

Armed Forces Parade Features ROTC Units

United States military groups combined forces here Saturday morning for the annual Armed Forces day parade with over 1,000 members of ROTC units from Idaho and Washington State marching down Moscow's Main street. Colonel Abe Goff led the parade as marshal to the reviewing stand at Hotel Moscow.

The parade, which also included the University band, the American Legion, Camp Fire Girls, Girl and Boy Scouts, campus living group floats or cars, and the Junior Rodeo association, was formed at "A" and Main streets at 10 a. m. Reginald Reeves was in charge of the parade formation.

'U' Students Contribute To WSSF

Seventeen living groups donated clothing to the World Student Service Fund clothes drive conducted on the campus last week.

Living groups which collected clothing but have not yet reported may still do so anytime in the next two days, according to Carolyn Goodwin, drive chairman. The clothes will be shipped by Inland Motor Freight the latter part of the week.

Those which have already contributed are: Kappa Sigma, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Forney hall, ATO, Pine hall, Pi Phi, Phi Kappa Tau, Willis Sweet, Chrisman hall, Kappa Alpha Theta, Alpha Chi, Tri Delta, Delta Gamma, Hays hall, Teke, LDS and Sigma Chi.

Packed for Shipment
The clothing has been packed in 15 different sized boxes, ready to ship. Suit, coat, shoe boxes, etc., were used in the packing.

Leon Marion, WSSF regional representative, met with the University committee Friday afternoon and gave suggestions for next year's drive.

Those packages which were labeled with the donor's name and address will be sent personal letters of thanks from the recipient. Clothes are to be sent to survivors of the June typhoon at the university in Osaka, Japan.

Working with Miss Goodwin as co-chairman of the committee has been Rich Orme. Others on the committee were: Jean Royer, solicitor and collections; Jim Ballantyne, art; Ann Holmes and Peter Breysse, inspection; and Kimie Takatori, publicity.

Vets Reminded Of Training Rules

Veterans training under the G.I. Bill have been reminded by the Veterans Administration of steps they must take in order to move up from their present courses to courses at the next higher level.

First, the VA said, they must apply for advanced training either before they complete their current course, or within 30 days following its completion.

Second, they must go ahead with their additional training either within 30 days after finishing their present courses, or on the first day that enrollment of students in their new course is permitted—whichever is later.

The normal summer vacation period doesn't count in such cases for veteran-students in colleges and other schools organized on a term, quarter or semester basis. A veteran, for example, who receives his AB degree in June, and who applies for graduate training in time, need not start his advanced course until the fall semester.

The VA said its rules apply to nearly all veterans in training under the G.I. Bill: Those discharged on or before the July 25, 1951, cut-off date, and who have been in training since, except for certain reasons beyond their control.

Veterans expecting to take advanced training under the G.I. Bill were urged to discuss their plans with the VA before the completion of their present courses.

Service Honoraries Will Sell Poppies

University Spurs and Intercollegiate Knights will join in the annual Memorial Poppy campaign Friday by selling the crepe paper flowers on campus during the dinner hour.

Disabled veterans of the World Wars and the Korean conflict have been employed during the winter months making the poppies which are sold annually to raise money for the aid of disabled veterans and their children.

The flowers are replicas of the famous poppies of Flanders field which bloomed on the battle fields of Europe after World War I. The paper poppies are sold and worn annually throughout the world as symbols of remembrance.

Swinging Down The Lane

The military band sets the cadence for the Armed Forces parade Saturday morning. The parade was a highlight of the Armed Forces day observances in Moscow and at the University. All ROTC units were presented in the parade as well as members of the Organized Reserve Corps.

Forestry Students Make Field Trip

Fifteen range management majors of the school of forestry, left early Thursday morning for an extended field trip to areas in eastern Oregon and southern Idaho.

The group, under the direction of Dr. E. W. Tisdale, will stop at the LaGrande, Oregon, research center and the range region of Owyhee county. Range reseeding, watershed, and grazing problems will be studied east of Boise. En route north from Boise, the crew will make brief stops to study range conditions near Horseshoe Bend, Salmon River canyon, and the Whitebird hill.

The University Extension service in Boise, the U.S. Forest service field force and research center, the U.S. Soil Conservation service and the U.S. Bureau of Land Management are cooperating to make the trip of value.

Those in the group are Dale Andrus, Joe Basile, Bryce Beck, Boyce Coffey, Kenneth Foucar, Alexander Helmann, Theodore Ingersoll, William Leavelle, Duane Lloyd, Carl McCrillis, George Racely, Joseph Thockaberry, Robert Tidd, Robert Van Kleck, and William Pringle.

YOUNG TECHNICIANS

Twenty-six agricultural technicians from northern, western and southern Europe will be shown what makes Idaho's big seed industry tick at a three-week traveling short course which will take them down the Snake River valley from September 1 to 19, Dean D. R. Theophilus of the University college of agriculture announced recently.

Executive Board

Executive Board will meet tonight at 7 o'clock in the Executive Board room.

- Agenda: 1. Student appointments. 2. Publications Board recommendations.

