

The GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

Well, you know, they say a man that predicts weather or Idaho athletics has two holes in his head in addition to those nature provided for ears. Jason no sooner predicted that Idaho would win the northern division basketball conference when WSC recruited two more players. These men were dressed in black pants and striped shirts.

Then too, Idaho Saturday night in the second half went colder than your best girl does after you say the wrong thing. Really, 14 per cent isn't the best average in the world. WSC, of course, was unconscious and if Eric Roberts had 'drop-kicked' the ball from the half it would undoubtedly have gone in.

Jason is still sticking to his one prediction. This column was written before last night's return skirmish with the cow college. He hopes the cry was "poor Cougar" instead of that heard last Saturday night at the end of the game.

Another Poll

The Associated Collegiate press carried on a poll of American colleges and universities recently on some interesting points. Some of the first results of the nation-wide poll as tabulated by ACP are as follows:

"Of 3,000 students from 63 colleges and universities, 53 per cent felt that football was overemphasized; 5 per cent that it was underemphasized; 38 per cent that it was just about right, and 4 per cent had no opinion."

The farther along a student was in his college career, the more he tended to feel that football was overemphasized. Several of the students interviewed blamed overemphasis on sports writers who 'put too much stress on the game.' Others said it was the fault of the public, which 'rates colleges according to sports prestige.'

Some pros will be interested to know that 53 per cent of the students felt that organized football is less necessary to a college than a history department. However, 36 per cent felt that it was just as necessary. The same percentages were recorded with reference to the zoology departments.

A male senior from an eastern college when asked to rate football and a history department declared, "Neither are necessary." His opinion was shared by six others.

The majority of those who commented seemed to express either one or both of the following attitudes: (1) There is a place at college for a sound athletic program, one which "develops sportsmanship and fair play." (2) College football, in many instances, has "gone commercial."

Well, we now know as much as we did before — that most students think that sports are overemphasized and especially football. It has become a commercial giant and as yet there doesn't seem to be any real up-and-coming Jacks in the college beanstalk. However, N-CAA has turned the problem over to university presidents. What they will do with it is anybody's guess.

A Long Fly

Say what you will about the Idaho coed but she seems to stack up pretty good almost anywhere in the world. This was shown last week when one fellow from Rome flew 7,000 miles to see one of them. Come on, Helen, tell us your secret.

Jason received a letter recently which was signed by "five discontented students." See if you can see why they are discontented.

Letter

"Why doesn't the ASUI 'get on the stick' and sponsor a system similar to that at the TUB at WSC. I think it's a shame to waste such a beautiful dance

Cosmopolitan Club Holds Joint Dance

Students from 30 foreign countries found common ground on the dance floor here Friday night. Seventy members of Washington State college's Cosmopolitan club were guests of the University of Idaho's Cosmopolitan club at an exchange dance held at Ridenbaugh hall, and the affair had all the flavor of a United Nations party.

Dancing was in the American manner, with old-fashioned square dancing proving a common denominator for students used to the folk dances of their native lands. Caller was Lane Rudd. Entertainment during the intermission provided a dance that was a little more intricate. This was the stick dance performed to the tapping of bamboo by Juan Torres and Fredrick Carbullido, students at the University of Idaho from Guam. Other Idaho entertainers included Michael Rosse, piano, Netherlands, and Alfredo Macedo, guitar, Peru.

Entertainment

Washington State college entertainers included Burt Ulrichsen, Inet Gadolin and Gus Pearson, with a medley of Scandinavian songs, and Ricardo Morada and Koson Limpichart, with songs of the Philippines.

Countries represented at the dance included Denmark, Holland, Sweden, Norway, Finland, France, Austria, Belgium, Germany, England, Scotland, Costa Rica, Puerto Rico, Columbia, Peru, Bolivia, Brazil, China, India, Palau Islands, Philippines, Japan, Burma, Australia, Malaya, African Gold Coast, Guam, Canada and the United States.

Faculty guests included Professor and Mrs. William Banks, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Hosack, and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Wicks, University of Idaho, and Professor and Mrs. Ivan Putman, Washington State college.

Next formal meeting of the Idaho Cosmopolitan club will be held February 3. Anyone interested is invited to attend. Club membership is open to all students on the campus — not necessarily foreign students.

Vandal Ski Club Arranging Lessons

Vandal Ski club president Fred Taylor has announced that the club is planning a ski school for all interested students, with final arrangements for the school to be completed in an instructors meeting tonight. Tentative arrangements call for at least six instructors with more depending upon the number who sign up for the school.

