off with the championship cup by virtue of their season's record. The Washington net crew blanked every team in the Northern Division race except the Oregon State Beavers. The Beavers managed to grab three sets to lose a close 4-3 match. Last week-end Idaho's frosh lost their meet of the year to a strong WSC crew, 6-4. In the last doubles match between Idaho's Bill Mahlik and Dwight Klein against the Cougars, McHugh and Deschamp, the cross state swingers salvaged a set in the last frame to prevent an Idaho tie.

Saturday's action on the university golf course drew the curtain on all Intramural action except spring tennis. Phi Delta Theta took club honors with a 337 score.

High individual medalist honors did not fall to the winners however, as the SN's Pat Hamilton and PDT's Ivin Stone traversed the course in 79 each.

Golf Team Enters ND Play At Seattle

Coach Frank James' club boys will close out their 1951 golf season 'this week-end following the Northern Division conference match in Seattle. James will make the Washington trip without the services of Bud Quakenbush, who will stay behind to complete his senior exams.

The greensward coach indicated he would take four men on the trip including Dale Faylor, John Drips, and Fred Stringfield. The fourth man is yet to be named.

This year's record stands at one victory and three defeats. The squad registered their only win over the Washington State Cougars in the first match of the season.

Frosh Diamondmen End WSC Series At Bailey Ball Park

Coach Bob Lineck's first year baseballers will be after their third win in a set of four with the Washington State freshmen this afternoon when the two teams line up on Bailey field at 2 o'clock. Lineck has given frosh hurler Ken McClennan the nod to work from the mound with maskman John Puckett taking his offerings behind home plate.

McClennan worked three innings in the first tussle which the Vandals lost 12-2. Barry Wintler will handle the shortstop position, with Dennis Goddard on second base. Handling first bag chores will be lanky Dwight Morrison.

Joe "Squatt" Soderberg will handle the hot corner. Working in left field for Idaho will be the frosh "flash" man Riggy "Lucky" Fraiser, who collected two base hits in three trips in the last Cougar game. Center fielding chores will rest on Ralph Lehman's shoulders with Bob Rowles giving him a helping hand in right field.

Idaho's first two wins were by 14-10 and 7-5 scores.

Frosh Run At WSC

Coach Stan Hiserman will take his freshman spike grinders to Pullman this afternoon for a dual meet with the Washington State yearlings at Rogers field. Meet time starts at three o'clock.

"Me slept with Daddy last night," said the small child to her kindergarten teacher.

"No, Mary, that's wrong," said the teacher. "I slept with Daddy last night."

"Well then," said Mary, "you must have come in after I went to sleep."

Hiserman's Cindermen Venture To WSC Saturday For Northern Division Meet

Coach Stan Hiserman's Vandal thinclads will travel to Pullman Saturday to compete in the Northern Division meet. Hiserman may field a team of 18 men but will hold off until later in the week before announcing his squad.

Idaho's hopes may be bolstered with the possible return of sprinter Dick Newton. "Scooter" Newton pulled a muscle in the Oregon dual meet a dozen days ago and just returned for workouts this week. Previous to his injury, Newton had captured firsts in the 100 and 220-yard dashes in dual meets against Oregon State and Washington State. Dick also posted a record 9.7 century in a pre-ND meet with the Whitworth Pirates.

Pacing the Vandal attack Saturday will be quarter-mile Don Miller, pole-vaulter Dave Martindale, discus hurler Duane Taylor, javelin thrower Myron Hodgson, and the mile relay team.

Miller hasn't bowed in dual meet competition in the 440-yard event during the past two seasons. Don captured five dual meet blue ribbons last year before placing second in the Northern Division meet. This spring, Miller again annexed a quintet of first while racking up the ND's top dual meet quarter-mile mark by churning a :48.9 time against WSC.

Idaho's discus star Duane Taylor also turned in an undefeated season this spring, and established three meet records. Opening against Whitworth, Taylor heaved the platter 162 feet to shatter the Idaho track mark. Two more meet records bowed to Taylor's onslaught as he posted a 153 foot 7 inch distance against Oregon State and a 157 foot 3 inch toss against Oregon.

Although Martindale finished dual competition without defeat in the pole vault, he was tied in meets with Washington State and Washington. Dave's best vault of the season was a 13 foot 6 inch effort against the Oregon Ducks.

Hodgson felt the pain of defeat but once this spring as he bowed to Washington State's Leo Roine-
