

Registration Continues To Approach Estimate

A continuing, steady flow of registrants Monday indicated that the fall enrollment of the University of Idaho would approach the 2,958 estimate made by Registrar D. D. DuSault last April.

Standard Oil Scholarships Go To Four

Four scholarships to the University of Idaho, totaling $2,000, have been granted for the 1952-53 year by Standard Oil Company of California, according to Dean H. E. Lattig, director of student affairs. The scholarships, amounting to $500 each, go to a member of each University of Idaho class. They are granted by the company on a basis of scholastic ability and need.

From Idaho Falls
Receiving the freshman scholarship for this year will be Gene Dickey, 1952 graduate from Idaho Falls Senior High School. Active in high school student affairs, Dickey was president of the Idaho Falls student-body of 1,026 students, a member of the student council, active in band and orchestra, president of his sophomore class and a member of many other student and civic organizations. Dickey will enroll in pre-medicine.

Another pre-medical student will receive the sophomore scholarship. He is John S. Armitage of Fairfield. He finished his freshman year at the University of Idaho with a high scholarship rating.

Three Times
Junior and senior scholarship winners are each receiving the awards for the third consecutive time. Rex Eikum, winner of the junior award, is from Genesee. A music major, Eikum has received the award since his freshman year, maintaining a top scholastic average throughout the time.
Lois Bush, Malad, is the senior winner. Miss Bush, a major in journalism, has maintained a high scholastic average while taking part in many student activities throughout her three years at the University of Idaho.

Radio-TV Guild Plans Busy Year

The Radio-TV guild will outline plans for a busy year at the first meeting of the year next Tuesday, Sept. 23 at 7:15 p.m. at the Radio Center.

Bob Baggs, Guild president, will be on hand to welcome all those who would like to become active members. Those interested may participate in a radio and television workshop of acting, announcing, directing, writing, sound effects, research, and music.

Team Ahead Of Scheduled Rally

It's hard to say who is the most disappointed on the campus after Sunday's rally but certainly ASUI president Ray Cox had reason to feel blue. Instead of a cheering, shouting throng waiting to greet the football team, only about 150 people showed up to welcome the Vandals home.

Dean Theophilus To Leave Campus

During the coming three months, Dean D. B. Theophilus of the University of Idaho college of agriculture will visit 19 land-grant colleges and U. S. Department of Agriculture research centers in all parts of the United States.

Leaving the campus October 5, the Idaho dean will complete his regular sabbatical leave. Part of his leave was taken in July and August as University of Idaho representative on a Navy reserve officer training corps cruise.

His objective in visiting selected land-grant colleges in the East, West, South and Southwest, will be to study their procedures in teaching, research, and service.

Dean Theophilus also will visit officials in the seven bureaus and agencies of the U. S. Department of Agriculture with which the University of Idaho, through its agricultural experiment station and extension service, has cooperative relations. November 6 to 14 he will represent the University of Idaho at the annual land-grant college association meeting in Washington.

D. C. Dean Theophilus plans to return to the campus late in December.

At closing time Monday about 2,700 students had gone through the registration procedure — approximately the same as last year at the same time. Registration, however, is not complete, continuing until Saturday noon, primarily to accommodate graduate students.

The number of student cars recorded in the registrar's office totals 858.

About 300 more new students than estimated in April are swarming the University camps. More old students than figured, however, are apparently electing to take their military service now instead of after graduation.

Applications by new students for registration totaled last week indicate that at least four of the nine colleges and schools at the University show increases in new students over last year. These are the schools of education and mines, and the colleges of agriculture and engineering.

Biggest percentage increase in new students is expected to be shown by the school of mines, where the boost in applications totals 33 per cent. Heavy demand for mining engineers and big pay opportunities have helped draw new students to the University's technical school from all parts of the country.

Buchanan Tells New Appointments

New military appointments at the University of Idaho were reported by President J. E. Buchanan, following board of regents approval.

Named professor of military science and tactics, Army ROTC, was Captain H. Burnett. A West Point graduate, he saw action during World War II on the Italian front, where he was awarded the Bronze Star.

Two sergeants who recently completed foreign tours of duty join the staff. Master Sgt. Clarence C. Klinch, a Marine for more than 14 years, comes to the University from Korea, and will be an instructor in naval science. Sgt. Ellis C. Prescott, who has been on duty with occupation forces in Germany, becomes an instructor in military science and tactics. A native of Sharon, Idaho, he is a graduate of Pocatello high school.

Military personnel who completed their tours of duty at the University during the summer include Colonel Charles F. Hudson, Captain Donald F. Powell and Weldon C. McBride, 1st Lt. Charles W. Lane, and WOJG Robert N. Moore.

Homecoming Chairmen And Committee Heads Consolidate Effort Towards Grand Weekend

An Eye For An Eye . . .

