Navy Professor Named In $150,000 Libel Action

A total of $200,000 damages has been asked in three separate libel actions filed Friday in U. S. District court in Boise. The three actions were filed by John Borg, former Latah County Justice of the Peace, for what he termed libelous statements published about him.

Captain T. C. Thomas, Professor of Naval Science, has been named as a co-defendant in two $75,000 actions. In the first suit he is named with Louis A. Boas, editor of the Daily Idahoian, Moscow, and the News-Review Publishing Co., which publishes the Idahoian. He is named in a second action with the Tribune Publishing Co. of Lewiston.

We were just sitting in the office getting acquainted with our staff and warming up a couple of typewriters when it happened.

The clock hit the mystic hour of 4:15 and the door opened almost automatically. We suddenly found ourselves deep in a wave of fresh men who had come seeking employment on this humble sheet. Two or three males also showed up, but you know what Kinsey said.

Anyhow, it was the most women we'd seen in the Arg office since Hector was a child. Like from a locust raid it was. Big ones, little ones, cute ones and cuter ones, all of them carrying worried frowns and trial study lists. One was an ex-Argonaut editor.

Like we said, it happened in a hurry. We managed to knock a few of them down before our staff retreated. When what is known in academic circles as the "Current Crop" stopped snorting for a moment, we climbed down the venetian blinds and restored order. Our staff crawled from under their various desks and muttered something about "chug-a-lugging some nerve pills."

The moral of this story is that this year's freshman class has PEP. Yea, and 'twas have they DRIVE in abundance. We go along with President Buchanan's statement printed elsewhere on this page. And we go along with the Pep squad who reported a great multitude of frosh at the airport to meet the team Saturday. But we go along with President Buchanan and the Pep squad only because we are afraid to go by ourselves among the seemingly crazy mixed-up kids of '57. We wish them luck and bid them to do unto all other activities as they have done unto the Argonaut.

We want to apologize for arriving late. Maybe we should apologize for arriving at all. Anyhow, we got tangled up with a delivery truck full of fish and a male parent who wanted to move his domicile just when the bright young hair was shaving off. We had more troubles getting out here than Lewis and Clark, but we were pleasantly surprised to find that Gale Mix and his magic whip had produced an Arg. Thanks Fred, John and rest of you.

We feel lower than the worms and we wish that Jason No. 52 had hung around for another year instead of sneaking back to Canada and making room for Jason No. 53. (That's us.) But the old red-headed Jason from last year comforted us with the thought that we both wear the same size shoes—8½D—and there should be no trouble filling them. Let us tell you something. Either those shoes aren't tied or we have been had by a dastardly shoe-stretcher. In any event, we'll keep trying to fill Jason's slippers as well as trying to give our readers all they can handle in the way of news.

Exchanges

The first exchanges will be held Wednesday evening from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. in the women's living groups. Most men's living groups will attend the exchanges on alternate weeks; however there are some exceptions, according to the way the schedule works out.

Exchanges are as follows: Alpha Chi Omega-Willis Sweet; Alpha Phi-Sigma Nu; Delta Delta Delta-Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Delta Gamma-Phi Gamma Delta; Ethel Steel house - Lindley; Forney - Lambda Chi; Gamma Phi Beta-Idaho club; Hays-Delta Sigma Phi; Kappa Alpha Theta - Chrisman; Kappa Kappa Gamma-Beta Theta Pi; Pi Beta Phi-Tau Kappa Epsilon.

A third action of $50,000 was filed against Latah County Prosecutor Melvin Alsager, Boas, and the News-Review Publishing Co. Borg, who is presently employed as a hotel clerk in Pullman, contends that Captain Thomas on May 12, 1953, wrote an article that was published in both the Lewiston and Moscow papers which was "false and untrue." He said it was written "with the intent to, and directly, indirectly and by innuendo accuse the plaintiff of dishonesty, trickery, corruptness, and of malfeasance and misfeasance of public office; and with the purpose of destroying plaintiff's reputation and exposing him to public hatred, contempt, ridicule and obloquy, and to deprive him of public confidence."

In the other action Borg contends the Daily Idahoian had quoted Alsager implying Borg with "trickery, dishonesty and corruption" in dismissing a charge of assault with a deadly weapon brought against Murray Estes, Moscow attorney.

