

400 More Pints Of Blood Still Necessary To Equal Harvard's Blood Record

An attempt to best Harvard, competition between living groups and gifts of flowers are highlights of the current blood drive October 30, 31, and November 1.

Gay Nineties Returns In ASUI Play

On November 2 and 3 Idaho will return to the gay nineties. At 8 p. m. in the University auditorium "The Main Line" or "The Figure in the Foreground" will envelope its audience with true "meller-dramatic" form—under the direction of Miss Jean Collette.

During these evenings audience will be under the spell of the love triangle of the era. They will see the peaceful life of Posse, a sweet rural telegraph operator, thrown into turmoil when Lawrence, a painter from New York, comes to the community to decide his future.

Posse strives to become the type of girl that Lawrence could love, but only succeeds in obtaining the wrath of Jim, her local sweetheart, and the scorn of her heart's desire. To further complicate Posse's young life Col. Jack and Adletton arrive from New York to persuade Lawrence to return to his father's business. Lawrence's ex-fiancee then arrives to obtain his affections; and Posse learns that her father has killed an ex-prisoner.

Jim sees the latter incident and blackmails Posse—She must consent to become his bride. At this point Lawrence decides to return to New York, and as his train leaves—the same train on which Jim is working—the train runs wild. In order to save her lover Posse must switch the train into the path of an oncoming passenger express.

Help! Help! What decision does the young girl make? Will her father be taken from her and executed? Will her life become completely ruined within a few seconds? Don't miss this chance to become a part of this stirring action of this unusually quiet railroad community.

Date Scheduled For Nickel Hop

"Put a nickle in the pot, boy," will be much used phrase Friday, November 16, when the Idaho Spurs stage the annual Nickel Hop. Scheduled to last from 8 p. m. until 11 p. m. the dance will serve as a get-acquainted mixer for university students.

Traditionally, each women's living group throws open its doors to the Idaho male on the night of the dance. A nickle door fee is paid for each 15 minutes the guest spends in a house.

The annual affair has been slated earlier in the past; however, this year the packed ASUI calendar prevented Spurs from scheduling the dance on any night prior to November 16.

United-Independent Parties Announce Their Candidates For Class Officers

Candidates for class officers have been announced by the United and Independent parties for final voting which is slated for November 14.

Vying for freshman class offices from the Independent party are Terrell Davis, Willis Sweet, president; Morris Clegg, Lindley, vice president; Joyce Bush, Hays, secretary; and Ruth Korvola, Ridenbaugh, treasurer.

On the freshman slate for the United party is Flip Kleffner, Beta Theta Pi, president; Jay Buhler, Delta Chi, vice president; Dorothy Wahl, Kappa Kappa Gamma, secretary; and Pat Miller, Gamma Phi Beta, treasurer.

Running on the junior United slate are Bruce McIntosh, Phi Gamma Delta, president; Earl Lawson, Delta Sigma Phi, vice president; Ann Royer, Kappa Alpha Theta, secretary; and Nancy Weitz, Delta Gamma, treasurer.

Over 600 pints of blood have been pledged, Jim Dunham, chairman of the drive announced today. "This still leaves 400 pints to go in order for us to beat the 934 pint record set by Harvard," Dunham said.

100 Percent Coming Up Among the several groups competing in the blood drive are the Campus club vs. Willis Sweet. Pledges to give blood have reached over 90 per cent in both living groups. The ATO's and the LDS house have volunteered to a man to give blood. These are the only houses so far to pledge 100 per cent.

Chrysanthemums will be presented by the Moscow Florists to every woman donating blood.

Members of the blood drive committee are Iris Fisher, Mary McDonald, Don Mitchell, Hazel Tomlinson, John Hansen, Con Christensen and chairman Jim Dunham.

Students wishing to change their appointments may call 4046 during the following times: Saturday—9 a. m. to 12 noon. Monday—9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Tuesday—8 a. m. to 6 p. m. Wednesday—8 a. m. to 6 p. m. Thursday—8 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Delegates Attend Region Confab Of Mortar Board

Mortar Board representatives from three states, Idaho, Oregon, and Washington, joined in a convention at the Student Union building at the University of Washington last Saturday. Betty Thompson, president of Idaho's Mortar Board, and Naida Whybark were delegates from the Idaho chapter.

The twenty-five women present discussed problems general to all campuses concerning subjects of studies, social activities, and money raising events. The program consisted of meeting all day Saturday, highlighted by a luncheon honoring visiting Mortar Board members.

