The GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

First off Jason would like to explain what the picture on the front page of last Friday's issue was and who was in it. Contrary to public opinion, Jason did not purposely leave out the info concerning the picture so that everyone would read every story on the front page. (Although that might be a good idea.)

Actually, the picture was supposed to represent the Dad's Day committee. Now for the benefit of the frosh, a Dad's Day committee is not a group of people who attempt to provide fathers for expecting mothers. Instead it is a committee which plans, organizes, and attempts to carry out a suitable program for those persons which are already fathers — namely, our Dads. This year Dad's Day on the University of Idaho campus will be October 20.

It's Too Late Now

Several hundred people milling about the University auditorium today around 11 a.m. probably wondered why plans weren't made for Dr. Wilson to speak in Memorial gym so that everyone who wanted to could hear him. Well, Jason would hazard a guess that the gym is still under construction to a certain extent. Although the main part of the gym is open and an assembly could have been held there, it would have been quite rude to a person speaking to run competition with an arc welder.

Maybe, though, it would have been a good idea to stop work for that one hour, thereby enabling students to hear a speaker. Of course it would have been even better if the gym construction could have been completed before the school term started. Oh, well.

Incidentally, Jason would bet that Oregon State college was not too pleased with the measly 8,500 crowd that attended the game in Spokane Saturday. Perhaps they will realize the next time that just as big, and bigger crowds can be collected right here at Neale stadium.

The Same Old Story

From the students' viewpoint, the ASUI pep band, it seems, is no better off than they were last year. To bring frosh and new students up to date, Jason will try to explain just what ASUI pep band is — or was, rather.

Years and years ago, a group of musically inclined persons got together and formed an organization which they called the pep band — and which it was. They played for athletic contests, rallies, anything where pep was needed, they supplied, and they even toured high schools throughout the state. Personally, Jason thinks that they were, for the most part, well received. He can remember when the Idaho pep band toured his high school and was very well received. However, there are certain persons that think a concert band is needed for these tours.

Now this old pep band used to play real peppy music. "Tiger Rag" was one of the perennial favorites. Last year, however, certain persons decided that "tonal color" was lacking in this group. "Tonal color" was defined as oboes, piccolos, bassoons, flutes, and other really necessary instruments. Consequently the pep band tour was cancelled, and in Jason's opinion, unfortunately.

At the time the pep band tour was cancelled, the Argonaut, together with other student interests, campaigned for the original pep band and all it had stood for. Students seemed to like it better that way — as a pep band, that is.

Committee Formed

Well, there was much ado and a committee was formed by the men on the hill to look into the picture. About that time school ended and the pep band was forgotten, for the time. Now many complaints have come in concerning that same issue and Jason

Changes Needed In Penal System

By Charles Oldham
"Our Western Civilization is supposed to be Christian." With these words Dr. Donald P. Wilson, noted psychologist and author, started this year's current lecture series at the University of Idaho.

Crew Lists Announced For Drama

Various stage crews include construction with Tom Sawyer as the head and Jean Bales, Clive Lindsey, Mort Grinker, Terry Steele, and Mike Cumberford working with him. Doris Moore is in charge of costumes. Sharon Henderson, Mary Thompson, Pat Reilly, Pat Cameron, and Bev Alger are her crew.

The make-up crew consists of Bonece Collins and Larry Hylar, co-heads, Jo Magee, and Judy Coble. Properties are under the direction of Dwight Thomas with Frank Miles, Ann Eames, Roger Styner, Clyde Winters, and Blair Allen assisting him.

Lighters Named

Jerry Sperrazzo, head, Dwight Rawles, Clive Lindsay, and Margaret Alley are members of the light crew. Ida Mae Collette is the sound crew head with Willard Kimmerling, Suzann Moore, and Shirley Pettijohn working with her.

Spokane Jammed By Student Fans

Approximately 1600 Vandal rooters journeyed to Spokane last week, end to see the Vandals meet the Oregon State Beavers in the second of Idaho's "home games." Five chartered buses carried players and band members to the game, while many students took private cars.

A downtown parade by Idaho's marching band set off the list of activities Saturday morning. Following the game, the University club sponsored an open house for alumni and students.

Half-time of the game saw the initiation of new marching routines by the 70-piece marching band of the University. Two of the numbers utilized the Idaho majorettes. A unique system of filing from the field was also introduced to the Spoken crowd by the band.

The Idaho IK's ushered and sold programs during the game.

Tracing many of our present ideas on crime and punishment Dr. Wilson brought to light numerous examples of man's inhumanity toward his fellow men.

Pointing out the similarity between insanity, suicide, and crime, Dr. Wilson stated that about 70 per cent of our present prison population needs psychiatric aid which it isn't receiving.

