Plans For Vandaleers Discussed

Plans for the coming Vandaleer tour and the Military Ball was the main topic of discussion at Wednesday's Executive Board meeting. A decision was reached to have the night of the Military Ball, April 19, as a closed night for the all-campus dance.

Chuck Weinmann, Vandaleer president, reported that the tour would last from April 20 through April 26. Sixty-four singers, accompanied by Professor and Mrs. Hall Macklin, and Professor Glen Lockery are going by chartered bus.

To allow a closed night for the Military Ball plans were changed to permit any type of dress for the dance. Military men will attend in uniform.

The blood drive was announced as scheduled for April 22, 23, 24, and 25. Two bloodmobiles will come from Boise with two complete crews. The goal will be set at 2000 pints.

Athletic awards were discussed. A motion to have an awards assembly was presented. At is is now the athletes pick up their awards at the general manager's office, with no recognition of their work.

It will be recommended to the SUB committee that Phi Mu Alpha be authorized to handle the concessions as they requested.

The Irish royalty will be crowned during intermission of the semi-formal Saturday night by Flip Kleffner, class president, who will present trophies to the couple at this time. The pair will then be serenaded by Arlie Henderson and Margaret Fox. Kleffner will present a plaque to the men's living group which has the highest total percentage of men attending the dance.

Tickets for the affair are now on sale in all men's living groups for $1.50. Ducaus will also be sold at the door Saturday night. The dance is a no-corsage affair.

Campus living groups were serenaded Wednesday night by the freshman class; the serenade followed an all-class mixer in the ballrooms of the SUB. The final vote for the Sovereigns of the Shamrock Isle title was cast at this convolve.

Hansen Is MC
Entertainment for the mixer was under the direction of Bob Hansen, who acted as master of ceremonies. Following the Irish theme of the week, the program included an ensemble from Alpha Chi Omega which sang "Who Threw the Overalls in Mrs. Murphy's Chowder?" and a pygmy dance by Delta Gamma pledges. Dixie Dean mimicked the record, "I Wanna Be Loved by You" and a Pi Beta Phi trio sang "Bermuda" as the Small Sisters. A stick dance by Juan Toras and Fred Carbelito completed the entertainment.

Exchanges and study tables were cancelled Wednesday night to allow freshmen to attend the mixer; freshmen women were granted 10:30 permission to rthe serenade.

Campus Is Host To High Schools
Speech students from six high schools convene on the campus today for the annual District No. 2 declamation festival of the Idaho high school Interscholastic Activities association.

Meetings began at 10 o'clock this morning at the Student Union building and will continue through the day.

Approximately 40 high-schoolers are taking part. Students will participate in the events which include oratory, readings, discussions, radio speaking, and one act plays. High schools represented are Craigmont, Grangeville, Orofino, Lewiston, Genesee, and Moscow.

Professors Will Judge
University students will serve as timekeepers and chairmen during the meet, and judges are Miss Jean Collette, Prof. Edmund M. Chavez, Prof. Robert K. Tracy, and Dr. A. E. Whitehead.

With the exception of the radio speaking contests which will be at the Radio center and the one act plays which will be presented at Moscow high school, all the events will take place at the Student Union.

Th winners of this meet will be eligible to participate in the regional contest which will also be conducted on the Idaho campus March 28 and 29. All North Idaho high schools will be represented at the regional festival.

Members of Mortar Board have begun a publicity campaign for the annual Spinster Skip March 29 by singing at all the men's living groups this week. This is to acquaint the men with the traditional girl-ask-boy dance, stated Judy Coble, president.

Beginning Monday the group will present short skits at all the women's living groups during the dinner hour. Arrangements are being made ahead of time.

Featuring Ray Cox's orchestra with vocalist, the Spinster Skip will take place from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m. Saturday, March 29. Both the south and main ballrooms of the Student Union building have been reserved.

Corsage Contest
Corsages will again be in order, with a first and second prize being offered. Material for corsages can include anything from vegetables to fruit, metal to string.

A smorgasbord dinner at the Ad club is planned in conjunction with the Skip, said Miss Coble. This will follow the dance.

Tickets for the dance and smorgasbord will go on sale by Mortar Board members next week.

Seniors Are Urged To Order Gowns

Seniors who have signed and applied for a degree this coming June should immediately report to the Student Union book store to order their caps and gowns.

