Two-Day Journalism Meet Will Open Here Friday

We're not certain how the rumor got started, but a few people are quite sure that we're going to shoot down each of the political parties on campus just for the fun of it.

As a matter of fact, we caught a few knowing glances and a few pointed remarks about our ideas on last Saturday's nominating assembly. It seemed a foregone conclusion that we were going to demolish the fond hopes of any parties other than the two that are deeply entrenched on the campus now.

In the first place, we rather doubt our ability to explode any party balloons just by what we say in this column. In the second place, judging by what we saw at last Saturday's assembly, the third party cause is floating rather sadly down all by itself.

Out of nearly 3,000 people who attend the University, about 3 percent were present at the assembly. In other words, about 85 students. A number of these were observers from the two major parties. Frankly, we think they could have stayed home.

We did notice a couple of things worthy of notice. First in our minds was the fact that almost any living group on the campus could have shown up in force and tossed the election to any candidate they wished. Almost every living group on campus could have individually mustered enough votes to defeat the man who won.

Not only could they have shoved through anyone they thought would make a good man, but they could have backed a friend or, for that matter, someone who didn't have a dog's chance of winning; including King Farouk. Well, maybe Farouk didn't make his grades.

A couple of other things that we made a note of was the poor timing of the nominating speeches. There were three speeches on behalf of the winning candidate. We suggest that in the future, those with the speeches to give should place themselves among the audience in a less symmetrical pattern, that the speeches should duplicate each other just a little, (they look more impromptu that way), and the amount of time between each speech should vary for greater effect.

You'd almost swear that the trigger man was sitting in the back row pushing the little black buttons. As one sat down the other came up. Speaking of the back row, it seemed to us that too much of the party platform came from that vicinity. We thought a nominating assembly brought out the feelings of the whole group. We thought an assembly of this type stimulated ideas from the group at large. Otherwise you might as well let a committee present a platform.

Into The Wild Blue Yonder

Vandal Flying Club got a shot in the wing with the recent purchase of the Cessna 120 pictured here on the right. The new plane was purchased with club funds about two weeks ago. This shot was taken at the Wallace Air Service field in Pullman from which the club operates since moving from the Moscow Sky-Ranch.

Claus Returns After Directing Own Symphony

With music critics of Portland praising his symphony, "Horizons," which he personally conducted in the coast city, Professor Carl Claus of the University's music department has returned to the campus.

Claus' symphony, composed over a period of 10 years, was presented by the Portland symphony orchestra March 13.

Hugh Scott, critic of the Portland Oregonian, hailed the composition for its "genuine strength and beauty," and said it should be played widely. Susie Aubrey Smith of the Portland Great said the symphony had both great interest and sophistication. She added that "Professor Claus proved as fine a conductor as he is a composer and orchestrator."

A member of the University music staff for 31 years, Claus studied music both in this country and Austria. He said his symphony was motivated by his youth in New England.

In three parts, "Horizons" begins with reflective and melancholy moods of youth. Part II depicts the period which leads into the twenties when one is fired with activity, although not always knowing which direction to take. The final horizon on Part III displays increasing confidence and resolve.

Bureau Announces Week's Schedule For Job Interviews

Possible summer and permanent positions were announced by the Placement bureau today. Those interested should contact the Bureau in the Ad annex for further information.

The United States Department of Agriculture is looking for men, 18 and above, for summer work in the Blister Rust control. Those able to work for several seasons are preferred. Application blanks and information sheets are available in the Placement bureau office.

Engineers are being interviewed for work at the Los Alamos Scientific laboratories today in the Engineering building.

Thursday the Edwards Air Force base will be talking to engineers in the Placement office. They are also interested in sophomore and junior engineering students for summer work.

Montgomery Ward will have a representative here Thursday interviewing men for their store manager training program and mail order house.

Also Thursday afternoon, the Longview Fiber company will interview people for summer jobs. They are looking for undergraduates in engineering and business. They will be in the Placement bureau office.

ENROLLMENT UP
(I.P.)—An encouraging look into the future enrollment trends at colleges and universities is given in a book, "These Will Go To College," recently published by the Western Reserve University Press. The upward trend, calculated to reach a record-breaking peak in 1967, forecasts bulging enrollments for institutions of higher learning on the basis of a study which has been under way since 1949.

