

THREE THOUSAND HAVE EARLY MORNING PARTY

This morning we saw a wonderful example of college spirit linked with good sense and mature judgment. The organized "raid" this morning was conducted with wonderful behavior, and that enthusiasm which makes college life what it is.

Under the planning of Ray Cox, ASUI president, a switch was pulled on a crazy fad that has been raising hades on college campuses across the nation. Instead of swiping women's pinkies, the men galloped over the hill with pinkies in hand to be auctioned off for a worthy cause.

As the Argonaut goes to press, we do not know how much money was gained for the crippled children, but after listening to the bidding—it must have been a fair amount of moola. Whatever the amount, we know those kids on crutches and in wheel chairs will appreciate it.

Good Behavior

Every one of the 3,000 students on campus are to be commended for their good behavior. The whole affair went over without a single incident of violence or destructiveness. Everyone had a lot of fun, and proved to themselves and to other schools that college students are not just a bunch of immature jerks.

And, by the way, we would like to offer our sincere congratulations to Ray Cox for his wonderful idea, and the great job of organization.

At this time, we do not know what sort of publicity the University will receive from our giant early morning party, but it should hit the wire services and be across the nation in a matter of hours. We have not followed blindly behind a fad—we have at least been original.

Human Interest

Argonaut staff members were covering the campus this morning to pick up all the story. Here are a few interesting "human interest" items that some of those people picked up during the morning.

"The campus was rather noisy all evening, but it quieted down at about 1 o'clock this morning. Then at about 2:30, things seemed to come alive—men were stirring about in anticipation of what they knew was to come. At three o'clock (Continued on Page 3, Col. 5)

On The Air

KUOI will leave the air at 9:30 each evening for the remainder of the school year.

Lau Chooses Homecoming Committees

Homecoming committee chairmen have been chosen by chairman Dave Lau with the approval of the Executive Board.

Included are dance committee chairman, Bob Huntley; assistant, Ernestine Gohrbard; parade committee chairman and assistant, Bill Parsons and August Jaussi; half-time committee chairman and assistant, Delores Uria and John Hansen.

Other committees and chairmen are publicity: Jody Ennis; queens: chairman, Mary Hansop and assistant, Vonda Jackson; judges: Keith Stevens; alum registration and open house: chairman, Ruth Dimond, assistant, Larry Reidesel; and rally: yell king, Bill Whitman.

Secretary and assistants of publicity and judges committees are yet to be chosen.

Vote On Finalists

Yesterday was the deadline for men's living groups to get in their nomination for queen. Pictures of the nominees will be taken today. Because of the early Homecoming week-end next year, October 4, nominees are picked this spring. The five finalists will be voted on by the football team next fall.

It has been decided that open house following Homecoming next year will not be dress. There will be no final judging of floats in MacLean field as there has been in the past. Floats will be judged in the parade. Limit set on floats is $50. For house decorations the limit is $10.

The queen and parade committees met Wednesday with chairman Dave Lau to discuss general Homecoming plans for next year.

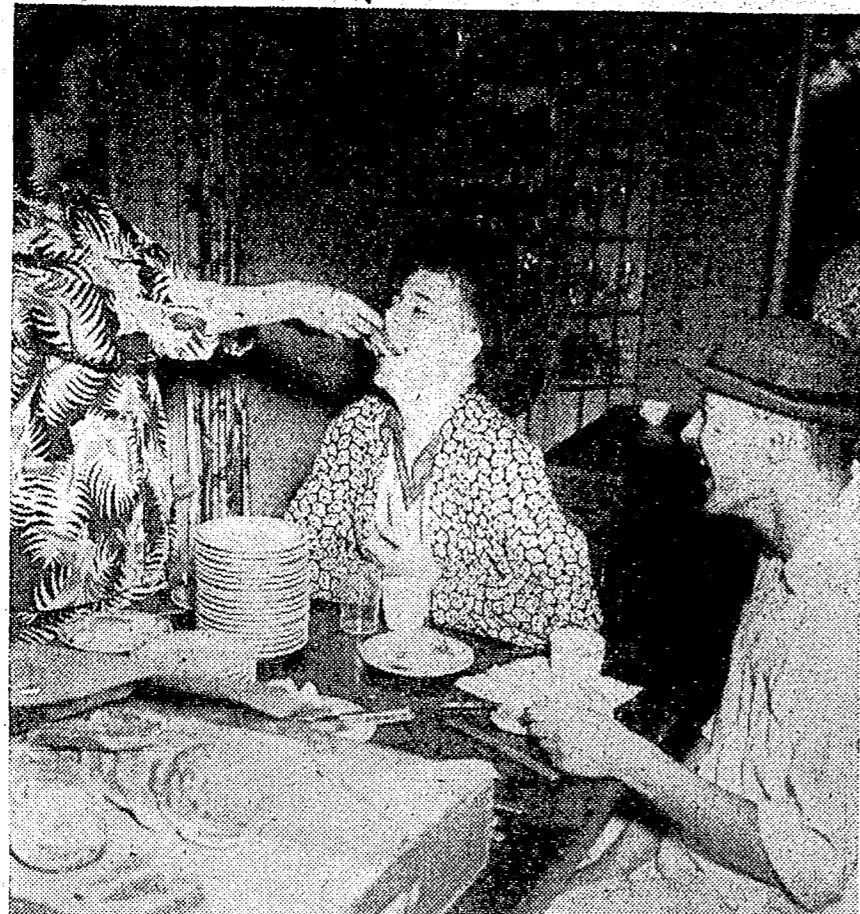

Thursday night a meeting of all the committee chairmen was held to discuss the theme for next year's Homecoming.

