'Bloody' Rally Raises Donors' Spirits; Fifth Campus Blood Drive Has Begun

The first blood donor in the fifth campus blood drive went through the line in the Student Union ballrooms shortly after 9 o'clock this morning, to get Idaho's try at breaking her own record off to a flying start.

Spirits were prodded to the proper tempo last night at a "bloody" rally staged at the entrance of the SUB after dinner. Yell king Bob Spero and his yell chorus provided a lot of noise, with the help of the crowd, and Lois Bush handled the microphone as master of ceremonies.

"I'd give a pint"—of blood, that is—the song for the blood drive, was sung by Willis Sweet Wood River boys. The song, only one of its type in existence, is the first theme song to be used for an Idaho blood drive.

Buy Slave Girls
Cox, ever mindful of his duties, bought the two talented slave girls (Lucy Spencer and Joyce Johnson) auctioned off by fast-talking Howard Harris. Cox said later he "regarded the girls as only another two pints toward that 1800 goal."

The Boise mobile blood unit arrived last night and the beds and tables were set up in the ballrooms by the Intercollegiate Knights. The Red Cross group, under the direction of Dr. E. E. Sestero, prepared for a busy three days.

All typists, nurses aides, and other persons working on the drive are to be in their places at 8:30 each morning of the drive.

Donors will be taken at the rate of 70 every hour, from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. each day, with time out for lunch, according to blood drive chairman, Don Mitchell.

Mitchell emphasized that anyone connected in any way with the University—students, faculty, secretarial staff, administrative staff, custodians, wives of students — all are eligible to give blood and urged to do so.

If a prospective donor doesn't have an appointment, Mitchell said, he should feel free to walk in any time he has free. Or appointments can be made at any time by phoning the Gem office, 4046.

Spurs Set up Nursery
A nursery to take care of children while their parents are donating blood, has been set up in the Town Girls lounge on the third floor of the SUB. The Idaho Spurs are in charge.

Mitchell reminded students of the ASUI Blood Cups being offered each living group that donates 100 per cent. Washington State college is holding its blood drive next week. Mitchell said, "We're going to show that we can do in three days what they can't do in six," in reference to their breaking our past percentage record.

Jordan Proclaims Idaho FHA Week

The week of November 2 to 8 has been officially proclaimed in Idaho as Future Homemakers of America week by Governor Len Jordan, it was announced today by Miss Lucille Magruder, state FHA advisor and professor of home economics at the University of Idaho.

In his proclamation urging people of the state to support FHA activities, the governor praised the 3,000 members in Idaho for their role in "strengthening of the home." Any pupil enrolled in a secondary school who is taking or has taken a homemaking course in junior or senior high school may become a member. Typical projects include community nutrition, home improvement, safety, care of children, and recreation.

Miss Magruder said that FHA groups in Idaho would observe the week, part of a national program, with a special activity each day, including assembly and radio talks, teas, and church attendance as a group.

Car Mishap Kills Student

An automobile accident Friday evening on the Pullman-Moscow highway resulted in the death of a WSC student and injuries to six others.

Dick Sankela died in Finch Memorial hospital about three and one-half hours after the mishap. Death was caused by multiple skull fractures and a brain hemorrhage.

John Duke, driver of the car, suffered a fractured left arm and multiple bruises and contusions. Also hospitalized were Bill Kreitz and Jack Smalley. Other passengers in the car were Dave Sharrow, Dick Shryrock and Bud Barker. They were given emergency treatment and released immediately.

The one-car accident occurred about 6 p.m. just east of the Pullman city limits. According to Pullman city police, the car left the highway on the left side of the road and turned over three times.

Month Of Stiff Rehearsal Korean Vets To Be Climaxed Tomorrow Seek Queens

After a month of intensive rehearsal, "Sing, Senator, Sing," original musical comedy, will be revived at the university auditorium opening tomorrow night for a four-night run that continues through Saturday. A final dress rehearsal will be held this evening.

The first production of the same show, for which Ted Sherman and Geoffrey Coope wrote book and lyrics and Hall M. Macklin composed the music, set an all-time attendance record for auditorium productions when originally produced in 1947.