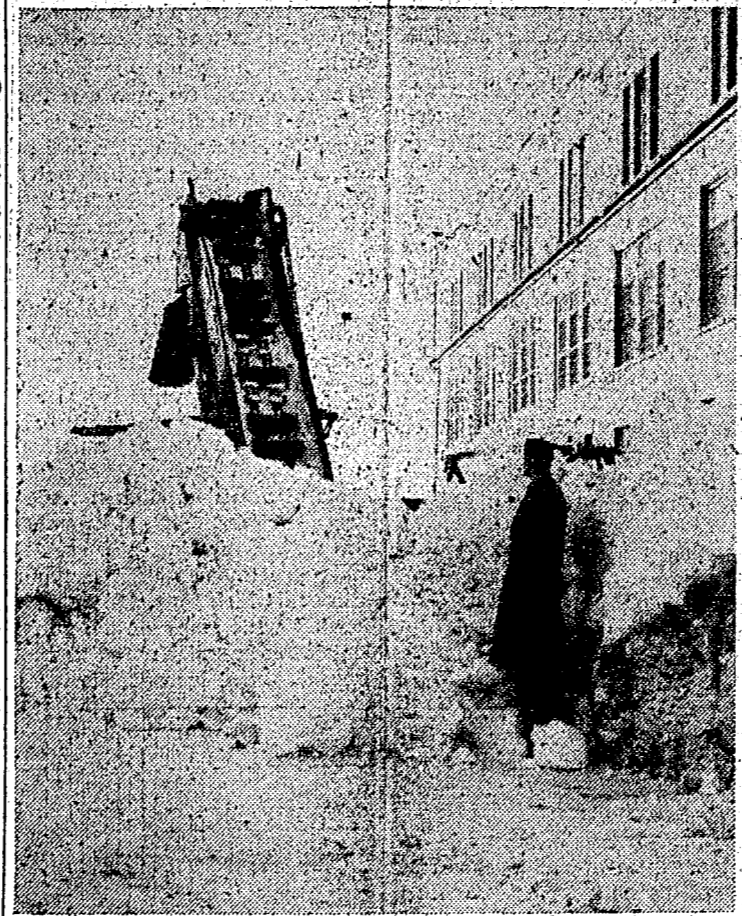

All students interested in learning to ski or increasing their knowledge are requested to sign one of the lists on the bulletin board in the Student Union or in both gyms. This list will be taken down Thursday. Students are requested to give their names and the time that would be most convenient on either Friday, Saturday or Sunday afternoon.

Classes will be held on "I" tower hill in back of the new home economics building. Later the classes may be held in the Vandal ski area at Viola.

With The Mice Away, The Cat Will Play

But there was no play here at the University during vacation as crews worked steadily to clear the campus of a huge snowfall which fell during the time when students were enjoying Christmas vacation. Shown above is a big snow mound that towers over 6-foot 3-inch Newt Cutler of the University Publications department.

Bush And Vandevort Named As Best Dressed Cowpokes

Joyce Bush and Don (Arizona) Vandevort walked away from the Cowpokes' Ball Friday night with a gun and holster set apiece (cap gun, of course) as winners of the "most appropriately dressed couple" prize.

Hershey Tells Of Changes In Selective Service

Major General Lewis Hershey has announced that selective service will not make special provisions to give students 30 days after the end of their academic year to enlist in the service of their choice, but will be deferred instead of having their induction postponed.

They will, therefore, have ample opportunity to enlist in the service they choose. The 1951 amendments provide that any student pursuing a full-time course who was ordered for induction would, if he had never before been deferred as a student, be deferred in class I-S until the end of the year, but could receive only one deferment.

First sale of the programs will be Friday evening, at the Idaho-OSC games at ten cents per copy. Coca-Cola was sold by the organization last night at the Idaho-WSC game, and plans are being made to have Coke available at all home games, stated Mitchell.

Annual College Bridge Tournament Scheduled To Begin Next Weekend

Bridge will take the campus spotlight next week end when the annual Intercollegiate Bridge tournament gets under way at Idaho. The first round of the annual competition is scheduled for 2:30 p. m. Sunday, January 20, in Conference rooms A and B of the SUB.

Partners planning to enter the tournament are urged to attend this first meeting. Subsequent rounds have been scheduled for February 10 and 17. February 3 had previously been selected as a tournament date, however, since this date falls between semesters, it was necessary to make a change.

Gifts to University Including a Ram Told By Buchanan

Gifts to the University announced by President J. E. Buchanan as having been formally accepted by the Board of Regents included $3,350 in cash, a half-interest in a Suffolk ram, a 1950 automobile engine, and a U-4 power unit.

Major share of the cash—$3,000—came from the Research Corporation of New York to provide two $1,500 Frederick Gardner Cottrell grants for research studies in nuclear spins and acetylenic compounds. The Presser Foundation of Philadelphia gave the University $250 for a music scholarship, and the Idaho Association of Future Homemakers of America $100 for a scholarship to Carolyn Fowler.

University Full Owner

Walter Hubbard, Junction City, Ore., gave his half interest in the Suffolk ram to the University. The ram was previously mutually owned by the University and Hubbard.

The 1950 automobile motor has been on loan from the Seattle branch of the Ford Motor company. It was given to the University when the company sent on loan a new, 1951 motor. The U-4 power unit is a gift from the International Harvester company.

Douglas Is Named As FFA President

Dale Douglas was elected president of the Idaho chapter of the Future Farmers of America at a regular meeting of the group last Thursday.

Charles Williamson will hold the vice presidential position with George Gardner acting as secretary of the F.F.A.

Reld Nelson was elected reporting with Jack O'Leary as treasury, and Dick Straw, sentinel.

Freshmen Slate March Class Week

Members of the freshman class have begun plans for Fresh Week scheduled March 10 to 15. Chairmen have been chosen to head various committees. Among activities planned for this week are a freshman sponsored dance and a Fresh King and Queen contest.

