

NATIONAL IK CONVENTION IS MEETING ON CAMPUS

Moore Is Banquet Speaker At Borah Conference

Dr. Edwin Moore, chairman of philosophy at the University of Idaho, will give the banquet address concluding the University's two-day Borah Peace conference, April 8 and 9, Professor Theodore Sherman, acting chairman of the conference, said today. Dr. Moore will speak on "A Responsible Public Opinion."

The banquet will be held at 6:30 p.m. April 9 in the Student Union building. Traditionally, the banquet address is given by a University faculty member, although other speakers at the conference are drawn from throughout the nation. Other Idaho faculty members honored as banquet speakers in previous years have been Drs. A. E. Whitehead, Robert Hoisack, C. J. Brosnan and William E. Folz.

The fifth Borah conference on the Causes of War and the Conditions of Peace will focus student and outside attention on national and international affairs next Tuesday and Wednesday when the annual convalescence will begin at Idaho. This year the conference will be concerned with public opinion as a factor in world peace.

Dr. Moore is the newest member of the faculty ever selected as a banquet speaker. He came here from the faculty of the University of Iowa in 1950. A native of Mt. Clemens, Mich., Moore is a graduate of the University of Michigan and received his doctorate there. He is the author of numerous articles in the Journal of Philosophy and the Philosophical Review. A first lieutenant during World War II, he spent five years in the Army. All second and sixth period classes on Tuesday and Wednesday have been dismissed by the administration. Students who wish to attend the forums which follow the main address may do so upon permission from their academic deans.

Opens Tuesday

The conference will open at 9 a.m. Tuesday morning with an address by Dr. Max Savalle, professor of history at the University of Washington. Dr. Savalle's speech, scheduled for Memorial gymnasium, is titled "The Impact of Public Opinion on World Problems."

Dr. Gordon Sabine, journalism dean at the University of Oregon, will open the afternoon session of the conference with "Public Opinion—How to Keep Well Informed On World Problems." This speech will begin at 2:10 p.m. Tuesday in the Memorial gymnasium.

"The Creation of a Public Opinion That Will Promote Peace" is the topic to be treated by Dr. H. Frederick Peters, noted educator, in the opening session Wednesday morning at 9 a.m. This address will be delivered in the gymnasium.

Hagen Delivers Last Talk

The last main address, scheduled for 2:10 p.m. Wednesday, will be "The Present Status of Public Opinion on World Problems," Ralph Hagen, of the American Institute of Public Opinion, Princeton, New Jersey, will be the featured speaker of the closing meeting.

Each address will be followed by three forums, meeting simultaneously, on the aspects of the addresses. Student representatives and guest speakers will participate on these groups. The latter part of the forums will be de-

I.K.'s Register

A group of Intercollegiate Knights from the University of Utah are shown above as they registered Wednesday afternoon for the national I.K. convention now in progress on the campus. Helping them register are Idaho I.K.'s Bill Ringert, Phil Delt, Delbert Naser, Kappa Sig, and Edward Johnson, ATO.

Ballgames, Banquet, Dance And Elections Make Up Calendar Of Activities

The annual national convention of the Intercollegiate Knights, undergraduate service honorary, brought approximately 130 members of the group to the Idaho campus this week. Registration for the three day meet began Wednesday noon; the convention continues through Saturday.

The convalescence, which drew representatives from 17 western colleges, opened Thursday morning with a welcoming address by Rafe Gibbs, publications editor, and H. E. Lattig, dean of men.

Two new chapters were admitted to the organization in the Thursday meeting. Keith Orme, BYU student and royal knight of the honorary, announced that Westminster college of Salt Lake and Colorado State College of Education were granted membership.

Yesterday's activities ended with a basketball game and a stag party.

Sport Dance Scheduled
A sport dance will highlight the list of activities today for the Intercollegiate Knights. Scheduled for the central ballroom of the SUB, the date dress affair will begin at 9 p.m. The Idaho and WSC chapters of Spurs aided the Knights in planning this event.

A banquet at 6:30 p.m. in the SUB will end an afternoon of committee meetings and reports for the group today.
Saturday morning is the time set aside for the election of the new national officers. A meeting of old and new officers will follow the general assembly Saturday morning.

Schools represented in the convention are College of Puget Sound, Montana School of Mines, Montana State college, Montana State university, Boise Junior college, Westminster college, and the University of Utah.

Utah State college, Brigham Young university, Idaho State college, Humboldt State college, Seattle university, Pacific university, Eastern Oregon college, Eastern Washington College of Education, Central Washington College of Education and Washington State college complete the list.

Committees are now assigned to discuss chapter relations, auditing and finance, publications, expansion, convention sites, uniforms and noblemen.

NEWS DEADLINE
Deadline for church news and society news is 3 p.m. Monday and Thursday afternoons. Your cooperation will be greatly appreciated.

Harmsworth Talks On Marital Needs

"The biggest problem of an individual's marital adjustment is the understanding of personality," Dr. Harry Harmsworth told a group of husbands, wives and students Wednesday evening in the third of a series of discussions on "Living With the Family." Harmsworth indicated in the speech, sponsored by the home economics class in adult education, that he thought an aim in life was a second essential to a happy marriage.

Joan Jansen demonstrated a practical method of home accounting as practiced in the home management house during a discussion of money management.
The fourth and last of these open meetings will be Wednesday night, April 9, at 8 o'clock in the home economics department. Dr. Francis Maib, education department instructor, will discuss the topic "The Family Together." Religion, books and entertainment in the home will be treated at this time.

