SIXTH ANNUAL CONCLAVE TO DISCUSS WAR, PEACE

Campus Chest Drive Exceeds Goal; Ridenbaugh, Tke, Lindley Win Prize

A week of Campus Chest drive ended Friday night with Carnival contributions totaling over $500. Contributions for the drive totaled $1,893.75.

Ridenbaugh and Lindley Halls and TKE were the joint winners for the best booth at the Carnival Friday night. Their theme was "ASUI's dancing girls."

The dances presented included a comedy western dance, an Indian waltz, a French (well—anyway, they did), plus other dances showing the various talents (ahem) of the Ridenbaugh girls, Chairman for the booth was Gene Gregg. The prize was $5.

The prize for the booth collecting the most money ($68.40) went to Willis Sweet hall and DG with their "Dogpatch Jail." Warrants for arrest were sent out for many of the more "shady" characters at the dance. Arrests were made by "Sheriff" Jim Richardson and his deputies. Booth chairman was Harold Stevens.

Fletcher Wins
Four prizes were given at 10 o'clock for the students who had collected the most advertising posters dropped from an airplane Wednesday afternoon.

Winning first prize of a steak dinner for two at Johnnie's was Frank Fletcher, with 2026 posters. Second prize, a gift certificate at David's, was won by Lloyd Marsh with 1050 posters.

Third prize, a carton of Ches-terfields, was won by Tom Starr with 317 posters. Ken Kohnner won fourth prize, a gift certificate at Hodgins drug, with 156 posters.

During the week, fifteen houses made 100 per cent contributions of a dollar from each person. Six other living groups contributed 100 per cent with some members giving less than a dollar.

Willis Sweet hall, while not contributing 100 per cent, had the largest contribution of $158.75. Forney hall also ranked high with $94.38.

Faculty and staff contributions totaled $137.33. Dr. B. C. Borning, assistant professor of political sciences, headed the drive among the faculty and staff.

Houses contributing 100 per cent of a dollar from each person included LDS, Kappa, Beta, Fiji, Theta, TKE, DG, Sigma Nu, Delta Chi, Phi Delt, Sigma Chi, Phi Tau, ATO, Delta Tau, and Alpha Chi.

Living groups contributing 100 per cent but not a dollar each were Hays hall, Forney hall, Pi Phi, Phi Delt, Alpha Phi, and Ridenbaugh hall.

Trophies Awarded Four Winners In Talent Show

Winners of the seventh annual Blue Key Talent show Saturday night at Memorial gym in the four divisions were: Karen Hurdstrom, Kappa, girls comedy; Don McCabe and Jim Richardson, Willis Sweet, men's comedy; Jo Murelaga, Pi Phi, instrumentalist; and the Singing Sigs, Sigma Chi, non-instrumentalist.

Honorable mention went to the Delta Gammas for women's comedy; Clyde Hawley, men's comedy; Mary Verner, instrumentalist, and Po Ping Wong, non-instrumentalist.

Karen Hurdstrom, dressed in a sailor's outfit, mouthed the words to two numbers from "South Pacific" and did a comic interpretation. Don McCabe and Jim Richardson played a piano duet entitled "Frankie and Johnnie" in which they changed tempo as they changed their hats.

Jo Murelaga played a medley of well known songs on her accordion. The Singing Sigs, John Herrett, Bruce Sweeney, Bob Allison and Gerry Leigh, sang "Cruising Along in My Old Model T" in barber shop quartet style.

The Delta Gammas presented a skit, "It's In the Book." Clyde Hawley, dressed in red flannels and pushing a wheel barrow, gave a comedy act. Mary Verner at the piano played her own composition, "Tempest," and her interpretation of "Three Blind Mice." Po Ping Wong, tenor, sang "Summertime."

Co-chairmen for the talent show were Ted Torok, who was Master of Ceremonies, and Bob Huntley. Pat Duffy, Blue Key president, announced the winners.

Ed Majors Urged To Make Contacts

School administrators in Idaho are being urged to arrange for interviews at the earliest possible date with University of Idaho seniors trained as teachers.

Harlow H. Campbell, director of the University placement service, said today that "early contacts are vital to keeping Idaho teachers in Idaho." He added:

"Already our office has been bombarded with calls for teachers from Alaska, Hawaii, Canal Zone, California, Washington, Oregon, Montana, Texas, Nevada, Illinois, Ohio, Michigan, South Dakota, New Jersey, Colorado, Wyoming, New York, Florida, New Mexico and various foreign countries.

The demand for teachers is world-wide, but, with the help of Idaho school administrators on early contacts, we hope to interest Idaho-trained teachers in staying in the state."

Over in Europe, a Red jet raced in and blew an American plane out of the sky. Over in Moscow, Idaho, several hundred college students slapped together some boards and the annual campus chest carnival dance was under way.

A few hours later, a British plane went to the Happy Hunting Ground with seven crewmen. In Moscow, Idaho, a talent show was produced.

In Korea, a wave of Chinese Reds is beaten back; in Nevada, scientists are checking to see how flat an average house can fall under the impact of an atomic blast, while back in Moscow, Idaho, a Peace Conference is in the making.

They've dismissed classes and imported speakers. They don't plan to amend the constitution of the United Nations, or help plan the cold war, or tell them what to do about the H-bomb. Nor do they expect our students to dream up a plan to thwart Russia in any or all demands.

They hope that students will take an active part in a conference to seek out the causes of war and the conditions of peace. They hope students will realize that the conference is definitely part of an educational program.

It's hoped that students will see themselves as a class of society, a class that will someday become parents sending their children to school and to church — and maybe to war. Conditions of society and cultural patterns are assumed to be the causes of war. It will be the aim of the conference, to isolate the cells of our society into those classes which may lead to war and those which may promote peace.

It's unlikely that any student, male or female, can alone offer a conference what it seeks. But as a group they may provide the leadership and the answers that even the enemy may await.

You can be drugged by constant danger just as you can by too much penicillin, until you no longer feel fear or effects. It's like living at the edge of a cliff; after while you forget to be afraid. And when you can no longer feel fear, the danger is at its height.

Principal Speakers At Borah Conference

H. L. Keenleyside

Kenneth Lindsay

William L. Shirer

UN Official Gives Talk

Hugh L. Keenleyside, director-general of the United Nations technical assistance administration, will present the final address of the Borah conference "The Impending Crisis," at 7:30 tomorrow night in Memorial gymnasium.