The Freshman Council which includes members from all the living groups is meeting Tuesday, January 15, at 4:10 p. m. in the SUB to discuss further plans for this freshman week. Members of this council include: Betty Field, Nan Nelson, Nancy Moore, Betty Jo Riggs, Dorothy Carter, Delores Thursic, Jane Querna, Barbara Anderson, Vonda Jackson, Ruth Korvola, Joyce Bush, Elizabeth Knapton, Alice Compton, Margaret Teare.

The I-S deferment is considered on the basis of class standing or test and is discretionary on the part of the local board and may be granted each successive year. The I-S deferment allows only those students not having eligibility for I-S and have not before received student deferment to complete their current academic year.

Youth Crosses The Atlantic To Visit With Senior Coed

"I wish I could stay here," smiled the blond-haired, blue-eyed young Italian. But his plane left this morning and Marcello Rossi waved farewell to Helen Daniels, the girl he came over 7000 miles to see.

Marcello met Helen two and a half years ago when the pretty University coed spent two weeks in Rome during a summer student's tour of Europe. Letters crossed the Atlantic and Marcello originally planned to visit Helen during the Christmas holidays a year ago. He couldn't arrange it.

A guest at the Delta Chi fraternity house for his week-long stay on the campus, 23-year-old Marcello saw a cross section of University life.

Toured Campus

Miss Daniels, who will graduate in June, took him to classes and showed him around the campus. She invited him to dinner at the Alpha Chi Omega sorority house and to a house dance Saturday night. Her sorority sisters gave Marcello an autographed picture so he wouldn't forget them.

Marcello is paying his own expenses on his month-long vacation trip to the United States. He flew from Italy, arriving at Moscow via Geneva, Paris, Ireland, Newfoundland, New York, San Francisco, and Boise. On the way home, he plans to stop at Malad, Ida., to visit Helen's parents. He will also visit in Los Angeles, Hollywood, Baltimore, and Washington, D. C., before he flies back to Rome.

"I heard so much about your country," he said, "and I am not disappointed. I believe that what they told me and what I read in the papers is the truth."

Finds West Friendly

He compared Westerners with his own easy-going native people, but he said that everyone is in a hurry in the East.

Discussing the co-eds at the University, Marcello said that American girls are more friendly and less romantic than in Italy. Concerning the fellows, he felt there was no drastic difference between American and Italian men. "There may have been before the war," he explained, "but not now."

Marcello told of the difference in Italian universities. Classes are held in amphitheater-like lecture rooms with the seats rising from the professor's platforms. Not as many Italian girls attend the universities.

Works with Airline

Born in Rome, Marcello has lived there all his life. He has worked for four years as a reservation clerk at the Rome office of Trans-World Airlines. He lives with his mother, Mrs. Zelinda Rossi, and his thirteen year old brother Giacinto. His father died in 1947.

His grandmother was born in Bologna in the north of Italy, which, he said, explained his fair complexion. Many northern Italians are blond.

Marcello speaks English in a soft voice with just a hint of an accent. "I studied it five years in school. When I speak English I think in English," he told Helen's friends.

He wouldn't comment on why he came to see Helen. "Just friendship," he smiled, but he admitted that "mother liked her very much."

Ag Confab Goes Into Second Day

Today is the second day of the annual agricultural experiment station conference being conducted this week at the Student Union building. The general purpose of the conference is to review the past year's developments in the field of agriculture, study research progress, and plan for this coming year in agriculture.

Symposiums, panels, and speeches of the conference are primarily given for men of the branch experiment stations at Sandpoint, Parma, Twin Falls, Caldwell, Aberdeen, Teton, and Lewiston. Extension specialists and representatives of cooperating United States Department of Agriculture are also in attendance.

Principal speakers for the six day conference include President J. E. Buchanan, who will address the group on Saturday morning; D. R. Theophilus, dean of the school of agriculture, who spoke on land grant colleges on Monday; K. H. Klages, head of the department of agronomy; C. W. Hungerford, head of plant pathology; V. A. Cherrington, head of the department of bacteriology; and James E. Kraus, associate director of the experiment stations.

Included in the subject material of the conference are recent developments in irrigation, fertilizers, animal nutrition, and breeding. Radio isotopes and techniques and equipment for getting better photographs are under discussion. Recommendations for potato policy will be meted out in a panel. Forage crops, alfalfa and clover seed production, and roundtable conferences on business policy will conclude the daily discussions. Special speakers will be on the program for banquet and other particular meetings.

Dance Registration Will Begin Today

Registration for a recreational dance class to be sponsored by the recreation committee in cooperation with the Student Union committee is slated for January 15. Instruction will start January 17. Classes will be given every Tuesday and Thursday from 4 p. m. until 5 p. m. in the middle ballroom of the S.U.B.

Three weeks of square dance instruction will be followed with lessons on the rumba and samba. Lessons will start with the basic fundamentals, stated Lane Rudd, instructor. The class is free and is open to all interested students.

Funds Available To Help Students

The University has more than $10,000 ready to help students with their education at the start of the second semester February 4. Dean H. E. Lattig, director of student affairs, has announced.

Most scholarship and fellowship funds are set up for awarding the first semester, but currently available are nine tuition scholarships of $150 each. These are open to out-of-state students who plan to major in elementary teaching. The scholarships were provided by the University to encourage more students to seek elementary teaching careers in the state.

