

WSC May Walk---European Style

Bless the man who invented Pilgrims!

Comes Thanksgiving vacation time and the pause that refreshes. But, you'd never know it the way people rush around trying to escape. Looks like someone turned loose a squadron of wood pussies.

Everyone heads for the hills—either going up or down. Like the army they rush to get somewhere for a rest.

But jangled nerves and quivering gray matter need a rest. Finger-crips, worn out from thumbing pages, will be renewed. The taste of Bucket coffee will linger for a day or so, only to be buried under slabs of turkey and home made pie. The folks will be glad to listen to your tales of college.

But here is a sobering thought. Dead ducks eat no turkey. Why not take it easy going home? We'll be glad to see you again.

We saw a football game Saturday. Idaho played. Yep, against Utah State. The boys really dug in and growled and fought and clawed. They looked absolutely ferocious from the stands.

They sounded even more ferocious when we went past their dining room in the Hotel Boise. We hope some small fraction of their strong showing on Saturday was a result of our remarks last week. One tiny break on any one of five or six occasions would have brought our Vandals home a winner.

Seems like luck deserted us each time we had a chance. We just want to say honestly and sincerely, thanks, team, for going out on the wings of a really solid performance.

If you think you quiver and shake when you go to the dentist, here's some advice. Next time listen closely and chances are you'll hear the doc's knees knock.

How do we know? A little scientist told us that over 42 per cent of America's dentists suffer from bad cases of "jitters". Most doctors get heart disease and such maladies, according to an article in a scientific magazine. But dentists suffer from "anxiety." Maybe you can manage a smile next time he says, "This'll hurt me more than it will you."

Ever hear of the AAUI? We thought not. That organization was the Athletic Association of the University of Idaho—fore-runner of ASUI.

Quite a history they had. Most of their time was taken up with arguing with WAC. That's Washington Agricultural College—now WSC. We got an old book of minutes of AAUI's meetings from Gale Mix whose father was a member of the old Exec Board.

The book is all handwritten in fancy script. It even smells old. It should, it was first used in January, 1894. A lot of ducks have flown south since then and things have grown around here. The most startling for instance we ran across was the matter of money. AAUI was once down to $2.75. ASUI's budget for this school year is $238,000.

Comic Opera To Get Final Touches

The "Marriage of Figaro", comic opera to be presented December 4 and 5, is one of today's most popular operas according to current music critics. However, this was not always so. At its first performance in 1786, "Figaro" achieved little success and it did not become popular until after Mozart's death.

"Figaro" is of the 'opera buffa' or comic type opera which was popular in Mozart's time. Although based on Beaumarchais play "Le Marriage of Figaro," the operatic characters are definitely of Mozart's creation.

"Cherubino", a young page created by Mozart, depicts youth in its first stirrings of love. The role is played by a soprano and provides much of the comedy in "Figaro." His love for any and every woman keeps the action lively. Be-

Turbans and togas will be flying in the WSC-Idaho Cosmopolitan tussle which is predicted to be the game of the day—any day between November 30 and December 18.

In an attempt to remedy the WSC-Idaho football situation, Idaho Cosmos challenged the WSC Cosmopolitan club to a football game, European style. Rain, snow, sleet, or blizzard will not curtail the soccer-ball game, to be played on the University of Idaho play field.

Who knows but Aladdin himself might be there, and with the genie playing center, Idaho may have a chance.

"On a designated Sunday," the loser's penalty reads, "the Cosmos members of the losing team will walk to Moscow, or Pullman, as the case may be. However, it is rumored that this will be the only time in 27 years that the foot-path to Moscow from Pullman will be used."

Flying carpets, camels, and elephants have been voted down as means of transportation for the losers' walk from Pullman to Moscow (or vice versa).

Refreshments will be provided by the losers. Details of this Idaho challenge will be settled later.

WSC Sweeps Debate Tourney

WSC walked off with the honors in the Northwest Regional debate tournament held Friday evening and Saturday on the WSC campus. They won in all divisions, the championship flight, the practice flight and the women's division.

Idaho's debate teams won approximately half of their debates. Entered in the tourney for Idaho were Lee Anderson, Jim Kruger, Paul Schultz, Charles Oldham, Stan Tate, Andrew Field, Hugh Bures, Fred Williams, Bernard Henderson, Roger McPike, Sally Landers, Pat Bartlett, Joy Chilcott, Jody Keith, Dorothy Carter and Kay Krutzenbeck.

They debated the question, "Resolved that the United States should adopt a policy of free trade."

Fly—Pi Phi

Donna Mae Burch, Pi Phi, '53, has recently received her wings as a stewardess for United Airlines. She received them after an intensive five-week course at the company's stewardess training school, Cheyenne, Wyoming. She now serves aboard Mainliners flying in and out of Chicago.

To the listener, Mozart's music may seem light and simple, but examination of the Act II finale of "Figaro" reveals the intellectual, constructive power of Mozart. It has been said that Mozart compares with Shakespeare as the complete artist.