Book store Manager Chet Kerr reported that about 65 percent of the senior class have ordered and that the remainder should place their order on or before Saturday, March 15th. The company with whom the bookstore deals has a limited supply because of their dealing with other schools in the area. For the satisfactory filing of your order Kerr asks that you please make the necessary requirements not later than tomorrow.

Coinciding with caps and gowns, senior announcements have been shipped and are now on sale at the bookstore. Kerr said that announcements are available for 12 cents apiece, and that they are sold in bulk form enabling each senior to purchase any amount he wishes.

Those planning on name cards in conjunction with their announcements, should place their order with Moscow Queen City Printing company. Nameplates were handled locally to permit the individual to make his choice of a letter style.

The Talent Show winners this year will be invited to perform before the dancing couples at the Newman club mixer immediately following the show.

The show time was changed from 8 p.m. to the present 7:30 time due to the addition of several acts.

Fifteen Living Groups Contribute 100 Per Cent

Fifteen living groups have contributed 100 per cent during the first three days of the Campus Chest drive to bring the total to $1,000, Ted Torok, general chairman, announced today. The percentage is based upon each person in the living group contributing one dollar.

The fifteen groups contributing 100 per cent were: Phi Beta Theta, Sigma Nu, Beta Theta Pi, Delta Gamma, Sigma Chi, Delta Delta Delta, Alpha Phi, Pi Beta Phi, Kappa Alpha Theta, Delta Chi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, LDS House, Ridenbaugh, Phi Gamma Delta, and Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Daily readings are being painted on the individual thermometers in the Bucket to show living group's progress and the total of the drive is being recorded on a large thermometer outside the Bucket.

Officials of the drive have calculated that the goal they are aiming at would make a stack of dollars 222 inches high and would weigh 111 pounds. Kappa Kappa Gamma has contributed its 100 per cent entirely in silver dollars. The drive ends tonight at midnight.

Everything but trained seals will be on hand to perform tonight at the Blue Key Talent show scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. in the University auditorium. Contestants are requested to be at the auditorium by 7 p.m., according to Ray Cox, and Ron Johnston, co-chairmen of the annual campus show.

Judging for the show which features all types of entertainment will be on the basis of audience reaction and judges' opinion. Prof. Glen Lockery, music department, Prof. Edmund Chavez, drama department, and Don Hardy, ASUI representative, will serve as judges for the show.

Presentation of awards will see the announcement of the winning contestants from among men's living groups and women's living groups, respectively. Two trophies will be awarded, one to each in the above divisions. Ray Cox will serve as master of ceremonies for the talent show.

Templeton Entertains

Alec Templeton's ad libbing, operatic imitations and general showmanship combined with his outstanding talent as a concert pianist to provide top entertainment for concert goers who witnessed the blind pianist's performance in Memorial gymnasium last night. Starting at 8 p.m., the program was under the sponsorship of the Community Concert association.

Templeton's second Idaho appearance was highlighted by the after-intermission showmanship. In this final section, entitled "Music by Templeton," the pianist displayed his talents as a composer and improviser extraordinarily.

Own Compositions
"Blithesome Reel," "Berceuse in G Minor," "A Room With Jerome," "Back Seat Jiver," "Improvisation on Five Notes in the Style of Composers," "Gnats to You, from the Insect Suite," and "Improvisations on Four Melodies" were included in this section.

Templeton began the evening's program with Bach's "Prelude and Fugue No. 2 in C Minor;" "Saraband and Minuet," Purcell; Beethoven's "Sonata Pathetique in C Minor;" and "Improvisation on a Theme in the Style of the Composer Who Wrote It."

Highlights of the second portion of the program included Chopin's "Barcarolle in F Sharp;" "Prelude in C, Prokofieff;" and Debussy's "Broueire." Three excerpts from Ravel's "Mother Goose Suite" concluded this section.

Templeton first appeared on the Idaho campus in 1940 when his performance drew the largest crowd ever to be assembled in Memorial gymnasium.

Students To Hear Law Qualifications

Students of the University law school will have the opportunity to hear Colonel John M. Pitzer, present staff judge advocate at Fort Lewis, discuss the qualifications for entry into the Judge-Advocate General's corps. Colonel Pitzer will be here at 2 p.m. today in room 320 of the Administration building.

Colonel Pitzer will also visit Gonzaga and Montana. He will brief senior law students on the Judge Advocate corps' needs. There will be a question-answer session following his speech. The coeds in this year's graduation class will have equal opportunity to question the colonel as to their integration into the army-as legal specialists.