Reserves March

The local Organized Reserve corps unit followed Col. Goff with the American Legion next in line. The University band was next with a drum and bugle corps from Washington State college combined with the Idaho group.

Approximately 700 men from three Idaho ROTC units along with the Washington State AFROTC unit were next in the marching formation with the Camp Fire girls and Girl Scouts following. Climaxing the parade of marching factions were floats from various University of Idaho groups.

Included in part two of the Armed Forces day parade was the Junior Rodeo association in conjunction with the military parade. Three hundred horsemen and floats followed the military groupings.

Review Parade
On the reviewing stand in front of the Moscow hotel were Col. Charles F. Hudson, army ROTC; Capt. T. C. Thomas, navy ROTC; Lieut. Col. C. J. Mosman, air ROTC; President J. E. Buchanan; Dean T. S. Kerr, college of letters and science; and Mayor W. L. Anderson of Moscow.

The line of march was down Main street from "A" to Eighth, west on Eighth for one block, then north to Sixth street. The parade then continued west on Sixth street to Line street.

Mayor Anderson proclaimed Armed Forces day in Moscow Wednesday and many merchants and homeowners displayed the flag in observance of the annual day.

Eagle and Anchor Holds Annual Ball

Eagle and Anchor, navy group, held its annual spring formal on Friday evening, May 16. The dance was held in the main ballroom of the SUB with Chuck LaFollette and his band furnishing the music.

Patrons and patronesses included Capt. and Mrs. T. C. Thomas, Cmdr. and Mrs. H. E. Davey, and Major and Mrs. J. R. Jones. The Eagle and Anchor organization is supported by the midshipmen of the NROTC unit. Besides sponsoring two dances yearly, the club sponsors various intramural teams as well as a monthly newsletter.

Gov't. Essay Contest

Four topics were presented to American government students this spring for the annual essay contest. They were: "Why a Certain Man Was My Favorite Candidate for President"; "The Effect of Primaries on Presidential Nominations"; "Korea: Collective Security or World War III?"; "Guns and Butter, Can the United States Afford Both?"

Judges included Dr. W. H. Tenney and Dr. Howard D. Rushong. The results will be announced at the end of the semester.

Grads To Receive Honorary Degrees

Two men who received degrees from the University years ago will return June 9 for a repeat performance—this time to be awarded honorary doctorate degrees. They are Lewis E. Hanley, Wallace, chairman of the board of directors of the Hecla Mining company, and W. C. Perkins, Omaha, chief engineer of the Union Pacific railroad.

Hanley was born to mining in a mining town—Deadwood, S. D. As a boy he moved to Wallace with his family, and was graduated from Wallace high school. From there he went on to receive a degree from the University in 1900. He took courses related to mining, but the University had no mining school at that time. Hanley was among the state's mining men who encouraged the development of such a school at the University.

Started With Standard
Upon graduation, Hanley got a job as assistant assayer for the Standard Mining company. Soon he was assayer for the Helena-Frisco Mining company, then for the Hecla Mining company. Moving up with this company through the years, he was named president and manager in 1940, and held that position until 1951 when he became chairman of the board of directors. Much of the progress of the Coeur d'Alene mining fields, among the world's most extensive and varied operations, is the work of Hanley. Besides heading Hecla, he has been a leader in many other developments. Currently, he is also president of the Sullivan Mining company (alternate years); president and manager, Polaris Mining company; vice president and manager, Silver Summit Mining company; director, Resurrection Mining company (a Colorado operation); director, Pend Oreille Mines & Metals company director, Reeves MacDonald Mines, Ltd.; director, Coeur d'Alene Hardware & Foundry company, and a director or officer of various other mining enterprises.

Began Early

Women Compare Well With Tobacco

The student newspaper at the University of Maryland thinks there is a subtle analogy between women and tobacco. It declares:

"Sophomores want their women to be like cigarettes, slender and trim, all in a row, to be selected at will, set aflame, and when the flame has subsided, discarded only to select another.

"A junior wants his woman to be like a cigar. They're more expensive, make a better appearance and last longer.

"A senior wants his girl to be like his pipe; something he becomes attached to, knocks gently but lovingly, and takes great care of at all times.

"A man will give you a cigarette, offer you a cigar, but will never share his pipe."

Senior Soprano To Be Presented In Final Recital

Naomi Nokes, senior music major, will be presented by the music department Thursday evening in her senior recital. The program of five parts will begin at 8 p. m. in the recital hall of the Music building. Richard Coulter will accompany Miss Nokes.

Included in part one are "Have You Seen But a Whyte Lillie Grow," anonymous; "Air: Ah, My Saviour" from "Christmas Oratorio," J. S. Bach; songs of Revolutionary America: "My Days Have Been So Wondrous Free," Francis Hopkinson; "The Heavy Hours," arr. Samuel Endicott; and "O'er the Hills," Hopkinson.

Miss Nokes, past president of the local chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota, national women's music honorary, will present German selections in the second groupings from "Frauenliebe und Leben," Robert Schumann. They are: "Since Mine Eyes Have Seen Him," "He, the Best of All, the Noblest," "I Cannot, Dare Not Believe It," and "Thou Ring Upon My Finger."

