

Margaret Alley Will Reign As Sophomore Holly Queen

A Queen And Her Court

Surrounded by her attendants is Holly Queen Margaret Alley, second from right in the droopy sweater. This picture arrived an issue late for publication, but our loyal devotion to la femme prompted us to print it anyhow. Besides, who needs an excuse to print a picture of a good looking woman? Somehow the photographer got all the gals to say "cheese" at the same time, and the result is an interesting picture of a cute batch of happy queen finalists. Shown left to right are Bobbie Hargis, Betty Ruth Westerberg, Donna Bray, Queen Margaret, and Ann Luedke.

"To be or not to be or not to", is the situation facing NSA at the present time. The "to be" was when NSA was firmly entrenched several weeks ago. The "not to be" was the way it looked just before Tuesday night's Executive Board meeting. There the board approved NSA, only after a stirring rebuttal by NSA chairman Marv Jagels, for another year.

Now the "or not to" is coming up as petitions, referendums, etc. seem to be in the making and may make an appearance on the campus. At any rate it should prove interesting for there are many pros and cons to the issue. For one of the few times this year, the Executive Board was split on an issue last Tuesday night.

Incidentally, the above quotation was filched and misquoted from a Shakespeare tragedy which will be presented in February by the ASUI dramatics department. Tryouts were completed Wednesday night for Idaho's version of "Hamlet" or "Fried, Please", and the cast will be announced next Tuesday.

Actually Jason has only admiration for this group which has the courage to put on a play that is ordinarily attempted only by actors who have devoted their lives to the stage. Well, the best of luck, and personally, Jason hopes that you "show" us doubters.

Some fans at Wednesday night's ball game probably wondered whether that second half display of Idaho aggressiveness was all just good, hard, ball-hawking. Whether or not the Oilers' "cute" play brought about the switch of style isn't too important in the eyes of a fan who would just as soon see a club lose a few than "do anything to win or even up the score." For in any sport, it should still be paramount "not that you won or lost, but how you played the game."

As far as Jason's book is concerned, he will gladly give the Vandals and coach the benefit of the doubt and chalk the play up to "just good, hard, ball-hawking" and will be on hand to watch Idaho's favorite team go thru one of its best seasons in years.

No Savvy
But as far as persons telling or dictating how to write up that, or any other athletic contest, they "sound off to deaf ears. A reporter of the sports staff, as any member of the staff, writes as he sees it. Not that he is always right, for who is, but that it is his duty to write as he honestly believes.

Jason would just as soon resign as edit a paper that was dictated, directly or indirectly, or a paper where a writer couldn't voice his opinion on any subject—even one as hallowed as athletics.
A little subtle pressure was applied to one member of the staff yesterday from several directions. One in particular reminded Jason of a fourth-rate gangster in a fourth-rate movie. This swimming star intimated that something more than letters would be received by the sports staff if any of the basketball players were panned in any way.

Now this rather plump, loud gentleman was seemingly acting as a spokesman for the "I" club. Jason doubts that seriously for most truly great athletes can stand criticism and accept it as they do praise and Jason believes that Idaho isn't without athletes of this calibre. If he was an official spokesman, all Jason can say is the "I" club made a poor choice.

One of the new official duties of the Discipline Committee is to submit a public report on cases concerning groups. The first report of this kind is as follows:

Discipline Report
The charges: At the ATO Esquire Dance on November 2, 1951, liquor was served in violation of a University regulation.
Committee findings: A hearing before the Men's Discipline committee established the correctness of the charges.

Along With Christmas Cheer, Spread The Word Of Idaho

By Charles Oldham

Once upon a time there was a student who couldn't decide just where he wanted to go for his college education. Should he go to Monkey Wrench Tech or Bilgewater U? Along came a student from the University of Idaho and told him about the school here at Moscow. This student's life was greatly affected by this simple act of pointing out to him the advantages of the student life and education at the University of Idaho. This student was probably you at one time.

Many students now in high school are wondering where they should go for further schooling. Students of the University of Idaho, being a bit prejudiced, think they should come here. The only way in which they can learn about the advantages of the University is from you—the students of the University of Idaho. Experiences around the campus can illustrate the life of a typical college student far better than all the University bulletins and handbooks put together.

The University needs each person's support if the student recruitment program is to be effective. Only you can add the personal touch to the drive for a larger student body.
Tell your high school acquaintances about the advantages of the University. Tell them about the living quarters, the social and recreational facilities. Point out the building program and our new Student Union building. Mention that the University is a state supported school and for Idaho students there are no tuition charges.

Spread The Word
We are all aware that the state of Idaho is far below average in the percentage of University students attending institutions within their own state. Only half of all

'Candle' Concert Is Old Tradition

By Don Theophilus, Jr.

For the last 16 years, the presentation of the Vandaleer Candlelight Concert has been as much a part of the University Christmas season as vacation itself, or the decoration of the live fir tree in front of the Ad building.

It all started back in 1935 when Professor Archie N. Jones came to Idaho as the new head of the music department. Fresh from the University of Minnesota where he had been teaching, Professor Jones brought with him the idea of the candlelight service and introduced it to the campus as part of yuletide festivities.

In former years at Idaho, carolers had grouped around the big lighted fir tree and had held outdoor services. Live Christmas scenes were often portrayed by high school players and Prof. Carl Claus would play his violin. Much of that passed when the Vandaleer program appeared but not all of it. Some was included, as for example Prof. Claus. He played his violin in the first celebration and has continued to do so for most of the performances since then.

Sing to Midnight
That first candlelight concert in 1935 was somewhat different than

'Marshmallow World' Is Ball Theme For Traditional Festivities Tomorrow

WSC Best Wishes.

For more than a half century now, Washington State college and the University of Idaho have been battling each other "hot and heavy" on athletic fields, but—

The other day the University of Idaho held open house at its new collegiate-Gothic Music building. A deliveryman toted in a huge basket of seasonal flowers. Professor Hall Macklin, head of the Idaho music department, beamed when he read the card:

"Best wishes from the Washington State college music department."