Plan Activities Mortar Board members are now busy with committees for the coming Homecoming festivities. Virginia Ozarem and Naida Whybark are co-chairmen for the Mum sale. Mums will be sold in all living groups on the campus. Mortar Board members are scheduled to deliver the Mums Saturday morning, November 10.

Other committee co-chairmen are Connie Teed and Naomi Nokes in charge of the annual Mortar Board alumnae breakfast scheduled Saturday morning, November 10. Invitations will be sent to all Mortar Board alumnae in the state and to honored guests.

On the agenda for the coming week, Mortar Board is planning a dinner meeting Wednesday evening at the SUB to study the Mortar Board program.

SAI TAPS KING

Sigma Alpha Iota, national women's music honorary, tapped Joan King for membership last night.

Seniors Selected

Completing the Independent slate with the senior nominations are Dick Gibbs, Lindley, president; Duane Lloyd, LDS house, vice president; June Carr, Forney, secretary; and Arland Webb, Christman, treasurer.

The senior slate for the United Party includes Stan Riggers, Tau Kappa Epsilon, president; By Erstad, Phi Delta Theta, vice president; Terry Carson, Alpha Chi Omega, secretary; and Yvonne George, Delta Delta Delta, treasurer.

Voting will take place in the Ad building on November 14 and all voters must show their ASUI activity tickets before voting. The election board will be in charge of the voting procedure. Students may only cast votes for officers running on the slate in

Queen Finalists

Five finalists were chosen Wednesday evening in the 1951 Homecoming queen contest by a ballot of the Vandal football squad. The finalists, chosen from a field of 19 contestants, are left to right, Betty Ruth Westerber, Leah Jensen, Jackie Taylor, Shirlee Vorous, and Barbara Thurston. The Homecoming queen will be chosen by an all male campus vote November 7, before the Idaho-WSC football game on November 10.

Homecoming Queen Finalists Honored By Dinner At Men's Living Groups

Shirlee Vorous, Barbara Thurston, Leah Jensen, Jackie Taylor and Betty Ruth Westerber were selected to compete for the title of 1951 Homecoming Queen by the Vandal football squad Wednesday night. Final voting for this year's queen will be by an all-campus male vote on November 7.

KUOI Party

A birthday party celebrating the founding of KUOI will be held in the Dipper at the Student Union building Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. All students working on the KUOI staff are cordially invited to come. Guests of staff members are also welcome.

Education Offers Scholarship Fund

In order to encourage people to enter the field of elementary education the Board of Regents set up a three-point scholarship program this summer. The Board first of all established a scholarship fund of $5,000 to be used to assist worthy students who plan to become elementary teachers. The scholarship starts as a grant-in-aid, with the understanding that the student will finish college training and teach one year following the training.

Can Be Scholarship If these regulations are met, the grant becomes a scholarship; if for some reason the student cannot complete the training, the grant becomes a loan with a two per cent interest rate.

In addition to this part of the program, direct loans are offered by the Board and ten out-of-state scholarships have been created.

Anyone interested in these scholarships in elementary education may apply to the University.

Men Are The Cause

University officials admit that the heavy male enrollment in these divisions may have something to do with the increasing numbers of women in education, letters and science, business administration, and the graduate school.

Election Board

Members of the 1951-52 election board were determined last night when 29 students took the test composed by the election committee. Ron Johnson and Stowell Johnstone were selected by the Executive Board to administer the test. Clyde Winters, Independent, is chairman of the board, with the highest score obtained on the test. Other Independents are Dean Osborne, Norman Jones, Robert Utter, Jerry McKee, John Fox, and Harold Stevens.

Larger Number Of Females On Campus

A national decline in the number of women students taking higher education, which officials of the American Association of University Women have called "alarming," isn't alarming at all at the University. At Idaho the number of women students is steadily increasing.

Figures released by Registrar D. D. DuSaulff show that the number of coeds on the campus this fall total 793, which is 61 more than last fall. This is an increase of 8 1/2 per cent, whereas total University enrollment this fall is 7 per cent less than last year. Five of the nine colleges and schools at Idaho—agriculture, engineering, mines, forestry and law—usually have only men students.

University officials admit that the heavy male enrollment in these divisions may have something to do with the increasing numbers of women in education, letters and science, business administration, and the graduate school. The situation at Idaho is in direct contrast to the general situation recently reported in Boise by Mrs. C. P. Winston, Ashland, Ore., regional vice president of AAUW. She said that the sharp decline of women students in American universities and colleges was one of the major problems considered by AAUW at its national convention in Atlantic City, N. J.

National Leaders Speak At ASAE Conference

Nearly 150 student and professional members of the American Society of Agriculture Engineers are attending the Student Union building.

