"The Lower Depths" To Be Shown Wednesday

The ASUI movie, "The Lower Depths," originally scheduled for Thursday, will be shown on Wednesday at the Borah theatre at 4, 7, and 8:30 p. m. Adapted from the book by Maxim Gorki, this French film is brought to the screen by the son of the famous impressionist painter, Renoir.

When we jabbered recently about a de-emphasis of the blood drive maybe some of you got the wrong impression. Blood is still needed. It is needed not only for the whole blood program, but for the continuation of the regular plasma program. Just this summer, gamma globulin was used to fight epidemics of polio. Blood from YOU might find its way into the manufacture of this precious serum.

The terrific pressure put on students was the main point of attack in the discussion as to curtailment of the drives. Competition was strongly stressed among living groups. Most groups came along with 100 per cent ratings although we never did hit anywhere near 3,000 pints.

Let's face it, boys. Someone was slinging the bull to get their living group a top rating. Not only will the de-emphasis keep the infirmity from being stacked, it should also keep us truthful.

But, in the long run we must realize that BLOOD IS STILL NEEDED.

We understand that a man named Beria was seen in Moscow this week. It is also rumored that a group of influential businessmen from Spokane are coming here to seek him during the Homecoming festivities. We have no clear description of Beria. We have no idea where he might be. If you happen to see him anywhere in the vicinity, notify the local police or the FBI at once. Do not, under any circumstances, go to your dean.

We received a call from the boss of the Moscow Hometown News yesterday and she had some more to tell us on the Skyline Drive business we discussed last issue. In between the phone call and the last issue we were alternately warned, offered more dope (information) and patted on the back for trying to promote the move. We are not trying to promote anything. We are (or were) just passing out some facts we thought would be interesting to the students. The thing has aroused our suspicions as well as our interest and we are digging for 1) more fact, 2) less rumor, and 3) a tomato can full of nerve pills we buried outside the Arg office.

Thursday night's pep rally was a well attended affair. But a look at the picture on this page will show something wrong with those in charge of such things. Notice particularly the rubbish lying in

HEY YOU VANDALS

Football rivalry has become an important part of activities between schools—especially Idaho and WSC. The football team and the football staff are going to do their utmost to make Saturday a successful day! Please save all your energy to help us on Saturday.

Ill feelings between student bodies caused by a few students who insist on painting buildings and stealing signs will be detrimental to the entire athletic program. Please be sure and come out and give us your support on Saturday.

BABE CURFMAN, Football Coach, and FOOTBALL SQUAD

Rivalry between WSC and the University of Idaho is very great, both teams and both schools are out to win—disregarding all previous games and all future games. Both teams need the support of their respective student bodies at the game Saturday.

Students here in Moscow have always shown tremendous spirit: the examples are innumerable. Let's keep this record intact. Because our nickname is Vandals, does not let us take part in vandalism. A destructive rivalry never did anyone any good. Keep it clean and on a college level. And don't forget to turn out to support the squad on this occasion of their first game this year in Neale stadium.

Thanks, BILL PARSONS

Whooping it up in anticipation of a Vandal victory over the Brigham Young University Cougars, students gather in front of the Pi Phi house to give the team a rousing sendoff to Boise where they played and lost last Saturday.

Radio Guild To Begin New Show

New members of the afternoon Radio-TV guild will have the immediate opportunity of starting a radio program of their own on KUOI. Freshmen women and others not able to attend the evening guild are urged by Fred Williams, guild president, to attend the afternoon meeting today at 4:15 p. m. at the Radio center if they are interested in doing a weekly radio program.

The evening guild's production of "Frankenstein," featuring Blair Allen as Victor Frankenstein and Hugh Burgess as the monster, will be released on Halloween evening to the campus and town. Besides the radio play now in production, another script has been selected and tentatively cast by Don "Arizona" Vandervort who will direct the show. The play is called "Mesquite Mike" and is a comedy farce about a city slicker and a dumb cowboy.

Attic Club Has Dance

The Attic club is sponsoring a dance following the WSC-Idaho game October 17. Dancing will be held in the outer ballroom of the SUB. Dress will be informal.

Music will be supplied by Stan Black and his orchestra for dancing from nine till midnight. Stags will be charged 50c. Couples will be charged 85c.

U And I Party Will Meet Today

The Unity and Integrity party will meet in conference room B of the SUB at 4:15 p. m. today. Plans of policy for the coming election will be discussed.

The Greek and Independent parties have already chosen their nominees for class officers. The names will be released October 21.