Ag Members List Finalists For Queen

Lorna Hobbley, Theta; Venita Holm, Gamma Phi; Frances Epton, Hays; and Susan Oberg, Kappa, were chosen finalists for Little International Queen by Ag club members Thursday.

The queen will be chosen by a vote of Ag club members Thursday night and will be announced April 9 at the Ag club banquet. The queen will reign over the Little International activities April 20 through 25.

The five finalists were chosen from 22 girls representing all campus women's living groups.

Requirement Changed By Air Force

Lt. Col. Mosman, University professor of air science and tactics, announced today that the Air Force has revised the one year pilot training and three year active duty requirements for Air Force ROTC graduates who apply for pilot training.

Air Force ROTC graduates who apply for pilot training will only have to serve two years of active duty after completion of pilot training, or a total of three years including the one year of pilot training.

This change in policy has been made to encourage physically qualified Air Force ROTC graduates to apply for pilot training upon receiving their commissions.

University Adds Shadow Caster To Research Facilities

An instrument capable of applying a metal coating .0000002 of an inch thick has been added to the research facilities at the University of Idaho.

Most of the work done with the new electron microscope, recently given the University by the Bunker Hill and Sullivan Mining and Concentrating company of Kellogg, requires the help of this instrument, called a "shadow caster."

"A high vacuum is created in the bell jar," explains E. E. Spiker, University instructor in physics. "The specimen being studied is inside the jar. Some heavy metal, such as chromium, is evaporated inside the bell jar by heat."

"That metal forms a coat on the specimen, which enhances contrast between the specimen and the film on which it is supported and makes visible many things which otherwise could not be seen at all. Actually the shadows cast by the metal coating give the specimen a three-dimensional effect and make possible the determination of height."

"Shadow casting is extremely important in the study of bacteria, viruses and the surfaces of metals," Spiker explains.

Bridge Tourney Winners Announced By Committee

Frank Bowles, John Nixon, Bert Wohlschlegel and Tom Domsic are the 1953 campus Contract Bridge champions at the University of Idaho.

The titles were conferred by Louis D. Day, Jr., director of Houston hall at the University of Pennsylvania and chairman of the National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament committee. Teams representing Purdue and Princeton universities won the national championship.

More than three thousand students entered by 110 leading colleges and universities in all parts of the United States took part in the 1953 contest. At Idaho, a total of 36 students participated in the tournament.

Latest In The Royal Family

John Bahr and Clara Armstrong, freshman king and queen, were chosen by a vote of their class during the annual frosh week activities.

Dorm Occupancy Date Is Indefinite

Occupation of Steel House, new women's cooperative dormitory, has been delayed by lack of necessary hardware, including door locks and hinges, according to R. F. Green, director of dormitories.

At this time, Green said, no tentative date has been set for the completion of the building by Moscow Builders, Inc. Dedication of the building will be part of the May Day festivities May 10.

Steel House, named after a former regent of the University of Idaho, was scheduled for an early March occupation, after contract termination February 27 and two week's additional time for installation of furniture and kitchen equipment.

Failure to receive some of the hardware for the building, has necessitated prolonged work on the dormitory by the contractors, Moscow Builders, Inc.

The dormitory, with two main living levels, has a capacity of 58 girls at a room rent of $48 per semester. The girls will do their own kitchen and dining room work, as at Ridenbaugh, and will in addition do their own cleaning.

Two unique features found in the dormitory are the universal sprinkling system for fire control and the indirect lighting system not found in any other University building, according to Green.

ED MAJORS NOTE
(I.P.)—Referring to recently published data which revealed that students majoring in education did not compare too favorably with those in other major fields in their performance on the Selective-Service College Qualification Test, Dr. Henry Chauncey, president of Educational Testing Service, indicated in his annual report released here that substantial restructuring of the teaching job itself, to make it more challenging and more remunerative, is necessary in order to attract a larger proportion of very able individuals into the teaching field.

AWS Prexy, May Queen To Be Chosen Tomorrow During Run-off Election

The run-off elections for the offices of Associated Women Students' president and May queen will be held tomorrow in the main hall of the Administration building between 9 a. m. and 4:15 p. m. In order to vote, activity cards must be presented to the checker who will be stationed at the polls.