Selections Listed

Other selections in this second group are "Help Me, Oh Sisters," "Sweet, My Friend, Thou Violett Me," "Here On My Bosom, Here On My Heart," and "Now for the First Time Thou Hast Given Me Pain." "Si, Mi Chiamano Mimi" from "La Boheme," by G. Puccini will comprise the third group. In part four are French selections, "Good Morning, Sue!," Leo Delibes; "The Charm," Ernest Chausson; "The Wounded Birch," A. Gretchaninoff; and "Open Your Heart," Georges Bizet.

The concluding portion of the program will include "Ave Maria" from the opera "Ranuncchio," Deems Taylor; "When I Am Dead My Dearest," Richard Hageman; "Exhortation," Will M. Cook; "Lilacs," Marshall Kernochan; and "At the Well," Hageman.

Miss Nokes, member of Mortar Board, will be graduated this June with a B.A. degree. She has been a member of Vandaleers, Madrigal Singers, and opera workshop.

LOTS OF JOBS
The U. S. Department of Labor reports that about 300,000 college seniors will graduate this June, and "the job outlook is excellent." Physicists, chemists, geologists and other scientists are especially in demand.

Found

The registrar's office has reported as found articles the following: book, notebook, a wrist watch, fountain pen, bathing suit, ladies' coat, high school class ring, fraternity ring, earrings, glasses, keys, automatic pencil and several other items.

Anyone missing any of these items call at window five, Administration offices building and identify the article before claiming. The registrar has also reported several plastic rimmed glasses as found.

Final ASUI Film Stars M. Morgan In French Drama

The last of the ASUI film series for this year will feature "Symphonie Pastorale" today in the SUB Borah theater. Times for the showing of the film will be 4 p. m., 7 p. m., and 8:30 p. m.

"Symphonie Pastorale," which stars Michele Morgan and Pierre Blanchard replaces the formerly scheduled "Les Enfants Du Paradis." Admission charge for the movie is 35 cents per person.

The movie is the first work by Andre' Gide, Nobel prize winner, to be brought to the screen. Originally written in the first person as the intimate diary of a mountain pastor, it was filmed in the Alps against ice-streaked cliffs, white slopes, and a wasteland of breast-high banks.

Here the story begins in the snowbound house of the Martin family—the pastor, his wife Amelie, and their four children. In the most difficult role of her career, Michele Morgan as Gertrude the blind girl, returns to the French screen after a five year absence in America. Gide himself commented on "the strange and natural grace of the exquisite Michele Morgan."

Of Pierre Blanchard, Le Figaro comments, "He is an actor whose eulogy no longer needs to be pronounced. You can see in him a soul measured out to his part." Blanchard has been described as "the most intelligent actor of France." Of "Symphonie Pastorale" the New York Times said "It is one of the 10 most distinguished foreign films."

Orchestra To Play Varied Program

The University of Idaho Symphony orchestra, conducted by Carl Claus, will present its annual spring concert tonight in the University auditorium.

The program will be light in character and of a "pops" nature. Replacing the traditional soloist this year will be the string section of the orchestra.

The program will include: part one, Overture to "Iphigenia in Aulis," by Gluck; part two, by the string orchestra, will consist of the Allegro and Menuetto of "Eine kleine Nachtmusik" by Mozart, "Berceuse" by Greig-Dubensky, and "Londonderry Air" arranged by H. Elkan.

Part three will include the Knightsbridge March from "London Suite" by Coates, love music from "Boris Gudunov" by Mousorgsky, the Great Gate of Kiev from "Pictures at an Exhibition" by Mousorgsky, and "La Vie Parisienne" by Offenbach-Dorati. Part four consists of the popular "Tales from the Vienna Woods" by Strauss.

Campus Males to Nominate Homecoming Queen Hopefuls

Homecoming preparations are getting under way this spring under the direction of Dave Lau, recently appointed Homecoming chairman for the 1952 slate of activities. Committee chairmen are to be chosen this week to organize the functions for the October 4 Homecoming celebration.

According to Lau, preparations for Homecoming will be completed before school begins next fall as there will be only two weeks' time prior to the Homecoming weekend for living groups and committees to function for a satisfactory event.

All men's living groups are to nominate one coed candidate of vote will decide the 1952 Homecoming Queen.

The nominations will be from among the present freshmen, sophomore, and junior classes and will exclude nominations from next year's freshman class. According to Lau this will not deviate from the practice of past years of having a sophomore, junior, or senior coed reign over the weekend's activities.

All nominations are to be turned in to Mary Hansen at the Delta Delta Delta house by Friday. In addition to physical qualifications, men's living groups are to be sure that the coed of their choice is planning to return to the University next fall.

To Choose Chairmen

Homecoming committee chairmen are to be chosen at a general meeting of Homecoming officials Thursday and will be announced in Friday's Argonaut. Lau said that the ground work is to be planned this spring and that the Homecoming will be completely organized by next September. The committees will function during the summer by correspondence pertaining to problems connected with floats, parade, alumni, and the Homecoming game with the University of Oregon Ducks.