The action in the musical occurs in the colorful setting of a dude ranch in Idaho. The plot revolves around the efforts of Senator Singleton, a singing senator, to stage a telecast as the climax of his campaign for re-election. Romantic interest is created by the attempt of Steve the riding instructor to win the hand of Judy, the senator's daughter, over the senator's objections.

Boost Spuds
Woven in closely is the effort of everyone to boost the Idaho potato. The plots of the senator's political enemies to spoil the telecast build a suspense that lasts until the closing moments.

Sherman and Macklin are faculty members, Macklin the head of the department of music, Geoffrey Coope, now of Spokane, was also a faculty member for many years.

The curtain time Wednesday and the following three nights will be 8 p.m. instead of the usual 8:15. Tickets are available at the Student Union book store and at Hodgins Drug store.

Campaign Buttons In Library Exhibit

Lisen — Read — Look — Talk — Argue — Think — VOTE!

This is what the new library display urges you to do. Worth investigating, the exhibit shows campaign buttons for every election year from 1896 to 1952.

The earlier buttons show very grim, serious looking men. The 1952 buttons show smiling, genial faces.

By the way, do you want to "Clean house with Ike and Dick" or "Keep the U. S. strong" with Stevenson and Sparkman?

Join The Team—Give A Pint!

Come on, get in it, join the fight! Give that pint of blood today. What's this? You're tired of giving blood? Maybe the boys in Korea are tired of fighting. What would happen if they all laid down their rifles and quit. Sure, you know what would happen, in no time we would be taking orders from "Joe" himself. Did you ever think that when you've lost that pint of blood you have gained something much greater? You are now a member of the team. The American team helping to create a free world. Just as a football team out on the field needs support, the men fighting in Korea need YOUR support. So don't delay, give that pint today. F.D.W.

Band Earns A 'Well Done'

It's pretty certain that every Idaho student on campus and every Big I roter in the stands was well pleased with the outcome of Saturday's game. One of the factors that made Saturday a success was that "good ol' college try." It was obvious that the big spark behind said try was the Idaho marching band. A lot of water has passed under the proverbial bridge and over the proverbial dam since this University has seen such a snappy musical aggregation on the Neale stadium turf. As a matter of fact, everyone we've talked to is just slightly amazed by the polished performance turned in by the band on Saturday. We're sure the Argonaut speaks for the student body in general when it says "Thanks" and "Well Done!" to Director Warren Bellis and every member of the marching band. We like to be able to make "Go Vandals" sound like a fight song instead of some sort of wild musical hassle; we like to see musicians perform who are proud of the Idaho uniform they wear; and we like to know that Idaho has one of the best bands in the Northwest this year. In short, we're just pretty doggone proud of the whole outfit. K.K.

Clothes For Korea

A couple of years back a Naval Officer returned from Korea with a burning desire to help suffering citizens whose only part in war was the horror they must experience. He became the Commandant of the 13th Naval District, and proceeded to very quietly do something about the suffering he had seen. With no banner waving, the various naval units in the area received the word that help should be forthcoming, and the boys quietly and efficiently got busy. Collecting clothing and gifts from close friends, in a short time, a really effective lot of stuff began making its way to Korea. This project has been carried on for some time. The Naval Units here at Idaho have helped. They are helping again this year. Again, they are going to their friends for small contributions. John Sheridan is in charge, and all the Navy boys are helping. When they ask you to give them a hand, you should. These boys aren't the only ones who are doing this type of thing. That makes it all the more laudable. Our government can spend billions in an effort to make the world over right, but it won't have as much force as the knowledge that here in America there are millions of people who are willing to say "here, pal, maybe this will help you a little," and then forget it. There is true humanity, with no strings attached. To the Navy Boys goes a "well done," and John, if you will come and see me I think I've got a couple of pairs of pretty good work pants I'll be glad to let you have. Ray Cox

Campus Mayhem

Our campus seems to be the breeding grounds for sadism and mayhem. The methods are variously described as football, field hockey, and tennis, but don't let the names fool you. Excusing the ROTC and Hot Rods, the football team ranks first in efficiency of annihilating opponents. The object is to knock the feet from anyone on the field. A man in possession of the ball is the most popular target and he who can undermine the ball carrier most often is held in wide acclaim. Most experienced sadists may be seen giving advice and encouragement in loud voices and in descriptive language. There is also a group of smaller fellows called freshmen who are just being taught the game. Once in a while they are invited over to play with the behemoths who constitute the varsity. This form of "sadism" is called a "scrimmage" and its success is proven by the gratifyingly high number of sore bodies resulting. There is also a minor group of pseudo-Neanderthals engaged in football. These are intra-mural players but they are only amateurs. The female members of our society are not excluded from mayhem. Because they are not quite as adept at inflicting bodily harm with their bare hands they are given clubs and the game is called field hockey. They happily sweat at each other's shins and ankles, smiling all the while.

