Nine student artists were featured in a concert presented by the University music department, October 7 in the music building. Soprano Marigay Nelson opened the program with "Over the Land is April" by Ernest Charles. She was accompanied by Shirley Danielson.

Also on the program were Blair Allen playing "Etude, Op. 25 No. 1" by Chopin; Beverly Gregerson playing "Rhapsody in F Sharp Minor" by Dohnanyi, and "Gardens in the Rain" by Debussy played by Carolyn Sanderson.

"The Horn," a baritone solo, was played by Bill Herr with Cynthia Huguenin accompanying. Jo Alta Danner played a violin solo, "Sa Gitana" by Kreisler. Judy Crookham was accompanist.

Soprano Caroleigh Gittins sang "Tell Me, O Blue, Blue Sky" by Giannini, accompanied by Cynthia Huguenin. Dolly Fox closed the recital with "Verborgenheit" by Wolf. Beverly Gregerson was her accompanist.

Included in the program also was the introduction of the music faculty and remarks from the presidents of the chapters of Sigma Alpha Iota and Phi Mu Alpha.

Rafe Gibbs Still To Find Last Picture

The last picture of the 104 regents of the University has still not been found, Rafe Gibbs, director of publications, said yesterday.

The remaining picture is that of Philip Tillinghast, a former resident of Moscow and regent from 1893 to 1895.

Gibbs said he had contacted friends and relatives, but no one has as yet come through with a photograph. The pictures will be hung on the walls of the regents' office in the Ad building.

Any pictures of the regent will be acceptable, Gibbs said. The publications department can cut the regent's picture out of a group photo and blow it up to small portrait size.

The last picture, turned in Tuesday, was that of A. J. Crook of Clayton. It was turned in by Cornelius Sullivan, Jr., son of a friend of Crook's.

Nine Students Approved by Executive Board

Various committee appointments highlighted last Tuesday's meeting of the Executive Board.

Named for the United Nations committee were Ralph Townsend and Jane Blomquist. Jack McAvoy, Mary Bell Vickers and Joe Corless will work on the Borah foundation.

Delores Anderson was appointed on the Women's Disciplinary committee. Working on the National Students committee are Dave Parsons, Sharon Norby and Fred Williams.

The board also announced that they are inviting the WSC board of control as luncheon guests before the homecoming game. They are also invited to sit with the Idaho board at the game on the Idaho side. The annual "walkathon" will be held two weeks after the game.

Rich Orme and Del Naser reported to the board facts concerning the running of the University bookstore.

It was also announced that the Board is open for suggestions from the student body for student projects which could be financed from the Facilities fee.

Troupe Plays Here Oct. 30

"The Farmer's Daughter," a comedy-melodrama typical of the 1890's, will be presented at the University of Idaho auditorium at 8 p.m. October 30 by a touring troupe of Virginia City players from Virginia City, Mont.

Directed by Larry Barsness, the production is an authentic duplication of the show as it was first presented in England in the 1890's.

Featured with the play will be 30 minutes of variety acts typical of the gay 1890's. The acts will include such well-remembered specialties as the "Company Song," "Sweet Bells from Pike," the "Albert Ballads," and the dancing of the can-can.

The Virginia City players, who are presently making their fourth annual tour of the Northwest, have two newcomers in their troupe from Idaho. They are Jack Swanson of Pocatello, an actor, and pianist George Collaer, Boise.

A public events feature, there is no admission charge to this presentation.

Official Notice

According to D. D. DuSault of the registrar's office, Saturday, October 10, is the last day students may take up new courses for credit.

The Central Placement bureau has announced that industrial interviews are beginning. The North American Aviation Inc. (International Airport) will interview engineers in the Engineering building today.

Checks Cause Double Trouble

Having trouble with bouncing checks? It probably couldn't equal that of a Canadian sophomore at the University of Oregon.

During registration John Woyat wrote a check to Emerald hall; he needed some books so wrote another check.

John was extremely happy upon receiving a letter from the business office marked, RETURNED ITEM, as he thought they were refunding some money. He was soon informed that he hadn't signed his name legibly on the check he had written for them.