Red Cross Will Train Volunteers, Employees

A sizeable number of students were in the gym—Ogden Nash was there too. There begins a story. The students were there to hear Mr. Nash give a talk. Did they hear Mr. Nash? Most of those who attended are still wondering.

We are quite sure that Nash's talk must have been amusing, because occasional laughter could be heard from the first four rows of the audience. The rest of the audience would take a cue from a first row snicker and politely toss in a bit of laughter (you know the type—used when you don't know what you are laughing about).

Now then, the reasons behind the case of the unheard public speaker. The sound equipment at the gym is good—people have been heard over it in the past. A complaint was raised last year about the sound equipment, and it was checked by experts and found to be in excellent condition.

The only difficulty with the sound equipment seems to be the fact that our public speakers do not know how to use a microphone. Mr. Nash (and Mr. Stowe before him) seemed to be afraid of microphones and avoided talking into them whenever possible. Then, too, Nash had one whole of an accent and a drooping drawl.

One other possible reason for the poor sound reception might be that the acoustical curtains were scientifically placed before the new stage existed. Therefore, it is quite possible that the curtains should be respaced to allow for the additional space in the gym.

Incidentally, plans have been made to set aside some $5,000 in next year's University budget for new acoustical curtains for the gym.

The big reason for not being able to hear Ogden Nash is that he mumbles to the public, and he is not a public speaker.

When credit is due, we like to hand it out. We believe that the freshman class this year has done a mighty fine job with their week. It is the first time in several years that a freshman class had organized a full week of activities with the type of spirit that demands success.

A toot of the Argonaut fog-horn to the frosh. We hope your enthusiasm will grow instead of just fading away.

In a world where democracy is being threatened, we have one little animal that doesn't give a hoot for social classes or political convictions. The elusive and troublesome cold virus has just as much fun bringing misery to the rich as to the poor. We understand that even faculty members have colds once in a while.

Right now the cold virus is having a whopping good time bringing the sniffles to a goodly share of the campus population. Strange thing, though, that the quarterly cold epidemic is occurring now instead of during mid-term exams according to schedule.

Even if students have nothing else in common, they all manage to catch a cold together—my such cooperative spirit.

A staff aide program to train students and townspeople for voluntary and paid work with the American Red Cross is scheduled for March 18, 19, and 20 in the Borah room of the Student Union building from 7 to 9 p.m., according to Liz Winegar, chairman of the program.

Freshmen coeds will be given late permission at the discretion of their living group president and scholarship chairman to attend the meetings.

Two hours practical work in any phase of Red Cross work, such as blood drives, is required in addition to attending each of the three class meetings.

A staff aide certificate and pin will be given when the entire course is completed. Each person with a certificate will be qualified to wear the uniform of the American Red Cross and work anywhere in the United States for the organization, either as a volunteer or salary worker.

Any volunteer work for the Red Cross in the past can count toward receiving a certificate and pin. Persons who worked on city and campus blood drives need only attend the three meetings to receive certificates and pins.

Program Slated
The program is as follows: Tuesday night: Barbara Fort will discuss "International Red Cross in War Prison Camps," with reference to her personal experiences. "The Organization and Functions of the International Red Cross, National Red Cross, and Local Chapters," and a "Historical Survey of the Red Cross," will be discussed by members of the Latah county chapter of the American Red Cross. Dr. George Tanner, executive secretary; Mrs. F. B. Laney, past chairman, and Milford Peterson, vice chairman.

Wednesday night: Leon Sodorff will demonstrate a respirator used during polio and flood crises. Speakers will be: Eric Kirkland speaking on "Purification of Water in Cities and Epidemics of Water Diseases;" Dr. George McKeever, Kendrick, past Latah county chairman, "Atomic Disaster and Flood Disaster Work;" Mrs. Earl Humphrey, "Junior Red Cross;" Mrs. Dawn Magee, "Home Nursing and Nurse's Aide Work;" Dr. George Tanner, "Home Service;" and Miss Marian Frykman, "USO Work."

Thursday night: A movie on the organization of a blood drive will be shown. Speakers will be: James Dunham and Duane Lloyd, "University Blood Drives;" Mrs. C. I. Canfield, "Canteen Work in the Blood Drive;" and Jean Carter, Gritman hospital laboratory technician, "Typing and Matching Blood."

The primary objective of the staff aide program is to acquaint people with the Red Cross and provide staff aide workers and future chapter leaders.

Author of the lyrics for the musical play "One Touch of Venus," Nash is about to put out a new musical comedy titled "Wedding Day," as soon as he can get the money needed to produce it.