ENSLEY HEADS TMA
Dick Ensley was elected president of the Town Men's Association last Wednesday night. Other officers chosen were: John Williams, vice president; and Bob DeLeve, secretary-treasurer. The next meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, April 16.

Choules Tells International Committees

Idaho will become cow queen conscious during the week of April 21 through 26 if the newly appointed committees for the annual Little International have anything to say about it. Plans for the yearly event are now being formed under Little International manager, Bill Choules.

John Thomas and Don Mitchell will assist Choules as co-managers. An outline for the livestock show will be presented by these men tonight at an Ag banquet scheduled for the Ad Club at 6:30 p.m. Queen finalists, Adele Thomas, Pat Miller, Betty Anderson, Cecil Gasser, Merlyn Maule, and Nancy Leek, will be guests at the dinner. Bobby Hargis, 1951 Little International Queen will also be a guest of the club.

Other committees and chairmen include programs, Dale Daniels, Howard Sheppard and George Gardner; publicity, Bill Meyer; publications, Don Humble, Bob Park, Carl Gotsch, Owen Aggenbrood, Bud Deerkop; and Howard Sheppard.

Properties will be handled by Richard Westgate, Gerald Ames and Glen Taylor; prizes by Douglas Cook, Dale Everson, Floyd Rowbury and Don Deerkop; features by Bill Ringert.

Buz Hall will direct the Little International parade. Supervising the fitting and showing for the show are Joe Brockway, Bob Park, Ken Farmer, Wayne Durnil, Chuck Schroeder and Bill Little.

ASME To Elect

Election of officers for ASME will be held Monday at 7:15 p.m. in room 121 of the Engineering building.

Pick Up Music

Song leaders pick up your music for the Song Fest as soon as possible. It is at the music building office. Make checks payable to Sigma Alpha Iota.

Elections

Notice is hereby given that the annual spring elections for the ASUI President and Executive Board will be held April 30, 1952. One constitutional amendment will also be voted upon.

Nominations for the office of ASUI President and Executive Board will be received in the ASUI President's office for announcement in the Argonaut to be published on April 8. Announcements of the nominations are to be made at this time since there will be no Argonaut published on Friday, April 11 or Tuesday, April 16, due to spring vacation. However, nominations will be received by the ASUI President until 5 p.m. on April 16 at which time nominations will be closed.

All nominations must be made in accordance with Article VII, Elections, of the ASUI Constitution.

Phi Beta Kappa Names Nineteen

Thirteen University seniors and six juniors were elected this week to the University chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honorary, Dr. Sverre I. Scheldrup, president of the group, revealed.

Seniors accepting membership in the organization include Mrs. Elizabeth Riviere Hudson, Mrs. Elizabeth T. Brown, James DeLeve, William Von Alven, Mrs. Mary Sandaker, Robert Fulmer, Donald Prisky, Mrs. Edith Markeson, Kenneth Keefer, Allen Sharp, Marlene Monroe, Gaylord Andros, and Ralph DeMarr.

Students from the junior class include Harold Gordon, Mrs. Sue Matz, Richard Andrews, Toshio Kaku, Roger Contor, and John Burroughs.

Foresters Conduct Contest In Conjunction With Week

"Your Forests and You" is the title of a contest being sponsored by the Associated Foresters of the University of Idaho for the youth of the state in connection with this week, April 13 to 19.

This contest for the 4-H, Boy Scouts, and F.F.A. members throughout the state was initiated last year in the hope that it would interest young people in carrying out projects in forest, range, and wildlife management. Thus, the adults of the future may practice conservation as a part of their everyday life. The response to the contest last year was encouraging and it is planned to make it a permanent feature of Forestry week.

Awards for the contest will be announced at the annual Forester's banquet, Friday evening, April 18th, in the main ballroom of the SUB. The winners will have their expenses paid to come to the University to participate in the banquet and in the Forestry week activities.

Talks Scheduled

Talks presenting the value and problems of forestry will be given at high schools throughout the state, in a further attempt to reach the young people. Students from the University will give talks at schools in the northern part of the state, and those in the southern part will be spoken to by students from Idaho State college. Films will be shown in connection with the talks.

Forestry week is being proclaimed officially by Gov. Len Jordan. The purpose of the week is to acquaint the people of the state with the value of their forest, range, and wildlife resources, and to make them aware of some of the problems involved in the management of them, according to Bill Luscher, Forestry week publicity chairman.

It is hoped that with this awareness will come a desire to cooperate in working towards the conservation of our natural resources so that as a state we may derive the fullest benefit in goods and services from what we have, he said.

Mining School Men To Leave For Boise

Three members of the School of Mines will leave Sunday for Boise to attend the annual board of directors meeting of the Idaho Bureau of Mines and Geology. Members on the board are, George McDowell, Earl F. Cook, head of the department of geology, and A. W. Fahrenwald, Dean of the school of mines.

Lattig Announces Five Scholarships Awarded In State

Five scholarships to the University of Idaho, amounting to $1,400, have been awarded to Idaho high school seniors this week, Dean H. E. Lattig, director of student affairs, has announced.

The largest award will go to Gene Dickey of Idaho Falls. Dickey will receive $500 given to a University Freshman by the Standard Oil Company of California. The company annually awards a scholarship of $500 to a member of each University class. Planning to major in pre-medicine, Dickey is president of his high school student body. Another scholarship granted by the Standard Oil company will go to Ronald DeLane, Lewiston. The award is for $250.

LaVern Khan, of Twin Falls, has been awarded the Howard and Linnie Shriver scholarship of $150. Khan, active in student affairs and ranking high scholastically, plans to major in chemical engineering at the University.