In advocating a change in our present thinking in regard to penology Dr. Wilson pointed out the truism that "Punishment never seeks to cure the cause of the crime," and "Increased punishments have never been a deterrent to crime."

Tracing the history of penology in the U. S. Dr. Wilson pointed out the difficulties experienced by those trying to change our present ideas on penology.

Ending his address Dr. Wilson mentioned some changes which he felt should be made to modernize our rehabilitation programs in our prisons.

His suggestions included: Let the prisoners lead as nearly normal life as possible so there will not be a re-adjustment period after release; allow fines to be paid on the installment plan; have a nominal pay scale in the institution and establish the idea of restitution; place less restriction and more responsibility upon the prisoner, and revamp the present parole system. Have a higher pay scale for penal officials.

Lucky Winners

Four scholarships of $500, one to a member of each university class, were presented by Standard Oil of California. Reading the University of Idaho Argonaut, scholarship winners are (left to right) Dean Holyoak, senior; Jay Buhler, freshman; Rex Elkum, sophomore, and Lois Bush, junior. This is the third year in row that the Standard Oil company has presented the $2,000 in scholarships.

Admiral Smith Expresses Faith In UN Commander

Rear Admiral Allen E. Smith, Commandant of the 13th Naval District, presented his observations of the Korean conflict and of various phases of naval life last Friday morning in the Agr. Science auditorium.

Attending the lecture were the NROTC midshipman battalion, professor of naval science Captain T. C. Thomas and his staff officers, President Buchanan, Deans Lattig, Kerr and Janssen, and a trio of AROTC staff officers headed by Colonel Mosman.

Commenting on Korea, Admiral Smith stressed the fact that again we weren't ready. "Our forces were composed only of occupational troops, who at the time were not toughened for the problems and crises of combat."

Membership Drive Part of Activities of Vandal Airmen

The Vandal Flying club, campus airborne society, recently issued a call for new members. This membership drive is part of the club's expansion program for the 1951-52 school year.

The club, which now numbers 15, owns a two-place J3 trainer Piper Cub and hopes to obtain a Piper Super-cruiser in the near future.

Membership fee for the group is $50 which is used to improve flying facilities. A $2 per hour solo fee includes the cost of gas and oil for the plane.

Members of the club must register a certain number of solo hours during the school year. Flying instruction is given to beginners.

Wally Schmidt leads the fliers as president with Bob Nixon as vice president and Ed Moe, secretary-treasurer.

A special 4 p.m. showing will be of benefit to freshmen women, as well as any others who cannot attend the two night performances.

Scheduled Activities For Dad's Day Include Rally, Dance, Card Tricks

Rally Thursday

An all-campus rally Thursday night will send the Vandals off to the University of Montana game this week end. Starting at 6:45 p.m., the rally route will be the same as previous ones.

This route goes from Pine Hall to the Ad building, Ad building to the Ridenbaugh hall corner, Ridenbaugh to the Beta Theta Pi corner and Beta to the Pi Phi corner; then to the SUB.

Vandal coaches will speak during the rally. All living groups are asked to have signs or torches for the rally.

University Helps Local Student Rally

A warm spirit of friendship between Moscow high school and the University of Idaho was kindled recently with a bonfire.

The bonfire, however, almost failed to materialize—at least on the scheduled date. Wood and other assorted material were piled high by Moscow high school students for burning at a rally on the eve of the annual game with Lewiston high school.

Lighting Early

Culprit or culprits unknown set the pile afire several nights early. Primary suspects in the minds of the Moscow students were Lewiston students — or University of Idaho students. Clues were sought, but that didn't get the fire going again.

4-H Club Mixer Was Well Attended

Over 45 students attended the annual University 4-H club mixer last Friday evening at Ridenbaugh hall. Square and round dances, and cards were the principal recreation.

Club vice president Jim Harding spoke of the club policies and activities during the refreshment intermission, when donuts and cider were served.

Committees Named

Chairman of the recreation committee was Barbara Sifton, assisted by Lou Carlson and Marge Hattan. Mary McDonald and Nadine Drake arranged for the refreshments.

The first regular meeting of the University 4-H club is tonight at 6:45 p.m. in conference room B, SUB. All people who attended the mixer and any other interested people are urged to attend by Norm Fitzsimmons, club president.

Knights To Initiate Their New Members

Intercollegiate Knights will initiate new members Wednesday evening, following a pledge quiz. All IK's are requested to wear uniforms from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. Wednesday.

An IK meeting for members, and pledges is scheduled at 12:40 p.m. Wednesday in front of the Ad building.

Armed Services Sponsor Campaign To Enlist Women

Are you healthy, female, between the ages of 18 and 36 and unmarried? If so, expect avid urgings from the United States government to "join up."

