The Idaho Argonaut

VOL. 58, NO 1

THE IDAHO ARGONAUT, Official Publication of the ASUI

Friday, September 18, 1953

It sure seems good to get back to the University of Idaho and see all the old faces again and those familiar in the Arg office diligently pounding the typing machines again.

This first issue was quite a struggle without our editor, but we finally scraped up enough stuff to fill the pages and make it look like a reasonable facsimile to a newspaper. The whole affair was sprung on us so suddenly that we hardly knew what to do, but with a presence of mind that would startle anyone, we drew together a staff and worked overtime to bring our paper to the students here. We hope our editor gets here before our next issue. I'm probably the world's worst co-editor.

There are a lot of new faces on campus this year. From what I hear the freshman class is the largest the University has ever seen. Seems to be quite an abundance of cute girls around too.

There are so many things going on right now that it's impossible to mention them all, but one of the important things that happened this week was the resignation of Dean Lattig. Everyone was quite surprised to hear it. I know I was. The school will be losing a good man, but I'm sure that Charles O. Decker will be a capable man in there and I wish him a lot of luck in the future.

It's about time to quit now, but I want to tell you first how hard the people that put out this first issue worked. They really pitched in. We even went into the Bucket and asked freshmen we had never seen before if they would please come and help us, and the response was terrific. If we can have that much cooperation the rest of the year I'm sure Al Dieffenbach will have a successful years as editor.

May Day Celebration Gets Russian Comment

By Fred Williams

"Manners and Morals Abroad; Little Pug-dogs from Idaho." That's right, they are talking about us!

This is a translation of a headline appearing in the Izvestia, one of the official Russian newspapers commenting on our Mayday celebration here in Moscow, Idaho, last spring.

It seems that a translator for a national book firm found the article in an August issue of the paper. Maybe you were around here last spring or maybe you were fighting a war or still in high school, but at any rate you should have heard about our celebration. It all started when the citizens and students of Moscow, USA, decided "Inasmuch as the inhabitants of American way."

Along with celebrating we held a huge blood drive and the city held a bond drive. We even had a couple of movie stars on hand to keep spirits high.

A straight translation of the article read: "If you were to rummage around among the names of little American towns, you might discover that the United States has Rome, London and Paris, Madrid and Rome, Geneva and Cairo, Moscow also is to be found across the ocean. A little town with this name is located in the state of Idaho, and ten thousand, five hundred ninety-three people live there.

"Hardly anyone would remember the existence of this tiny Am-

Large Crowd Sees Heidt

The Memorial Gymnasium was crowded by the 6000 people who attended the Horace Heidt show Tuesday evening.

Among the performers were two U. of I. students. Marigay Nelson of Orofino, was accepted to travel with the show to Kalspell, Mont., where the show will be taped for nationwide broadcasting. Karen Hurdstrom of Moscow placed third with her novelty act, "If I Were a Bell." Don Jenney, a Cottonwood high school senior also rated high applause.

Regular performers of the Heidt show were Johnny "It's in the Book" Standley; Dick Kerr, singer and imitator; Bob McIlvaine, impersonator; and 14-year-old Sylvia Marie, accordion singer.

Salesman Is Hired

New York, N. Y.—Jane Querna, Boise, has been appointed Chesterfield representative at the University of Idaho, it was announced here today by the campus merchandising bureau.

She was chosen from applicants throughout the country to represent Chesterfield cigarettes, first choice with America's college men and women.

This position will mean valuable experience in merchandising, advertising, and public relations, as the student representative gets on-the-job training in conducting a sales promotion program.

McCargar is vice-president of the Idaho Real Estate Brokers board. The award was established in 1952 and is contributed by McCargar, Don Adams, Lewiston; A. L. Gridley, Coeur d'Alene; the Moscow Realty company and Harold Cornelison, Moscow.

Melvin W. Bettis of Chicago, Ill., was the recipient of last year's scholarship.

Where'd Ja Go On Vacation? What'dja do this summer? Anythin' excitin'? These questions 'r bein' asked all over campus now, and here's some answers the Argonaut got.