The case involved threats against Richard Shoup, business major, who is attending the University under the Naval program. Borg had dismissed the assault charges against Estes when County Prosecutor Alsager failed to show up at the county courthouse for a hearing. Alsager had gone to the Moscow police station where he said Borg usually held court.

Borg said the Daily Idahoian story on the dismissal of the case had led the public to believe Borg had been guilty of an unlawful act "and as a result has suffered embarrassment, humiliation, mental agony and has been held in contempt, ridicule and has lost the association of many friends."

Deferment Tests Set For November

Applications for the November 19, 1953 and the April 22, 1954 administrations of the College Qualification test are now available at Selective Service System local boards throughout the country. Eligible students who intend to take this test on either date should apply at once to the nearest Selective Service local board for an application and a bulletin of information.

Following instructions in the bulletin, the student should fill out his application and mail it immediately in the envelope provided to Selective Service Examining Section, Educational Testing Service, P. O. Box 586, Princeton, New Jersey. Applications for the November 19 test must be post-marked no later than midnight, November 2, 1953.

According to Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the College Qualification test for the Selective Service system, it will be greatly to the student's advantage to file his application at once, regardless of the testing date he selects. The results will be reported to the student's Selective service local board of jurisdiction for use in considering his deferment as a student.

WACO HAS FOREIGN COURSE
Waco, Tex. (I.P.)—A course of study in Foreign Service, preparing men and women for diplomatic and commercial assignments overseas, was announced here recently by Baylor University. President W. R. White said that the new major field of study has been accomplished by correlating courses in a number of the University's departments. Economics, history, philosophy, political science and sociology are particularly tied into the study programs.

Two Of A Kind

Music fit for a queen—two of them, in fact—is being played on this phonograph. Demonstrating facilities of the University's Music building is Phyllis Raistin Goecke (left), who was Miss Idaho of 1951. Listening is Jane Bostic, Miss Idaho of 1953, who has just enrolled as a freshman in music at the University.

President Says 'Hi' To Frosh

Enthusiasm is one of the most important factors in any successful enterprise, and it was my pleasure to observe at the assembly of new students starting the new University year an auditorium filled with enthusiasm. And I know, too, that there is enthusiasm in abundance among the old students. I have seen it demonstrated in academic work and in such activities as blood drives and athletic rallies... all of which adds up to a good year ahead.

It is my pleasure to welcome you—both new and old students—and to invite you to share in this good year. This welcome comes from all faculty members, and I wish to remind you that they stand ready to give you every possible assistance, both in and out of the classroom.

During the summer, I received a book entitled "American College Life" by Hardit Singh Dhillon, a writer in India who is a graduate of the University of Idaho. He wrote at length of his life at the University, but I would like to quote here just one sentence:

"The professors of the University of Idaho are delighted when they have any chance to help their students."
J. E. Buchanan, President.

AWS To Change Exchange Policy

Associated Women Students council met Monday afternoon to discuss coming events and activities. Part of the talk centered around the suggestion that all exchanges be held at the women's living groups.

The question was raised by men's living groups who felt that due to the difficulty of transporting housemothers it would be advantageous to hold exchanges in the women's living groups. This would be contrary to the policy of alternating exchanges yearly between men's and women's living groups. It was decided to carry the discussion back to each women's living group and after three exchanges again bring the question before the council for a vote.

Coleen Hinchey, A.W.S. proxy, and Dean Louise Carter both urged council members to discourage trophy stealing among living groups. They pointed out the disadvantages and dangers and asked that each living group take care of the matter within their own houses or halls.

The A.W.S. booth for the all-campus mixer was also discussed. Two co-chairmen, Jo Pittman and Joyce Genoway, were appointed. They will in turn hold meetings with special representatives from each living group. This committee will be in charge of arrangements and construction of the booth.

In order to keep the A.W.S. council an active group, it was suggested that if a representative is absent for three consecutive meetings her name will be dropped from the roll and a new representative will be elected in her place. This suggestion met with the approval of the group and it was decided that this new rule will go into effect at the next meeting.

Honor Roll Released

Twenty-four University of Idaho students posted "straight A" work during the 1952-53 school year, according to a list released today by Registrar D. D. DuSault.

To be eligible for the "straight A" list, freshmen, sophomores and juniors are required to take a minimum of 30 credits during the year. Seniors may be included with a minimum of 27 credits, provided that the number will enable them to meet the requirements for graduation.