Keenleyside, who grew up in British Columbia, holds honorary Doctor of Laws degrees from three universities and one college. He is a graduate of the University of British Columbia and received his AM and PhD degrees from Clark university, Worcester, Mass.

Keenleyside began his career with the United Nations in 1946 as a member of the Canadian delegation to the general assembly during the second part of its first session.

According to press releases, "Mr. Lindsay's experience in both educational and political work has given him a rare understanding of contemporary political and social problems which illuminates all his addresses."

"His background of experience in international affairs won him the opportunity to take an active part in helping to build public opinion on many vital issues of the day."

Distribution of the U and I party publication "Idaho's Three Political Parties" is set for tonight in the campus living groups. The article, prepared by the committee for student information, comprises a write-up on each of the three present parties on campus, each article written or edited by the president or chairman of the various party organization.

The main discussion is of the caucus and steering committee systems—their scope, purpose and function. Method for selecting candidates for the ASUI elections is also described.

The student information committee has present plans for further informational bulletins for general release to the students between now and April elections. It is regretted that only 100 copies of the present publication are available, due to a shortage of funds.

Officers Elected By Home Ec Group
Recently elected Home Ec club officers are president, Nathalie Bales; vice president, Harriet Duckworth; secretary, Sally Holz; treasurer, Pat Woodmore; historian, Joyce Genoway, and key girl, chairman, Linda Archibald.

The election took place in the Home Ec lounge. Gem pictures were also taken.

The next meeting will be April 14. Blaine Jensen and Lee Hinkley will provide the entertainment.

Class Dismissed

All classes will be dismissed after the first period, beginning at 9 a.m. tomorrow so that students and staff members may attend the sessions of the Borah Peace conference.

Author Gives Second Talk At Conference

Kenneth Lindsay, 17 years a member of the British Parliament, will present the second address at the Borah conference at 1:10 tomorrow, also in Memorial Gymnasium. The topic for his address will be "Building Peace and Prosperity in Asia."

Lindsay, widely known as an author in England, contributing to the London Times and other such publications, has made addresses in Europe, Great Britain, and the United States. He was present at both Strasbourg assemblies, and he Lisbon conference on NATO.

According to press releases, "Mr. Lindsay's experience in both educational and political work has given him a rare understanding of contemporary political and social problems which illuminates all his addresses."

"His background of experience in international affairs won him the opportunity to take an active part in helping to build public opinion on many vital issues of the day."

Class Dismissed

All classes will be dismissed after the first period, beginning at 9 a.m. tomorrow so that students and staff members may attend the sessions of the Borah Peace conference.

Commentator Will Speak

William L. Shirer, noted foreign correspondent and radio commentator who is well known for his "Berlin Diary" will give the initial address on "America's Role in Building Global Prosperity and Peace," at the Borah conference beginning tomorrow at 9 a.m.

Shirer has long been regarded as an outstanding foreign affairs expert with emphasis on the European scene. His radio broadcasts during World War II have brought him international fame.

Shirer has received the George Foster Peabody award which is radio's greatest prize. According to press releases, in his latest book, "Midcentury Journey," he tries to separate the good from the bad with the hope that he can gain some perspective on what lies ahead.

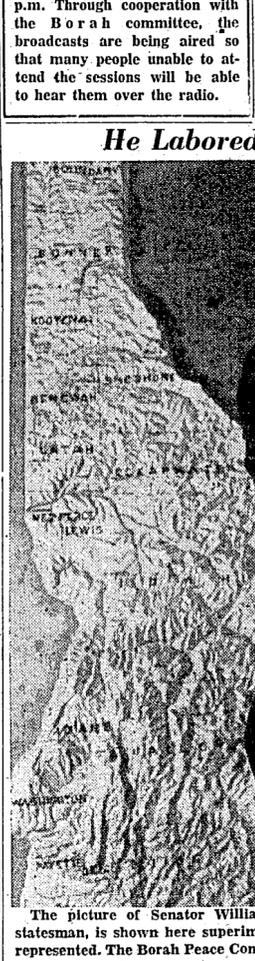

He is also author of numerous articles for such magazines as Harper's, Atlantic and Life. He also wrote "End of a Berlin Diary" which is a sequel to "Berlin Diary."

Broadcast

campus radio station KUOI, dial 660, will broadcast all three main addresses from the Borah Peace conference tomorrow. The broadcasts will be on the air at 9 a.m., 1 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. Through cooperation with the Borah committee, the broadcasts are being aired so that many people unable to attend the sessions will be able to hear them over the radio.

He Labored For Peace

The picture of Senator William Edgar Borah, Idaho's famous statesman, is shown here superimposed on the map of the state he represented. The Borah Peace Conference, named in his honor, opens tomorrow on the campus.

Borah Peace Conference Opens Tomorrow Morning

The sixth annual Borah conference on the Causes of War and Conditions of Peace will begin at 9 a. m. in Memorial gymnasium tomorrow.

The three main speeches will be given by William L. Shirer, noted author, foreign correspondent and radio commentator; Kenneth Lindsay, writer on international affairs; and H. L. Keenleyside, director-general of the United Nations' Technological Assistance administration.

The theme of the 1953 conference is "Mutual Security and Technical Assistance Programs as Positive Projects in Solving the Problems of War and Peace."

Educators Take Part
Representatives of 11 universities and colleges will participate in the forums which will follow the main speeches.

Forums Listed
One forum on the first address will be "Mutual Security and the American Farmer: Are Foreign Markets the Key to Farm Prosperity?" It will be moderated by Dr. Edward C. Moore, chairman of the philosophy department, and will have on its panel Dr. Keenleyside and several other visiting and University participants. This forum will be held in Ag Science 106.

The second forum on the first address will be "Mutual Security and American Industry: Is There a Conflict Between Trade and Aid?"

Moderator for this forum will be Dr. William Folz, head of the department of agricultural economics. On the panel will be William Shirer and other visiting educators.

Aid to Asia
This forum will be held in Engineering 104.

The Meaning of Aid to Asia: New Masters of New Hope for Asia's Millions" is the panel held in Ag Science 106 of the second address. It will be moderated by Dr. Paul M. Pitman, president of the College of Idaho, and will feature William Shirer, the initial speaker.