Idaho Men Compete For Rhodes Work

Idaho State Rhodes scholarship selection was completed yesterday with two candidates to have been chosen from a field of seven in Idaho to enter the district selections. The selection committee met yesterday in Boise to make the selection of the two candidates.

Idaho candidates include James DeLeve, Gary Sessions and Myron E. Johnston, University of Idaho; Keith Gill, Idaho State college; John R. Hughes, University of Washington; Richard Parsons, Ricks college; and Daniel Edward Willmore, Idaho State college.

All Are Seniors
All of the seven are seniors with the exception of Hughes who is a teaching fellow at the University of Washington.

The Rhodes scholarships are for two years at the University of Oxford, England, with a privilege of a third year dependent on work of the student.

Comprising the state selection committee are Dr. Paul M. Pitman, president of College of Idaho, chairman; G. G. Bowden, Boise, secretary; Dr. Robert S. Smity, Boise, and Professor J. G. Ride, Idaho State college, Pocatello. With the exception of Dr. Pitman, all are former Rhodes scholars.

Dr. Boyd Martin Asked To Stanford As Guest Teacher

Dr. Boyd A. Martin, head of social sciences and assistant dean of the college of letters and science at the University, has been asked by Stanford to serve as a guest professor for its next two quarters. Dr. Martin said that he was requesting, through President J. E. Buchanan, regent approval for a leave of absence from January 1 to June 15 to fulfill the Stanford engagement.

At the California institution, Martin would take over teaching duties of Dr. Thomas Barkley who has been granted sabbatical leave to write a book. Dr. Barkley is the author of the original work on municipal home rule, and is a noted authority in the field of political parties.

Noted As Author
Martin has also gained national attention in this field. Recent articles by him on soldier voting are being widely used as references. Martin is the author of the book, "Direct Primary in Idaho." He is on the editorial board of the Western Political Science Review, and is on the executive committee of the American Political Science association.

Courses Martin has been asked to teach at Stanford are political parties and American government. During the last quarter he would also be in charge of doctorate candidates in political parties.

Margaret Alley, brown-eyed sophomore coed, was chosen 1951 Holly Queen by popular male vote Wednesday noon. Miss Alley will reign over this year's Holly dance which climaxes Holly Week festivities on the Idaho campus tomorrow night.

Coronation of the Moscow brunette will take place during intermission of the all-campus Holly dance, "It's a Marshmallow World." The annual sophomore sponsored semi-formal ball will close the traditional pre-yuletide activities at the University. Dancing will begin at 9 o'clock to the music of Bernie Ackerman's orchestra.

Larry Hyer, sophomore class president, announces that the dance, scheduled for 9 p.m. to midnight in the SUB ballroom, promises to be one of the highlights of the winter season. Decorations are centered around the traditional Christmas theme. Icicles, Christmas trees and mistletoe will be included in the decoration theme.

Tickets for the dance are now on sale for $1.50 in all men's living groups and will be sold at the door. Programs will be given to couples at the door.

The 1951 queen, her court and all other Holly queen candidates will be presented to the public Saturday afternoon in a fashion show in the display window of Davids' Inc. Scheduled for 3 p.m., the show will spotlight the latest mid-winter fashions for academic, social and sport life. Miss Alley will model a traditional Christmas formal for the show. The coeds will also model the ski togs, date dresses, and sportswear which have been donated by the store for the occasion. Christmas music will provide the background for the event.

Serenade Thursday
Members of the sophomore class serenaded campus living groups last night with traditional Christmas carols. Meeting at 9:45 p.m. in front of the Ad building, the group gathered for a pre-serenade practice and rally. The class began from that point and wound through the campus to Pine hall. Norman Logan directed the group.

The 1951 Holly Queen was chosen from a group of five finalists chosen by a sophomore male vote last week. Her four attendants will be Bobbie Hargis, Ann Luedke, Donna Bray, Betty Ruth Westerberg. These coeds were selected from 11 women nominated by all women's living groups early in December.

Hyer Directs
Holly Week festivities were under the direction of sophomore officers, Larry Hyer, Merlyn Maule and Richard Collins. Committees for the event included Ann Luedke and Bev Groniger, decorations; Jane Perry and Marjetta Closs, music; Carla Brodd, tickets; Isabel Clyde and Bev Alger, programs and Don McCabe, ballroom.

Barb Greene and Marilyn Fleming, publicity, and Don Runner and Ron Baker, queen contest, completed the list of committee members.

Chaperones for the 1951 Holly Dance include Dr. and Mrs. Boyd Martin, Dr. and Mrs. William Boyer, and Dr. and Mrs. Alfred Whitehead. Dean Louise Carter, Dean and Mrs. Herbert Lattig and Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Lowrie will also attend the dance.

Freshman Assembly Slated for Monday

A freshman class assembly is slated for Monday in the University auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Late permission has been granted to all freshmen coeds.

Living group presidents are requested to urge that all freshmen women attend the assembly which will concern student recruitment. The freshman council has also started plans for future class events.

These freshmen council members should turn in their suggestions to Pat Miller as soon as possible and present plans for the assembly to their frosh class before Friday night according to Flip Kleffner, class president.

Infirmary Tells Policy On Excuses

A new policy on excuses issued at the Infirmary was set up this week by the Infirmary staff and the office of Student Affairs and approved by the Operations council. The following points make up the policy:

1. Excuses will be issued at the Infirmary if the student is seen by one of the physicians at the Infirmary during the time of illness.
2. If the student is seen by some other physician of his or her choice or by a dentist, an excuse will be issued at the Infirmary if the student presents a statement from that physician or dentist stating the student was ill or being treated at a specified time.
3. Patients in the Infirmary will be issued excuses for the period they are confined to bed.

Present Statements
4. Patients ill at home should present statements from parents, husbands and/or wives to the Dean of Men or Dean of Women who will issue the necessary excuses.

5. Excuses should be secured at the time the student leaves the Infirmary. No excuse will be issued unless the student requests same within a five-day period immediately following his or her visit to the Infirmary.

6. Office hours for out-patients not confined to the Infirmary will be as follows:
Monday through Saturday morning — 9 to 11:45 a.m.
Monday through Friday afternoon — 1:15 to 4:45 p.m.
Sunday — 9 to 10:30 a.m.
These hours do not apply in cases of emergency. Such cases will always be treated at any time.