Voting for the position of AWS president are Nathalie Bales, Jody Ennis, and Colleen Hinchey. Miss Bales, a home ec. major, is a past president of the Pi Phi house, former Spur, member of Panhellenic and Greek caucus, and next year's president of the Home Ec. club.

Jody Ennis, publicity chairman of this year's Homecoming, also has served as a Spur, and secretary of the U and I party steering committee. She is a political science major and new president of Alpha Phi.

Now serving as Hays hall president is Colleen Hinchey, a physical education major. A member of women's "I" club and independent caucus, she is also secretary-treasurer of WRA.

All three of these girls are juniors, which is a pre-requisite for holding the office of AWS president.

The May queen will be chosen from Erlene Clyde, Sheila Janssen, and Dolores Uria. This is primarily an honorary office, and comes to the senior girl deemed most worthy of it by vote of the University coeds.

May Queen Candidates
Miss Clyde, a Delta Gamma, served for the past year as AWS president, is a former Spur, was a Dad's Day chairman, and belongs to the Home Ec. club. She is a home economics major.

Miss Janssen is a Mortar Board member and also holds the post of Gem editor. She is a past president of the Kappa house and belongs to Theta Sigma, women's journalism honorary.

Dolores Uria is former president of Forney hall, was a Spur, and at the present is a member of Phi Upsilon Omicron and the Home Ec. club. She is a home economics major.

At last week's election four of the officers were decided. Sally Landers was elected secretary, Karen Hincley was elected treasurer, and Betty Ruth Westberg and Vonda Jackson were elected Maid of Honor and Page, respectively.

All coeds are urged to participate in the voting tomorrow.

Norby, Knodle Are Honored

Wednesday evening at a joint Spur-IK banquet Sharon Norby and Jack Knodle were announced as "Spur of the Moment," and "Knight of Knights," respectively.

Miss Norby was voted "Spur of the Moment" by the IK's due to her activities in Spurs and the assistance she had given the IK's. The award, a large trophy, was presented by Dave Porter, IK president.

A gift was given to Jack Knodle by the Spurs for his help and cooperation and also for his activities in Intercollegiate Knights. He was elected by the Spur group and the award was presented by Sally Landers, Spur president.

Toastmaster for the affair was Dan Tibbitts. He presented Dr. Harry Caldwell, IK advisor, who gave the main talk for the evening.

Other speakers were Bill Ringert, Dave Porter, and Bill Parsons. The banquet should be an annual tradition but this was the first time it has been held for about eight years.

NEW DEGREE
(I.P.)—Georgia Institute of Technology recently announced the addition of a new degree to its list beginning with the fall quarter, 1953. The new degree will be a B.S. in Applied Mathematics. The Georgia Board of Regents, acting on the recommendation of President Blake Ragsdale Van Leer, has approved the plan to offer the degree. This is the first time in Georgia Tech history that an undergraduate degree in this basic science has been offered.

Sigma Tau Pledges Four At Semester

No, girls—those aren't the newest things in Easter headgear. Those are only the new pledges of Sigma Tau, engineering honorary, going through the paces of their traditional initiation ceremonies by wearing a pyramid and rail section hat at all times while they are on the campus.

Four men were pledged to Sigma Tau this semester. They are Kenneth Wohllab, Victor Ransom, Brent Ballif and Howard Johnson.

Executive . . . Board

There will be no Executive Board meeting tonight. The joint Idaho-WSC executive board party is tomorrow night. Members meet in the Bucket lobby at 6:15 p.m.

Honored By Spurs And IKs

Sharon Norby and John Knodle were selected for special honors by the IKs and Spurs. The IKs chose Miss Norby their "Spur of the Moment" and the Spurs named Knodle their "Knight of Knights."

Army ROTC Flag Is Reconstructed

Thanks to a latter-day "Betsy Ross," Miss Bernice Morin, the hallowed Army ROTC colors at the University of Idaho will go to their final resting place in perfect condition.

The flag, which has nobly served over five decades of Idaho cadets, covering four wars, will be formally retired in the near future.

The decades had left their mark, and as the gallant old banner was measured for its everlasting niche in Idaho's Memorial gymnasium, it was found to be virtually disintegrated.

To the rescue came Miss Morin at the request of Idaho's professor of military science, Lt. Col. Aaron E. Blewett. The pert director of the University's food service program, who ranks sewing high on her list of hobbies, set to work.

