Well-Informed Students?

The national political campaigners are currently battling around great clouds of dust in obvious attempts to get down to the mud. Is Nixon's expense account clandestine corruption or is Stevenson's or are both or are neither?

The intelligent voter will definitely want to find out what the real story is before marking an X in the right square. A great many politicians on both sides of the dust will be eager to see that the cloud hasn't settled before elections. And they will be most eager to keep the cloud stirring around the other side of the fence.

These developments in the campaign are of particular significance to college students. They are supposed to be in a position to keep well informed on current developments. But are they?

When the Owen Lattimore controversy was steaming up a good many headlines across the nation an astute University professor embarrassed one of his classes, but good! He simply asked the group, "Who is Owen Lattimore?"

There were more than a score of students in the class (sophomore and up). Of the group ONE—that's right, ONE—student knew that the man in question was a professor at Johns Hopkins University. And the question brought about as many different replies as there were students. This was true in spite of the fact that Mr. Lattimore had had his name in front page top news stories for more than a month!

Reading the newspapers and listening to the radio isn't enough. Even if a person takes the trouble to glance at the front page it doesn't guarantee that the issue automatically becomes clear. Maybe we should try reading and listening a bit more carefully. K.L.K.

New Process Approved

The following procedure for computing scholastic averages for Selective Service deferments was approved May 9, 1951.

In computing scholastic averages for the year only full-time male students will be considered. A full-time student is defined as one completing a minimum of 12 hours of work per semester. (Non-credit courses and courses being taken in review will be counted in totals.)

Averages will be computed for the academic year 1952-51.

Divided into Groups
In computing student class standings, segregation will be in groups by classes and divisions. For example, freshman college of engineering students will be placed in one group, junior college of letters and science students in another group, etc.

After the students have been grouped as indicated above, the upper half of the group will be the upper one-half of the total number of individuals in the group ranked according to their scholastic averages. (That is, if there are 40 students in the group, the 20 having the highest scholastic averages will be reported as being in the upper half and the other 20 in the lower half. In cases of those ranked in the upper two-thirds, etc., the ranking will be made in the same manner.) In cases of two or more students having identical averages at the cutting point, these students will be considered in the upper fraction.

1st Semester Counts
A student changing his curriculum at the end of the first semester will be placed in the group with which he has registered during the second semester. (That is, if a student transferred from forestry to education at the beginning of the second semester, he will be classified in the education division.)

(In determining which class a student is to be rated in, the registrar will take his classification as indicated on the official census card at the first semester registration.)
Students' classifications will not be changed between the first and second semester.

DEAR JASON

Dear Jason:
If the facts in your news stories are as censored as was your copy of the clipping from the Chicago Daily News you are not doing your readers justice.

I have the story before me as it appeared in the Chicago Daily News, and your version, in comparison, seems to have been edited to the point that it should have been relegated to page 14, section B, instead of page one.

Sincerely,
Irving D. Muir

Dear Jason:
We three students of the University of Idaho have a complaint which we think quite justified.

The pep rally Thursday night was the scene of what could have been a near disaster. At the Kappa, D. G. corner the students who were waiting to join the rally pushed into the front of the line instead of being courteous enough to fall in at the rear as planned. This caused a major pile up with several people falling down and being trampled. Had it not been for a few thoughtful people there would have been more serious injuries than just bruises.

Signed,
Battered, Bruised and Bloody

Dear Jason:
I wonder if you happened to notice that many of the students who made the pep rally before the Boise game a success were certainly kept in the dark. Students like Ray Cox, the cheer leaders and the football team. If we are going to make it a practice to have rallies in front of the SUB for the team or for the blood drive like last year then why isn't some pro-

Mortar Board Sells 'Mums for Moms'

Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, will handle the traditional sale of mums for Homecoming again this year. An agent has been appointed in every living group to sell or take orders for the flowers. "Mums for Mom" is the slogan that is being used this year during the sale Thursday and Friday.

The mums will be sold in the SUB and the Administration building and cost $1.50.

The Mortar Board chapter will visit each men's living group during the week to present a skit with a Homecoming theme.

