The GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

To be quite honest with you, this writer had visions of the campus being ripped to shreds by those 3,400 high school students who were on campus last week-end. However, happily enough, the wreckage did not materialize.

As a group, those students acted with miraculous courtesy, and were well behaved. When more than 3,000 visitors can spend three days at a place without a major misbehavior, we think it's wonderful.

Then too, we couldn't help but notice how smoothly the whole music festival was conducted. The people who planned and worked on the affair are to be commended for a fine job.

No Panic

And a final point of interest—were college students went through the entire invasion without a single case of panic. Might have been a couple of new ulcers formed, a nerve or two frayed, and a few bloodshot eyes—but in general the casualties were remarkably few.

In case you haven't heard, there will be no Argonaut published this Friday. Why? Well, the journalism students at the University have been invited to put out the Friday edition of the Idaho Daily Statesman at Boise.

Since many of the people on the Argonaut staff are journalism students something had to give—so the Argonaut will be anchored in port until next Tuesday. Sit tight on those scoops until we get back.

A professor at Ohio State University feels that both dating and good grades are a part of normal living for the well-adjusted modern student.

The professor, who has something to do with a marriage clinic at that school, thinks that dating is necessary to prepare for life and that dating is a normal function of growing up.

Those who date, he says, make better grades because the dates fulfill certain desires which tend to reduce worry and feelings of inferiority. Dating affords both social and intellectual experience.

Hot Damn! We knew there was some reason for coming to college.

Foresters Elect McGill President

Tom McGill was recently elected president of the Associated Foresters for the coming year.

Other officers include Roger Bay, vice president; Howard Chadwick, secretary; Bob Oehmcke, treasurer; and Lawrence Johnson, ranger.

Roger Bay was also appointed editor of next year's Idaho Forester and Delmar Vail was chosen to head Forestry Week activities. Class representatives for the coming year are Phil Menges and D. A. Andrews, senior class; Dave Parsons and Wilfred Goddard, junior class; and Bill Wallace and Marvin Newell, sophomore class.

Life On Campus Returns To Normal As High School Musicians Depart

Moscow took its place as a thriving metropolis Thursday, Friday and Saturday and then settled back to a dull roar as 3400 Idaho high school music students came and went. Strains of orchestras, bands, vocal solos, and choruses kept the University campus buzzing during the Idaho State Music festival.

Many students all over the campus gave up beds and bedding to accommodate the visitors. Both the Women's and Memorial gyms were transposed to dormitories, and Pine hall was converted to house some 600 young people (of the opposite sex to which it is accustomed.)

Color by the carloads was added as the high school students swarmed over the campus. Most any time of the day, as collegiates were trying to keep their minds on their studies, they were interrupted by bursts of music from the impromptu concerts occurring frequently around the campus lawns.

Choirs, or parts of choirs, in their colorful robes were seen walking from one meeting place to the other.

Crescent Girl Finalists

No Argonaut This Friday As Staff Goes To Boise

No Argonaut will be published this Friday, because 20 journalism students, including most of the staff members, will be in Boise working on the Friday morning issue of the Boise Daily Statesman.

Idaho Delegates Plan Busy Week

Representatives from the University will be guests at various functions this week at Orofino, Lewiston, and Grangeville.

Dean Louise Carter will address the American Association of University Women, seniors, and their mothers at the Orofino high school tea this week. Erlene Clyde will also attend and will talk about the part women play in student body government and possibilities in home economics.

Friday Marilyn Evans will speak on business education at the Mother's Day tea at Lewiston high school while Greta Beck will talk on Greek-letter living and Erlene Clyde will speak on AWS.

On May 16 Mrs. J. E. Buchanan, Dean Carter, Miss Margaret Ritchey and Greta Beck will travel to Grangeville to talk at the high school to senior students and their mothers on opportunities at the University. Mrs. Len Jordan will also attend the Grangeville session.

FOR ARMED FORCES PARADE

Any living groups or organizations wishing to participate in the Armed Forces Day parade are to call ORC, 2218. All Korean veterans are asked to do the same.