The second panel for the second speech will be moderated by Dr. Albert P. Ludwig, Eastern Washington College of Education. Its topic is "The Meaning of Aid to Asia: Rising Potentialities for World War or World Peace?" It will be held in Engineering building, room 104.

Banquet In SUB
Featured on this forum will be Kenneth Lindsay, educator.

The third main address will be followed immediately by a forum, "Is the United Nations' Effort Truly Mutual Aid?" Moderating this forum is Dean D. S. Jeffers. On the panel will be Shirer, Keenleyside, and Lindsay, plus other visiting participants.

A banquet at 6 p. m. will interrupt the conference proceedings. It will be held in the Center ballroom at the SUB and may be attended by any students, faculty and visiting speakers. There will be no speaker.

Tickets for the banquet will be on sale at the Registration Desk, in Memorial gymnasium and at the tables in Engineering 104 and Ag Science 106. The price of the tickets is $1.75.

Ag Queen Hopefuls Presented to Club
Coed candidates for Queen of the 27th annual Little International will be presented to Ag club members at a meeting Thursday night. The candidates were named last night by the women's living groups.

Queen finalists will be selected by the Ag club March 26 and the queen who will reign over the week-long activities will be chosen April 9.

Plans for the Little International, sponsored by the Ag club and the college of agriculture, will be discussed at the meeting. Gem pictures will be taken and members are requested to wear coats and ties.

Students, to be eligible for any prizes won in the Little International, must be Ag club members. Dues can be paid to Clyde Murphy, club treasurer, at club meetings or a Chrisman hall.

DEAR JASON

Dear Jason,

We would like to take this opportunity to invite all the students of the ASUI to the U and I party nominating assembly Saturday, March 21 at 1 p.m., in the SUB, conference rooms A and B of the Borah theatre.

This is the second annual nominating assembly of the party. To explain the procedure briefly, the order of business will be: 1, nomination of presidential candidates, 2, voting on same, 3, nominating executive board candidates, 4, voting on same, 5, moving and voting on various platform stands, 6, nomination and election of 1953-54 chairman for steering committee meetings.

Nominations for president will come from the floor, and can not be closed until the chairman gives three calls for further nominations which go unanswered. Each person present will then cast one vote, which will be tabulated promptly so the unsuccessful aspirants can be nominated for executive board positions.

Nomination for executive board positions will follow the same procedure, with each student casting nine votes on a sheet of paper. Each of these names counts one equal vote, but no names are to be repeated on the same ballot. All ballots are tabulated under supervision of a faculty member.

Those wishing to move adoption of particular plans as a part of the platform may do so upon recognition of the chairman. Voting on these plans, following a discussion, will be by show of hands.

Those intending to nominate an individual are advised that for that person's best interests, a short speech as to qualifications is proper.

We hope a representative group from the campus will turn out for the assembly which is one of the most important functions of the U and I party. Good candidates can be selected this way. YOUR candidate can be selected this way. See you Saturday at one.

Sincerely,
 U & I Party Nominating Assembly Committee

Platonic Dialogue Reveals Blind Date Plight

(By Ken Stein of the Iowa State Daily)

(ACP)—My roommate told me it was time for me to get a date. He called down the name of a girl from his perch on the chandelier. I telephoned a number.

"Hello. Can I please speak to Nancy?"

"She just started shaving."

"I'll wait." Seventeen minutes passed.

"Hello. Who's there?"

"Is this a girl?"

"What can I do for you?"

"I'm a boy . . . I thought maybe that . . ."

"You want to take me out?"

"Yes."

"I'll meet you at the Union at eight. How will I recognize you?"

"I'll wear a red-striped suit."

"But how will I recognize you?"

"I'll be revolving around."

"See you!"

She was an hour late. I was grateful, because I made $5 attracting business to the barber shop. I had a miserable evening. We went out and ate spaghetti. I got vertical spaghetti stains on my horizontally striped suit . . .

Manners Apply To Car Driving

Good manners is something more than knowing how to hold your soup spoon or when to walk on the outside of the sidewalk. It is much more than a capacity to say the pleasant but insincere thing. It is much more than mere tact.

It is to feel and, above all, to show a genuine concern in others. This means caring for people, respecting them, treating them as equals and sharing their fears and earthly concerns and their ideals.

Bad traffic manners can cost you your life! The road hog . . . the speeder . . . and the driver who fails to give signals, all show their disregard for life. The discourteous driver and the traffic violator is usually the same person who tries to get with something and only succeeds in doing away with himself.

Reports indicate that over half of all drivers in fatal accidents were violating a traffic law at the time of the accident. So to protect your own life as well as others, mind your motor manners. Drive as you would have the other fellow drive. Remember, when there's a life at stake, no one has the right of way!

University Dames Hold Style Show

The Idaho chapter of University Dames will present a style show, Wednesday, March 18, in the Faculty club at 8 p.m.

They will have as their guests the faculty men and women and the Washington State college Dames.

The theme of the evening will be "April in Paris." Styles for spring and early summer will be shown. Easter styles will dominate.

Instrumental and vocal music will be furnished by the Dames club trio and their pianist, Lorna Costello. Mattie Price will also be a featured soloist.

A pantomime with the setting of a Paris sidewalk cafe will feature Les Hummel and Carol and Dick Gessford.

Mrs. Marge Johnson will be the commentator. Mrs. Betty Lillibridge will present a reading and Mrs. Isabelle Smith will be in charge of fashions and models.

The evening will close with refreshments served the guests under the supervision of the refreshment chairman, Lorraine Burns and her committee.

Daids will provide the clothes.

THANKS

We should like to take this opportunity to thank all those concerned with making the Blue Key Talent show a success. Frank Young, Dean Lattig and the office of student affairs, Stowell Johnson, Jack Ewasen, Leon Green, the University buildings and grounds men, and many others helped just as surely as any of the participants. Thanks again, we owe it all to you.

Ted Torok and Bob Huntley
 Co-chairmen

As general chairman of Campus Chest drive, I wish to express my sincere appreciation for the fine work done by all those who served on my committee.

Special recognition should go to Sally Landers, publicity chairman, Dolores Anderson, the solicitation chairman, and Bill Boyden, special events chairman.

Thanks to the entire University for the wholehearted support.