Early Breakfast—Campus men invited themselves to breakfast this morning at each of the 11 women's living groups. The above scene took place in the Theta house at about 6:30. Nancy Neveau oversees the feeding of (left to right) Dick Shoup and Charles Murrin. Men and women all over the campus eyed each other sleepily over cups of coffee between 6 and 7 o'clock this morning.

Fancy Pants—A member of Willis Sweet hall displays a pair of panties shortly after they were sold to the associated students of Willis Sweet for $51. The pants, one of several dozen pair, were purchased in the auction at the Student Union this morning at about 4:30. All proceeds from the auction are to go to the crippled children's fund. An estimated $300 was taken in during the early morning party. Some 2,500 students turned out for the party this morning, and about 1,000 were still going strong at 8 o'clock.

NROTC Members Schedule Parade

Members of the Idaho NROTC unit will hold a formal Award parade on the Girls' athletic field Thursday, May 29, at 11 a.m.

The VFW award will be presented to J. F. Varley for being chosen as the midshipman who has demonstrated the most promise of pursuing a successful career in the Armed Forces.

R. E. Bellamy won the Marine corps Gazzett award for being selected as the outstanding Marine graduate. Varley also won the American Legion award for being the outstanding graduating midshipman.

The Stoddard-Wendell award for the midshipman who has shown the most improvement in naval science and aptitude during the entire course goes to D. E. Wolcott. D. E. Prisky won the Daughters of American Revolution award for being selected as the midshipman who has contributed the most to the University and the NROTC unit during his residence at college.

The winners of the Naval Institute award, for the graduating contract midshipman who stood highest in the senior naval science course and the O'Connell award to be given to those midshipmen of the freshmen, sophomore and junior classes who stood highest in the respective naval science courses will be announced later.

Army Students Receive Awards At Last Review

Army awards were presented Thursday to the outstanding ROTC students of the past year. Col. Thomas M. Brinkley, chief of the Idaho military district headquarters in Boise was assisted by members of his staff in a final ROTC review.

Eldon E. Johnstone, a student and veteran at the University, presented the annual VFW No. 25 award to Cadet Col. Frederic R. Cully. Local American Legion commander, Clyde Smith, presented the American Legion award, the Dudley Loomis Post award, to Cadet Lieut. Col. James H. Olmstead.

The remaining awards presented by Col. Brinkley were as follows: Gold Medal awards—Society of American Military Engineer's to Cadet Lt. Col. Ronald R. Reese; and to Cadet 1st Lt. Richard E. Warren. The PMS&T award, presented to the outstanding member of the Idaho chapter of Pershing Rifles, Cadet 1st Sergeant George E. Ring.

Two Gold Medal University of Idaho awards were presented on the basis of military grades. The first to the distinguished advanced cadet, Cadet Captain Harry A. Brizee, and the second to the distinguished basic student, Cadet Corporal Robert L. Ackaret.

Gold Medal Awards

Seniors Schedule All-Campus Dance As Whopping Finale To School Year

An all campus dance will be the final activity of the class of '52 at the University. Bernie Ackerman's 11 piece orchestra has been engaged for the occasion and spring flowers will provide decorations for the affair.

Executive Board Presents Awards

ASUI committee appointments, Gem key presentations, publications board report, and golf awards were considered by the Executive Board Tuesday night. It was the second meeting of the newly-elected governing body.

Golf awards were made to Dale Faylor, John Drips, Fred Stringfield, Bob Campbell, Phil Weitz, and Sam Jenkins. They were given varsity awards in the sport for 1951-52 season.

Names were submitted to the board for consideration for appointment to the various ASUI committees. The selection of committee heads and members will be made at the next meeting of the board.

Five Gem workers will receive the key for two years' work on the yearbook. They are Jack Marineau, Margaret Pruett, Roland Wilde, Sheila Janssen, and Ken West. Virginia Orazem will also receive the key for outstanding work on the publication.

Lilacs, tulips, and various other flowers are being donated for the decorations by Moscow residents and others in the surrounding vicinity.

The Senior ball will begin at 9 p.m. Saturday night, in all three ballrooms of the SUB. The Pullman orchestra will have a female vocalist as an added attraction.

Patrons and patronesses will be the following according to Doris Moore, general chairman of the dance committee: Dean and Mrs. H. E. Lattig, Commander and Mrs. H. E. Davey, and Mr. Edmund Chavez.

No Corsages

Semi-formal will be the dress for this last all-campus dance of the year. It is to be a non-corsage affair.

Favors in the form of a small black graduate's cap with white trimming and inscribed with the words "Senior Class, 1952" will be presented at the door to all couples.

