

Visiting Punchers From California Get Warm Reception In Idaho

Arg cameraman Ricky Jones catches a trio of Vandal wins. (Middle) Herb Jee (I) decisively Graf Shintaku for his first win of the season while (right) Jack Webster upsets veteran Frank Tours of Cal Poly. Idaho won the card 7 to 2.

Boxers Look Toward WSC; Swamp Cal Poly Team 7-2

No dual meets face Idaho's varsity boxing team this week but there won't be any rest for the Vandal mittmen. Coach Frank Young is holding regular workouts with one eye on the return match with the WSC Cougars in Memorial gym on March 6.

Over the weekend Idaho belted dropped the touring Cal Poly club of San Luis Obispo 7-2. For the Vandals it was the first team win of the year to go with a loss and a draw already on the record.

The best bout of Saturday night's card with the Mustangs was the light-heavyweight scrap, even though it lasted just a minute. Fred Bowen wasted little time for Idaho as he dropped CP's Ted Trompeter to one knee just after the opening bell.

He followed this with a barrage of rights and lefts that sent the bigger Californian to the canvas on the seat of his pants. Referee Dale Fitzpatrick stopped the bout at that point with the crowd going wild.

Fans probably didn't notice, but Bowen was fighting right handed instead of southpaw, the second switch he has made this year. This time the change is hoped to be temporary. Fred was nursing an injured left arm and didn't want to use it as his main power punch.

Mustangs Took Two Cal Poly won the opening and closing bouts, but the Vandals took everything in between including a forfeit at the 165-pound level.

Captain Lynn (Sam) Nichols and Ray Johnson both took their third straight victories of the season without defeat. Sam swarmed all over Mustang Jack Bettencourt in a fast third round to take the bout. Johnson used bolo lefts to the body effectively in taking a wide decision from Jim Elam.

Little Herb Jee at 132 pounds got the first varsity win of his career as he disposed of Graf Shintaku with a tremendous rally in the last two rounds after starting slow.

Intramural

Phi Delta Theta's bowling team captured the campus title last Thursday by downing the Idaho club.

Those bowling for the Phi Deltas this year were Dwight Morrison, Reggie Frazier, Brad Cause, Neil Caudill, Otto Leuschel, Phil Weitz and Ken Weigle.

Bowling is completed except for two playoff matches this week for lower places.

Starting last night, the intramural "B" cagers began their long playoffs, which will consist of 109 games. The championship tilt is scheduled for March 5. Scores of last Thursday's concluding regular league games were:

SAE 2 over PKT 2, 21-15. SN 2 over SC 2, 24-10. ATO 3 over BTP 3, 20-15. CC 3 over CH 3, 32-20. PDT 3 over KS 3, 21-11. SAE 3 over SC 3, 10-8. TKE 3 over SN 3, forfeit. CH 4 over CC 4, forfeit. WSH 5 over SN 4.

Ping Pong

Fifteen ping-pong players were still in the running for the championship, prior to yesterday's matches. The final pairing in the single-elimination tourney will be held on Thursday afternoon.

Cougars Meet Vandal Basketball Tonight

Battle At Memorial Gym Is Rated Toss-Up; Friel's Five Fresh From Wins Over OSC

Washington State's revitalized basketball squad tangles with Idaho tonight at Memorial gym in a determined battle for better position in the Northern Division for both squads.

Tippy Dye's hustling Huskies have already wrapped up the league bunting with 14 straight wins so the other four teams will be scrapping for the left-overs from here on out.

The Cougars are nursing a hope to get out of the Division cellar where they have been languishing since early in the season. The Vandals still have a prayer of a chance for second place or at least a tie for that spot, and want to keep it alive.

Nobody is predicting the outcome of tonight's expected thriller. Game time is set for 7:30 p.m. Idaho has won all three games with the should read like this: Captain Pete Mullins and Bob Swanson, forwards; center Bill Rehder; and Ron Bennink and Bob Klock at the guard slots.

Idaho will likely counter with forwards Dwight Morrison and Bill Mather; Hartley Kruger center; and guards Bruce McIntosh and Tom Flynn.

The WSC trio of Mullins, Rehder have all scored over 100 points in Northern Division play. So has the Vandal threesome of Kruger, Morrison and McIntosh so basket dunking can come often for both sides.

Idaho's most recent win over the rivals from Pullman was a narrow 72-69 contest last Tuesday.

Listen Tonight Campus radio station KUOI, 660 on your radio dial, will broadcast both the freshman and varsity basketball games with WSC tonight. Fresh game broadcast starts at 5:40 and varsity at 7:20.