Two scholarships of $250 each, given by the First Trust & Savings Bank of Moscow, will go to James Kruger, Nampa, and Carol Reisinger, Mountain Home. The scholarships are awarded annually to a high school boy and girl planning to enter the University. Kruger plans to major in law and Miss Reisinger will enter a general course of study.

Dorm Plans Authorized By Regents

President J. E. Buchanan recently outlined the University's long-range dormitory plans with the announcement that the Board of Regents had authorized development of architect's plans for a new women's cooperative dormitory in the $150,000 bracket.

Previously authorized by the regents have been plans for a new men's dormitory and a new women's dormitory, both non-cooperatives. President Buchanan added, however, that there has been no determination when any of these dormitories would be built pending availability of finances and materials.

The long-range plans call for eventual replacement of four dormitories on the campus. They are the Campus club, Idaho club, Pine hall and Ridenbaugh hall. The first three buildings are temporary frame structures, and Ridenbaugh is one of the oldest buildings on the campus. The Campus club is now a cooperative for men and Ridenbaugh is a cooperative

Three of the principal speakers at the University of Idaho's annual Borah Peace conference, April 8 and 9, who will speak on various phases of public opinion are shown above. They are (left to right) Ralph M. Hagen, American Institute of Public Opinion (Gallup Poll), Princeton, New Jersey; Dr. H. Frederick Peters, Reed college, who was founder and, for three years, director of the American Institute at Munich, Germany; and Dr. Gordon A. Sabine, dean of the school of journalism, University of Oregon.

The GOLDEN FLEECE
by Gagon

With only a short time left before it goes on its annual tour (April 15 through 17) the Pep band is supposedly warming up or present music at various high schools in the northern part of the state.

Late Monday afternoon several members of the ASUI Executive Board went to the Music building to review the Pep band program and see just how warm they were. The Board members came away with a chill.

What they heard were concert arrangements of such compositions as "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring" by Bach, "Adagio" by Haydn, "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes", and "Malaguena". There were other numbers like "Go Vandals", "Wings of Victory", and "Silver and Gold." These sounded like the Vandals had already gone, the Wings of Victory were moulting, and the Silver and Gold were tarnished.

No Thrill

A Pep band, complete with piccolos, oboes and flutes should be a red hot aggregation, able to instill a thrill of enthusiasm in even the most staid of listeners. But the people who previewed the program Monday felt that it would lull to sleep even the most savage individuals.

The Executive Board made a recommendation that the Pep band revise its program so that it had a little more oomph. Mr. Hosch, faculty leader of the band, readily agreed to make a change. We certainly hope the change will be drastic, because we wouldn't want a lot of high school students thinking that our University is a tea drinking and chamber music society.

We would like to see the Pep band regain its old vitality and make sounds like a lively organization.

Al Capp decided to change his cartoon strip "Li'l Abner" last week because he believes the American people can no longer be kidded. Capp, who has long used his cartoons to razz American shortcomings, feels that people are becoming so touchy that they only want to hear good things about themselves.

Don't Think

The cartoonist received thousands of letters from his readers, so we presume he knows something of public opinion. It is a sad commentary on the American people's ability to think objectively. They lash out at anything that doesn't look quite right to them. They never stop to think whether they are right or wrong — in fact they don't seem to think.

When Americans learn to think calmly and decide on sensible actions, they will be safe from subversive elements. Until that time they will be thrashing about like the old chicken without a head. The ancient advice about thinking twice before doing something still holds true.

DG-Kappa Corner To Get Stop Signs

Stop signs will be put up on Idaho street, stopping the traffic both ways at Elm street, Tuesday, April 8, University Engineer George Gagon announced today.

The decision to stop traffic at that point — the Delta Gamma-Kappa Gamma corner — was a joint action of the Moscow City Street commission and the University Operations council this week.

During the summer, Idaho is expected to be made a one way street from in the vicinity of Forestry building to Deakin avenue, allowing parking on both sides.

It's Gone

Last Tuesday, April 1, a publication which had apparently been anticipated by many upperclassmen didn't create its annual splash on the campus of the U. of I. The fact of the matter is that the Daily Idanothing and its several predecessors were hacked by the 1950-51 Executive Board.

The Idonothing, many readers will recall, was colorful beyond the standards of a great many pursuers of literature last year. Hence the ban.

The demise of the April Fool's edition has met with comments ranging from "Good riddance" to "How come?"

A woman stopped an Executive Board member near the SUB Wednesday to comment, "Congratulations on not putting out an April Fool's edition." On the other side of the fence, some campus men were heard to grumble when they found there wasn't one. Most coeds were discreetly silent.

April Fool's editions were probably dreamed up with acceptable, if not universally laudable goals in mind. The annual issue undoubtedly provided a healthy outlet for wild imaginations.

The trouble came when the humor involved got out of hand. That ancient question of propriety wasn't carefully considered. April Fool's editions, it seems, have fallen victim to disobedience of Socrates' ancient maxim; Moderation in all things.

Comments From Canada

Some interesting criticism of U. S. foreign policy has lately crossed the Argonaut exchange desk. The Ubysey newspaper of the University of British Columbia has carried several remarks in recent weeks, particularly under a column written by Chuck Coon. Some are presented here without comment for their critical worth:

"... an American magazine predicted World War III would start in 1953 and end in an American victory over Russia. The article begins by saying 'we do not think war is inevitable'."

"It seems to me that the USA is talking itself into going to war against the USSR and all the time pretending she will do everything in her power to prevent war."

"Perhaps Russia has designs on the rest of the world, but if the USA would try to discover why, our southern neighbor would not be so hysterical."