New Dorm Now Nears Completion

Scheduled for completion about the middle of January is the new women's cooperative dormitory, the most recent addition to Idaho's extensive building program, according to Mr. George Gagon, university engineer.

Construction of the 2-story structure located on Blake avenue was begun in August. The building is of semi-colonial design. It is planned to accommodate a maximum of 55 girls.

Ridenbaugh hall, the only women's cooperative dormitory, will be used by the music department as a practice hall after completion of the new dormitory. This will allow abandoning of the numerous buildings now used as practice halls.

Suites of rooms similar to Forey hall will be featured in the new dormitory. They will include sleeping, study, and dressing rooms.

The exterior of the structure will be finished in a combination brick and wood siding.

Located between Forey hall and Gamma Phi Beta, the building is situated slightly back of the hall and ahead of the Gamma Phi house. This will give a staggered stair-step appearance to the buildings in the block.

General contractor for the building is Commercial Builders of Moscow. Mechanical contractor is C. M. Wilderman & Co. Spencer Electric is doing the electrical work. Mr. Hugh Richardson of Lewiston is the architect for the project.

Homecoming Finalists Visit Men's Living Groups

Approximately 500 Attend All Campus Mixer And Show

Approximately 500 students danced to the music of Rod Burton's band at the freshman orientation All-Campus Mixer and Variety show Saturday night at the SUB.

Highlighting the evening was the variety program with Ray Cox, ASUI prexy, as master of ceremonies. The show was broadcast by radio station KUOI and will be heard all over the state on the program "Here We Have Idaho." Included on this broadcast will be interviews of students taken during the show.

New Comedy Team

Ann Luedke sang "With A Song In My Heart" for the first number on the program. A new comedy team from the freshman class was introduced for the first time on the Idaho campus. Lee Hinckley and Blaine Jensen of Boise, who call themselves "Tick and Tock," presented an original act called "The Grecian Urn Dance," which displayed not only their ability as "classic dancers" but also as first-rate comedians.

A take-off on the blood drive was also included in the program. Blair Allen portrayed Ud Bloodkins and Jim Costley was Dr. Hugh Killern.

Idaho's Dutch Pianist

Representing Idaho's foreign students was Mike Rossi, from Holland, who played a Chopin prelude as a piano solo.

The Orientation committee was in charge of the dance and general arrangements. Publicity was covered by Rosie Bergdorf, and Ray Cox planned the variety show. The Moscow Chamber of Commerce provided the music.

Liz Winegar, co-chairman of orientation week, stated that the committee was very pleased with the dance and "thought it was a wonderful success as far as participation from each class and student mixing go." She further said that "it seemed as if all the students, senior, junior, sophomore and freshman alike, were getting around and becoming acquainted with one another."

ROTC COMMISSION

Air ROTC students possessing certificates of eligibility entitling them to a reserve commission in the air force upon graduation are requested to report to Sergeant Dunlap at the Air ROTC office not later than noon, Friday, September 26, 1952.

Lau Announces Homecoming Plans As Committees Prepare Reports

Float Limit Announced

Float limits for the 1952 Homecoming parade have been set at $50, parade chairman Bill Parsons announced Monday. The parade is to be held October 4 at 9:30 a.m. with the floats to be in position at 9:00 a.m.

Presidents of all living groups planning to enter floats are asked to meet in conference room A at the SUB at 7:00 p.m. Wednesday to discuss floats.

Keith Stevens, judges chairman, announced that floats will be judged during the parade rather than during the half-time. Stevens also declared that the judges names will not be announced.

Schools Combine For Dual Degrees

Extension of a unique educational partnership between the University of Idaho and College of Idaho whereby superior students in agriculture, business administration and engineering will receive degrees from both institutions after a five-year course has been announced by President J. E. Buchanan of the University and President Paul M. Pitman of the college.

A similar arrangement in law was started last year. The program for the three additional fields will become effective at the beginning of the academic years for the two schools.

The plan provides for three years of work in liberal arts and sciences at the College of Idaho, followed by two years of specialized study at the University. During the first three years, the student will cover the general education requirements for the A.B. degree as well as the foundation courses in his major subject. At the university he will concentrate on professional courses required for his particular B.S. degree. Upon satisfactory completion of the work, the College of Idaho will grant an A.B. degree and the University of Idaho a B.S. degree.

Car Owners Urged To Get Paint Job

All students owning cars are encouraged to cooperate with the Homecoming committee when the Inter-collegiate Knights begin stenciling all jalopies in sight today.

The stenciled sign advertising "Homecoming, October 4" is placed on the cars with harmless white paint which is easily washed off. The IK's will tour each living group with the stenciling apparatus Wednesday, Thursday and Friday during the noon hour.

If your car disappears during this schedule, please come to the Student Union any afternoon. All those taking cars to the Boise game are particularly urged to undergo this painless painting.