For those who have not already obtained their tickets from representatives in their living groups, tickets will be on sale at the door. Admission has been reduced to only $1.50 a couple this year from the previous price of $3.00.

Always one of the outstanding campus dances of the year, it is hoped that with this year's lower admission even more couples will be able to attend the dance, according to Stan Riggers, senior class president. The dance is open to everyone, not only seniors.

"We want this year's dance to be a really big affair, and a successful climax to our college careers," Stan said.

Virginia Orazem has been in charge of decorations.

Yesterday afternoon, at 4:30 members of the senior class donated their parting contribution to the University. At that time they erected a sign reading "Entering Moscow, Home of the University of Idaho, Senior Class, 1952" at the south entrance of Moscow.

The sign will be seen by motorists after they pass the Plantation and as they go up the small hill on the highway into Moscow. The sign is just inside the city limits.

Yesterday afternoon a well-attended picnic was also held honoring the seniors at Robinson lake. A free bus provided transportation between the SUB and the picnic site from 2 to 6 p.m.

Janssen, McMullin Named As Gem And Arg Editors

Sheila Janssen and Graham McMullin, junior journalism majors, were appointed Gem editor and Argonaut editor respectively for the coming year following Executive Board appointment Tuesday night. Lois Bush was appointed Argonaut news editor and Don Theophilus was named sports editor on the paper for the coming year.

McMullin will take over the Argonaut helm left vacant by Don Hardy, editor for the past semester, who will graduate this spring. Miss Janssen will relieve Jerry McKee, 1952 Gem editor, of the Gem duties for the 1953 yearbook. The two associate editors positions will be left vacant until next fall, as will the Argonaut managing editor's post.

According to Hardy, the remaining positions will also be filled next year. The copy editor's post will be a paying job in the future and the night editor's position will be abolished, transferring those duties to the managing editor. The wage of the night editor will be paid to the copy editor. Hardy said this change would be advisable as the night editor job could be filled easily by the managing editor and copy editor is a responsible position for which some compensation should be received.

McMullin will advance to the Argonaut editor's post from his present job as managing editor of the paper which he has filled since the beginning of the present semester. Prior to that time the new editor was a member of the night staff.

Lois Bush will replace Miss Janssen as Argonaut news editor. Miss Bush, a junior journalism major, will advance from the copy editor's post. Theophilus will replace Bill Boyden at the sports desk. Theophilus is also a junior in the journalism department and has served as assistant sports editor for the past year. All new staff members will assume their duties next fall.

Party Still Going At 8 A. M.; Thousand March On Town

Dawn wasn't the only thing that came over the hills this morning—most of the university's 2,000 men answered the call of a bugle and charged toward women's living groups at 8 a. m.

But a switch was pulled on the current nation-wide fad of raiding for panties as the men answered the call to a pre-arranged party. Well behaved students "stormed" the women's living groups in the wee-small hours of the morning and were met by coeds in pajamas bearing cups of coffee.

About a thousand of the more hearty students were still in a "going" mood yet this morning at 8 o'clock. They formed a serpentine and marched from the campus down through the streets of Moscow.

This group of students, catching their second breath, canvassed Moscow merchants for contributions to the crippled children fund.

Under the leadership of ASUI President Ray Cox, the "raid" was started at 3 o'clock this morning after a bugle sounded in the vicinity of Lindley hall. Shouts were heard over the University hill and the raiders began to move.

All of the University's 11 women's residences were invaded by groups of men shouting "we want girls." The girls soon appeared, and cups of coffee were served to all.

At about 3:30, nearly 3,000 students converged on the Student Union building where pajama-clad Jim Bowlby, SUB manager, opened the doors to admit the congregation to the second floor ballrooms.

A group of campus musicians played music for a dance which started immediately after the students entered the "Bucket." After a few dances, a pantie auction was conducted by Ray Cox. Most of the men had purchased the women's unmentionables to be auctioned off this morning—the proceeds to be given to the crippled children's fund.

Several dozen pairs of panties were auctioned off by Cox. The bidding was erratic, but one of the highest bids of the evening was made by a group of Willis Sweet men—they bid $51, and needless to say they walked off with the goods.

The dance was resumed after the pantie sale, and was continued until about 5 o'clock this morning. The gathering then broke up for breakfast—some dazed thinking and a bit of sleep.

One of the greatest cheers of the morning came when it was announced that no classes would be held today. However, many of the students had previously expressed the opinion that classes would have to suffer.

Shortly after the mass of students entered the Student Union, Ray Cox was pelted with pinkies—and he calmly drew on a pair over his pajamas. Said Cox, "Another first for Idaho."

Said one coed at the affair: "This should make the students at other schools look like immature kids." Another commented: "This shows Idaho men to be pretty grown up."

The whole affair was planned to give students a chance to let off steam, and to make a bit of foolishness of the current and destructive "just for lace" raids which have been sweeping the nation's college campuses.

One result of the affair (aside from providing money for crippled children) seems to be proof that women look pretty good at 3 o'clock in the morning. Then too, most of the students, both male and female, wear very colorful pajamas—at least for special occasions.