President J. E. Buchanan launched the convention with a welcome to the University yesterday morning. Twenty three subjects ranging from poultry house ventilation to the automatic combine leveler are included in the discussion agenda. Eakin Speaks Highlighting the discussions today will be a talk on farm home heating by W. Everett Eakin of the Libby-Owens-Ford glass company. To illustrate his talk, Mr. Eakin will use a solarometer, which can show the angle of the sun any place on earth any day of the year. This machine demonstrates how to take the best advantage of the sun's heat and radiation when designing a home.

Prominent engineering leaders who are attending the convention include Stanley Madill, national president of the ASAE, and executive engineer of the John Deere Tractor works, Waterloo, Iowa. Madill led the list discussions with a talk on 'New and Better Uses of Materials as Applied to Farm Tractors.'

This morning, four concurrent round tables on Power and machinery, farm electrification, soil and water, and farm structures were held in the Student Union.

Students Participate Nearly 40 members of ASAE student branches located at Oregon State college, Washington State college, and the University of British Columbia, attended the conference. In addition all ASAE members from Idaho attended when possible. Several agricultural engineering classes were excused for their benefit.

The R. M. Wade & Company machinery wholesalers from Seattle were sponsors to a complimentary dinner last night for all student delegates and their advisors. The affair was conducted in Hotel Washington, Pullman.

Concluding the conference Saturday morning will be guided tours of the University of Idaho and Washington State college, campuses, and reserved seats at the OSC-WSC football game Saturday in Rogers field.

Wide Area Sends Students To Idaho

Every county in Idaho, 42 states, 14 foreign countries, the District of Columbia and the Hawaiian Islands are represented by students enrolled at the University this year, Registrar D. D. Dul Sault announced.

Latah county claimed the largest number of students with 546. Married students who have moved their families to Moscow while attending the University are included in the Latah county figure.

Other Idaho counties claiming more than 100 students include Ada, 190; Nezperce, 154; Twin Falls, 128; Canyon, 118, and Shoshone, 117. Foreign countries represented in the University enrollment include Austria, Belgium, Canada, China, Costa Rica, England, Germany, Guam, India, Colombia, Norway, Pakistan, Palau Islands and Peru.

New Staff Approved By Regent Board

Staff vacancies in veterinary science and mathematics at the University were filled this week according to President J. E. Buchanan and approved by the regents.

Floyd W. Frank, former veterinarian in charge of the fur animal disease research laboratory at WSC was named assistant professor and assistant station veterinarian. A graduate of Washington State, he replaces Grant Wiggins.

Appointed instructor in mathematics was Milton H. Hoehn, who holds bachelor and master degrees from the University of California. He has been teaching mathematics at California while working on his doctorate.

Two appointments were made in the home economics field. Mrs. Janis Switzer, a native of Teton and Pocatello, was named Bannock county home demonstration agent. A graduate of Iowa State college, she has taught home economics in Iowa and Idaho. Mrs. June Wickward, Moscow, was appointed a teaching assistant in home economics. A graduate of the University of Idaho, she was at one time a home economics columnist on the Los Angeles Examiner.

James L. Graves was transferred from Nez Perce county club agent to Boundary county extension agent. Dare K. Kibble, Boise, a University graduate, becomes a service assistant in business administration, and John Patrick Laird, Gonzaga university graduate, will be a research fellow in engineering.

Resignations accepted included those of Roberta M. Davis, Washington county home agent; Aris Ferlic, Cassia county home agent; Grant B. Hall, Boundary county extension agent, and Christian E. Michelson, radio-isotope technologist.

IRC Discussion

United Nations week, especially UN day, was discussed at the first regular International Relations club meeting last Wednesday night.

Dr. Boyd Martin related a short history and explanation of the aims of UNESCO, an official organ of the UN. Three foreign students, Leona Hansen, Denmark; Irene Sterling, Belgium; and Otto Seka, Austria, gave concrete examples of how UNESCO is functioning in their respective countries.

At the next club meeting, Germany will be the topic of discussion. Three German exchange students will give their views of items of interest pertaining to post-war Germany.

Class Dance Nights Closed To Other Social Functions

Questionnaire, major social functions, and Campus Chest were discussed by the ASUI Executive Board Tuesday night. Several recommendations from the questionnaire committee which is gathering information from various departments were presented to the board by Jerry Haegle, questionnaire chairman.

Included in the information asked from debate, drama, music and other University departments is that each department state its goal, give a financial report and how much ASUI helps them, and evaluate its activities.