"The best way to make anything, even a war, inevitable, is to believe that it is inevitable."

Presbyterian Choir To Sing 'Requiem' Wednesday Night

"Requiem", by Gabriel Faure, will be presented next Wednesday night, April 9, at 8 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church under the direction of Jean Armour. The choir will be accompanied by an orchestra of 11 strings, trumpet, bassoon and pipe organ.

Alice Bue, well known Moscow soprano and graduate of the University of Idaho music department, will sing the "Pie Jesu" and "In Paradisum." Norman Logan of the University music faculty will sing the baritone solos "Liberia Mo" and "Hostias Et Preces Tibi" from the Offertorium.

Miss Armour, graduate of the University department of music, and the members of the orchestra are hopeful that this presentation will be the first of many for small ensembles. The "Requiem" is written for chorus and orchestra as a complete ensemble and is one of the best examples of this kind of writing.

Orchestra Listed

Members of the orchestra include Eleanor Mader, Inez Hosch, Carl Claus, Harriet Youngblood, Aurora Curran, and Ernestine Gohrband, violins; Arnold Westlund, viola; Miriam Little, Phyllis Everest, and Maurice Ritchey, violoncellos; Francis Jones, bass; Robert Hardesty, trumpet; Kermit Hosch, bassoon, and Hall Macklin, organ.

The Presbyterian church choir includes voices from the community as well as the University. Members are Marguerite Bendal, Alice Bue, Frederic Church, Mary Cornelison, Dan Crummins, Helen Dunn, Wendell Gauger, Caroleigh Gittens, Donald Hart, Grace Hornung, Nancy Hosack, Gale Hungerford, Glen Lockery, Morgan Logan, Hubbard Miller, Naomi Nokes, Warren Prall, Dorothy Richardson, Stapley Shepard, Linda Sizemore, Florence Spiker.

The 12 forums will meet in the Student Union. Students appearing on the forums Tuesday morning are Barbara Greene, Public Opinion and UN Action; Ken Korbner, Public Opinion and the Defense of Europe; and Don Theophilus, Public Opinion and the Postwar Settlement in Asia.

Other Forums

Karl Klages will meet with the guest speakers Tuesday afternoon in forum one, Faculty Information by Press and Radio. Don Hardy, Interpretation by Editor and Commentator; and Sheila Jansen, Education and Propaganda by Schools and Agencies will complete the student list on the Tuesday forums.

Wednesday morning Ken Kyle will appear on the How European Public Opinion is Formed forum; Marvin Jagels on the How Asiatic Public Opinion is Formed; and Frank Shrontz on the How Public Opinion is Formed in the Americas.

Gary Sessions, Edith Kading, and Charles McDewitt will participate in the closing forums Wednesday afternoon. They will treat, Jones US Foreign Policy Reflect Public Opinion?; What Constitutes Public Opinion?; What Constitutes Value of Public Opinion, Polls? respectively.

Conference Attracts Celebrities

The Borah Foundation for the Outlawry of War was established by a grant from S. O. Levinson, Chicago attorney, who admired Senator Borah and his efforts for peace. The conference annually attracts noted speakers and visitors to the University.

Margaret Trefren, Ann Tremaine, Dean Vanderwall, and Ruth Vanderwall.

The program is part of the First Presbyterian Holy week series and is open to the public without charge or offering.

DEAR JASON

BEANIES

Dear Jason: Germany had its Hitler Youth; Italy, its Black Shirts; now it appears that Idaho is going to have its Beanie Brigade. Have we reached the stage where the only way to control the freshmen is to regiment them?

Let's look at the supposed purpose of the Beanies. Quoting from a statement in the last issue of the Argonaut, "The cap worn by all freshmen will be silver and gold and decorated with the student's name—so that they may be identified and aided by upperclass students." Identified by whom and for what purpose—are they such rare individuals? Is this to be a means of helping the freshmen adapt themselves to University life?

Now I ask you, has anyone ever been aided in making himself part of a new group or in becoming adapted to a new situation by being tagged as a neophyte? Theoretically this may be a good idea but in practice it very seldom works. The newcomers are looked down upon, heckled, and made the brunt of many jokes or pranks because the veterans of the situation know that they can put something over on the newcomer. Instead, the sooner that the individual can be made to feel that he is part of the group, the sooner he feels at ease in the situation and becomes a useful part of our University.

There seems to be a basic philosophy on this campus that the students are children, like a bunch of sheep that need to be led and shown the way. That they need to be hovered over and guided every step along the path. This was brought out quite clearly to me last fall when I took a carload of five girls to Boise over Thanksgiving. These girls were afraid that we would not get back to Moscow by 11:00 p.m. on the evening before classes started. Their fears, they informed me, were founded on a ruling which stated that for every five minutes that they were late between 11:00 and 12:00 p.m. they would be given a campus. If they should get back after 12:00 p.m., they would not be let into the house, they could not stay in a hotel in Moscow, but they would have to stay in Lewiston or elsewhere. They seemed to have the feeling that this was an absolute rule to be administered without any consideration of the individual case. What if we had a flat tire or some other unforeseen thing happened that would not permit us to get back in time? There is no logical reason why these girls should not have been permitted into their quarters under such circumstances. Yet they were under the impression that no reasonable judgement would be exercised.

This certainly demonstrates a lack of respect and confidence in perfectly decent people.

If I seem to have gotten off the track it is because I feel that this beanie issue is just a part of a much bigger one—the regimentation and shielding of the students. It is time that we let the students at the University of Idaho act with the reason and judgement that a college student is capable of. We are supposed to be building men and women capable of solving our world problems. Are we?