Ruth Dimond
 General Chairman
 1952-53 Campus Chest Drive

As solicitation chairman for the Campus Chest I wish to express my appreciation and thanks to the district chairmen for the drive: Pat Carroll, Bob Huntley, Jim Trowbridge, Susan Banks, Harriet Duckworth, Pete Snow, Joyce Kilsgaard, John Sheridan and Emerson Clark and all their solicitors. It was through their persistent efforts and hard work that the drive was a success and the goal exceeded.

Dolores Anderson

I wish to express my sincere thanks to the following people for their much-needed help in presenting the Campus Chest and carnival last Friday night: Margaret White and Chuck Pierce, co-members of the special events committee.

Jackie Baker, Bob Campbell, Bill Brodersen, Dick Tirk, Jim

Bureau Announces Available Summer Jobs, Placements

The Central Placement bureau announces the following job interviews for both summer jobs and placements for graduating seniors:

The Rogers Canning company of Milton-Freewater, Oregon is offering summer employment. The season is from June 10 to the last week in July. Modern housing is available for those interested. Persons interested should contact the Placement bureau in the Ad annex today.

The Washington State Personnel board will be here this morning until 10:45. They will be interviewing prospects for social work, welfare work, and the merit system.

A U. S. Bureau of Reclamation representative is in the Engineering building today talking with seniors in engineering.

Tomorrow the Chicago Bridge and Iron company will interview engineers in the Engineering building.

Cory, Shirley Bates, Harold Stevens, Sharon Norby, Dick Riggs, Joe Jessoph, Barbara Pickett, and Gene Gregg, booth chairmen.

Ray Cox and his SUBurbans.

The many other persons who either helped set the booths up, participated in them, or helped treat the Lisbon conference on NATO. Again, thanks.

Bill Boyden,
 Special events chairman

A Thanks And A Request

Last week the students of the University of Idaho responded to two events in a manner that is in keeping with the highest traditions of this school. Our Campus Chest drive, under the direction of one of the finest groups of students it has been our pleasure to know, met with overwhelming success.

You students packed the Bucket for the Carnival on Friday night, swelling the fund to the bursting point. You went over $300 above the quota set for the drive—already set for a healthy $1500. Then on Saturday night, the largest audience ever assembled for a Blue Key Talent show saw a superb presentation of 26 acts, the largest talent show ever offered.

To this must be added the resounding compliments of all who saw the recent ASUI production, "Death of a Salesman." For the work done to accomplish these results, and for the wonderful support given these enterprises, everyone on this campus is entitled to enjoy a feeling of worthy accomplishment, and the gratitude of us all.

Tomorrow another function is taking place. Just as much work has gone into it as any of the above. However, instead of entertainment being its goal, it is designed as an intellectual challenge. It is the famed Borah Peace conference.

It is famed because it is recognized the nation over as being unique in its field. It has been successful in the past because it has the support of some of the most influential persons in the world. We are asking you to continue the standards set by your past achievements by participating to the fullest in this conference.

You will not be lightly entertained, but you will be stimulated by discussions and lectures given and participated in by world authorities. You are a vital and necessary part of this conference, for ideas are worthless unless they have a fertile mind in which to grow.

We ask you to attend all the meetings of the conference. Bring an open, inquiring mind, and listen well. Who knows; perhaps tomorrow, March 18, an idea will be born in the mind of a student at this university that will one day shake the world, and bring about results longed for by all humanity.

If you will support this program in the manner you have supported all other endeavors this year, we know that when it is over, we will once again be able to say, from the bottom of our hearts, "thank you."

RAY COX,
 ASUI President.

Sleuthin' The Campus

Question: What is your idea of the ideal girl for a date?

Morgan Johnson, Kappa Sigma

I would like a girl who is not moody and has an open mind toward things. She would have to like to do the same things I do, and she would have to be willing to show me a good time as well as me showing her a good time.

Tom Mitchell, ATO

I gave up girls for Lent.

Julien Bucher, Chrisman hall

I think the ideal girl is someone who wants to contribute to the success of the evening. Tomboyish girls are fine, and my pet peeve concerning women is man-chasers.

Bud Griffin, Bill Ringert, Phi Kappa Tau

We think girls ought to be good looking, have good personalities and be good conversationalists. They should have a little bit of refinement and a good sense of humor.

Gary Heyer, ATO

I would look for good looks, personality and femininity in the ideal girl. Contrary to a lot of opinions, I don't think drinking or smoking takes any of these away from girls.

gross abortion was essentially this: Each mother who comes to the May Fete wants to hear her own son or daughter sing. Wonderful sentiments and surely receptive of everyone's support. Hogwash! By the time a student is in college his or her mother should be familiar with his singing ability.

Let's look at the facts. By doing away with preliminary eliminations, one gains quantity of performance at the sacrifice of quality. Besides, the argument that it pleases the moms is feasible only if each group is represented 100 per cent — 300 campus singers.

Also, when song leaders were questioned as to whether their glee clubs would approve of the new set-up, they were told, "You tell them that this is the way we're doing it this year." Do you detect a note of hypocrisy here? The new program had the noble aim of pleasing the moms, but it does not matter if it pleases the participants?

Here is our plea. Give this matter your consideration — then tell your song leaders how you feel about it.

Official Notice

Those students who are going to be in the woods this summer should receive Rocky Mountain spotted fever inoculations. Those who have had a previous inoculation require one booster shot. Those not previously inoculated require three shots at seven to ten day intervals.

The diphtheria epidemic in the Twin Falls-Buhl area appears to be under control; however, in approximately three weeks, we have Easter vacation. It is recommended that the students from the Twin Falls and Pocatello areas who are going home at Easter have Schick tests done. Students whose tests show positive should have diphtheria toxoid. This will be done at the University infirmary free of charge to the student.

Dean Kerr Back From Boise Meet

Dean T. S. Kerr returned this week from a meeting of representatives of the liberal arts colleges in Idaho which was held in Boise last Friday and Saturday.

Topics of mutual interest among the colleges and specific problems of the libraries and library service were discussed.

Lee Zimmerman, head librarian at the University, accompanied Kerr and took part in the forums which were held.

Patronize Argonaut Advertisers

Dear Jason

Beware, all you people of stout heart and fortitude, you who would reward excellence in achievement and decry the ascendancy of mediocrity; you are about to be swindled by the biggest railroading job since the driving of the golden spike.