John was a popular fellow in the weeks that followed. Call after call came for him while he was at football practice. The lady in the bookstore finally got in touch with him. He didn't waste any time in getting to the bookstore. He was again asked to print his name legibly on a check.

John was again summoned to Emerald hall where he was soberly informed that he didn't have a bank account and that he was going on record as a bad check passer. "But I do have a bank account," pleaded John, "a savings account."

Homecoming Chapter 2: Tall Bruce And The N.Y. Bulls

One of the largest publicity campaigns in the history of Idaho Homecoming programs was launched this week. Radio tapes are being sent to all major Idaho stations. These tapes contain broadcasts explaining and promoting this year's program.

Besides radio and newspaper releases the committee is setting up posters reminding all of the coming event.

WSC was invited to join our program by entering a float in the parade. Due to lack of something, probably money, they are unable to participate.

Named to head the 1953 celebration was Jack Knodle. Assisting him are Jim Saad, parade chairman; Dave Parsons, dance; Maizie Collett, queen committee; and Dorothy Carter, regular and open house chairman.

Nancy Jutila is general secretary; Karen Hincley, publicity; Vonda Jackson, rally; Ray Kranches, judges committee; and Wall Root is in charge of half-time activities.

Parade trophies are on display in the SUB.

Reitz Band Will Play Sat. For WSC Dance

Johnny Reitz and his orchestra will play for the annual WSC Homecoming dance from 9 to 12 tomorrow night in the CUB ball room.

Reitz played for the Harvest ball last year. Added features this year are the Dixie Five, a black and white show, and Howman Duman, vocalist.

Bill Fraser, comedian, will be with Reitz also. His "Lem and Clem" routine gained extended runs on TV both in Chicago and Los Angeles.

During intermission the Homecoming queen and her attendants will be honored.

All Argonaut reporters meet in the Arg office at 4:15 p.m. today for a very important meeting.

Rotary Club And Rhodes Scholarships To Be Given

The Rotary Foundation of America is offering a scholarship for a year of foreign study to any interested student in America having the desired qualifications, through the local Rotary clubs. This is done in the furtherance of one of the objectives of the Rotary clubs of America: the advancement

Each Rotary club may nominate a candidate from the permanent residents of the community. These names are then sent through a district committee, and interviews and applications made. The award will be made to the successful candidate from among the club's nominees.

Qualifications for this scholarship are as follows: He or she must be between the ages of 20-29, in good physical condition, have a good scholarship record and have a bachelor's degree at the end of this year's school term.

Applications to the local clubs must be in before October 15. A student may apply for this Rotary fellowship by simply writing to the president or a friend in the Rotary organization in his or her home town, asking to be considered for nomination to the district center. (All local Rotary clubs in America are taking part in this project.) In this letter of application, state qualifications, desired field of study, and the preferred school for this year of foreign study.

The benefits of the fellowship are: the cost of the round-trip transportation to the foreign country, tuition, books, room and board, and a limited fund for travel within the country.

Dr. W. L. Brocklebank of the School of Law, chairman of the Rhodes, Fulbright, and other scholarship committees, is the advisor for all those desiring to apply. He also has available material with regard to all universities of the world outside of the U. S. His office is 339 Ad building.

Its A Honey!

Invitations from the student body to lead the parade have gone out to Governor Len Jordan and Idaho's United States senators and representatives. If Representative Gracie Pfost can attend she will have the distinction of being the first woman to serve as a homecoming parade marshal.

Also invited were Senators Henry Dworshak and Herman Welker and Representative Hamer Budge. The Homecoming parade is considered the University's most colorful event of the year. Floats will be entered this year by about 35 dormitories, fraternities and sororities, and student honoraries. Complete with bands, the parade moves down Moscow's main street and winds up on the campus.

They threw garbage cans in front of cars, kicking fenders, and hurled insults at drivers.

One woman driver was stopped and, was taunted until she was on the verge of hysteria. Ross Park was invaded by another gang of youths. Windows were smashed, signs uprooted, tables and benches broken.

Townpeople and police were infuriated by these actions. Students and university officials were warned to stop these acts of vandalism.