Class A, Twin Falls; Class B, Emmett, Burley; Class C, Kimberly and Payette-Fruitland. III ratings were awarded to Meridian, South Fremont and Weiser in Class B; Filer, Salmon and Teton of Driggs in Class C and Oakley in Class D.

Baton twirling teams were moved into the field house for their competitions, because of the bad weather, instead of performing on the campus lawn as previously scheduled. Kellogg received the I rating in the baton twirling teams contest; Sandpoint and Meridian, II ratings; and Filer, Emmett, Nampa, Rupert and Lewiston, III ratings.

A steady drizzle did its best to mar the final performance of the marching bands at Recreation park, Saturday night, but in spite of it, 15 bands marched on. The crowd of onlookers was estimated at 500 inside the park, but hundreds more were seen on the sidewalks. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Dedication Of Building Is Final Act

The University of Idaho's department of music, founded in 1893, officially occupied a major, new brick building on the campus Saturday. The $600,000, three-story collegiate-Gothic structure, replacing frame buildings occupied for more than a half-century by the department, was dedicated by Judge W. F. McNaughton, Coeur d'Alene, president of the Board of Regents. His dedicatory address was his last as a regent as he is retiring this week.

Pointing out that all buildings which have been erected at the University are an investment in youth and its future, Judge McNaughton said that "I don't know how the money put up by the people of the state for this Music building could have been better invested." He added:

Not By Bread Alone

"Man does not live by bread alone. Music is food for the spirit, and, if more persons knew and understood music, a lot of psychiatrists would be out of business."

"I have long been intrigued by the membership of the University's Vandaleers choral group. The members year after year come from virtually every division of the University, and that is good because it means the University is turning out well-rounded graduates."

"During my time as a regent we have had a notable building program at the University—notable for its magnitude and scope. It has been a balanced program, for it has included buildings for both technology and the fine and liberal arts."

Interpretive Dance

Coronation of Miss June Carr as May Queen for 1952 will begin the annual May Fete program Saturday afternoon in front of the Administration building, weather permitting. Hyde Jacobs, ASUI president, will officially crown Miss Carr. In case of rain the program will take place in Memorial gymnasium.

May Queen

June Carr, Forney hall senior, will reign as May Queen over May Fete festivities Saturday afternoon. She will be crowned by ASUI President Hyde Jacobs.

Lambda Chi Men Reveal Finalists

Five University coeds have been announced as finalists for the 1952 Idaho Lambda Chi Alpha Crescent girl by members of the fraternity.

Ruth Vedder, Forney; Ferol Smith, Pi Beta Phi; Geraldine Emison, Delta Delta Delta; Emily Christie, Alpha Phi, and Barbara Taylor, Hays, have been selected finalists by judges Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Korter, Mr. and Mrs. F. N. McCowan, and Mr. and Mrs. R. Goldblum of Moscow.

The 1952 Idaho Crescent Girl will be elected from the finalists by members of the chapter. She will be crowned and will reign at a formal dance Friday evening. Ray Cox and his orchestra are playing the "Sweetheart of Lambda Chi" theme.

The Idaho Crescent Girl will be a candidate for the national Lambda Chi fraternity queen. By a picture contest, the girl elected will be grand Crescent Girl at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel in New York City later this summer.

Orchesis Dance Groups Will Present Program

The Orchesis and pre-Orchesis modern dance groups, under the direction of Miss Patricia Rowe, are presenting their annual spring program in the Administration building auditorium, Friday and Saturday, May 9 and 10, at 8 p. m.

The West 1952 has been chosen as the theme for this year's program which will consist of numbers centered around the different phases of life in the West, such as social, educational, political and religious life.

With the emphasis on student composition, almost every member of orchesis has had some opportunity to put his or her choreographic abilities to work in this presentation.

Light Number
The rather light educational number was composed by Diana Jennings, with some variations by the three other members in the group.