Alums Meet With Classes For Reunion

Class reunions, for University classes from years ending in "2" and "7"—1902, 1907, 1932, 1937, etc.—will highlight activity on Alumni day, June 7, Alumni Secretary James Lyle has announced. Alumni day is held in conjunction with the university's baccalaureate and commencement ceremonies June 8 and 9.

The day will begin with the annual luncheon and business meeting, followed by a "blind bogey" golf tournament at the University golf course in the afternoon, and end with the alumni banquet and class reunions in the evening.

Largest number expected to return to the University for reunion are from the class of 1927, which will be celebrating its 25th anniversary. Jay V. Thompson, Moscow, is chairman of the activities for the class.

Three Generations

For the first time at the University of Idaho, three generations will take part in the 1951 Alumni Day celebrations. Mrs. Clara Ransom Davis, class of 1898; her daughter, Mrs. June Davis Wickward, '27, and Bruce Wickward, '52, a grandson of Mrs. Davis, all of Moscow, will be present.

Other early graduates expected to attend the reunions are Mrs. Margaret McCallie Moore, Spokane, '08; Judge James Alexander Coffey, Jamestown, N. D., '07, and Miss Marie Cuddy, Boise, '02, and William Clair Mitchell, Rupert, '02.

L. R. Pugh, president of the Alumni association, will serve as toastmaster at the alumni banquet.

Shelton President Of Mortar Board

Nancy Shelton was elected 1952-1953 president of Mortar Board, senior women's honorary at an initiation meeting Wednesday night. The initiation was held at the home of Mrs. J. E. Buchanan with both old and new members of the group present.

Other elected officers include Nancy Weitz, vice president; Charlotte Henry, secretary; Lois Bush, treasurer; and Sheila Janssen, historian. The new officers assumed their duties at the Wednesday night meeting.

New members initiated were Ann and Jean Royer, Pat Harris, Charlotte Henry, Joann Jacobs, Lois Bush, Mary Gerard, Nancy Weitz, Boness Collins, Mary Thompson, Nancy Shelton, and Sheila Janssen.

Also present were Mrs. J. E. Buchanan, Dean Louise Carter, Miss Jean Collette, Miss Margaret Coffey, Anne DuSault, and the new Mortar Board adviser, Wayne F. Young, and his wife. Dessert followed the initiation ceremonies.

Ackerman Will Play For Senior Ball

Musie for the Senior Ball Saturday evening will be played by Bernie Ackerman and his 11-piece orchestra. The orchestra also features a female vocalist who will accompany the group on various numbers. The all campus dance is scheduled to be held in all three ballrooms of the Student Union.

Still Singing Praises

The last University blood drive is still receiving praise. The last bit of such being in a letter to Alumni Secretary Jim Lyle. Part of the letter from Tomas Gill, of the San Francisco Red Cross office, reads as follows:

"I am sure you are fully aware of the outstanding record of the University of Idaho in the Armed Forces Blood Donor program. Not only have the students at Idaho responded most generously with blood donations, but it has been the challenge of the University of Idaho students to other major colleges and universities throughout the country that has stimulated college students everywhere to support the Armed Forces program."

While we know we did our best and are proud of it, such comment as quoted above is always welcome for we know that others realize what Idaho can do.

Not only does it help our pride, but a bit of praise now and again will give impetus for the blood drives yet to come.

University Arboretum Said To Be Oldest Of Its Kind

Merrill E. Deters The University of Idaho can boast of the oldest arboretum in the West. Its beginning may be traced to the deep interest which its founder, Charles Houston Shattuck, had in tree planting and in the idea that the state of Idaho could be made more beautiful and its homes more attractive through the use of trees.

Although Idaho had millions of acres of superb forests, there were also large areas of grassland and desert where no trees grew. It seemed likely that the grassland areas would be suitable for the growing of certain hardy species of trees, but more information was needed to encourage such planting. With the development of irrigation, much of the unproductive desert land, particularly in Southern Idaho, was being transformed to rich farm land, providing ideal conditions for tree plantings.

To provide the trees and knowledge regarding their growth and care was Professor Shattuck's chief research objective. In order to test the many tree species which might be useful for planting in Idaho and adjacent areas, he developed the idea of an arboretum. This would serve not only as a testing ground for trees, but also as a demonstration to be viewed by students and visitors.

Began in 1910 The first trees were set out in 1910 on the 12-acre tract dedicated to the arboretum and nursery. By 1914 the area was well planted. One hundred and thirty different species were included in the original plantings and many more species were received later for testing through the cooperation of the Department of Agriculture. Over 300 species have been planted up to the present time.

The arboretum was officially named in 1933 when the Associated Foresters of the University recommended to the Board of Education that it be named the Charles Houston Shattuck Arboretum. The University regents so named it on June 12, 1933.

Located as an integral part of the university campus, the arboretum provides a beautiful background for many of the buildings. In the fall season especially its variegated colors provide a most artistic scene.

Michele Morgan Displays Abilities

"Symphonie Pastorale" showed up last Tuesday evening in the Borah room as the final ASUI film offering, much to the surprise of everyone who had been looking forward to seeing "Les Enfants du Paradis" on Thursday. Finding a worthy substitute for the latter was obviously an impossible assignment, but the committee responsible must be credited with a nice try for securing another distinguished product of the French movie industry.