Also included in the recommendation was that the departments present a schedule of activities, present long-range projects, and ways they would like to change activities. Department heads will be asked to attend certain executive board meetings to report on their activities.

Through this information ASUI officials can have a better picture of where and to whom to give financial assistance for certain de-

DEAR JASON

Mr. Procter K. Perkins, Los Angeles, California, 215 West Sixth Street.

Dear Mr. Perkins:
 My sincere apology to you, and to any others, who may have been offended by my effort to be humorous in my article in the Times on rotating the football squads. It never occurred to me that any one would take any part of this article seriously, or impute to me any purpose except an attempt to be funny. I wish now that I had used the name of my own College, Pomona, instead of Idaho—and located it in Etiwanda. We have kidded ourselves, and been kidded, so much about the prowess of our strictly amateur teams at Pomona that I think everyone would have taken the canard good naturedly.

If you think I have any feeling of disrespect or illwill toward the University of Idaho you were never more wrong in your life. I entertain nothing except the highest regard for this University, and for its athletic teams. Athletically my attitude toward the Coast Conference colleges is strictly impersonal and impartial although we are, at the moment, somewhat interested in the fortunes of Stanford because my son John is Assistant Professor of Physical Education there, and has assisted somewhat with the athletic program there. I have no favorites. I have battled for 35 years against professionalism in college athletics—wherever found.

I have sometimes wondered why Idaho does not join another conference but, since I have no accurate knowledge of the problems which confront the University in athletics, I have no positive opinions. I hope you will accept my apology. I have a horror of offending people gratuitously, and shall try to be more careful in the future.

Sincerely yours,
 Eugene Nixon.
 Copies to: University of Idaho Argonaut, Moscow, Idaho, and Mr. Paul Zimmerman, Sports Editor, The Los Angeles Times.

Ed. Note: The above is an apology in reference to a letter printed on the sports page of last issue.

Driver of the car (unfamiliar with the road): I take the next turn, don't I?
 Muffled male voice from the back seat: Like hell you do!

Individualism In Architecture Noted By Student From India

By Joe Corless
 Gurcharn Singh from India sees American individualism in the architecture and quality of American homes. "Americans," he says, "also have a respect for liberty which is lax in other places in the world." He is impressed as well with the politeness of American people.

Singh likes the U. S. as a nation and as a people. "When I flew from Delhi to Bangkok, Si-am, I noticed little difference in my surroundings." At Tokyo he especially noticed the regimentation of Japanese architecture. He goes on to say, "In San Francisco, where I spent a week, each house was different, and they were much better than many homes in India."

Gurcharn finds that slang and mumbling are a barrier to understanding. He says that generally his professors speak good English with clarity of pronunciation. Many students mumble, however. "Some people talk gently, some strongly, and many do not convey affection in their voices though they express words of affection," objects Singh. Commercial people of both countries are an example of this, he says.

Where's That Character
 "All that glitters is certainly not gold," says Mr. Singh of the American girl. "But, I have not really been here long enough to obtain a complete impression. I do believe that American girls appear to show some character."

"I like the campus, but I don't like the weather here. It is too wet," he pointed out. India has a more average climate. "When it rains, it rains; when the sun is shining it's warm and dry." He admits, though, that no one can do anything about the weather so this is an unfair criticism.

Working For Masters
 Singh lives in Ludhiana, Punjab, India. He flew via Pan American Airways to the United States at his own expense. He is paying all of his expenses while here and at Colorado A. and M. where he plans to get his master's degree in mining.

During the summer and other vacations he plans to visit all over the United States to get a better impression of the country. "Some day I shall write a book about my impressions of the West. Even now I'm keeping a diary of my experiences." And he added, "I hope that someday you Americans will visit our East and that a few of you will return and write books of your impressions of the East. This may be a way to create a better understanding between east and west," he concluded.

CHRISTENSEN HIRED
 Andrew Christensen has been selected as campus representative for Phillip Morris cigarettes, according to word received recently. Christensen announced that he can be contacted at 2176. Two cartons of Phillip Morris were awarded Alpha Chi for winning the Dad's Day doormat trophy. Two cartons for first and two cartons for second place in the Homecoming float contest will be given, Christensen promised.

A Hundred Years Later

In the past few months a strong wave has swept over the South, leaving in its wake thousands of confederate flags and a large economy size batch sentiment for the Old South. Much comment has been tossed around concerning this reversion to rebel flag waving. It has been called everything from a fad to an exemplification of the states-rights movement. Other people go so far as to say that the South is still carrying on a "cold civil war."

While the new wave of confederate sentiment is probably nothing more than a fad, it is certain that there are still a large number of people in the southern states who are nursing wounds from the Civil War and still feeling pangs of animosity towards those "damn-Yankees."