The honor roll includes David P. Anderson, Peter F. Van Houten, Janet Ellen Austad, Patricia Ann Miller, Jean Marion Royer, Marjorie Ann Royer, Sally Lou Oldham, Edwin A. Gardner.

Phyllis Leona Gestrin, Allen R. Stuberud, David J. Thompson, Maurice A. Van, Jack McAvoy, Don F. McCabe, Alice Gail Graham Masters, John G. Bond, Ruth Janet Diamond, Elaine Beatrice Sue Matz.

Boness Collins, William F. Hopkins, Harvey A. Scott, Billie Anne Wilbur, Harriet Anne Youngblood, and Frederick W. Miranda.

Television Comes Via I-Tank Dome

Television may soon greet University of Idaho students in their own living groups. A television master antenna has been erected on top of the University's "I" tank. By means of amplifiers and coaxial cable, television signals will be carried from the master antenna to living rooms in dormitories, the SUB and University housing, University Engineer George Gagon has announced. Arrangements will also be made to extend the system to fraternities and sororities which request television.

Gagon cautioned that completion of the project before fall would depend on delivery of coaxial cable, an item in great demand at the present time. The television system will be financed by student facility and housing funds.

Carnival To Welcome Frosh At First College Mixer Saturday

Students Are Needed At KUOI

The campus radio station KUOI will officially return to the air with a full programming schedule beginning Monday, September 28, according to Gene Hamblin, station director.

This week from 4 to 5 every afternoon at the station studios in the SUB, the staff will be completed. All persons interested in working at the campus radio station are urged to come up to the station any day this week.

Positions are open for announcers, record librarians, engineers, and persons interested in specialty shows of all types.

Last year's programming schedule will again be followed with music, news and campus interest features highlighted. By arrangement with Lucky Strike cigarettes, KUOI is again being furnished a 24 hour United Press teletype service bringing all the latest news.

Numerous programs from the University radio center will be utilized in this year's operation of the station including the popular Radio TV Guild show.

A frequency modulation addition to the station is in the offing, according to a release from Gale Mix, ASUI general manager, and Gene Hamblin, KUOI station director. Application has been made to the Federal Communications Commission in behalf of the ASUI to construct a 10 watt non-commercial educational FM broadcast station on the campus. It is expected there will be a several months period before the application is acted upon. When granted and completed, the new outlet will duplicate the majority of the present KUOI programs thus furthering the coverage of the campus outlet.

Persons interested in KUOI are asked to see the following staff heads for possible work—Chuck White and John Mix, programming and announcing; Bob McBirney, engineering; Roger Groth, record librarian work.

KRPL's 'Idaho' Tells Story Of Custer's Last

"Here We Have Idaho" will make its appearance again next Wednesday at 8:00 p.m. over KRPL, 1400 on the dial.

The big feature will be the telling of the Indians' side of Custer's last stand by a 99 year old man who talked with Sitting Bull soon after the battle. Rafe Gibbs does the interviewing.

Also on the program, Hall Macklin will describe the new Jewett Memorial pipe organ that was recently installed in the music building and will play "Prelude" by Louis Vierne. The program will also include the Marching Band, Jim Lyle, and campus news.

Former Vandal Tackle To Head Army Program

A former University of Idaho football player has been assigned as head of the Army ROTC program here, and two other army officers have been designated as assistant professors of military science.

The new professor, Lieut. Colonel James A. Moore, was a varsity tackle for the Vandals in 1933, '35 and '36. A combat veteran of both World War II and Korea, Moore replaces Lieut. Colonel Aaron E. Blewett, who left in June for service in the Far East. Major Kenneth J. Woods served as acting head of the department since the departure of Blewett.

Colonel Moore received his bachelor degree from Idaho in 1936, and his M.S. in physical education a year later. The six-foot, three-inch infantry officer coached at Sandpoint high school prior to entering active army service.

The two new assistant professors are Captains Harris Cassell and William T. King Jr. Cassell, who replaces Lt. Don W. Moore, came to Moscow from three years of service on the border between East and West Germany. A linguist, Cassell was in charge of an interrogation team processing refugees from behind the Iron Curtain. The 30-year old New York native is a graduate of City college of New York.

King, replacing Capt. Lonnie C. Williams, is from Mobile, Alabama. A graduate of Alabama Poly in architectural engineering, the 32-year-old captain just returned from three years in the Far East, including combat service in Korea.