Sweeping Pledge Suffers Cut Leg

Talk about a freak accident! Virginia Pringle, Pi Phi pledge, was calmly sweeping the 2nd floor stair Wednesday morning when Nancy Benfer came bounding downstairs and kicked a gallon jug of distilled water sitting on the landing. Glass from the jug and a pyrex cup flew in all directions and Virginia's leg was dangerously in the line of fire. With everyone in a panic at the sight of blood which was rapidly turning the stair carpeting a brilliant red, a few of the girls worked on getting the barrage stopped. Frantic calls to several men's houses for advice resulted in pressing everywhere but the "right" vital point to stop the bleeding. As a last resort, Virginia soaked her leg in the bathtub. Amidst the confusion she managed to get to the infirmary where four stitches were taken to put her on the road to recovery. The moral of the story — every good, well, there must be a moral.

CHALLENGE!!

KAY CONNOLLY, PRESIDENT ASSOCIATED STUDENTS, WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE TO: MARIAN PETERSCHICK, EDITOR WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE DAILY EVERGREEN

GREETINGS: In keeping with time honored tradition regarding the outcome of the annual IDAHO-WASHINGTON STATE football classic and the obligations involved, namely, the long, dreary tramp between Pullman and Moscow, we offer you the following challenge and conditions: 1. The Student Body President and the Editor of the newspaper of the school with the losing team shall walk from the Student Union of the losing school, via the Pullman-Moscow highway, to the Student Union of the winning school at a time to be designated, aided only by their natural implements of propulsion, namely, feet. 2. No food, drink or other assistance may be rendered to the walkers except those minor refreshments which can be readily carried on the person of said walkers. 3. Said President and Editor shall bring as many of his loyal subjects on the trek as he feels are capable of walking off a bitter defeat. 4. The winning school shall host each and every person from the losing school who walks over with his leaders with suitable life-giving refreshments, hilarious entertainment, and music. We (excuse us, we meant "the winning school"), shall also provide transportation for the return trip of all walkers from the ranks of its jubilant students with cars.

We realize you have been awaiting this challenge with growing dread in your hearts as the roses withered and died. Certainly your blood will turn to ice as the day of your doom draws ever closer. This we cannot help. Your doom is settled, and all we can do is show you and your subjects the utmost in cordial hospitality once the degrading walk is completed. You may be certain that the light of our victory will shine brightly enough once you are here to dispel the terrible gloom in your hearts. So be not afraid; from your terrible defeat by the mighty Vandal will come the knowledge that in victory the Vandals are magnanimous. (Signed) RAY COX, President, Assoc. Students, U. of Idaho GRAHAM McMULLIN, Editor, The Idaho Argonaut

DEAR JASON

Dear Jason, Apparently there has been some misunderstanding about the Wednesday night exchanges. We would like to explain how the exchange system is set up. Exchange is intended for both Independent and Greek houses, are held at the boys' and girls' residences on alternate years with the boys' houses taking their turn at being host: this year. Since there are more men's living groups on campus, they hold exchanges every two weeks and the girls hold them each week. The exchange schedule is set up by Mary Hansen, AWS vice president, and is arranged so that by the end of March every girl's house will have a social exchange with every boys' house on campus. If for some reason the scheduled exchange has to be cancelled, arrangements may be made to have a special exchange after the scheduled exchanges are over. Sincerely, AWS

4-H Complimented By C. F. Brannan

Idaho members and leaders of 4-H clubs preparing for recognition activities in November shared this week in congratulations of Charles F. Brannan, secretary of agriculture. "You, your parents, your local leaders, and your communities can take pride in your 1952 accomplishments," he said in a statement released through the University of Idaho extension service which sponsors 4-H work. "We know," he said, "that you have invested hard work, continued effort, and much study to your projects, and other activities. We are very proud of you who did complete your projects. You have used and improved your head, heart, hands, and health in the best 4-H tradition. Your theme for the year—"Serving as loyal citizens through 4-H"—is a reminder of the fine training for citizenship which your program provides and the contribution it makes to well-informed, willing, and capable leadership for our country's future. May the observance of achievement day this year bring you new inspiration for the important work before you." Several meetings in honor of 4-H workers have been scheduled by the Idaho extension service. Recognition of accomplishment will be combined with leader training. Dates and places are: Emmett, November 17; Burley, November 18; Pocatello, November 21.