Southern students on the campus will not agree with this writer, but it seems rather silly for the southern states to be still beating the drums in behalf of the rebel cause. What goes with these people anyway? They seem to feel that each one of their states could stand alone as a separate nation and bark at the rest of the world, and all the while growing strong on ham-hocks and turnip greens.

If the southern states were allowed to have their way, this country would deteriorate into a jumbled mass of insignificant nations—none having the power to cope with anything stronger than a native tribe of the south sea islands.

It's high time for the South to forget her petty jealousies and start thinking about the good of the whole nation. In case they have forgotten, these are the United States of America. —D. H.

What's Your Potential?

"A committee is a group of people on other committees gathered together to do things that they haven't time to do because their committees keep them so busy."

This common cynical attitude toward ASUI committees is maintained by many students. A few words of justification may be said for the attitude even though it can hardly be called accurate.

Committees do seem to be loaded, with many of the same students serving on two or more. A few students who have indicated an interest in helping have been given the impression that they weren't needed. On the other hand, many people who have been griping about not being handed an assignment have never indicated that they were interested!

The students who are working on two or three committees are almost always those who have pestered committee chairmen until they got an important assignment and then did it so well that their talents were widely recognized. There's a moral to that success story.

First let's consider the technique of pestering chairmen. The word "pestering" is hardly accurate because, surprisingly, eager beavers seldom cluster around trying to find something to do. Committee chairmen have to go out searching for people who are willing to help on the particular project to be undertaken. Many more times than not a simple, "What can I do?" will put anyone interested on the staff.

Secondly, if the prospective recruit is too bashful to volunteer, he can fill out one of the activities cards in the General Manager's office. Today there is a special desk set up in the SUB lounge at which students can fill out the card. Executive Board members will be on duty to answer questions. Underclassmen who are interested in activities are particularly urged to fill out the preference cards.

The files will be checked by committee chairmen and others in need of talent. A clue: Check three or four items in which you are most interested. If you check too many there is no indication of those things in which you are most interested.

So for a double barreled method of getting on that committee:

1. Fill out an activity card.
2. Contact committee chairmen.

Beware Of Parking!

Got some money to throw away? If you own or drive an automobile you qualify. Thus far careless campus drivers and parkers have been assessed about $50 in three meetings of the Traffic Appeals Board. Just ask ASUI prexy Hyde Jacobs.

The deadline has now passed for obtaining parking permit decals from the Dean of Men's office. If you operate a car you are in danger of being nicked for not exhibiting a sticker. But there are no policemen lying in wait at the office. There may still be time. Get 'em now.

If your decal has slipped, strayed, been lost or stolen, get a new one at the Dean of Men's office as soon as possible.

To save assessments watch parking signs closely in the following areas:
 Deakin—6th to Taylor.
 Elm—6th to campus steps.
 Blake—Campus steps to Taylor.
 Line—3rd to University.
 Rayburn—6th to Men's gym.
 Sixth—Deakin to Rayburn.
 Idaho—Deakin to Rayburn.
 University—Deakin to Rayburn.

Keep in mind also that there are stop signs here and there throughout the city, and that the campus speed limit is 15 miles per hour, not 51. Good luck. —K. L. K.

The Telephone Poll

By KENNY WEST

The jokes which appear in the Argonaut seem to be of a controversial nature. To some they seem a bit raw and to others just simply well-done. Reactions of some students to "What do you think of the jokes in the Argonaut?" are:
 Willis Knox, ATO: "We need more of them — they are about the first thing I read in the Argonaut."
 Joe Frost, Beta: "They are pretty darn good and College students should take them for what a joke is worth."
 Billie Stephens, Alpha Chi: "They are quite funny and at times a little off color."
 Alice DeShayer, Gamma Phi: "I think they are a little on the shady side, but I like them."
 Jack Byren, Sigma Nu: "I do not see anything wrong with them — they are pretty good."
 Carolyn Gale, Kappa: "Some are a bit shady, but amusing, and I think the Argonaut should continue printing them."
 Bob Terry, Lindley: "They are not too bad, and the sicker the better."
 Nancy Teats, Forney: "Well... some are a little rank, but most are really good."
 Les Wilde, Phi Delt: "Occasionally they are very fine and they do not approach vulgarity for the average college student."
 Joe Soderberg, Fiji: "They are not too vulgar and very good and we should have many more of them."
 Lela Talbott, Ridenbaugh: "Some are pretty rare and could use the space for funnier ones."
 Marion Wilson, Pi Phi: "I do not think they are too rare and the Argonaut should continue printing jokes."