In 1941 only four jobs were open to women in the WACs, now the services list 359 different jobs.

In a terrific campaign to convince eligible young women that they are wanted, an all-out recruitment drive will begin November 11 with the aim of enlisting 112,000 women in all branches of the armed services by July, 1952. At present there are 30,000 women in the services.

Get Numerous Offers

Reasons expounded for the lack of eager recruits include the exceptional opportunities offered now to young women in other fields over the nation in business and industry. Women have had an abundance of offers for well-paying positions in various fields.

Washington bureaus have had their share of troubles by having to send teams over the country to recruit typists, clerks, and sec-

With Dad's Day less than two weeks away on October 20, preparations are in the final stages under Erlene Clyde, general chairman.

Printed invitations in the form of a personalized letter from the Dad's Day committee have been sent by Idaho students to their fathers. Additional letters may be received from Miss Clyde. Idaho Dads were formally invited to the campus for the week end in the form letters.

Welcome mats will be constructed by individual living groups but will not be judged, as was originally announced. A limit on expenses for the mats has been set at $5 each. No slogan or theme has been specified for use in the welcome mats.

Living groups will enter competition again this year with trophies awarded to the living group with the greatest percentage of fathers present for the week end. Fathers must be registered in the Student Union lounge Saturday morning, October 20, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. Dads must register in person.

Award Travelers

A trophy will also be presented to the living group with the Dad traveling the farthest distance to attend the Dad's Day activities. Prizes will also be awarded to the men's living groups in the beard growing divisions including greatest number of beards, best attempt, and most unique beard.

The Dad's Day pre-game rally has been tentatively set for Thursday evening, October 18.

Half-time activities include card tricks and a mass band composed of approximately 600 northern Idaho high school band members. Kermit Hosh, university band

Not Worth Writer's Cramp

Seen; students emerging from classes on the third floor Ad building with arms bent in excruciating agony. The agony exhibited by these poor victims of diabolical desk designers could be nothing but plain old writer's cramp. Every student who has tried to do any writing on the desks in that area can generate a good deal of sympathy for current inmates. So we need new desks.

Of course, the University is operating on a limited budget. New desks cannot be purchased every year or two. On the other hand, desks of reasonable utility, it would seem, should be one of the priority items in purchasing plans. Apparently, however, they have been delegated a position of lesser importance than the signs currently being emplaced before nearly every major building on the campus.

Signs to identify buildings are certainly desirable, add to visitors' convenience, and add to the prestige of the campus. But the question arises: are they more important than such basic educational necessities as adequate desks?

Desks and signs are both desirable. Both cost money. But in a situation of either—or, many students would disagree with the University as to which was the more important.

Are You A Rebel?

In an open letter from the editor of the American Mercury to the young Americans who are now in college, William Bradford Huie invites thoughtful students to join in a revolt against the Democratic party.

Huie briefly recalls his own college political experiences and the things that followed. In summary of his position he stated, "In short, in this country, there is and there has been for twenty years a company of progressive, conservative individualists. We are anti-totalitarian, and we have been all our lives. We are anti-Socialist and anti-Communist and anti-collectivist. We regard power as suspect and bureaucracy as evil.

"We believe that when free men neglect to police and change their governments, they soon lose the freedom to police and change. We are aware of the dilemmas of our time; we are willing to compromise and, in a few limited cases, to use government as a means to a desirable end. But our primary concern remains our traditional freedom, and we prefer to err on the side of the individual responsibility which freedom demands."

He goes on to say that "What happens to America after 1952 largely depends on the thought processes of our youth. If our young men now prefer security to opportunity; if they no longer dare to regard life as a charge but rather as an adventure simply to be enjoyed; if they scrap the stern creed of personal responsibility and relax in the upholstered ant-hill of the collectivists; then whether the inevitable totalitarianism is imposed by Russians or Americans becomes a problem for the academicians."

Perhaps in outgrowing his youth Huie forgets that to many students the things that democracy stand for are important, but that perhaps the last minute details of preparing for an exam or social function seem momentarily more important in the continual grind, and political consideration lose out in the overall picture.

Austrian Student At Idaho Gives Views On University

By Joe Corless

"Campus life of this university is a kingdom of youth," says Otto Seka, newly arrived Austrian student. Otto came from Graz, Austria, to attend school in the U. S. at the expense of several agencies. He is staying with the Delta Tau Delta fraternity at their expense.

Mr. Seka is very impressed by the U. S. in general. At this university, he said, he particularly likes the honor system given to the students in many ways. "For example," he pointed out, "the Delt house has a concessionary where the boys only have to sign their name to get some little extra to eat. The manager trusts them to pay later."