Idaho Graduate Wins Fellowship At Harvard

Alan Atwood, formerly of Lewiston and now of Moscow, became the first University of Idaho graduate to be selected for a Donald Kirk David fellowship at the Harvard graduate school of business administration. The announcement was made by Dean H. Walter Steffens of the University, Idaho representative of the selection board.

Atwood was graduated June 9 from the University's school of business administration. A high-ranking student, he was also active as a member of the Interfraternity council and of the Vandalers, the University's widely-known choral group. Dean Steffens added that strong consideration was also given to Atwood's outstanding work as a foreman of large construction crews during vacation periods.

The two-year fellowship was recently established by Mr. and Mrs. George F. Jewett of Spokane in honor of Dean David at Harvard, who is a native of Moscow and a University of Idaho graduate. It provides funds up to $2,000 a year for a single man and $2,600 for a married man. The recipient has no legal obligation to pay back any of the money, but he is considered to have a moral obligation for repayment in later years. Fellowships are open only to individuals in Idaho, Washington or Utah.

Appointments Made

Two former University of Idaho athletic stars have received appointments to the University administrative staff, President J. E. Buchanan announced recently, following approval of the board of regents.

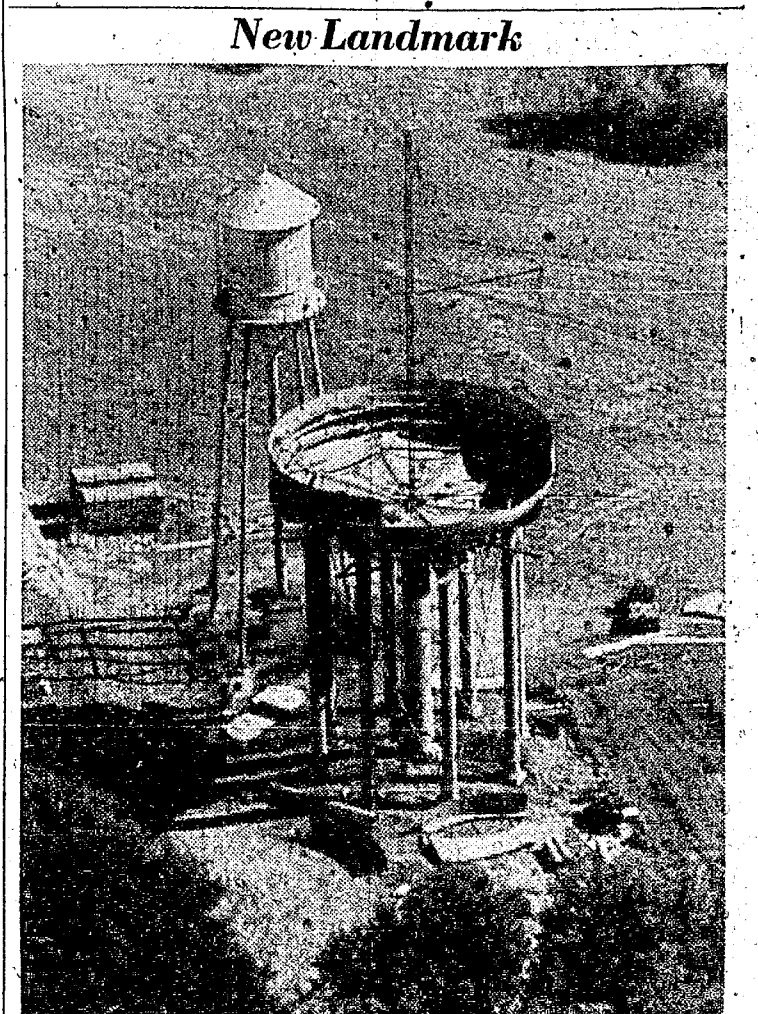

Graduates of 1952, they are Stephen Douglas, formerly of Boise, a member and captain of the Vandal football team, and Richard Reed, four-year letterman of the Vandal basketball team formerly of Lewiston. Douglas was appointed as assistant accountant in the bursar's office and will have charge of the payroll section. Reed will serve as assistant director of dormitories.

Large Dance Band May Be Organized

Plans for the development of a large dance band to be within the structure of the pep band were announced Friday night by Warren R. Bellis, band director, at a meeting for band members. Bellis said the band would have from 15 to 18 members, and be developed for the purpose of playing at all-campus dances. "I think we have a good chance," he said, speaking of the possibility of organizing the band.

Bellis emphasized the fact that the band is open to all University students. There are still vacancies for students on campus with experience in bands. Bellis would like to have them come to his office and sign up.

Possibilities for the band, its purpose, and band shows for football games were discussed at the meeting Friday. Regular band rehearsal is Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons at 4.