Student Body Prexy: "Let's not have any more jokes about sex, drinking or profanity."
 Editor: OK. I don't want any more jokes either."

Homecoming

groups November 7. House presidents will be asked to collect the ballots following voting. The ballots should then be taken to the Executive Board offices of the SUB where the ballots will be tallied.

The five Homecoming queen finalists were the guests of TKE and Beta Theta Pi yesterday. They will continue to visit two houses each day until the final selection. Dress for these affairs has been left to the discretion of each men's group. The finalists are to be escorted by a representative of the host group about one half hour before each engagement.

Schedule for the remaining visits of the finalists is:

Date	Lunch	Dinner
Oct. 25	TKE	Beta
Oct. 26	Sigma Nu	Kappa Sig
Oct. 29	Phi Tau	Lambda Chi
Oct. 30	Willis Sweet	SAE
Oct. 31	Idaho Club	Pine Hall

Idaho Vandaleers Perform For Elks
The Idaho Vandaleers under the direction of Glen Lockery gave their first off-campus performance last night at the Moscow Elks club.

Included in the program were a group of Negro spirituals and Idaho songs. "Balm in Gilead," "Set Down Servant," and "Good News" were presented in the first group; "Our Idaho," and "Silver and the Gold" comprised the second group. Idaho's newest pep song, "The Fighting Vandal" written by a former Idaho law student was introduced to the Elks.

Soloists Perform
As a special feature of the program Phyllis Ralston, Miss Idaho, sang several numbers. Soloists for the group were Jackie Taylor, Larry Hyer, and Chuck LaFollett. Refreshments were served to the Vandaleers at the completion of their program.

ACCEPTANCE
The inimitable men of Willis Sweet hall hereby accept the challenge which was so maliciously extended by the Campus club.

We not only accept the challenge, but also forgive the degradation, realizing forthwith that only such a quasi-patriotic faction finds it necessary to arouse competition for the privilege of aiding those who defend us.

Willis Sweet men will be out in force for the blood drive.

Signed,
The Men of

Erstad, Boise, and James B. DeLeve, Moscow.

"Grand Illusion" French Film Reviewed
Someday, maybe someday, the calibre of French films may match those of other European countries, but that time isn't here yet. Or maybe I have been seeing too many Italian and English films.

Still, "Grand Illusion," the ASUI film shown last Tuesday, didn't stack up with the usual high level of the ASUI-sponsored movies. It lacked the lustre, punch, and vitality that other such films have made such successful use of.

The technical filming was also poor, which added to the dim view your unhappy reviewer takes.

Eric von Stroheim was excellent in his role as the arrogant German general. Of course, so much practice will make anyone perfect. Does anyone remember "Five Graves to Cairo" or "Rhine Treasure"?

Poor Eric von also played arrogant German generals in those movies. I vaguely suspect the fellow is typed.

Capacity Audience
It was good to see a person who wasn't an absolute prince charming with Gable features playing the lead in a film. This of course was Jean Gabin, who played Marchel quite well, in a crude sort of way.

Following a tradition set by many French films, the plot was hard to follow at times, due largely to the poor sub-titles used. The audience occasionally found themselves wondering just what was going on on the screen.

A near-capacity audience, well sprinkled with faculty members, attended this third in the series of student sponsored films.

WRA LIST
Approximately 13 schools will be represented at the Northwest hockey conference scheduled for November 2, 3, and 4. Tournament games will be played in the WSC stadium. Idaho will be host to over 300 guests at a banquet in the SUB on November 3.

The first round of the WRA tennis tournament is nearing completion. Winners of the games played to date are:

Slate Committee Regulates Doings

Few students realize the time and trouble a social chairman must go through to arrange the calendar date for that "big affair," nor do they realize that every social function must be OK'd by the Calendar Committee.

This committee meets weekly to approve or disapprove petitions for social affairs. The committee regulates dances—four a year to each group, meetings of student organizations, including departmental clubs and church groups, and impromptu mixed social events such as fireades. The group also requires and approves patrons or patronesses at every function and even has a hand in regulating women students serenades.

Officers Named By Vandal Riders
Vandal Riders executive board was named at a recent meeting of the riding club.

New members of the board are Jim Gerard, Mary Branson, Chuck Farrell, Laverie Gasser, Mary McDonald, and John Holt.

Officers elected previously are Bob Schild, president; Howard Harris, vice president; Mary Gerard, secretary; Isabel Clyde, treasurer; Lois Bush and Don Vandevort, publicity directors.