Otto recalled that before he came over to this country he was suspicious of the golden tales of all the personal wealth of Americans. Everything, though, he found was true. Just about everybody has cars, plenty to eat, beautiful homes and magnificent entertainment. "This is much the case on the campus," he said. "Students in Europe don't have cars to run around in either."

Wow!!! These Women

American girls also get some laurels from Mr. Seka. He said that they are more glamorous than European girls. He added that the more extensive use of make-up and better clothes give American girls a slight advantage.

Waste of food is one thing which Otto doesn't like about the U. S. He figures that all those potatoes which were bulldozed last year would have been welcome over in Europe. "Of course it does seem worse to me since we have always had to be careful over there. And I also realize that Americans have never had to undergo the privations we have had to in Europe," he mentioned.

Financed by Sales

The money to send Otto and about 110 other Austrian students to the U. S. came from the sale of surplus war weapons by Austria. His tuition is paid by the University, and the Delta Tau Delta fraternity here provides his room and board.

"It is remarkable," Otto concluded, "that the U. S., as the victor, would do so much to help rehabilitate European nations and their people."

Mayfields Climb In Alps During Tour Of Europe

After waiting since the war, Dr. Mayfield, physical sciences instructor, and his wife took a Cook's tour of Europe last summer. They managed to see Europe fairly cheaply, still have fun and see all the famous sights.

Via third class railway they toured Germany, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Holland, and Great Britain. All the trains of these countries, except France and Great Britain, were run by electricity. This made the cars much cleaner than the noisy, coal burners of other countries.

For the first time in their lives the Mayfields went mountain climbing. They spent an entire week in the Alps for that purpose. Instead of climbing Jungfrau, which is supposed to be fairly simple to climb, they decided to try the exceptionally steep Monch. After that climb Dr. Mayfield said he was more scared and more tired than he ever cares to be again.

Managed Speaking

They had little difficulty with the languages in most of the countries since they knew a little German and French. Most Europeans are proficient in one of those languages besides their own. Many also speak English. Scandinavians, particularly, have an excellent mastery of English.

Dr. and Mrs. Mayfield found that the dress of the European people differs little from that in the United States. In some countries, England especially, persons' clothing appeared somewhat shabbier than here.

Of course Dr. Mayfield visited numerous chemistry labs. He was surprised to find that a large amount of American equipment was used. Chemists he talked to said that it was very satisfactory and of a high quality. Dr. Mayfield felt that this fact is indicative of the increasing change to use of American-made equipment all over the world.

Here's More About— Jason

is prepared to take up the cudgel again, if necessary.

Pep Band Faculty Director Kermit Hoshch has, however, seemingly let up his dictatorial powers to the extent that the pep band now is able to carry out their own plans concerning rallies, athletic contests, and campus functions. This also includes the type of music that they, the pep band members, play at these functions.

But, (with a capital B) as far as a tour is concerned, (if ASUI funds are large enough to finance a tour), Mr. Hoshch is determined to take 35 persons around the high schools, with the proper "tonal color," of course. The original pep band included from 15 to 25 accomplished musicians capable of combining showmanship with musical talent.

This cumbersome group that Mr. Hoshch proposes is almost now in effect and is termed "The University Concert Pep Band." Yeh, can you imagine that. "The University of Idaho Concert Pep Band." That is like labeling the U. S. Marines as "The chic, well-groomed, fighting Marine Corps." Isn't that simply "ducky," girls?

Ye Gods, pep band members from the "days back when" would turn over in their armchairs should they hear the new name tacked on the remnants of an old tradition. Probably their first question would be: "What in blazes is a University Concert Pep Band? A Pep band is either a Pep band or it isn't. Wonder what is happening up there at the old Alma Mater? Don't those people know what a Pep band is?"

And especially the Idaho Pep band which at one time was one of the finest, peppiest outfits in the Northwest—and it still could be. Jason admits that classical music played by a large symphony orchestra is really fine, but wouldn't high school students enjoy a lively group that put forth a little showmanship with their musical talent? Jason would really like to know.

Song of the week: "Is You Is, Or Is You Aint?"

Here's More About— Adm. Smith

have been shuttled over the Pacific.

Expressing optimism and confidence in our own people, Admiral Smith concluded, "We are sending troops and not just using words. Thus we're showing the world that we're not too bogged down in luxury to help provide for a free world."

Movie - Goers Get Wrong Show

A passion for movies can put people in some strange predicaments. Last Thursday evening, for example, two campus engineers put away the well-worn slide rules to attend the movie they thought was slated for that evening in the Barah room. The following scene ensued:

"Ray, are you sure there's a picture here tonight? I don't see any ticket takers around."

"Let's go in and find out. People are talking inside."