They can't make anyone buy beanies. Furthermore, they can't make them wear them without regimentation. Do they plan to have a formation and roll call every morning to make sure that the freshmen have on their beanies? Are we going to take a step backwards by returning to hazing? I appeal to reason and mature judgment—let's not lose one more bit of freedom. I'm sure that the veterans of the Korean war are going to love this new form of college initiation.

If you must have beanies, I have a much better use for them. Let the faculty wear them so that the freshmen will be able to discern them from the upperclassmen. It would let the neophyte know to whom to turn when he has a problem or a question to ask. He could then be completely relieved of the need to think. Our goal would then be accomplished.

For freedom, I am— Sincerely yours, Ken Knoerr.

Dear Jason, What has happened to the Argonaut as an outlet for student opinion? To my mind, some very vital and controversial issues transcending the usual level of college thought were presented by the last Argonaut, yet Jason hastily states that "the Argonaut considers the issue closed." It is the duty of Jason to explain himself to his readers. How is the issue closed? Who gave Jason authority to close an issue that was never open? Can students still freely express themselves through their student newspaper?

Undoubtedly there is some good reason for Jason making his statement, but the impression left in this reader's mind was that it was an attempt to plug up a possible leakage of student opinion on freedom of thought.

There are constant reminders facing anyone who cares to use his eyes and ears that today we Americans are becoming more and more and more subject to the hushed finger and the timid look which accompanies the idea of questioning authority.

There is a pitiful lack of intelligent controversy on this campus.

It is even more pathetic if a student newspaper declines to encourage criticism of any American aspect of life.

Sincerely, Whitman Symmes

Editor's Note: If you will remember, Mr. Symmes, the students' viewpoint was presented in the last issue of the Argonaut. The main reasons we printed that representative letter were to give the students a chance to sound off on what they thought, and to give both sides of a story.

The whole thing boils down to what is known as ethics of journalism. Both sides were given a chance to speak their piece, and no further discussion in this newspaper is deemed necessary. If a book had been banned, there would have been something to talk about. There is no need to create an issue over something that does not exist. A newspaper also has a duty not to give its readers misconceptions. The days of muck-raking journalism became unpopular many years ago, and we do not intend to revive it.

Incidentally, we understand that "Brave New World" is having a record run in the library. Perhaps if we started rumors that all texts were to be banned, there might be a big wave of studying.

COLLEGIANS STAY MARRIED
College marriages turn out much better than high school marriages because those who go to college tend to be better adjusted socially, according to Professor Merton D. Oyer, director of the marriage counseling clinic at Ohio State university.

"Hey," yelled the devil to the new arrival, "you act as if you owned the place!"
"I do," came the reply, "My wife gave it to me before I died."

Frish: Why did you cut the sleeve out of your overcoat?
Senior: So I could put it on without shifting my books.

In an attempt to make progress towards a better system of education, the University of Arkansas is giving full credit to seniors who are taking freshman courses. Certain science courses are being simplified for non-technical students.

WOMEN CAN BE LIBERAL

As the trend towards complete equality between sexes continues, there would seem little reason for thinking that women do not need a liberal education just as much as men do, according to Dr. Andrew Truxal, president of Hood college, Md.

Hays Coeds Put On April 1 Program And Thetas Have "Paddle Breakfast"

Hays hall women entertained their hashers at a shower Tuesday evening. Bruce Stucki and the Kitchen Korus added to the program with a rendition of "April Showers." Theta "little sisters" prepared early morning Sunday breakfast for juniors and seniors. It was the traditional "paddle breakfast."

Bud Lawson was elected to the presidency of the The house at a recent chapter meeting.

Kappa Alpha Theta

Early Sunday morning juniors and seniors were awakened by their little sisters and taken to the traditional "paddle breakfast." Paddles were used as place cards for the breakfast which was prepared by each girl's little sister.

Stanton Tate was a Sunday dinner guest. Nove Martell was a guest at the house over the weekend.

Joyce Fisher and her parents were guests of honor at a surprise fireside given after Miss Fisher's recital. A skit was presented by the junior girls at this time.

Wednesday dinner guests were Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Cone, Miss Betts, Miss Rowe, and Norma Cox, Phi Delta Theta.

Wednesday evening Sheila Jansen, Jean Trowbridge, Mrs. W. P. Lehrer were guests at the chapter house for dinner.

Hays Hall

A surprise shower in honor of the hashers was given Tuesday evening. Dinner was followed by a short program in which both groups participated. The program was climaxed by a realistic rendition of "April Showers" by Bruce Stucki and the Kitchen Korus.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

Bud Lawson, recently elected to serve as president, will be assisted by vice president, Moire Charters; secretary, Gerry Riggers; and treasurer, Bob Ziemer. Other officers are Herb Kilkins, historian, Bill Wilkinson, scholarship; Alan Johnson, sergeant at arms; and Jerry Markuson, pledge trainer. Formal installation of officers will be held on Monday.

Larry Olsen of the Westminster college at Salt Lake City, Utah, is residing at the chapter house during the IK convention.

Delta Gamma

A house exchange, held with Delta Tau Delta Sunday afternoon, was spent with dancing and card playing. Tom Hennessey entertained the group with songs and guitar numbers. Buster Francis, teamed up with Tom, sang a rendition of "Old Ship."

The annual initiation dance will be staged in the chapter house Saturday evening.

Beta Theta Pi

Bruce Harvey and Bob Cole, IK's from Boise, are weekend guests at the house.

The frosh and sophomores played the upperclassmen in the annual inter-house softball game. The upperclassmen skinned by with a narrow victory.