Interpretive Dance
The first selection in this group, "We'll find the place which God for us prepared," was choreographed by Carol Peterson and Phyllis Payne. Barbara Nikcevic and Lou Ann Carlson prepared the second dance which is based on Indian rhythms. "We have been chosen," the third in this group, was arranged by Willard Kimerling and is based on a search for a religious leader. Barbara Nikcevic composed the lost, "Lay down our sins." The movements in this dance are of a spirited and moving quality.

Lighter Program
The program becomes lighter with the next number which is to be presented by the pre-Orchesis group. This dance satirizes our present American dilemma over the selection of a new presidential candidate. "We're going West tomorrow," is the longest number in the program and has for its background a dramatic theme. It was choreographed by Barbara Nikcevic, Don Rydrwch and the Orchesis director, Miss Rowe. This dance is based on the problems confronting a young couple who decide to move to the West where their lives become radically altered.

Bachelors Face Pitfalls To Keep Single Status

Editor's note: This literary offering was stolen from the Utah State Agricultural college "Student Life." Mac Gardner, its author, must be a brave man. A bachelor, as defined by our friend, Webster, is simply an unmarried man. In other words, he has been very lucky in love, and has never made the same mistake once. A bachelor has also been described as a man who puts his socks on from either end, and a man who has no children—to speak of.

However, in the final analysis, the best definition yours truly has come across in his long years of research is this one: "A bachelor is a selfish, callous, underspeaking man who has cheated some worthy woman out of a divorce." Whatever the definition, it will still revolve around the ceremony at the altar called marriage.

With an eye to this, we now delve deeper into the subject, starting first with why a man should not get married. In Salt Lake City the other day, a man on his way to be married was held up and chloroformed. Later on he came to his senses. And it's easy to see why. He was on his way to a wedding, a ritual which has been described as a funeral where a man spends his own flowers. Then comes marriage. For further enlightenment on this we call into play some deft bits of philosophy spoken by bachelors unknown throughout the ages.

Marriage Is Blind Institution

1. Marriage is an institution. Therefore, marriage is an institution for the blind. (2) All men are born equal. Marriage, as an institution, comes somewhat later. (3) Most marriages are 50-50 propositions. 50 per cent of the time she talks, and the other 50 per cent of the time he listens. (Thanx, Dan Valentine). (4) The modern girl would rather mend a fellow's ways than his socks. (5) Modern women have been tried and found wanting. . . . everything under the sun. (6) Old version: love, cherish and inspire. New version: love, nourish and perspire. However, there is one thing to be said in favor of marriage. It's the only life sentence that is suspended for bad behavior.

The present day situation is making it harder than ever for bachelors to stay that way. Women are making their presence felt everywhere — in industry, in science, in business, in the armed services and, Heaven help us, even as barbers in the hair-clipping profession.

Men Outnumbered

We men are being outnumbered, too. A recent article in the Saturday Evening Post says there are 100 women to every 98.1 men in this country. Another Post fact: There are 15 million single males in the United States, and of this total, three million are confirmed bachelors. Now here's the rub. The latter sum is about the same as that for spinsters, or unmarried women. But, the women get pity, the men get you-know-what for living the way they do.

Thus it has come through history, thus it will probably be for eons to come. In ancient Greece the bachelor was ridiculed, privately tortured, and was not allowed to witness the gymnastic exercises of the maidens. Ouch! In Rome, and even today, a single man is taxed much heavier than a married man.

Courageous Bachelor

Yet, courageous against fearful odds, the bachelor moves on. Overcoming women, custom, con-hundreds of others looked on from near-by automobiles.

Most Successful

Music directors throughout the state were unanimous in their belief that the 1952 State Music Festival was the most successful in history.

Charles Bond of the University's Student Counseling center headed a staff which handled housing of the music groups on the campus and in Moscow homes. Assisting him were members of the sophomore class, members of the Spurs, Intercollegiate Knights, and Blue Key.

Assisting in the general operation of the festival events were the music staff of the University, graduates students, and advanced undergraduates in the music department. Special duties were covered by Phi Mu, Alpha-Sinfonia, men's national music fraternity, Sigma Alpha Iota, women's national music sorority, and the Idaho student chapter of Music Educators National conference.

