

The healthy and happy looking gals shown above recently went through a whole week living on a food budget of 65 cents per person per day. While such light eating may not become a national pastime—these five University women have proved that it can be done—if that is any consolation. The budget cutters are (left to right) Jeanne Nagel, Maralee McReynolds, Lou Carlson, Naida Whybark, and Alice Henry.

College Faculty Members To Attend Borah Meetings

Among visiting speakers at the University of Idaho's annual William Edgar Borah Peace conference April 8 and 9 will be 26 staff members of Pacific Northwest colleges and universities, two newspaper editors and a representative of the women's clubs of Idaho.

The visiting group will aid the major speakers by carrying on forum discussions following the principal addresses. Theme of the two-day conference will be the place of public opinion in world peace. Major speakers include Ralph M. Hagen, on the staff of the American Institute of Public Opinion (Gallup poll); Dr. Frederick Peters, Reed college; Dr. Max Savelle, University of Washington, and Dr. Gordon A. Sabine, University of Oregon.

Visiting professors will include Paul H. Castleberry, Morton Grossman, Robert Sandberg, Willis Merriam, Burton Harrison, Allen Miller, Maynard Hicks, John Guthrie, Thor Swanson, Herbert Alward, Howard Payne, Daniel M. Ogden, Jr., Verne E. Edwards, and Town S. Stephenson, Washington State college; Dr. Donald Campbell and A. P. Ludwig, Eastern Washington College of Education; Samuel Mohler, Central Washington College of Education.

Reverend Francis E. Corkery and Reverend Clifford Carroll, Gonzaga university; Keith J. Melville, Ricks college; F. C. Sutherland, Northwest Nazarene college; James M. Moore, Boise Junior college; Leo Bocage, Idaho State college; Joseph A. Hearst, Whitman college; G. O. Kildow, North Idaho Junior college; and H. E. Westermeyer, Walla Walla college.

Also listed among visiting speakers are William Johnston, managing editor of the Lewiston Morning Tribune; Louis Boas, editor of the Moscow Daily Idahoian, and Mrs. Cary Smith, Moscow, representing the Federated Women's clubs of Idaho.

Faculty members are asked to note the following action of the Academic council concerning excusals for classes for the Borah conference: (1) That all University classes be excused during the general sessions of the conference, which consists principally of the major addresses. It is further recommended that the classes not be shortened, but rather that students be excused for the full hour of the session.

(2) That all deans be given permission to dismiss any class or any students who wish to attend any of the forums following the general sessions. It is further recommended that professors who might wish to take classes to attend a forum get such permission in advance through the department head or from the dean.

(3) That the Academic council go on record as endorsing the policy of encouraging all students to attend the program of the fifth annual conference.

Freshman Beanie Returns To Idaho

The freshman "beanie" is coming back to Idaho—but it won't be green in the tradition of many colleges and universities.

The cap, worn by all freshman students, will be silver and gold and decorated with the student's name—so that they may be identified and aided by upperclass students.

Return of the traditional cap, which disappeared from the University campus during World War II, was approved by the ASUI executive board last week. The beanie will be worn as part of the freshman orientation program scheduled for the opening of the fall semester next September.

Before World War II, a green beanie was worn at the University by all freshman students. Fresh wound up their year's activities with a bonfire in the spring and celebrated completion of the year by burning their beanies.

Students To Hear Harmsworth Talk

"Husbands and Wives" will be the subject of a talk to be given by Dr. H. C. Harmsworth at a meeting in the home economics department Wednesday at 8 p.m. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Blood Goal Is Set At 2000 Pints For Campus Drive

Two thousand pints of blood has been set as the goal for the fourth campus blood drive scheduled for April 22 through 25. Jim Dunham is chairman of the drive.

According to Dunham no one will be turned away during the four-day drive and waiting lines will be cut to avoid crowding. The same procedure for the most part will be followed for the drive as in the past drive last fall. The exact procedure will be printed in detail prior to the drive.

Releases signed by parents must be shown at the time of blood extractions for students under 21 years of age and the student must not have donated blood during the last two months. Releases have been distributed in the various living groups and a copy is printed in the Argonaut.

Dr. E. S. Sestero will handle the extractions again through the Boise regional blood center and bloodmobile. Nurses' aids will be from the University and various townspeople will assist with nursing and refreshment duties as in the past. University students will also serve as typists.

Dunham said the goal of 2000 pints will take care of 75 donors per hour and 600 a day for the four days the bloodmobile is in Moscow.

Proposal Approved By Regents' Action

A proposal to submit to student vote an amendment to the ASUI Constitution which would make the KUOI station manager an ex-officio member of the Executive Board was approved last week by the University Board of Regents.

The amendment will be voted on by students in the spring ASUI election. A proposal for the amendment was approved earlier this month by the Executive Board.

Such amendments to the ASUI Constitution must be approved by the Board of Regents since the student government operates on a charter from that body.

Four Idaho Coeds Attend Conference

"From Campus to Community" will be the theme of the AWS convention which will be attended by four Idaho coeds in Berkeley, California, this week. Erlene Clyde, Mary Hanson, Janet Fulton, and Yvonne George will attend the conclave at the University of California, April 3 to 6.

All schools west of the Mississippi are scheduled to be represented. The convention will feature outstanding business and professional women as outside speakers.

The most important purpose of this conference will be an exchange of ideas among the coeds attending. From the sessions they will bring back new ideas that can be used on the Idaho campus.

Topics to be considered will be "Women in Business," "Women in the Professions," "Women in Volunteer Work," and "Women in Culture." It is hoped to strike some relationship among these four topics and women on campus. The convention will endeavor especially to make this information applicable to specific campus problems.

The four coeds will leave Moscow today and return April 9. They will be traveling with Mr. and Mrs. George of Kellogg.

Fest Music Ready For Campus Drive

Song Fest music which individual living groups ordered will be available in the Music building office Wednesday afternoon.

All music must be paid for at the time it is obtained. Any living groups wishing to know the exact price for their individual music may contact Ernie Gohrband at 2425.

Ticket Sale Soon For Military Ball

Tickets for the Military ball will go on sale April 17 in all living groups according to Jim Oates, chairman of the tri-service dance scheduled for April 19. Members of the three services will participate in various activities during the two weeks prior to the dance to insure large advance ticket sales. Cost is $1.50 per couple.