Also available are eight research fellowships, each carrying an annual stipend of $1,000 to $1,200 for the graduate student researcher. These are three fellowships in wildlife, and one each in horticulture, general engineering, chemical engineering, forestry, and metallurgy.

A Little Helps A Lot

It's awfully easy not to drop a dime into the little iron lung containers sitting on the counters of local business establishments. All you have to do is be in a bit of a hurry, or not have any change, or...

But it isn't too hard to part with a coin or two when you stop to think of the reason they are placed there. Last year 29,000 Americans fell victim to polio. The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis helped four out of every five victims.

Polio cases over the last four years have been larger in number than those for the entire preceding decade. This continuing epidemic has left the Foundation five million dollars in the red at the start of this year's four week fund campaign.

Up to this year a two weeks drive was considered enough, but this year the drive extends from January 2-31. The Foundation hopes to take in enough money to provide for patient care, equipment, and research plus payment of the debt. An example of the amounts needed, is shown by the 1950 requirement of 25 million dollars for patient care alone!

And the more funds provided for research, the sooner the riddle of polio's wicked little viri may be solved. Scientists have been coming closer and closer to the answer in recent years.

Moscow's drive benefit show will be broadcast from the Elks temple Thursday evening this week. Pledges may be phoned in and cars will pick up the dimes and dollars contributed.

The boy on the poster may someday be walking normally to class and worrying about finals because the little you gave helped a lot.

Drawings By Alum Featured In Exhibit

Twelve drawings by June Davidson Armour, 1936 Idaho graduate, from Lewiston, will be on exhibit for the remainder of the week in the Art building.

Mrs. Armour used a felt pen for quick sketches to record landscapes and subject matter observed on a recent trip through Arizona and California with her husband, Thomas Armour, also a graduate with the class of '35.

This exhibit marks the beginning of a continuous program to honor alumni of the art and architecture department.

KUOI To Feature Top Jazz Music

Between the dates of January 15 to 25, KUOI will feature "The Golden Era of Jazz," five hours of jazz music by America's top artists recorded by RCA Victor.

Jazz fans and musicians the world over were polled to ascertain their six all-time trumpet favorites. These jazz platters, by such artists as Louis Armstrong, Dizzy Gillespie and Roy Eldridge will be played over KUOI soon. Times for the program will be announced later.

Call Students

During the next week KUOI will start calling different living groups so that a "campus hit parade" can be formulated. The purpose of this show is to play the top tunes on the campus. Lists predicting the hits of the week will soon be posted. This is designed to acquaint the students with hit tunes.

After the beginning of the second semester a meeting for all students interested in working on KUOI will be held. All positions, including announcing, record filing, engineering, script writing, and secretarial duties will be open.

HIGHER SALARIES

NEW YORK, N. Y. (IP) — Engineering graduates are receiving starting salaries approximately 16 per cent higher than a year ago, according to a survey conducted by the New York University College of Engineering. The figures compiled indicate that salaries are continuing to rise a slight increase in 1950, following almost constant levels in 1948 and 1949.

Faculty Meets WSC In Bowling Tourney

The first round of the faculty bowling tournament will begin Sunday, January 20, at 2:30 p.m. Idaho faculty members will match their skills against members of the WSC faculty.

All interested students and faculty members are invited to watch Sunday's competition. Every alley will be in use until 5 p.m. that evening.

Thursday Is Day For Ag Planning

January 17 will be a day of planning for the aggies, says Wallace Taylor, Ag club president.

The executive council of the group will meet at seven and the Ag club will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the Ag Science building to plan a banquet, speech contest, Ag club-home Ec club mixer, a theme for the Little International, and club policies for the coming semester.

Reports will be given by Ag Bawl and Little International committees. A movie of current interest will be shown and refreshments will be served.

Idaho Forestry Grad Named County Agent

Working with farmers of three counties, Latah, Benewah and Kootenai, in all phases of farm forestry will be Edgar L. Williams of Moscow, newly appointed three-county assistant agent in farm forestry. His appointment was announced by President J. E. Buchanan following formal approval by University Regents. Williams will have headquarters in the county extension office at St. Maries.

An Idaho forestry graduate in 1950, Williams has done summer work for the U. S. forest service and in commercial fence post treating. In his new position he will work with farmers in management of native woodlands, in getting the most out of timber products, planning and making tree plantings, in Christmas tree farming, and with 4-H forestry clubs, explains Vernon H. Burlison, University extension forester.

Plan Student Recital

The first student practice recital of the new year will be January 15, at 11 a.m. The musical program will be presented in the Recital hall of the new Music building. The public is invited.

Professor Jollie Sets Traps To Catch Cedar Wax Wings

By Joe Corless

"Strictly for the birds!" is an old expression, but Malcolm Jollie, professor of zoology at Idaho, has been setting traps for a little feathered creature called the cedar wax wing. These birds visit the Moscow area in the winter. Jollie is handing the birds to attempt to trace their little known habits.

Using mountain-ash berries as a food lure, Jollie has already succeeded in capturing several of the multi-colored little birds. Besides the cage-like traps in front of the Ad building he has set others around town in different places.

Wax wings seem to have a craving for the juicy, red mountain-ash berries and will gorge themselves in the wintertime. In the summer they eat insects. Often the birds don't digest all the berries, and many home owners have had to thoroughly wash and scrub their roofs, windows, and outside walls after a visit from a swarm of the birds. Many people reluctantly remove mountain-ash trees to prevent a re-visitation.