Lela Talbot, senior, West 6th: Cooked at a girl scout camp where it took four hours to boil potatoes and we could actually walk to town in less than two hours.

Neil Anderson, frosh. Willis Sweet: Worked in Arco, Idaho, in the Atomic Energy plant. We really whooped it up!

Registrar Reports Rise In Enrollment

According to D. D. DuSault, Registrar, approximately 100 more students are registered this year than last. However fifteen per cent of each class are still dropping out and have been for over twenty years.

The senior class is smaller without the veterans who were on a six year program.

According to reports, there are 250 fewer high school seniors in the state of Idaho; so there are not so many to draw from. Also the birth rate was way down during the depression. There are not very many eighteen-year-olds by the time they are claimed by the three groups; industry, service and school. The extreme opposite is that there are not enough grade schools anyplace.

A drawing card has been the alumni. Students want to go where their parents have been and consequently there are students from Norway, Germany, South America, and all over the United States. "Everything is going smoothly," says Mr. DuSault.

Gem Copies Available

The 1952-53 Gem of the Mountains are now arriving in lots of 112 in the ASUI office in the SUB. Students may obtain their own Gems by coming down to the office. It is not necessary to present an ASUI card.

Students enrolled only on semester last year may obtain their Gems by paying an additional $2.50. Gems will be mailed upon request at a cost of 25 cents.

Real Estate Men Establish Award

An award of $200 will be given to an outstanding University of Idaho student in the college of business administration, Dean D. J. Hart, dean of the college of business, announced recently. It was also specified by contributors of the award that the student must be one who plans to enter the real estate field upon graduation.

The scholarship is in the name of C. D. McCargar of Grangeville. McCargar is vice-president of the Idaho Real Estate Brokers board. The award was established in 1952 and is contributed by McCargar, Don Adams, Lewiston; A. L. Gridley, Coeur d'Alene; the Moscow Realty company and Harold Cornelison, Moscow.

Dean Lattig's Retirement Announced By President

President J. E. Buchanan announced the retirement of Herbert E. Lattig, director of student affairs and dean of men at the University of Idaho.

Failing health was the reason for the request for retirement by Lattig, which was approved by the regents at their Boise meeting. A resolution was also expressed by the regents in appreciation for the Dean's "27 years of faithful and effective service" and voted him the title, effective October 1, of Student Affairs and Dean of Men Emeritus.

Mixer Set Next Sat.

The all campus Mixer-Carnival will be held in the SUB ballrooms Saturday, September 26 from 9 to 12 p.m. The dance is being sponsored by the Moscow Chamber of Commerce and is being planned by the New Student Days committee headed by Dick Rogers.

The orchestra will be from the campus, Jim Saad is over-all chairman of the dance with Dolly Fox arranging the intermission entertainment. Dolly promises to have Leah Jensen and Karen Hurdstrom on the intermission agenda, plus two other acts which have not yet been arranged.

The carnival for the dance will be given by all campus clubs and organizations, which will have various booths set up in the ballroom. Better bring your coffee money!

The New Student Days committee is responsible for all the entertainment the freshmen have enjoyed on campus thus far this year. The committee published the green and white booklet with the testing and entertainment schedule in it and planned the open houses which have permitted students to become better acquainted with campus departments.

Other committee members are Charles Decker, co-chairman with Dick Rogers, Dean of Women Mrs. Louise Carter, and Rosella Kelly, Gordon McCloud, Verna Sattgast, Frank Varseveld, Pat Woodmore and Ruth Brede.

PEP RALLY

A belated pep rally to welcome the University of Idaho Vandals home from their first game of the season will be held at the airport at 11:00 a.m. when the plane bearing the team arrives is scheduled to land.

Because of conflicting hours of rush dates Wednesday night it was impossible to hold a rally to see the team off to San Jose where they met the San Jose Spartans in their first tilt of the year. However, win, lose, draw or rained out there will be a rally to show the team the student body is one hundred percent behind.

If you have a car fill it to the brim and head for the Moscow-Pullman airport to greet the 1953 Vandals.

Those who are going to the game at Washington State College against USC will have plenty of time to attend the rally before going on to Pullman. So let's all get out and give the Vandals a good old fashioned welcome home.