More than 62 per cent of the forestry students and staff members at McCall took part in a recent Valley county blood drive, said R. H. Seale, assistant professor of forestry. Seale added that the students were able to persuade the blood bank to stay open later than its planned 3 p.m. deadline so that they and employees of Brown's Tie and Lumber company were able to give blood later in the day.

U Of I Students Donate Blood At Camp

The University of Idaho, which has won national recognition with its campus blood drives, has carried its "bloody tradition" to the forestry summer camp at McCall.

Considerable student mail, addressed only to the "University of Idaho," has accumulated at the post office located on the main floor of the Ad building. The collection includes numerous air mail letters, some of which are marked "important." Mail has been filed alphabetically in unlocked boxes, and students are asked to pick up their missing letters.

New students should notify correspondents of their correct mailing address as all future mail addressed only to the University of Idaho will continue to be distributed in boxes at the Ad building post office.

The ASUI President's office will be open from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Bill Parsons

Melvin F. Farley has been approved by the Board of Regents as assistant professor of education. Farley received his B.A. degree from Westmar college and his M.A. from the University of South Dakota.

John A. Green, Jr., was appointed associate professor of education to work with the University's extension program. Green holds a B.A. degree from Colorado State college of education and an M.E. degree from the University of Colorado.

Named part-time demonstration teachers were Iris Rowe Humphrey, Lucille Walton, Gwendolyn Van Orden Green and Winifred Lange.

A big surprise is in store for about a dozen frosh students at the great big Carnival-Dance the New Student Days committee has planned for next Saturday night in the SUB at 9 o'clock.

The secret's in your identification buttons, frosh, so don't leave 'em at home! You might be one of the lucky ones to win a pointed and rounded and dripping prize at the dance. And you might get your picture took for the Argonaut and Gem!

DIGEST GIVES COLLEGE AWARD

Whitman College has been chosen by the Reader's Digest as one of ten liberal arts colleges to receive a scholarship award from the magazine's foundation, according to an announcement by President Chester C. Maxey.

According to the foundation: "Our plan is to give a scholarship award in the amount of $500 to a selected student in each of ten outstanding liberal arts colleges with reasonably small student bodies."

The dance is a carnival, with all the campus organizations hammering and pounding, tacking and scotch taping together booths for each and all to play games.

And in the center of all these fun booths might be a few square feet to jitter-bug to the music of Gary Thomas and his band.

Rich Rogers and the acting dean of men, Charles Decker, have headed the planning of all these gaudy festivities for the big campus dance!

Posters will be taped, tacked and pasted around on campus so nobody—that's absolutely nobody—can forget!

Come dressed purty, frosh, if you want to be the lucky one who might get that picture taken. The rest of you can wear bobby sock and slacks-clothes, and nobody should stay home. Date or not, there'll be fun for everybody.

And you frosh—here's something more—next Monday and Wednesday—that's next week—the New Student Days committee has planned something for you that everybody needs and nobody can do without—"Good Study Habits".

A committee'll tell you how to study—even when your upper class roommate plays the radio—it'll be at the Ag science auditorium—you who had your tests down there can tell the others where.

Don't forget it. But, especially don't forget that dance—win a (!) You'll find out, if you're lucky!

Graduates Awarded Commissions

Ten recent graduates of the University of Idaho have been commissioned second lieutenants in the army upon completion of a six-week infantry training course at Fort Lewis, Wash.

The Idaho graduates were among 57 senior ROTC cadets to be awarded direct commissions. Successful completion of summer training is necessary in order to qualify for active duty as army officers, and the tour of duty at Fort Lewis is regarded as the highlight of the four-year college ROTC program.

Idaho graduates receiving commissions were Harold Johnston, Richard Raivio, Robert Peterson, Ralph Little, Frank Bowles, Jr., Charles Farrell, Herbert Jee, Donald Konick, Hugo Riechen, and Howard Chadwick.

Considerable student mail, addressed only to the "University of Idaho," has accumulated at the post office located on the main floor of the Ad building. The collection includes numerous air mail letters, some of which are marked "important." Mail has been filed alphabetically in unlocked boxes, and students are asked to pick up their missing letters.

Chavez Vacations With Bard of Avon

By Jane Querna

"To play Shakespeare as Shakespeare was originally presented is the only way," explained Edmund Chavez, technical drama director who spent his summer working with the Ashland, Oregon, Shakespearean Festival. Chavez, who in college studied under one of the world's foremost Shakespearean actors, is assured after seeing the four Ashland productions presented this summer that this statement is true.