Arrangements are being made with the corporation counsel's office to pay the bill. Meanwhile, the case has been adjourned until Oct. 30.

Bruce is not too happy. "Being an engineer," he says, "I can say they're not doing it the right way."

Dean Hart Leaves For Boise Monday

Dean D. J. Hart, school of business administration, will leave Monday for Boise for a two-day meeting of the advisory council to the employment security agency.

Hart is chairman and also a public member of the council.

Colonel Roger E. Phelan, commander of the light bomber wing of the 3rd Bomb Wing's "Paradice" squadron in Korea to which Lt. Lame was attached as a B-36 navigator-bombardier, presented the high citation recently for Lame's achievement in aerial flight.

A 29 year old veteran, Lt. Lame has flown 42 combat missions with the night intruders. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Lame, Lewiston. His wife, Camille, resides at 1331 7th Street, Clarkston.

Bryce Johnson Is Outstanding ME

Bryce Johnson was selected as the outstanding mechanical engineering student of the month at a meeting of the ASME at the engineering building Wednesday night. Thirty-two persons attended the meeting.

A film, "Idaho On The March" was shown during the meeting. It depicted the advancement of Idaho's industries and financial improvement over the past three years.

Harold Craig was elected chairman to work on a display for the Engineer's ball. All mechanical engineering students are urged to attend the next meeting to be held October 21 at 7:30 p.m. in the Engineering building.

Mid-Term Exams Not Required For OSC

The usual mid-term examinations and reports will not be required at Oregon state this year. The new plan which the administrative council adopted for trial this fall will require the instructors of failing students to turn in an official report at the end of the fourth week. Reports are required for unsatisfactory work in courses of the 200 series and below.

Reports of failing students will be filed by instructors again at the close of the eighth week.

Any married students that would be interested in working on floats for merchants, contact Jim Saad Sigma Chi, as to wages and types of floats.

While at Gooding, working up irrigation guides for the area, Myers hit upon the idea of developing a slide rule that would eliminate the long hours of computing. His device proved so effective the SCS adopted it.

Inventions are not new to this agricultural engineer. While a senior at the University he developed two hand surveying instruments for use in laying out the center lines of irrigation canals or drainage channels. These devices brought him first prize in the 1949 collegiate contest sponsored by the American Society of Agricultural engineers.

Join Up—Have Fun

How's your time schedule? Got any extra hours? If you do, read on and maybe this article can give you some suggestions.

If you're one of those who have always had the ambition to plan some big event, get to work on it right now. All the committees for this year's Homecoming and the blood drive can use some extra help.

How about your journalistic ambitions? Get in on the publicity angle, help build up some of these big events, work on publicity. Or maybe you would like to help on a dance; try an entertainment committee.

Some people who are the athletic type might prefer Vandal Riders or the Ski club. Swimmers can try Hell Divers. You like modern dance? Try out for pre-orchestra. Interested in international relations? Come around to the Cosmopolitan club or drop up to a meeting of the International Relations club.

Got the urge to write? There's always the Argonaut, or the Gem of the Mountains. Every campus has its orators. These we refer to the debate team. Maybe you like to talk but in a different manner. Better see the Radio-TV guild.

Of course there is always a place for actors. Go up to the U hut and they will take care of the rest. All the Greenwich villagers might join the Attic club, strictly for artists.

Or how about absorbing some culture? French club will take care of that.

All in all the old campus has a lot to offer. Better take advantage of some of these opportunities right now!

Horticulture Head Tells of Tests On New Potato

A new potato variety with a promising future in Idaho will get a big-scale commercial field test next season on seven or eight farms from Parma to Idaho Falls, reports Dr. George W. Woodbury, head of the department of horticulture at the University of Idaho Agricultural Experiment station.

The new potato, Early Gem, was introduced last year jointly by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Idaho and North Dakota experiment stations.

Early Gem, a cross between Russet Burbank and an unnamed disease-resistant variety in the USDA breeding plots at Beltsville, Md., came to the Aberdeen Branch station, center of Idaho potato research and improvement work, as a seedling about four years ago. There it showed up so well the Idaho station asked permission of the Department of Agriculture and the North Dakota station, which was also testing it, to name and release it as a new variety adaptable to Idaho.