Lau said that, this is the first time in the Homecoming history that the "alumni" will have a hand in choosing the Homecoming queen as this year's senior class will participate in nominations for the "Queen of the Year" on the Idaho campus.

Final Plans Completed For 1952 Senior Ball

Tickets for the 1952 Senior Ball are now on sale in all men's living groups for only $1.50. The dance will be held in the SUB ballrooms this Saturday at 9 p. m.

This year's ball will be semi-formal instead of strictly formal as in previous years, and it will be a non-corsage affair. Last year tickets sold for $3 and with this year's lower admission it is hoped that more couples will be able to attend the dance, according to senior class president Stan Riggers.

Madrigals Present Traditional Songs

"All Ye Who Music Love" and "Now Is the Month of Maying" were traditional madrigal melodies included in the concert presented by University Madrigal Singers at 4 p. m. Sunday.

The concert, under the direction of S. Keith Forney was given in the recital hall of the Music building.

Performing in the Madrigal concert were Naomi Nokes, Lilli Flo Pratt, and Phyllis Ralstin, sopranos; Joyce Danielson, Kathleen Gray, and Anne Lou Luedke, altos; Arley Henderson, Charles LaFollette, tenors, and Wayne Benson and Gerald Goecke, basses.

Lawn Concert Slated By University Band

The second of the University band lawn concerts will be presented on the lawn near the old Music hall tomorrow evening at 6:45 o'clock.

Under the direction of Kermit F. Hosch, the band will present "Amarillo Roca" by Texidor, "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God" by Luther, and "March of the Free Peoples" by Darcy.

The band will also play "Paris Angelicus" by Franck, "Cowboy Rhapsody" by Gould, "Broadcast from Brazil" and "Cypress Silhouettes" by Bennet, "Pavanne" by Gould, "Comedians Gallop" by Kabalevsky, "El Caballero" by Olivadotti, and "Here We Have Idaho" which will complete the program. The concert will be postponed in case of bad weather.

SECOND CHILDHOOD

At the University of Wyoming the buildings and grounds department took on a suppliant note and asked students to kindly refrain from sending sailboats down the irrigation ditches.

Buchanan Reports On Visit To Washington For Confab

"The most gratifying experience for an educator is to know that the graduates from his institution are meeting the stiffest competition, and University of Idaho graduates are," President J. E. Buchanan of the University commented recently following a five-day trip to Washington, D. C., and New York City.

Returning from Washington, where he attended a two-day conference as a member of the executive committee of the Association of Land-Grant Colleges and Universities, President Buchanan stopped in New York to address a University of Idaho alumni meeting. Eighty-five alumni from various parts of the East coast heard the president, and viewed colored motion pictures of their alma mater.

Committee Members

Members of the executive committee of the Association of Land-Grant Colleges and Universities who met with Buchanan in Washington included President Milton S. Eisenhower of Pennsylvania

Initiation Slated For Mortar Board

Twelve pledges will be initiated into Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, at a formal ceremony Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. E. Buchanan. Members and advisors will attend a dinner at 6:30 p. m. and pledges will come for dessert and the formal initiation at 7:30.

Members of the organization are Virginia Orazem, Rae Salisbury, Judy Coble, Naomi Nokes, Connie Teed Brady, Edith Kading, Beverly Benson, Jan Fulton, Betty Thompson, and Naida Whybark.

Advisors for the group are Mrs. Louise Carter, Miss Jean Collette, Miss Margaret Coffey, and Mrs. J. E. Buchanan.

Air Force Tells Of New Policy

Suspension of a policy requiring transfer to inactive air reserve of volunteer air reserve officers who fail to meet participation requirements was announced today by Maj. Gen. William E. Hall, commanding general, Fourth Air Force.

Formerly an average of 15 points per year during the period July 1, 1949 to June 30, 1952 was required to prevent reservists being transferred to inactive air reserve. Such transfer jeopardized retirement and promotion.

Volunteer air reserve officers may now participate in the training program for air force reserve officers not on active military duty. They may also seek reassignment in the Air Force Reserve. The new suspension does not affect Public Law 810 which grants reservists 15 gratuitous points for retirement only.

Stirring, Dramatic Story Told Of Recent Campus Invasion

Every invasion in its wake a host of incidents—humor and heroism, setbacks and successes, drama and destiny.

So was it with the mighty invading army of Appollos which withdrew from the Camp field two weeks ago. Consider the plight of Don Dirkse and Harry Ehoodin of Pine Hall headquarters company who were on duty during much of the invasion:

Dirkse and Ehoodin were placed on duty by Billet Commander Robert F. Greene Thursday at 1300 hours (1 p.m.). They spent a busy afternoon readying everything in the Pine Hall recreation room which served as headquarters.

About 1700 (5 p.m.) the first of many gigantic waves of the female troops swept down upon the position. "They never came in small groups," Don Dirkse relates, "always two or more bus loads at once."

Ehoodin and Dirkse were swamped. They had to issue bedding and assign rooms to the arrivals, registering them individually. The first wave lasted until 2000 (8 p.m.). Only then were the men able to sneak away for chow. But their troubles were only beginning.