Decorations will consist of military flags and standards with each unit represented by regimental colors and guidon flags. Navy signal flags will also lend color to the array. A new approach in style and arrangement for the decorations of previous Military balls will be sought, Oates said.

The dance is semi-formal to those not in the three services. Members of the ROTC groups on the campus will wear uniforms. Air Force cadets will wear a white dress shirt and black bow tie with the uniform; Navy men, dress blues.

A central committee, composed of members from Arnold Society, Scabbard and Blade, and Eagle and Anchor, will coordinate the preparations. Members besides Oates include Bob Donahue and Joe DalPain. By Erstad is in charge of publicity.

Home Ec Coeds Live On Scanty Budget

Five university coeds have just come through what is known as the "acid test" of the home management course in home economics. They lived for a week—and thrived—on a food budget which allowed them no more than 65 cents per person per day.

The budget jugglers were Betty Lou Carlson, Naida Whybark, Alalee McReynolds. The secret of their success? Extensive use of meat extenders—casseroles and creamed dishes—and a balanced budget and diet diary. That meant no splurging on T-bones one day and trying to make it up the next.

"Casseroles are not only easy on meat expenditures, but they are flexible enough to permit utilization of leftovers," said Miss Shirley Newcomb, home economics instructor who supervised the experiment and also ate on 65 cents a day. Two of the most popular dishes turned out by the coeds were the "school-day casserole," which goes heavy on the macaroni and light on the dried beef, and pea burgers, which utilize pea pulp instead of hamburger. Such items as milk, cheese and eggs carried the protein load to balance the diet.

The coeds found that it paid to watch for sale items and products riding a market down-trend. Chickens and turkeys helped on food costs. The coeds had their share of meat—just watched for the best buys.

CARTER IN LOS ANGELES
Dean Louise Carter is attending the National Dean of Women's convention at Los Angeles. She will be back on campus April 7.

Visiting Knights Invade the Campus During Conclave

Over 200 visiting Intercollegiate Knights members will invade the Idaho campus tomorrow for the national conclave of the service honorary. The convention will continue through Saturday under the direction of Bill Ringert, Grand Duke of the local IK group.

The Idaho Spurs are making arrangements for dates from the various campus women's living groups for the visiting delegates. A dance is scheduled for Friday night in the SUB.

Other events scheduled for the delegates from the 27 chapters attending include an inter-chapter basketball tournament, and a stag party Thursday night. A banquet is also slated for Friday night preceding the dance.

At the business sessions more inter-chapter and campus cooperation will be stressed especially as the organization is comprised of western states' groups. Some IK chapters are being formed in the East.

Assisting Ringert are IK members Del Naser, Ralph Wilder, Angelo Lurus, Wayne Jepson, Dick Coulter, Dave Poulton, Karl Wetter, James Kunkel, Ralph Benedict, Jerry Schiedeman, Rich Orme, Danny Warfield, Gary Hyer, and Bill Parsons.

National officers of the organization will attend the confab.

Buchanan Reports Board of Regents Accept Cash Gifts

A total of $4,840 in new cash gifts to the University has been formally accepted by the Regents, President J. E. Buchanan has announced.

A research grant-in-aid of $1000 was given by Julius Hyman and Company, Denver, with Shell Chemical corporation, New York, as co-sponsor, for assistance to cooperative research under the U. S. Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine laboratory, Twin Falls, and the University department of entomology. These donors also provided an additional $750 to the department of entomology for continuation of the Hyman research program.

Shell Chemical corporation established another grant-in-aid of $600 for research work on seedling diseases of peas, beans and sugar beets. From Columbia-Southern Chemical corporation, Pittsburgh, came $500 for a grant-in-aid to further weed control research work.

Utah Power and Light company gave $900 for its 1952 contribution to the farm, electrification program, and the Idaho Power company $600 for its contribution to the 1952 4-H club activities in leader training. Received from the First Trust and Savings bank of Moscow was $250 as the second half of an annual $500 scholarship award.

Three Moscow groups contributed funds. The Veterans of Foreign Wars gave $150 for awards to outstanding ROTC students, and the Elks and Moose lodges $25 each for physical education gymnastic activities.

E. F. Sadler, Spokane, contributed $40 to the Student Emergency fund, and Martindale-Hubbell, Inc., Summit, N.J., the 1951 edition of the Martindale-Hubbell Law Directory to the University law library.

Dr. C. Clement French, soon to arrive as new president of Washington State college, is to give the commencement address at WSC June 1, and at the University of Idaho June 9.

This was jointly announced by J. E. Buchanan, president of Idaho, and by Robert A. Sandberg, commencement chair at the State college.

Announcement came after acceptance of both invitations by Dr. French by telephone from his present post as Dean of the College, Texas A.&M., College Station. Dr. French will assume the presidency of W.S.C. on April 16.

Idaho's commencement will take place at 10 a.m., Monday, June 9, in Memorial gymnasium, following baccalaureate services June 8. President Buchanan, commenting on selection of the new Washington State college leader as the speaker, said "Dr. French was selected as the University of Idaho's 1952 commencement speaker in the thought that his neighbors across the state line would like to know him and vice-versa. Education is without state boundaries, and both Washington State college and the University have a common goal. Educators throughout the country have been pleased by Dr. French's appointment as president of Washington State, and we are especially pleased that he will be our commencement speaker."

Served at Texas A.&M. President-elect French will have served nearly two years at the large Texas A.&M. land-grant institution before coming to the State college.

He went to Texas A.&M. from the vice-presidency of Virginia Polytechnic institute. At Blacksburg he was also director of graduate studies. Previous to his Virginia Polytechnic service for 19 years he was on the faculty of Randolph-Macon Women's college, Lynchburg, Va. For 13 of those years he was dean. His teaching career began at the University of Pennsylvania, where he was a staff member during 1922-30.

Holds Three Degrees He holds three degrees from the University of Pennsylvania, one in chemical engineering, one in chemistry, and his highest in physical chemistry.

For two years he was chairman of the committee on university relations for Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies and is now chairman of the nominating committee. He has helped in national service with the American Chemical society and was president of the American Conference of Academic Deans and also of the Association of Virginia colleges.

During war years Dr. French was a special consultant to the director of weather for the Army Air Forces and additionally assisted the Office of Naval Research.