"The mature Early Gem will be superior to the immature Russet Burbank in market qualities if not in yield of marketable potatoes," he adds.

Three hundred sacks of certified seed of the new variety will go to the selected farmers in the main potato areas for the field trial. This seed came from the seed potato increase field at Darlington, operated the past year by the Idaho station in cooperation with the Idaho Advertising commission. The commission leased a 10-acre field on the Harold Smith farm where horticulturists with the Idaho station increased seed stocks. In addition to Early Gem, stocks of Russet Burbank and Menominee, another new variety, also were grown.

Bird And Egg Collection Are Given To Biology Dept.

One of the largest private collections of mounted birds and birds' eggs in the Pacific Northwest has been presented to the University of Idaho bird and mammal department of biological science by the John Lorang family of Genesee.

The collection, consisting of hundreds of birds and birds' eggs of all shapes, sizes and color, has been housed in a cabin behind the Lorang home since 1918. It has been left untouched since the death of Lorang in 1926.

Lorang, a pioneer settler of the Genesee area, started his collection in 1910 following a trip around the world. Using his worldly contacts to great advantage, he exchanged wildlife of the northwest for birds and eggs from other parts of the world.

The Genesee farmer expanded his collection to such items as ostrich eggs, a mounted peacock and other wildlife uncommon to this area.

Many visitors to Lorang said that many persons visited his father's private museum until his death in 1926. He didn't have any idea how many birds made up the collection, confining his estimate to "hundreds" as he scanned the crowded walls, tables and glass cases in the cabin.

Some of the birds were even perched on artificial trees made by the artistic Lorang.

One large table top consisted entirely of small boxes of various birds' eggs, each box of eggs identified as to species and the year collected.

Joining Henry Lorang in supervising the move of the collection to the University was a sister, Mrs. Ray (Bertha) Kennedy of Moscow, and Henry's son, Dan.

Other John Lorang children joining in the gift are Mrs. John Fleming and Mrs. A. S. Johnson, both of Spokane, Wash.; Albert and Charles, both at Seattle, Wash.; Bernard, Portland, Ore., and Viola Lorang, San Francisco, Calif.

Home Ec Honorary Picnics At Cabin

The Phi Upsilon picnic was held October 7 at the home ec cabin on Moscow mountain. Attending the picnic were Margaret Ritchie, Marion Featherstone, advisors; Elaine Neilson, Helen Scheeve, Adah Lewis, Shirley Newcomb, and the members of Phi Upsilon.

Marion Featherstone told the girls about the history of the Phi U. cabin.

"Mama, what are half-truths?" "That's what your Papa tells when he gets home at midnight. Then I get the other half out of him the next morning."

'Lower Depths' Is Postponed by Campus Dance

As a result of the Dick Jurgan's dance being scheduled for Thursday, October 15, the ASUI movie, "The Lower Depths," will be shown on Wednesday, October 14, at the Borah theater at 4, 7, and 8:30 p.m.

"The Lower Depths" is the first foreign film on this year's program. The French movie was first issued there in 1937 and later came to the United States to be hailed as a smash hit. The picture is based on a story by the noted Russian author, Maxim Gorky.

With the advent of higher film costs and better ASUI cinema presentations, the 35 cent admission charged for the last picture will be continued this semester. Also a policy of always finishing the last showing of a particular film by or before 10:30 will be continued. This will enable women to return to their living groups by the curfew deadline.

Scout Honorary Meets Tuesday

There will be a meeting of the Alpha Phi Omega next Tuesday night in Conference room B at the SUB.

The APO is a national service fraternity of former boy scouts. They are organized to promote service on the campus and to help with local scout work. The organization works through projects; one of these projects is the plaque placed in the lobby of the SUB. There are no requirements as to rank attained. Anyone who has been a member of the boy scouts is invited to attend the meeting.

People can be divided into three classes: The few who make things happen. The many who watch things happen. And the overwhelming majority who have no idea what has happened.

DEAR JASON

Moscow, Idaho
 6, Oct. 1953

Dear Jason,

Every semester one hears a lot of gripes about the high price of new books and the low price students are offered for their old books at the bookstore. The Executive Board appointed us a committee to investigate the bookstore situation. Perhaps our findings will clear this matter up for those who have wondered about it.