Welcome—C's

The adventurers opened the door, stepped in, and knew a moment too late that they had made a mistake. Three or four cheerful student Chamber of Commerce members extended warm greetings and insisted that the newcomers sit down. A graceful escape was out of the question.

Business topics had hardly been the expectation of the engineers when they went to the "movie." They sat uneasily through several minutes of the meeting, unwilling to make a sudden unexplained dash for the door.

Then the program took an alarming turn. "The usual one dollar dues, said the chairman, "should be collected as soon as possible." The displaced duo regarded reflectively the nearest exit. "But we won't collect tonight."

Excuse Us, Please

The engineers sighed a long, heavy sigh of relief. But one call that close was one too many. One of the duo raised his hand.

"Er, pardon me, but may we be excused? We seem to be in the wrong meeting." The surprised chairman could do nothing but say, "Yes, come back and visit us again."

In the Bucket enjoying a bolstering cup of steaming coffee afterward, the pair were heard referring to check the movie schedule more closely in the future... much more closely.

DEAR JASON

Lt. Col. Mossman, PAS&T ROTC Detachment No. 9 University of Idaho Moscow, Idaho

Dear Colonel Mossman:

Having been in the AFROTC program at one time, I have often wondered how a new Second Lieutenant would perform when assigned. I would, at this time, like to convey to you, your detachment, and the University of Idaho, the outstanding work of one of your June 1951 graduates, 2nd Lt. Vernon A. Bahr. Lt. Bahr graduated as an Administration and Logistics cadet, and is presently assigned to the 580th Base Supply Squadron.

Lt. Bahr, due to his intelligence, attention to duty, and acceptance of organization responsibility, has demonstrated himself as a leader. Due to his acceptance of responsibility, his personal appearance, and his conduct as an officer, he has brought credit to himself, your detachment, the University of Idaho, and the Air Force as a whole. I take great pride in passing this information along to you, because such officers definitely have a place in the Air Force. He has received outstanding training in leadership, which I credit to your detachment.

Lt. Bahr is presently supervising two hundred and eleven men in Base Supply procedures, which, when added to the superior leadership and "know-how" he has shown, is an outstanding job, well done. I hope that I am able to command additional ROTC graduates with the same caliber of training.

Sincerely,
SAM W. SMITH
Major, USAF
Commanding

Ed. Note: Vern was ASUI president last year. In that position he learned to shoulder tremendous responsibility and assume leadership. With experience like that in addition to his training with the local AFROTC unit, it is not surprising that the Air Force thinks highly of him. Perhaps that is another plug for campus activities. We are sure that Vern would think so.

The little boy looked at the girls in their midriff bathing suits and asked: "Papa, why do the good looking girls wear their water wings all the time?"

The Telephone Poll

By KENNY WEST

After a week end of chaos being spent in Spokane and the Athletic Round Table, I have finally succeeded in securing a few comments from sleepy eyed upperclass women to the question, "What do you think of this years underclass men?"

Bonnie Shulberg, Hays Hall: "They are too young for me to be interested in."

Ed Note: First time we ever heard women admit they were getting old.

Patsy Pleser, Delta Gamma: "They look younger every year."

Barbara Thurston, Forney Hall: "Oh, I think they are just fine."

Fat Sweeney, Hays Hall: Is there a difference?"

Poof Wilson, Pi Phi: "Oh, they are too young for me to be interested in—I guess I am getting too old."

Beverly McNece, Forney Hall: "There are not enough of them."

Marjan, Delta Gamma: "They are so over-confident and after being here for a while they will acquire a different attitude."

Daisy Carrick, Hays Hall: "Ye gods."

Science Class Will Use Old Telescope

For the past 10 years the telescope located in back of the football field has gone unused. This year Dr. Darwin Mayfield of the physical science department and his class in physical science are going to attempt to use the telescope in astronomy studies.

This telescope has an eight-inch reflecting mirror which, Dr. Mayfield states, gives surprising results for so small a lens.

In an attempt to use the telescope earlier this month, Dr. Mayfield was unable to locate many objects, but he attributed this to the amount of light diffused by the moon.

Well, I think I'll put the motion before the house, announced the chorus girl as she danced onto the stage.

Veterans Reminded Of Rules

The Veterans Administration today reminded veterans training under the G.I. bill of some basic rules and regulations that must be followed in order to stay in training at government expense, now that the July 25 cut-off date for starting has passed.

VA said the regulations apply to nearly all veterans now in training. The few not affected include veterans who were discharged from service less than four years ago and have four years from date of discharge before the training deadline affects them.

Here are the VA's "do's" and "don'ts" for post-deadline training:

Follow Same Course
A veteran continuing in training after the July 25 cut-off date must pursue his course continuously until it is completed, except for interruptions beyond his control.

Once a veteran completes or discontinues his course after the cut-off date, he may not start another.