Carefully, over a period of weeks, she reconstructed the ancient ensign.

Orchestra Will Accompany Vandaleers On Spring Tour

When the University of Idaho Vandaleers, 60-voice student choral group, go on their annual "Music For Idaho" spring tour April 7 to 14, they will be accompanied for the first time by a 12-piece orchestra.

Conducted by Glen R. Lockery, former member of the Robert Shaw professional choral group in New York City, the Vandaleers have appeared many times on national radio hookups.

Members of the orchestra accompanying the Vandaleers on their Spring tour include Joyce Sumison, Virginia Sturgess, Kenneth Kyle, and Carl Claus, violins; Ernestine Gohrband, viola; Mary Jean Burke, and Miriam Little, cellos; Donald Hannah, bass; Jo Ellen Ballard, and Warren Bellis, clarinets; Alfred Arrivee, bassoon, and Connie Brookins, flute.

Members of the Vandaleers on the tour through Northern Idaho high schools will include Wesley Allen, Robert Allison, Judith Anderson, JoElla Hamilton, Sally Landers, Gary Leaverton, LeRoy Owens, Martha Mick, Ann Tremaine, Alfred Arrivee, Gary Barton, William Douglas, Lawrence Hyer and Cynthia Karlborg.

'Revenge,' Italian Film Praised By Critics, Starring Magnani, To Be Shown Here Thursday

Another Italian triumph, "Revenge," is the ASUI movie to be presented on Thursday at 4, 7 and 9 at the Borah theater. Starring famed Anna Magnani the film follows in the tracks of "Open City," which took the United States, by storm.

Although probably not as powerful as "Open City," this film has similar documentary importance. Says Newsweek magazine, "There is a bitter truth in its portrait of a people prostituted by the shock of war."

Powerful Performance
Anna Magnani turns in another powerful performance as the widow-fiance in "Revenge." Gino Cervi plays an Italian ex-prisoner, of war called Sergio. Taking on the job of directing the motion picture was Max Neufeld. Adds the New York Post, "Strongest acting seen hereabouts since 'Open City.'"

Sergio returns to his village to find it stunned and unable to rebuild the ravages of war. He finds his family scattered. In a film badly cut from its original 102 minutes to 64 minutes for American consumption, Sergio reunites his family and rebuilds the village powerhouse.

His fiance, Magnani, has but one thought — to avenge the death of her son. She goes to the home of the former fascist leader whom she blames for her son's death, intending to kill the fascist's children.

Dramatic emotion spills out as this plot for vengeance builds to a climax. Magnani, says Newsweek, "is perverted with hatred for the Nazi-collaborator responsible for the death of her son."

Irony Expressed
The defense counsel at the collaborator's trial expresses the irony which haunts the entire film: "Vengeance can be blind; justice, even for Nazis, cannot be."

Included also on the program is a color film on modern dance called "Moor's Pavane." It is a variation on the theme of "Othello" as danced by Jose Limon and group.

Dear Jason:

This letter is designed to answer any questions which may have arisen as a result of last Friday's editorial in the Argonaut concerning the United Party's nominating procedure for the coming spring election.

Those of us who participated in nominating election as caucus representatives are aware that there was need for a change to a preferential system in our nominating election. However we feel that several inferences were made which were not justified under the circumstances. These inferences were:

1. That our candidates were snatched by "all-seeing" omnipotent politicians in a moment of haste.
2. That the caucus handled the proceedings in a manner designed to favor any particular candidate for fear of jeopardizing "party solidarity."
3. That our candidates were elected by the party members without an opportunity to fully evaluate their respective qualifications.

In regards to the change in election procedure: This system had worked well in the past because the primary system had never been confronted with a slate of candidates so evenly matched. In this situation a preferential ballot would have been more desirable, and when this became evident the rules were modified to incorporate the desirable aspects of a preferential ballot.

At the end of the first ballot the majority of votes were distributed almost equally among three candidates. Had a preferential ballot been used the other two candidates would have been dropped and their second place votes redistributed among the top three. At this point the caucus did not feel that they were in position to choose between these three candidates and for this reason they were again submitted to the electorate and a preferential ballot was used. When the results of this second primary ballot were tabulated the low man was dropped, and his second place votes were redistributed between the other two. Out of this redistribution the man with the majority was declared the United Party candidate. Although a preferential ballot was not employed in the beginning the United Caucus feels that in the end the strongest candidate was elected in a manner equitable to all.