Preparations for this year's song fest followed in line with those of previous years, and two weeks ago song leaders chose their competition numbers from the list set forth and approved by the song fest committees. Last night, certain campus factions, showing an amazing amount of hindsight decided to scrap the songfest programs of previous years and set up their own version of a county fair.

The new program will:

1. Move the songfest from the auditorium or the Ad lawn to the gymnasium.
2. Do away with the preliminary eliminations.
3. Do away with the competitive spirit that goes along with the recognition awarded song fest winners (no winners or runners-up will be chosen).
4. Enable each living group to sing only one song (thus eliminating the psychological benefits of a warm-up number).

The main reason given for this

Dear Jason

Congratulations to Ruth Dimond and the '52-'53 Campus Chest committee from myself and the '51-'52 committee. There are few instances when a group of people like to see their record fall; this, however, is one of those times—nice going and a job well done!

AWS Slates Primary Elections On Thursday

Primary elections for AWS officers will be held Thursday, according to Erlene Clyde, present AWS president.

Polls will be open from 8:30 to 4:30 in the Ad building. The final voting will be held next week. All girls are urged to get out and vote and to bring their ASUI cards to the polls.

Candidates are Nathalie Bales

Mary Joyce Briggs, Rosemary Burgorf, Jody Ennis, Colleen Hinchey and Betty Judd, president.

Mary Brown, Sally Landers, Sharon Norby, Dorothy Wahl and Joan Welsh, secretary.

Jesse Powers, Karen Hinkley, Elaine Dunn and Harriet Duckworth, treasurer. Dolores Uria, Lois Bush, Erlene Clyde, Sheila Janssen, Mary Patano, Nancy Shelton and Nancy Weitz, May queen.

Idaho Tops List In Speech Tourney

Lee Anderson, Stan Tate and Andrew Field won first, second and third place respectively in impromptu speaking last Friday and Saturday at an "all Idaho" speech tournament held in Pocatello. James Kruger took third place in the oratory competition.

Also making the trip were Dick Johnston, and debate coach Dr. A. E. Whitehead. In debate competition the University came in second place.

Other schools represented were College of Idaho, Idaho State college, Northwest Nazarene, Ricks college and Boise junior college.

Law Group Initiates Seven New Pledges

Seven pledges of Phi Alpha Delta law fraternity were formally initiated in a ceremony Friday evening.

New members are John Kugler, Jack Riddlemoser, Don Waltman, Bill Rodin, Jay Bates, Keith Jergensen, and Bud Hagau.

Music Departments Visited By Macklin

Professor Hall Macklin, head of the University of Idaho music department, who is now on leave to study music education programs both in the United States and abroad, has already covered a wide stretch of territory.

In a report received here today, Macklin said that during his first month of travels he had visited the music divisions at the universities of Oregon, California, California at Los Angeles, Southern California, Arizona and New Mexico, and San Francisco State college and Arizona State college at Tempe.

Macklin is accompanied by his wife. They will visit Europe later in the spring.

Hays Hall Observes Freshman Week; Tri Deltas Hold Mexican Paddle Dinner

High on the list of current social events is Freshman week at Hays with the freshman women ruling the house. The Tri Deltas held a dinner for their cook and hashers recently with Mexican mood and costume.

KAPPA SIGMA
Fritz Hoover, Kappa Sigma freshman queen candidate, was a dinner guest Sunday.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON
A pin dinner was held Sunday for Ann Morgan, Carol Rojan and Shirley Manard. Serenades for them were given at 10:30 p.m.

DELTA SIGMA PHI
Wednesday's exchange was with Kappa Alpha Theta.

Recent dinner guests included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hudson, Joyce Rowan, Dewey Newman and Ivan Hopkins.

DELTA DELTA DELTA
"Paddle" dinner, sponsored by the pledge class, was held March 12. The costume was Mexican. Guests were the hashers, Jim Lynn, Reed Lau, Larry Knight, Bob May, and the cook Mrs. Strohl.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Buchanan of Kellogg were weekend guests at the house.

Dinner guests recently included Kenny Wright, Lois Bush, Dean Twogood, Carl Dobyns and Deane Allen.

The exchange last Wednesday was with ATO.

LAMBDA CHI
Mr. and Mrs. Seth Yerrington were weekend guests from Richland, Washington.

Dewey Newman, Quentin Stoda, and Mike Crow were dinner guests during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bonner, Deming, Washington, parents of Doug Hamilton, were Friday evening dinner guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Hamilton were honored dinner guests Sunday.

Gamma Phi Beta pledges were guests of Lambda Chi pledges on Wednesday evening.

Jerry Dallas is president of the pledge class. Assisting him are George Kronmiller, vice president; and Ronnie Sayer, secretary-treasurer.

It's rumored that late on a Sunday evening Roger Curtis Howard's pin got away from him. Anyway it's gone.

HAYS HALL
Freshman week has really taken effect in Hays hall with the fresh ruling for a week. Freshmen are going to see if they can make any improvements in the house rules and get some new projects underway.

The following freshmen have been chosen to reign as hall officers: Judy Plomer, president; Evelyn Starke, vice-president; Donna Travis, secretary; Carol Trout, treasurer; Joan Jabborra, song leader; Sonja Hoisath, social chairman; and Geneva Sarvis, health captain.

A few of the projects will be trying to get students to turn out for practices and to improve house manners. Upperclassmen must be in bed at 11 p.m. one night during the week.

Guests at the recent faculty dinner included Mr. Lockery, Dr. and Mrs. Lowry, Mr. and Mrs. Bellis, Mr. and Mrs. Logan, Miss Betts, Mr. and Mrs. Forney, Dr. and Mrs. Giles, Mrs. Akkerman, Miss Little, Mr. Ashby, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Kirkland and Dr. and Mrs. Hervo Snider.

FORNEY HALL
Dinner guests this last week were Jean Burke, Joyce Appleton, and Mary Jo Patten. Overnight guests were Charlotte Jungert, and Shirley Smith.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA
Mrs. Ray Bell, district president of Kappa Alpha Theta, spent three days at the house on her tour of the Theta houses in her district. Wednesday night she was honored at a fireside supervised by Rosella Kelly and Jane Querna.

Winners of the scholarship matches were honored Saturday night at the annual scholarship dinner.

Plans are being made for the annual brother-sister banquet to be held at the house Wednesday evening.