Brings Much Color
The wax wing is distinguished from many other birds by the curious expansion of the shaft of some of its wing-feathers at the tip into a flake that looks like scarlet sealing wax. Its plumage is cinnamon-brown passing in parts into grey or chestnut and relieved by black, white, and yellow.

Jollie, who is cooperating with the Fish and Wildlife service for a survey of Idaho birds, hopes to be able to find where the birds go in the summer when they disappear in the far northern Yukon. By special aluminum bands attached to the birds' legs, he may be able to trace the birds. Dead wax wings can be sent to the address on the tag. Thus, he'll know where they've been. People may also observe the tagged birds. He can also discover if the same birds return to this area every year.

Regarded With Suspicion

An irregular winter visitor, sometimes in countless herds, to central and southern Europe, the wax wing or cedar-bird was of old time looked upon as the harbinger of war, plague, or death. The same irregular habits are seen in American species. Many millions of the birds visit Nebraska every year.

Jollie visits his traps three times a day to get the birds out before they injure themselves. People may be curious about these little feathered animals, but the birds are just as interested in people. They can spot them from quite a distance.

Young Republicans Elect Bud Hagan

Election of officers Wednesday night at the Young Republicans club named Bud Hagan chairman. Other officers are: 1st vice chairman, Erlene Clyde; 2nd vice chairman, Bob McCaslin; secretaries, Mary Hansen and Bill Nixon; treasurer, Steve Jordan. Also elected to serve as heads of committees were membership, Mary Briggs; program, Liz Winegar; and coordination, Richard Andrews.

The club is planning various activities for the coming semester and will soon begin to lay plans for the Young Republican convention in Boise this April. Purpose of the organization is to inform students on the campus about the Republican party and its aims. The club was formed at Idaho in 1946 and since its origin has done much to further the interests of students along the lines of national and state politics.

Guests at the Wednesday meeting included Mrs. D. M. Locher, president of the Latah county women's Republican club, Mrs. J. I. Jolley and Mrs. W. E. Shull.

"If you are not familiar with the system at the TUB, here it is in a rush. Every Friday and Saturday night the students go stag or with dates and they dance to records. It's a wonderful way for the students to get acquainted. It's also a very inexpensive way of student entertainment.

"Why doesn't the Argonaut hold a poll with the students to see what their opinion is. We're sure this would put a spark to the dead social life in this school. We hope you have the nerve to publish this letter or enough nerve to conduct a poll.

"If the ASUI officials knew what a discontentment there is among the students because of the lousy social life, they would try and do something about it."

This might be something for the "ASUI officials" to think about. Some schools hold after-game mixers which work out well. Some schools have adopted Idaho's "Nickel Hop" plan which isn't bad.

Not Again, Please

As far as a poll is concerned, somebody might say something about Korea and there we would be again — in hot water with the Marines. It might not be a bad idea to conduct one though, with the question posed to the women on campus: "Are dates as plentiful this year or have some of the deer disappeared from this reserve?" After all, it is up to the ladies to make any plan work well and almighty pride is the biggest bottleneck there.

Good luck to the Idaho boxing team up in Spokane at the Invitational tourney which begins tomorrow.

Debaters Prepare To Host Tournament

Idaho's debaters are hard at work in preparation for the forthcoming Inland Empire junior college tournament scheduled at the University January 18 and 19. This is the 10th year that Idaho has sponsored the tournament for freshmen and sophomore debaters. Invitations have been extended to 15 schools to participate in the meet. Idaho is expected to enter 10 teams. Two of these teams will be composed of women and the rest of men. Each team will participate in six debates.

RUSHEES SIGN UP

Coe's planning to go through second semester rush are requested to sign up in Dean Louise Carter's office any time before February 1.

Kerr Elected Again To School Position

Dr. T. S. Kerr, dean of the college of letters and science at the University, will now begin his third term on the executive committee of the Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher schools.

The dean was elected to the new, three-year term at the association's recent meeting in Spokane. He is also a member of the association's higher commission for Idaho.

Senior Nutritionists Get Special Lectures

According to Miss Margaret Ritchie, head of the home economics department, a series of lectures on community nutrition has been given on this week for the senior nutrition class. The first of the series was Monday when Mildred Haberly, University extension nutritionist, spoke on nutrition and the extension service. She expressed the aspects of nutrition in connection with home demonstration work.

Nutrition and research was the topic of Wednesday's session presented by Kathleen Porter, assistant home economist, University experiment station. Her talk related the importance of nutritional research work to the community.

Miss Shirley Newcomb, home economics instructor, presented the relation of the nutrition program and the school lunch in the final lecture of the series today.

Most of the senior nutrition students will soon be entering fields of nutrition, student teaching, business home economics, home demonstration, and various other programs in their communities in which they will be confronted with many of the problems of community nutrition that were discussed during the lectures.

School Of Fashion Announces Contest For Senior Coeds

The fellowships, valued at $950 each, are offered to senior women graduating before August 31, 1952 and cover the year 1952-53. This New York school trains young women for executive positions in buying, fashion coordination, advertising and personnel.

Actual Work
The one year course at Tobe-Coburn school emphasizes actual contact with the fashion industry through lectures by important fashion personalities; visits to manufacturers, department stores, fashion shows and museums; and periodic working experience with pay in stores and other fashion organizations.