Since the candidates were generally well known on the campus it was felt that the time allotted was sufficient for those not fully acquainted with the qualifications of all the candidates to reach a valid decision. Moreover, the caucus feels that a run-off within a reasonably short time would actually be more desirable since it would eliminate the possibilities of "blocking", or high pressure campaigning as such.

WONDER . . .

Why the Tri Deltis don't burn their garbage somewhere else other than their rear driveway where the smoke fogs the air on Sixth street?
 Who's the lad seeking audience with Lucy Spencer?
 Why the Phi Taus stood on their porch and laughed like fools when the fire department arrived to extinguish a small blaze in their house?
 When they're gonna' save people a walk (usually a wet one) by keeping the rear entrance of the SUB unlocked during business hours?
 Who was the boy who got dumped in Paradise creek?
 Where our Executive Board-authorized pigeon holes for living groups are hiding?
 Who were the two coeds walking about in penitentiary-striped coats?
 How big a pile could have been made from the whiskers of the Delta Taus?
 When are the Alpha Chis gonna' wise up and stop clogging the university post-office every morning?

Dear Jason:
 I would like to extend thanks for myself and the freshman class officers for the fine cooperation received during 1953 Frosh week activities. Everybody was swell and they showed it by the wonderful time had by all at the dance Saturday night. Special thanks to all our guests who honored us with their presence, and the heads of the various committees. We sincerely hope that our labors produced a fine time for all—we enjoyed every minute of it. Thanks again.

MIA will be held tonight from 7:30 to 8:30. Mr. and Mrs. Stelmom from Lewiston will show movies taken at President Eisenhower's inauguration. This should be a good opportunity to relax after your studies.

Coulter To Present Final Recital In Music Building

Richard Coulter, pianist, will be presented at 8 o'clock tonight in his senior music recital by the University Department of Music.

Coulter, a candidate for a B.S. degree in Music Education in June, has been active in music in high school and at the University.

The Vandaleer accompanist won the Theodore Presser Foundation Music scholarship in 1953 and Music school scholarships from the University in 1951 and 1952.

A graduate of Glenns Ferry high school, he was one of 72 winners out of 15,000 contestants of a "Week-end with Music" trip to New York.

He attended Northwestern university on a music scholarship his first year in college.

The first part of Coulter's program will include Italian Concerto, Allegro Animato, Bach; Adagio in B Minor; Menuetto in D Major; and Gigue in G. Major, all by Mozart.

Prelude, Chorale, and Fugue by Franck will be the second part of the program.

The third part will include The White Peacock, Giffes; La Puerta del Vino, Debussy; and Sonatine, Modere, by Ravel.

In conclusion, Coulter will play Nocturne in F Sharp Major, Op. 15, No. 2, and Scherzo in C Sharp Minor, Op. 39 by Mozart.

The recital will be presented in Recital hall in the Music building.

NSA Slates Date For Ohio Congress

The United States National Student association will hold its sixth annual congress at Ohio State university, August 24 to September 2, in conjunction with the Ohio Sesquicentennial, according to Richard J. Murphy, NSA president.

"The Four Freedoms in Higher Education" will be the theme of this year's meeting with such outstanding notables as President Dwight D. Eisenhower, MSA Director Harold Stassen, Hunter college president George Shuster, commentator Edward R. Murrow, and a host of others being invited to address sessions of the congress.

The association will sponsor the annual Student Body Presidents' conference, August 20 through the 23rd, at the same site. The Reverend Vincent J. Flynn, president of the College of Saint Thomas, has been invited to keynote the meeting of the student presidents.

More than 500 official student representatives are expected to participate in the two conferences. In recognition of the association's importance in the educational community, it has been asked to have the congress serve as the highlight for the youth activities of the Ohio sesquicentennial being celebrated in Columbus, home of Ohio State university.

THANKS

I would like to express my appreciation for the fine clean-up job which the Freshman class did after their dance Saturday night. It is indeed a pleasure to work with such a cooperative group. I'm sure they'll go a long way with such a helpful attitude as theirs.