MUSIC FESTIVAL HERE All-University Day will be replaced this year by the state high school music festival in the May. District winners for this year and last year will be eligible to attend the meet. It will be the first time that a state music festival has been held in the northern part of the state.

Ag Clubbers Plan Friday Smorgasbord

Ag club members start a round of activities prior to the Little International, scheduled for April 21 through 26, this Friday night with the annual Ag banquet. The smorgasbord is slated to begin at 6:30 p.m. in the Ad club.

Tickets for the banquet are on sale from any Ag club member for $1.00 per plate and will also be on sale at the door. Ag club members may attend the dinner stag or with dates. Dress is suits for men and date dresses for coeds.

Archie Harney, extension editor, will be toastmaster for the dinner with Dr. Don Marshall of the agricultural economics department the special speaker. The Sigma Chi quartet will also provide entertainment during the dinner. Humorous features will be presented by the toastmaster.

Finalists To Be Announced Three finalists for Little International Queen chosen from the semi-final number of six candidates will be announced at the banquet. The queen will then be chosen from these final three candidates to reign over the Little International festivities. The queen will be announced in the Argonaut April 18.

A 25-year service plaque will also be presented at the banquet by Alpha Zeta, national agriculture honorary, to a member of the agriculture staff who has served the University and the state for 25 years or more.

Chairman of the Ag banquet is Alden Fitch. Said Wally Taylor president of the Ag club, "Ag banquets in the past have been dearer than a meat market trout. This year we are going to remove the odor of death."

Dance Lessons Free Charleston and waltz lessons are slated to be given today and every Tuesday and Thursday in the middle ballroom of the SUB from 4:10 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Foresters Complete Plans For Annual State Week

Plans for Idaho State Forestry Week, to be held April 13 to 19, are nearing completion, according to Bill Luscher, Forestry Week publicity chairman. Idaho State Forestry Week is being sponsored by the Associated Foresters of the University of Idaho and will be proclaimed by Governor Len Jordan.

Luscher pointed out that the purpose of this week is to acquaint the people of the state with the value of their forest, range, and wildlife resources, and to make them aware of some of the problems involved in their management. It is hoped that with this awareness will come a desire to cooperate in working towards the conservation of our natural resources so that as a state we may derive the fullest benefit in goods and services from what we have, he said.

Displays in both the school of forestry and the Administration building, general interest films, and cooperation with Utah State Forestry Week officials are expected to further interest and to emphasize conservation, Luscher said. James C. Evenden, head of the Forest Insect Laboratory, Coeur d'Alene, will be principal speaker at the annual Forester's banquet which will climax the week's activities.

Luscher named several organizations across the state that have assisted in the promotion of Forestry Week in past years and who are being contacted again this year. Some of those who will assist in the emphasis of conservation are: the United States Forest Service, the Timber Protective Association, the Idaho State Department of Forestry, the State Fire Wardens, and various private forest industries.

These groups are being asked to talk to local groups and to assist in the setting up of displays, thereby ensuring wider coverage of the state than would be otherwise possible.

Officials in charge of Forestry Week are reaching out to the younger people of the state this year and talks will be given to high school students throughout the state. Forestry students from the university will contact the high school students in the northern part of the state while foresters from Idaho State college will speak in high schools in the southern districts.

These talks will present the value and problems of forestry and conservation and will be illustrated by the showing of films. Approximately 12 high schools will be contacted during the week. General chairman for Forestry Week is Ken Knoerr. Other committee heads are: Don McManamon, banquet chairman; Bill Luscher, publicity; Bob Nesbet, campus activities; Roger Bay, youth project; and Ken Herman, discussion in the high schools.

DEAR JASON

Editor's Note: The following letter does not present the views of the Argonaut and is not to be interpreted as such. The Argonaut is presenting this letter, which was submitted to it last Thursday, at this time along with "the other side of the story." As far as this newspaper is concerned the views of students have been presented as they were put forth last Thursday, and should be considered along with the official bulletin also presented on this page. To our knowledge, the book is available in the library and in the bookstore.

The Argonaut considers the issue closed, and any further discussion may be directed to the University administration.

Dear Jason,

We would like to enlist the aid of your readers in the solution of a campus mystery — The Case of the Vanishing Book, or Why the Ban on Aldous Huxley's "Brave New World." These two writers first heard of the case Wednesday morning and spent all afternoon trying to chase it down. First we verified that you could not buy it in the Book store or check it out of the library; then we went to see the President of the University but found that he had left that morning for a Board of Regents meeting in Boise. The rest of our afternoon's inquiry fell in three parts.

First we talked to four faculty members and two office secretaries and asked them for their views. None (officially). However, when told the following story they all agreed that they couldn't deny it. "It seems that a student (generally thought to be a Moscow coed) took the book home and his or her mother read the book, didn't like it, and paid a visit to the administration. Then a member of the administration took the book home, read it, and evidently didn't like it for the net result was that the library was told not to circulate it to students and the book store was told to send back their copies and not to sell them." We even got confirmation of this story from a student high up in school circles who admitted that he had heard of it as far back as last Sunday.

Next stop, the people that head the library. First they deny that you can't check the book out. Then they say that they told only one person in the library of the restriction. This is in direct contradiction to one of the girls at the desk who says that one of the people in question told her that the book was restricted. With a little persuasion we got to see the book and procured the following extract from the book card and had it witnessed.

Mar 24 '52 Arlene Jonas Mar 21 '52
To Miss Brasch
Kept at Miss Brasch's desk.
Circulates to fac. members only.

However, as we left we were promised that if we came back the next morning we would be able to check out the book.

The last stop was the student book store. Did they have the book in stock? Yes, in fact it has been used as a text for a literature course for the past three years and just since the fourth of February they have sold 196 copies, leaving them only 17 on the shelves. Can we buy one? No, I'm sorry, we have been directed to take them out of circulation and return them to the publisher.

Thursday morning we arrived at the library and asked for the book. Oh yes, you can check it out but I'm afraid that it is out right now. At the student book store, Yes, I would like to sell you one but we don't have any; they were sent back this morning.

We think that these facts speak for themselves and believe that every reader of this will arrive at the same conclusion.

It is our contention that whether this particular book is good or bad is beside the point. We believe that every person has the right to read anything he wants with no restrictions imposed by some higher "authority." We think that this is one of the basic rights that we fought to preserve in the last war and are fighting to preserve at the present time.