The Idaho Argonaut

Keep That Friendly Spirit

A lot of freshmen are beginning to lose that bewildered look already. One frosh coed was overheard echoing Daniel Boone's famous comment: "I never was really lost, just a little confused."

The confusion has been largely ironed out already, thanks to the efforts of the Orientation committee and friendly individuals eager to lend a helping hand to any bewildered newcomer. Idaho may be justly proud of its friendly campus spirit.

Right in line with that friendly spirit—don't forget that Homecoming is a short 11 days away! That isn't very long in which to roll out a big, plush welcome mat for the alums. To get the job done will require a lot of digging.

Homecomings seem to be getting bigger and better every year. A big crowd may be expected again this year, especially if the summer weather is still with us October 4.

Between now and then there's a lot of work to be done. House decorations are to be limited to $10. Floats carry a $50 top limit. But many hours of construction lie ahead for ambitious halls and houses.

The alums have done, are doing, and will continue to do, multi good deeds for the old institution. Current inhabitants will be doing their best to make this Homecoming (as usual) "the best yet."

Whether you're a young, eager frosh or a sage, timeworn senior there'll be something for YOU to contribute. Help out. —K.L.K.

Coffee Cup Poll Gets Odd Answers

Oh you lucky people, the coffee cup poll at the SUB is again being blatted for cold coffee and warm coles. Since the University of Idaho is considered to be a large ag school yours truly wondered just what Idaho students knew about farming. Admitted that the questions were a little ridiculous, but after all who are we to complain in these times of presidential polls, Gallup polls, and just any old poll.

Surprising as it may seem, apparently the girls know more than the boys do about agriculture. They wouldn't stand a chance in a fair test, of course, but really fellows. . . ?

Following the usual procedure of leaning my elbow in the nearest coffee cup I asked Terry Hanson just what he thought a potato psyllid is. "A dish served at picnics," he answered while trying to peek at the correct answer which I clutched in my clammy little hand.

Terry also seemed to think that agronomy is a wheat grass instead of a combination of barley and cucumbers. He was right, of course. Although Terry thought that the shell was responsible for giving eggs an off flavor, Howard Williams, who had ignored me till he finished his coke remarked that anybody should know that it was the yolk. Actually Howard didn't mean to give the right answer. He just mispronounced joke.

After Howard told his joke (which I will forward to any interested party for two-bits), I strolled over to the table of two charming young ladies whom I presume are sisters. Betty and Anne Brooks deduced that psyllid is a damaging insect, guessed that agronomy is wheat grass, and decided that the yolk gives an egg a bad flavor. "My home ed teacher would never have forgiven my missing the last question," one said.

Nancy Lyle tried to duck but I stepped on her foot and as she screamed for help she managed to answer two of the questions correctly. However, she thought that the white of an egg might be responsible for its bad flavor.

"I don't like eggs," said Maizie Collett, "so it must be my imagination which gives an odd flavor to eggs that I eat." Maizie, whose dad raises potatoes, thinks that a potato psyllid is a potato cellar, but she correctly guessed that agronomy is a wheat or wheat grass. "After all, what else?"

Frank Gunn knows his potato psyllid but neither eggs nor agronomy. Chuck Lamb grinned and answered all the questions right. "Are you an ag student?" I asked. "No."

As a matter of fact I didn't ask any ag students these questions. Naturally they would have had the right answer. Or am I presuming that anybody would know the answer to such questions.

The questions were courtesy of the ag extension service press release. See you next week for coffee at the SUB.

260 Veterans Enroll

Veteran enrollment for the school year will be approximately 260 according to C. H. Bond, veterans director. Of these men, 160 are under public law 346 which applies to the G.I.s of World War II. Under the disabled veterans law, public law 16 are another 26 men. Korean veterans on campus number 20 but Bond expects Korean veterans to number about 50 when all have registered.

"How did you learn to kiss like that?" she asked in ecstatic tones. He replied: "Siphoning gas."

DEAR JASON

Dear "Redhead" (or Jason, as some people say),

I have a gripe. School has been in session for some time now and as yet I have received no copies of Ye-Olde Argonauite. Are you still putting out that rag or did Cox do away with it? I would really like to know whether the Golden Fleece is being written by a redheaded Canadian or is he driving the old ship into the rocks?

Seriously, I would like to receive the Argonaut, Graham, because I still have a small part in my heart for old Idaho. Am I reaching you?