Chavez was awarded a scholarship last spring to participate in the festival as technical director. Fifty-five other students and faculty members from different sections of the United States gathered together from June until August working together on the plays.

As technical director, most of Chavez's time was spent working on costumes and props. He recalls one instance on the set of "The Taming of the Shrew" when the lute was broken, so in three days he constructed his pride and joy, a replacement made from balsam wood and guitar strings, which actually could be tuned.

In the exciting drama, Coriolanus, much research work was done as all flags and shields were authentic and hand made. This production, very rarely presented was the most difficult of the four to stage because of the many battle and mob scenes.

All costumes were hand designed. The use of Gothic period of dress for "Henry VI," the classic over-dress for "Coriolanus," the "costumes" for Shrew, and rich clothes for "The Merchant of Venice," results in four very different types of costumes for the four very dissimilar plays.

"The community of Ashland Oregon, backed us 100%," explained Chavez. Merchants gave us discounts on our purchases and the movie theaters ran special showings after our production of films the company might be interested in. Many private citizens of the community invited the company to picnics, luncheons, and dinners. The hospitality of the people was astounding.

"Stay four days and see four plays," is one of the slogans of the group. Many tourists stopped by for a dress rehearsal or a performance plan to return the following summer for the annual production, which runs throughout the month of August. The festival played for a total audience of about 18,500, including people from Japan, Canada, England, notable screen stars, as well as people of the surrounding states.

Besides the plays, concerts of Elizabethan music were given, and NBC gave one hour length coast to coast program to the festival, and "The Taming of the Shrew" was broadcast.

"Sometimes we would work through the night on our props and costumes," described Chavez. "but no one seemed to mind that because it was so much fun. The experience is wonderful," remarked Chavez, "not only because it is Shakespeare, but also because it is inspiring to work together with a group that has the love of this great playwright in common."

University Gets War Mementos And Other Gifts

Gift to the University of Idaho reported today as formally accepted by the regents vary from anthropological and archaeological items to scholarships to war mementos belonging to Lieutenant Paul Draper, University of Idaho student who died in the Philippines during the Spanish-American war.

Mrs. Arthur Draper, sister-in-law of Paul Draper, made the donation of the war mementos, including a large photograph of the lieutenant, his sabre, and a cap and jacket. The names of Draper and Ole Gabriel Hagberg, student from Christina, Norway, are engraved on a Spanish-American war statue in front of the Administration building. The two were among 39 students, representing the highest percentage of any university in the nation, who enlisted in 1898 for the Spanish-American War.

Tom McGill was the donor of the anthropological and archaeological items. Scholarships were from the Boise chapter of the University of Idaho Alumni association, $500 for William Bates; W & L Food Stores Foundation established by the four Davis brothers, $600 for the continuation of the Davis Brothers scholarship; University of Idaho Spurs and Bethel No. 11 of Job's Daughters, $35 and $50 respectively for Donna Shafer, and Pottlach Forests Foundation, Inc., $300 for Donald Rydrich for the International Farm Youth Exchange program.

Various books and other publications were received from D. S. Jeffers, dean emeritus of the college of forestry; Charles G. Nash, Mrs. Clara Bessie Dean, Coca-Cola company, Independent Petroleum Association of America, Frank E. Meek and Dean Miller, Carl Kitchen and A. C. Inman.

Ag Students Build New Loader

Six agricultural students at the University of Idaho designed and built last semester a portable sheep loader that has brought requests from stockmen for working drawings from which to copy. Feature of this loader is its easy lift mechanism, in which a heavy coil spring does most of the work.

Students on this practical class project were Gerald Ames, Bobby Webster, Gerald Doahl, Melvin DeWitt, Wayne Heiskari and Robert Perry.

All were juniors or seniors preparing for vocational-agricultural teaching positions. They worked under the supervision of Lewis M. Messersmith, old-time Idaho blacksmith who teaches farm shop classes in the department of agricultural engineering.

The idea for this kind of a labor-saving sheep loader came from Dr. C. W. Hodgson of the department of animal husbandry. Messersmith and the students spent considerable time drawing plans before they started construction. The chute has a lift range from 38 to 74 inches, adequate to use with a light pickup or to reach the top deck of the largest double-deck sheep transport. For moving and storage the chute and support arms fold down into a compact position.