First, the bookstore is owned by the University and is operated under the supervision of the regents and the University business manager. There is no supervisory connection between the ASUI and the bookstore.

The prices of books in the bookstore are set by book publishers. There is a standard retail price on all books which retail stores must follow in order to sell books. It is our opinion that the prices of student supplies are in agreement with local competitors.

The earnings of the bookstore all eventually get back to the students. Fifteen thousand dollars rent is paid to the SUB. This rent helps to sustain the loss that the SUB incurs each year. If the loss wasn't made up by the bookstore, students would have to make up the loss in some other way.

Part of the earnings are put in the Emergency Student fund and $1000 is transferred to a student scholarship fund. The remainder of the earnings are put in the Student Facilities fund.

Many of the complaints about the bookstore concern the used book program. We realize that the value of used books seems almost negligible compared to their cost, but because of the risk involved in the handling of used books very few companies will participate in this business.

The bookstore buys the books that will be used the succeeding semester from the used book company and re-sells them at the usual book mark-up.

This hasn't been a complete investigation by any means, but it may answer some of the more common questions about the bookstore.

Whale of a Tale

From Brighton, England comes a whale of a fish story—it seems eighty-three year old George Thwaites spotted a whale thrashing in shallow water a few feet from shore. Thwaites tossed a half inch cable around the whales tail fin — and with the help of some nearby fishermen dragged the one ton mammal to shore.

Spokane Senior Is Now Commander

Barry Winzeler, senior from Spokane, was elected commander of the Pershing Rifles, national ROTC honorary, at a meeting held by that group Tuesday night.

Winzeler will hold the rank of captain while directing the army organization, which sponsors its first event of the year Saturday with the entry of a drill team in WSC's homecoming parade.

Other officers elected at the Tuesday meeting included Walt Lovejoy as executive officer, Bill Reed supply officer, and John Kaku as public information officer.

The group also planned a smoker, to be held on October 27.

Winzeler said that the Pershing Rifle chapter still had a few openings available, and all basic army ROTC cadets are eligible to apply.

Legal Honorary Hears Judge Clark

With reminiscence of his "first case", Judge Chase A. Clark addressed the members and guests of P.A.D., at a Thursday luncheon meeting.

"Hue to the line of respect for the court" and "Never criticize the jury nor the judge" were stressed as being essential for the success to the hopeful attorneys-to-be. Formerly having served as mayor of Idaho Falls and governor of Idaho at the present, presiding judge of the Federal District Court of Idaho, Judge Clark has a vast source of experience from which to draw points of illustration.

Phi Alpha Delta, legal honorary anticipates having such featured speakers throughout the coming year as a part of their Social-Educational activities.

Many of the attending music executives were especially interested because their universities are contemplating building in two to fifteen years, Macklin said.

Co-chairman with Macklin was Luther A. Rickman, dean of the school of music at Montana State. Attending were music executives from the universities of Illinois, Michigan, Indiana, Wisconsin, Colorado, Kansas, Arkansas, California at Berkeley, Oregon and a number of representatives from other mid-western and far-eastern universities.

VANDALS PREP FOR BYU MEETING IN BOISE

Loss Of Kleffner May Hurt Vandals In 4th Tilt

"An 'up and down' Brigham Young university football team will be meeting the University of Idaho Vandals half-way this Saturday, when the two teams tussle in Boise with the Cougars from Utah holding a slight lead over the Vandals.

A big factor in the Idaho teams outlook is the fact that Flip Kleffner, ace fullback, will probably be out of the lineup when the team takes the field Saturday. Kleffner is out of the lineup with a "severe muscle spasm" which was first thought to be a fractured pelvis. Along with this, Coach Raymond "Babe" Curfman has five other players who will probably be out of the game because of injuries. They are Eddie Allison with a ruptured shoulder muscle, Ray Faraca, knee injury, Ray Bittner and Ted Froestenson.