Today's Letters Provide Marie With Hope

By Marie Ingebritsen I wonder if I got any mail today? Oh good, there's a whole stack of it. Hmm, let's see what's here. This one's perfumed, it should be interesting. Pink stationery, too. "Dear, Madam, Have you ever felt that your beauty had just one tiny flaw? One which no one would notice but yourself? Does it make you feel self-conscious? Perhaps that flaw is dry skin. Have you tried . . . ?" That was certainly well-disguised. I thought it was a real letter. "A surprise gift from Aunt Ellen!" It's about time she came through with something. She's forgotten my last six birthdays. Oh, great, so this turns out to be a needlework catalogue. That must be from somebody else's Aunt Ellen, because even mine wouldn't pull a dirty trick like that. Here's another one that should prove interesting. "Dear Friend, Have you ever thought that you'd like to be your own boss, and earn up to $700 a month as a start? If you have, and we're sure you have, then why don't you look into the possibilities of becoming a skilled television repairman?" Now, I wonder how I got on their sucker list? Darn those stores, I wish they'd quit sending me bills for those clothes I bought. It certainly shows bad manners on their part to keep hounding me. Well, well, a letter from home. It's about time they wrote to me. What's this piece of paper? A check for Wow! A hundred and fifty dollars! "Would someone please get some water? This girl seems to have fainted!" EXCITED REPORTER The star reporter of the Belfast News was so impressed at the launching of Her Majesty's carrier Bulwark that he wound up his ecstatic dispatch. "The Duchess smashed a bottle of champagne against the bow with unerring aim and then while the huge crowd cheered madly, she slid majestically down the greasy slipway into the sea." Your Armed Forces Still Need 300,000 Pints of Blood Every Month!

Maybe you, too, wonder why the blood quota for your Armed Forces stays the same each month. There are two urgent reasons: 1. Regardless of events in Korea or any other part of the world, our wounded veterans in military hospitals need a continuous supply to save their lives over the months—or years—that lie between convalescence and recovery. 2. Your Armed Forces' dangerously low reserve supply of blood must be built up quickly to be ready for any possible future emergency. The need for your blood has never been greater than it is today. If you haven't given blood for some time, phone for your appointment now. And keep that appointment to save a life.

The show was a sell-out occasion. People came from all parts of the land. It was Opera in 1889—The first ever shown in the auditorium was a tent, and the scenery swayed, but the first Opera in Spokane was lighted by electric lights—a revolutionary idea at those days. This was one of the many "firsts" that the Washington Water Power Co. has provided for the development of the Inland Empire.

36 Percent Of Blood Donors Can Sometimes Equal 100

Lieut. Colonel Aaron E. Blewett, Idaho's professor of military science, is a conscientious sort of a guy.

Having himself been the recipient of Red Cross blood, the youthful Idaho graduate ('39) felt that every member of his staff should contribute a pint of the life-giving substance during the drive.

Imagine the Colonel's consternation when, after the returns were in he found that a disappointing 36 per cent of his Army staff had volunteered.

"Sergeant," shouted the conscientious colonel to his chief clerk, "bring me a list of the under-achievers in our organization who have failed to meet their responsibilities as members of the Army."

The Sergeant complied.

List Totaled

Here's how the list read: Total number of personnel, 11. Total blood contributors, 4.

Those contributing: Capt. Lonnie C. Williams, Jr., Capt. Henry H. Burnett, Lieut. Don W. Moore and Sgt. Ellis C. Prescott.

Those not contributing: Major Kenneth J. Woods; Master Sergeants Gordon C. Aird, Wes Perkins, Rufe Salyer and Joe Shoemaker; SFC John Grandon and Lieut. Colonel Aaron E. Blewett.