Special favors on mums this year will be orange footballs plus the regular "T's".

It would make it easier for the audience to see something other than shadowy figures with voices and perhaps focus their attention on what was taking place on the roof. Let's keep any future rallies at the SUB from being in the dark and throw some light on them.

Club Holds Meeting

Bench and Bar, law students' organization, held its first meeting September 25th with President Ben Shuey in charge.

Along with the get-acquainted festivities, H. A. Berman, formerly a practicing attorney in New York, and Philip Peterson, also a former practicing attorney, were introduced as new faculty members.

Supper was served and the group met more quickly than hardening of the arteries.

Charlotte Uehrs played the organ. The bride was a sophomore at the University last year and a member of Kappa Alpha Theta.

The groom attended Boise Junior college and WSC and is in the Air Force. He will be stationed at Alexandria, Louisiana, October 8.

Mrs. Simmons plans to enroll at the University this semester.

Then there was the girl who was so dumb she thought the Latin quarter was a rare coin, and didn't know whether lettuce was a vegetable or a proposition.

Liz Winegar sang "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Jane Perry and Harold "Whitey" Simmons were married Sunday afternoon at the First Presbyterian church with the Rev. W. Warren Prall performing the ceremony.

Bridesmaids were Beverly Gallup and Jeanne McAlexander, students at the University. Maid of honor was the bride's cousin, Dawn Flint.

JUST WHAT GOOD ARE PROFITS ?

During the last 20 years a great many uncomplimentary things have been said about profits. Left Wing propaganda has been so successful that many honest Americans were actually beginning to wonder if maybe there wasn't something evil about profits after all. But the answer is plain if we understand one of the most important functions of profits in our economy. It is simply this:

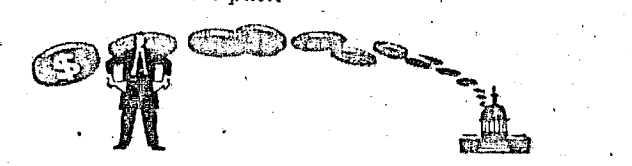

The chance for profit constantly encourages the development of new and improved products. Because of the competition for profits, every business strives to put out better and more useful products, with greater efficiency, at lower prices. (At Union Oil, for example, we're spending $10,000 per day on research—and our competitors work just as hard as we do on product improvement.)

Because of this essential function of profit the American people have better products in greater abundance than the people of any other country. As a consequence, we enjoy the highest standard of living the world has ever known.

It's not hard to see, then, why the profit motive must be preserved. Yet present tax policies and government controls are discouraging production by destroying the profit motive. And without this incentive we Americans cannot possibly show the progress in the future that we have shown in the past.

Society News Deadline And Schedule Announced

Society news this year should be brought in by the society reporters of each living group once a week. All news should be typewritten and turned in to the Argonaut office in the SUB by 1 p. m. on the designated days. Forms are available at the office for turning in the news.

In group one with news due Monday are Kappa Alpha Theta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Pi Beta Phi, Forney hall, Hays hall, Ridenbaugh hall, Phi Kappa Tau, Lambda Chi Alpha, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Chi, Sigma Nu, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Lindley hall, Pine hall, LDS house and Willis Sweet hall.

With news due Thursday are Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Phi, Delta Delta Delta, Delta Gamma, Gamma Phi Beta, Alpha Tau Omega, Beta Theta Pi, Delta Chi, Delta Sigma Phi, Delta Tau Delta, Kappa Sigma, Phi Delta Theta, Christian hall and the Idaho club.

Plans for a special banquet to be held in conjunction with the Delta Delta Delta's mortgage-burning ceremony are well under way. The burning will be held Thursday.

Construction of the house was begun in 1931 and the ceremony will climax 20 years of working to pay off the mortgage.

Pledges gave a surprise fireside for the members Thursday evening.

Sigma Nu

The Sigma Nus highlighted the first week of school with a fire-side in the chapter house on Friday evening. More than 30 couples attended the affair which was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Dick Reed.