A veteran may be allowed to change to another course if he is not making satisfactory progress and the failure is not due to his own misconduct, or if the course to which he desired to change is more in keeping with his aptitudes, previous training and other factors.

The VA explained that most veterans not actually in training on the July 25 cut-off date are no longer eligible for the G.I. bill training benefit. Those who enrolled before the deadline may continue until they complete their courses or run out of G.I. enlistment.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 23 THE AARDVARK

This classy campus caper-cutter got his snootful of cute cigarette tests. It didn't take him long to dig out the fact that cigarette mildness can't be determined by a mere single puff or quick-sniff experiment! Millions of smokers, on and off the campus, have discovered there's only one true test of cigarette mildness. IT'S THE SENSIBLE TEST... the 30-day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke — on a day-after-day basis. No snap judgments. Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why... After all the Mildness Tests — Camel leads all other brands by billions

Vandals Scuttled, 34-6, By Rugged Oregon State

OSC Tallies Three 2nd Period TD's

Exploding for three big touchdowns in the second period, the Oregon State Beavers of Coach Kip Taylor proceeded to hang up a biting 34-6 victory over the University of Idaho Vandals last Saturday at Spokane's Memorial Stadium. Coach Babe Curfman discouraged but hopeful charges will spend the week preparing for next Saturday's trek to Missoula for the annual "Little Brown Stein" classic with the University of Montana Grizzlies.

The Beavers drew first blood on the third play of the contest as end Jim Cordial intercepted Wayne Anderson's pass on the Vandal 32 and raced the oval to paydirt for six points. Cordial also toed the ball over the crossbar for the seventh point.

Anderson to Ogle
Retaliating for this fluke, the Vandals scored a few plays later as Anderson connected with a 34-yard aerial to Jerry Ogle, who grabbed the pass on the Beaver 35 and sped the remaining yardage for the Vandal score. Idaho's two opening plays had netted a loss of 14 yards, but the Anderson-Ogle air maneuver covered 69 yards to offset this deficit. Glen Christian's attempt to knot the count was wide of the posts.

Through the remainder of the opening period and halfway through the second, the Vandals fought on even terms with Taylor's Orangemen. The Silver and Gold even displayed some offensive power as they swept sixty yards to the Beaver seven. However, OSC's Ralph Carr snagged an Anderson pass at that point to dash the Idaho threat.

Passing Mann
Midway through the second period, Oregon State's Dave Mann, who rushed 233 yards against Utah last week, turned passer and flipped the pigskin 25 yards to quarterback Gene Morrow for the second OSC TD.

Mann was just warming his pitching arm up, however, and a few minutes later he found Dwayne Helbig waiting for a 26-yard toss in the end zone for the Beavers' third six-pointer.

With a minute remaining in the half, Mann and Morrow reversed the procedure employed for the second OSC tally as Morrow pitched to Mann for 38 yards and the 27th Orange point was registered on the scoreboard. Twenty eight came seconds later as Cordial booted his fourth straight extra point.