"Sergeant," sputtered the nearly incoherent colonel, "have all of the non-contributors report to me immediately prepared to explain their dereliction."

Again compliance. By now approaching apoplexy, Blewett turned a steely eye on six uniformed figures before him. "Explain your failure to contribute blood," roared the Colonel in parade ground fashion.

They did.

Weren't Eligible

Woods, Shoemaker, Salyer, Aird and Grandon — recently returned from Korea, their blood still filled with Asiatic parasites.

Perkins — still malarial from service in the South Pacific.

That left a single non-contributor — Lieut. Colonel Blewett.

His wrath by now subsided, a rather sheepish colonel explained that a history of yellow jaundice acquired in the Aleutian Islands had rendered his blood unfit for human consumption.

Professor Botsford of the mathematics department said, to the contrary, there are times when 36 per cent equals 100 per cent.

G. Day Recovers From Stroke

George Day, a loyal member of the Argonaut rewrite staff, was released yesterday from the infirmary where he has been held for observation after suffering an apopleptic stroke when he read Friday's Argonaut.

Witnesses state that he had just opened Friday's Argonaut when he turned a delicate shade of crimson, tore the paper to shreds, and toppled to the floor. Others claim that before falling, he gesticulated violently with his fists and screamed "Vengeance will be mine!"

It is rumored that there may be some connection between his stroke and the fact that his name, under the heading "Rewrite Staff," was spelled, not G-E-O-R-G-E, but G-E-O-R-G-I-A.

To qualify, applicants must pass two written tests, have had appropriate education and experience, and, except for veterans, be between 18 and 35. Candidates successfully meeting these requirements will be given an interview to determine whether they possess the qualities for these positions.

Application forms, which must be filed in the Commission's Washington office by November 13, 1952, may be obtained from the Commission's local secretary, Mr. Robert H. Webster, whose office is in the Main Post Office.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bibler

"I say, Dean, isn't there something that can be done about this 'B-average-in-the-major-field' requirement?"

Stamp Collectors Propose Club

Many of the students and faculty members on the campus are stamp collectors. Yet the only way they ever meet or get together is by chance.

This should be changed. There should be a stamp club where the Philatelists could get together every few weeks to trade, buy, or just talk stamps. If you are interested in such an idea and would want to see a stamp club here at Idaho, come over to the Campus club, room 40 or call 8511 and ask for Bernard Lenz.

Engineering undergraduates in 23 different schools have been given national engineering recognition and also awards totaling $5,000. Scholarship funds of $1,750 have also been awarded the three schools in honor of the first three award winners. Awards were made for the best designs of machinery and structures stressing the value of arc welding construction.

New Display Shown

The Lutheran Student association presented a new display, "Christ as the Focal Point of Life," at the Campus Christian center. This followed the first display, by the Wesley foundation, which featured the publication of the New Revised Standard Version of the Bible.

All religious organizations have been asked to take a turn in preparing displays for the shadow box in the entry of the center. The Baptist group, the Roger Williams club, will unveil its contribution in about three weeks.

Flying Club Moves To Larger Airport

The Vandal Flying club has moved to the Moscow-Pullman airport to take advantage of the better facilities available there.

Marlin Magnusson has passed his flight test and is now licensed as a private pilot. Student flyers may earn their licenses through membership in the group. New members Richard Orme and Phil Soulen recently logged their first tour of flying time.

Anyone interested in joining the club may attend the meeting tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in SUB conference room C.

Tea Given Monday

Housemothers of campus living groups were honored at a tea given last Monday afternoon in the Campus Christian center.

BISONS SWAMPED 54-9; SANTA CLARA IS NEXT

Idaho Rolls To Eight TDs As Warmup For The Broncos

Bristling with enthusiasm after trampling the Bisons of North Dakota State, Coach Babe Curfman last night ran his squad through a two-hour scrimmage session on offense under the lights at Recreation park.

Friday night the Vandals will play the University of Santa Clara Broncos in San Francisco's Kezar stadium. It is the first and only evening contest scheduled for Idaho this season.

Again tonight varsity footballers will take another workout to get used to the night conditions. Defense will be stressed and plenty of kicking and passing.