Registration blanks for the Fashion Fellowship competition may be obtained from the vocational office, or from the Fashion Fellowship Secretary, Tobe-Coburn School for Fashion Careers, 851 Madison Avenue, New York 17, New York. Registration must be mailed before January 31, 1952.

Appointments For Naval Academy

The availability of a number of principal and alternate appointments to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis was announced today by Dean H. E. Lattig, director of student affairs.

Principal appointments are those which President J. E. Buchanan is authorized to make. They are limited to contract students of the NROTC unit.

A letter from Senator Herman Welker advises that he still has some appointments available. These are all alternate appointments, effective for the men entering the academy in June, 1952. They may be sought by any man on the campus.

Interested University men, 17 to 21, who are capable of meeting the physical standards, which include 20/20 eye sight, should immediately contact Captain T. C. Thomas or Commander H. E. Davey at the Navy building for detailed information.

He: "Some people like to smooch, others like to talk."

Her: "Don't talk so much — father is asleep."

Lionel Hampton
Remember the mid-fifties, when "The Hamp" frezzied showmanship jammed the dance halls with couples too excited to dance? Listen for that splashy vitality on these earlier sides.

Earl Hines
Hines was the first to cut his right hand free... to make the piano a solo instrument. Twelve years ago a young singer, named Eckstine came along. This is what they did together.

Back in 1905, Mr. Jelly Roll ("I invented jazz") dreamed up the "riff." On these historic sides, you're listening to the man who actually cut the patterns for jazz.

Physical Sciences Show 'Scope Film

"The Story of Palomar," a 40-minute color motion picture, will be presented by the department of physical sciences tomorrow at 4:30 and 7:15 p.m. in Science 110. This film, rated by experts in the field as one of the best scientific productions, brings the outer world of space to dramatic closeness on the screen.

Beginning with a demonstration of the mechanics and construction of a six inch telescope (lenses, equatorial mounting, driving mechanism), the film goes on to Mt. Wilson's 100-inch telescope and photographs of Mars, Saturn, the Moon and other objects taken through it.

Shows Workmanship
Next is portrayed in detail the exacting task of planning and building Mt. Palomar's giant 200-inch telescope, grinding the mirror and moving it to the observatory. The film concludes with a dramatic montage of stars and nebulae viewed through the 200-inch reflector.

"The Story of Palomar" was produced and recently released by the California Institute of Technology. The film, although of particular interest to students in the physical sciences, mathematics and engineering, should prove quite instructive and entertaining for students whose major interests lie in other fields. No admission will be charged.

Engineers To Hear Automotive Speech
Idaho and Washington State college chapters of the Society of Automotive Engineers and the American Society of Mechanical Engineers will meet at WSC Science hall, room 207, Tuesday, January 15, at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. Wilmot Sandham, automotive engineer for General Petroleum will be the guest speaker. His talk will be on "Driving Technique with Automatic Transmissions." He will also show two films, "Fastest Mile On Cobbs Salt Flat Run" and "Joe Doaks and the Five Quart Gallon, on the 1951 Mobile Gas Economy Run." Mr. Sandham spoke here two years ago on the "Grand Canyon Economy Run."

All interested persons are invited to attend. Transportation will be available in front of the Idaho Engineering building at 7 p.m. January 15.

Mortar Board Eats With WSC Chapter

Last night, members of Mortar Board sponsored their annual dinner exchange with the WSC Mortar Board. The dinner took place at the Canterbury house, with Edith Kading in charge of the affair. The food and cooking were taken care of by Idaho members.

Lane Ruud will be the instructor. He will first teach the basic fundamentals.

All interested students are invited to attend. The class will be free of charge.

Sigma Tau Initiates Nineteen Members

Nineteen student engineers were initiated to the Idaho chapter of Sigma Tau, national engineering honorary, preceding Christmas vacation.

New members of the organization include Allan Marshall, Charles Blaine, Donald Miller, John Wilkinson, Donald Jensen, Robert Bonnell, Walter Landek, Dale Nesbitt, Wendell Coombs, Charles DeRose and Robert Foley.

PSYCHOLOGISTS HURT

Holiday accidents took their toll of psychology department instructors.

Dr. William Boyer, department head, was injured when he fell on icy steps and Dr. Eugene Giles suffered a back injury from a fall. Dr. Boyer will return to the University sometime next week while Dr. Giles will not be able to return next semester.

Kraus Appointed To Potato Board

Intermountain representative on the national potato advisory committee will be Dr. J. E. Kraus, associate director of the University agricultural experiment station. His appointment has just been announced by Charles F. Brannan, secretary of agriculture.

The potato committee, one of the advisory groups under the federal research and marketing act, meets about twice a year to review research in potato production and marketing and make recommendations for future studies under the act. Dr. Kraus will attend his first meeting of the committee at Albany, California, May 5 to 8, 1952.

Dr. Kraus has been with the Idaho station 10 years. Prior to assuming the associate directorship of the station, he was in charge of potato research at the Aberdeen branch station and later head of the department of horticulture.

LIBRARY DISPLAY

"Selway Elk Study" is the topic of a display now exhibited in the first floor library case. The display includes brush specimens, forestry booklets and photographs of the big game winter range on the upper Selway river in northern Idaho.