Produced in 1948, "Symphonie Pastorale" stars Michele Morgan, fresh from five years of triumphant miscasting in Hollywood. Here she is seen, not as a French Betty Grable, but as a mature dramatic actress with ample opportunity to display her very real talent. The strong supporting cast is equally fine.

The powerful Andre Gide story is another variation of the classical Pygmalion theme. In this version, the pastor of a small mountain village, set amidst magnificent Alpine scenery, molds a blind, brutish creature into a beautiful, desirable girl through years of patient devotion.

Tragedy is inevitable as the benefactor is forced to realize that his pity is really love, and his protegee that her gratitude is not. Life for the redeemer and the redeemed is, from that point on, as unbearable as it had been long since for the pastor's wife and his eldest son who loves the girl Gertrude and in turn teaches her to love.

The expressive content of the theme combines with superb acting and skillful direction to make this a film of unusual significance. The universality of the hopeless struggle against unfulfilled desires and disintegrating loyalties appeals to all who are moved by the Promethean struggle against human frailty.

The cinema series just concluded has been of unusual excellence and the ASUI Film committee deserves the sincere thanks of all students interested in motion pictures who realize to some degree their potential as an art form. It is hoped that the selections for next year measure up to the high standard set this year and particularly that a spot be found somewhere for the inimitable "Les Enfants du Paradis."

EMPLOYMENT UP

Employment opportunities in Idaho are continuing their upward seasonal trend, according to the state employment agency. The greatest increase in job openings are reported in the Southwest and South Central areas of the state.

A statute was passed in 1913 in North Carolina forbidding the hazing of students by "organizations, other students or unorganized groups."

New Curriculum Is Now Available To Bacteriologists

A new curriculum has been set up at the University making it possible for a student to receive a B.S. degree in bacteriology and become a registered medical technologist in four years, according to Dr. V. A. Cherrington, head of the department of bacteriology. Previously, the student planning a career as a medical technologist usually attended the University for four years, received a B.S. degree, and then entered a hospital for a year's additional work. Twelve months' hospital training under a recognized, qualified clinical pathologist and the passing of an examination are required to qualify for registration with the American Society of Clinical Pathologists.

Under the new curriculum, a maximum of 32 semester credits can be obtained, following the junior year, for the satisfactory completion of this work in hospitals affiliated with the University of Idaho. These hospitals are St. Luke's in Boise and the Deaconess and St. Luke's in Spokane.

Dr. Cherrington said that there had been no lowering of professional standards, but that electives had been eliminated to make possible the four-year plan. Students desiring to do so can still take the regular four-year curriculum before starting their hospital training.

FOREIGN STUDENTS

Some 30,000 foreign students are attending American colleges and universities, according to a recent survey taken by the Institute of International Education. Countries with the largest number of students are Canada, China and Germany.

"Darling, am I the first man you ever kissed?" "Yes, dear, all the rest were from WSC."

Spring Madness Gets Coeds Tubbed

It wasn't Saturday, but the girls on the Idaho campus took an unscheduled, impromptu bath in the Sigma Nu watering trough.

It all started Thursday afternoon when the Sigma Nu's got out their familiar cattle tub and decided to tub Jerry Smith who had passed his pin to Donna Bauer of Forney hall.

That didn't take long - but apparently spring madness was in the air and matter didn't stop there.

Later in the afternoon, Naomi Neeb, Alpha Chi, and Jerry Osburn, Sigma Nu, started throwing in members of their houses indiscriminately.

Things quieted down a bit but flared to life at dinner time. The Alpha Chi's took a look at the big tub full of chilly water and unceremoniously began to dump in their seniors.

Students gathered around and then things really began to happen. A group of boys grabbed a girl they knew and tossed her in the drink; girls grabbed girls, boys grabbed boys, visa versa - everyone went into the tub.

In no time well over 500 people had gathered in or around the Sigma Nu house to watch the impromptu water show. This show was by no means limited to the Hell Divers, though some took their dives as gracefully as any from that well known group. From seniors it went down to juniors or pledges, to sophomores, and finally to seal a true love affair a couple was thrown in together.

As Ed Lungren put it, walking back to the Kappa Sig house for dry clothes: "And I came down to watch 'em throw in the girls." A girl was thrown in from almost every house on the campus. There was no count of the number of men's houses involved in the fray. In little over an hour and a half more than 100 people took pre-Saturday and unwilling baths.

Ah well, it's campus capers whether its battling over baths or briefs.

Merrell Selected By Tour Group To Visit Holland

Three months' of living in Holland as the Dutch live is in store this summer for Joyce Merrell.

Miss Merrell has been selected by The Experiment in International Living, a non-profit organization with headquarters in Putney, Vt., for the summer sojourn in Holland. Annually, this organization chooses from hundreds of applicants, aged 16 to 30, a number of Americans to live during the summer with families in 19 different foreign countries. All arrangements are made by the group, although each individual pays his own expenses. Purpose is to promote better international understanding.

Did 4-H Work

Miss Merrell was selected because of her familiarity with 4-H Club work. Recently, she has been instructing in 4-H club summer programs, specializing in clothing and cooking.