Idaho Entomologist Attends Meeting

Roland W. Portman, extension entomologist, attended the annual meeting of the Pacific Northwest Grain Sanitation committee, held in Tacoma, Wash., October 8. Representatives from Oregon, Washington and Montana also attended.

The program called for a review of the research and extension activities of the past year and for planning the work program for the coming year.

The purpose of the 15-man national committee on grain sanitation was discussed. Portman represents the University as a member of the research advisory committee on grain insect sanitation for the Pacific Northwest.

Radio Guild Kickoff Starts Homecoming

Homecoming activities will begin Wednesday, October 21, with the annual Kickoff Dance in the SUB and will end there with the Homecoming dance Saturday evening, reports Jack Knodle, Homecoming chairman.

Music for the Kickoff dance will be furnished by Birdie Mundy's orchestra, which played for the Forester's ball last spring. Dancing will be from 7:30 until 9:30 p. m. Freshmen women will have permission to attend the dance.

Returning to play for the Homecoming dance will be Norm Thue from Coeur d'Alene, who played for last year's dance.

Friday evening's rally will feature the annual pajama parade of all freshmen women and a big fireworks display. Also on Friday night will be a mixer from 8:30 until 10 p. m. in the SUB. The outcome of the Homecoming queen voting will be announced in Friday's Argonaut and the queen and finalists will attend the mixer.

Saturday's parade will be led by a tribe of Vandals from the north, according to Jim Saad, parade chairman. The University band and three northern Idaho high school bands will participate as well as the University yell leaders.

Grand Marshalls for the celebration will be Governor Len Jordan, Senator Welker, Senator Dworshak, Congressman Budge, and Congresswoman Gracie Pfost.

Trophies will be awarded the winning floats from the campus, as judged by representatives from downtown businesses. A University committee will judge the merchant's floats.

Also marching in the parade will be the Navy drill team, the Air Force drill team, and the Pershing Rifles group.

Cats Needed

Live cats are needed for graduate thesis work in zoology. The research is being done on tapeworm, taenia taeniformis, in cats. Cats pick up the tapeworm when they eat mice that have harbored the tapeworm larva.

It is preferred that the cats be at least six months old and neglected, that is, not house fed. Information on the need for cats was obtained from the University of Idaho staff letter, of October 8, 1953.

Anyone wishing to dispose of excess cats are requested to notify S. C. Schell, or C. J. Urharr, department of biological sciences, Phone 8055.

Pole Climbing Tobacco Chewing-Loggers Have Fry

Instructor Lee Sharp was the "Tobacco spitting champion" at the Foresters' annual steak fry. Over 100 foresters attended the fry in the University forests on Moscow mountain Saturday.

Art Andraitis came out "all round logger for the day," followed by Dewey Almas and Hugo Reiken.

The dinner, consisting of beef steak, beans, potato salad, ice cream and coffee was followed by such exerting contests as log burling, chopping, sawing, pole climbing, pacing, tobacco spitting, tree felling, a three-legged race and a tug-of-war.

The tug-of-war which was between classes, was held across Meadow creek and ended in a soaking for all. Several frosh had a difficult time getting off the poles after the pole climbing contest.

Senior class woodsmen rated first, frosh rated second, juniors third and sophomores fourth. Charlie Ohs was chairman.

Eddie Hudson Chosen Chairman For Dad's Day

November 14 has been chosen for this year's Dad's Day celebration. Football features the College of Pacific in Seattle, and Idaho. The "Pop's Hop," and contests, are included in the day's activities.

A house decorating contest is being planned with awards going to the best decorated men's and women's residence. A beard contest is also being conducted. The evening's entertainment includes the "Pop's Hop," which will be held in the ballrooms in the SUB.

Dad's Day committees will be Eddie Hudson, chairman; Reed Loh, assistant chairman; Vonda Jackson, secretary; Ruth Brede and Sally Kriebel, dance; Pat George and Gordon McClood, publicity; Clyde Hawley and Phil Schaffer, rally; Connie Webb and Carol Rojan, awards, and Nancy Jutila, registrations.

For Rent: One Skirt

After the show the models changed from their display clothes to their own apparel, leaving the display outfits behind. But when Miss Crawford cleaned up she found one extra skirt remaining.

"We'd like to find the girl before she gets too embarrassed," Miss Crawford told the "Daily Californian."

Officials Will Tag WSC Students On Violations

Authorities at Washington State college have set about cracking down on parking violators. New regulations went into effect this fall prohibiting students from parking their cars anywhere in the center of campus, and 200 violators were tagged in the first two days under the new rules.