Open Invitation

Townpeople are encouraged to come to the Tuesday night Candlelight concert rather than the Wednesday performance as has been previously printed. Students are urged to come Wednesday night.

Sunday Jam Session Brings Music Men From Spokane

Patty Cameron will be featured singer at the Jam Session slated in the central ballroom of the Student Union building this Sunday at 3 p.m. Pat, a sophomore from Lewiston, has the soft, low voice of a typical blues singer. Accompanying her will be the orchestra with Chuck La Follette at the piano.

Chuck La Follette, tenor and music major at the University, will start the show at 3 o'clock sharp. He will accent his nonchalant night club style by accompanying himself at the piano. He appeared before at the WSC Jam Session held in Pullman just before Thanksgiving.

Bruce Berg, WSC, will emcee at the session. Bruce, well informed on jazz, will entertain throughout the session with his comedy routine. In his spare moments he will "beat the skins."

University Men Perform
Former Idaho students, Mark Barnett, Jack Lyman, Jack Percival, Bob Nobis, Bob Olsen and Ed Williams will be coming up for the occasion. Barnett will be beating the drums, while Nobis plays the bass fiddle and Olsen plays the trumpet. Musicians from the University appearing at the session are Freddy Schmidt, Ray Cox and Bud Burton. Bob Barton

Holly Queen

Margaret Alley, pretty sophomore coed of Moscow, reigns this week end as queen of the Holly week festivities. Chosen Wednesday evening by a vote of sophomore men, Miss Alley will be crowned Holly Queen at intermission of the annual Holly dance. Margaret, who has been known to associate with members of the Argonaut staff, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph M. Alley. Dr. Alley is University physician.

Executive Board Completes Busy Schedule Tuesday

NSA, Military Ball, KUOI, campus discipline, and the appointment of the editor of the 1952-53 ASUI Handbook were included in the Executive Board meeting Tuesday night. Appropriations for NSA dues for this year were passed by the Executive Board with $45 for regional expenses and $75 for national dues. Marvin Jagels presented the case for keeping NSA on the Idaho campus.

Jagels told the Board that NSA directly influences one-fourth of all campus service committees. He emphasized that NSA has brought valid and usable ideas to ASUI for the handbook, freshman orientation, student recruitment, Homecoming, Campus Chest, travel bureau, talent file, leadership training, and the Student Union board for planning and purchasing in the SUB.

Air Student Grips
He also told the board of NSA aid internationally and Jagels claimed that the meetings are used as a clinic for student body problems, and to break barriers between students and the administration.

NSA was allotted $450 in the last ASUI budget. According to the Board $114 remains with the

Comics In A Quandry

"Major, what are we doing in the Far East anyhow?" the young man with the Air ROTC patch on his shoulder queried.

Major Canyon stepped back, mouth agape, his eyes narrowed, his jaw became even squarer than normal and the cleft in his chin became even more of a cleft.

We don't know what's going to happen. Perhaps, he'll choke the young upstart with all the blood and gore of the action realistically portrayed.

Canyon is not the only one in a complex situation. There is a host of characters, all in the same miserable spot. Take Stevey's girl, the poor sexless little waif. Lost in the woods with nothing but her good looks, fourteen bottles of Cognac, and the Russian wolves surrounding her. But she isn't scared. Ol' Stevedor will get to her just as soon as he can ditch the five other women chasing him.

Will Fosdick be able to catch the Atom Bum, or will he just stand on the Delta Chi corner and direct traffic? That isn't so bad, but the "Atom Bum" can't find a girl to match his power, or to make beautiful atoms with him.

Will Little Orphan Annie ever get out of that junk heap or is she going to be there all the rest of her natural life. Speaking of life, do I detect a faint crease appearing in the corner of Annie's little round mouth? It's age. She is now pushing 45 but you can't tell it. It's HER changing wardrobe that keeps her looking so youthful and sparkling.

With life being more and more realistically portrayed in the Funny Papers, one realized that the Funny Papers really aren't so funny after all.

NSA Serves Worthwhile Use For Idaho Campus Activities

By KEN KORNHER

Plots and persuasion prevail as many campus politicians are digging fox holes for the controversy over NSA. In the furor of digging, many students have failed to take the trouble to find out what they are fighting over.

The National Students' association is an organization of American college students with two major purposes. The first is to provide an exchange of ideas and methods between member student governments. The second is to provide an official national and international representation for American college students.

NSA has tossed the campus into an interesting wrangle. "Anti" elements, presenting some credible arguments for slicing the organization from the payroll, were not satisfied with Executive Board action on the matter last Tuesday. The Board approved (6-2) payment of this year's dues. Regional dues are $45 and national dues will be about $75. These payments will run $6 over budget provisions. Presumably, more money will be necessary if delegates are to attend regional conventions next semester.

Pay Own Fare

Members of the NSA board have expressed a willingness to pay their own way to nearby conferences. But they cannot be expected to finance longer trips. An additional amount of money for travel will probably be required. Total cost of NSA to the ASUI for the year may be roughly estimated at $255 if travel funds are approved.

The additional money needed could be drawn from a fund for sending the present and incoming president to conferences. A recommendation by Hyde Jacobs that delegates should not be sent to the Pacific president's conference in Seattle has been accepted by the Executive Board.

Work At Meetings

The $450 for NSA provided in the budget was a little unrealistic. The business of the organization is conducted in a national and in regional conferences. To work effectively through the association a student government must send delegates to these conventions. Hyde Jacobs and Marv Jagels, Idaho's NSA chairman, were sent to the national convention in Minneapolis last August. This trip accounted for $336 of the $450.

Those who oppose NSA argue as well as choosing a square dance committee to make plans for a dance scheduled for after Christmas. The chapter is now searching for all back issues of the National Student Journal for the engineering reading room.

DEAR JASON

Dear Jason:

The students of the University of Idaho should be the first concern of any action taken by the executive board. The executive board has the authority to delegate funds for the support of organizations to which the ASUI belongs. With these facts in mind I had the opportunity to sit in on the last meeting of the executive board.