Forney Hall

Mary Hanson, Sharon Wright, and Dwight Patton were dinner guests at the hall recently.

LaVila Welsh, Bruneau, and Pat Pell of Grangeville, were weekend guests.

Plans are underway for a dinner dance April 26, according to Marilyn Tolts, general chairman.

Phi Kappa Tau

Dick Wallace, Domain Chief of the fraternity, was a guest for dinner Monday.

Larry Hyer, social chairman, has announced plans for a dinner exchange with the Alpha Phi's unday, and arrangements for the annual spring formal, April 25.

Lambda Chi Alpha

Steve Au, Hawaii; Bob Bylund, Hardin, Montana; Bob Brown, Hillsboro, Oregon; and Larry Schmauder, Davenport, Washington, are guests of Lambda Chi Alpha this weekend. They are attending the Intercollegiate Knights convention, all except for Schmauder, who is a delegate to the Future Farmers of America meeting.

Will Hayaski, Hawaii, Bill Gray, Newberg, Oregon; and Milt Johnson, Eugene, Oregon, were guests Wednesday evening. They are delegates to the IK convention from Pacific university at Forest Grove, Oregon.

Another guest was Bob Hunter from the University of Oregon.

Infirmary

Admitted to the infirmary this week were Mary Briggs, Curt Mattson, George Leopold, and Robert Hanson. Berthil Johnson, Duane Forney, Virginia Holland, Willard Choules, George Leopold, and Patricia Trash were discharged from the infirmary this week.

"Hello, is this the city bridge department?"

"Yes, what can we do for you?"

Pest Controllers Annual Meeting Ends On Campus

Guarding stored wheat and grain from insect contamination was the subject of the closing session Wednesday afternoon of the three-day Pacific northwest pest control operators convention here. Approximately 75 operators attended the discussions.

Representatives of the Pacific Northwest Grain Dealers association were present at the final session for a technical identification of insects involved in contamination and methods of keeping grain clean for consumption, discussed by the two groups.

The pest control group selected Corvallis, Oregon, as the site for the 1953 convention with Oregon State college as host.

Aiding with preparations for the third annual convention were Earl Shull, Moscow, outgoing president, Dr. H. C. Manis, Dr. William Barr, Ronald Fortman, and Dr. G. O. Baker, University faculty members. Entomologists from Washington State college and Oregon State college also participated in the sessions.

Included on the agenda for the conclave, which began at the University Monday morning, were panel discussions and reports on various phases of pest control, insect identifications, procedure discussions, and election of new officers.

A banquet and dance was held Tuesday night for representatives and their wives in the Ad club with Claude Snow, Portland, the newly elected president, as master of ceremonies. Various social events were provided for visiting wives of delegates.

Gilbert Is Named Regents Treasurer

Mrs. Margaret Gilbert, Boise, recently appointed treasurer of the State of Idaho by Governor Len Jordan to fill the unexpired term of the late Mrs. Lela D. Painter, has been named treasurer of the Regents of the University of Idaho, President J. E. Buchanan of the University said recently. Mrs. Gilbert was elected to the post by the regents as permitted by the Idaho Code.

Students Make Preparations For 23rd Annual Ag Show

Students of the college of agriculture will be competing for cups and ribbons again at the University's 26th Little International show during the week of April 21 to 26. Bill Meyer, publicity chairman for the Ag men pointed out that the primary purpose of this show is to learn rather than win. "Many believe that the time a student spends in preparation for the contest is of more lasting value than the time spent in class," Meyer said.

The first show was held in 1923 as a supplement to practical courses. In 1922, the students were doing an excellent job of fitting and showing farm animals and decided to stage a competitive show of draft horses.

This initial show met with such success that a larger show followed the next year. In 1923, students fitted and showed beef cattle, dairy cattle, horses, swine, sheep, and poultry. This show was patterned after Chicago's International Livestock exposition and Portland's Pacific International. It had judging classes, outside judges for fitting and showing, a parade with floats, and exhibition booths.

In the interim, more judging and identification contests have been added until all the 13 agricultural departments are represented. Another addition is the annual election of a queen and her court. These coeds are selected from the various living groups and elected by members of the Ag club, sponsor of the show.

Past show managers have, in general, made a name for themselves. R. E. Everly, the first student manager, is now owner of the Everly Livestock Export company and former manager of Carnation Farms at Seattle. Wade Wells is now assistant animal husbandman with the extension service for the University of Idaho; Russ Glad-

Radio Center Tells University's Story

By Charles Oldham

"The University of Idaho is on the air for long, however, and the of the announcers of the various shows produced at the Radio center. The center acquaints the state with the various activities and happenings of interest here at the University."

The University hasn't been on the air for long, however, and the story of the development of the Radio center is a comparatively new one.

Radio as a part of the University got its first big boost with the hiring of a full time technician in 1949. At that time radio was under the direction of the electrical engineers and technical ends were primarily stressed. Classes in radio production and allied fields were handled separately by the speech, dramatic and journalism departments.

Radio came into its own in the summer of 1951 when the various radio services were transferred to the department of humanities. Here were collected the many and varied courses which now could be taught under one roof and made into an integrated curriculum under a department concerned with radio.

This new sub-division of the speech department is now housed in the Radio center building just south of temporary classroom building number two. Here, under the direction of Robert Tracy, formerly of the department of radio-television of the University of Southern California, the many and varied courses in radio are carried on.

Leon P. Lind is the technician in charge of recording and broadcasting techniques. Carl Burns of the journalism department teaches courses in radio advertising and news writing. Edmund Chavez of drama department teaches the skills involved in radio acting.