Miss Merrell has also taken an active interest in foreign affairs. She has been president this year of the Cosmopolitan club at the University, largely made up of foreign students.

She has been attracted to Holland by stories of the country related by Joris Rosse, native of Holland, who was recently named the new president of the Cosmopolitan club. While in Holland, Miss Merrell will not only live with a selected Dutch family, but will take a bicycle tour of the country.

When you see a woman driver put her hand out, you can be sure of one thing - the window's open.

SAE's Take On A Tropical Splurge For Their Spring Dance Decorations

SAE's really splurged on their spring formal entitled "Orchids in Moonlight," which was decorated entirely in tropical manner.

The Theta "Kidnap Breakfast" created quite a stir on campus Sunday morning when coed guests were seen in pajamas. Silver stars and blue streamers were used as a setting for "Beyond the Blue Horizon," theme of Hays hall's spring dinner dance.

Couples danced to the rhythm of Ted Lindley's orchestra at the annual dinner dance last Friday evening. The theme of the dance, "Beyond the Blue Horizon," was carried out with blue streamers and shiny silver stars.

Mrs. Herbert Samms, Miss Ina Mae Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. George McCarty, and Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Vail chaperoned the affair.

Thursday night the senior students were honored at a formal dinner. Special guest for the occasion was Dean Louise Carter. Each senior was presented with a tiny silver spoon in her own silverware pattern. The juniors, who were in charge of the dinner, read the senior will and prophecy.

Friday night marked the top spot on the SAE social calendar for the year, when the chapter staged its annual spring formal. The theme of the dance was revealed at the last chapter meeting to be "Orchids in the Moonlight." Vaughn Jasper, general chairman, arranged strictly tropical decorations. Music was furnished by Ray Cox and his orchestra.

Kappa Alpha Theta Coeds running around the campus early Sunday morning in their pajamas had a legitimate excuse; they were attending the annual Theta "Kidnap Breakfast." Those present were Glenmar Hoke, Virginia Heller, Dorothy Runser, Sally Mace, Susan Banks, Mary Hansen, Nancy Magel, Helcia Graf, Doris Kooch, Thursa Jean Winget, Pat Miller, Rae Salsbury, Pat Trask, Elinor Justice, Harriet Duckworth, Mary Lou Varian, Jean McAlexander, Donna Jo Walenta, and Joan Parks.

Moscow alumna, Thelma Cutler, was a dinner guest Monday evening.

Tuesday evening at dinner the seniors, much to their surprise, were captured and tubbed by the pledges. Before this act was completed, almost everyone had been ducked once.

Last Sunday an exchange was held in the chapter house with the DGS from WSC. They were entertained for breakfast at 9:30 a.m. After breakfast each chapter presented entertainment.

Wednesday dinner was held in honor of graduating seniors Marilyn Anderson, Beverly Benson, Marcene Foreman, Laura Lee Hopkins, Jane Matthews, Polly Packenham, and Joan Raymer. Following dinner they went on a scavenger hunt for their gifts. A skit entitled "What a Coed Learns in College" was presented by the seniors.

Dinner guests this past week were Chuck Oldham, Gary Craig, Ted Lyons, and Mervin Sulley. Friday the annual picnic was held with the WSC Phi Taus. The organization was under the direction of Cal White.

Wednesday evening Mrs. Eschbaugh, housemother, entertained by giving a tea. Mary Harding poured and Barbara Pennington served.

The Alpha Chi and Sigma Nu pledges are planning a picnic for this afternoon.

Wednesday night a picnic was held in the Arboretum for all the Ridenbaugh members.

Wednesday evening at the Theta house, Ann Royer received a huge box at the door to be opened at dinner. To the girls' surprise and delight there was a little brass swimmer perched over a silver and gold "I" with a ring placed in the middle. Candies decorated with little red hearts told of the engagement of Pat Harris to Don Miller.

Miss Harris, a physical education major, will be a senior next year.

Miller, who will graduate in electrical engineering this spring, resides at Chrisman hall.

At Briar Sweet college, Va., overburdened students have been instructed to tell professors when assignments are too long. (Bet their workin' days are over.)

Job Outlook Good For 1952 Seniors

The job outlook for new college graduates this year is excellent, according to a report made by the U. S. Department of Labor.

According to the department, the nation's economy is operating at extremely high levels and is expanding, and that expansion is expected to continue during the rest of 1952 and 1953.

Employment in certain parts of the country is growing more rapidly than in others. This is true on the West coast, in the South Atlantic region and in Texas.

Production and employment for civilian use have been edging downward in recent months and a further decline may be anticipated during much of this year. During 1953, however, employment levels in this segment of the economy are expected to climb upward until they have more than recovered the losses of 1952.

Economics Prof Will Teach Here

Dr. Allan G. Gruchy from the University of Maryland will serve as visiting instructor of economics at the University during the 1952 summer session, Dean D. J. Hart, of the University's school of business administration, said recently.

Dr. Gruchy, widely known in teaching and economic circles; has written three books on economics, the latest on 'the economics of national defense in the United States and Great Britain, to be published by McGraw-Hill Publishing company.