This case by itself perhaps isn't very important, but look at how the book burning parties held in Germany in the early thirties and the suppression of thought in present day Russia began. If any one person can say "I don't like this book therefore I'm not going to let you read it," what are we going to do when someone starts in on Das Kapital, and progresses through Worlds In Collision to the Bible. You'll never find a book that someone won't dislike, and who is to judge whose dislike we are to follow. If we are to be blinded by only being allowed to look at half of the picture how are we to know we are right or that we are not pushing ourselves right in to the situation that we are trying to avoid.

In closing we would like to ask each of you this question. This whole affair has been conducted in secrecy, and every means has been extorted to keep it that way. How do you know that many other books haven't been banned in the same manner but it hasn't leaked out?

OFFICIAL BULLETINS

Due to a misunderstanding arising on the campus while I was attending a Regents' meeting in Boise, the following statement is deemed in order:

Protests were lodged with me regarding the use of Huxley's "Brave New World" as required reading. Not being an authority on these matters, I directed that the book be suspended as required reading until an objective and competent study of the protests could be arranged. It was not intended that this suspension during the period of study be considered as banning the book. Interpretations to the contrary were in error. The book has not been banned. It has been and remains suspended as required reading in the literature course, and will remain so until a thorough study can be made, and the matter cleared with the Regents. The charter of the University provides that:

"...The immediate government of the University shall be entrusted to the Faculty, but the Regents shall have the power to regulate the course of instruction and prescribe the books or works to be used in the several courses..."

To Miss Brasch
Kept at Miss Brasch's desk.
Circulates to fac. members only.

However, as we left we were promised that if we came back the next morning we would be able to check out the book.

The last stop was the student book store. Did they have the book in stock? Yes, in fact it has been used as a text for a literature course for the past three years and just since the fourth of February they have sold 196 copies, leaving them only 17 on the shelves. Can we buy one? No, I'm sorry, we have been directed to take them out of circulation and return them to the publisher.

Thursday morning we arrived at the library and asked for the book. Oh yes, you can check it out but I'm afraid that it is out right now. At the student book store, Yes, I would like to sell you one but we don't have any; they were sent back this morning.

We think that these facts speak for themselves and believe that every reader of this will arrive at the same conclusion.

It is our contention that whether this particular book is good or bad is beside the point. We believe that every person has the right to read anything he wants with no restrictions imposed by some higher "authority." We think that this is one of the basic rights that we fought to preserve in the last war and are fighting to preserve at the present time.

This case by itself perhaps isn't very important, but look at how the book burning parties held in Germany in the early thirties and the suppression of thought in present day Russia began. Students Offered Hawaiian Tours

College classes in the colorful and historic setting of the Hawaiian Islands will be available to local students and teachers at budget rates this summer, according to United Air Lines.

A low price of only $444 for the University of Hawaii summer session tour includes round-trip air transportation from Spokane, via San Francisco, housing for the six-week term, and tuition at the university for six credit hours. Meals in the Islands and transportation tax are extra.

By special arrangement with the university, United can offer a limited number of dormitory rooms at just $45 for women and $50 for men for the entire six-week term. Meals at the school board and lodging arrangements may be made through the university or individually.

A wide range of courses in more than 24 academic fields will be offered during the summer months at both the undergraduate and graduate levels, according to university officials. Registration will be June 23, with classes beginning the following day and closing August 1. College catalogues and other information are available at United's Spokane office.

Senior Contralto In Recital Tonight

Joyce Fisher, contralto, will be heard in her senior recital next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the recital hall. Miss Fisher, who has been a member of Vandaleers for four years, is a member of Sigma Alpha Iota, national women's music honorary, and belongs to Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

For the first part of her program, Miss Fisher will sing: "L'esperanto nocchiero" by Bononcini, "Che fiero costume," by Legrenzi; "Dormi, dormi, bel bambin," by Liebling and "Per la gloria," by Bononcini.

Richard Coulter, pianist, will be heard in part two playing "Davidsbundlerntanze, Op. 6, Nos. 1-4," by Schumann; and "Theme and Variations in F Major," by Tschalkowsky.

Miss Fisher continues her recital in part three by singing "O don fatale" from "Don Carlos" by Verdi. In part four Mr. Coulter will play "Prelude, Op. 23, Nos. 3" by Rachmaninoff; and "Scherzo in C Sharp Minor, Op. 39" by Chopin.

Part five which will conclude the program, includes "Spirit Flower" by Campbell-Tipton; "Red-Rosey Bush" by Young; "Iris" by D. Wolf; and "Were You There" arranged by Burleigh; to be sung by Miss Fisher.

Deloris Knight is the accompanist for the recital.

More Foolishness

Today is April Fool's day. Traditionally this is the day on which fools go around making fools of other fools. If you have not yet been fooled, don't be fooled. You may yet be.

Harken, all ye cute coeds: if he asks you to marry him today say no. He'll know you're fooling. If he doesn't, don't worry. He's probably fooling. If he asks you and you say yes and he thinks you're fooling that would be foolish, no fooling.

Harken all you handsome cassanovas: if she says no when you ask her for that date today she's probably fooling. If she says yes, on the other hand, she's probably fooling. If you think she's said yes when she has and means no you'll be sadly fooled. Moral: don't ask her for a date today.

Conclusion: Foolish friends fooling friends with friendly foolishness may fool themselves too. Happy fools day.

Kefauver Gains In Popularity Shows College Student Poll

Estes Kefauver is gaining favor as a presidential candidate among college students, while Earl Warren's popularity has gone down.

This was indicated by results of the latest ACP National Poll of Student Opinion. Students were shown a list of 10 candidates and asked to pick their first choice for president. The answers reveal that Dwight Eisenhower is an overwhelming favorite and has actually gained in strength during the past three months.

Here are the complete results: Eisenhower, 42 per cent; Taft, 15 per cent; Kefauver, 12 per cent; Warren, 12 per cent; Stassen, 8 per cent; Truman, 7 per cent; Fred Vinson, 2 per cent; Walter Reuther, 1 per cent; Herbert Humphrey, 5 per cent; Howard Ryan, 5 per cent.