Keys had not been issued to the girls to the distress of Pine Hall custodian C. E. Mitchell. The self-locking doors resulted in — guess what. Some girls on second floor locked themselves out four separate times. Each time Mitchell had to play burglar and crawl in the window to open the door.

When Dirkse and Ehoodin returned from chow they were hailed from the office by a girl who said the light in her room was leaking. It was a hole in the roof allowed water to drain down the light cord and drip from the light.

Next some girls came in to request some deodorant spray. They said their room smelled. About then a passing girl was overheard to say, "We had lots of offers, but decided to come back here for the night."

Along about 0100 (1 a.m.) things seemed to be moving a little slower. Of course girls streamed in and out of the headquarters office requesting irons, hammer, alarm clocks, pliers and — but things were relatively quiet.

Finally, to get the troops to bed it was decided to turn off the heat. That worked remarkably well for a while. From 0230 until 0330 all was quiet on the Pine Hall front.

Then, about 0330 the fire alarm went off, fortunately a false alarm. By 0415 the hubbub had been subdued somewhat. Ah, scintillating peace! A full 15 minutes of it. At 0430 the first of the troops who had finished their tactical operations the day before began debarking. Dirkse and Ehoodin wearily checked them out.

The coming and going of multitudes of women troops kept up all day Friday. Dirkse and Ehoodin stuck with their post. They went out for chow at irregular intervals. The coming of night was "sure" to bring some quiet hours.

Would headquarters provide a crescent wrench to pound a nail in a shoe? Did headquarters provide evening snacks, like soda crackers? Did headquarters have any elastic bands?

When a girl requested that our heroes fix her window shade they found five girls sleeping in one bed. There were supposed to be two in a bed to enable 750 to stay in the hall. The maximum in the barracks was actually about 600 girls at one time.

Exhausted By this time Dirkse and Ehoodin were literally exhausted. When would relief arrive? More requests—like band aids, for example. One girl wanted an extra pillow. She said she had asthma.

Then it happened. Ed Garber would headquarters provide a crescent wrench to pound a nail in a shoe? Did headquarters provide evening snacks, like soda crackers? Did headquarters have any elastic bands?

Young Ag Students Win Scholarships

Interest in agriculture, FFA and 4-H club activity has paid off to the tune of a $100 scholarship to the University of Idaho each for 23 Idaho high school students.

The Bears-Roebuck foundation also annually grants a $200 scholarship to the outstanding scholar-ship winner of the previous year and a $200 scholarship to a freshman woman in home economics.

Winners of the $100 scholarships include Lee Dale Allen, Bliss; Wesley I. Allen, Nampa; Billie E. Atchley, Ashton; Rodney W. Boyer, Winchester; Lyle N. Cole, Preston; Marion H. Cook, Idaho Falls; Marvin D. Cox, Castletford; David B. Erwin, Heyburn; Dick D. Flynn, Buhl; Lynn T. Hart, Ashton; Darrell D. Holbrook, Council; David D. O'Harrow and Peter Van Houten, Twin Falls; DeVerl F. Passey and Darrell L. Nicklaseh, Ovid.

Wesley Rash, Rigby; Owen Darrell Rudd, Emmett; Norman F. Semler, Moscow; Walter E. Stryker, Paul; Howard A. Wolff, Kendrick; Larry W. Barber, Rexburg; Joseph R. Biehn, Bern, and Harry D. Young, Eagle, were also named.

Professor Staley Is Planning Work With Filipinos

To help the Filipinos make better use of their mineral resources, Professor W. W. Staley of the University of Idaho's school of mines is planning a year's work in the Philippines.

Professor Staley, who has been teaching at the University since 1929, is known far beyond the classroom and laboratory. In summers, he usually dons old clothes and calked boots, and rambles through Idaho's mineral areas, doing research and giving advice to miners and prospectors.

For many years, too, he has taken University students on field trips to mines of the State. He is the author of the books "Mine Plant Design" and "Introduction to Mine Surveying" used throughout the mining world.

The request for his services in the Philippines comes from the Geological Survey of the U. S. Department of the Interior. Staley is to serve at the University of the Philippines in Manila as an employee of the local mission of the Mutual Security Administration in a project to improve technical education in the field of mineral industries.

The Mutual Security administration recently opened offices in Manila to assist the Philippine government to strengthen itself against the inroads of communism as part of the American government's overall Southeast Asia program. One of MSA's projects is to improve education in technical fields to build up local people to a position so that they can improve their own economies.

Much of Staley's work will be organizational, but some teaching will also be involved. A member of the faculty of the University of the Philippines has already sent a letter of welcome to Staley. He is Professor Ramon B. Ramos, who was graduated in engineering from the University of Idaho in 1932.

"Son, after four years of college you are nothing but a loafer and a darn nuisance. I can't think of one thing it's done for you."

"Well," said the son, "it's cured Ma of braggin' about me."

Ma of braggin' about me."

One Third Voice No Opinion On Work Of Sec'y Acheson

(ACP) About one in every three college students hasn't made up his mind about Secretary of State Dean Acheson. Of the other two-thirds, a slight majority disapproves of the job Acheson is doing.