Mad Rush Is Over On To The Library!

By Joan Welsh

Now that the mad, mad rush of registration is over and students and professors are getting settled in the normal rush of college life, we gotta study! That's what our "Libe" is for.

Most of the upperclassmen have "served time" on libe hours here, and most freshmen are finding that it will be almost a second home for several months.

As you sit at one of the smoothly finished, well-cared-for tables in the first floor library, your attention shifts from the text before you to the shelves of books hemming you in, the card catalog near the door, the cute freshman gal at the next table, and the loan and reference desks at each end of the room.

What's it all for? Study, study, study! The card catalogue is placed near the door so that you can go straight to it, find your book by subject, title, or author, and then ask someone where to go to find it.

The professors in such fields as history, political science, home ec, and sociology often make special arrangements with the library to put certain books aside for the use of students in their classes. Those books are called reserve books, and they can be checked out for two hours to read in the library.

The loan desk is where you go when you want to check out any book that's in the stacks. The "stacks" are located in the basement, behind the loan desk, and on the balcony above the loan desk. Mary Brasch is in charge of reserve material and the loan desk.

Reference Desk
 At the back of the first floor libe is located the Reference desk. Material located there includes manuals, encyclopedias, dictionaries, handbooks, yearbooks, atlases, bibliographies, and nearly any other general treatment of a subject. To put the idea very simply, reference books answer questions and Charles Webbert, the man in charge of that section of the library, is the answer man.

Mr. Webbert is very happy to help anyone find anything he wants. (You should see the paces this reporter puts him through! Everything from "What's the reference desk for?" to "What happened to the Lost Chord?")

"Eighty-five to ninety per cent of the students have not had the opportunity to learn their way around in a large library," says Head Librarian Lee Zimmerman. "I want to encourage all students, especially those who are new, to ask for help and guidance in the use of library services. This help you receive now will save you time and worry in the future. The staff is here to help you and welcome every opportunity to do so."

NEXT ISSUE: A VISIT TO THE SECOND FLOOR LIBRARY.

Son Of Alum Wins Idaho Scholarship

Ravinder Singh Dhillon of Pepsu, India, has been awarded a tuition scholarship to the University of Idaho for the coming school year. The award was announced today by Dean H. E. Lattig, director of student affairs, following approval by the Board of Regents.

Dhillon is the son of a prominent University of Idaho alumnus Hardit Singh Dhillon, who was graduated from the University in 1929. The elder Dhillon is a well-known writer in India, and is principal of Mahendra college at Patiala. He has been an active booster of the University of Idaho, devoting considerable space in his book, "American College Life," to the Moscow institution. In this book Dhillon wrote, "Idaho is a home of friendship."

In addition to his son, the Idaho alumnus is sending two other men from his community to the University of Idaho this fall.

Seniors And Grad Students Reminded Of Scholarships

All seniors and first-year graduate students interested in applying for Rhodes, Fulbright or foreign scholarships are urged to make arrangements immediately. Professor W. J. Brockelbank, chairman of the scholarship committee, announced recently that all competition will close either October 15 or October 31.

He further mentioned that although application deadlines appear to be far away, considerable time is necessary to complete the applications. These applications must include photographs, health certificates, grade transcripts and recommendations.

All applications will go through successive ratings and screenings. In order to be successful the applicant will have to rate high scholastically. Other qualifications will be an intelligent, practical and detailed project for study and strong letters of recommendations. Latin American scholarships will also be offered. They are for students with a bachelor's degree at the time of acceptance of the grant. Those accepted must have a speaking knowledge of Spanish or Portuguese. This scholarship will include transportation, tuition and maintenance allowance.

Requirements listed for the Marshall scholarships are that the student must have a bachelor's degree and be under the age of 28. Students of either sex may apply and if successful will receive 550 to 600 English pounds yearly; or if married will be allowed 200 extra pounds a year. The awards are set up for two years of study but may be extended to a third year. Brockelbank said that a total of three scholarships will be awarded in 11 Pacific Coast states. Interested students should apply at once for information and application blanks from any of the following faculty members: Professors Earl F. Cook, Geology building, room 5; Erwin Graue, Administration building 209; Warren J. Wolfe, 322, or Brockelbank, 339.