The work done at the Radio center is two-fold. First they try to acquaint the state of Idaho with the activities here on the campus, and what is being done of interest in the different departments of the University. At the present time the Radio center is releasing to the twenty-two radio stations of the state programs of interest about the University.

Archie Harney of the agriculture department has a daily program on agriculture. Ken Hunter of the athletic department has a program on the doings in athletics which is released weekly. The most prominent program is "Here We Have Idaho", formerly the "Voice of the Vandal." Other programs are planned as soon as trained student personnel can be obtained to write, produce and act in the programs.

The second purpose of the center is training in radio work. The department trains students to help prepare broadcasts to the state, to enter the field of radio as a career, to use radio as a hobby, or merely to expose themselves to some of the cultural advantages of radio. Here courses in both the technical and the production end of radio is taught.

The radio center is not standing still and resting on its merits. It is preparing for the future. To stimulate interest among students a radio play group is being formed. Any student interested is urged to contact Mr. Tracy at Radio center.

Radio center is also investigating the possibilities of television. It hopes to be able to release programs that either are filmed or placed on tape by a newly perfected process in the near future. The operation of a television station is not planned at the present time. However, the University has been assigned a frequency if it should decide to start broadcasting. The center hopes to be able to offer courses in TV for the first time next year.

Radio center is keeping in step with the times and the growth of the University.

Foreign Service Exams Announced

Applications for officer appointments, class six, of the Foreign Service are now being accepted from men and women, college seniors or juniors whose interests lie in the field of foreign affairs, and who are at least 20 years of age. Application forms may be obtained by writing to the Board of Examiners for the Foreign Service, Department of State, Washington 25, D. C. They must be returned to the Board of Examiners not later than July 1.

Class six is the level at which the typical Foreign Service officer starts his career. The starting salary for the officer entering the Service directly from college ranges from approximately $4,000 to $5,000, depending upon age and experience. Sixty-five per cent of the ambassadors and other chiefs of missions in the diplomatic service today have risen from the ranks of career Foreign Service officers.

Between 200 and 300 young men and women will be selected from this year's applicants under recently liberalized entrance qualifications. It is no longer a requirement of appointment that officers be proficient in a foreign language.

Competitive examinations will be held September 8 to 11 of this year. Candidates selected for class six appointments must pass written, oral, and physical examinations.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 37...THE SWORDFISH

"They had me fencing with fancy facts!"

They crossed swords with the wrong man when they engaged this swashbuckling senior in combat! At first, he was foiled by the tricky, "one-puff" . . . "one-sniff" cigarette mildness tests. But he parried their thrusts with this gleaming sword of logic: The only way you can judge mildness is by steady smoking. That's the true test of cigarette mildness!

It's the sensible test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke, on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why . . .

After all the Mildness Tests . . .

Trackmen Face Whitworth In Tomorrow's Inaugural

Idaho track and field men open the 1952 outdoor season this Saturday when they host the Whitworth thinclads on the Neale stadium cinderpath. For the Vandals it will be the first dual meet of the year, whereas the Pirates were swamped last week by Washington State at Pullman, 110-10.

Despite intermittent rain and bles, the baseball season is just around the corner. In two weeks, everyone from the sandlots of Fondunk to Brooklyn's Ebbets Field will be on hand to cheer their favorite player on.

The University of Idaho Vandals have been in the swing of things for the past three weeks and they open the season this coming Wednesday against Whitman college at MacLean field. Two seven-inning games will be played with the Missionaries.

Seattle university, with cage-great Johnny O'Brien, will play a pair of games in the Vandal ball-yard the next day, April 10. Following the Seattle tussle, the Idaho nine will travel to Walla Walla for a double header against Whitman April 11, and an April 12 contest with the Walla Walla penitentiary nine.

Following these pre-season tilts, Idaho will take a six day rest before opening the conference season against the Huskies April 18, 19. The first northern division loop contest at home will be with Buck Bailey's Cougars April 23.

The Vandals chances of playing a return match with the Walla Walla field look rather slim. Three years ago the penitentiary nine set out on a four game tour of the area and there has been no word from them since. Perhaps this will turn out to be the longest number of consecutive innings of baseball in the history of the sport.

Looking at their record, however, a person must show a little respect for the brig nine as a hustling squad. Since their debut into the diamond sport, they have led the country every season in stolen bases. Last season the Walla Walla nine was battling with an all-star squad when the visitors' center fielder blasted one over the fence. Seven hustling Walla Walla players took over the fence after the spheroid, and they are still looking for it.

Schober Has Lead For Tennis Berths

With a semblance of spring weather gracing the Vandal campus, Coach Eric Kirkland's net squad is shaping up in fine style for the ensuing season.

Including Wednesday's matches in the tally, the tennis ladder for determining Kirkland's match quintet finds John Schober leading the field.

- Here is the first five:
1. John Schober
 2. Max Nunenkamp
 3. Bob Zimmerman
 4. Jim Townsend
 5. Bill Mahlik

Results of Wednesday's matches: John Schober defeated Bob Zimmerman, 6-4. Max Nunenkamp defeated Mark Smith, 6-4. Nunenkamp whipped Fred Thompson, 6-4. Bill Mahlik topped Dwight Klein, 6-1. Jim Townsend defeated Jim Richardson, 7-5. Larry Sandmeyer whipped Jim Richardson, 6-4.