One of the main items on the agenda for the meeting was the question as to whether NSA was of sufficient value to the students to merit its continued sponsorship by the ASUI. The cost of belonging to the NSA is about $600 (including traveling expenses).

The big question in my mind: Is this affiliation worth the price? It has been said that the NSA has contributed thousands of dollars in intangible benefits to the students of the University of Idaho. Just what these intangibles are was not stated. (Intangibles are one of the main arguments for NSA. With budgets being cut right and left why does the executive board see fit to continue to give away our money to NSA?)

Through the "lobby" of Marvin Jagels the executive board was swayed enough to appropriate the funds to continue the support of NSA. It is evident that there was a question as to the merits of the NSA on the Idaho campus but, by the smooth talking of Jagels, the executive board was moulded to the extent of approving the questionable issue. The arguments put forth on the question by Jagels, while sincere in his behalf, consisted largely of generalities and so-called intangibles, while the appropriations are in the form of tangible, specific dollars.

In my opinion, matters of such consequence as the appropriating of funds should be well thought out by each member of the board before going to the meetings. From all indications, sound reasoning has not been part of their preparation in the past.

The meetings of the executive board are open to any student who wishes to attend. Attending some of these meetings is not a waste of time and they are interesting to the extent that the student is interested in his government.

Engineer Pledges Initiated Tonight

Twenty engineering students pledged recently to Sigma Tau, national engineering honorary, will be initiated into the group tonight at 5 o'clock at the Christian Institute. An initiation dinner will follow at 7 p.m. in the SUB with Dr. L. C. Cady as guest speaker.

New members of the group are Allan Marshall, Donald Miller, John Wilkinson, Donald Jensen, Charlie Blaine, Robert Bonnell, Thomas Kerr, Walter Landek, and Dale Nesbitt.

Others are Wendell Coombs, Charles Derose, Robert Foley, Haakon Haga, Glenn Williams, Roy Parker, Francis Sherwood, Richard Warren, Dale Waters, Larry Kerr.

All new members were scholastically in the upper one-third of their class to be eligible for membership in Sigma Tau.

Here's More About—Candle Concert

that the use of the candle itself in carol services is ancient and steeped in much tradition. It originated many years ago among the Celtic peoples of the Isle of Man. On Mary's Eve, now called Christmas Eve, the people of the village gathered to sing carols. Each person would hold a lighted candle. As the candles burned low the caroling died away.

In Norway the use of the candle is believed to radiate blessings upward on those who share the rays. In Ireland a candle burning in a window symbolizes the thought of the Christ Child, alone in the darkness and cold, pleading for a light to show his way.

Now Longer

From that early one night show the Vandaleer Candlelight concert has blossomed into a two-night affair with a turnaway crowd. The program is famous in the Northwest and for the last several years has been broadcast on nation-wide hookups throughout the country.

This year Professor Glen R. Lockery will present the Vandaleers in the annual concert on December 17 and 18. As usual the group will sing in the Ad building auditorium that is specially decorated for the Christmas occasion. A huge replica of a stained glass window provides the impressive background while the stage is decked out with holly wreaths and Christmas trees.

The Vandaleer group, 65 strong this year, is:

Soprano: Nadine Chichester, Shirley Fowler, Caroleigh Gittens, Hileen Gunther, Daisy Graham, Joanne Hopkins, Joann Jacobs, Joan Jansen, Jo Ann Luck, and Margaret Mehl.

Other sopranos are Dona Nefzger, Patricia Nicholson, Naomi Nokes, Joanne Peters, Phyllis Balstin, Susan Staley and Elizabeth Winegar.

Coach Wins Fight Against Wilds At Night

The toughest football game in Coach John Nikkevich's grid career was never as tough nor long as his 11 hour battle with the wilds of Northern Idaho Wednesday.

Nikkevich and two other companions decided to tramp the Bovill area in eastern Latah county in search of elk. The three had spent most of the morning hunting without success and decided to separate at 2 p.m. and see what they could do.

Start Search

At the given time Nikkevich did not return and Dick Wartena and Wayne Hammond, his Moscow companions, notified several Moscow people about 7 p.m. about his delay. Assistant Coach Mack Flenniken and boxing Coach Frank Young were notified and they organized a searching party.

The Vandal assistant coach was found about 1 a.m. by Clay Gush in Bovill, and Donald Ross, Helmer, both members of a searching party which had organized at Bovill. Coach Young reported that the guard coach was a bit tired, but otherwise none the worse for his experience.

McCarthy Elected To Chemistry Post

Dr. Joseph L. McCarthy, head of the department of chemistry and chemical engineering at the University of Washington, has been elected chairman of the American Chemical Society's Division of Cellulose Chemistry for 1952. Receiving his M.S. degree from Idaho in 1936, he succeeds Dr. Wayne A. Sission, section head of rayon research for the American Viscose Corporation, Marcus Hook, Pa.

Dr. McCarthy was born in Spokane and graduated from the University of Washington in 1934. He received the Ph.D. in chemistry from McGill university in 1938. He stayed at McGill as sessional lecturer and research fellow until 1941, when he became director of research for the Fraser Companies, Ltd.

Dr. McCarthy joined the faculty of the University of Washington in 1941 and was promoted to instructor in 1942, assistant professor in 1943 and associate professor in 1947. He has been in charge of pulp mills research at the University since 1944.

elsewhere, be banned for the balance of the current semester; that all major social functions (specifically, those for which petitions to the Calendar Committee are required) be banned for the rest of the academic year; and that minor social functions, which would be permitted the second semester, may be held only at the ATO house."

Well, that really makes it a lot clearer—about as helpful as using mud to clean your glasses. The part in the report which says "established the correctness of the charges" is what is bothersome. How was it established, by hearsay, investigation, or concrete evidence? Or maybe that is none of a newspaper's business?

When one of the well-fed members of the Arg staff strolled in yesterday afternoon, she was met with comments such as "Good for you, Maggie, you finally made it," or "Well, a four-time loser makes good." However, "Chub" (as the lady is affectionately known around the Arg office) took her new crown with a grain of salt and said:

"If you run enough and fast enough, you can catch anything." Seriously, congratulations to Margaret Alley, 1951 Holly Queen.