Wednesday dinner guests were JoAnn Dittmer and Kris Winner. Guests at Sunday dinner were Virginia Wagner and Larry Carlson, candidate for Freshman King.

AIEE Will Meet At WSC Laboratory

There will be an AIEE meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Hydraulics Laboratory, Washington State college. All AIEE members meet first at Kirtley lab No. 2 at 7 p.m. for rides. Eats Are Offered On Quiz Program

The Radio-TV guild campus quiz show, featured Thursday night at 7:15 over KUOI, offers hamburgers and milk shakes contributed by the Varsity cafe for correct answers to questions. Julien Bucher is M.C. of the program. Questions are broadcast over KUOI and phone numbers are picked at random to find contestants.

Tonight guild members will view the kinescope of an actual telecast illustrating what a small amount of scenery, props and costume is necessary for a program. Films of puppet-making will also be shown. Guests are welcome. The meeting begins at 7:15 p.m.

Future shows to be put on by the guild include a series of novels of distinction. They are "Frankenstein", "Cox's Diary", "She", "Wolfer Webber's Golden Dream", "Uncle Silas", "Lovel", and "The Old Curiosity Shop".

Tonight at 7:00 the guild will broadcast a special St. Patrick's day show over KUOI under the direction of Mary Hopkins.

For Bellingham Professors Leave

Professors Elwyn Schwartz, Glen Lockery, Keith Forney, and Warren Bellis will leave Tuesday, March 17, for Bellingham, Washington, where they will participate as directors and speakers of activities in connection with the Northwest Regional Conference of Music Educators. The conference meets from March 18-21.

The standings of the bowling teams in the WRA bowling tournament are listed in order, from the first to the last.

Forney IV, 1414; Theta I, 1386; Hays II, 1383; Ridenbaugh, 1383; Pi Phi II, 1380; Forney I, 1373; Forney II, 1370; Alpha Chi II, 1370; Pi Phi I, 1368; Delta Gamma II, 1368; Gamma Phi I, 1267; Alpha Phi I, 1366; Kappa Gamma I, 1364; Alpha Chi I, 1359; Delta Gamma I, 1358; Tri Delt I, 1349; Forney I, 1344; Gamma Phi II, 1231; Delta Gamma III, 1328; Alpha Phi II, 1316; Hays I, 1312; Kappa Gamma II, 1306; Theta II, 686; Tri Delt II, 669; Alpha Chi III, 595.

Teams playing tonight in the basketball tournament are Forney II vs. Pi Phi and Gamma Phi I vs. Alpha Phi.

The results of the last week's games are Alpha Chi lost to Theta, Pi Phi won by forfeit over Gamma Phi, and Ridenbaugh was defeated by Forney I.

Mixed volleyball teams played their last games March 7 to close the volleyball season.

Forney defeated Kappa 33-23. Delta Gamma defeated Tri Delt 36-28 and Thetas downed Alpha Phi 35-29.

A regular round-robin tournament will be set up for mixed volleyball next year.

Dr. H. Walter Steffens, dean of the University graduate school, was named chairman of the steering committee of the Pacific Northwest Conference on Higher Education at a meeting of that group last week in Eugene, Oregon.

The conference will be held next year on the Idaho campus.

Industry Offers College Graduates Higher Salaries

(I.P.)—American industry is offering the new college graduate higher salaries than ever before, but there will still not be enough men to meet the demand, according to the seventh annual nationwide survey released by Dr. Frank S. Endicott, director of placement at Northwestern university.

Another finding of the study is the fact that, on the average, the 176 companies interviewed 151 graduating seniors for every ten men employed. Because of the many job-offers from which the men could choose, it was necessary for the companies to make 24 offers in order to find ten who would accept.

Endicott says that his study shows that the average starting salary is now $304 a month, an increase from the $235 average offered in 1948. Most personnel executives don't think the graduate is overpriced, he found. The businessmen point to the inflationary trends in recent years and to the high cost of homes and home furnishings today as compared with the late 1930's and early 1940's.

There are some dissenters, however. Endicott says 39 per cent of the personnel directors disagree, asserting that the present starting salary is too high compared with the worth of older employees whose salaries haven't been increased as much as rates for beginning college students.

Gloversville, N. Y., was so named because a group of glove makers from Scotland established a glove industry there before the Revolutionary War.

Over fifty persons attended the last meeting to hear talks and music concerning French language and culture. Plans for the new semester include a picnic and films on French culture and life.

ROTC Hears Paratrooper

A young army lieutenant who has spent his entire eight months of service to date in military schools gave Idaho's senior Army ROTC class some hints on what's in store for them after graduation this June, in a talk this morning.

Lt. Raoul Ashby, Moscow, graduated from the University last June and entered active duty in July. He successfully graduated from the infantry school, ranger school and airborne school, all located at Fort Benning, Georgia.

Ashby stressed the value of training and urged the future officers to take advantage of all possible army schools. "The caliber of both curriculum and instruction was outstandingly high in all three schools," the young officer told the group, "and the confidence and knowledge gained from them is well worth the effort required."

Ashby, now a qualified paratrooper, will report to the 82nd Airborne Division at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, later this month for permanent assignment.

Admitted to the infirmary this week were Robert Seros, Robert Carlson, Mary Verner, Esther Prins, Betty Fitch and John Herrett.

Discharged were Michael Brabb, Marilyn Cox, Frank Bahr, Charlotte Pennington, Barbara Andersen and Ralph Kistler.

MUSIC SESSIONS
Washington University has inaugurated in its department of music a major community service project. The project enables 75 high school students to supplement their public school music education with free Saturday morning sessions on the University campus.

The high school students were selected for the special opportunity by their music teachers in St. Louis, St. Louis county, and nearby Illinois high schools.

When shipping a crate of eggs to a wholesaler, the farmer's wife wrote on one of them, "I got two cents for this egg. What did you pay for it?"

A year later she received the answer. It was written on the highly embellished stationery of an actor.

"Dear Madam," he wrote, "while playing the part of Hamlet recently I received your egg free of charge."

Records Are Smashed During ND Hoop Race

Houbregs Sets Four New Ones; Kruger Grabs All-Time Mark

Washington's All-American Bob Houbregs led the Northern Division in an unprecedented barrage on season records, final basketball statistics from the Pacific Coast Conference Commissioner's office disclosed today.