Six Idaho students were successful in scholarship competition last year. They are Betty Peters and Sue Matz, who are now on their way to France; Sam Treves, now in New Zealand; Willy Irritani, in Japan, Jim Costley, studying at the present time at the College of Europe at Bruges, Belgium, and Shirley Karau, who spent the last semester in Mexico. # Royal Tubbing Due For Bill Parsons Who Announced Engagement Sunday

Social news was on the light side this week because of the rush of registration and the settling down into normal campus routine. The SAEs seemed to be the busiest, with a formal pledging, serenades, and the announcement of Bill Parsons' engagement.

Are you interested in letting everyone in on the straight scoop about your latest social activities? If so, turn in all news at the Argonaut office on Monday and Thursday afternoons by 3 p.m. Thank you.

At dinner Sunday, Bill Parsons announced his engagement to Miss Beverly Gallup. Plans are underway for a royal tubbing. The afternoon found the S.A.E.'s journeying to Moscow mountain for a house picnic which was enjoyed by all.

Along with our pledges we have two transfers. They are Ron Puzoz from Ohio and Rich Bunker from Minnesota.

Traveling Exhibit Of Rare Books To Visit University

The Magic Carpet on Wheels, a traveling exhibit of rare books and manuscripts dating back to 3500 BC, will visit the University of Idaho September 28 and 29, Librarian Lee Zimmerman announced today.

Open to the public, the exhibit will be located in the Administration building on the University campus. Dr. G. Elliott Hatfield, authority on the history of rare books and manuscripts, will accompany the display, which will be open every day from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Books, illuminated manuscripts and authentic examples of ancient writing contained in the exhibit show the history of the written and printed word. Oldest items in the collection are cuneiform writing on clay, recording deeds of sale and royal decrees from ancient Babylon and Sumaria.

A papyrus leaf from the Egyptian Book of the Dead displays the first use of color in pre-Christian books. Beautifully hand-written and colorfully illuminated manuscripts made by Monks in the middle ages are included in the exhibit to demonstrate techniques that eventually brought about the invention and development of printing.

The Magic Carpet on Wheels was made available to the University by the Grolier Society, Inc., publishers of The Book of Knowledge. There is no admission price charged for the display.

IDAHO DROPS GRID OPENER TO SAN JOSE

Spartans Overpower Vandals With Second Half Scoring Spree

Looking like a winning team the first half, the Idaho Vandals wilted in the second to a strong San Jose State team Friday night 34-6 in the season opener.

Flip Kleffner, 196-pound fullback, sparked the lone Vandal touchdown in the second quarter after relieving Bob Lee when he made a series of line plunges to put the ball into play dirt.

Taking the kickoff after the Idaho TD, the Spartan team, composed mostly of junior college transfers, marched the ball 74 yards on one pass and two running plays to even the score with fullback Joe Ulm skirting right end for six yards and a touchdown. Quarterback Larry Rice kicked the extra point to give the Spartans a 7-6 lead at the end of the half.

The Vandals showed well in midfield, but were checked by the Spartans whenever they got within striking distance of the San Jose goal line.

Opening the second half, the Spartans marched 61 yards in nine plays for their second TD. Ulm carried the ball across for the second time and Rice kicked the second extra point.

Ulm crossed the goal line for a third time a few minutes later, running 40 yards on a pitchout with excellent downfield blocking by the Spartan line. Rice made his third conversion.

Spartan end, Merv Lopes, intercepted a pass from Idaho's George Eidam early in the fourth quarter on the Vandal 20. A pass from halfback Dick O'Neil to Leon O'Neil from the 6 gave the Spartans a 27-6 lead over Babe Curfman's squad. Rice's kick went wide.

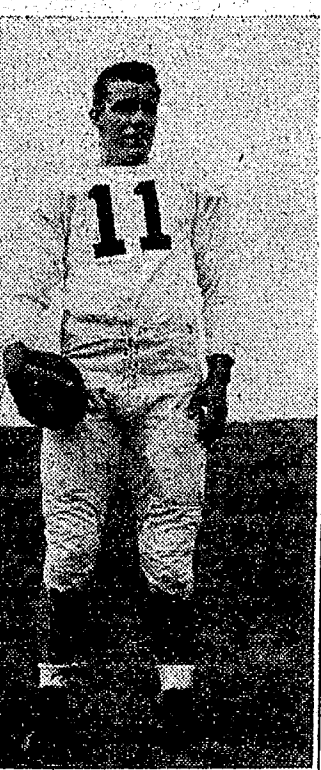

As the game drew to a close, another Idaho pass was intercepted, setting up San Jose's final touchdown. Quarterback Benny Pierce ran the interception from the San Jose 43 to the Idaho 14 before he was brought down. Fullback Sam Dawson burst through tackle five plays later for the score. Pierce kicked the extra point to end the game 34-6.