Thanks, Ed.

Welcome Students

Welcome back, fellow students, to the University of Idaho for another terrific year on the campus and in the classroom. The campus is already feeling the pulse of activities with Horace Heidt and "The American Way," a great Vandal football squad, Dick Jergens (Oct. 15), Homecoming, the WSC game (Idaho the victor of course), and all the rest of the activities that make our campus so active and so much fun.

A new and eager freshman class is waiting to burst lose with ideas and spirit and I know that they will contribute greatly to the success of the coming year. Welcome to the University of Idaho, the class of '57. You are now part of the finest student body anywhere.

Again welcome to all.
Sincerely,
BILL PARSONS,
ASUI President.

Many Spots Are Open For Interested Musicians

Students may register in the Music building for band, symphony orchestra and University singers at regular registration or any time within two weeks after regular registration.

The University Band, under the direction of Warren T. Bellis, is open to all University students. The first meeting will be 8th period September 21 in rehearsal room 216. Anyone may come, even if he is not registered. One credit will be given to anyone registered in the course.

The Pep Band announcements will be made at this rehearsal. Tryouts for majorities will be at the music building at 4 p.m. Tuesday.

University Singers may also be taken with or without credit. The group will meet Mondays 8th period in Music 116. Women will meet Wednesday 8th period and the men Thursday's at 8th period.

"U" Singers is open to anyone without tryouts or auditions and "the only requirement for membership is that you like to sing," says friendly Norm Logan, director.

Tryouts for Vandaleers will continue today from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. Tryout hours Monday will be 3 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Any interested person may sign up for a tryout on the time sheets on the table just inside the main door of the music building.

Vandaleers will continue their interesting program which last year consisted of the Christmas concert, the spring tour with the University orchestra throughout northern Idaho, and the spring concert.

According to Glen Lockery, Vandaleer director, this was the first time a choir and supporting orchestra has toured in the northwest.

Symphony Orchestra will meet Tuesdays and Thursdays 8th period in Rehearsal Hall 216. Anyone interested may join. According to Carl Claus, director, a limited number of instruments belonging to the music department are available for student use in the orchestra.

The orchestra this year, Mr. Claus says, is especially in need of students playing stringed instruments.

Students interested in trying out for announcing athletic contests and public events over public address systems should contact Bob Tracy at TC 3 immediately. Tryouts must be completed before the first home football game.

Remember Hello Walk

Have you heard of the "Hello Walk" here on the Idaho campus? You know the walk that begins at the North entrance of the Ad building and leads to the corner of University and Elm? Well in years gone past it was a tradition to say "Hello" to whomever you might meet coming down the walk.

We hope that the old students recall this tradition and also that our "fresh" will pick it up.

Can you ever remember getting out of the wrong side of the bed some seemingly dreary morning, dragging yourself to class, and then have the sun suddenly come out when someone greets you with a cheery "Hi"? It makes the world look a lot better doesn't it?

So next time you come roaring out of the Ad building on your way to Physics lab, pick out the first person you see and say "Hi!" Then watch and see if his face doesn't light up with a friendly smile.

Tryouts Set For Saturday

General tryouts for drama, opera, and radio-TV will be held Saturday, September 19, at 2 p.m. in the University Auditorium, announced technical director Edmund Chavez Wednesday.

Any member of the student body is invited to tryout for drama, opera, or radio-TV. These tryouts will form a casting list for the entire season. Anyone wishing to use his own material may do so, however, it is not necessary, as tryout material will be available.

Following the general tryouts on Saturday, September 19, a second general tryout for all fields will be held in the University Auditorium on Monday, September 21, at 7 p.m. Following this, tryouts will be continued in each field.

Those who are interested in technical work for any of these three fields should come to the general tryouts and sign cards indicating their interests.

The first dramatic production will be "The Adding Machine," a play by Elmer L. Rice, to be presented in November.

Keith S. Forney will start casting immediately for the opera, "Marriage of Figaro" by Mozart, planned for presentation in December.