First offenders were just given tickets, but second-timers were ordered to report to the dean of students as well. Three violations cost the student revocation of his car privileges for at least 3 months.

Official Notice

All senior students who plan to graduate this semester (February) are asked to file with their specific deans an application for degree.

Such applications should be filed as soon as possible. Applications are usually applied for during registration, but this year, not one application was filed until two weeks ago.

The Union Pacific Carl Raymond Gray scholarship checks have arrived. Students may pick them up by calling at the office of the Dean of Agriculture.

Is Beria In Moscow?

Students will be dancing to Dick Jurgens Thursday evening in the Memorial gym from 7 to 11 with 11:15 permission for all women. Admission is $2.50 per couple with spectator seats selling for 60 cents apiece. Jurgens will provide his own outstanding intermission entertainment for the dance. Dress for women is heels and hose.

Twenty-eight Years Sees Retirement

The retirement of Peter T. Gormsen, veteran maintenance employee of the University of Idaho on November 1, has been announced by President J. E. Buchanan following formal approval by the regents.

Reaching the statutory retirement age of 70, Gormsen will be awarded a certificate of merit for his 28 years of service.

"Hardly anything was here when I first came," said Gormsen, "except the administration, science, old engineering, home economics, the infirmary building." He helped to put the finishing touches to the science building and helped build Hays and Forney halls.

Gormsen worked every day for seven years for $97.00 a month at the heating plant. This is an amusing experience according to Gormsen.

March 4, 1925, was the first day at the job for Gormsen. "Just about alone when I first came here," said Gormsen. "Just the boss and I."

Upon his retirement Gormsen plans to fish and hunt. Last week he came home with an elk.

A native of Denmark, he came to the United States 40 years ago, and settled in the Moscow area, where he operated a farm until employed by the University.

Freshmen Must Start Thinking

(Minnesota Daily)—This year's freshmen are a part of an age group that does not by any means subscribe to constitutional concepts of human dignity and freedom.

That doesn't sound like a very cordial way to begin a welcome to new students. We are glad to add our sincere welcome to all those extended freshmen so far. But it's not too early for the class of '57 to begin serious thinking along with the fun . . .

Somewhere in our high schools, this year's freshmen and the high school students in the classes behind them have been either misinformed, or not informed at all, about the basic concepts of our way of life.

Proof of this comes in a poll Purdue University recently took on the high school age group . . . The results are startling. For instance:

Fifty-eight per cent of the high school students polled think police are justified in giving a man the third degree to make him talk.

Only 45 said newspapers should be permitted to print the news freely except for military secrets.

Thirty-three per cent said that persons who refuse to testify against themselves either be made to talk or be severely punished.

Twenty-five per cent . . . would prohibit the right of people to assemble peacefully.

Twenty-five per cent . . . would police should be allowed to search a person or his home without a warrant.

It's not a healthy situation to have young people rejecting constitutional guarantees of freedom at a time when these liberties are threatened by demagogues and dictators.

Freshmen who hold these beliefs should examine them carefully during their next four years . . .

We hope that during your intellectual and social development here you will come to be an ardent defender of the civil liberties some of you now disapprove . . .

Step On The Gas—Die

There's a special magic about October . . . a magic that touches the leaves with vibrant color . . . gives the days a crisp, cool zest . . . makes the world seem more ALIVE.

But October spins a reverse kind of magic, too . . . a Black Magic that steals across streets and highways at early dusk . . . shrouding familiar objects in darkness . . . casting deceptive shadows across the motorists' and pedestrians' paths . . . luring them to DEATH.

The thing that makes this black magic so potent is that it catches pedestrians and motorists unaware. Accustomed to the long, light evenings of summer, they're not prepared for the shorter fall days and the change-over from daylight saving to standard time. So in the early evening hours people proceed at the same speed and with the same amount of caution as they did in the summer months.

The result is often disaster. Whenever visibility is decreased, danger is increased. In an average year it is estimated that—on a mileage basis—two to three times as many traffic accident fatalities occur at night as in daylight.

The only way to cut down on the high traffic accident toll during the early evening hours is to combat lowered visibility with decreased speed and increased vigilance.

"Wake Up and Slow Down at Sundown!" is a slogan that will keep you safe, maintains the Traffic Safety Director, Harold Davis.

Yale Professors Publish Report

(ACP) — College students drink, all right, but nowhere near as much as has been supposed. That's the conclusion of a 214-page report just published by two Yale professors who've spent the last five years studying the drinking habits of nearly 16,000 students of 27 representative United States colleges.