Splash Squad Sinks Canada Swimmers In Saturday Meet

Idaho's swimming team splashed its way to a 55-29 victory over the visiting British Columbia university mermen Saturday. It was the second team win of the season against four reverses.

Last year the Vandals lost to BCU in a three-way meet in Cheney and two years ago they lost a dual match by two points. Saturday Idaho grabbed seven firsts including both relay events, while BC got three top honors.

Bob Crawford, Boise, won first in the 50 and 100-yard free-style events in 24.7 and 58.8 seconds. Don Medley scored first in the backstroke and second in the individual medley and was a member of the relay winners.

Captain Rich Bradbury won the backstroke with a new varsity team record of 2:45.1. Dick Warren won the individual medley and was second in the backstroke.

Coach Eric Kirkland's squad meets Eastern Washington college at Cheney this afternoon in a dual meet.

Washington Swims By Idaho In Northern Division Meet

Coach Jack Torney's club from Seattle took eight first places in keeping alive a record of having never been beaten by a Vandal swim squad.

Idaho captured unexpected honors in two events. Bob Crawford won first by a touch in the 50-yard freestyle while the Vandal 440-yard freestyle relay team took first when the Husky quartet was disqualified for jumping the gun.

The feature race of the afternoon never materialized. Dick Magnuson, defending ND breaststroke champ, took a lead on the start over ace Don Medley of the Vandals and Don could never catch up. Magnuson, a strong swimmer, butterflied all the way while Medley had to resort to the orthodox stroke to spell himself.

All-American Merrill Hodges took first in the diving, followed by Bob Thomas. Ted Bell, Idaho's plunger, was sick in the infirmary.

Summary: 300-yard medley relay—Washington, (Hamblin, Torney, Magnuson), 3:07.4.

220-yard freestyle—Dykes (W) won; Larsen (I) second; Lewis (I) third, 2:25.1.

This campus needs a new swimming pool! The one now in use at Memorial gymnasium is small, stuffy and entirely inadequate for a university the size of Idaho.

Fully 850 people a week try to make the best of the poor pool facilities. Swimming—generally considered one of the most beneficial of all recreational sports—is relegated to the background at Idaho.

The tiny 75 by 25 foot tank is tucked away in the basement of the gym with poor lighting, poor acoustics and no ventilation.

The men's dressing room is upstairs and across the hall. It's anything but sanitary for men to be walking barefoot from there to the pool. For the girls there are no shower facilities.

Big supporting pillars at the edge of the pool make it difficult for an instructor to make himself heard at Idaho and doubly hard for a life guard to watch and protect people swimming. himself heard at Idaho and doubly hard for a life guard to watch and protect people swimming.

Once Was the Best In 1928 when our swimming pool was built it was the best in the Northern Division. Shortly after that the other schools caught and passed us. Now Idaho is on the bottom rung of the ladder, with regards to physical equipment for swimming.

Vandal splash Coach Eric Kirkland rates the ND pools in this order; Washington, Oregon State, Washington State, Oregon and Idaho.

The Huskies' big pool at Seattle built in 1939 is the customary 75 feet long but is a spacious 42 feet wide. The tank is housed in a large building of its own and has indirect lighting, sound-cellected ceiling and spectator accommodation for 1600.

Oregon has the next poorest swim tank to Idaho but is doing something about it. Last spring $2000 was appropriated to draw up plans for a new pool.

Lack of Space To say that our campus pool is inadequate is putting it mildly. The convenient, efficient size of a swimming class at Idaho is 20 students. Last semester there were three classes almost pushing the 30 mark. Some men that preferred swimming had to switch to other physical education classes because their favorites were full.

There are six swimming classes

Finley Not Planning On Leaving

The following article appeared in the Sunday edition of the "Spokesman's Review" under the byline of Fred Peterson:

"I have been approached and am not seeking a job," University of Idaho basketball coach Chuck Finley said today in reply to rumors that he is leaving the Vandal school for a bigger and better job.

"Aside from that, Finley had no other comment to make on reports from supposedly 'informed sources' which insist this season will be his last at Idaho."

Finley indicated he hoped his statement would put an end to the rumors which begin to sprout every year about this time. The same thing happened last year, but Finley still was on the job when the new school year began in the fall.

"It was learned that Finley is making plans to take in several high school basketball tournaments, apparently to check personally on potential material for his squad. Such long-range plans would seem to indicate he intends to remain at Idaho for some time to come.

"One 'hot tip' had it Finley was going to Denver. That would not be unusual in view of the fact that he has been going there every spring since 1937 to see the National Amateur Athletic union basketball finals."