Drivers Cautioned

Bob Seagquist, resident manager of West Sixth Vets village reports recent speed violations by drivers in the area. He would like to remind you drivers who use the village streets that extreme caution should be exercised at all times. Many small children live and play in the area and often forget the dangers involved in playing in the street. Signs posted at village entrances remind drivers of the 10 mile per hour speed limit. That doesn't mean 15 or 20.

Oxford University Students Will Open Debate Season

By Sally Landers

Highlighting the 1953-54 debating season at the University will be the appearance of the Oxford Debaters October 21 at 8 o'clock in the auditorium. The chosen topic for the evening's discussion will be, "This House recognizes that Britain never can nor should be a full member of a European Community."

The team is made up of two Oxford University students, Patrick Barnabas Burke Mayhew and John Peters. Mayhew is the president of the Oxford University Conservative Association and past president of the Oxford Union Society. He is also a lieutenant in 47th Royal Dragoon Guards and has served in Germany and Tripolitania. Peters is this year's president of the Oxford Union Society and has been stationed as a lieutenant in the Royal Army Education Corps in Germany. Both are considered as England's finest young speakers and are noted for their wit and unusual style of debate.

Dr. Edward Whitehead, coach of Idaho's debate squad, has announced that any interested and qualified debater will be eligible to apply to debate against the Englishmen.

The question for college debaters this year is: "Resolved that the United States should adopt a policy of free trade." This topic will be discussed by Idaho debaters throughout the West in approximately 150 different debates. The team plans to participate in contests in Oregon, Montana, Washington, Southern Idaho, California and other near-by states.

Another feature of the debating season will be the Intramural Debates planned for the later part of October. These contests will be arranged by Delta-Sigma Rho, de-

Dean Kerr Returns From Navy Cruise

Dean T. S. Kerr of the University of Idaho's college of letters and science is back on campus this year, after a six-week cruise on the USS Iowa with "an impression of the vital part the Navy plays in our defense program."

The Idaho dean was among 20 educators and newspaper and radio men who made the cruise to observe at first-hand summer training of Navy ROTC students. About 20 University of Idaho students were included in the 800 midshipmen aboard the Iowa.

The ship stopped at Edinburgh, Scotland, and Oslo, Norway. Dean Kerr was also given an opportunity to visit other parts of western Europe.

Three Idaho graduates have recently received scholarships for study in foreign countries. They are James Costly, '53, to the College of Europe, Mrs. Walter Jain (Betty Peters), '51 and Mrs. Frank Matz, '53 to the University of Paris under the Fulbright grants.

The College of Europe was started in 1950 in Bruges, Belgium and is reported to be one of the more modern colleges in Europe. Costly will study a new treaty commonly called the Shuman Plan, which deals with the supply and demand for steel and coal in Europe. The scholarship is for $1750 which runs one year. Bruges is a modern town which has been considerably rebuilt since the last war. All the work will be done in French. Dr. W. J. Brockelbank gave high commendation for Costly and considered his appointment an honor for the University.

Mrs. Jain and Mrs. Matz received Fulbright scholarships for continuation of study in the University of Paris. The terms of the scholarships included transportation within the United States and France, tuition, books, incidentals and a maintenance of 490,000 francs.

Mrs. Jain, who received her master's degree in contemporary American drama will study contemporary French theater and possibly dramatics. Mrs. Matz will further her study of the French language at the university. Accompanying the grantees will be Mr. Jain and Joan Matz, daughter of Mrs. Matz. They will sail on the Queen Mary in one week for Cherbourg, France. Although traveling in separate groups, they were placed on the same deck.

Mrs. Jain, the former Betty Peters, is originally from Nampa and Mrs. Matz is from Moscow.

Dr. Brockelbank also gave high recommendations to these students and considered the University fortunate to have these two women represent the University.

Other recent Fulbright scholarship winners were Sam Treves, '52 grad from Mich. with a master's degree in geology. He is studying geological formations in New Zealand. Willie Irritani, '53 grad in horticulture, Irritani is studying in Japan. Shirley Karau is attending the National University of Mexico in Mexico City studying Mexican History. Miss Karau was teaching school in Troy, Idaho.