The occasion of his first poem was his sister's wedding in 1912. This one and subsequent poetry for many years was the serious type.

Although Nash finished only a year at college, he has become a famous contributor to the Saturday Evening Post and the New Yorker. He mentioned that for a period of 90 days he was managing editor of the New Yorker.

DEAR JASON

Dear Jason:

It is a shame, is it not, that on this campus, abundant with "little theaters" and "auditoriums," the University of Idaho offers no suitable location for the presentation of public concerts, speakers, plays and movies. Did you not feel sorry for Mr. Nash, as well as his audience last Wednesday? While the audience was straining to absorb each word of the humorist, he must have wondered why he was uproariously received in only the front rows, and also why 75 per cent of the listeners faced him not with smiling faces but with cupped ears.

At this writing we have not yet witnessed Mr. Templeton's appearance, but I feel safe in predicting that his talent will be only half-appreciated due to the poor acoustical conditions of the gym. After all, a "gymnasium" is not a band shell, miniature Radio City, or whatever it has recently been made over to resemble.

At present, the campus of the U. of I. has seven auditoriums: Ad building, SUB, Ag. Science, Engineering, Music, Science hall, U. Hut, plus one in the soon to be completed Home Economics building. That will make eight auditoriums, none of them in use more than 10 per cent of their lifetime. Still we have no place to present a public events speaker or a community concert that is both of adequate size and acoustically stable.

Students and faculty who attend the ASUT films are mangled "sub-way fashion" into a too small theater with no projection booth and annoyingly poor amplifying equipment. Drama students and staff put on their very best efforts for us, but their many hours of work are frequently nullified because of the pathetically inadequate staging facilities in an auditorium which was obsolete forty years ago.

How much longer will this condition exist? Must we continue to build so many of these smaller auditoriums? Wouldn't it be better for the state of Idaho to finance one comfortable, up-to-date theater-auditorium suitable for the varied functions of a university? How about it, students, and you up on the "hill", too — let's all work together on this.

A Means Or An End?

Objective, subjective, projective or rejective—what's in a test? Many of the ways, means and plans of testing have been debated for many years and will be debated for many more.

A lot of these questions will have to be left underneath the ivy to ferment for a long time to come. Others, however, can come to a decision now.

The big one is this: why not use tests—whatever the type—to help students learn. If the shoe looks familiar, friend instructor, try it on.

The classroom is logically a place of learning, not of testing or grading. Who has benefited more from any specific course, a "C" student or a "B" student? Who is to say? There is no iron-clad guarantee that the student with the lower grade has learned less than the other. Hence grades may lie.

What about a test? Most tests are designed to set grades. Instructors say they have to give grades so they have to give tests. That in itself isn't a criticism of anything. But should tests be ends in themselves?

If we admit that the classroom is a place of learning we must admit at the same time that some instructors are wasting their time giving tests. Shouldn't the purpose of a test be to help students learn? Some instructors recognize this use of tests. Others apparently do not.

In some classes a student takes a test; two days (or two months) later gets back a grade—period. Does that promote learning? Does that show the student where the mistakes lie? Or is that making a test an end in itself?

Proponents of objective tests may argue that it would take months to recapitulate all the items in class. They are right. But nothing prevents a selective analysis of the questions missed most.

Tests gain a lot of meaning if they are considered tools of teaching. When a student knows his mistakes he can act to correct them.

Shades Of The Irish

Saint Patrick's day is a time honored celebration for the Irish. March 17 was either the birth or the date of the saint's death, perhaps both.

Surprisingly Saint Patrick wasn't an Irishman. The good patron saint of the Emerald Isle was sent there by the Pope in 432 to convert the "heathen" Irish to Christianity. But his true birth place is unknown.

Furthermore Sain Patrick was named Maewyn instead of Patrick. The name originated from the ecclesiastical title of "Patricius" conferred upon him by the Pope.

These facts have detracted little or nothing from the historical esteem which has been heaped upon Saint Patrick. Many legends and stories have survived about the holy man. Truth has been merged with fiction in many of these.

One of Saint Patrick's favorite teaching devices was the shamrock, to illustrate the story of the Holy Trinity. Because of this the three-sided herb is closely associated with him and his day.

March 17 is celebrated in Ireland much as the Fourth of July is in the United States. Parties, parades and balls are given.

It's a great day for the Irish, be it Dublin, New York, or Moscow. And don't forget your green.