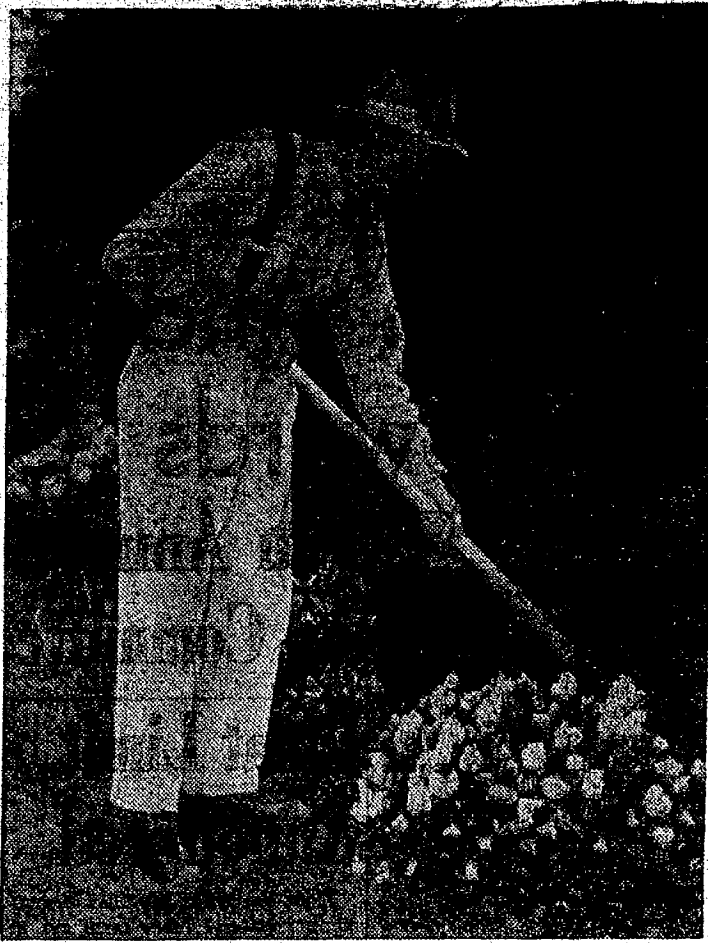

"I am a poor 2nd Lt. who doesn't have any money, but some day may donate a new building to Idaho. That's after I write my first novel — "Air Force, Confidential", of course.

Give my regards to Gale Mix, McHadditt, the D.G.'s, the Kappas, etc. and send me the paper!!! Tell Cox to watch out for the fifth party. If Conrad Christensen is still around there, tell him to "GET TO WORK!!!" and then (censored. . . Ed).

Good luck on the Arg. fella, you'll need it as we all did. My only advice is to get pair of earmuffs and a big horn.

Alumingly yours,
Editor Emeritus,
Bert C. Johnson

Gardener Retires

Otto Turinsky, University gardener, is shown working among his beloved plants at the University. A man who has served at the University for the past 23 years, Turinsky recently retired at the age of 70.

University Gardner Retires After Years Of Service

A man who worked in the gardens of European nobility in five countries and decorated for two emperors, retired this week after serving as head gardener at the University of Idaho for 23 years.

Otto Turinsky, university gardener since 1929, knows the scientific names of most of the plants on the University of Idaho campus and reckons time by the blooming seasons of his flowers. He has retired at the statutory age of 70, but he'll still be around to watch over his flowers on a part-time basis.

Replacing Turinsky as head gardener will be Lloyd D. Cowden, University of Idaho graduate of 1938 and associate horticulturist with the university from 1945 to 1948. Before returning to the University of Idaho, Cowden owned and operated a farm in Home-

A Half Century

Turinsky began his gardening career more than 50 years ago, when he entered a gardening college at Melnik, Czechoslovakia. Before coming to the United States, he worked in the gardens of many European noblemen in Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Rumania, Austria and Germany. He speaks six languages.

Twice he helped to decorate with floral displays for the arrival of European royalty in the towns where he worked — once for Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany, and for Emperor Franz Josef, Austro-Hungarian ruler.

In the United States, he settled first in Ohio and later moved to Nebraska. In each case, neither he nor his wife liked the high winds and tornados of the Midwest and they moved on to Sandpoint, Idaho, where they bought a ranch.

While buying and clearing the ranch, Turinsky worked in timber camps, lumber mills, on railroads and did a little gardening as the

Attic Club Activates

All University students enrolled in any art or architecture courses are automatically members of the Attic club. Meetings are held twice a month, on Thursday afternoons. Coffee and donuts are served, at the meetings where plans for the various projects of the club are discussed. Students are asked to watch for announcement of the first meeting in the Argonaut and on a sign to be posted in the Art building.

KUOI To Feature UP News Program

Campus radio station KUOI will feature a 15-minute resume of up-to-the-minute world-wide and campus news weekdays at 9 p.m., supplied for the first time this year by direct wire United Press teletype and sponsored by Lucky Strike cigarettes.

Companion feature to the news will be a 6:00 p.m. sports review, also sponsored by Lucky Strike, bringing listeners up to date on national sports news gathered from the United Press and campus sports reported by the KUOI staff. Both programs will be heard every weekday night on KUOI, 600 on your radio dial.