A cross-section of American college students were asked: In general, do you approve or disapprove of the job Secretary of State Acheson is doing? Here are the results:

- 1. Approve 30 per cent
- 2. Disapprove 33 per cent
- 3. No opinion 34 per cent
- 4. Other 3 per cent

Graduate students tend to be more decided than other students. Only 18 per cent of them have "no opinion," as compared with 36 per cent of the freshmen. Forty-two per cent of the graduate students approve of Acheson.

Pro And Con "He's selling out our government to the communists," says a business junior from Kansas State Teachers college.

But another junior, from Huntington college, thinks Acheson is "doing a good job in the face of many problems. Any secretary of state will not receive the whole-hearted support of the country."

A coed at Northern Oklahoma Junior college thinks Acheson "has catered too much to the 'mink coat' crowd." And a future teacher at Middle Tennessee college disapproves and adds, "Where there is so much smoke, there is bound to be some fire."

A chemistry student criticizes him for "failure to set up a definite foreign policy." Still another, a coed at Wheaton college, Mass., calls him "sincere and well informed."

A different comment comes from a theology student at Eastern Nazarene college, who says, "Acheson is the one statesman in the country."

Soils Specialists Schedule Clinic

Idaho's first forest soils and soil biology clinic is scheduled for the Bovill-Elk River-Clarkia woods area Monday, May 26, announces Dean D. S. Jeffers of the University of Idaho school of forestry.

Attending will be foresters from the lumber companies, the U. S. forest service, the northern Rocky Mountain forest and range experiment station, and the soil conservation service.

Purpose "The purpose of this field day is to give practicing foresters a brief description of forest soils and to emphasize the practical importance of associated biological phenomena in the growth of trees," Dean Jeffers explained.

On hand to discuss the technical aspects of forest soils and their biology will be Dr. E. E. Hubert, research forest pathologist, and Dr. W. K. Ferrell, forest soils specialist, with the University's forest, wildlife and range experiment station, and Maynard A. Fosberg, assistant agronomist in the agricultural experiment station. J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

PAUL was having a sand-wich at the Dromedary-Bar when his roommate said: "Sheedy, every co-ed sphinx your hair's ugly! Your camel's hair coat won't pass the Finger-Nail Test! Therefore, if you fig-ger to get any dates, I humbly beseech you to try Wildroot Cream-Oil Contains soothing Lanolin. Non-alcoholic. Relieves annoying dryness. Removes loose, ugly dandruff. Grooms hair neatly and naturally all day long. It's your hair's best friend!" Sheedy got Wildroot Cream-Oil and now his Sahara looks terrific! Better desert water, pyramid your savings up to 25% and dry-ve to any drug or toilet goods counter for a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil, America's biggest-selling hair tonic! Ask for it on your hair at the barber shop, too. You'll really be done yourself a favor!

Memo

To: Air Force ROTC Cadets From: Headquarters, AFROTC Detachment No. 9 Date: 19 May 1952

1. During the recent inspection and formal review the University of Idaho AFROTC Cadet Wing was rated as outstanding in appearance and performance.

2. The Senior Inspecting Officer, Colonel George H. Dietz, was particularly impressed by the fine appearance of shoes, uniforms and haircuts. The conduct of the review, the performance of the Combined ROTC Band, and the proficiency of the drill maneuvers drew highly complimentary remarks. The exhibition by the AFROTC precision drill team was a fitting climax to the entire program.

3. Colonel Dietz requested that I convey his compliments to each member of our Cadet Wing for his part in the splendid demonstration. I wish to add a word of appreciation for the fine spirit of cooperation, loyalty and combined effort which was so instrumental in making this year's review the success that it was.

Debaters Pledge Six debate enthusiasts, were recently pledged to Delta Sigma Rho, national debate honorary. The new pledges include Betty Westerberg, Richard Johnston, Lloyd Webb, Fred Kopke, Robert Huntley and William Nixon.

Seniors Are Honored By Housemates As Students Schedule Spring Picnics

Seniors, preparing to say a fond "adieu" to their campus friends, have been guests of honor at many luncheons and card parties during the past week.

An old fashioned wishing well was the main attraction at the jointly sponsored Alpha Chi-Alpha Phi spring formal last Friday.

Delta Sigma Phi held initiation ceremonies for seven men Sunday morning.

Alpha Chi
Alpha Chi and Alpha Phi held their joint spring formal last Friday evening. Decorations for the "May Time" theme featured an old-fashioned wishing well and spring flowers. Rita Barker was the Alpha Chi chairman.

Margaret Alley was the guest of honor at a shower Saturday night at the house. Barbara Greene was in charge of arrangements.

Pat McDonald and Pat McMonigle were dinner guests Sunday.

Delta Sigma Phi

Formal initiation ceremonies were held Sunday morning for Ron Robbins, Dean Twogood, Dale Robertson, Bob Garrett, Dudley Homer, Bill Sherill and Don Housley. At the banquet following the ceremonies Frank Young presented a very inspirational talk. T. J. Prichard presented to Bill Sherill the outstanding pledge award.

Walter Aldrich was pledged Tuesday.