Hall Macklin, head of the University music department, and Francis Nonini, principal of Moscow high school, acted as co-managers of the festival. Don Wilson, secretary of the Moscow Chamber of Commerce aided them.

Ann Harding. It is an abstract dance based on western themes. The last number is very light and gay. Many rodeo roping, square, and barn dance movements have been incorporated in this dance. The music for this particular number is Alan Copeland's "Hoe Down."

With this type of a program with numbers varying from the light to the serious, there should be something that will appeal to every member of the audience. Tickets for the program can be purchased at the Women's gym, the Bookstore, Owl Drug store, or from representatives in the various houses.

Forestry Students Return from Utah

Ken Knorr, Frank Beitia, and Dave Fellin represented Idaho's Associated Foresters last month at Utah State college in Logan, Utah. Student delegates were from Montana State university, Utah state college, Washington State college, University of California, and the University of Washington.

Idaho was selected to be host school for the second annual conclave which is to be held here on the campus next year in conjunction with the Forestry Week. As host club for next year Idaho furnished the association's officers which are Houbert Bennett, president; Don McManamon, vice president; Frank Beitia, secretary-treasurer; and Don Balsler, conservation officer.

DEAR JASON

Last Wednesday the ASUI harness slipped gently over my shoulders. Frankly, I like the feel of it, and I like the destination you folks seem to have chosen. I think we all want to go "to town."

There are 2800 reins fastened to that harness, so don't forget to grab those with your name on them. I know that during the next year, some of you will want to go by a different road, and there will probably be times when I will want to run too fast. When that happens, let's haul up short, and find out which road is the best. Then let's really go!

To those of you who harnessed me, I say "thank you" from the bottom of my heart, and to those of you who chose a different horse, I say give me a try, keep a stout hold on the reins if I get out of hand, and I'll do the very best I can!

Sincerely,
RAY COX

An Open Letter:
I want to take this opportunity to congratulate Ray Cox and to extend congratulations to the newly elected Executive Board!

In regard to the outcome of the recent election I feel confident that the United Party will give you their wholehearted support and cooperation.

On behalf of the United Party candidates and myself I want to thank all those people who have supported us and to those people who helped with our campaign we give you our special thanks.

Again I wish Ray Cox and the Executive Board all the luck in the world in their new jobs and I'm sure the ASUI student body is behind you.

Sincerely,
Pat Duffy.

ARGONAUT: Contrary to reports, the proposed amendment to the ASUI Constitution which was voted upon at the ASUI election, April 30, 1952, was lost. The amendment proposed to make the Station Manager of KUOI an ex-officio Executive Board member.

Two-thirds of all votes cast at an official election are required to amend the Constitution. A total of 1954 votes were cast in the election; therefore, 1303 votes would have been necessary to carry the amendment—1123 votes were cast in favor of the amendment; 888 against; 465 indicated no preference. Hence, the amendment was lost.

An Open Invitation To Mom

This weekend our Associated Women Students and Mortar Board here at the University of Idaho are planning two full days in your honor. We want you to visit us and our campus this Saturday and Sunday, if you are able to come.

The weekend's activities will begin Saturday afternoon (May 10) at two o'clock with the annual May Fete. Crowning Miss June Carr, Twin Falls, as 1952 May Queen, by ASUI President Hyde Jacobs, is first on the agenda. The program to follow will include choral singing, dancing, the traditional Maypole winding by the Spurs, and tapping for new members by Mortar Board, Silver Lance, and Spurs.

Sunday's showing will be final judging for the annual song fest. Five men's and five women's living groups will sing two numbers each, and a trophy will be awarded to the winner in each division.

If the weather man is a good fellow and sends sunshine and blue skies, the song fest will take place on the lawn in front of the Administration building. In case of rain, the University Auditorium will be the setting.

Open house in all of the campus living groups is planned so that you, Mom, can see how and where we live. Please try to drop in anytime after the Sunday song fest.

Saturday evening at eight o'clock the Orchesis and pre-Orchesis, dance honoraries, are presenting a modern dance show in the Auditorium. This year's theme is "The West—1952."