Howard Ryan, former managing editor of the Minnesota Daily, has no presidential ambitions. Thrown into the poll more or less as a "ringer," he polled 7 votes less than Humphrey and at one small college got four out of 50 votes.

Here's a rundown of key candidates' positions currently as compared to results of a similar poll taken in December:

Eisenhower, a six per cent gain; Taft, a five per cent gain; Kefauver, an eight per cent gain; Warren, a five per cent loss; Stassen, a two per cent loss, and Truman, no change.

Eisenhower is the favorite at 19 of every 20 colleges. He is weakest in the Midwest and has his best support in the South and East.

At the University of Connecticut he has polled 57 per cent of the vote. At the University of Texas he rolled up 53 per cent. But at Valparaiso university, Indiana, his vote is 23 per cent, a number equal to Stassen's. Taft leads there with 32 per cent.

Educators Gather Research Material

The education workroom in the Ad building now has on hand materials of all types for use in research. This material was obtained from commercial firms, industries, and chambers of commerce of the Northwest from an idea prompted by Dr. Albert Sitlinger.

Some of the fields covered by pamphlets and folders are electricity, social studies, Americanism, Idaho wild life, aluminum, and many others. A strip film, "Patterns for Parties," was sent by the Towle Silversmiths, and samples of wood were contributed by the Western Pine association.

The education workroom has recently been redecorated in gray and white.

Navy Man Among Faculty Members Told by Buchanan

A Navy man who has seen duty around the world and who graduated from Idaho is among the new University staff members announced by President J. E. Buchanan, following Board of Regents approval.

Lt. Rex Raymond Fox, USN, who was graduated from the University in agricultural education in 1947, was named assistant professor of naval science. He comes here from the U. S. Naval Shipyard, Charleston, S. C.

Appointed acting instructor in speech was Thomas F. Hopkins. A graduate at the University of Washington, Hopkins has taught at high schools in Carnation and Winslow, Wash.

Lucien LaFerriere, Plaisted, Me., and Robert Scanlon, Yonkers, N. Y., were named research fellows in horticulture and metallurgy, respectively.

Resigning to go into private business, to accept other positions or to do graduate work were Paul L. Lonardo, instructor in languages; Forest E. Robinson, instructor in English; Leonard D. Brooks, Bonner county extension agent; Ralph E. Knight, superintendent of the Aberdeen branch experiment station; Ward A. Simpson, engineering inspector; and Dudley G. Tucker, farm superintendent.

Transferred to new military assignments were Lt. Victor D. Green, USA, assistant professor of military science and tactics, and Major W. J. Sullivan, USMC, assistant professor of naval science.

Granted a leave of absence without pay from September 1, 1952, to June 30, 1953, to continue graduate studies was E. H. Grahn, instructor in chemistry.

Hawaiian Students Play for Cosmos

Ukelele music, songs, and dancing were featured at a meeting of the Cosmopolitan club Sunday in the Borah Room of the SUB.

Hawaiian students from WSC and Idaho provided the entertainment. A movie about Hawaii was shown, and Beverly Ross gave an exhibition of the original hula dance.

The program was closed with a rendition of the familiar "Aloha." The group will meet after Easter vacation.

WRA NEWS

Thursday afternoon Forney I basketball team beat the Forney II team by a score of 32 to 11. Beverly McNeer made 10 points for Forney I and Joyce Johnson was high scorer for Forney II with 10 points. In the second game the Alpha Chis handed the Pi Phis an 8 to 6 defeat in a hard fought game. Mary Harding racked up 4 points for the winners and Sylvia Moore sunk 4 points for the Pi Phis.

In the one game played Friday the Tri-Delts were victorious over the Ridenbaugh team in a game ending 14 to 10. High point maker for the Tri-Delts was Maizie Collett with 8 points and Wanda Greed led Ridenbaugh with 6 points.

This week's schedule includes a match between the Tri-Delts and the Kappas and the Forney I team will oppose the Alpha Chis Thursday. Friday the Pi Phis will meet the Alpha Phis and the Thetas will play the Hays I teams.

The members of the two basketball teams which were selected for the WCS playday, along with their instructor, Miss Betts, left at 8 o'clock Saturday morning for Pullman. Each team played three games during the day against teams from Whitman, WSC and EWCC.

The coeds were served a luncheon followed by a social period in which all the girls present participated in playing games and singing songs. They were also allowed to swim in the new women's swimming pool.

'Blue Angel' Next In Cinema Series
"Blue Angel," the next ASUI film, tells the story of the gradual disintegration of the morals of a German school teacher in his quest for the love of beer-hall singer Mariene Dietrich. The teacher, portrayed by Emil Jannings, collapses when he discovers his wife has been unfaithful with the local strong man.

This 1935 German production appears on the Idaho campus this Thursday at 4, 7 and 8:30 p.m. in the Borah theatre, SUB. The dialogue in "Blue Angel" is in German, but carries complete English subtitles.

Filmart magazine, the Bible of the movie industry, said of "Blue Angel": "This film easily carries away honors as one of the most soul-piercing films of the decade. The portrayal of the teacher by Emil Jannings is magnificent; the portrayal of the singer by Miss Dietrich is voluptuous. This is truly an immortal classic."

DeMolays To Meet

Alpha Zeta Holds Informal Initiation
Informal initiation was held on March 28 for seven pledges of Alpha Zeta, national agriculture honorary. Pledges are Mac Porter, Robert Park, Jim Kunkle, Richard Westgate, Howard Shepard, Ben Huggins, and Jim Ballantyne.

Formal initiation will be held April 19 in conjunction with the WSC chapter.

Members Initiated By Pi Gamma Mu
Seven new members were initiated into Pi Gamma Mu, social science honorary, at a banquet Thursday. Initiates are Richard Andrews, John Burroughs, James Costley, Patricia Rutledge, Clarice Sampson, Edith Kading and John Kugler.

Other pledges eligible for membership but not present are Carol Anderson, Richard Bellamy and Lloyd Webb. Also present at initiation ceremonies were Dr. Harry Harmsworth, Prof. Sverre Scheldrup, Dr. Edward Moore, and Dr. Frederic Church.

Past members include Shirley Longteig, Robert Storm, Myron Johnson, James DeLeve, Ruth Diamond, Mary Sandaker, Robert Fullmer, and Bonnie Shuldberg.