EVER DREAM OF SPENDING A MILLION DOLLARS?

Then consider this:

If you had started on January 1 in the year 1236—two hundred fifty-six years before Columbus discovered America—and spent ONE MILLION DOLLARS EVERY DAY throughout that year...

...and if you had continued to spend ONE MILLION DOLLARS EVERY DAY of every year in the 716 years that have elapsed since that time...

...it would still take you until May 8, 1953, to spend as much money as the U. S. Government has collected in taxes since World War II ended.

That's what the 262 billion tax dollars—which your Federal Government has collected and spent in the period from August, 1945, to January, 1952—amounts to.

That's why $1.00 out of every $5.00 you've earned in the last 6½ years has gone for Federal taxes.*

That's why $1.00 out of every $4.00 you'll earn this year is earmarked for Federal taxes.*

*This is in addition to the State, County and Local taxes you pay—including your State gasoline tax.

HOT SCRAMBLE

Seconds after a telephone alert to a nearby Air Force base to "scramble," pilots hustle to their jets. In minutes, the stubby, swept-back interceptors thunder skyward.

Modern air defense requires lightning-fast, dependable communication. That's why our radar defense system is interlinked by a web of direct telephone lines.

This is the real thing. Pilots call it a "hot scramble." Live ammo rides in their guns. It starts when an Air Force radar station detects an aircraft which cannot be identified. A telephone call by direct wire galvanizes the jet crews into action.

Some of today's college graduates will be piloting Air Force jets. Others will be welcomed into the Bell System where they can help, in peace or war, in the tremendous job of meeting the communications needs of our nation.

Vandal, Cougar Leatherswingers Draw Here's Why Huskies Won ND Crown

It is little wonder that the Washington Huskies copped the 1952 northern division title as the adept men of Coach Tippy Dye rang up the most field goals and most points and boasted the division's top offense and defense. Meanwhile center Bob Houbregs scored 251 points to lead individual point producers.

Houbregs' 251 tallies came on 91 buckets and 69 free tosses. Big Bob topped his 91 field goals in 200 attempts to top the league in marksmanship with a .455 mark. Idaho's Tommy Flynn followed Houbregs in field goal percentages as the Vandal guard sank 22 of 53 attempts for a .415 percentage.

Pacing the free throw department was Danny Johnston of Oregon State. Johnston netted 48 tosses in 62 tries for .774 to easily better Frank Guisness' .766 mark for second place.

Oregon's Bob Peterson and Ken Hunt topped the division and set records in the rebound and assist departments. Peterson's 223 rebounds were good enough to better his 183 total of last season while Hunt chalked up a top-rung total of 58 assists.

Man of Distinction
Peterson also had the distinction of being called down the most times by the men 'in stripes. Bob registered 61 personals while runner-up honors went to Danny Johnston and Washington's Mike McCutchen with 52 apiece.

Team statistics found the Washingtons copping top honors in total field goals and field goal percentages. The Huskies flipped in 370 buckets in 1030 attempts for a .358 percentage. In leading the free throw department, the Huskies netted 290 of 447 attempts for a .649 mark.

Washington also boasted the best offense and defense in the northern division. The Huskies flogged their opponents with an average of 64.4 points per contest while limiting their opponents to a diet of 48.8 tallies per battle.

646 rebounds were gathered in by the Washington fall men to garner team honors in this department while Oregon registered the most assists with 173. The OSC Beavers found a constant nemesis in the officials as they were tooted down the most times, 372, for a new northern division record. The Huskies' 27 personals established a ND mark for the fewest fouls.

F. Echevarria, Nichols, King Moyer Grab Idaho Victories

By DON THEOPHILUS
Larry Moyer hit the comeback trail last night with a decisive win over Cougar ace Gordy Gladson and pulled Idaho into a 4-4 deadlock with WSC mittmen. The Vandals had earlier dropped Ike Deeter's boys 4-3 at Moscow. The return card at Pullman didn't provide much thrilling action but was highlighted from the first bout to the last by sportsmanship and good old college try.

Moyer's 165-pound bout was switched to last spot on the card in true showmanlike anticipation of the evening's best fight. As it turned out it was a battle of boxing strategy and wits rather than a brawl.

The first round was pretty even as both boys were at long range sizing each other up. In the second Larry kept a sizzling, flicking left in Gladson's face for most of the round and then loosened up in the final canto to score with both rights and left for the decision.