We'll look forward to seeing you this weekend, Mom. Hope you can make it.

Sincerely,
AWS

Dancing Is An Expression Of Responses To Impulses

From the first beat of a tom-tom in the jungles of Africa, the people of the world have been dancing. Every country has developed dance forms of some type; Vienna had its waltz, Brazil its Tango and Finland its Polka. Some say that we dance to express our responses to the forces of nature and our environment. Others say that dancing is just a natural impulse when we hear music with a rhythmical beat.

Americans love to dance. They have been doing it since they first settled in North America. In colonial days the minuet was a popular dance. Later Americans in rural districts tuned up their fiddles and began square dancing. During the "Roaring Twenties," dancing became a test of endurance as the people danced for weeks at a time in "Marathons."

The first dance to originate in America had its innovation through the joint efforts of Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn just before the First World War. The grand premier of this new dance was in Los Angeles, California, but today its popularity has shifted and its largest center is in the east. "American" is attached to this type of dance because it expresses the ideas, thoughts, emotions, and concepts of American life so vividly.

Modern Dance
Dance educators have explained "modern" dance as being anything from social, ballroom, soft shoe, theatrical, floor show, exhibition and free-expression dance types. It would seem more correct and perhaps less ambiguous, however, to call it a "contemporary" dance form for the purpose of a rhythmic-time-space creative art expression.

Whatever term we may apply, of one thing we can be certain, that is that modern dance has become a part of American life and is "here to stay."

THANKS

I would like to thank all those students who worked in the recent campaign, whose efforts made it a success. Thanks, too, to every student on the campus for showing an interest in what we had to say, and giving us an opportunity to tell you about it. We have a year now to try to prove ourselves and ideas, and we want all the students to watch, telling us when we are doing right or wrong.

Sincerely,
Tom Mitchell

Few Withdrawals From U. in '51-'52

All the pessimistic prognosticators who have been saying that today's college students are too jittery over world conditions to stick to their studies are now entitled to one blush of shame. For the first time in its 63-year history, the University of Idaho has had less than 1 per cent of withdrawals during the academic year.

Withdrawals are figured on the 11th week of the second semester and this year the total has been only .99 per cent. The average for pre-war years was about 3 per cent, but withdrawals started shrinking rapidly after World War II. In 1951 it was 1.68 per cent; 1950, 1.71; 1949, 1.4, and 1948, 1.58.

"We thought that the post-war drop in withdrawals was largely due to the high percentage of older GI's," said President J. E. Buchanan today, "but now we have very few GI's. The current all-time low in withdrawals cannot be attributed to students staying in college to get their military training through the ROTC rather than an armed forces camp, because the withdrawals for women are proportionately low.

"Academic standards have not been lowered, but failing students are fewer, which simply means that both men and women are doing more studying. Their purpose is serious, their stability is good."

NUTRITIONIST VISITS

Viola Fisher, nutritionist from the Idaho state department of health in Boise, spoke to University nutrition major students Wednesday on her work and her experiences in Oslo, Norway, and the Oslo summer school. Miss Fisher is a graduate of the University of Idaho.

WRA NEWS

Novelty events are being planned and recognition will be given to the living group with the largest number of participants.

The clubhouse fountain will remain open during those hours so participants may get supper.

Senior To Present Recital Thursday

Bonne ALee, senior in the school of music, will present her senior piano recital, Thursday evening at 8 p. m. in the Recital hall of the Music building.

Miss ALee's program consists of four sections including composer favorites Bach, Beethoven, and Chopin.

The "French Suite in C Minor" by Bach, with its Allemande, Sarabande, Air, Minuet, and Gigue, opens Miss ALee's recital. For her second section, Miss ALee will play "Sonata Pathetique in C minor" by Beethoven.

The third grouping of the program will find Prokofieff's "Visions Fugitives," "Prelude in G" by Rachmaninoff, and the delightful "The Cat and the Mouse" by Copland.

Chopin dominates Miss ALee's final section with his "Nocturne in E Minor," "Mazurka in C Minor," and "Scherzo in B Minor."