Seventy-four per cent of the nation's students admitted taking a nip every now and then, but more than 90 per cent proved to be very moderate imbibers. Students at "dry" colleges which outlaw alcohol, ran up an average drinking score only six per cent below the national average, and they demonstrated that when they do drink they get drunker than students at "wet" colleges.

The report also said students at women's colleges drink more than women at coeducational institutions. Most common reason given by the women for their drinking habit was that it helped them get along better on dates.

Bellis Conducts Marching Band

Warren Bellis, director of U of I bands, conducted a marching band clinic in Kamiah October 10. The clinic groups included 10 communities from Lewiston to Grangeville under joint sponsorship of district two of the Idaho Music Educator's association, and the Shrine Crippled Children's Hospital fund.

The day-long clinic culminated in an evening program featuring the clinic band of 90 high school students selected from 10 high school bands and a massed band of 400 students.

Sonja Henriksson and Miss Joan Baldwin, majorettes from the University, accompanied Bellis, and held a class-clinic on the art of twirling and majorette routines. A large group of high school twirlers and majorettes received the instruction.

Various styles of marching, band shows and maneuvers were taught through actual drilling sessions, color slides and moving pictures.

Analysis Shows Efficiency Lack

Idaho farmers stand a better chance of improving their dairy income by greater emphasis on efficiency than by price improvement according to present prospects, the extension service of the University of Idaho said this week in an analysis of the dairy situation.

"We have passed the point where the inefficient can get by fairly well," observed Robert Wilcox and Virgil Kennedy, economists. "Efficiency means attention to feeding practices. It just doesn't pay to feed all the feed it takes to get the last drop of milk a cow will produce.

Experiment station tests show Idaho cows produce most economically on high quality pastures. The next most economical production is on high quality legume hay with very little grain.

Labor Efficiency
 "Labor is another area where many dairymen can be more efficient. There is great variation in the labor used in handling dairy cows on Idaho farms. Housing is still another place where costs can get out of line. Maybe that new building you are about to put up is more for your comfort than the cows', or maybe you are thinking too much about impressing the neighbors."

The analysis brought out the fact that Idaho dairymen are building up the milk cow population after a nine-year decline. There were 15,000 more milk cows in the state June 1 than the previous year. The economists said the increase could be partly accounted for by the large number of replacement heifers on farms early in the year.

Other influences are the sharp drop in slaughter prices for cull cows and the drop in beef prices which makes dairymen more attractive on a competitive basis than it has been for several years.

"A further increase in milk cow numbers seems likely," the men said "when we consider the price of hay and the prices of other Idaho farm products. This is still no time to keep a cow around just because she gives some milk. Unless you like her company, you'd better get out your pencil and do some figuring before you decide to keep a cow that ought to be culled."

Want To Work? Give Free Hours

Applicants for part time jobs are advised to complete their application by reporting to the counseling center and filling in the schedule of their free hours on the application blank. They should also leave a phone number with which they can be contacted.

Calls for part time workers usually are not received until shortly before they are needed, and unless students desiring work can be contacted by phone, it is difficult to notify them in time. Most calls received are for secretarial workers, housework, baby sitting or general labor.

We like pep rallies and the vitality they release. We like the cheerleaders and the noise they induce. But we don't like to see garbage and half burned bonfires still in the street the morning after. We think we speak for the administration and the students on this. Especially now that Homecoming and Dad's day (not to mention other campus events) will bring parents, old grads and other visitors to our home. Let's clean up the jernt after the pep rallies.

Home Economics Club Gives Tea

Home economics club and Phi U together gave a freshman student and faculty tea Tuesday, October 13. Elaine Neilson, Home Economics club advisor; Marion Featherstone, Phi U advisor, and the members of the organizations planned the tea to get acquainted with the freshman girls and introduce the two new teachers of the department, Erma Jean Jackle and Helen Scheeve.

Invitations were sent to each girl and members of the faculty. A theme of autumn was carried by the decorations and the refreshments, cider and doughnuts were served.

Committee chairmen were Mary Rand, invitations; Jan Morgan, food; Clara Armstrong, decorations and clean up, Marilyn Evans.

The Soviet Press—Here For You To Read

By Ruth Brede

Are you, as students, allowing yourself to become lulled into false security as many people in the United States may be doing? Would you like to know just what Russians think and how their press translates our news? Here's an interpretation of US policy in Russian newspapers as condensed and translated for the American public in "The Current Digest of the Soviet Press" concerning aid to Pakistan from the US.