While at the University, Dr. Gruchy will teach courses in economic theory and business conditions.

Graduate Baritone To Present Recital

Gerald Goecke, baritone, will present his graduate recital Sunday, May 25, at 4 p.m. in the recital hall of the Music building.

Goecke is a candidate for his M.A. (Music) degree in June, and has been active in the music department at the University and leader of the Navy glee club. He will be accompanied by Keith Forney.

Part one of his program will include "Sweet Kate," Jones; "Donzelle Fuggite," Cavalli; "Flow, My Tears," Dowland; "Dal Profondo dell' obbligo," Campana; and "Go To Bed, Sweet Muse," also by Jones.

Included on the second part are "Wie Melodien zieht es mir," by Brahms; "Clown's Song" and "Dein Angesicht" by Schumann; and "An die Leier" and "Der Schiffer" by Schubert.

Part three will be Meyerbeer's "Adamastor, roi des vagues profondes" from "L'Africaine." The last part of the program consists of five sea chanties arranged by Celius Daugherty: "Rio Grande," "Across the Western Ocean," "Shenandoah," "Blow Ye Winds," and "Mobile Bay."

Veterans Granted Special Regulation

Veterans who are teaching have been granted by a Veterans' Administration regulation, the right to teach during the regular school year and to attend summer school, but this plan must be in continuous operation. If such a teacher would drop out for a year, he could not re-enter another course.

In attending summer school, he is required to take courses leading to a degree such as BA or higher. Proof of employment as a teacher during the fall and winter term is required. Veterans must have started training four years after the date of their discharge or July 25, 1947, the close of WW II. Veteran teachers must have enrolled in the 50-51 summer school session. Those graduating in 1952 must attend the 1952 summer school if they wish to take advantage of the regulation pertaining to teachers.

Eisenhower Group Slates Campaign

"Students for Eisenhower" held their final meeting of the semester Wednesday evening at the SUB. A discussion of Eisenhower's views on foreign and domestic policy as seen through his speeches and letters was entered into.

Co-chairman of the group for next fall will be Harvey Pate and Whitman Symmes. Mr. Robinson, Apt. 20-G, West 6th, will conduct campaign work on the campus during the summer.

PCC Track And Field Meet In Process At Eugene, O.; Idaho Sends Four Athletes

Some of the nation's top track and field stars are competing today in the 22nd annual Pacific Coast Conference championships at Eugene, Oregon. Many of these outstanding men are candidates for the U. S. Olympic team and could send some of the PCC meet records tumbling.

Phi Delt's Capture IM Track Crown With Relay Victory

The Phi Delta Theta track squad was pushed to the final event before they succeeded in collecting enough points to clinch the 1952 Intramural track and field meet. Going into the final event — the 880-yard relay — the Phi Gamma Delta cinder men were still battling for the championship laurels. The Phi Delt's won the relay to edge the Fijis by three and one-half points, 185 1/2 to 182.

Tau Kappa Epsilon, Beta Theta Pi, Willis Sweet hall, Delta Chi, Kappa Sigma, Delta Tau Delta, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Sigma Chi finished in that order to round out the top ten.

Tom Flynn, PGD, established two new intramural records and won one other event to lead in individual scoring. Flynn ran the 50-yard distance in 5.5 seconds for a new mark, and broad jumped 21' 3" to eclipse the old standard in that event. He also placed first in the century run. Randolph of PDT and Contor of CH each won a pair of events for their teams.

Kruger, PGD, set a new mark in the shot put by heaving the 16 pound ball 39' 8", and Crookham, PDT, erased the old mark with 21.3 time in the 200 yard dash.

The Phi Delt's won five events, the Fijis captured four.

Huskie Series Ends Diamond Campaign

NORTHERN DIVISION
	W	L	Pct.	GB
OSC	9	5	.643	—
Oregon	8	5	.615	1/2
Washington	7	5	.583	1
WSC	6	8	.429	3
IDAHO	3	10	.231	5 1/2

Idaho fans will catch their last glimpse of the 1952 version of the Vandal baseball team when Washington's Huskies invade Vandallville for contests next Monday and Tuesday. The two teams split in their season opening series at Seattle last month.

The Vandals, mired deeply in the Northern Division cellar, are still determined to end their losing streak which now totals eight games. Also the Idaho nine has yet to cop a conference game on the home field. In fact, they haven't won one at home in two seasons. The last Northern Division home win was registered in the 1950 season over these same Washington Huskies. Since then, the count at McLean field has mounted to 14 straight losses.

Indications that the Vandals are possibly recovering from their hitting slump were displayed in last weekend's Washington State series. 16 hits rattled off the Vandal bats in the two-game set. It was by no means a tremendous output, yet it serves notice to Huskie hurlers that something might break loose in the coming series.

Topping the Vandal swingers at present is Mel Brown with a .333 mark with Bruce McIntosh at .326 and Jerry Ogle at .321 boasting the next best marks. Among the top hitters not batting enough times to be considered in the official averages are Dick Merrill, .667; Bill Stellmon, .333, and Bob Sell, .333. Each man has only batted three times.

Starting time for the Washington battles Monday and Tuesday will be 3 o'clock.