Coeds Participate In Coast Conclave

Dolores Uria and Dorothy Felt, Idaho dietetic majors, traveled to Seattle Friday and Saturday to attend and participate in a conference for hospital dieticians and dietetic majors.

The coeds participated in the in-service training program offered at the King County and Swedish hospitals in the coast city. They acted in cadet capacity as they followed a dietetic intern through her routine jobs.

Professors Attend EWCE Convention

Highlight of the one-day session of the American Association of University Professors convention at Eastern Washington College of Education will be an address by Dr. Robert J. Havighurst of the University of Chicago. Dr. Havighurst's address, "Freedom and Responsibilities of the Teacher," will be presented at the 6:30 dinner in the New Dorm.

Three afternoon section meetings also have been scheduled. William E. Folz of the University of Idaho will serve as analyst on the panel "Social Security and Economic Status." Edward Moore of the University of Idaho will be recorder on the second panel, "Work in the Chapter."

A reception in the New Dorm lounge will precede the banquet in the evening.

Beavers Move Into First With Idaho Series Sweep

By BILL BOYDEN

The University of Idaho baseballers will attempt to regain victory form after five straight defeats when they face the Oregon Ducks tomorrow and Thursday in a two-game series at McLean field. Starting time will be 3 o'clock for both tussles.

Oregon State's Beavers grabbed a full-game lead in the Northern Division race last Saturday as they triumphed 3-1 over the hapless Idaho diamond denizens of the deep cellar, that is) in the Vandals' own play pen. The busy little Beavers appeared somewhat weary, however, after running up a 16-5 count on the Idahoans in Friday's series opener.

Saturday's finale was a pitcher's duel deluxe for eight innings as Dick Dodel of the Vandals and OSC's Baily Brem each allowed but four base hits and one tally during the eight-frame span.

Good Hit, No Pitch However, the strategy which knotted the count at four-all in the eighth eventually proved to be the Vandals' downfall. The Idahoans were short by a 1-0 score with Earl Huffman on second and two down when Bill Tellman received Coach Chuck Finley's nod to pinch-hit for Dodel. Stellmon delivered with a base knock to right, and Huffman raced in with the tying tally; but the removal of Dodel brought Cless Hinckley to the hill for Idaho in the fateful ninth.

Hinckley set lead-off batter John Thomas down on strikes, but Duane Helbig followed with a single and Danny Johnston moved Helbig to third with a two-ply smash to left center. Brem then proceeded to win his own ball game as he kissed a fat Hinckley offering high on the bank in left for two bases and an equal count of runs. Brem was left on the base paths, but the damage was done.

Wayne Anderson, batting for H. A. Butler, and Bruce McIntosh yielded to Brem's strikeout pitch, and Jerry Ogle skied to right to terminate any Vandal hopes for a last ditch rally. It was Hinckley's fourth conference loss without a win. For Brem it was victory No. 2 without a loss.

Take Me Out, Coach Friday's debacle was a merry merry-go-round for the visiting Beavers as they blasted Idaho hurdlers for 16 runs and 18 hits. Cannon fodder for the biggest portion of the blast was Vandal starter Wayne Anderson, who threw, watched, and ducked as OSC willows resounded for two tallies in the first frame and nine more in the second. Thomas issued the farewell note to Anderson with a one-on homer, which was more-overs a hit four-master as Earl Huffman inspected the horsehide to see if the cover were still there before relaying the peg to the plate.

Lefty Melton came to rescue and slowed Beaver run production to one in the next three frames, but three more counters in the sixth filled Melton's soap dish with Mel Reynolds coming in on relief. Reynolds put out the fire in the sixth thanks to a double play initiated by Earl Huffman's brilliant back-handed stab of a line drive over second. The Beavers did touch Reynolds for one run in the eighth though.

Idaho's fourth chucker of the day, Dewey Good, proved to be the most effective of the peppered pill-pitching performers as he allowed no runs and a ground ball single in his one-inning stint in the ninth. Limiting Helbig, the lone Beaver to hit Good, to a single was a feat in itself as the OSC left gardener poked the pill for a brace of triples and an equal number of doubles in four previous appearances at the dish.