Wednesday evening a buffet supper was given in the chapter house. Following dinner a movie was shown and other entertainment was provided.

Laird Park was the site chosen for the annual house picnic Saturday.

Alpha Phi

Sidney Baldwin of Washington, D.C. was a guest at the house during the week.

Kappa Sigma

Florence Garrett, Marietta Cloos, Nova Martel of Pasco, Carl Korvola from Washington State college, and Carl Crisp were dinner guests Sunday.

Hal Stivers of Pasco spent the weekend at the house.

The annual senior dinner was given last Wednesday.

Alpha Tau Omega

New officers of the chapter are president, Tom Mitchell; vice president, William Dire; secretary, Jim Briggs, and keeper of annals, Jim Kavanaugh. Joe Tom was elected sentinel and Larry Morrison, usher.

Picnics were held on Wednesday of last week with Pi Beta Phi and on Sunday with the Tri Deltas.

Delta Chi

The annual spring formal was held Saturday evening at the chapter house. Patrons and patronesses were, Dr. and Mrs. Walter Steffens, Major and Mrs. Kuster, and Captain and Mrs. Butterfield. A spring picnic is being planned for Sunday, May 25.

Delta Delta Delta
Dinner guests at the house this past week were Mr. and Mrs. Dean Mosher, Mr. and Mrs. Al Pappenhagen, and Mrs. Valadon. An exchange picnic was held Sunday afternoon with ATO.

Idaho, WSC Host Student Chapters Of ASC Engineers

Idaho and Washington State college were joint hosts last weekend to the Northwest conference of student chapters of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

Students from Washington, Montana, WSC, and Idaho took part in the three-day affair which began Thursday morning.

Student papers were presented Thursday morning by students from each school. The winning paper was presented by Arlan Webb, a University of Idaho senior civil engineer. His subject was the "Well Perimeter."

A panel discussion of "What Employers Expect of Graduate Engineers" and a talk on "Pre-fabricated Concrete Bridges" were held Thursday afternoon on the WSC campus. A banquet was held in the Idaho Student Union building Thursday evening.

Friday morning the group of about 60 students went through the Potlatch Forests' mill at Lewiston, then proceeded to Richland to attend the annual Pacific Northwest conference of the ASCE.

A barge trip was taken by the group down the Columbia river from Richland to McNary dam. The barge was lowered through the recently completed 90-foot navigation lock and the group participated in an inspection of the partially completed McNary dam, fish ladder, navigation lock and power house.

Professors C. A. Moore and Frank S. Junk accompanied the Idaho students who attended the conference.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 41...THE MAGPIE

He's a chatterbox himself—outclassed by no one! But the fancy double-talk of cigarette tests was too fast for him! He knew—before the garbled gobbledygook started—a true test of cigarette mildness is steady smoking. Millions of smokers agree—there's a thorough test of cigarette mildness.

It's the sensible test...the 30-day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke—on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments. Once you've tried Camels in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why...

After all the Mildness Tests...

Dale Faylor Posts 143 Card To Tie For Medalist Honors

The University of Idaho golf team came close to winning its first Northern Division championship. The University of Washington linksters shaded them by one stroke in one of the closest tournaments in the history of the conference.

The defending champions from Seattle scored a 36 hole total of 588; Idaho was a very close second, with 589 strokes; and the favored Oregon Ducks were third with a team total of 595.

Don Russell of Washington and Dale Faylor of Idaho split medalist honors for the day's competition, each went around the 36 holes in 143—three strokes over par.

Two Vandal entrants, Dale Faylor and John Dripps, tied for low scoring honors for 18 holes, each firing a one-under par 69. Dripps carded the low nine-hole total of 32. To show how close the play ran, the high score for any nine holes was a 40.

Mrs. Francis James, Vandal coach, expresses her appreciation to the men who served as caddies for the tournament, and also to the sizable gallery that turned out to watch the players.

I'LL TAKE SING SING
Like every other football coach, Knute Rockne of Notre Dame had his share of headaches from the old grads. Once, when he was asked which team he would like to coach if he ever left Notre Dame, he replied: "My choice would be Sing Sing. It's the only place I know where the alumni are not too anxious to come back."

Coach Buck Bailey of the Washington State Cougars questions umpire Mal Stewart's eyesight in Saturday's diamond game at McLean field. The Cougars grabbed a 9-3 decision to gain a sweep of the season series with the Vandals.

Cougars Slap Diamondmen 4-3, 9-3 In Weekend Set

Washington State college's three-ring baseball circus, with Coach Buck Bailey starred in the ritual fire dance, left Vandals none too soon for the Idaho diamondmen last Saturday after handing the Vandals a 9-3 setback at McLean field. The Cougars thus swept the four-game season series in addition to stamping the Vandals with their eighth straight Northern Division loss.

Vandal Cindermen Finish Below Par In Division Meet

Saturday's drubbing followed on the heels of a 12-inning 4-3 decision for the Cougars at Pullman Friday. In Friday's battle, the Idahoans came from behind to knot the count at 3-3 in the ninth on Dick Merrill's pinch-single. The Vandals then staved off Cougar threats in the 10th and 11th frames but yielded to the winning tally in the 12th.