Last Tuesday evening the five candidates for Homecoming Queen were entertained at dinner. Other dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Dan Creswell.

Plans have been completed and work will begin tonight on the homecoming float with Ted Bell and Bert Zimmerly in charge.

An exchange with the Alpha Chis was held in the house last Wednesday evening.

Weekend guests at the house included Mr. and Mrs. George Berry and Ann Marie; Dr. Douglas and daughters; and Fred Willett, all of Lewiston.

Doctor: "I don't like the way your husband looks."

Wife: "Neither do I, but he's good to the kids."

WRA NEWS

All girls interested in field hockey please report to the women's gym at 4 p.m. Wednesdays and Thursdays.

Weiss To Speak On New Version Of Bible Tuesday

Dr. Lorell Weiss, new director of the Idaho Institute of Christian Education, will be the speaker at the community observance of publication of the new revised version of the Bible Thursday evening at 7:30 at the Methodist church.

This is a project of the Ministerial association with all Protestant churches joining in the celebration.

The date marks the 500th anniversary of the printing of the Gutenberg Bible, the first book to be printed with movable type. The new edition is the work of many scholars who have been working on the project for several years.

Included in the program will be the presentation of five gift Bibles to Moscow institutions: the city library, Whitworth school, Moscow high school, the University library, and the Idaho Institute of Christian Education.

A special dramatic worship service will feature interpretive narration by the Reverend Carman Mell of the First Christian church, and music of the Methodist church choir directed by Norman Logan.

The Reverend Kenneth Holmes, chairman of the Ministerial association, will preside.

Then there was the little rabbit who as he ran out of the forest fire cried: "Horay, I've been defurred."

"Any big men born in this town?" asked the visitor.

"Naw," said the native, "just little babies."

International Club To Meet Thursday

The International Relations club of the University will hold its first meeting of the year Thursday, October 2 at 7:30 p.m. in the Borah room of the SUB.

The program as announced by Jim Costley, president of the group, will be on the theme of "Signs of European Unity." The guest speaker for the meeting will be Professor Robert E. Hosack of the political science department who recently returned from a summer tour of Europe. Hosack directed the University of Idaho study tour which visited seven European countries.

Professor Hosack announced that he will draw heavily upon his personal interviews with important political leaders in Rome, London, and Paris, as well as his other observations in Europe. Discussion on the problem of European unity will follow the remarks of Professor Hosack.

All students and faculty who wish to acquaint themselves with a better understanding of the international situation are invited to attend this first meeting of the International Relations club.

Church News

Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco
Luckies' cigarette-tearing demonstration
Luckies taste cleaner, fresher, smoother
Be Happy—Go Lucky
So round, so firm, so fully packed
So free and easy on the draw
Buy Luckies by the carton
Luckies give you deep-down smoking enjoyment

HERE ARE THE INSTRUCTIONS

1. Write your Lucky Strike jingle on a plain piece of paper or post card and send it to Happy-Go-Lucky, P. O. Box 67, New York 46, N. Y. Be sure that your name, address, college and class are included—and that they are legible.

2. Base your jingle on any qualities of Luckies. "Luckies are made better to taste better," is only one. (See "Tips to money-makers.")

3. Every student of any college, university or post-graduate school may submit jingles.

4. You may submit as many jingles as you like. Remember, you are eligible to win more than one $25 award.

Vandals Battle Utah To 21-21 Tie In Boise Game

Rushing Attack, Timely Passes Gain Thrilling Deadlock

By Don Theophilus Jr.
 Halfback Jay Buhler calmly booted his fifth straight conversion of the season, without a miss, to give the Idaho Vandals a 21-21 tie with the Utah Redskins at Boise. Moments before, with the clock showing just 16 seconds of play left in the game, quarterback Wayne Anderson had flipped a pass to Dave Murphy in the end zone to climax an 80-yard march down the field and put the Vandals back in the game.

Idaho had held a 7-0 lead at half-time and raised it to a comfortable 14-0 margin early in the third quarter. They were forced to come from behind though after the Redskins exploded for seven points in the third stanza and a pair of touchdowns in the fourth.