"Do you believe in clubs for girls?" "Yes, if every other form of persuasion fails."

Idaho Nails 'Fighting' Cougars To Gain Series Split, 57 to 49

By RON JOHNSON

The University of Idaho basketball team came back strong last night to gain revenge for Saturday night's loss as they administered a 57-49 shellacking to the cross-state Washington State Cougars in a return Northern Division clash in Memorial gymnasium before a capacity crowd of 5700 fans.

FORECAST FOR '52

This will have to start off with an apology. It goes to Arthur Daley of the New York Times for supplying the idea. This is his tune with different lyrics, the musical accompaniment to a slightly foggy forecast of what the future year holds in Idaho sports.

JANUARY — Idaho's weekend loss to Washington State in Pullman starts the rumor that the fix was in. . . Coach Babe Curfman denies that he has been offered the head coaching position at WSC. . . The independent Coast Institutions declare an all-out war on the Pacific Coast conference. . . The skiers look wistfully at the sunny skies and hope fervently for snow.

FEBRUARY — Idaho wins a northern division swimming meet under such suspicious circumstances that skeptics insist that the fix was in. . . The Pacific Coast conference holds a meeting and declares an all-out war on the Coast independents. . . The skiers are still looking for more snow.

MARCH — Outfielder Don Harrison announces that he's going to hit a home run this season. . . Idaho boxers win the Pacific Coast boxing championship again and know-it-alls whisper that the fix was in. . . WSC denies that it offered the head football coaching job to Curfman. . . Bruce McIntosh denies that he has signed a contract with the St. Louis Browns.

APRIL — Don Harrison still claims he'll hit a home run this season. . . Idaho wins their opening conference baseball game and the wise guys hint that the fix was in. . . The St. Louis Browns send McIntosh a blotter. . .

MAY — Spring football game is marred by reports that the fix was in. . . Idaho's track team enters the Kentucky derby — sales of mint juleps drop! . . . The Vandal tennis team does the expected by dropping all of their conference matches. . .

JUNE — Frank James wins the National golf tournament. . . Don Harrison, player-manager of the Lewiston Junior Legion team, announces that he's going to hit a home run any day now.

JULY — President Buchanan denies reports that Idaho is de-emphasizing football. . . Coach Chuck Finley holds initial basketball practice for 1952-53 season.

AUGUST — The skiers are still looking for snow. . . Idaho's eight game football schedule is released: Washington (there) — Chillieth Business college (here) — East Texas Baptist college (Dad's Day) — Asheville-Biltmore junior college (at Spokane) — East Stroudsburg Teachers college (there) — Wentworth Military academy (homecoming), Stout Institute (there) — Worcester Polytechnical Institute (here).

SEPTEMBER — Coach Curfman wishes he had been offered the head coaching position at WSC. . . Don Harrison still maintains that he'll hit a home run before the season ends.

OCTOBER — Coach Eric Kirkland reports tennis outlook "improved". . . Idaho harriers win the Irish Sweep Stakes. . . Workmen report that the scoreboards in Memorial gymnasium will be "assembled and working" for the opening basketball game.

NOVEMBER — WRA women beat Washington State girls in field hockey by a couple of points but those-who-know say that the fix was in. . . Idaho rejects a post season football game with Colgate in the new Shaving Bowl. Williams college accepts the bid.

DECEMBER — During an eastern barnstorming tour, Hartley Kruger and Dwight Morrison accidentally brush shoulders with a bookie, giving New York newspapers their biggest story of the year. . . Don Harrison hits a home run in the Cuban winter league — THE FIX WAS IN.

The forces of coach Charles Finley, who were soundly trounced by the Cougars last week end, put on a second half spurt to ice the contest. The win gave the Vandals a 2-2 won-lost record in division play thus far this season.

The game started out in a slow fashion with the winners holding a 12-11 edge at the end of the first quarter. The second quarter was played at the same pace, and the score at intermission was knotted at 22-22.

The contest remained a nip and tuck affair until near the end of the third period when Haller and McIntosh hit free tosses and Morrison came through with a hook to run the count to 36-32 in favor of the Vandals at the end of the period. Haller and Jenkins were the big guns during the stanza.

Vandals Hit 346

The final period began with a free throw by WSC's Rosser, but another field goal by Morrison and free throws by Melton and Haller made it 40-33. Melton then began to hit consistently and the Cougars never again saw the lead. The Vandal freshman found the range for 10 counters in the final 10 minutes.

Individual outstanding performances turned in by Vandals included those of McIntosh, Morrison, Melton and Haller. McIntosh was the spark in the first half action besides being top point maker during the evening; Morrison spread a thick blanket over WSC's Eric Roberts, the man who hit for 25 points against the Vandals Saturday night, Melton led the last quarter spurt, and Haller displayed outstanding backboard ability in the second half.

Melton and McIntosh led Idaho scoring with 12 points apiece while Roberts hit the same number for the Cougars.

Washington State still maintained supremacy on the boards as the Cougars grabbed 30 rebounds while the Vandals picked off 24. However, Idaho outgrabbed WSC in the second half, 17-12.

"Meshing Melton"

The Vandals' shooting percentage increased greatly over Saturday's mark as Idaho posted a 34.6 average. The Cougars weren't too far behind with 31.1.