The scene is in the general offices of a large metropolitan daily. The city editor, an efficient, business-like lady, is seated at her desk. All the office force are women; the composing room foreman is an Amazonian-type female, and advertising, layout, circulation, all duties around the paper are handled by women. Suddenly the door to the private office bursts open, and in rushes a young lady with a handful of copy in her hand. She lays it quickly on the editor's desk and stands at attention: The "editor-ess" glances at the copy, then at the girl reporter. "When did this occur?" the editor asks. "Thirty minutes ago," the girl replies. "Too old," the editor snaps, and

Idaho Chances Good Semi-Finals Tonight

Vandals Cop Sixth In Intercollegiate Ski Championships

In the Intercollegiate championship ski meet held at Stevens Pass, Washington, this last weekend, the Vandal slopsiders finished sixth in a field of ten teams. Although the AP reports had the Vandals in last place, it was only because four of the teams did not complete the required events. Other entrants in the tourney included WSC, University of Washington, Seattle university, Whitman, Montana State university, University of Alaska, College of Puget Sound, and Wenatchee Junior college. The teams finished in that order with Idaho immediately trailing Montana.

In the individual standings, team captain John Harrington placed fourth in a field of 45 in the slalom and 13th in the downhill run. Bill Mary finished ninth in the cross country race and Dave Fellin captured 13th in the jumping events.

This competition concluded the Vandal's schedule for this year. With the exception of Dave Fellin, the entire team will return next season and, according to Coach Harold Davey, should be strengthened considerably by some new men.

Hell Divers

Hell Divers meeting next Monday night will open with swimming at 7:00. Following at 8:00 will be Gem pictures. After the pictures, there will be a short business meeting. It is important that all act directors and committee heads for the water show be present at the meeting.

Intramural

Intramural softball got underway last Tuesday with the TKE's hanging a lopsided defeat of 18-3 on SAE. DTD dropped the PKT nine by a one-sided score of 13-4. PGD squeezed by KS with a 5-4 victory and DC took a 7-0 win over LDS. PDT edged SN in a 13-11 decision and SC coasted to a 18-9 victory over DSP.

Softball games scheduled for Wednesday, April 2, were postponed to April 28 because of wet grounds.

Games slated for the first three days of next week are:
Mon., April 7 Field
SC vs. BTP-1
CC vs. WSH-2
LH vs. CH-3
WSH 2 vs. PH-4
LH 2 vs. CH 2

WSH 2 vs. CC 1-4
PH 1 vs. CH 2-5

Three Vandal boxers qualified for tonight's semi-finals at the NCAA boxing championships at Madison. Lynn Nichols gave Idaho fans something to cheer about when he turned in an upset win over Jerry Stern of San Jose State. Stern beat Nichols out of a Pacific Coast crown by one point several weeks ago.

Frank Echevarria started on his way to a national title with a win over Bill Lewis of Howard college. Verl King lost to Tom Keys of Gonzaga for the second time this year. Larry Moyer drew a bye in yesterday's preliminary matches. Michigan State, defending team champion, sent five men into the semi-finals as did Wisconsin and Gonzaga. Idaho, Idaho State, Miami and LSU qualified three men each. WSC and San Jose each got two boxers.

Pairings for tonight:
112 pounds—Ray Kuboyama, Hawaii, vs. Stoltz, Miami; O'Ryan, Minnesota, vs. Vic Kobe, Idaho State.
116—Smith, Gonzaga, vs. Echevarria, Idaho; Hennessy, Wisconsin, vs. Marino, Penn State.

Baseballers Defeat WSC In Practice

Idaho baseballers beat Buck Bailey's ball club by a brace of runs yesterday afternoon in Pullman, 6 to 4, in a four-inning practice tilt. Two freshman chuckers, Dick Dodel and Harlan Melton, worked the practice affair for Idaho. Jerry Ogle was on the receiving end.

Coach Chuck Finley's infield looked strong with George Huffman at third, brother Earl Huffman at shortstop, Mel Brown at the keystone, and Flip Kieffer at first. The outfield complement had H. A. Butler in right, Riggie Frazier in center and Bob Huffman in the left forty.

Washington State utilized the services of four pitchers. Another practice tilt is scheduled for Monday.

No-Hitter Registered In IM Softball Play

Don Powell of ATO registered a no-hitter over Sigma Nu in yesterday's softball action. Although only a two-inning contest, since ATO hammered out a 15-0 victory, Powell whiffed four men and threw out the other two on weak grounders.

Kappa Sigma counted three runs in the seventh to outlast TKE, 11-9, in another of the six contests played. Other games found Phi Delta Theta whipping Lambda Chi Alpha, 11-6; Delta Tau Delta trouncing Delta Chi, 17-2, in six frames; and SAE bowing to Phi Kappa Tau, 22-13, in a slugfest.

PGD and LDS played to a 3-3 deadlock in eight innings before darkness halted the battle. The game will be played off at the end of the season.

Explained In Detail

The Glenville Mercury, Glenville State college, W. Va., takes nothing for granted on the part of its readers.

Last week it declared: "Total full-time student enrollment has increased from 322, the first semester total, to 332, the second semester total. This represents a net gain of 10 students over the first semester enrollment."

In these days of uncertainties the only thing you can count on is your fingers.

The amazing height of Remington Feeny

Remington Feeny's money went to his feet. Being extremely cautious, he hid his money in his shoes so he could always keep it with him. By the time he was 48, he was nine feet tall. Money can be used to grow on, but not necessarily by Mr. Feeny's method. For instance, more than 1,100,000 people have shown their faith in the future of the Bell Telephone System by investing their money in it. About one-fifth of them are Bell employees who bought stock through a payroll savings plan. It takes both money and people to keep the Bell System growing and improving to meet our country's telephone needs. That's why college men with the right qualifications can find interesting opportunities with us—in engineering, research, operating and administration. Your campus placement office will be glad to give you more information.