Dr. Brockelbank stressed the fact that now is the time for people interested in future scholarships to obtain information on them. Students must obtain pictures, certificates, transcripts, recommendations and present a statement of purpose. Anyone interested should contact the Rhodes, Fulbright and Foreign Scholarships Committee for instructions on obtaining scholarships. Members of the committee include Earl F. Cook, mining professor; Erwin Graue, Ad 209;

Recruits Sought By Radio-TV Guild

Anyone who is interested in the power of radio and television is invited to the Radio-TV Guild meeting Tuesday, Sept. 22 at 7:15 p.m. at the Radio Center.

The Radio-TV Guild affords the opportunity for students to take part in radio shows, television shows, and to study many techniques in the field. Last year the Guild members prepared twelve special events radio shows for the May Day celebration, including interviews with two movie stars who were present for the occasion.

A Spokane TV station gave a half-hour weekly for the Guild's TV shows. Guild members besides offering the talent also played an important part in the behind-the-scenes aspect of the shows. Among these were writing, producing, directing, makeup, lighting, and camera operation.

The Guild finished the year with a banquet held at the SUB during which they honored some of their outstanding members with trophies besides welcoming in the incoming officers.

This year the Guild can accept about twenty-five new members, bringing the total membership to fifty—the capacity of the organization.

Leading the Guild this year are Fred Williams, president; Chuck White, vice president; Joan Welsh, secretary; Jim Kruger, treasurer; and Rita Schroeder, corresponding secretary.

Radio-minded students would find the Guild projects stimulating and helpful in their work.

Campus Displays New Look

Students returning to the University of Idaho campus in September will notice a series of improvements in dormitories and living group houses.

Workers are installing the floors in Willis Sweet hall, men's dormitory. Another dormitory, Lindley hall, will boast a new concrete floor and drainage system in the kitchen.

Kitchen improvements will also be noted at the Campus club, the men's cooperative dormitory, as new linoleum has been laid. Furnishing is completed for the Ethel Steel house, new women's cooperative dormitory. Forney hall, a women's dormitory, is opening the school year with a new third-floor paint job.

Campus sorority and fraternity houses also took part in the summer renovation program. The big project is a new addition to the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority house. The addition includes a dining room, second floor study rooms and a sun porch.

Among the houses on "Creek" row boasting new outside paint jobs are the Kappa Sigma and Beta Theta Pi fraternities. Several houses, including the Pi Beta Phi and Alpha Phi sororities, will have new inside paint jobs. The Tri Delta's have had their living room redecorated.

Other summer projects include a new concrete sidewalk in front of the Tau Kappa Epsilon house, and the widening of sidewalks for Forney, Willis Sweet and Christmas halls.

Engagements, Weddings, Firesides Punctuate Social News In New Term

DELTA GAMMA—The members of Delta Gamma yesterday pledged 18 freshmen and pinned on their bronze, pink, and blue ribbons at a formal banquet Wednesday night. We also welcomed two new transfers, Jan Cole from San Jose State, and Martha Davis from the University of Oregon.

At a fireside at the house Wednesday night, Anne Kimbrough revealed her engagement to Bud Fisher. The ring was displayed on a replica of a Phi Delta Theta pin outlined by blue stephanotis. Carmel sundaes and cookies were served at the informal gathering.

TRI-DELTA—Nancy Livingston was elected house president last week. Nancy Leek is the new vice-president, Mary Nash, secretary, and Beverly Carlson, activities chairman.

Following the marriage of Patricia Byrne and Peter Leriget on September 15, there was a reception at the chapter house to honor the bride and groom.

A fireside was held Wednesday night in honor of the new pledges, after which the Delta Tau Deltas serenaded.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA—With rush week at an end, the Kappa social life has turned to the honoring of their 23 pledges. Wednesday afternoon they were guests of Mrs. Holmes at an informal "get-acquainted" tea.

A formal dinner Wednesday evening also honored the wearers of the blue and blue ribbons.

Several chapter alums were welcomed back as house guests during the last week. Among them were: Margie Nobles, Peggy George, Pat Ehlers, and Jo Hopkins McCormack.