At Wednesday night's meeting the campus cowboys discussed plans for a joint party with the WSC Hackamore club on November 2.

Students Guests Of Music Honoraries
Sigma Alpha Iota and Phi Mu Alpha, music honoraries, will honor new music students Sunday at a reception in the new music building. The reception is scheduled for 3 p.m.

Entertainment will be furnished by both groups and all new music students are invited to attend, according to Naomi Nokes, SAI president.

Finleymen And Youngmen To Face Tournament Play

Casaba Crew Opens With Seattle Five

Coach Chuck Finley's 1951-52 version of the University of Idaho casaba crew will open their season Friday, November 30, in a battle against the Seattle university quintet on the Memorial gym hardwood. The Finleymen will face a schedule of 13 non-conference opponents in addition to their regular 16-game Northern Division slate.

Also on the basketball card for the Vandal cagers will be a holiday tournament at Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, December 27, 28, and 29. Tournament competition will furnish such hardwood stalwarts as Oklahoma A & M, Oklahoma City university, Tulsa, Alabama and others.

Pre-season home contests against non-conference opposition will include teams from Seattle, Gonzaga, Memphis State college, and the Phillips Oilers. Two non-PCC foes will face the Vandals in contests interspersed between regular Northern Division frays. This opposition will be furnished by Eastern Washington in a tussle at Moscow and by Gonzaga at Spokane.

Conference play will open January 4 and 5 at Seattle with the University of Washington Huskies. The initial PCC home tussle will pit the Vandals against their cross-state rivals, Washington State Cougars, January 14.

The entire Idaho schedule is as follows:

- Nov. 30 — Seattle University at Moscow.
- Dec. 1 — Eastern Washington at Cheney.
- Dec. 7-8 — Idaho State at Pocatello.
- Dec. 10 — Montana at Missoula.
- Dec. 11 — Montana at Wallace.
- Dec. 12 — Phillips Oilers at Moscow.
- Dec. 15 — Memphis State at Moscow.
- Dec. 18 — Gonzaga at Coeur d'Alene.
- Dec. 23 — Caterpillar Tractor at Peoria, Illinois.
- Dec. 27-28-29 — Oklahoma City tournament at Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.
- Jan. 8 — Eastern Washington at Moscow.
- Jan. 26 — Gonzaga at Spokane.
- Conference
- Jan. 4-5 — Washington at Seattle.
- Jan. 12 — Washington State at Pullman.
- Jan. 14 — Washington State at Moscow.
- Jan. 18-19 — Oregon State at Moscow.
- Feb. 1 — Washington State at Pullman.
- Feb. 2 — Washington State at Moscow.
- Feb. 8-9 — Oregon at Eugene.
- Feb. 11-12 — Oregon State at Corvallis.
- Feb. 15-16 — Washington at Moscow.
- Feb. 25-26 — Oregon at Moscow.

Sig. Nu Tops Beta For Greek Crown; Hall Teams Tied

The Greek championship was decided last night on the Ad lawn football field, when Sigma Nu squad defeated Beta Theta Pi 19-7 before a large crowd of enthusiastic fans. These two teams were champions of the Greek leagues. The hall championship is not yet decided because of a three-way tie in league 3, between Lindley, Willis Sweet, and Idaho club. Idaho club was eliminated by Willis Sweet in the first of two play offs, 24-7. Tonight Willis Sweet will play Lindley to decide the winner of league 3, and Monday the winner of this game will square off against Willis Sweet 2 to decide the hall championship.

Tuesday afternoon Sigma Nu and the hall champion will vie for the mythical campus scholarship on the Ad lawn.

The final standings for the season in all four leagues are:

5 Mitt Lettermen Return To Bolster Loss of Foursome

By AL LEWIS

Idaho's boxing line-up for the coming season will be started off with a meeting of all those interested in varsity boxing in the Memorial Gym, four o'clock Wednesday afternoon, October 31. This year all freshman are allowed to compete for varsity suits. The dates for this year's matches have not yet been released, but two dates are known. The first meet is an intra-squad smoker tentatively set for December 14. The first outside meet is the Spokane Invitational tournament January 16 and 17.

As this year is an Olympic year, all the winners of the national tournaments will move directly into the final U. S. Olympic boxing tryouts to be held next spring. The contestants for this will come from different organizations such as the Golden Gloves, AAU Military and Collegiate teams. The winners of these tryouts will comprise the Olympic boxing team of next year.