Following the initiation, a banquet was held in the Syringa room of the Student Union. Gem pictures were taken, and Miss Ella Olson showed color films of her trip through Egypt, Lebanon, Greece and Spain.

Sigma Tau Pledges Sport Fancy Hats
Eight pledges of Sigma Tau, national engineering honorary, can be identified this week on campus by their pyramid hats and steel rails. During the week each pledge has to collect the autograph of all the active members and alumni of Sigma Tau on the campus.

The new pledges are Fred Kopke, Dale Skinner, Ronald Dehlin, Thomas Bullock, Chester Vaughn, Phillip Ard, Bryce Johnson, and Jack McEntire.

Formal initiation will be on April 4 at the Campus Christian center. A banquet at the Moscow hotel will follow the initiation.

Garden Corsage Wins First Place At Spinster Skip

Wanda Grey and Bob Roller's corsage topped approximately 50 entries at the Spinster Skip Saturday afternoon to win first prize.

Leona Hansen's creation for Horace Neeley was given honorable mention. The prize-winning corsage was built around a small sack of fertilizer (coffee grounds), from which were suspended grass and flower seeds, miniature shrubs, a hoe, a rake, and a book on the art of landscaping.

Miss Hansen's corsage was recognized as the most heavily laden, combining pieces of cedar boughs. Another original specimen was a miniature "T" tank on a revolving base. Judges for the corsages were Mr. and Mrs. Norm Logan, Miss Margaret Coffey, Prof. Glen Lockery, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Decker.

Judy Coble, Mortar Board president, announced the awards following judging during intermission. Couples were asked to march around the ballroom after the judging.

Decorations for the affair in the south ballroom consisted of a typical Idaho coed beckoning her man to dance, topped with "Spinster Skip, 1952." Ray Cox and his orchestra played for the matinee dance, with Mrs. Ray Cox doing vocals.

Nearly 40 couples attended the smorgasbord at the Ad club after the dance ended at the Student Union building. A wide variety of salads and prepared fish dishes highlighted the meal.

Pianist Presented In Faculty Recital
Miss Marian Frykman, pianist, will be presented in her faculty recital Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Music building recital hall.

Miss Frykman, a member of the Idaho music faculty for five years, was a Red Cross director during World War II. She was stationed in England.

The first part of her recital will include "Two Chorale Preludes: 'Now Comes the Gentiles' Saviour' and 'Rejoice, Beloved Christians'", by Bach-Busoni, and "Capriccio" by Bach.

"Sonata, opus 81a", including "Adagio-Allegro", "Andante-Expressivo", and "Vivacissimamente" by Beethoven will make up part two.

Three numbers by Debussy are included in part three of Miss Frykman's program. They are "Danseuses de Delphes", "La Puerta del Vino", and "Les Collines d'Unacapri."

Final number of the evening will be "Ballade No. 4 in F Minor, op. 52" by Chopin.

GE Manager Is To Speak To Engineers

"Developments in the Power Field" is the topic of D. Lee Chesnut, sales manager of General Electric's apparatus department, who will speak to the Associated Engineers tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Engineering building auditorium.

It has been stressed that his presentations are given in an informal manner, without the use of technical terms.

Feature topics of the speech are: (a) Discussion of the power generating industry; (b) a brief resume of the broad business and engineering base of the total motor and control industries; and (c) a brief summary of some of the current developments in industrial power utilization with emphasis on those that represent an interesting engineering challenge.

Chesnut is responsible for the sale of laboratory and research equipment to all educational and research institutes in the United States. He has been in this work since he war and has maintained a close interest in the development of today's tools for atomic research.

Dual Interests
His dual interests are technical and religious, and he is affiliated with the American Scientific Affiliation, the American Society for Engineering Education, and the National Association of Evangelicals.

He points out that he is an engineer and a businessman, not a scientist. He has been a frequent speaker to engineering, business industrial, civic, and religious groups on the subject of nuclear science.

During the war, Chesnut was with the Electronics department of the G.E. company in charge of

Diamondmen Expect Brighter Season

Cindermen Battle Strong Hurlers, Power-Hitting Pirates Saturday In Outdoor Meet

The Vandal track squad will unveil its hopes for the 1952 track and field honors when they meet Whitman college of Spokane on the local field Saturday afternoon.

Eight lettermen, backed by a promising group of freshmen and sophomores, are out this year to make a successful season for coach Stan Hiserman. The small but talented group of veterans includes sprinter Dick Newton, quarter miler Ted Nowak and Pat Duffy, high jumper and hurdler Bruce Sweeney, distance runners Chuck Weinmann and Glen Casebolt, and pole vaulters Dave Martindale and Bob Parish.

Newton, a senior and a constant threat in the sprints, was plagued with a pulled leg muscle last year; this year he will be supported by a pair of freshmen, Merlin Powell and Jay Buhler, in the sprints.

High-Jumping Sweeney

Bruce Sweeney, a 5'9" junior, cleared the cross bar at six feet, three inches already this year in an indoor meet at Pullman. The spring-soled youngster clears the high and low hurdles with equal ease. Martindale and Harlan Melton will add depth to the high jump crew; and Bill Lawr and Dalby Shirley will strengthen the hurdle events.

The distance grinds will be Idaho's forte this season. In the mile run Glen Casebolt, third place winner in last year's ND meet, and Emerson Clark will have a lot to say about the outcome of this year's events. Last year, as a frosh, Clark toured the route in 4:23.7. These two will have a lot of help from Bob May of Oak Hill, New York.

Northern Division two-mile champion Chuch Weinmann will run some this year to keep ahead of two outstanding teammates, Lou Gourley and Luther Fitch, both freshmen. Gourley topped three events this year in cross country competition and is in tip top condition for a sprint like the two mile event.

Martindale in Pole Vault

Pole vaulter Martindale consistently cleared 13 feet, 6 inches last year and has equalled that mark indoors already this year.

Nowak and Duffy will be assisting in the quarter mile run by Gary Dixon, a freshman from Coeur d'Alene.

Leaders in the 880-yard event are Walt Meukow, Jack Riddlemoser, and Ron Baker. Filling out the field are Larry Daigh and Bob Thornton.

In the field, Darwin Cogswell, Larry Elsner and Buck Nelson are top men in flipping the discs. Nelson also doubles at putting the shot. In the javelin throw are two newcomers, Bruce West and Bud Fisher. Sweeney, Newton, and Parker will take care of the broad jumping for the team.