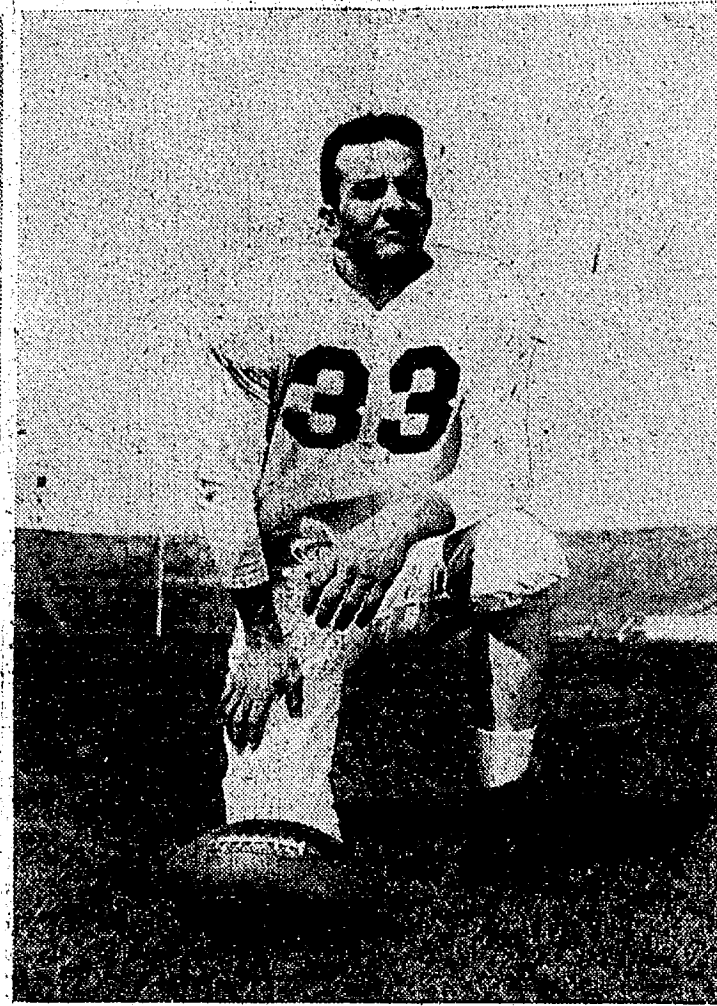

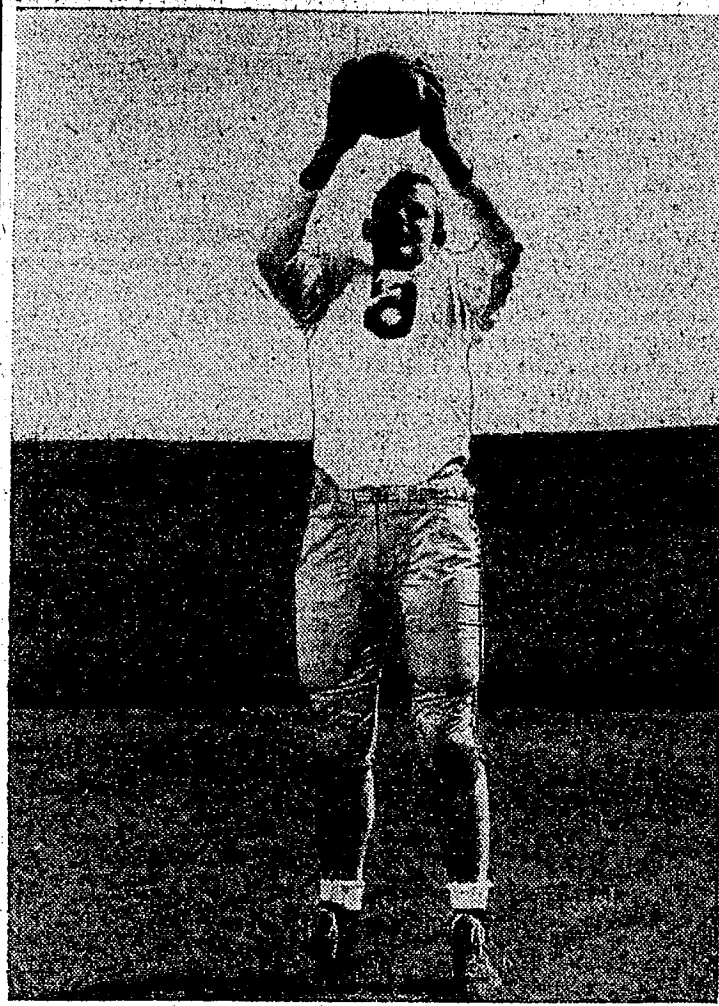

Another intercepted pass almost led to a fifth Beaver touchdown seconds before the half. But time ran out as OSC was hammering at the Vandal door from the one-yard line.

OSC Offensive Cools
The Oregon State offense cooled somewhat in the second half as the Beavers were denied more than a six-point addition to their total. Again the tally resulted from a pass interception, one of seven for OSC during the encounter. This score occurred in the third quarter with Bob Redkey unlocking the paydirt entrance for the Beavers. Cordial cordially missed the extra point attempt, but the damage was done and Oregon State had posted its 34-6 winning margin.

A glance at the statistics would find the Vandals keeping pace with the Orange in first downs as each team registered nine. Idaho even surpassed the Beaver rushers in gross yardage, but losses netted the Vandals 47 yards shy of OSC in that department.

The big difference, however, is shown in the passing category as Oregon State netted 195 yards to Idaho's 129. The Orangemen added insult to injury by intercepting seven Idaho aeriats as the Vandals' woefully inept pass defense snatched a single Beaver pass and allowed several others to find their mark.

"Just Beat!"
Commenting on the OSC game in the dressing room Monday afternoon, Coach Curfman said, "We were just beat. The Beavers are one of the top clubs in the Northern Division and they will be a strong candidate for Rose Bowl play. We are going to polish the rough spots this week and go after our first victory Saturday against the Montana State Grizzlies."
Assistant Coach "Mac" Flenniken, who looked in on the Denver U.-Montana tussle this past weekend, said, "They looked weak at times. The Grizzlies passing at-

Two outstanding flankers on the University of Idaho grid squad this season are Jerry Ogle (left) and Ray Lewis. An offensive bright spot in last Saturday's battle with the Oregon State Beavers, Ogle snagged a pass from Wayne Anderson and stormed 35 yards for the only Vandal score of the afternoon. Jerry also handles a halfback assignment with the defensive platoon. A stalwart on defense is the man on the right, Ray Lewis. A transfer from BJC, Lewis reminds the fans of Billy Mullins by the way he charges into the enemy backfield to pile up the ball carrier.