An added feature is a "jingle" contest which urges listeners to submit simple jingles promoting the sponsor's cigarettes. Winners will receive awards of $25.00, and contest entry forms may be had at the radio station.

Tryouts for KUOI announcers will be held every night this week at 4:00 p.m.

Church News

Newman Club

The first meeting will be held Tuesday night at 7:30 at the Parish hall. A short business meeting to discuss the year's events will be followed by a mixer.

Roger Williams

The Roger Williams club of the Baptist church will hold a reception tonight to initiate the new school year. Students will meet at the Campus Christian Center at 5:30 and go to the foot of Moscow mountain for an evening of fun. Dress is for outdoor comfort.

Hamburgers with all the trimmings will be served at the campfire program.

Canterbury Club

The first Communion service of the year at Canterbury house will be held at 7 a.m. Wednesday, September 24. After the short service breakfast will be served with plenty of time for everyone to make his first period class.

Idaho Midshipmen Tour In Europe

Sailing out from Norfolk, Virginia, this summer were a group of NROTC midshipmen from the University of Idaho who were participating in the annual summer midshipmen cruise for NROTC regulars throughout U. S. colleges and universities.

Leaving July 18, the fleet sailed to the North Atlantic, split up, and sailed to ports in Belgium and France where the "middles" were given time off to tour these countries.

Meeting again in Lisbon, Portugal, the fleet sailed to Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, for a restricted leave. From here they sailed back to Norfolk where they disembarked September 5 to end the seven-week cruise.

First Display Is Shown At Library

The library is beginning the new school year with a display of some of the supplemental sources of study available at the University of Idaho. The examples used in the exhibit are merely illustrative of the wide scope of publications available. It shows some of the occupations or professions which can receive the most recent information from publications issued from the government printing office.

If you can't find the information you want by using the card catalogue, ask at the reference desk.

Beta: "You're the sixth girl I've proposed to without avail."
Theta: "Maybe if you wear one next time, you'll have better luck."

Yell Team Tryouts Scheduled Tonight

To replace the shattered ranks of Idaho's yell team, tryouts will be held tonight at 7:30 p. m. in the Executive Board room in the SUB. It is hoped that two men and two coeds will comprise this year's cheer squad.

The casualty list shows that out of five yell leaders, chosen last spring only Janice Foedish returned to school. Nona Johnson came back to school as a twirler in the band instead of a yell leader. Nancy Edwards got married this summer.

Among the boys, Bob Johannesen transferred to Wyoming and Bill Whitman hopped the ocean to Lebanon in the Near East where he will attend school.

Results of the tryouts will be published in Friday's Argonaut.

Men are as honest and truthful as women . . . that's why women are so suspicious of them.

Canterbury Club Reception Tonight

Canterbury club, Episcopal student youth group on campus, will have a reception and get-together for all Episcopal students and their friends tonight from 7 to 9:30. The reception will be held at Canterbury House at 618 Elm St., next door to the Alpha Phi house.

Jiri Wilson, president of Canterbury club, said "Here is a swell chance to get acquainted with your fellow Episcopalians and learn of the activities of Canterbury."

Games will be played in the newly finished game room in the basement. During the summer a new floor has been laid and cedar paneling put on the walls. Refreshments will be served.

Freshmen students will be given special permission to attend this reception as a part of Tuesday church night.

Agent's Souvenirs To University

A real estate agent's souvenirs of Post Falls, from 1890 to 1895, have come to the archives section of the University of Idaho. The collection is the gift of Miss Emma E. Clarke, Spokane, and formerly belonged to her late father, Charles W. Clarke.

At one time, Clarke and a brother owned about half of Post Falls. With Frederick Post, Clarke owned and operated the water power system. He was county assessor and president of the school board as well as real estate agent.

"My father was a great saver of records," said Miss Clarke, "and I wanted the university to have them, because they should be helpful to students of pioneer history."

In the collection are such varied items as deeds and title abstracts showing values of property at the time, an illustrated folder of Idaho published in 1893 in connection with the world's fair, scrapbooks of newspaper clippings pertaining particularly to mining, early photographs of Post Falls, and a journal indexing Post Falls townships.

IDAHO SCORES RECORD 14 POINTS AT SEATTLE

Lead Huskies In Rushing Department, But Can't Stop Mighty Don Heinrich

Idaho's "small potatoes" football team was back at practice in a broiling sun yesterday tuning up for Saturday afternoon's tussle with Utah in Boise.

In the season's record-breaking opener against the University of Washington Coach Babe Gurfman's squad gave promise that before the end of the season the "small potatoes" might grow into big ones the size of the famous Gem state baking spuds.

Records were smashed and shattered in Saturday's simmering 81 degree heat at Seattle. Idaho's plunging ground attack and Jay Buhler's accurate point-after-touchdown toe counted for 14 points, the most ever hung up by a Vandal eleven against Washington. The previous mark was 12 points scored by the Idaho team in 1900, which defeated Washington 12-0, and again in 1938, when Idaho and Washington played a 12-12 tie.