"Recently US President Eisenhower reported in a radio speech that the USA 'has undertaken to send 1,000,000 tons of wheat to ease hunger in Pakistan.' This statement was preceded by an uproar in the American bourgeois press . . . over 'free' wheat to Pakistan."

The translation goes on to say, "Facts show that American monopolists are willing to open their purse strings only if the money spent will bring them multiple profit . . . A capitalist will not invest in an enterprise which cannot insure him maximum profits."

"Stassen . . . gave the following grounds for giving 'aid' to Pakistan: 'Pakistan is a potential source of considerable strength in this seething area, which is strategically important. . . . Thus, the 'American tradition,' which the US President spoke of in his telegram . . . means that aid will not be given to those who, generally speaking, need it, but rather to those countries which are linked with definite strategic calculations by the American military clique."

End article. No comment. But if you, as a student, would like to get the straight dope from Communist Russia's press, it's available in the second floor reading alcove in the library.

The name of the weekly translation again is "The Current Digest of the Soviet Press."

Agronomy Worker Improves Wheat

Through a $1,200 research grant, the Ogden, Utah, Grain Exchange is aiding the University of Idaho Agricultural Experiment station in its statewide project of wheat breeding for disease resistance and quality.

During the past summer, Hyrum Johnson of Logan, Utah, has carried on field work in eastern Idaho under this grant. At both the Aberdeen and Tetonia branch stations, Johnson has been working under the direction of Dr. Warren K. Pope, wheat breeder in the department of agronomy of the University of Idaho college of agriculture, and Harland Stevens, U. S. Department of Agriculture barley breeder at the Aberdeen Branch station.

"While the hazards to wheat production in Idaho are not at all unique, growers are faced with common and dwarf bunt all over the state. Stem and leaf rusts regularly attack the spring wheats in the irrigated sections from Rupert north, says Dr. Pope.

General plan of the Idaho wheat improvement program is to systematically move the simply inherited resistances of bunt and make stem and leaf rust resistance the three major spring wheats.

"Improvement is being accomplished by crossing the commercial variety first to a parent having the desired resistance character," Dr. Pope explains. Then the commercial parent is again crossed to the resistant selections. The process is repeated a many times a necessary to guarantee the recovery of the commercial type."

Social Activities Decline On Weekend As Students Cheer Team At Boise

Campus social life is reported to be at a minimum this week. The mad rush of the first days of school has let up and the living groups are settling down to the old routine of classes and study. Or maybe that Boise beckoned to many to emigrate from the University campus and seek new social life elsewhere.

However, the pledges are still on the go with serenades, exchanges, and elections of officers. House and dinner guests are ever on the scene, and the SAEs are once again making plans for their annual Violets ball.

PI BETA PHI

The planting of Billie Wilber to Bill Brown, Phi Tau, was announced last week.

On October 6, a fireside was the scene for the announcing of big sisters. The entertainment consisted of a skit presented by Glenmar Hoke, Vonda Jackson, Mary Lou LeFors, and Kathy Laven.

The pledges selected their officers on September 19. The slate includes Virginia Harris, president; Cleora Andros, vice president; Kristine Anderson, secretary; Pat Henry, treasurer; Shirley Holden, activities; Joann Schumacher, social chairman.

Mrs. Ray Lewis (Pat Hancock) was a dinner guest on September 30, and Norma Ring on October 6. Other dinner guests include Donna Lesback and Mary Farrell.

Loreen Schmelzel moved to the Home Management house October 4.

The pledges were hostesses to the ATOs October 6 and Willis Sweet September 30.

STEEL HOUSE

Ruth Brede had as her guest on Friday Margaret Van De Grift from Forney hall.

Vivian Horter, student body president at LaGrande, Oregon, was a weekend guest of Leah Jensen.

Last Wednesday's exchange was with the Lambda Chi.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

Plans are now underway for the Violets ball. The date for the dance has been set for Friday, October 30.

Darwin Middlekauf and Jamie Steele were formally initiated Monday evening at a joint initiation held at WSC.

Wednesday, October 7, found the SAEs having a house exchange with the Alpha Phi house. The SAE members were dinner guests at the Alpha Phi house while the Alpha Phi pledges were dinner guests at the SAE house.

DELTA SIGMA PHI

Betty Ruth Westerberg, Homecoming Queen finalist, dined with us last Thursday evening.

Mr. Paul F. Scharpenberg, member of our National Board of Governors, visited the chapter house Saturday evening.

Tentative plans are being laid for a hayride and for a pledge dance. Arrangements are under the direction of Dave Armstrong.