No Anecdotes

It seems that the Idaho wilds were just too much for Californian Coach John Nikkevich as a posse was sent out to find him as a result of an elk-hunting trip recently. Don't feel bad, John, native Idahoans have found themselves in the same position.

That reminds Jason of a story but if senior members of AROTC think that Jason is going to give another illustration, they are looney with the cold. Once is too much.

Ag Engineers Plan Christmas Mailing

Plans to send Christmas cards to all student chapters of A.S.A.E. in the nation were organized at a recent meeting of the Idaho chapter of American Society of Agricultural Engineers.

The group also chose Harlen Olsen and Lynn Johnson to serve on the Engineers' Ball committee, as well as choosing a square dance committee to make plans for a dance scheduled for after Christmas. The chapter is now searching for all back issues of the National Student Journal for the engineering reading room.

A film featuring farm machinery will be presented at the next meeting slated for December 18 in room 121 of the Engineering building.

Vacationing Jack London Characters Throw Party At Beta House Tonight

"The Call of the Wild" will be staged in all its Arctic splendor tonight at the Beta chapter house. Characters of Eskimos, trappers, and sourdoughs will vacation from Jack London's popular book to dance to music by "Four Hits and a Miss." A presentation of "The Shooting of Dan McGrew" will highlight the intermission.

Ridenbaugh's annual semi-formal Christmas dance was presented last Friday evening as "The Story of a Starry Night." Entertainment as well as decorations followed a Christmas theme with the singing of "Winter Wonderland," and a reading, "The Littlest Angel."

Ridenbaugh Hall
"The Story of a Starry Night," provided the theme for the Ridenbaugh annual semi-formal Christmas dance, Friday night. Entertainment at intermission time consisted of: Pat Nicholson singing "Winter Wonderland," and Helen Erickson giving a reading, "The Littlest Angel." While Christmas carols were sung, each coed presented her date with a small gift.

Chaperones were: Mrs. Belle L. Gwinn, housemother, Dr. and Mrs. Walter Steffens, and Dr. and Mrs. Donald C. Lowrie.
All members of the hall have been preparing for their serenade which will be given Monday night. Wendell Higgins was a Sunday dinner guest.

Week-end guests were Patsy Plastino, Carol Korvola, Ruby Feltar, Nancy Engert, and Edith Herron.

Beta Theta Pi
Gamma Gamma chapter of Beta Theta Pi's annual pre-Christmas dance, "The Call of the Wild," will be staged in all its Arctic splendor tonight at the chapter house.

Characters straight out of Jack London's famous novel, dressed as Eskimos, trappers, and sourdoughs, will dance to the music of the "Four Hits and a Miss." The decorations depicting a malemute saloon, Hope Yukon Make Inn, and a trapper's cabin carry out the Christmas theme.

During intermission, Gordon Howard, Miller Smith and Joe Komen will act out the famous poem, "The Shooting of Dan McGrew."

Ralph Litton is in charge of decorations. Patrons and patronesses are: Mrs. Lenore Scott, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack V. Stevenson.

Forney Hall
Guests at a recent dance included: Sheila Janssen and Karl Klages, Lois Tovey and Duane Lloyd, Barbara Lane and Frank Cochrane, Sally Goly and Bob Parsons, Elene Clyde and Liman Crane, Juanita Babcock and Max Huffaker.

Weekend dinner guests included: Joanne Osterlund, Sally Goly and Willa Schumann.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon
Approximately 120 persons attended the tea given in honor of Mrs. Robert S. Snyder, SAE housemother. Tuesday evening at a formal dinner preceding this tea, the chapter presented Mrs. Snyder with a dozen red roses, as a token of the chapter's appreciation for her efforts in improving the chapter and the chapter house, since becoming the housemother.

The settings included white and red carnations and silver service, with the Minerva club assisting in pouring.

The reception line included Mrs. R. S. Snyder, Mrs. Roy Magden, James Varley and Louis Whitsell, who organized and directed the tea.

Dinner guests for Wednesday evening formal meal were: Dorell Moon, Burley; Jim Christian and Gene Lofdahl, Oroville, Washington. Also attending was Robert T. Jones who is at present working on his master's degree in music here at the University.

Pi Beta Phi
The annual children's Christmas party for the Moscow alumni's children was given Thursday night.

Plans are now underway for the Wassail hour which is to be Sunday.

Margaret Costello, Boise, was a weekend guest.

Sunday dinner guests were: Crusty Hamon, Theo Nowak, Ted Jones, Ferol Smith, Leah Jensen, Dick Shoup, and Hugh Keith.

Kappa Alpha Theta
Jerry Haegle, John Cummins, Dorothy Botts, and Barbara Walker were guests of the house for students attend school in Idaho. Is it because Idaho lacks excellent schools? No, it is because the students haven't spread the word around enough that there is such a school here in Idaho as the University of Idaho.

We were fortunate this year that we didn't experience a drop in enrollment comparable to the national sale. However, without your support what can we look forward to except a smaller student body and consequently curtailed academic and athletic programs. If the University is to prosper and grow, more of Idaho's students must become informed about the University and its facilities. Your aid is requested in this endeavor.

This is the reason why all students are urged to tell their friends about what is being done at the University, when they go home for Christmas vacation.

Many of the graduating school seniors haven't given much thought to where they intend to go to school. Start them thinking about the University of Idaho. Get them to write for the University bulletins.

Your help can insure the stability of the University student population, warrant plans for increased educational facilities and provide for a bigger and better school.

Alpha Zeta Holds Formal Initiation
Formal initiation was conducted Friday for 10 new members of Alpha Zeta, the agricultural honorary fraternity. New members are David Beckstead, Wayne Heishari, John Reik, John Thomas, Carl Hamilton, Jay Linam, Norman Fitzsimmons, Wallace Taylor, Thomas Aspartate, and George Gardener.

A banquet followed initiation ceremonies in honor of the new members. Speaker of the evening was Lieut. Col. O. J. Mossman, FMS&T, of the University air ROTC unit, who spoke on leadership and integrity. Dr. W. L. Lehre was toastmaster.