Record Attendance
The attendance record was also given the bump. Almost 30,000 fans turned out for the battle and it was the most to ever see an Idaho game there. Despite the lop-sided score, few fans left the stands — a tribute to the kind of ball the Vandals were playing in the second half.

The main difference, as was apparent to those that listened to the broadcast, was sharp-shooting Don Heinrich. Fully recovered from a 1951 shoulder injury, the All-American quarterback tossed 27 passes and completed 18, without an interception.

The "Magician" scored twice and rolled up the healthy total of 226-yards. Idaho gained but 54 yards from passing and had four aerials stolen.

Vandals Outrush Huskies
The Vandals outgained the Huskies on the ground, however, 169 yards to 131 yards. Twice they powered their way down the field on straight ground plays to score.

Offensive standouts for Idaho were sophomore Flip Kleffner and Dick Pickett. Flip pounded out 80 yards in 20 carries for a four-yard average per carry. Pickett gained 50-yards in nine tries for an outstanding average of five-and-a-half yards.

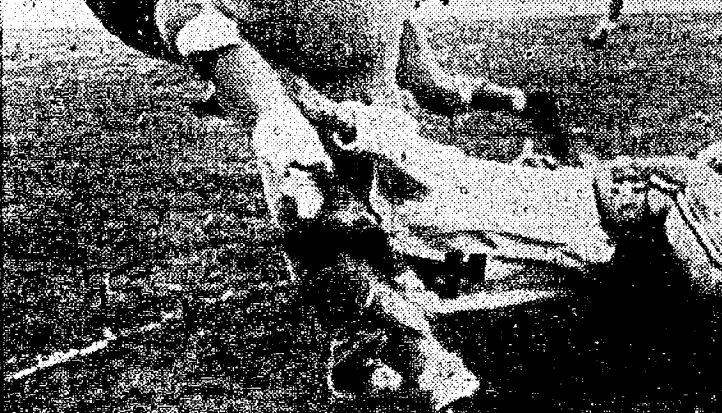

On the defense Coach Curfman singled out Ray Lewis and Bob Holder. Lewis, especially was credited with a great game by sports-writers and broadcasters around Seattle.

Anderson Excused
Idaho was definitely hurt when senior quarterback, Wayne Anderson, was tossed from the game on a rule infraction in the second quarter. The officials said Anderson was bounced for kneeing a blocker during a punt return. Regardless the Vandals definitely lost the services of their first-string quarterback. Dick Zyzak came on to do a crackerjack job, but two heads are better than one.

Jay Buhler also came in for his share of the glory as he booted two perfect conversions. Idaho has lacked a reliable man in this department for a good long time and any arrival is welcome.

Good Second Half
Tough luck bogged the Vandals down during much of the first half. Penalties several times stopped promising drives, but they knocked stubbornly until they made their own breaks in the third stanza.

Big center Mel Bertrand grabbed a stray pass from the Husky's Jim Warsinske at the Washington 32-yard line and eight plays from the one-yard stripe for the later Dave Murphy dived over

Try as he might, Washington's right halfback, Bill Earley (19), couldn't get away from Vandal Larry Hart (4).

IM Managers

To all managers!! The first meeting this year for the Intramural Managers is scheduled for 4:15, Tuesday, September 23, in Memorial Gymnasium, 109. It would be appreciated if you would have a representative at this meeting to take up the calendar of events and to adopt policies and procedures for the operation of this year's intramural program.

Top Golfing Squad Looked For Again This Coming Year

Despite the loss of four of the first six men on last season's varsity golf team, the Vandal linksters are prepared to engage in another full season of fairway fireworks. Gone from last season's near ND championship team are such talented swingers as Dale Faylor, John Drips, Fred Stringfield and Sam Jenkins.

Two returning lettermen will form the nucleus of the new squad. Bob Campbell, a sophomore, was runner-up in this year's Idaho State Amateur tournament while Phil Weitz, a junior, won the Idaho State Junior tourney staged in Caldwell.

Prospects for this year's squad are as favorable or possibly even better than last season according to head coach Dick Snyder. Some of the contenders for varsity spots are Vern Batt, Dave Powell, Jack Perry, Wayne Solomon, and Tommy Miller, Miller is a veteran just returned from Japan.

Gonzaga Will Drop Sport Of Boxing

Gonzaga university will not have a boxing team this year! An earlier decision to drop the sport was confirmed recently by the Rev. Francis E. Corkery, S.J., president of the school, after efforts to make participation in the sport possible under a new Pacific Coast conference rule proved fruitless.

The PCC rule barring boxers who participated in amateur boxing after their 16th birthday was the original reason for dropping the sport at Gonzaga.