Six WSC runs in the third spelled doom for Vandal hopes in Saturday's encounter. All in all, a variety of events—base hits, walks, misjudged flies, and errors—led to the half dozen Cougar counters. Washington State spangles also crossed the home plate for solo scores in the fourth, sixth and ninth innings. Meanwhile, Idaho tallied once in the sixth and two times in the seventh for their three-run output.

The usual Buck Bailey side show when the Cougars are around prevailed again Saturday. Bailey wore a path between the bench and home plate where umpire Mal Stewart was on the receiving end from the lips of the demonstrative Cougar mentor. Bailey kicked too hard on one occasion, however, and had to hobble around on a twisted knee during his remaining excursions.

Lefty Melton started on the hill for Idaho but departed on his own volition in the third with a pulled muscle. He also suffered the loss, his second against one win. Rod Keogh checked for WSC and posted his fifth win without a loss in three seasons against the Vandals.

One bright note was sounded for the Vandals though. Third sacker George Huffman banged out his first hit in seven contests during which time he failed to connect in 29 straight trips to the dish.

Netmen Zeroed As Huskies Cop Title

The University of Idaho racquetmen failed to score in last week-end's Northern Division meet at Washington State college as the University of Washington netmen copped top honors. Coach Eric Kirkland's men bowed in all their semi-final matches Friday afternoon.

The Huskies posted 18 points in their title quest to chalk up a 12-point margin over the second-place Oregon Ducks. Oregon State finished third with four points and Washington State totaled three points good for the fourth spot.

Quillian paced the Husky scoring with a 10-point total. He defeated teammate Flye for the singles championship. Meanwhile, Quillian and Flye copped the doubles crown by topping teammates Wick and Kirk in the championship round.

Roger Randolph of Phi Delta Theta took first place in the 120-yard high hurdles with a time of 16.1 seconds while Schulz of Delta Tau Delta took second and Bob Parsons of Kappa Sigma finished in the third spot.

Tommy Flynn of Phi Gamma demonstrated his speed by copping both the 50 and 100-yard dashes. Flynn's winning time in the 50-yard event was 5.5 seconds, and he scamped the 100-yard distance in 10.4 seconds.

Following Flynn in the 50-yard dash were Jim Hobbs of Tau Kappa Epsilon in second place and Ed Pickett of Phi Delta Theta third. Hobbs also grabbed second place honors in the century with Gene Baldeck of Beta Theta Pi finishing third.

Roger Contor of Chrisman hall churned the 1320-yard distance in 3:36.7 to annex top honors in that event. Placing behind the leather-lunged Contor were Joe Brockway of Pine hall and Schmirde of the Air Force.

In the only field event on yesterday's slate finished before the rain, Hartley Kruger of Phi Gamma Delta heaved the black ball 39 feet 8 inches for the winning toss. Neil Caudill of Phi Delta Theta followed Kruger in second place, and third place was awarded to George Macinko of Willis Sweet hall.

Thus far in the meet, Phi Gamma Delta paces the field with a total of 130 points to hold a two-point advantage over Phi Delta Theta's 128. Tau Kappa Epsilon rests in third place with 103 points, Beta Theta Pi is fourth with 94, and Kappa Sigma is fifth with 87.

In the running for the all-campus trophy, Phi Delta Theta appears to hold a commanding lead. The Phi Deltas held a 20-point advantage over Beta Theta Pi prior to the track meet, which is the last event on the intramural calendar for 1952. As indicated by the tallies so far in track, they stand an excellent chance of retaining their margin and possibly widening it a mite.

Summary of completed track events:
Pole vault — Schulz, Delta Tau Delta, won; Price, Delta Tau Delta, and Neely, Sigma Chi, tied for second; Behre, Tau Kappa Epsilon, fourth; Hayter, Sigma Chi, Moore, LCA, and Clendenin, Kappa Sigma, fifth. Height — 11 ft. Shot put — Kruger, Phi Gamma Delta, 39 feet 8 inches, won; Caudill, Phi Delta Theta, 39 4/4, second; Macinko, Willis Sweet hall, 38-7, third.

Rain Washes Out IM Cinder Events; Meet Slated To Resume This Afternoon

Rain halted the intramural track finals yesterday afternoon after the completion of four running events and two field events. The remaining events will be run off this afternoon at 4:15 providing rain doesn't interfere.

The first of the field events was completed Saturday when Francis Schulz of Delta Tau Delta copped first place honors in the pole vault with an 11-foot effort. Jim Price of Delta Tau Delta and Horace Neely of Sigma Chi tied for second, Roger Behre of Tau Kappa Epsilon finished in fourth, and Hayter of Sigma Chi, Moore of Lambda Chi Alpha, and Clendenin of Kappa Sigma tied for fifth.

High hurdles, 1320-yard run, 100-yard and 50-yard dashes, and shot put were the events completed before the rain washed out the meet yesterday afternoon.

Roger Randolph of Phi Delta Theta took first place in the 120-yard high hurdles with a time of 16.1 seconds while Schulz of Delta Tau Delta took second and Bob Parsons of Kappa Sigma finished in the third spot.