Meanwhile, the Vandals scored three men in the first for a brief 3-2 advantage and single counters in the second and sixth stanzas for their five-run total off OSC hurler Norb Wellman. In winning, Wellman chalked up his second conference win without defeat while Anderson was charged with his first loss for a 1-1 season mark.

Tennis Team Bows To Oregon, OSC

Coach Eric Kirkland's tennis team found the going tough last weekend as they bowed to Oregon State, 7-0, at Corvallis Friday and dropped a 6-1 match to Oregon at Eugene Saturday.

John Schober and Darrell Kuelpman combined talents in winning Idaho's only point on the trip as they scored a 6-8, 6-2, 9-7 doubles victory over McDonald and Dingler of the Ducks.

Bob Zimmerman, Schober, Kuelpman, Max Nunenkamp, and Bob Rowles all bowed in singles competition in both matches. Meanwhile, the second Vandal doubles team of Zimmerman and Rowles dropped 0-6, 1-6 sets to Leahr and Poulson of OSC and a 2-6, 6-3, 3-6 match to Rose and Neroas of Oregon.

The Vandal racquetmen will journey to Spokane to face Whitworth in a return engagement tomorrow. The Whits won a 4-3 decision here two weeks ago.

WSC will invade Vandalville Saturday in another return match with the Vandals out to revenge a previous 5-2 loss.

A middle-west draftee claimed exemption on the grounds of poor eyesight and brought his wife as evidence.

Hell Divers Show Opens Thursday

Thursday night, May 8, will be the kick-off night for the annual Hell Divers water show with one of the top shows on record slated for the three-night stand, May 8-10.

The eight-act show will paint a picture of the famous places of the world with the cast portraying such famous spots as New Orleans, Hong Kong, Hawaii, and many others.

Jim Tom Moore and Byron Richards will team up to give the audience a diving exhibition that should be one of the best. Jim Moore is one of the top-notch divers in the Northwest and Richards has taken more than a few events in Canadian waters.

A spectacular and different diving show will be given after Moore's and Richards' demonstration as Jack Ewason takes to the boards and tries to give his impression of just how a good diver should look.

Both directors and cast have been working hard on this year's show; but Dick Warren as show director and the rest of the act directors deserve a big hand, for the amount of work they've put in and the time they've spent deserves a just acknowledgement.

This year's show should be one of the best ever put on by the Hell Divers club. Reports from members of the cast indicate a highly successful show and one that should bring attendance of record size to the Memorial gymnasium pool.

Show time will be eight o'clock each evening with tickets being available at the door.

on field 2; WSH vs. either CH 2, WSH 2, or CC 2, and the loser of 1C vs. CC will play the second place team of League IV.

Another successful IM softball season can be chalked up as completed after the Fijis meet the Independent league winner this Wednesday for the campus championship.

The following games will be played off this afternoon. Some were decided last night, but too late for the deadline. Lindley hall No. 2 will meet the winner of the IC-CC contest for the Independent honors. They will play on field 1; on field two, CH 2 plays the winner of the WSH 2-CC game, and on field 3 KS will battle SN. Sigma Chi will play the victor of the CC vs. TYKE tussle, while PDT will play the loser; this action takes place on fields 4 and 5 respectively. To round out the afternoon, Chrisman and Pine hall will compete on field 6.

Wednesday afternoon's schedule includes the championship tussle: LH vs. the loser of WSH 2 vs CC 2

Washington Whips Trackmen; Newton, Gourley Set Marks

With one eye on the weather and the other on his track and field squad, Coach Stan Hiserman is trying to bring his men up to peak form for the Northern Division meet at Seattle, May 17.

Less than two weeks remain before the big championships on the University of Washington campus and all Vandal track athletes are working for a chance to compete. Coach Hiserman will choose the squad sometime next week.