After entertaining the members at a fireside Wednesday night, the pledges were serenaded by the members, and later by the actives of Delta Tau Delta and Phi Gamma Delta.

SIGMA NU—The 1953 school year is off to an excellent start for the Sigma Nus with 26 new pledges in the chapter. Another chapter addition is our new cook, Mrs. Ethel Watkins.

Plans are being made already for the pledge dance to be held in the near future.

Alumni guests this past week have included Don Ringe, with the Air Force at Moses Lake; Dick Reed, Moscow; Phil Kinnison, Massachusetts; and Fred Willett, Lewiston.

DELTA SIGMA PHI—Six rushees pledged Delta Sigma Phi Wednesday evening at the conclusion of rush week.

Daryl Betts and Carl Stamm, two Delta Sig charter members, are back with us once again after serving their term in the Armed Forces.

Bob Garrett, a Delta Sig alum from Idaho Falls, visited the chapter house during the past few days.

Ethel Steele House Is Filling Rapidly

The beautiful new addition to our ever expanding campus is not only modern in appearance, but is right up to date in its running operations. Its new co-op, Ethel Steele House, dedicated last spring, and now being occupied by some 54 girls.

This structure is the replacement for the out-moded Ridenbaugh Hall, and there are twenty of the girls from the old hall that are now residing in Steele House. Even with the twenty-eight upper classmen, and twenty-six new students there's still plenty of room to spare. The rose and yellow, or green and yellow rooms, with large windows make quite a cheerful 'home away from home' for the two girls who live in each spacious room. Although the rooms have been completely finished, the kitchen still is having work done on it. However meals will start to be served on Monday.

The new phone numbers, so new that they are not listed in the telephone directories yet, are: ground floor, 32011; first floor, 4761; and second floor 4771.

Along with being proud of the appearance of their new living quarters the girls of Steele House are also very proud of their house-mother, Mrs. Ruby Collins, of Richland, Washington. They extend an open invitation to everyone to drop in and visit the new hall.

University Gift

Testing the new pipe organ in the Music building are Professor Hall M. Macklin, head of the music department, and Marian Frykman, instructor in music. The organ was installed during the summer and is now in use. It was a gift to the University from Mr. and Mrs. George Frederick Jewett of Spokane.

Beautiful Pipe Organ Is Gift To University

More than 1,600 pipes are now in their proper places, and installation has been completed in the Music building at the University of Idaho of a new pipe organ.

The three-manual instrument, considered one of the finest in the West, is a gift from Mr. and Mrs. George Frederick Jewett of Spokane. The presentation was made by the Jewetts as a memorial to Mr. Jewett's mother, Margaret Weyerhaeuser Jewett, and the organ has been named in her honor.

Widely known throughout the Northwest for their civic-minded activities, the Jewetts have made many significant contributions to community, educational and cultural enterprises. Jewett is chairman of the board of Potlatch Forests, Inc., and a director of the Northern Pacific Railway. Mrs. Jewett is on the national boards of the YWCA and the USO, an overseer of Whitman college, and a trustee of Wellesley college.

Professor Hall Macklin said that the organ would be dedicated in a series of concerts during the 1953-54 University year. The first concert will be given by Macklin, Thursday, October 29. Assisting artists will be the Vandalers, with Professor Glen R. Lockery conducting.

Faculty Told To Cut Frills

President J. E. Buchanan pointed out that historically the word "university" is a guarantee of standards and told faculty members Monday that the standards must be maintained, but expenditures must be doubly scrutinized.

At the traditional faculty assembly opening the University's 51st academic year, the president said that "it is no secret that current agricultural prices are depressed, nor should it be any secret that profits from many agricultural activities are decidedly slim if not actual losses."

Buchanan reminded the faculty that the state of Idaho's economy is largely geared to agriculture and that more students this year may find their personal budgets strained.

"To help them," he said, "we should avoid imposing any requirement that adds to student cost by way of specifying that they purchase extra texts, extra books, supplies or equipment, without careful weighing of necessity and absolute justification before approval."