In the contest Saturday night at Pullman the Cougars were hot and the Vandals ice cold as the Frielen went wild in the second half to post a 62-46 win. Idaho led at half time by a 30-29 count, but was only able to pick up 11 points in the third stanza and five in final minutes.

Eric Roberts was the big difference in the score as he accounted for 25 of the 62 total points with his variety of hooks and set shots plus nine free throws. Hartly Kruger was top man for the Vandals with 14 counters.

The Idahoans came through with their worst floor shooting percentage of the year, a mere 21, while the winners were hitting on nearly half of their attempts.

Ski Club Meeting

All Vandal Ski club members are requested to be present for an important meeting of the club Thursday night at 7 o'clock in Conference room B in the Student Union. The forthcoming ski school and the club's activities will be discussed.

Harlan "Lefty" Melton charges in to dunk a pair of counters in for the Vandals in the first half of last night's 57-49 conquest of the Cougars. Don Steinbrunner (8) puts up a feeble guard for WSC while Ed Haller (41) of Idaho and Jim Myron (19) of the Cougars wait for a rebound that fails to materialize.

Eight Idaho Mittmen Journey Tomorrow To Spokane Meet

At 8:30 tomorrow morning Coach Frank Young, eight varsity boxers and senior manager, Bud Lawson, will leave for Spokane and the city's third annual invitational tournament to be held Wednesday and Thursday nights.

Listed on the traveling squad are: Jack Gray, 112 pounds; Franky Echevarria, 119 (two-time Spokane champ; Johnny Echevarria, 132; and Sam Nichols, 139.

In the upper divisions Idaho will have: Harvey Mutch, 147; Don Anderson, 156 (Spokane freshman champ); Jim Driever, 165; and Fred Bowen, junior from Paris, Illinois, at 178 pounds.

Participating in the championships will be Idaho, Idaho State, Washington State, and Gonzaga. This year's tourney will crown individual champs only. No team title will be awarded. Idaho had won this honor the past two years.

Considering Idaho's chances, Coach Young said, "It will be the most inexperienced team I've ever taken to the tournament. I don't know much about the boys except that they will be the greenest group up there."

Approximately twenty semi-final bouts will be held Wednesday and the 10 final matches on Thursday evening.

Gonzaga will likely be tabbed the favorite on the strength of its powerful roster. Heading the squad will be potent Dave Smith who beat Len Walker in last year's bouts. Other top-notchers are Gordon Simanton, Al Poole, Tom Keys, Mike McMurry and Barry Jackson.

Washington State will be led by Everett Conley, two-time national and Pacific coast champion. Conley was upset at Spokane last year, however, by Jim Reilly of Gonzaga.

Idaho State will bring back three finalists from last year's tournament: Harley Towne, Pad-dy Garver and Bob Blanton.

Idaho will enter no men in the 125-pound and heavyweight brackets. Also Larry Moyser will be lost to the Vandals because of sickness.

Trackmen

There will be a short organization meeting of all men who are interested in turning out for the varsity track team this spring at 5:00 this afternoon in room 109, Memorial gym. Freshmen will be eligible.

Faculty Bowling

Mess retains lead in faculty bowling in Thursday section. High game was bowled by W. Simpson with 200. High series was D. Campbell with 483.

Cougar Babes Beat Idaho Five In Final Half

BY AL LEWIS

Washington State's Cougababes unleashed a savage attack on the Vandal JV's in the late third and fourth periods to club the Idaho quintet, 56-39, in last night's preliminary tiff.

Idaho managed to keep pace with the Cougar quint through the first half and midway through the third stanza until the WSC boys started flipping in points from all angles.

The defenses reigned supreme in the opening period as neither club could move into scoring position. In fact, a single bucket by each squad was the limit of the period as Idaho hung up a advantage.

Both offenses, however, picked up in the second frame as the players started moving faster and more together. WSC pushed the count to 21-16 late in the quarter, but Idaho's Dick Dodel and Don Monson ringed the hoop with six counters and a 22-21 Vandal edge at the half.

Idaho and WSC kept up the neck and neck pace through half of the third quarter. Then the Cougababes unleashed a series of spectacular two-pointers with Spring literally displaying his name with four straight buckets from way out. From this point on the Cougars pulled steadily away from Idaho until their 56-39 winning margin had been attained.

Idaho's Dodel topped the game scorers with 14 tallies on five baskets and four charity tosses. Meanwhile, Schmick of the WSC five blasted away for 10 counters. Washington State also whipped the Vandal JV's at Pullman Saturday night by a 53-45 margin.

"Oh," exclaimed the city girl as a couple of calves scampered across the pasture, "what pretty little cowlets!"

"Naw, lady," the old farmer explained, "them's bullets."

Pool Has 'New Look' For Eager Tankmen

The opening of the swimming pool yesterday, after a week's work of painting and changing of the filters, will enable the Vandal tankmen of Coach Eric Kirkland to resume training for their first meet with EWCE Saturday, January 19.

The short time between the opening of the pool and the initial meet with the splashers from Cheney will severely hamper the condition of the squad for this meet.

Idaho's 1952 tank slate:
January 19—EWCE here
February 2—WSC here
February 8—OSC here
February 9—Oregon here
February 20—WSC there
February 23 — Triangle meet with EWCE and the University of British Columbia at Cheney
March 1—Washington there
March 8—ND meet at Corvallis