Matrimony is not a word; it is a sentence.

Church News

Westminster Forum
Sunday at 5 p.m. the regular supper will be served at the church. A special worship service is planned for Sunday evening.

Roger Williams Club
Emmanuel Nubour, a student from the Gold Coast of Africa will speak at the Roger Williams club of the First Baptist church on Sunday night at 5:30 p.m. Mr. Nubour was trained as a teacher and preacher in a Presbyterian mission and served among his people in that capacity for several years. He felt that he did not have enough education and managed to come to the United States last March. He studied in a Negro school in North Carolina for awhile. He is now studying sociology at Washington State college. Mr. Nubour will speak both at the Roger Williams club and in the church service that follows at 7:30.

A fireside was given Tuesday evening in honor of the Kappa Moscow Mothers. Guests were Mrs. Thomas Walenta, Mrs. H. H. Orland, Mrs. A. W. Fahrwald, Mrs. Harvey Smith, Mrs. Alfred Hagan, Mrs. Milburn Kenworthy, Mrs. W. L. Kortner, Mrs. Howard Stough, Mrs. H. A. Winner and Mrs. Helen Hale.

House guests for the weekend were Nova Martel, Pasco, Washington; Teddy Baker, and Sally Holz of Sandpoint.

Kappa Kappa Gamma
A fireside was given Tuesday evening in honor of the Kappa Moscow Mothers. Guests were Mrs. Thomas Walenta, Mrs. H. H. Orland, Mrs. A. W. Fahrwald, Mrs. Harvey Smith, Mrs. Alfred Hagan, Mrs. Milburn Kenworthy, Mrs. W. L. Kortner, Mrs. Howard Stough, Mrs. H. A. Winner and Mrs. Helen Hale.

Barbara Wahl was in charge of the entertainment. Dolly Fox sang "O Holy Night"; Velma Wilson and Susan Banks did their rendition of "If This Isn't Love"; and Connie Pederson performed a Spanish dance with castanets. Harriet Youngblood entertained with a violin number.

The pledges entertained the presidents of the other living groups' pledge classes at a fireside last Monday evening from 9:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. Carols were sung in the latter part of the evening and entertainment and refreshments were provided.

Dinner guests Wednesday were Bess Vance and Betty Fix.

Wesley Foundation
The public is invited to the Kappa Phi candlelight service in the church sanctuary at 5:00 Sunday. A caroling party will follow immediately after the service. All who desire are cordially invited to join in the caroling.

Lambda Delta Sigma
The annual semi-formal pledge dance will begin at 9 p.m. at the LDS Institute recreation hall tonight.

Canterbury club will not meet this Sunday. The next will be the Christmas party Tuesday, at 7 p.m. Everyone is to bring a "neutral" gift, costing no more than a quarter.

Intramural Debate Set For Sunday
Men's intramural debate will begin Saturday afternoon at 1:30 in the Student Union. Teams entering the contest will draw for their first round opponents in conference room A. The subject this year is "Should the Federal government adopt a permanent program of wage and price control?"

Each team will debate four debates in the Student Union building before any teams will be dropped from competition. Each team will debate both affirmative and negative. Living groups are limited to two participating teams.

Living groups already registered include LDS, Willis Sweet, Sigma Chi, Chrisman hall, Lindley hall, SAE, Beta Theta Pi, and ATO. Sigma Chis are the defending champions.

Judges will be members of Delta Sigma Rho, national forensic honorary, and the sponsoring organization. Faculty members will also judge.

Entrance fees for debating are a dollar per house to help defray expenses of a trophy.

Home Ec Students Get Yuletide Tree And Wassail Party

Christmas came to the Home Economics department this week with the appearance of a Christmas tree in the hall, Santa's workshop in the art structure lab and the Home Ec club's annual Christmas Wassail party.

Freshman art structure classes have been busy with their special Christmas projects. Part of each project is to submit a booklet of ideas to be constructed in art structure lab where a model Santa's workshop has been set up. Students are constructing novel ornaments from various materials such as yarn, felt, popcorn and plastic.

Changes for Tin
Ordinary tin cans were converted into a tall candleholder by the application of paint and imagination. Gay little fir tree and angels also had a humble beginning as pieces of tin. Some of the felt projects are on display in the hall case outside the Home Economics department.

Many of the projects are similar to ideas put forth by trade magazines for gift ideas. Next week the work will be climaxed by having each coed give her ideas over a tape recorder simulating the effect of a home economist presenting a radio talk.

Served Wassail
The Christmas Wassail hour was sponsored last Tuesday by the Home Economics club for all club members and Home Economics faculty. Nadine Drake, program chairman, was in charge of arrangements for the informal social hour which centered around a Christmas theme and included singing carols around a Christmas tree.

The table was decorated with a white tarlatan cloth and a centerpiece designed by the art structure class. Refreshments included the traditional Christmas wassail Pat Kinnison and Nalda Whybark poured. Candy canes were given as favors.

Wreaths Are Sold
Phi Upsilon Omicron has had a busy week selling Christmas wreaths, members report. Most of the campus orders have been filled and they will start making town deliveries next. Wreaths may be obtained by calling Liz Fitzgerald, Pi Phi; Peggy George, Kappa; or any Phi U member.

PLEDGES PHI CHI
David Sampson, former University of Idaho student and now enrolled at the college of physicians and surgeons at Columbia university, has recently pledged Phi Chi, oldest and largest medical fraternity in the nation.

Sampson attended the University for three years and is a member of Sigma Chi fraternity.

greater amount spent going to the national congress of NSA in August.

The Military Ball date will be closed following Board action to any other campus function. The Ball is scheduled for April 17, 1952. The Board is not setting a precedent by closing this night, but is closing the night this year only, with the specification that dress for the ball be semiformal.

A financial report of KUOI was presented to the Executive Board by Bob Burnham, showing assets which may be attributed partially from KUOI's solicitation of national advertising. Burnham is attempting to receive aid from the FCC to increase campus coverage. He expects to show station assets of $1,000 by spring. He emphasized that KUOI cannot operate without money to train personnel to produce effective programs.