Fourteen season individual and team records were re-written, four of them by Houbregs, as he captured top honors in scoring and field goal marksmanship while also ranking high in rebounds and from the free throw line.

Houbregs poured in 406 points for an average of 25.6 points a game in capturing the Northern Division scoring title for the third straight year. Hank Luisetti of Stanford, who held the Southern Division scoring crown in 1935-37, is the only other player in Pacific Coast conference history to score a "triple."

It took a superlative performance by Houbregs to win top scoring honors, too, for two others also topped the old mark of 285 points set in 1948 by Jack Nichols of Washington.

Oregon center Chet Noe tallied 307 points for an average of 19.2 while Hartly Kruger of Idaho scored 291 to average 18.2. Four other players also broke the "charmed circle" of 200-pointers—Ken Wegner, Oregon, 221; Pete Mullins, Washington State, 208; Joe Cipriano, Washington, 205, and

Flynn Rates High In Stat List For ND

Final Northern Division basketball statistics released today show that although Idaho players failed to lead in any of the hoop departments such as rebounds or free throws, they did land second or third spot in each race.

Tom Flynn showed his dead-eye accuracy by having the second best record at the free throw line and the third best in the field goal department.

In rebounds Dwight Morrison was second only to Oregon's Chet Noe while Vandal Hartly Kruger was rated sixth in the same division.

Kruger was third in total scoring.

—New Northern Division record

Idaho's famed boxing brothers, Len and Norm Walker of Wallace, are currently doing a different kind of fighting. According to a letter received by mitt coach Frank Young, his former charges are with the army in Korea.

Len writes to say that he is with the Special Services in Inchon while Norm is with the Military Police nearby.

Golf Coach Dick Snyder has announced that there is to be no parking of autos on the golf course after sundown. Any couples caught will be prosecuted.

Ron Kalafat, WSC's heavyweight boxing ace was being held in the Whitman county jail last week under $2,500 bond.

He and a Cougar football player are charged with the second degree assault of a ticket agent in the Pullman Bus depot. The man reportedly suffered a concussion and lost two teeth in the fight. He is said to have asked the boys to leave the depot because they were creating a disturbance.

Kalafat is undefeated this year and holds two decisions over Vandal Hal Solinsky.

Swimmers Elect Idaho freshmen and varsity swimmers met yesterday afternoon and elected Bob Crawford and Rich Bradbury as co-captains for next year's tank squad. Bradbury was captain of this year's team.

Boxers Lose To Spartans; PCI Tournament Is Next

With the dual meet season behind, Idaho boxers settled down this week to prepare for the annual Pacific Coast Intercollegiate mitt tournament at Sacramento, March 26-28.

Coach Frank Young is holding light drills the first part of this week to give the squad a chance to catch up with school work and then it will be hard workouts until tourney time.

The Vandals closed out the dual meet season with a startling 1 1/2-6 1/2 loss to the San Jose State Spartans last Friday down in California. It was the worst drubbing in the 15-year-old rivalry between the two schools.

There were no knockouts and but one TKO. In the opening bout of the evening San Jose's Mike Guerrero stopped Don Nye in 1:21 of the third.

Only winner for Idaho was 156-pounder Ray Johnson who ran his season's undefeated string to five straight. Coach Young said the senior boxer "looked like a million" and had his opponent Bill Mendoza in trouble most of the third round.

Captain Lynn Nichols ran into trouble in his 147-pound bout with flashy sophomore Spartan

Kruger and Squad Lose Ballgame In Denver Last Night

It was a long hard fight for Hartly Kruger and his Pullman DeSotas to get to the AAU tournament at Denver but when they finally did make their appearance it was a short one.

The Grithave Motors of San Diego, California, slapped down the Inland Empire entry to the national tourney, 68-40, last night. The DeSotas had won the Spokane tournament and the right to enter the Denver championships when they learned that their entrance applications had been sent in too late. Several days later they again got the go-ahead signal when another AAU quintet dropped out making room for Kruger's team.

Rodeo To Be Held At Idaho May 1-3

Idaho's Rodeo club will hold a three-day rodeo May 1-3 as one of thirteen such college events to be held in the nation in 1936, announces the National Intercollegiate Rodeo association.

In addition, Hardin-Simmons university will be host to the national championships at Abilene, Texas.

The top 84 intercollegiate cowboys of the country will appear in his tourney. Last year NIRA had 46 member schools in 15 states. Thus far this year, 33 colleges and universities over the nation have been approved as members.

WSC Wrestlers Win Washington State College's wrestling squad won the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate championships at San Luis Obispo, California, over the weekend. The Cougars won four individual weight classes and had all 10 team members place.

Anderson Fights Well Don Anderson fought the best bout of his varsity career as he narrowly dropped a decision to rugged Ed Heinrich of San Jose in the 165-pound class. It was all even going into the third round but in the last stanza Ed got the nod.

Don showed good defensive skill in the tough bout. He time and again nullified the power of Heinrich's potent right hand punch.

A very close bout between Idaho's Jack Webster and San Jose's Al White ended in favor of the host school. It was an action-filled bout with Webster showing best at the in-fighting.

Bowen Loses Vandal, Fred Bowen couldn't

With only four sports left in the intramural year, the race for the intramural championship plaque has seemingly narrowed down to a two-way affair between Phi Delta Theta and Willis Sweet Hall.

The Phi Deltas are on top with 1306 points, and Willis Sweet second with 1272. The only other living group that has an apparent chance to take honors is the Sigma Nu with 1193.5 points.

Phi Deltas Balanced Balanced squads have proved to be the major factor in the strong showings of both the Phi Deltas and Willis Sweet. Except for volleyball the Phi's placed high in every sport, while Willis Sweet's only weak showing was in swimming. Below is a summary showing how the two living groups fared in each sport.

Touch football—Willis Sweet, first; Phi Deltas, second.

Swimming—Phi Deltas, first; Willis Sweet, eleventh.

Tennis—Willis Sweet, second; Phi Deltas, tied for third.

Cross country—Willis Sweet, first; Phi Deltas, third.

Volleyball—Willis Sweet, tie for second; Phi Deltas, twelfth.

Basketball—Phi Deltas, third; Willis Sweet, tie for fourth.

Bowling—Phi Deltas, first; Willis Sweet, third.

Table tennis—Willis Sweet, first; Phi Deltas, second.