Olympic Weights
This year, head boxing coach Frank Young is using the eight following Olympic weights:

- Fly weight—112 lbs., 6 oz.
- Bantamweight—119 lbs.
- Featherweight—127 lbs., 3 oz.
- Lightweight—136 lbs., 10 oz.
- Welterweight—147 lbs., 11 oz.
- Middleweight—160 lbs., 15 oz.
- Light heavyweight—170 lbs., 5 oz.
- Heavyweight—Unlimited.

These weights are set up for the Olympics in metric units, but are changed over to pounds and ounces for college boxing.

This year's squad, although training hasn't started yet, looks fairly good even with the loss of four major lettermen from last year's squad.

Missing this season will be Norm Walker, Pacific coast champ; Leonard Pacific, two-time national champ; De Forest Tovey; and Bud Lawson, who will be unable to compete because of a serious bone injury. Bud will help Frank Young as assistant coach, so he won't be a total loss to the squad.

Five Lettermen

The five returning lettermen from last year are:

Frankie Echeverria — Runnerup for NCAA championship, PCC, champ, Sugar Bowl champ and Spokane Invitational champ. Frankie's dual meet record for last year was seven wins and two losses. This year he will fight in the 119 lb. class.

Larry Moyer—175 lb. runner-up in the National tournament, Pacific Coast champ, Spokane Invitational champ, and Sugar Bowl champ. Larry's dual meet record for last year was seven wins and one loss and he'll fight in the light heavy bracket this season.

Verl King—Sugar Bowl co-champ. King's dual meet record for last year was two wins, five losses, and one draw. He'll fight middleweight this year.

Herb, Joe—Lightweight. His record for last year's dual meets was two wins and two losses.

Hazelbaker Returns
Wayne Hazelbaker — Former letterman returning to school after a two-year's absence. Wayne boxed light heavyweight in 1949 with a record of three wins and no losses.

Men coming up from last year's freshman squad are: Lynn Nichols, welterweight; Don Anderson, welterweight; Harold Solinsky, heavyweight; and Jack Webster, bantamweight.

The turn out from the freshman class is not yet known, but there are a number of experienced frosh who have indicated their intentions of trying out for the team.

Altogether the outlook for boxing for the year 1950-51 is very promising, with a lot of good material at hand for Coach Frank Young to utilize.

Cross Country Prize

One of these fair plumed creatures has only a limited number of hours remaining to roam around the turkey pen before he becomes stuffed bird and giblet gravy. The winner of the Intramural cross country race in the morning at 10:00 a.m. will get Mr. Tom as a token for his efforts.

IM Harriers Slated To Chase Gobbler

Intramural harriers leave the blocks at 10:00 in the morning for one of the biggest individual events to come off during the entire year in the Intramural program. In last year's chase, over 130 loopers lined the starting line with their eye on Mr. Turkey.

The contestants will motor over a mile plus course in competition for the big bird. Officials have charted a course out over the golf field and back to the administration building.

Each living group may enter as many runners as they choose. Official time will be registered for a group by combining the totals of the first four to cross for one group. Those participating are reminded to bring their health examination slip with them to the starting point. This must be handed to the official before race time.

Second, third, and last place runners will receive a goose, a chicken, and an egg respectively for their athletic prowess.

Faculty Bowling

Topping their league in the Faculty Bowling circuit is Forestry with 10 wins and two losses while Ghouls follow with nine wins and three losses. Top game honors Monday went to G. Davis of the Bursar team with 211 while top series went to W. Boyer of Ghouls with a 542 total.

Vandal Punter Is Fifth In Nation

Wayne Anderson, Idaho's signal-caller and top punter, ranks No. 5 among the nation's booters. NCAB statistics show the Vandal junior has booted 24 punts in five contests for an average of 41.6 yards per try.

Two top passers, Gary Kerkorian of Stanford and Sam Mitchell of the University of Washington, lead the tossers in the PCC by a sizeable margin while six receivers battle for top honors in the pass receiving department.

Statistics from the PCC commissioner's office indicate that Kerkorian has pitched the pigskin 68 times with 43 completions for 648 yards, three touchdowns, and a completion percentage of .632. Meanwhile, Mitchell has completed 42 passes in 74 attempts for 520 yards, two td's and a percentage of .568.

Washington State's Ed Barker and Bill McColl of Stanford top the pass receivers with 20 receptions and four touchdowns apiece. Washington's Doug McClary, UCLA's Ernie Stockert, and Oregon State's John Thomas, all ends, have caught 18 passes each while Bill Earley, Washington, halfback has snagged 17.

While Anderson ranks fifth nationally among the punters, he also tops the Pacific Coast with his average of 41.6 yards per boot. Wayne is followed by Oregon State's Dave Mann, last week's national leader, who has a 41.3 mark.