This leaves Curfman only 25 men who are in shape to start the ball game. Meanwhile, the BYU squad, who has been rated as "up and down" by football experts all year, are expected to unleash a host of offensive plays and are expected to do a lot of passing.

The Cougars are not suffering as badly from injuries as are the Vandals with the only loss being Dewey Brundage, top flight end who was injured in last weeks game against New Mexico.

Vandal Riders Set For First Meet

Team members who will be competing for points this Sunday in the first collegiate rodeo meet of the year, and who will be representing the Vandal Rodeo Riders will be Howard Harris, Darrel Schmitker, Jim Garrard, Ken Connell, Venita Goff and Irene Harris.

About 13 students from the University of Idaho will be riding in the event which will feature teams from seven other schools throughout the Northwest.

Other teams which will be competing for top honors against the Vandal Riders who are leading the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association in team points will be Washington State college, Eastern Washington College of Education, Cal Poly, Whitworth, Montana State, Fresno State, and Linfield. Events start at 2 p.m.

Helldiver Tryouts Set for Monday

Swimming exhibitions, displaying the qualifications needed to become a member of the Helldivers club, will be held Monday at 7 p.m. for all students interested in joining the group.

Freshman women, although not eligible the first semester, are invited to attend the exhibitions. Recreational swimming will follow the exhibition.

According to John Gillis, president, tryouts are being held in the near future to give those people who are interested a chance to develop their skills well enough to pass a test that will be given by Helldivers who hold Water Safety Instructor cards.

Qualifications to be demonstrated Monday are overhand side-stroke, back stroke, breast stroke, crawl, back dolphin, ballet leg, front surface dive, sculling in four directions and plain front dive.

Newly elected club officers were named recently. They are Dianne Chester, vice-president, Susie Oberg, treasurer, Sally Holtz, secretary and Jerry Jones, publicity chairman.

Just Chatter

By John McDermott
This week the Vandals are pitted against the Cougars, but it isn't the Cougars that cause all the commotion here on campus. This time it's a foreign outfit from down Utah way, and around here this year, Utah is pretty close to swear word.

The Cougars, or rather, the Brigham Young University Cougars have been crying all year that they haven't got a thing in the way of gridiron talent, but from what other coaches say, who have met up with these lads, their material is much better than the press releases say.

BYU, like Idaho, fell to the San Jose State Spartans, but they gave a better performance than did the Vandals and lost by only three points, 28-25. Idaho fell 34-6. Likewise, the Cougars beat Montana, and again they showed better than Curfman's boys in a 27-13 victory, while Idaho came through with a 20-12.

From all indications shown by past games, the Cougars have the edge, but with the Vandals looking better all the time, all we can say is LOOK OUT BYU.

A point of interest and something which has been brought to my attention three or four times is the lack of spirit shown in the pep rallies by the "old heads" around here. At the first of the year there were reports of how highly spirited our freshmen were, and it seems from the turnouts at the rallies that they were right.

This is all well and good, but where are the sophomores, juniors and seniors? The rally last night was probably the most successful of the year, but it was all accredited to the class of '57.

It would seem that the older students around here are tired of gathering in front of the SUB and cheering for their school team, or else they just don't like crowds.

Whatever it is, let's ALL get behind the Vandals next week and give them that boost that will help them conquer those invaders from over Washington way.

ASUI Playoffs Get Under Way

Tournament playoffs for ASUI championship got underway this week. Bob Campbell, last year's champion, got a bye. Tom Pierson downed Jerry Riggers, Tom Miller beat Carl Gibson, and "Lefty" Melton downed Wendell Coombs.

Next play, one step down the ladder, will be Tom Miller vs. "Lefty" Melton, Bob Campbell vs. Tom Pierson. The losers of the first playoffs will play again when more matches are played.

There will be no Lewis and Clark matches this week, but the next matches will be played at the Elks course in Lewiston.

According to Dick Snyder, Vandal golf coach, there are quite a few more players out because of the break in the weather. He also stated that anyone interested in golf should come out, because there is probably a lot of good weather left. The more you play now, the better you will be when matches come up next spring, commented Snyder.