"One of the finest jobs of quarterbacking I've ever seen," said Coach Babe Curfman, with reference to Anderson's signal calling during the game and especially the final minutes.

Alternating between Dave Murphy, Dick Pickett, Flip Kieffner and himself, Wayne powered the ball from his own 24-yard stripe to well within the Utes own 30-yard marker.

He then faded way back and fired a pass to fullback Flip Kieffner who was pushed out of bounds on the 17-yard line with 24 seconds left. The next play from Anderson to Murphy for the touchdown had the packed house of 9,500 standing on its ear at Bronco stadium.

Curfman had high praise for several individual players as well as the whole team. "Dave Murphy," he said, "has been hurt at one time or another ever since he came up here. Saturday he came up to expectations and showed us he could really run."

"Bob Lee played his finest ball game since coming to us," continued Curfman.

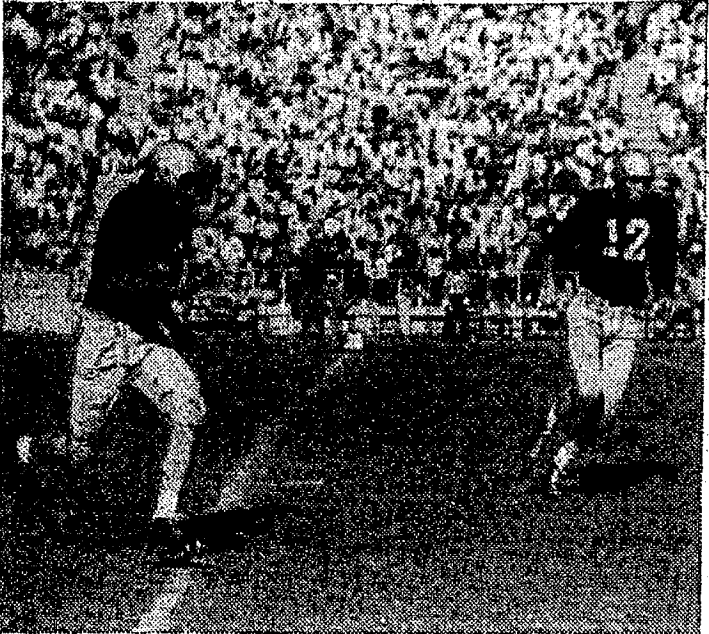

Also coming in for praise by reporters after their fine defensive game were end Ray Lewis, tackle Don Ringe and linebackers Mel Bertrand and Bob Holder. Over the radio, fans heard the name of Pete Hester time and time again as he sliced through the Utah line to make a tackle.

Two questions are being tossed around by the Monday-morning quarterbacks: (1) Why, in the third quarter, with the score 14-14, and fourth down and a yard to go on their own 27, did Idaho try a line play instead of kicking? (2) Where is the Idaho pass defense?

The answer to the first point is easy. Coach Babe Curfman and his team were playing to win and decided to gamble. As it turned out they missed the first down and the Ute's Don Rydalch passed for a touchdown on the next play. Just another example of the adage: "If you win, you're a hero; if you lose, you're a bum."

About the pass defense. Coach Curfman agreed it wasn't there, but consider one fact. With one

Sophomore Sensation On The Loose

Halfback Jay Buhler is caught by the camera as he rambles 71 yards on a kickoff return in the third quarter of the Utah game. Larry Morrison (12) threw the key block that momentarily shook his teammate loose. Buhler was finally caught by the last man on the Redskins' 19-yard line.

exception the passes completed were short ones. Utah was sending two pass receivers out deep on one side. At the same time one of the backs, who had been blocking near the line of scrimmage, would drop back for a shot toss. Pretty hard to defend but granted—not impossible.

 There will be a meeting for all girls interested in Women's Rifle team, Wednesday, October 1, at four o'clock in room 101 in the women's gym.

Origin of Football Is A Real Legend

(Stolen)
 Football is one of the most ancient games known to man. According to legend, the first game of football was accidental and it seems that accidents have accompanied the game ever since. It was while one of the famous athletes of the Stone Age was discussing the ownership of a pig with his neighbor that the first foot was set to pigskin.