Coach Curfman and a 37-man traveling squad will leave at 6:45 tomorrow morning by train for Portland where they will spend the night. Early Thursday they will fly to the Golden Gate city and work out that night at Kezar stadium.

The Vandals came out of the Dad's Day tilt uninjured. Captain Bob Holder and Varnell Neese were both suited up for the last game but held out in hopes they will be in top shape for the Broncos.

Saturday's small crowd of about 11,000 saw Idaho rack up 54 points in the biggest display of offensive power since Vandal pigskinners snowed Willamette at Neale stadium three years ago.

The visiting Bisons showed much better than the score indicated. In fact NDSU had everybody in the stands fearing the worst when they romped 80 yards in 13 plays to score first.

Little 5-8, 165-pound quarterback Frank Esposito, led the attack with a razzle-dazzle display of signal calling, faking and handoffs. His pass from the Idaho seven to halfback Noland in the end zone was the clincher. Moments later Esposito booted the extra point.

After that it was almost all an Idaho show as far as scoring went. The Bisons only got out of their own territory three times the rest of the afternoon.

In five plays Idaho had tied the score. Hart was the workhorse of the remaining 23 yards.

carrying three times including the sprint at left end for six points. Flip Kleffner set up the TD with a spectacular kickoff return to the North Dakota 47.

Jay Buhler lofted his first of six straight conversions to make it 7-7 with but 6 minutes gone in the first quarter. Buhler wound up the afternoon with a 13 for 14 record in season play.

Leading by a side margin in the third quarter, Babe sent in as many men as he could and several comparative unknowns showed their stuff.

George Eidam, sophomore quarterback from Sandpoint, delighted the fans with two near-perfect passes for the final touchdowns of the afternoon. The first was snapped up by another sophomore, Tom Mendiola while Jim Petrucci caught the second.

After both scores, big Jack Ewasen trotted in to attempt a drop-kick for the extra points. Both were a trifle wide but had plenty of power.

Standouts on defense for Idaho included end Ray Lewis, guard Ray Faraca, and Ed Barton and Mel Bertrand as line-backers.

Here in order are the other five touchdowns by the Vandals, excluding the first one by Hart and the last two by Eidam:

(2) Larry Hart made it two in a row by sweeping right end for seven yards. Flip Kleffner threw a beautiful key block.

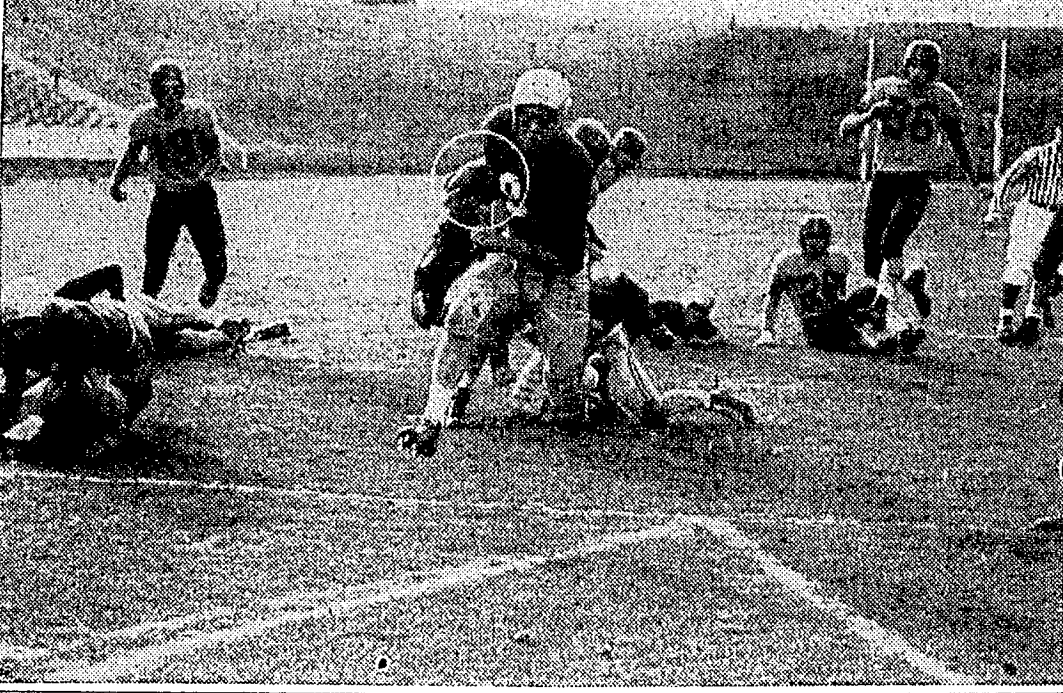

(3) Jay Buhler drove off tackle for seven and the score.