Last weekend Idaho finished out her dual meet season with a 42½ to 88½ loss to the Washington Huskies at Seattle. The score was not a fair indication of the Vandal's showing, however, as many excellent individual performances were turned in by Silver and Gold cinder artists.

Fair weather and a fast track helped the afternoon's competition and five meet records were blasted and a sixth tied. Idaho racked up five first places to ten for Hec Edmunson's crew.

Lou Gourley, sensational freshman two-miler, ran the best race of his brief college career to chalk up a new record of 9:27.4. Gourley won his specialty by some 200 yards over a field that included Washington's much publicized Denny Meyer.

Dick Newton came back from a third place showing in the hundred-yard dash to hand Idaho a 21.7 record in the 220-yard event.

Washington set three meet records. George Widenfelt, who tied with teammate Loran Perry for high point honors at 10, won the high jump at the record height of 6 feet 4.7-8 inches.

Ken Morgan traveled the half mile in 1:53.6 to smash one mark, then ran a lap with Washington's relay team which clocked a record 3:21. Bob Hutchinson tied the meet mark of 9.8 in the 100.

High point man as usual for Idaho was Bruce Sweeney. Though hampered by an injured muscle, the versatile junior took first in the low hurdles, second in the high and third in the broad jump.

Sweeney's 24 flat in the lows equalled the University of Idaho record he set earlier in the year. Emerson Clark grabbed first in the mile for the Vandals, winning by a hair in the good time of 4:21.8. Clark came off the final turn well back of the field and only managed to nip them at the finish after a thrilling sprint.

Dave Martindale took Idaho's other first with a 13-foot effort in the pole vault. Mile—1. Emerson Clark (I); 2. Field Ryan (W); 3. Bob Fornia (W). Time—4:21.8. Shotput—1. Loran Perry (W), 45 feet

Campus Cowboys Prepare For Rodeo

Idaho's campus cowboys will leave Thursday night for Coeur d'Alene to compete in the second annual Northwest Intercollegiate Rodeo scheduled for Friday, Saturday and Sunday afternoons at 2 p. m.

The show, an official NIRA rodeo, is sponsored by rodeo clubs from Idaho and WSC in conjunction with the Coeur d'Alene Athletic Round Table. Howard Harris is rodeo chairman.

Seven events will be run off during each of the three performances, including saddle bronc riding, bareback riding, bull riding, calf roping, bulldogging, wild cow milking, and a coed clover-leaf barrel race.

Schools and universities from six western states will be represented on the entry lists when the parade of the American flag and introduction of officials open the rodeo Friday afternoon. Contesting teams are from Colorado A&M, Pierce college, Oregon State, Montana State, WSC, Idaho, and possibly Cal Poly.

Last spring, at the first Northwest rodeo in Lewiston, WSC walked off with top team honors plus a traveling trophy and they are expected to put up stiff competition for the same title this year.

Members of the rodeo team from Idaho are Howard Harris, Bob Schild, Bob Wilkinson, Vern Gasser, Lavere Gasser, and Jim Gerard. Chuck Farrell is alternate. Harris is entered in the bulldogging, Schild in bareback, saddle bronc and bull riding, Wilkinson in bareback and saddle bronc riding, the Gasser brothers in saddle bronc and bull riding, and Gerard in bareback, saddle bronc and bull riding.

Virginia Fox will represent Idaho coed cowgirls in the barrel race. The campus rodeo team has no contenders in the calf roping, although some of them may enter the wild cow milking.

Mary Gerard, Vandal Riders secretary, is also serving as rodeo secretary.

Rodeo stock is being furnished by Harley Tucker, stock contractor and rodeo producer from Joseph, Oregon. Tucker's stock also provided the action at the Lewiston show last spring and at the matched rodeo between Idaho and WSC in October.

Bob Schild, president of the Vandal riding club, won all-around cowboy honors and a trophy saddle at the Utah Aggie-sponsored intercollegiate rodeo at Logan, Utah, over the weekend.

The six-man team from Idaho came out in third place, two places above the highly touted WSC team. Schild garnered first place points in the saddle bronc riding and bull riding and Vern Gasser placed fourth in bull riding.