In this bout and all the others, coaches, competitors, and fans exemplified what the rule book calls college boxing. There were no one-sided beatings, or one man out to shellack another.

After each decision was announced the winner trotted to his opponent's corner to congratulate him and to receive in turn a pat on the back from the losing coach.

The spirit was best shown in the first two bouts of the evening where Frank Echevarria and Ev Conley were matched with less experienced men. Both Franky and Ed showed themselves as champions when they boxed their opponents and didn't try to batter them out of the ring.

Lynn (Sam) Nichols grabbed his third win over Gil Inaba for the season. Most of the action was in the last two rounds with slugging to both bells. Sam scored oftener and harder and had Inaba dead tired at the end.

Verl King at 156-pounds, scored Idaho's other point. King made his record 1-1 for the season with a well-earned decision over Rod Hahn. The Vandal showed too much boxing savvy and class to be headed.

The crowd-pleaser was the heavyweight match. Ron Kalafat, WSC's big freshman end from Montana, floored Hal Solinsky in the second with a slapping right to the face and went on for the judge's nod.

Eleven Records Shattered In ND 1952 Hoop Activity

Eleven northern division records were smashed in the 1952 cage race, according to final statistics released by the Pacific Coast conference commissioner's office. Five of the eleven erasures were chalked up by the ND champions, University of Washington Huskies.

Center Bob Houbregs was responsible for powdering one mark while the Huskie team as a whole accounted for four. Each of the other league quintets was responsible for eclipsing at least one record.

251 Tallies
Houbregs racked up an average of 19.3 tallies per contest to surpass the 19.0 mark chalked up by Washington's Jack Nichols in 1948. Houbregs also topped the league in individual scoring with 251 markers in 13 contests and tossed in his field goals at a .455 clip to boast the best marksmanship.

Idaho's Vandals accounted for one of the new marks as they took aim from the charity stripe 481 times to erase the previous mark of 440 set by Oregon last season.

Washington's four team records were most points, most field goals, best field goal percentages, and fewest personal fouls. Coach Tippy Dye's men flailed the meshing for 1030 counters to blast the former mark of 968 shared by the 1951 Huskies and Oregon's 1947 five. The Huskies tossed in 370 field goals to chop the 365 record set by last season's championship Washingtons.

Dye's Darlings
By hitting 358 in their field goal attempts, the Huskies bettered another of their '51 records. Dye's darlings boasted a .358 mark last year. Washington was called down by the officials but 275 times to lower the 300 fouls registered by Oregon State in 1948. However, the Beavers promptly marched up the scale as they established a new mark for most personals with 372 to eclipse their former total of 367 set in 1950.

Oregon's Ducks accounted for three of the new records. Big Bob Peterson grabbed the most rebounds, Ken Hunt tallied the most assists (a new department in the PCC this season) and the Oregon team chalked up a new mark in most free tosses made. Peterson, one of the top rebounders in the nation, cleaned the boards 223 times for an average of 13.9 per game. Peterson broke his 1951 mark of 183 rebounds. Hunt garnered 58 assists to set the initial mark in that department, and Bill Borcher's Ducks sank 300 charity tosses to break their '51 mark of 282.

Completing the list of record smashers is Washington State's Eric Roberts, who tallied 80 free throws to break the old record of 77 salted away by Nichols of Washington in 1948.

It was opening day in Chicago. The Cubs were playing the St. Louis Cardinals in the first game of a new season. But down in the Cards' dugout, the star, but eccentric pitcher, Paul "Daffy" Dean, lazily stretched out on the bench, yawned and sighed: "Ah! I sure be glad when this baseball season is over."

Student Activities Board recently accepted the University of Idaho's gymnastic group as an organized club. With the acceptance of this club, the officers have been elected and put into office. Bill Shaw was elected president and George Peterson vice president. Secretary and treasurer is Gerald Ames.

Full attention has now been turned to the annual gymnastics show which will be held March 28 in Memorial gym. This show is the second of its kind presented on the U. of I. campus. It will be a two hour program consisting of all club members working out on gymnastic equipment and acts from girls invited to participate in the show. The last act will be the forming of statues by the group. This act was very successful last year and was highly complimented. It should prove to be much better this year because of the experience gained from last year's performance. Last year's audience was very good considering the presentation to be the first of its kind on the campus. The audience this year is expected to be even larger.

SKIERS!

Attention, all skiers; St. Joe Ski Bowl near Emida will operate on Sunday only for the remainder of the skiing season. Latest information indicates that skiing conditions are good.