Six Boxers Will Leave For PCI Tournament

'Green' Mitt Team Will Be Led By Nichols, Johnsen

A six-man boxing squad will represent Idaho in the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate mitt tournament at Sacramento this Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Coach Frank Young named the following on the traveling team: Jack Webster, 139 pounds; Lynn Nichols, 147; Ray Johnsen, 156; Don Anderson, 165; Fred Bowen, 178; and Hal Solinsky, heavy-weight. Manager Jim Broyles also will make the trip.

The squad will leave by air tomorrow morning and work out that night at Reno, Nevada, before moving on to the California capital.

Won Three In A Row
For the first time in three years the Vandals won't be defending champions at the PCI tourney. Under the capable coaching of Young, Idaho captured the team title in 1949, 1950 and 1951. Last season they finished a close fourth after San Jose, Gonzaga and WSC.

Leading Vandal entries will be all-winning Ray Johnsen who has copped five straight bouts this season. Also undefeated, but with one draw against San Jose's Dick Bender, is captain Lynn (Sam) Nichols.

Both Fred Bowen and Jack Webster have won three fights while losing two this year. Don Anderson has decided one out of four opponents at 165-pounds and heavy-weight Hal Solinsky has a record of one win and four losses.

Idaho's mitt club doesn't figure to have much chance for the team title. The squad is one of the greenest since the war. A short dual meet season (five cards) has left many of the men short on fight experience. Last year Nichols had nine fights to his credit before the PCI championships.

Bengals Could Win
On paper Idaho State's boxing Bengals have the strongest club on the coast. Coach Dubby Holt's team has won five of six dual meets this season.

Also strong will be San Jose State, defending tournament titlists. The Spartans were the only ones to drop ISC in a dual meet, 5-4. The win came after the Bengals had previously licked them 4-5.

Best Idaho chance for an individual crown is Sam Nichols. The flashy little 147-pounder will meet strong opposition from San Jose's Dick Bender, Idaho State's Russ Lundgren and WSC's Ken Bauguess. Nichols went into the semifinals before losing to Spartan Jerry Stern, the eventual champion. Sam defeated Stern one week later, however, at the national tournament.

Johnsen's Weight Tough
Bolo-punching Ray Johnsen will have Idaho State's U.S. Olympic team member, Ellsworth Webb to contend with at the 156-pound bracket. Webb is undefeated in college and a tremendous puncher.

Hal Solinsky has a chance for the title in the depleted heavy-weight class. Cougar ace Ron Kalafat was tossed out of school and Cal Poly's Jack Shaw has reportedly broken his hand for the second straight season. Both Men had decided Solinsky.