This athlete insisted that the pig belonged to him because it had two ears. The neighbor was no man to let a pig break up a friendship so he kicked it into the athlete's face.

But the athlete was a good man at heart, so he kicked it back into his neighbor's face. Kind action induced kind action, kick was reciprocated with kick. At the conclusion of an exceptionally powerful boot, the athlete picked up the squealing porker and tried to carry it over to his neighbor's cave; but the neighbor was too quick for him. He dived and grabbed the athlete by the legs, dragging him to the ground.

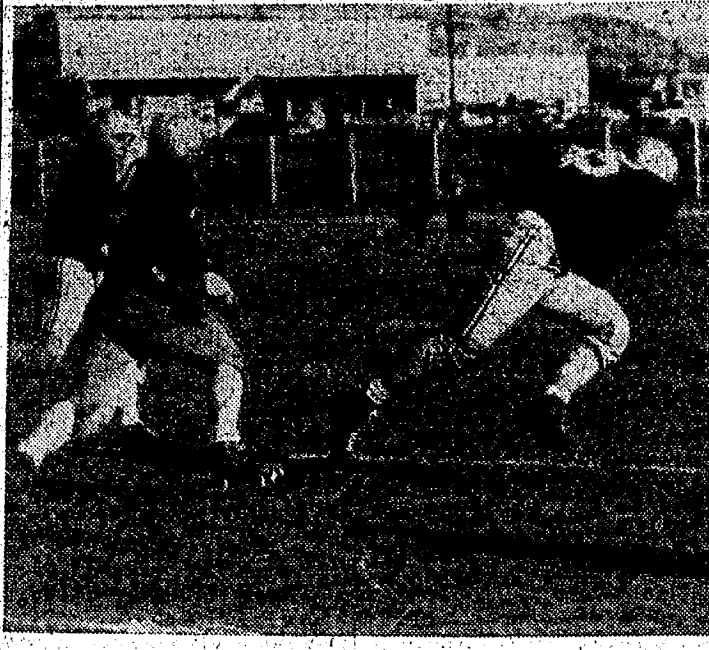

By this time the rest of the cave dwellers had joined in on one side or the other. So interested did the combatants become in the "sport" that they wore out the first animal and before evening they ran out of pigs and had to call the game off.

Well, that was the way football started.

His Own Big Feet

Big George Lefferts (45), tackle on the Idaho squad, has just gathered in a Utah blocked kick and is apparently headed for pay-dirt. Actually he took only a few steps before stumbling on the Utah 9-yard line. The kick was blocked by Vandal Mel Bertrand. Utah eventually held for four downs and took over on their own four-yard stripe.

Aaron Rosenberg, Southern Cal's all-American running guard of 1933, is now a topflight movie producer for Universal-International Studios and still grateful for the opportunity he had to play football. Says Aaron: "I feel beyond the slightest doubt that the years I played football contributed a great deal to my present success. I learned to get along with people, to give credit where credit was due, to play fair even while playing hard—all factors which are important in business and social relationships as they are in sports."

 TO OFFER BOTH REGULAR & KING-SIZE

ASK YOUR DEALER FOR CHESTERFIELD — EITHER WAY YOU LIKE 'EM

CONTAINS TOBACCOS OF BETTER QUALITY AND HIGHER PRICE THAN ANY OTHER KING-SIZE CIGARETTE

BOTH regular and king-size Chesterfields are premium quality cigarettes and come in the smart white pack.

BOTH contain only those proven ingredients that make Chesterfields the best possible smoke: the world's best tobaccos, pure, more costly moistening agents (to keep them tasty and fresh), the best cigarette paper that money can buy—nothing else.

BOTH are much milder with an extraordinarily good taste and, from the report of a well-known research organization—no unpleasant after-taste.

BOTH are exactly the same in all respects. There is absolutely no difference except that king-size Chesterfield is larger—contains considerably more of the same tobaccos—enough more to give you a 21% longer smoke, yet costs very little more.