The president added that "we have advertised ourselves as budget-wise, both for students and the taxpayers, and we are finding that such an attitude is thoroughly in accord with the times. I should like to emphasize, however, that being budget-wise is something more than just not spending money. The University of Idaho could operate much cheaper than it does, if we just quit spending for this or that without regard for standards. By being budget-

Vandals Ready For First Game; Meet San Jose State Tonight

"I think we're going to be ready," was Babe Curfman's only remark Wednesday commenting on the University of Idaho football squad before their departure for San Jose for the opening clash of the season against the San Jose State Spartans.

Larry Rice, a senior, will probably start at quarterback with Benny Pierce on hand to share the load. Neither has had much offensive experience but both have shown fine progress. The best backfield corps in recent Spartan history will be thrown at the rugged Vandal line. Veterans Larry Matthews, Bill Walker and Gene Goldberg will receive support from Herman Stokes, JC All-American for two years at Compton, Al Brown, Dick O'Neill, Dave Fanner and Pat Hiram, all JC transfers. Three new men, Joe Ulm, Sam Dawson and Jerry Taylor, will battle for the fullback spot.

Both teams will field a 199 pound line, but the Vandals will outweigh the Spartans in the backfield, 179 to 184.

No probable Vandal starting lineup was released by Curfman before departure.

Idaho's intramural sports program, directed in past years by Leon Green, will be under the supervision of Mr. Larry Golding this year.

An intramural manager's meeting is slated for Monday at Memorial gym where schedules will be brought up and officers for 1953-54 will be elected.

Touch football is the first sport on the docket and competition for the league titles begins Wednesday.

New Interest Is Created By Return To One Platoon

"The return of one-platoon football will result in one of the most interesting college seasons in many years."

That was the opinion of Frank G. McCormick, 8th district representative on the National Rules Committee and Supervisor of Officials for the Pacific Coast Conference at a clinic for officials recently.

"The interest created by returning to the traditional game of football in which each player is subjected to all elements of the game has been amazing," he said. "Fans have been quick to envision the rise of a new generation of stars to rank with their heroes of former years who excelled at both offense and defense."

McCormick explained some of the changes made in football as a result of the switch back to one-platoon football while at the clinic. Major changes concern substitution rules.

New Substitution Rule
The game is divided into six substitution periods: 1-first quarter; 2-first 11 minutes of second quarter; 3-last 4 minutes of second quarter; 4-third quarter; 5-first 11 minutes of fourth quarter; 6-last 4 minutes of fourth quarter. No player may return in any period in which he was removed. Remember:

1. Each coach is responsible for legality of his team's substitutions;
2. Substitutes entering game are responsible for gaining the attention of an official who may recognize him by a word, nod or wave;
3. If an illegal return is detected, the substitution will not be allowed and the violation will be ruled unsportsmanlike conduct (15 yards);
4. If one or more plays intervene before an illegal return is detected, the illegally returned player will be removed for the remainder of the substitution period (he may return in a subsequent period) and his team penalized 15 yards.

Substitutions—Procedure
1. No subbing while ball in play or during 25-second count (penalty 5 yards).
2. Teams substituting while clock is running are charged with a free timeout.
3. No subbing while clock running if free timeouts exhausted (penalty 5 yards).
4. No subbing for any but the injured player, if an excess free timeout was allowed because of his injury (penalty 5 yards).
5. Player leaving game must remain out for at least one play (penalty 5 yards).
6. Both a free timeout and a 5-yard penalty are charged if substitutes enter during 25-second count while clock is running.

Naval Officers Join NROTC Staff
Two naval officers, Lieutenants W. D. Briggs and R. G. Colquhoun have been assigned to the staff of the NROTC unit at the University. For the next two years they and their families will live here in Moscow.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Briggs are from Melad, Idaho. The lieutenant graduated from the University of North Carolina and was recently the Gunnery Officer on the escort carrier USS Cabot in the Atlantic. Mrs. Briggs graduated from the University of Utah.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Colquhoun are from Coeur d'Alene and Spokane. Colquhoun attend the U. of I. in 1941-43 and graduated from the U. S. Naval Academy in 1946. His latest duty was Engineering Officer aboard the submarine USS Lionfish in the Atlantic. Mrs. Colquhoun, the former Evelyn Mackay, attended the U. of I. in 1940-44.