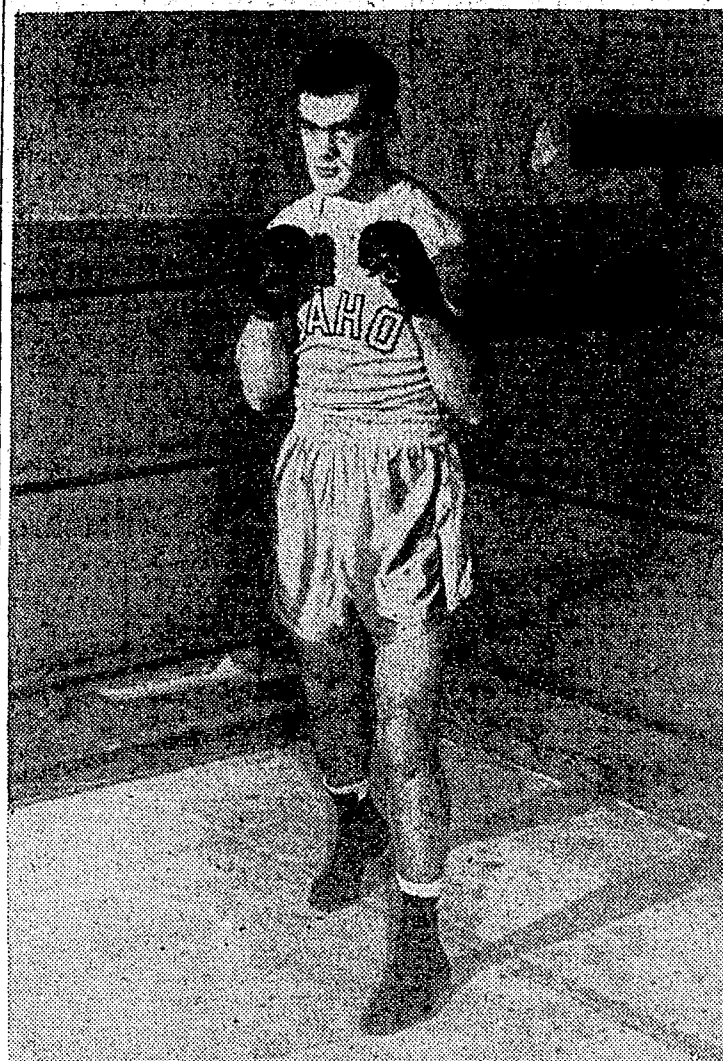

Teams entered in the three day affair include: Idaho, Idaho State, San Jose State, WSC, California, Cal Poly, Chico State, San Francisco State, and Nevada.

Five wins in a row is the record this year for Idaho's senior 156-pound boxer, Ray Johnsen. The classy puncher from Oak Park, Illinois, lost his only two bouts as a junior but has come back strong this season with improved footwork and ring know-how.

Frosh Tankers Lick WSC, Eric Kirkland Is Dunked

They did it! Idaho's powerful freshman swimming team, greatest in the school's history, whipped the Washington State frosh last Saturday. It was the first time that a Vandal fin squad, varsity or frosh, had ever beaten the perennially strong rivals. The Idaho boys were so jubilant that they heaved Coach Eric Kirkland into the pool, clothes and all.

Each team won five events and several outstanding times were turned in during the day. Jerry Jones cracked both the Idaho varsity and frosh records in the 100 yard freestyle, yet he finished second by a touch to Art Mindheim, the Cougars' sensational sprinter.

Buckley Is Star
Other fine performances were turned in by Bill Buckley, who captured the 150 yard medley, the 100 yard backstroke, and was a member of the winning 150 yard relay team; Ray Skillings, first in the 100 yard breaststroke and second in diving; and Frankie Moore, ex-frosh basketball guard, who garnered first in the diving event.

Other boys who picked up points were Kay Berry, Bill Bonnett and

Honor Won By Vandal Ski Patrol

A ski patrol representing Idaho took second place honors in the eighth Northwest First Aid and Toboggan Race held Sunday at Spout Springs, Oregon.

The patrol, made up of Joan Alexander and Louis Oblock, totaled 88.7 points for runner-up position behind the Bogus Basin two-some with 90.5.

Best in Toboggan
The Vandal ski patrol finished second in the toboggan race with an elapsed time of 1:30. Snoqualmie won with a clocking of 1:27.5. Winners were determined by the fastest time and the best handling.

In first aid Alexander and Oblock managed a fourth place, getting 27 out of a possible 30 points. Bogus Basin took first with a perfect score.

Another Idaho ski patrol composed of Bud Weerkop and Dudley Homer took ninth in toboggan, tenth in first aid and finished tenth in combined points.

Competition was keen from the eight areas represented. Mt. Hood entered three teams, Stevens Pass (4), Bogus Basin (2), Idaho (2), Snoqualmie (1), Toltgate (1), St. Helens (1), and Mt. Baker (1).

Women Riflers Nip Gonzagans; Are Unbeaten So Far

Idaho's women's rifle team, led by Joanne Cates, came home from Spokane last Saturday afternoon with a narrow one-point decision over the Gonzaga women's squad, 948 to 947. Miss Cates, with 196 points out of a possible 200, topped all 12 lady competitors.

Contributing strongly to the Vandal cause were Frieda Fox and Joyce Merrill, who were knotted at 191 points.

Rounding out the squad of Idaho "Annie Oakleys" were Betty Breckenridge, Anne Brooks and Phyllis Isaac.

According to Master Sgt. Rufus J. Salyer, who coaches the local markswomen, the two teams will meet again on the Idaho range April 11. The Idaho squad, rated as one of the nation's best, is undefeated this season in shoulder-to-shoulder firing.

Gym Club Competes With WSC Saturday

Idaho's Gymnastic Club is hard at work preparing for a Saturday meet with Washington State's strong team at Memorial gym. Coach Dick Smith says the competition will begin at 7:30 p.m.