Vandal Batting
	AB	R	H	Pct.
Merrill	3	0	2	.667
Brown	45	3	15	.333
Stellmon	3	0	1	.333
Sell	3	0	1	.333
McIntosh	46	12	15	.326
Ogle	56	6	18	.321
Melton	12	3	3	.250
B. Huffman	8	0	2	.250
G. Huffman	56	11	13	.232
E. Huffman	48	8	11	.229
Kleffner	53	7	11	.208
Paulsen	35	9	6	.171

Hinckley	9	1	1	.111
Reynolds	7	0	0	.000
Dodel	7	0	0	.000
Goddard	2	0	0	.000

Mel Brown takes a lusty cut at the apple in the recent Washington State series. Mel tops the Vandal swatters with a .333 mark on 15 hits in 45 trips to the plate. A second sacker last season, Brown has shown his versatility by playing shortstop and outfield for the 1952 diamondmen.

Ames Will Head Gymnastic Club

Gerald Ames was recently elected president of the U of I Gymnastic club. Bert Wohlschlegel was elected acting secretary until the election of the other officers in the fall.

Bill Shaw, this year's president, was awarded the trophy for "The Most Valuable Man on the Gymnastic Club," and George Peterson, vice president, was awarded the trophy for "The Most Improved Gymnast on the Gymnastic Club."

A golf bag was presented to Director Dick Smith in appreciation of the help he gave the club during the past season.

Depth on the squad was lacking

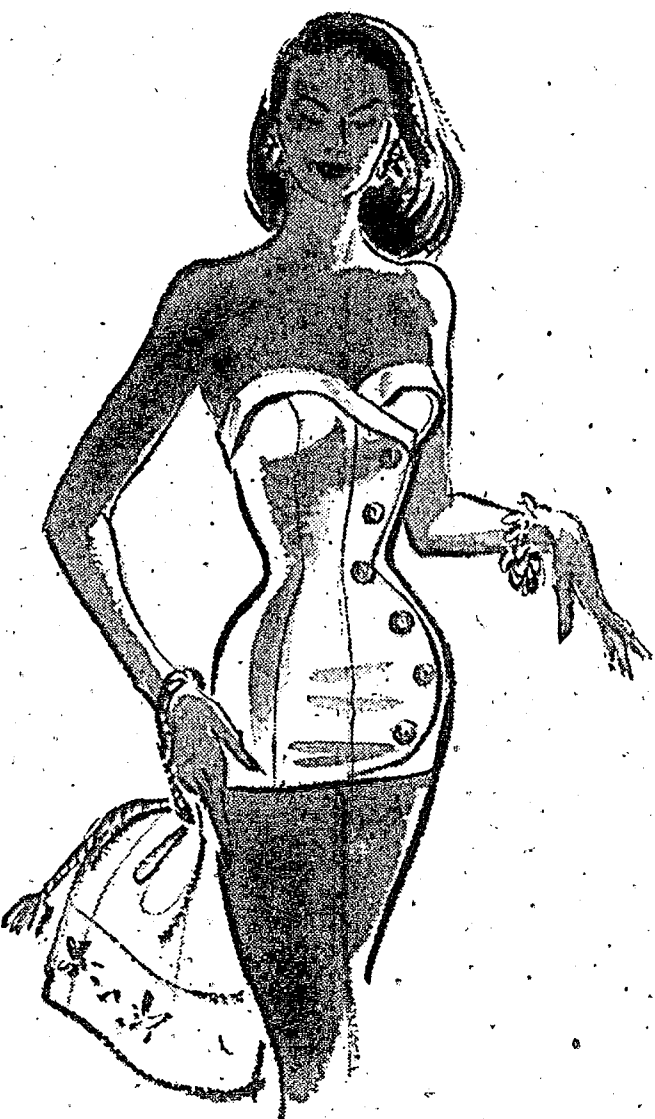

during the past year so any students interested in trying out for the club next fall should contact Ames, the new president stated. Two graduating seniors who will be lost to the group next year are George Peterson and Bill Perry.

Vandal Cowboys Will Compete In Portland Rodeo

University of Idaho cowboys will journey to Portland June 12 and 13 to contest in the National Inter-collegiate Rodeo finals, held in conjunction with the Rose festival.

Only the 10 top teams of the nation are eligible to compete, plus the five ranking cowboys through the country who compete on an individual basis.

Transportation costs and expenses while in Portland for the six-man team will be paid by the committee producing the show. A $1,000 traveling trophy will be awarded to the team accumulating the most points. Engraved buckles will be given to the winners of each event and other awards will be made to those placing in each contest.

Clown for the show will be Howard Harris, new Vandal Riders president, who will also enter the bare back, bulldogging, bullriding, and wild cow milking events.

Other members of the Idaho team and the events they will work are Bob Schild, bareback, saddle bronc, and bullriding; Les Matthews, saddle bronc riding; Darrell

Schnitker, bareback bronc riding; Jim Gerard, bareback and bull riding; John Holt, bareback and bull riding; Vern Gasser, alternate team member, will enter bareback and bull riding.

Stock for the rodeo will be furnished by Harley Tucker of Joseph, Ore., who furnished stock for the three shows produced by Idaho.