Idaho and Washington State are the big money steps on the Boone avenue school's schedule and both were unable to schedule Gonzaga unless the school abided by the rule. Under the rule, all but three of last year's powerful Bulldog squad are ineligible.

Several meetings of alumni and faculty members have tried to find a way to keep the sport under the rule but it was decided no feasible way could be found unless the rule was relaxed to allow boys already in school to finish their careers.

"After a thorough consideration and review of all the circumstances, it does not appear reasonable for Gonzaga to participate in intercollegiate boxing under existing conditions. We appreciate the interest that has been manifested in the problem but we can't see any solution to it," Father Corkery explained in a statement yesterday. "It is with great reluctance that we give up the sport but there doesn't seem to be any alternative."

It was explained that the move was not a de-emphasis of athletics at the school, but only the inevitable climax of a dilemma. A new program, the details of which will be released in the near future, is planned to take the place of the ring sport.

Rule Changes Should Provide Coast Fans With Better Brand Of Football

(PCC Service Bureau Release)
West Coast college football fans can expect a better brand of football with fewer fouls in 1952, according to Frank G. McCormick, 8th district representative on the national rules committee.

McCormick, Supervisor of Officials for the Pacific Coast Conference, recently conducted a series of game officials' clinics in Spokane, Seattle, Portland, the San Francisco Bay area, and Los Angeles. He based his prediction of better football and fewer fouls on:

1. Addition of a fifth official to the crews working PCC games.
  2. Tightening of rules and increases in yardage on penalties.
- Fifth Official
The fifth official will be stationed on the line of scrimmage opposite the head linesman and will ensure good coverage of action on both sides of the line, passes into the flat, sideline situations and play behind the ball carrier.

"In addition to better coverage through an added official," said McCormick, "I'm sure we will find the players maintaining stricter control over their own actions because of the 1952 rules."

He cited as an example the new defensive holding penalty of 15 yards in place of the old 5-yard assessment. "The old penalty was not sufficient to prevent the defense from holding potential pass receivers and the new penalty is more in keeping with what would be gained from such a completed pass," he explained.

Thwart Rough Play
To thwart rough play, the rules committee has enacted stronger suspension and personal and has asked players, coaches and officials for stricter control over play. McCormick pointed out that suspension is now mandatory for any player who "shall strike an opponent with his fist, forearm, elbow, locked hands or kick an opponent."

The 1952 rules also read that "no player shall meet an opponent with the knee, strike an opponent's head with the heel, back or side of the open hand during the game or between periods." Suspension is mandatory in the case of flagrant offenders.

Suspension also is mandatory for flagrant violations involving unnecessary roughness and use of hands and arms when the ball is in possession of either team, or free. More attention has been called to "piling on" fouls.

Other Changes
Other 1952 rule changes include:
1. Revival of 1948 clipping rule which forbids all blocks from the rear; last year they were legal above waist.
2. Both a 5-yard penalty and a charged timeout for substituting during 25-second count with clock running; formerly teams drew 5-yard delay of game penalty only for substituting a kicker, for example, while saving timeout until needed.
3. Official's timeout after every kick, regardless of who recovers;

SKI TEAM

All candidates for the Varsity ski team come to room 105, Navy Building at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, September 24.

Statistics show that Yale grads have 1.3 children, while Vassar grads have 1.7. Which merely goes to show that women have more children than men.

A noted educator divides American colleges into two groups—those who wished they'd fired the football coach last fall, and those who wish they hadn't.

Fight Tonite

MOST IMPORTANT YOUNG MAN
IN AMERICA TODAY . . .

Who is he?
This chap represents thousands of young, red-blooded sons of great American families. He is ready to stand on his own, to carry his share of responsibility. He is preparing for a bright future and desires to train further toward his success. He wants peace, security, and a full life for his family and home. If need be, he is ready to defend his rights and his country. When called on to serve in defense of American liberties, he will be fully trained and equipped to fly and fight with the U. S. Air Force.

This is what he will do—
Today's college man will plan to stay in school and graduate if at all possible. If he is faced with early entrance into military service and possesses at least two years of college, he will enlist as an Aviation Cadet in the U. S. Air Force and choose between becoming a Pilot or Aircraft Observer. After a year of the world's best instruction and training, he will graduate into a real man-sized job and wear the wings of America's finest flying fraternity. Commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force, he will begin earning nearly $5300 a year. His future will be unlimited!

How he qualifies—
He is between the ages of 19 and 26½ years, unmarried and in good physical condition, especially his eyes, ears, heart and teeth. After he has graduated from a recognized university or college, or has earned at least two years of college credits, he is eligible to enter the Aviation Cadet Training Program and will receive immediate processing for assignment to training. By sending for an Aviation Cadet application now, this Most Important Young Man in America Today will help bring about a peaceful tomorrow.