The Vandals tied the University of British Columbia 48-48 recently while the Cougars triumphed 98-36.

Idaho Track Team Looks Good At Invitational Meet; Sweeney Sets Record In Broad Jump, Wins Hurdles

Just Inches To Spare

Idaho's crack trackman, Emerson Clark, barely nips Washington State's Link at the finish of the 1000-yard race at Saturday's invitational meet at Pullman. Clark clocked 2:16.2, less than a second off the record. Emerson ran the race after injuring a hip the afternoon before. The injury bothered him in the last lap.

Freshman Tracksters Place Many Men At Pullman Meet

Freshman Larry Church from Twin Falls won the 70-yard dash and was runner-up in both 70-yard hurdle events as Idaho track and field frosh turned in a creditable showing at WSC's indoor meet Saturday.

Separate events were held for the yearlings and some excellent times were made.

Dick Cook and Bill Bauscher finished third and fourth for Idaho behind Church in the 70-yard dash. Church was timed at 7.6. Bauscher was also third in the broad jump.

Cook captured second in the 300-yard dash in a good race.

The Cougar's Brown threw the shot 48 feet 6 inches to beat even the varsity tosses.

Clark And Gourley Capture Two More Wins For Vandals

Versatile ironman, Bruce Sweeney, took three first places, a second and a third to pace Idaho's track and field team to an excellent early season showing in Saturday's Washington State Invitational Indoor Meet at Pullman. The Vandal performances left Coach Stan Hiserman enthusiastic and smiling and expectant of better things to come in later dual outings.

Emerson Clark won the 1000-yard event for Idaho in a thrilling race that was decided only at the last second. Lou Gourley sprinted to victory in the mile-and-a-half after trailing Western Washington's Swan for almost half the race.

Host Washington State won the other nine blue ribbons in a display of power and balance. Cougar athletes set three more varsity meet-records.

Sweeney Terrific
Sweeney started his sensational one day showing in the morning. Bruce set an Idaho and WSC indoor record in the broad jump with a leap of 23 feet 4 inches. The old Idaho mark was 23-1 1/2 set by Julie Peacock back in 1938. The old Cougar standard was beaten by one inch.

In the low hurdles, his specialty, the Lewiston senior got a fair start but finished fast to hit the tape a yard and a half ahead of runnerup Peterson of Western Washington. The time was 7.8 compared to the record of 7.6.

Getting away to a terrific start in the high hurdle event Sweeney led all the way and won by two yards. In the 70-yard dash Bruce was second behind PCC sprint champion Bob Gary. WSC's ebony flash was never in danger.

Towering Howard McCants soared a sensational 6-7 in the high jump to add three inches to Eric Robert's old indoor record. The WSC Negro took his first jumps at 6-4 with a sweat suit on. Jumping at a height that was about 6-9 Howard narrowly missed on his second attempt. Sweeney jumped 6-2 to capture his third place.

Sophomore Shines
Sophomore distance ace Lou Gourley set the early pace in the mile and a half race only to see sophomore Swan of Western Washington pass and open up a 20-yard lead. Lou gradually made up the margin and won going away in the stretch. His time 7:01.2 was just shy of the record.

Emerson Clark won the 1000-yard race in a finish that was almost dead-heat. Clark led from the starting gun but was never more than a stride ahead of WSC's Link. The Vandals placed in every

Other fourth places went to Pat Duffy in the 70-yard dash, Francis Schultz in the pole vault, Gary Dixon in the 300-yard race and Luther Fitch in the mile and a half.

Bob May won his heat of the 600-yard run but finished third on the basis of time. Walt Mueckow also had a good clocking but was disqualified for cutting in on another runner.

The other record for WSC was in the 300-yard dash where fleet Clint Richardson clipped half a second off the old mark set by Don Miller of Idaho. The record is 31.8.

Varsity
Broad jump—1, Sweeney, Idaho. 2, Barker, WSC. 3, Trautman, WSC. 4, Devones, EWCE. Distance—23 feet, 4 inches. (New record, old, 23-3 by Cox, WSC.)

1000 yard run—1, J. Clark, Idaho. 2, Link, WSC. 3, Parot, Whitman. 4, Montoya, WSC. Time—2:02.16.