So far the Vandals appear strong in distances, pole vault, and relay events; a little weaker in the sprints, the high jump, the 440, and the discus throw; and could stand improvement in the 880, broad jump, shot put, and javelin throw.

All the University of Idaho baseballers have to do is lose two more conference games to chalk up a record worse than last year's mark of no wins and 14 defeats. However, from the looks of diamond potential on the Idaho squad this season, an improvement would seem to be a more likely occurrence.

A mound staff which certainly won't suffer from lack of depth, a heavy-hitting infield, and an impressive outfield led by 380 swinger Bruce McIntosh await the initial cry of "play ball" for the 1952 season.

Heading the list of returning hurlers is a trio of capable right-handers, Cless Hinckley, Wayne Anderson, and Buck Schiller. Hinckley and Anderson rely upon a mixture of offerings while Schiller's side-arm tosses are the rule with no exception.

New Hurlers

Supplementing the veterans will be a sextet of newcomers, including a pair of portersiders. Slingshotting from the south will be (need we say it) "Lefty" Melton and Ken Hallet. Hallet tossed for the freshman team last season and chalked up a pair of wins. Melton is a frosh with plenty of wrinkles in his pitches.

Righthanders Tommy Flynn, Dick Dodel, Dewey Good, and Ed McComas, complete the list of new men on the pitching roster. Flynn is an experienced sophomore tosser, Good is a capable junior hurler, Dodel is a sophomore, and McComas is a NICE transfer.

A pair of experienced backstops will return to Coach Chuck Flynley's nine in the persons of Jerry Ogle and Dick Merrill. Both are capable of clouting a long apple. Merrill is also available for outfield duty.

George McCarty, Flip Kleffner, and Dwight Morrison lead the candidates for the initial sack. McCarty is a letterman from last season's aggregation, Morrison played with last year's frosh, and Kleffner is a heavy-hitting freshman from Boise.

Brother Act

Other infield candidates include a brother act, George and Earl Huffman who transferred from NICE, letterman Mel Brown, Bud Nelson, and Dennis Goddard.

McIntosh leads the group of aspiring outer gardeners. Bruce hit the pill at a .380 clip in conference play last season. Another promising outfielder is H. A. Butler, a Beaumont, Texas, freshman tabbed by Rogers Hornsby of the St. Louis Browns as one of the top high school players to come out of Texas.

Other top outfield prospects include George Lefferts, Ted Fisher, Bob Sell, Bill Stellmon, Reggie Frazier, John Puckett, and Ralph Lehman.

Assistant coach Pete Breyse is conducting hitting and fielding drills for the 40-man squad in preparation for the tentative opener April 9. Slated for that date is a double header with Whitman college at Walla Walla.

Winter Weather?

The Idaho conference schedule apparently attempts to give the winter weather a chance to escape the Palouse hills. The Vandals will open the ND campaign on the road with a two-game set at Seattle with Washington April 18 and 19. The road trip will then continue with two-game series slated for April 21-22 at Oregon State and April 23-24 at Oregon.

The first home encounter is scheduled for April 28 with Buck Bailey's Washington State Cougars providing the opposition. By that time sunny skies should prevail unless the frigid breath of the north wind decides to stick around and catch its annual view of commencement.

Idaho's Northern Division baseball schedule:

April 18-19 — University of Washington at Seattle.

April 21-22 — Oregon State at Corvallis.

April 23-24 — University of Oregon at Eugene.

April 28 — Washington State at Moscow.

April 29 — Washington State at Pullman.

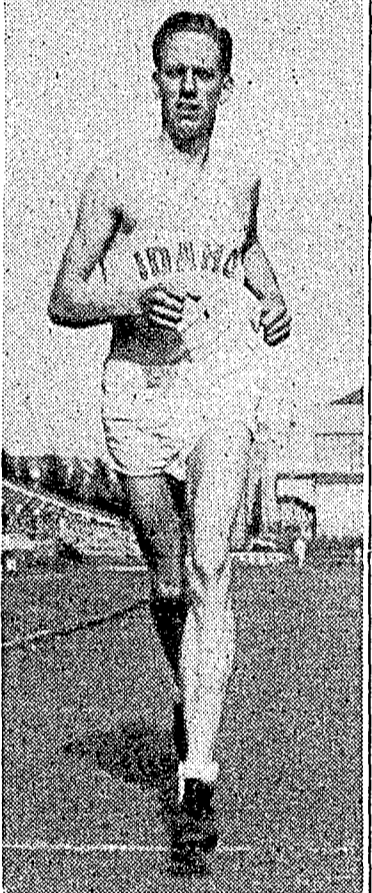

May 2-3 — Oregon State at Moscow.

May 7-8 — University of Oregon at Moscow.

May 16 — Washington State at Pullman.

May 17 — Washington State at Moscow.

May 26-27 — University of Washington at Moscow.

Puffing the eight laps of the two-mile run this Saturday afternoon for the Vandal cindermen will be Chuck Weinmann, northern division two-mile champion. Weinmann, a former cross country star, last year decided to abandon the hills for the flat, cindered oval and proceeded to cap several honors in the two-mile event. Accompanying Weinmann will be two first-year varsity candidates, Lou Gourley and Luther Fitch.

GOLFERS!

All men wishing to participate in try-outs for the varsity golf team are requested to hike up to the University golf course for the qualifying rounds. The first will be an 18-hole round on Thursday, April 3, at 1:00 p.m. The second qualifying round will also be 18 holes and will be held Saturday, April 5, at 1:00 p.m. The third and final round will be an 18-hole tour Sunday, April 6, also at 1:00 p.m.

Candidates must go down to Frank Young's office at Memorial gymnasium and fill out application blanks. This must be done before April 5. Freshmen candidates are also urged to participate in the qualifying rounds.

The first match of the season is slated for Friday, April 18, when Whitman faces the Vandals linksmen here. April 19 Idaho will match drives and putts with the Washington State golfers.

Net Ladder Names Kirkland's Squad

Coach Eric Kirkland has started a tennis ladder to determine the five men who will make up the squad for intercollegiate matches. At this time Kirkland has fourteen top-notch men competing for spots, and the tennis ladder is the fairest method of eliminating men. In this system, the players are permitted to challenge anyone who is above them and if they win, they take over that position. Kirkland said that Max Nunenkamp, Bob Zimmerman, Dwight Klein, Jim Townsend, and Carl Murray are showing the most improvement so far this season.