(4) Wayne Anderson passed 35 yards to Dick Pickett who ran it over from the five.

(5) Ed Barton recovered a fumbled Bison lateral on the NDSU 40, and Kleffner charged over from two yards out, seven plays later.

(6) Bill Stellmon broke through to block an Esposito punt. George Lefferts picked up the ball and score. Hart was the workhorse of the remaining 23 yards.

Vandal Runners Loose Powerful Running Attack

(Top) Jay Buhler sprints behind perfect blocking for six points in the second quarter. This run was good for seven yards and pay dirt on an off-tackle play. (Bottom) Larry Hart chews off more yardage against the Bisons. Larry gained 5.5 yards a carry Saturday and scored two touchdowns. At left Jay Buhler races ahead to get a man in the secondary.

Five Golfers Left In Tournament For Campus Champ

The ASUI Golf Championship for the Francis L. James Memorial trophy has moved into its third week with only five aspirants left for the crown.

According to Coach Dick Syder, competition has been keener and play more spectacular than any previous year in the history of the school.

Those who are still slugging it out for the coveted trophy are John Dripps, Bob Campbell, Dale Faylor, Phil Weitz, and Tommy Peirson.

Last week's play produced the following results:

Quarterfinals
Bobby Campbell vs. Tom Peirson (unfinished, Campbell 1 up at the end of 9 holes)

John Dripps defeated Fred Stringfield (1 up in sudden death)
Phil Weitz defeated Vernon Batt (1 up)

Dale Faylor defeated Lefty Melton (4 and 3)

Semifinals
Dripps defeated Weitz
Faylor vs. winner of Campbell, Peirson match.

Skier Slighted In Arg's Last Issue

In last issue's report on varsity ski team prospects for the coming season, the name of Olaf Stavik was inadvertently omitted.

Stavik, Norwegian guest of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, held the Intercollegiate championship of Norway in the combined jumping-cross country event in 1951 and again in 1952. In the Intercollegiate championships for all Scandinavian countries, he took second place honors in 1952.

His ability in jumping and cross country should add great strength to this year's team.

It's over the hump for Babe Curfman's football players. Five games under their belt and four to go. As one player put it: Less than 15 more practice days.

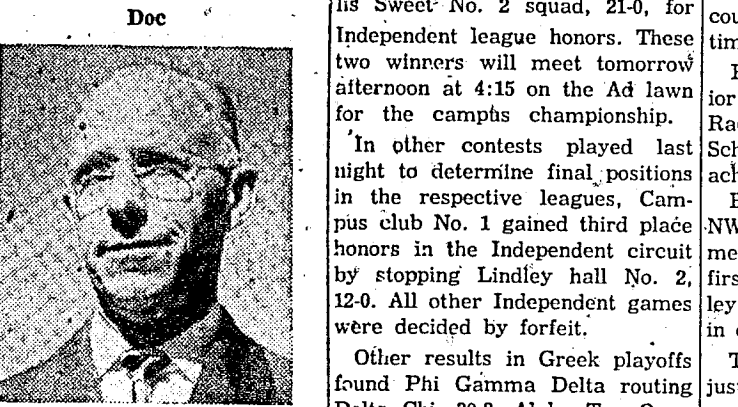

The season's record so far is 2 wins, 2 losses and a tie. With a little luck, plus smart playing, Babe's team could go on the books as one of the winningest in Idaho football records.

Only four times has a Vandal eleven won five or more games in a single season. In 1905 J. G. Griffith's club won five games and lost none. In 1923 and 24 Bob L. Matthews had a 5-2-1 total.

Most games ever won by Idaho in a single season were six in 1938. Coach Ted Bank's team lost three and tied one that same year. By stretching, this year's edition of the Vandals could better that.