UCLA's Blocking, Running Lead Conference Foes

LOS ANGELES—UCLA's sharp blocking-running attack is out-distancing its eight Pacific Coast Conference foes, while Washington and Washington State are struggling for the passing supremacy, statistics from the PCC Commissioner's office showed this week.

Red Sanders' Bruins have piled up an average of 265.3 yards in their first three outings for a big bulge over Southern California, which has averaged 215.7, and Oregon, 182.7. Washington has netted 157.7 yards a game in the air for a narrow lead over Washington State which has 152.3. California is third, 131.

Four teams are over the 300-yard mark in total offense with Southern Cal leading the pack. The Trojans have gained 105.3 yards passing in addition to their solid running game, for 321 yards. University of Washington has 318.7; UCLA, 311.0; and California, 301.3.

UCLA's defense also ranks at the top. The Bruins have given up but 172 yards a contest. Their rushing defense is the best, too, 111.7 while they're second in pass defense, 60.3 yards a game. Southern Cal ranks second in total defense, 220.3 and Washington third, 274.3.

The Trojans are second in rushing defense, 123 yards, and Cal, third, 169. Oregon has allowed the fewest yards in the air, 55, followed by the Bruins, and then Stanford, 80.3.

California has the top marks in kick returns with an 18 yard average on punt runbacks and 24.8 on kickoffs. Washington leads in interceptions with eight for 60 yards while UCLA has seven. UCLA has the best punting game with a 45.2 average, trailed by California, 38.1.

Three conference games are slated Saturday afternoon, Southern Cal-Washington in Seattle, Oregon-Washington State in Pullman and Stanford-Oregon State in Portland. California meets Pennsylvania in Philadelphia and Idaho and Brigham Young tangle at Boise. In a Friday night game in Los Angeles UCLA hosts Wisconsin.

There will be an "I" club meeting Monday, October 12 at 7:15 in conference room B in the SUB. All members are urged to be there, as "I" club cards will be issued. Important business concerning the home game will be taken care of.

Former Boxer Battles With Death
CAMARILLO, Calif. — Ad Wolgast, 65, one-time world's lightweight boxing champion whose title bout with Battling Nelson was one of the classics of the ring, was reported in "very critical" condition at the California State Mental hospital at Camarillo this week.

Hospital officials said that Wolgast was stricken with a respiratory condition which developed into pneumonia.

The fighter won the lightweight title in 1910 in a "fight to the finish" with Nelson. The fight was stopped by the referee in the 40th round. Wolgast retained the title for two years.

Wolgast took terrific punishment as a fighter, suffering numerous head injuries. In 1916, Michigan authorities adjudged him insane. He has been confined in mental institutions ever since.

Ray Lewis Encouraged By Looks Of Vandal Babes After First Week

By Steve Emerine
With the biggest turnout in five years to encourage him, Ray Lewis, assistant freshman football coach, predicts "without any injuries the frosh will do all right in both of their games this year."

Lewis adds that he and Clem Parberry, head frosh coach, have "about 55 good, big boys working out every night." "Our main depth is in the line," Lewis continued, "but our entire team looks well rounded."

The freshmen have been working mainly on basic blocking and tackling. This week, however, they have been doing some scrimmaging and Wednesday night they played defense while the varsity ran through its plays.

"They looked good against the varsity," commented Lewis on his frosh. "They really gave the big boys a bad time."

Lewis listed quarterback as his only weak position. He hastened to add that there the only problem was in depth. "Out of 55 players," he stated, "we have only two quarterbacks."

Lewis was born in Malad and attended Malad high school, where he lettered in football, basketball and track.

When he entered college, he concentrated his attention on football alone. Playing end for a strong Boise Junior college team, Lewis was a candidate for Little All-American honors.

Transferring to the University of Idaho at the beginning of his junior year, he played defensive end for the Vandals.

Last year as a senior, Lewis sparked the Vandal defense, blocking three punts in one game for a new National Collegiate Athletic Association record. He also helped the Vandals tie the NCAA record last year for the most punts blocked in one season.

Bowling Starts

Bowling alleys in the SUB will be available to students and other bowling fans starting October 12. However, they will be occupied from 7 to 9 p.m. Monday and Wednesday evenings. These hours have been reserved for the faculty league.