The pledge class is preparing for a serenade which is to take place any time in the future. It seems that some of the members noticed one morning that some trophies were missing and soon called it to the pledges' attention.

Work Inspected In Soviet Union By College Editors

(ACP) — Three college editors are in Soviet Russia this week as a result of an idea that hit them last spring.

Daniel Berger, editor of the Oberlin (Ohio) Record, Mark Edmond, editor of the Colorado Daily and Zander Hollander, feature editor of the Michigan Daily, were among seven United States editors who requested and were given permission to tour Russia and inspect Soviet university and college newspaper facilities.

The other four editors who were granted the trip said they couldn't go because of their college registration dates.

The trio has been allowed free hand to roam Moscow (Russia) streets and to plan their own activities. They were even permitted to walk in and out of Soviet classrooms, questioning students and instructors.

Phi Delta Kappa Discuss Projects

Beta Omega chapter of Phi Delta Kappa, men's national educational honorary, commenced its current school-term activity with a meeting Thursday evening, October 8, in the Pine Room of the SUB.

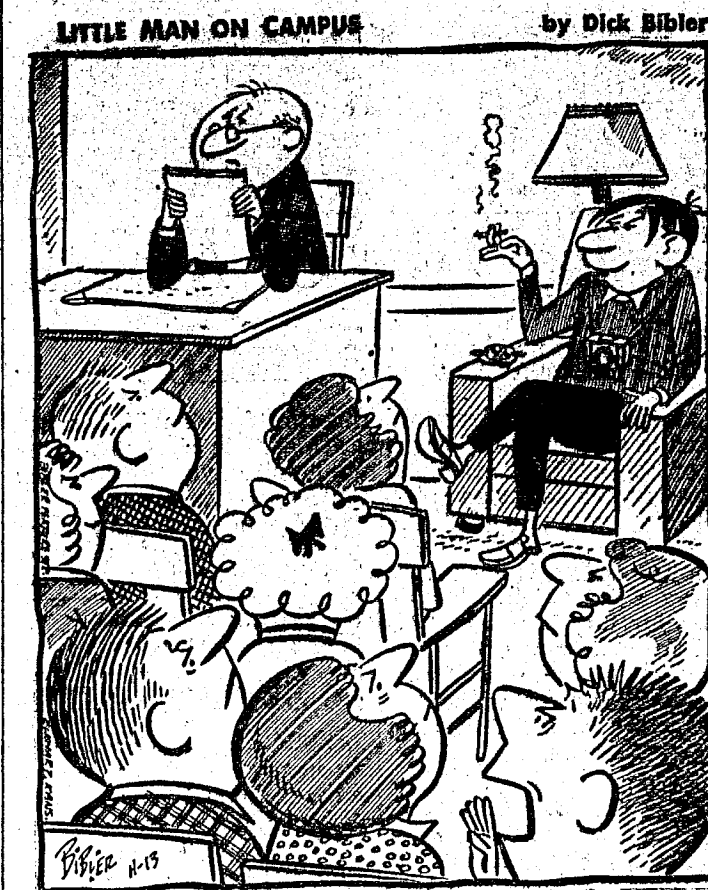

Projects, dinner meetings and conference legislation were topics of prominent discussion.

President of Phi Delta Kappa at the University is Harold Soeters, assistant registrar. His assistants for the present school-term include Ken Puckett, vice-president; Dr. Bruce Blackstone, acting head of the secretarial studies and business education department, secretary-treasurer, and Dr. Melvin Farley, professor in secondary education, historian.

Census Publishes Facts About Foreign Students

Interesting data on foreign students taken from a census last year has recently been published by the Institute of International Education of New York City.

The foreign student was first defined as a citizen of a country other than the United States who is studying or training in a higher educational institution in the United States and who plans to return to his home country when his studies are completed.

Nearly half of the students questioned came from one of the eleven following countries: Canada, China, Colombia, Germany, Great Britain, Greece, India, Iran, Japan, Mexico, and the Philippines.

One out of every four persons polled in the census was a woman. The average foreign student is older than the American and often has several years of practical experience behind him. The exception is the Latin American who often comes north for his entire undergraduate training.

As for studies engineering has the greatest attraction for students from Asia. It is chosen by about 22 per cent of them. Students from Europe and Canada tend to favor humanities with 25 per cent registering for them. Latin American enrollment is about equally divided between humanities and engineering. Distribution by field is more even in Africa with physical and social sciences leading.