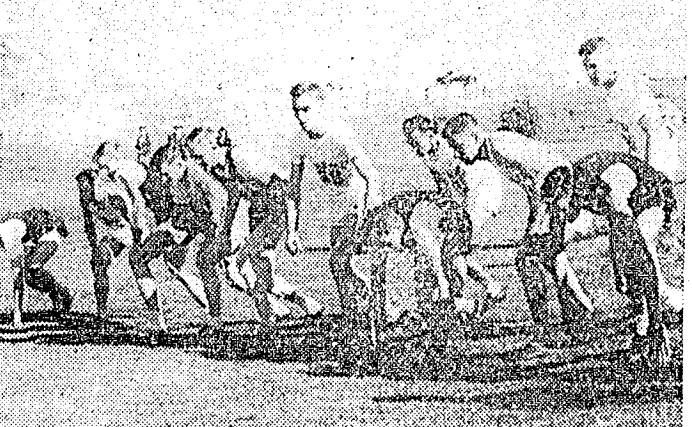

Some Dash
Who will forget the sight of George Lefferts galloping toward the end zone with a blocked punt under his arm, every muscle straining and the crowd roaring? George had the same chance in the Utah game but stumbled and fell with pay dirt in sight.

Wait Till Next Year
A look at Saturday's program will show that North Dakota State only had one senior, halfback Bennie Noland, on its starting offensive lineup. The rest were sophomores and juniors. Watch out for those boys next year!

One little experience best illustrated the kind of man Dr. Norman Jacobson was and how much he cared for Idaho. When the football team was playing Utah State at Logan several weeks ago, Coach Curfman and the men received a telegram. It said simply, "We're thinking of you. Win this one for Doc Jake." It was signed Doc and Ellen. He had sent the wire from a hospital bed in Spokane where he was seriously ill. Not many days later Doc passed away.

On Your Mark-Get Set-Go!

Cross-country men from Idaho and Northwest Nazarene college line up for the start of Saturday's race. Lou Gourley, the eventual winner, is third from the right in a semi-crouch.

Proud Pop and Son

Lou Gourley and his Dad stand together a few moments after Lou won the three-mile cross-country event. Mr. Gourley of Idaho Falls made the trip to see his son run and to share in Dad's Day celebration.

Gourley Leads Idaho Squad To Cross-Country Victory

Sophomore Lou Gourley led four of his teammates in a sweep of the first five places in a cross-country race Saturday against Northwest Nazarene college of Nampa.

Idaho won the meet 15-40 (low score wins) for their first outing of the season.

Coach Stan Hiserman's harriers looked impressive in finishing in the first five spots.

Gourley, who was undefeated in three starts last season, churned over the finish line 250 yards in front of Vandal Bob May. The Idaho Falls lad was clocked in the good time of 15:45 for the three-mile course. His intermediate mile times were 5:01 and 5:25.

Finishing behind Lou were junior Bob May, Bob Thornton, Bob Rackham and Luther Fitch. Dick Schmidt dropped out with a side-ache at the end of the second mile.

Bob Burkhardt, ace runner for MNWC started out as though he meant to win the race. After the first mile lap though, it was Gourley by 20 yards and he was never in danger after that.

The weather was perfect with just a little wind on the hills to make the going tough.

Order of finish: Lou Gourley (1), first, 15:45; Bob May (1), second, 16:25; Bob Thornton (1), third, 16:27; Bob Rackham (1), fourth, 16:34; Luther Fitch (1), fifth, 16:45; Bob Burkhardt (N), sixth, 16:58; Paul Ralphs (N), seventh, 17:15; Bruce Voerner (N), eighth, 17:45; Gory Beeson (N), ninth, 19:07; Les Martin (N) tenth, 19:53.

A fifth can produce more stumbling talk than any other fraction.

Official Doesn't Side With Idaho

The supervisor of officials for the Pacific Coast conference watched motion pictures of the Idaho-Oregon football game last weekend and said he couldn't see anything wrong with the officiating.

Frank McCormick, who assigns officials for PCC athletic events, said all the controversial calls were "just matters of judgment." "It is unfortunate that so many close decisions had to be made in the space of a few minutes," he told reporters after a private showing of the game pictures.

"I most certainly don't question the integrity of the officials," he said.

Victor Schmidt has yet to watch the pictures. He is due on campus tomorrow.