Men have been tried and found wanting—wanting the same thing.

Dr. Baker Finishes Summer's Research

Dr. William H. Baker, associate professor and acting chairman of botany at the university, returned to Idaho to do research in the southern part of the state for the university dealing with the study of weeds, range plants, weed life and food plants. His work took him to Payette Lakes, Boise, Craters of the Moon, Ketchum, Hailey and Stanley Basin, ending with a week in Weiser.

During June Dr. Baker attended a three week naval research seminar in Washington, D.C., and then returned to Idaho to do research in the southern part of the state for the university dealing with the study of weeds, range plants, weed life and food plants. His work took him to Payette Lakes, Boise, Craters of the Moon, Ketchum, Hailey and Stanley Basin, ending with a week in Weiser.

A new sidewalk was laid from Foynby hall down past the TKE house to Kappa Sigma. New concrete steps were laid in front of the Perch. The Music building lawn was planted and adds greatly to the beauty of the new building.

Women's living groups have been improved during the summer months. The Thetas spent $50,000 on their new remodeling program. The Tri-Delts have a newly redecorated living room and beau parlor, complete with new furniture and carpeting. Forney hall's third floor was also redecorated.

Among fraternity house improvements are listed the Kappa Sigs with their complete new furnishings for their living room and den. Other small general improvements were done in nearly every building on the campus.

Vandal Babes Play Washington, WSC

Only two games will be played by the University of Idaho Frosh football team this year in accordance with a new Pacific Coast conference rule.

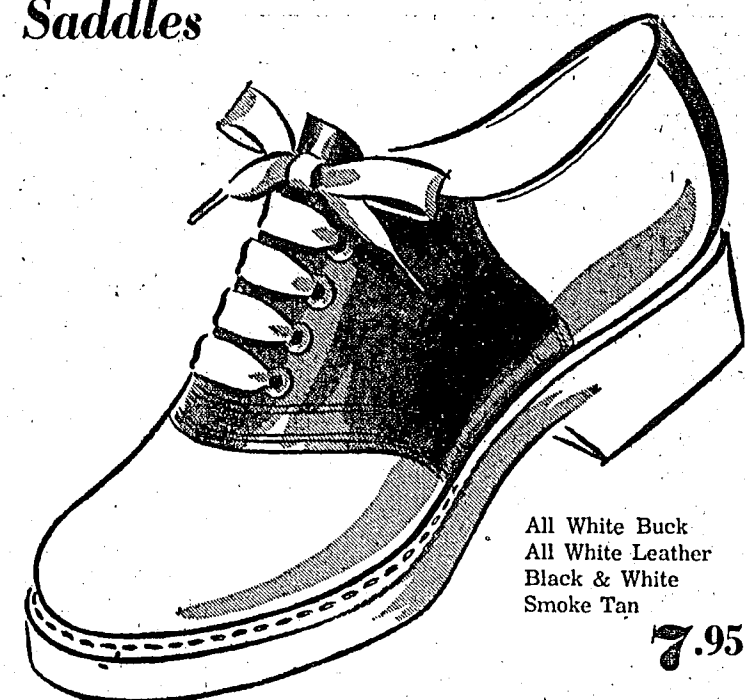

Practice will begin October 5 in preparation for tilts with the Washington and Washington State, announced Gale Mix, general manager of athletics.

According to conference rules the Vandal Babes will be allowed to hold practice from October 5 to November 7 and are allowed but two games a season.

The Baby Cougars from WSC will meet the Vandal freshmen at Moscow on October 23, and Washington at Seattle November 7.

Men's Dorm Is Begun

Students returning to the University of Idaho this fall found many striking improvements on both campus buildings and the grounds. Projects started last spring are now finished, and new buildings are being constructed.

The new men's dorm, located across from the Campus club, is the largest construction job now in progress on the campus. So far most of the work has been done on the foundation.

Ethel Steele house, which be completed during the summer construction last fall, was months, and is now housing 58 girls.