Report On Discipline
Jerry Haegle reported to the Board that his committee checked with the discipline committee and found that publication of charges and action taken can be published after the academic council and administration have approved disciplinary committee action. Haegle also clarified regulations and recommended that the Executive Board take no further action on discipline.

Virginia Orazem was appointed editor of the new ASUI Handbook.

Dinners Scheduled At Home Ec House
Home Management house is taking advantage of the holiday season with a round of social activities. Last Wednesday the coeds invited Lindley hall over for a coffee hour. There was a catch to it though—the fellows had to help decorate the Christmas tree afterwards.

Mr. and Mrs. David Sterner were dinner guests last Sunday, and Wednesday evening Dean and Mrs. T. S. Kerr dined at the house. Invitations have been issued by Barbara Sifton, Norm Fitzsimmons, and Clayton Boyce for Monday night dinner. A Christmas buffet luncheon party is planned for next Wednesday for all the Home Management class. White elephant gifts will be exchanged.

Cadets Hear Talk About Propaganda

A lecture on the topic of psychological warfare was presented Wednesday night to the officers and men of C and D companies of the Moscow Organized Reserve Corps by 1st Lt. David Inashina, 2nd Lt. Alan W. Park, and 2nd Lt. Angelo A. Logozzo.

The lecture was divided into three phases of general introduction of methods and effects, review of ideologies of communism and democracy and target media.

Discuss Propaganda
During the course of the lecture the instructors brought out both the good and bad points of propaganda. They told how, by the use of effective propaganda, the communist party infiltrated into such radical organizations as the I.W.W. and the Ku Klux Klan during the last depression. Hiding behind these organizations the communists put out propaganda which appealed to the working classes of the country and the intended purpose was to cause unrest and revolt among these same classes.

They pointed out since the Korean conflict started that over 70,000 enemy prisoners have surrendered because of the good and effective use of propaganda. The lecture was closed with the statement that propaganda was in a sense just advertising and that the American public should read between the lines before they buy.

All three of the instructors who spoke are now students attending Washington State college.

ASME To See Films
A film, "The Open Road" will be shown at the ASME meeting Monday. Scheduled for 8 p.m., the meeting will be held in room 121 of the Engineering building.

Another film on atomic energy will be shown prior to the meeting in Science room 110 at 7 p.m. also on Monday.

Foresters Get Prizes

Jack Shero, Del Mar Jaquish, and Huntington Hatch were presented prizes for events won at a recent steak fry at the third meeting of the Associated Foresters Monday night. Plans for the coming dance were also discussed by the group.

Bob Myers, a sophomore forester, spoke and showed slides of Liberia where he spent considerable time working on a rubber plantation for the Firestone company.

66ers Halt Idaho 87-51; Memphis State Next

Phillips Oilers Rout Vandals In Near Free-For-All Battle

By Ron Johnson

A flawless ball club, a tired and nervous opponent, a near riot, 72 personal fouls, and a "righteous" multitude of Idaho basketball fans describe the "exhibition" which took place at Memorial gymnasium Wednesday night. As a matter of secondary interest the Phillips 66'ers from Bartlesville, Oklahoma, broke a Vandal seven game winning streak with an 87-51 lesson in the cage sport.

Sideline Chatter

By Boyden

Somehow, it seems to me that there will be several individuals taking a gander at this column today. Before I even started hacking away at this mechanical thing before me, I received numerous comments ranging from, "Now this isn't a threat — but," to "I agree with you wholeheartedly, go ahead and print it."

First of all, let me state this. My job here is to report sporting events or to make comments on the same events according to the way I see them. The same goes for a referee at a basketball or football game or an umpire at a baseball contest. We all make mistakes and we all have varied opinions on many topics. If we didn't, this would be a very monotonous world. It would be very peaceful, though.

Nevertheless, last night better than 4000 people witnessed a basketball contest which will go down in Idaho cage history as one of the loudest exhibitions of hoop mayhem ever played on the Memorial gym court. A road-weary and nervous Vandal squad took the floor against a classy aggregation of men who have been going at big time basketball for many years now. The Phillips Oilers through the years have been posting a record enviable by almost any cage assemblage in the country. Undoubtedly, in this time, each one of the Oilers has accumulated a "bagful" of cute, underhanded tricks in his repertoire of hoop knowledge. No doubt, also, the Oilers put their tricks to work as much as possible.

The fact also arises that basketball is certainly not a game for softies and that each team expects plenty of rough and aggressive play during the 40 minutes required for a contest's completion. The Vandals certainly found this fact out against Montana earlier this week if not before.

Although the officiating Wednesday night left much to be desired, it was fairly evident that the referees made some attempt to restrict violations. Several times when the two officials met at the press table, where I was sitting, one would caution the other, "Watch No. 34 on the Phillips squad because he is getting a little overbearing with his elbows," or, "Check so-and-so for using too much hip."