Brand-new national survey shows college students prefer Luckies

Last year a survey was made in leading colleges throughout the country which showed that smokers in those colleges preferred Luckies to any other cigarette. This year another nation-wide survey was made—a representative survey of all students in regular colleges coast to coast. Based on thousands of actual student interviews—this survey shows that, as last year, Luckies lead again—lead over all other brands, regular or king-size—and by a wide margin! The reason: Luckies taste better.

The country around Lake Pend Oreille was among the ruggedest in America when a hardy prospector discovered gold in 1852. 100 years later the same self-reliant enterprise led crews of the Washington Water Power Company to erect a giant dam at Cabinet Gorge on the Clark Fork. They fought the untamed wilderness to bring more low-cost power to the Northwest.

By John Hughes

Seven costly Idaho fumbles overshadowed a great performance by Halfback Jay Buhler Saturday at Bronco Stadium in Boise as the BYU Cougars took a last ditch victory over the Vandals, 20-14. Buhler's spectacular showing nearly made up for the slippery fingered ball carrying shown by the Vandal backs. He ran back a kickoff 96 yards, the longest return in Idaho history, and snagged a George Eidam pass for the other score plus place kicking extra points to put on a one-man scoring show.

Buhler's play became a thing of the past as BYU defenders pounced on four Idaho fumbles to stop budding drives.

Caudill, Hess, Shine

The center of Idaho's line was bolstered by fine showing on the part of Neil Caudill and Burdette Hess. These burly linemen stopped many offensive pushes by BYU and were stalwarts on offense.

Hess was shaken up in the late stages of the game and was sidelined by a hip and leg injury.

On defense the Vandals looked sharp in the pass department, which has been an Idaho weakness all season. This may be an indication that the Vandals might prove a little tough for WSC's Bob Burkhart, who will be flinging passes against them this weekend.

Quarterback George Eidam had several of his quick line passes slip out of the hands of potential receivers. Eidam's longer passes connected several times to Bruce West and his touchdown pass to Buhler topped the Idaho passing game. Eidam and crew connected for eight passes out of 17 attempted, for a total of 60 yards.

Rack Yardage

Dick Pickett, halfback, and Flip Kleffner, fullback, playing with an injury to his pelvis bone, racked off most of the Vandal yardage on the ground, however, the Vandals gained only 77 yard rushing. Pickett's work through end and tackle and Kleffner's punch over the middle kept the Idaho club moving.

In the second period, a BYU halfback raced for a score, only to have it nullified by a clipping penalty which occurred as he went over for the score. A Vandal defender was hot on the ball carrier and was clipped from behind to nullify the run.

The Idaho line, led by Capt. Mel Bertrand and Neil Caudill and Tom Falash, held off the threat as time ran out.

Possibly a deciding play of the game came with 5 minutes remaining when the Vandals, after going behind 20-14 in the third quarter, were moving down field in an attempt to score and get back in the game. Eidam was fading back time after time and then throwing to men in the flat good for 8-10 yards per toss.

With fourth down and the game at stake, a 6-3 Cougar end barreled through the Idaho backfield and through Eidam for a loss, which ended all of Idaho's hoping of coming back.

After BYU took over the ball at that point, the Cougars ran the

WSC Cops Top Rodeo Honors

Washington State college took top honors in a five-team college rodeo meet yesterday before a crowd of 700 at Moscow Rodeo grounds. Led by Art Fulkerson who won the "all around cowboy" title for the meet, riders from Pullman outclassed teams representing Colorado A & M, Vandal Riders, Montana State college and Eastern Washington College of Education, in that order.

Fulkerson won the bull dogging and wild cow milking contests and placed second in the calf roping to account for 246 of his team's winning total of 576. He was followed in the individual race by Bob Schild of Colorado A & M who won the saddle bronc riding and bareback events and placed fifth in bull dogging.

The host Vandal Rodeo Riders team was knocked from the top spot in National Intercollegiate Rodeo ratings by the WSC win. Individual scores for the Vandal team were Darrel Schnitker, fourth in bareback; Jim Garrard, second in bull riding; and Howard Harris, who placed third in both bull riding and wild cow milking. The distaff side of the Harris family, Mrs. Harris, came up with a second place in the barrel race.

Other individual winners during the long afternoon were Duane Jones, WSC, who won the calf roping event, and Bob Mathers of Colorado A & M who was top man in bull riding.

Tom Gardner of WSC was kept busy as rodeo clown and Vic Weitz, also from WSC, did the announcing. Judges were Carson and Owens.

Final team scores were WSC 576, Colorado A & M 360, Vandal Riders 228, Montana State college 99 and EWCE 89.

Mendiola Out

Lou Mendiola, junior end on the Vandal football squad will definitely be out this weekend when the Vandals tangle with the WSC Cougars.