TKE, KappaSigma Win In IM Clashes

Spectators at yesterday's intramural grid contests witnessed several closely contested games, half of the games played were scoreless, and in another only one TD was driven over.

Tau Kappa Epsilon defeated Sigma Chi by virtue of greater number of penetrations. Alpha Tau Omega lost by the same route to the Delta Tau Delta squad, while the Sigma Nu-Delta Chi game was so closely fought that it was awarded to Sigma Nu on the basis of earned first downs.

The Kappa Sig men stopped the Fiji aerial attack yesterday p.m. and went on to win 6-0.

At the other extreme in scoring were the SAE-LCA and PDT-DSP games, both of which were lost by four or more TD's. Sigma Alpha Epsilon 39, Lambda Chi Alpha 0; Phi Delta Theta 25, Delta Sigma Phi 0.

The remaining games on the schedule were lost by forfeit—Phi Kappa Tau over LDS and Beta Theta Pi over TMA.

Grid battles slated for this afternoon are Idaho Club vs. Willis Sweet Hall on field 1, Ad Lawn; Air Corps vs. Campus Club on field 2 north of the varsity tennis courts; Phi Hall vs. Chrisman on field 3, east of Neale stadium on football practice field; Idaho Club 2 vs. Willis Sweet 2 on field 4, immediately north of field 3; Eagle & Anchor vs. Campus Club 2 on field 5, immediately north of field 4, and Pine Hall 2 vs. Chrisman 2 on field 6, immediately west of field 5.

Spectators tomorrow will see TMA vs. PDT on field 1; BTP vs. LCA on 2; DSP vs. KS on 3; SAE vs. PGD on 4; ATO vs. DC on 5; DTD vs. TKE on 6; SN vs. LDS on 7; and SC vs. PKT on field 8.

Thursday's action will pit IC vs. CC on field 1; WSH vs. LH on 2; AC vs. CH on 3; IC 2 vs. CC 2 on field 4; WSH vs. LH 2 on field 5; and E & A vs. SH 2 on field 6.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

SHEEDY was a big walrus-flower. "All I ever get is the cold shoulder," he blubbered. So his roommate said: "Tusk, tusk, you old soak—try a new wrinkle on that messy hair: Wildroot Cream-Oil Non-Alcoholic. Contains soothing Lanolin. Freeze your hair from annoying dryness and loose, ugly dandruff. Helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test!" Now Sheedy's really in the swim! Just sealed his engagement to a pretty young fapper—and he's about to wisker off to an ivory-covered cottage. So water you waiting fur? ## IM TENNIS

The intramural fall tennis was commenced yesterday afternoon as 18 players vied in eight contests on the Memorial gym and Ridenbaugh hall courts. 63 men have entered the tournament, which will continue through Monday, October 22.

Opening the first round of play last night were Ken Giles of Phi Gamma Delta and J. Williams of TMA. Giles politely but thoroughly whitewashed his opponent, 6-0, 6-0. L. Clemmons of Phi Delta Theta whipped A. Webb of Chrisman hall, 6-3, 5-7, 3-2, as Clemmons was determined the winner with a 3-2 margin in the final set when darkness intervened.

In other openers, Bill Mahlik of Sigma Nu trounced W. Durnill of Idaho club, 6-2, 6-1 while J. Haycock of Sigma Chi won over B. Carter of Chrisman on a forfeit.

Bill Taylor of Beta Theta Pi moved on to a spot in second round play as he tripped D. Beroz of Pine. hall, 6-0, 6-1. Pete Vajda of Lindley hall also advanced by virtue of his 6-2, 6-1 lacing of Lambda Chi Alpha's Schroeder. Another winner in the opening day's play was Bob Rowles of Delta Tau Delta. Rowles won by forfeit on the part of Kappa Sigma's Mont Brooks.

Finch Leads
In a battle that was interrupted by darkness, Wayne Finch of ATO held a dominating 5-1 advantage in the final set after he and Delta Chi's Ed Ingert had split the first two sets by the identical scores of 6-4, 6-4.

Play in the first round will continue through Thursday of this week. In contests tonight on the Memorial gym courts, Ray Sipes will meet Karl Berger of SAE, M. Hodgson of TKE will tangle with M. Smith of Willis Sweet, T. Dombrowski of Delta Sigma Phi will face Delta Chis M. Morache, and Joe Tom of Alpha Tau Omega will cross racquets with the Fiji's B. Doane.