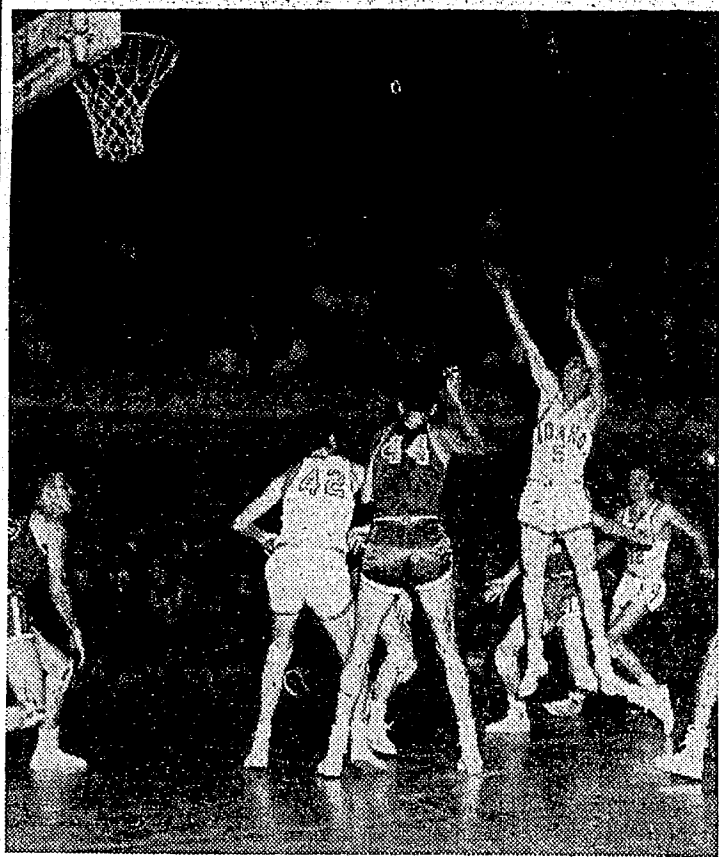

However, in the third quarter, matters culminated when the contest lost all semblance of basketball and shoving, kicking, and mobbing became the order of the day. One incident especially showed lack of thinking as well as lack of sportsmanship as a member of the Vandals to all intents and purposes deliberately sent one of the Oilers skidding into the east bleachers. You all know the rest of the story. Both squads finally settled down to playing basketball, and the final frame left little to be desired by either ball club.

It is my express opinion that the Vandals displayed an all too obvious lack of sportsmanship during that third stanza of play. Whether Idaho was provoked beyond restraint by the Phillips squad or not, the fact remains that the Vandals could just as well have returned the rough style of play in the normal manner of aggressive board play rather than resorting to tactics which turned the battle into a frenzied free-for-all.

It is also my express opinion that the University of Idaho has its most capable cage squad in recent years and could very well go a long way in the 1952 season. I also feel that I would be one of the last to criticize Idaho's conduct in a game. However, I do feel that any future repetition of Wednesday's style of action will definitely put a serious damper on Vandal aspirations.

The orchids in this flowery column go to Vandal guard, "Minnie" McIntosh, who displayed the finest performance of his Idaho career in the Oiler battle. Not only were his outstanding efforts

Two For Millard

Idaho forward Herb Millard lofts a two-handed jump shot from the key in Wednesday's fray with the Phillips Oilers. Herb's shot rang the register for a pair of counters. Vandal Dwight Morrison (42) and Oiler Bus Whitehead (44) prepare to pivot for a possible rebound as does 66er Bob Likens (extreme left).

Mittmen Take Ring Tonight In Smoker

Flying fists and fancy footwork will be the menu tonight when Coach Frank Young dishes up the annual intersquad smoker. Nine bouts are scheduled, the first at 8:00 in Memorial gym. Ringside seats are to be set up as in a regular dual meet. No seats will be reserved, however, so it's first come, first served. Admission is free.

Tonight's bouts will preview students and townspeople on what Idaho's chances might be in coming dual matches and tournaments.

- Bouts are listed as follows:
- 1. bantamweight
Franky Echevarria vs. Jack Gray
- 2. featherweight
Milt Walker vs. Mike Young
- 3. welterweight
Sam Nichols vs. Alan D'Andrea
- 4. lightweight
Barry Winzler vs. Herb Joo
- 5. light welterweight
John Echevarria vs. Doyle Haskins
- 6. light middleweight
Jerry Manderville vs. Ray Johnson (Manderville is a transfer from EWCE and ineligible this season)
- 7. light middleweight
Don Anderson vs. Fred Bowen
- 8. welterweight
Sam Nichols vs. Harvey Mutch
- 9. light heavyweight
Larry Moyer vs. Jim Driever

It's no error, Sam Nichols will fight in two bouts. Top lightweight prospect Ron Bloom of Kellogg was lost to the boxing squad this week when he withdrew from school.

JV Quintet Annexes Second Straight Win

The Vandal JV basketballers won their second consecutive game Wednesday night by beating Fairchild Army Air Base by a close score of 50-48.

The Vandals led the scoring until the first part of the fourth quarter when Fairchild hit a scoring spree and grabbed the lead, but Idaho came back in the last half of the quarter and scored enough points to beat the fighting Air Force team by a short two points.

High scorers for the evening were Chuck Redmond for Fairchild with sixteen points and Dick Dodel with fifteen tallies for Idaho.

The JV's next game will be Saturday night, when they play the Genesee town team a return game before the Idaho-Memphis State contest. Game time is 5:45 p.m.

My room mate is a thoroughbred. How's that. A sack hound.

"Help me pick up this student. He's drunk." "No he isn't, I just saw his arm move."

Little Boy: Daddy, can I have a nickel for an ice cream cone? Father: Shuudd and drink your beer.

Memphis State Tigers Tangle With Idaho Quintet Tomorrow

The University of Idaho cagers will face their last home opponent of the pre-yule hoop slate at Memorial gymnasium tomorrow evening when the Memphis State Tigers invade Vandalville. Game time is slated for 7:30 p.m.

The Memphis Bengals will hit Moscow first on an extended tour of the Pacific coast and Hawaii. In three contests played to date, the Tigers have garnered a brace of victories while dropping the third fray. Opening with an 82-55 victory over Bethel college, Memphis State then dropped a narrow 60-58 margin to Mississippi State and slapped Memphis Navy, 60-50.

Head coach for the Bengals is Dr. Eugene Lambert, former star at the University of Arkansas. Dr. Lambert has developed a fast-breaking offense around nine returning lettermen from last winter's team which advanced as far as the quarter-finals of the NIAB tournament at Kansas City.

Heading the Memphis hoopsters will be guard Phil Hodson, who has potted 22, 15 and 16 points in the three contests for an average of 17.67. Also listed on the first five are forwards Jack Granger and Van Mathis, center John Wallisa, and guard Billy Emmons.

Completing the list of lettermen are guards Leon Kingsolver and Coy Creason, and forwards Bob Griffin and Roy Darnell.

The Vandals will rate the edge in the height department as freshman Monty Combs is the tallest Tiger at six feet, six inches. The Memphis starting five is considerably shorter than the Vandal quintet as center Wallisa stands 6'5"; guard Emmons measures 6'; and Hodson, Granger and Mathis all range a lofty 5'10".