"B" basketball—Willis Sweet, third; Phi Deltas, fifth.

Below is a list of the other winners in individual and team intramural sports:

Tennis—team winner, Delta Tau Delta; individual champion, Rust, Eagle & Anchor.

Cross country run—winner, Cook, Phi Delta Theta.

Volleyball—winners, Kappa Sigma.

"A" basketball—Delta Chi.

"B" basketball—Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Table tennis—Johnson, Willis Sweet.

Skiers Close Out Season; Show Well Over Weekend

In their last meet of the season, Idaho's slat riders placed high in every event and ran off with the second place title in the Whitman meet at Tolgate ski area (near Walla Walla, Washington) Saturday and Sunday.

Kjell Knarvik won the jumping hands down and bettered the hill record in two out of three jumps to lead teammates to the team jumping championship.

Following close behind Kjell came Olaf Stavik who took fourth in the event despite a bad spill in which he broke both the tip and heel of one ski.

Bill Marr, jumping in his last meet for Idaho, showed beautiful form in his three leaps to capture sixth place.

Long Grind When the last man had crossed the finish line after a grueling cross country run, Vandal Olaf Stavik was second behind WSC's veteran skier Al Fisher. Knarvik and Marr again gave Idaho good representation by finishing in the eighth and ninth spots to get enough points for a team second.

Despite their high performances in jumping and cross country the Idaho squad didn't have quite enough points to keep the Nordic combined trophy from the Cougars. Both Stavik and Knarvik placed high in combined with a second and fourth respectively.

Idaho's slalom and giant slalom squad of Muddy Numbers, Norm Geertsen, Torre Kristoffersen and Lane Rudd came through with good times and enough points for the second place team trophies in both events. Washington State bettered the Vandals' mark by four-tenths of a second for first place honors.

Beat out Cougars Although no one Idaho man took a first place the team's point total was enough to bring home the first place Alpine trophy and to beat WSC out of a combined team win for the first time this season.

Vandal Norm Geertsen was high man with fourth in the combined Alpine for Idaho.

Gym Squad Ties At Pullman

Idaho's Gymnastic club took but two firsts in six events but managed to pile up enough points for a 48-48 draw with the University of British Columbia gym team at Pullman Saturday.

Ted Kara Was Idaho's Best Boxer; Led USA's 1936 Olympic Mitt Team

By Don Theophilus, Jr.

It all started in a Cleveland basement. Two small boys were settling their differences of opinion. Faces sweating and arms windmilling, they went at it. Soon it was over and one of the boys was crying his way home to mother. The other, a small Italian youngster, stood catching his breath.

Fate stepped in soon after and began to shape a future. Years later, a graduate of the University of Idaho and hailed as the best college boxer of his time, Ted Kara was to recall this beginning and the breath-taking events that followed.

Ted was what people termed a "natural." He had all the gifted equipment that goes to make a truly great boxer—lightning reflexes, split-second timing, perfect balance, stamina, will-to-win. Fans, boxers and coaches alike agreed that Ted Kara was as smooth as they came.

At the same time Ted was a quiet, unassuming fellow that took his good fortune very calmly. While boxing at Idaho he worked hard and his record and reputation reflected his personal energy. Now, over ten years since he stepped into a ring, his name has taken on legend proportions.

It was on that day of 1932, though, that Kara's relatives recognized his ability following the settlement of differences between the short, curly-headed boxer and the neighbor lad.

First Tournament Shortly after this Ted entered the annual Novice tournament staged every spring in Cleveland and wrapped up his first boxing championship—at 102 pounds.

He liked boxing and advanced so rapidly that he won the all-city AAU tournament that fall in the 112-pound class. In 1933 he again won the all-city title, this time in the next weight bracket—at 118 pounds.

All this time the little puncher was taking his new success in his stride. Ted wasn't the kind to excite easily. He liked boxing all right, but was smart enough not to let it sidetrack him completely.

School duties and work kept him busy in 1934 and 1935 and he did not enter any tournaments. He returned to competition in the 1936 Olympic year and won the Golden Gloves title in the featherweight division both in Cleveland and Chicago. He was credited with the quickest k.o. of the Chicago meet when he dropped his man after 18 seconds of the first round.

Ted in the Olympics Six weeks later he entered his weight at the Olympic trials, held in Chicago for the purpose of selecting a team to represent the United States. He made the squad, was promptly elected captain and from there proceeded to enjoy the longest single trip he ever took while in quest of new victories—a journey to Berlin, Germany, wearing Uncle Sam's colors.

This was one of the few times Ted ever got really excited about what he had earned. He was very proud to represent the United States.

Ted Kara... Idaho's Greatest reasons behind his choice were best summed up in his own words, "I don't like schools that are too large; you don't get acquainted. I liked what I knew of the Idaho coach and teams and I wanted to get out west—away from home."

As a freshman he was so sensational that he had little trouble and wound up the season undefeated. He took his boxing seriously and the training that went with it. One team mate recently recalled the time Ted refused to join the team in a drink after a successful season.

In his first varsity season Ted won the Pacific coast and national collegiate championships at 127 pounds. In 1940 he moved down a weight, duplicated the feat and sparked the squad to coast and national titles. Great as he was Ted never took advantage of an opponent in the ring. Often he was matched with an inexperienced boxer. Ted would not only pull his punches but make the kid look good before the fans.

His only knockouts came when the chips were down and he didn't want to take any chances.

Ted's senior year, Idaho skipped defense of the Pacific coast tournament to meet Wisconsin in a dual meet. Later he had an opportunity to write his name in the record book two more times when at the nationals he became the first man to ever win three NCAA crowns.

Along with this he was declared the boxer "whose sportsmanship, skill and conduct perpetuate the finest attributes in collegiate boxing."

Undefeated When the time did come, Ted Kara hung up his gloves undefeated in four years of intercollegiate boxing. During his nine years of campaigning he was never knocked out or even down in the ring. The little champion has been referred to as the top collegiate boxer of all time.

Soon after graduation Ted went into the Air Force where he gradually worked his way up the ladder as a fighter pilot. Like most of the things in his life, Ted Kara took the business of war seriously. It wasn't something to clown about.

The spirit of combat never burned any brighter than one day when he winged out over the South Pacific to settle some differences with the Japs. Friends and fans later learned that Lieutenant Ted Kara had been killed in action.