Mendiola suffered a shoulder separation in a practice session and will probably be out of the lineup for the Oregon State game also.

Golding Tells Of Athletic Differences In Africa

Larry Golding, intramural director for the University, stated in a recent interview that athletics in his native country of South Africa are about one hundred years behind the United States as far as professionalism is concerned.

Golding, who was graduated from Rhondebosh high school in Capetown, said "that professionalism of athletics in my country is looked upon as being vulgar and not in a recent interview, that athletics in his native country of South Africa are about one hundred years behind the United States as far as professionalism is concerned."

Golding, who was graduated from Rhondebosh high school in Capetown, said "that professionalism of athletics in my country is looked upon as being vulgar and not a true representation of clean athletics. In South Africa, everyone participates in athletics and rarely are there more than three thousand spectators at a game of any kind. Here in your country people realize that not everyone can participate and therefore follow their favorite teams as ardently as the owner of the club."

He went on to say that his feelings were much as same as any South African, but since his arrival at the University of Illinois in 1946, he has come to realize the advantages of professional and big time college sports.

"In my country, our colleges have no athletic representation at all, and the only way one may participate in athletics after graduating from high school is to join an athletic club. Our major sports are rugby in the winter, and cricket in the summer. Golf is considered an old man's game, although we have managed to come up with some good golfers.

He is married to a girl from the United States and likes to think of the U. S. as his home. This is his first year at the University.

Montana Finally Hits Win Column

Montana tightened its defenses in the second half to turn back the Grizzlies first Skyline conference football victory in three starts. The loss was Denver's second in league play.

The conference schedule Saturday features defending champion Utah's first appearance in league play this season and a match at Laramie between Wyoming and Colorado A. & M. Utah seeking its third straight league title, will meet Utah State at Logan Saturday night.

Denver and Montana traded touchdowns in each of the first two periods for a 13-13 tie at the half. The Grizzlies counted a third period touchdown and fourth period safety while shutting out the Pioneers. Denver couldn't drive beyond Montana's 37 in the second half.

Dick Imer, speedy halfback, scampered 78 yards for one Montana touchdown and played a big role in the other Grizzly scoring. The 7,675 fans cheered loudly when Imer left in the final minute. The colorful Aggies are a slight favorite over Wyoming in the clash that is expected to determine the No. 1 challenger for Arizona State college is campaigning against drinking at football games, and the first indications show considerable progress.

Only 22 bottles were found at the stadium after the opening game, and only eight of those were found in the student section. Previously "garbage barrels full"

Scalpers Scalped

University of Oklahoma students have found a way to get extra football tickets — but they've also been caught using it.

They've been pairing up as married couples to get an extra season ticket for the "wife" or "husband." Then they've been scalping the tickets to non-students. Another approach is being taken by legally married students who are both in school. They found they could get four tickets by applying separately.

Discovery of the system has started a lot of back checking. "Some of the students who were 'married' have addresses of men's housing units or fraternity houses," said the director of registrations.

Babe Curfman says — A good broken field runner seldom has any trouble working his way through college.

The great difference between learning to drive a car and learning to be a runner is that the car has been left behind.

"But one game doesn't make a season," cautioned the Arizona State Press. "The arrival of cold weather doesn't mean that people can take some medicinal pain reliever with them to the games."

Nominations for officers to serve the Ski club for the coming year were made at the first meeting of the year Thursday, announced Dave Parsons, president of the group.

Those nominated for officers were: Walt Aldrich, Dave Armstrong, Dud Homer, Dave Pinkard, for vice president. Nominated for secretary were Barbara Schutt, Jean Sanderson, and Gerry Priyett. Treasurer nominees were Jean Weston, Alice Rae Deschazer, Sally Newhouse and Stan Nealy. Art Adriants, Don Deardorff and Carol Ann Zapp were nominated for executive members.

Elections will be held October 22.

Move over, Famous Towers

But in America, the tower-come-lately (extreme right) may rapidly become as familiar as the old landmarks of Europe. It is one of the Bell System's radio-relay stations which speed telephone calls and television programs coast to coast.

In May, 1948, these towers connected only five Eastern cities. Five years later the TV network included 95 towns and more are being added all the time.

Being the first network of its kind in the world, the planning, research, engineering and construction requirements are providing real opportunities for the kind of people who like to pioneer.

If working on new developments appeals to you, check with your Placement Officer for the details on employment with the Bell System. There are positions open for electrical, mechanical and civil engineers, as well as business administration and arts, and science graduates.