The first match is slated for April 18 against Whitman.

Freshmen are eligible for varsity competition this year; all men who are interested in competing should contact Coach Kirkland in Memorial gymnasium.

Intramural

Starting this afternoon, the softball diamond will be in the limelight as the intramural softball league gets under way. Under the new system of running the league, the spectator can witness any one of six different contests to be played each afternoon. The diamonds are located in the following spots: Field 1 on the Ad lawn, field 2 on the southeast football practice field, field 3 on the middle football practice field, field 4 on the northeast football practice field, field 5 immediately west of field 4, and field 6 just west of five.

The initial contests, to start at 4:15, match SAE and TKE on 1, DTD and PKT on 2, PGD and KS on 3, LDS and DC on 4, SN and PDT on 5, and SC vs. DSP on field 6.

Gridmen Face Nine-Game '52 Schedule

Oregon, North Dakota State, Montana Invade Vandalville

Idaho's 1952 gridiron forces will face nine opponents during next fall's turf campaign with four of the contests slated as home affairs. One home battle is scheduled at Boise with the remaining three to be played on the Neale stadium terrain, according to today's announcement by Gale L. Mix, manager of athletics.

Also included in the nine-game slate are four conference foes, University of Washington, Washington State college, Oregon State college, and University of Oregon.

The Vandals will open the season's card September 20 when they tussle with the University of Washington Huskies, one of the quartet of conference opponents, at Seattle. The Idaho eleven last met the Huskies in 1948 and dropped a 34 to 7 decision.

Four New Foes

In addition to the University of Washington, three other new opponents are listed on the 1952 schedule. The first of this trio is Utah State, whom the Vandals face at Logan on October 11. The Utah State eleven re-appears on the Idaho slate after a lapse of 11 years.

A second, newcomer will be North Dakota State, who will invade Neale stadium October 18. The final member of the trio will be Santa Clara. The Vandals will face the Broncos in a night contest in San Francisco October 24. Actually, the Santa Clara contest will mark the first Vandal appearance in California since 1949, when Stanford literally paled the Silver and Gold, 63-0.

The annual Homecoming fracas will find the University of Oregon Ducks invading Vandalville on October 4. Oregon's last Homecoming appearance in 1949 found the Vandals racking up a 14-0 victory over the Webfoots.

After North Dakota State's appearance at Moscow October 18, Coach Babe Curfman's gridmen will close the home slate with the November 8 appearance of Montana.

"We feel this nine-game schedule presents a fitting test for Idaho's football squad for the coming season," said Mix. "The four conference opponents are all from our area and we move outside the conference to meet teams of about our own strength and enrollment from Utah, California, and North Dakota. Three of the games will

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil
Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

SOMEBODY sent Sheedy this note: "You're a small guy, Paul, but your hair's against you! That's why you've been getting skunked in the race for popularity. I wouldn't even touch you with a 10-foot pole call Better get Wildroot Cream-Oil. Everybody nose it's Your Hair's Best Friend." Non-alcoholic. Contains soothing Lanolin. Removes loose, ugly dandruff. Relieves annoying dryness. Grooms hair neatly and naturally all day long. Helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test. Paul got Wildroot Cream-Oil and now he's whiff a new gal every night! So put on your pin-stripe suit, head for any drug or toilet goods counter, and buy a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil, America's biggest-selling hair tonic. Ask for it on your hair at the barber shop, too. Then all the girls'll fall for you!

Slick, Tough Mittmen On Hand At NCAA

By Don Theophilus, Jr.

Out of this corner a little chit-chat on boxing. Wisconsin's Badgers host the annual NCAA boxing championships at their huge fieldhouse in Madison this weekend. The slickest and toughest of the country's college boxers will be on hand to show their wares. Preliminaries will be on tap for Thursday, semi-finals Friday and the all-important finals on Saturday night.

Idaho placed fourth in the tourney last year at Michigan State with 12 points, behind Michigan State, Wisconsin and (of all things) Washington State. This year the Vandals have taken a four-man squad to the slugfest looking for individual crowns and a possible team title.

Last night at Spokane Coach Frank Young, Frank Echevarria, Lynn Nichols, Veri King and Larry Moyer swung aboard a train on the first leg of their trip. Coming, going and while they are at Badgerville the five men will have the best of accommodations.

In Spokane they climbed on the Milwaukee Road's crack streamliner, Hiawatha. If all goes well they'll be in the station tomorrow morning. First thing will be to check into the comfortable Park hotel where they will stay while in the Wisconsin capital city.

That afternoon, tomorrow, they will have their last workout before the tourney gets under way. Come what may, as far as honor and glory are concerned, they will leave for Moscow on the Northern Pacific's ace choo-choo, the North Coast Limited and arrive here above the rest. Wisconsin holds its large lead mainly for two reasons. During the early war years of 1942 and 1943, the Badgers racked up 55 points and 9 individual champs.

During this time, among many of the other top schools, had dropped boxing as a sport due to the manpower shortage. The other factor in Wisconsin's favor has been that six of the tournaments have been held on the Wisconsin campus.

This year it is the same way to take advantage of their magnificent fieldhouse, its seating capacity, and eager fans.

Other Idaho records and honors are numerous. For instance, Ted Kara was the first man to win three national titles. Also the peerless puncher was the John Larowe trophy winner in 1941 for top boxer in the tournament. Herb Carlson got his name on the same trophy in 1950.

Ted and Frank Kara teamed up to become the first brother combination to win crowns in the same tournament in 1941.

There are other top-notch performances on the books but not enough space to jot them down. At any rate, during these bouts in the 1952 tourney, Idaho's four man squad will have plenty of tradition to bolster their courage.

Here are the facts on the top nine teams:

Team	Pts.	Chmps
1. Wisconsin	204	24
2. IDAHO	120	15
3. Michigan State	94	8
4. Louisiana State	88	7
5. Washington State	77	6
6. Penn State	69	6
7. San Jose State	64	3
8. Syracuse	62	6
9. Virginia	45	5

*As can be seen Idaho and Wisconsin are head and shoulders