Flip Kleffner

Flip Kleffner, above, sparked the lone Vandal touchdown against the San Jose State Spartans last Friday after a series of line plunges. Kleffner, a two-year letterman, relieved Bob Lee in the second quarter and carried the ball across for Idaho to keep the Vandals from being shut out.

USC Licks WSC At Pullman 24-13

University of Southern California Trojans ran wild Saturday by defeating the WSC Cougars on the Cougars' home ground 24-13.

Outstanding blocking and running on the part of the Trojans combined with poor tackling from the Washington State defense gave the Trojans the victory in the game which opened the Inland Empire football season.

The Trojans scored quickly and led all the way after a 46 yard downfield trek in the first quarter with Aramis Dandoy, Trojan halfback, sparking the march. Linden Crow, another halfback, made the second Trojan counter when he scattered 68 yards in the same quarter.

WSC also scored their first TD in the first quarter when quarterback Bob Burkhardt completed a 57 yard pass to Howard McCants who carried it to pay dirt.

The Cougars' second touchdown didn't come until the final period. A pass and a penalty put the Cougars on the one yard line and Fullback Chuck Beckel charged through the center of the line for six points.

Early in the second quarter the Trojans scored again with a 91 yard dash by Dandoy. Dandoy also went across for the Trojans' fourth tally after working the ball to the Cougar three from where he plunged over.

The Trojans picked up their final two points on a safety when they caught Terry Campbell behind the goal line on an attempted pass.

OSC Faced With Kidnap Charge

University of Oregon athletic officials are going to ask the Pacific Coast conference to investigate charges that Oregon State college "kidnaped" a promising athlete.

Assistant athletic director at Oregon Bill Bowerman reported that four Oregon State students escorted a former Portland prep star off the University campus.

Bowerman said he hopes to produce evidence that the four were "representatives of the Oregon coaching staff."

Poise is the ability to talk fluently while the other fellow is paying the check.

WSC Goes Over

A pile-up in the Trojan-Cougar game Saturday afternoon between the Washington State College Cougars and University of Southern California Trojans. WSC fell to the Trojans 24-13 in their first clash of the year before a crowd of 19,000 at Rogers field in Pullman. The pile-up shown above is the second Cougar touchdown with Chuck Beckel (not visible) plunging over.

Vandal Mentor Pressed For Reason Of First Loss

Vandal mentor Babe Curfman couldn't explain what happened to the Vandals last Friday night in the season opener against San Jose State.

"We were awfully disappointed," he said. "They looked good for the first 20 minutes then fell apart." The Babe could offer no reason for the way the team collapsed against the Spartans after a strong first half except that they were "awfully tired."

"I wish I had a good excuse to give, but there isn't one," he stated.

"We didn't use much substitution the first half," explained the Idaho coach, "and the boys were just exhausted in the second half."

Curfman didn't think the change to the one-platoon system affected the game in any way.

He cited Flip Kleffner, junior fullback from Boise, as the outstanding player of the game after Kleffner relieved captain Bob Lee in the second quarter and plunged the ball across for Idaho's only TD.

"He is the finest running fullback I have seen in a long time," said Curfman of the two year letterman.

This week the Vandals tangle with the University of Utah Redskins at Salt Lake.

"Utah has a tough team," commented Curfman and "we are going to have to play hard to hold our own in that game."

The head mentor believed that the offside penalties which were inflicted against the Vandals at San Jose cost them possibly two touchdowns and maybe the game. If the Vandals can keep the pen-

New officers elected to the 1953 intramural executive board were named Monday, with Jim Lynn taking over the duties of president. Other officers elected were Bud Nelson, vice president; Aubrey Stevens, secretary; John Foskett, treasurer.

Motions put before the first meeting of the year were that Pine Hall men will play for the place they eat at. This will apply until football is over. A new substitution rule was also passed. Any man substituted in touch football must enter the huddle to be eligible to play. A five yard penalty and the play called back will ensue for teams violating this rule.