Mozart completed "Figaro" when he was only 35 years old, shortly

Notice To All Student Car Owners

It is imperative that students who plan to leave their cars on the campus during Thanksgiving or Christmas vacation park them only in authorized areas. The purpose of this arrangement is to facilitate snow removal from the streets.

Two areas have been designated for the purpose of parking of student cars over vacation periods.

1. Idaho street west from Willis Sweet hall to the Gym annex.

2. The area across Third street and north of the prefabs.

Therefore, those students who plan to leave their cars on the campus during Thanksgiving or Christmas vacations should park them in the authorized areas before leaving the campus. Otherwise, if it snows, the cars will be towed to the authorized areas and the student owners will be charged for the towing costs. The University will not be responsible for any loss of or damage to moved vehicles.

Unauthorized areas which should be cleared include all University parking lots (such as those behind the Music building and all dormitories) and the following streets in the campus area:

Sixth street, Seventh street, Idaho avenue (east of Line street), University avenue, Sweet avenue (between Blake and Deakin), Deakin avenue, Blake street, Elm street, Ash street, Pine street, Line street, Rayburn street.

These resolutions have been adopted by action of Operations Council.

Student Art Now On Sale Here

Want a beautiful painting, reasonably priced? You can satisfy your wishes by trotting over to the Arts building. But hurry! The actual sale of paintings will conclude today. Idaho pictures will be taken down to make room for forthcoming University of Arizona displays.

Both former and current student artists have their paintings on display. Many works of Jerry Scheidemann and Bonese Collins have already been sold. John Myers is in charge of the displays.

Although the sale has not been too successful financially, a public interest in Idaho paintings has been created as a result of this display, and it is expected that this interest will continue.

Anyone interested in obtaining paintings after the sale ends may contact either Jerry Scheidemann or Mary Kirkwood in the Art building.

NOTICE

All Air Force personnel who are interested in singing with the Air Force Choir are urged to contact Gerry Leigh or Bruce Sweeney at 2441 Tuesday or Wednesday. The choir will meet the week after Thanksgiving vacation with the time and place to be announced December first.

Drama Students To Present Three One-Act Plays

Three one act plays, each of European authorship, have been selected by advanced drama students to be presented as the first studio productions of this fall semester.

"Miss Julie," by August Strindberg, will be directed by Jim Madison. Included in the cast are Shirley Smith, Ken Putzier, and Genevieve Sarvis.

June Adams will direct her cast of Paul Matthews, Virginia Nelson, and Tom Adams in Emile Augier's "The Post Script."

"On the High Road," by Anton Chekov, is under the direction of Mary Lou Le Fors, and has Dave Johnson, Muddy Numbers, Ingrid Jones, Dennis Thompson, Dick Crooks, George Rensink, Gordon Groff, Joe Jessup, Glenmar Hoke, Don Hartman, and Bob Campbell in the cast.

Collection Of Art To Be Shown

A famous collection of contemporary art will go on display at the University of Idaho Sunday afternoon, November 29.

Featured in Life magazine, the collection of paintings owned by the University of Arizona is the result of an experiment conducted by Charles L. Pfeiffer, wealthy New York businessman. An artist friend, Bruce Mitchell, told Pfeiffer that he could buy a first-class collection of modern paintings for $20,000. Pfeiffer gave Mitchell the go-ahead, and the artist made the rounds of galleries and studios, looking for quality in small and medium-size frames that wouldn't cost too much.

The collection turned out to be so good that Pfeiffer gladly bought it, and donated it to his alma mater, the University of Arizona. The collection was first exhibited, however, at the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York.

Now 40 paintings of the collection of Arts. The exhibit here in Idaho for a special showing arranged by the American Federation of Arts. The exhibit here in the Art and Architecture building will be sponsored by the University Fine Arts committee. A preview, co-sponsored by the Moscow Fine Arts club, will be held for faculty and guests from 3 to 5 p.m. November 29. The exhibition will then be open to the public from November 30 to December 13.

Home Ec Honorary To Sponsor Film

Phi Upsilon Omicron, home economics honorary, is sponsoring a film depicting life in Williamsburg, Virginia, as it was in the 18th century. This town has been restored in its entirety by the Rockefeller foundation, and is visited each year by thousands of people wishing to get a true picture of early American life.

Marie Beals is in charge of the assembly, which will be in the home economics auditorium, December 1 at 4 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend.

IT'S A BREAK---HAPPY TURKEY!

Babe Curfman Not To Be Sacked

No new developments are reported or expected in the status of football coach Babe Curfman, according to President J. E. Buchanan.

A meeting of the Board of Regents was held in Boise during the weekend and several alumni members were heard by the Board. President Buchanan stated that the Regents took no action and expressed no official opinion. The Board of Regents will not meet again until January.

Answers given by President Buchanan were a result of questions and rumors that alumni members had asked for Curfman's replacement. The president added that he had no comments to make on the probable future of the situation.

As for Coach Curfman, he reacted in true football coach style. His only comment was "I'm glad the season is over."

Juveniles Arrested

Local deputy sheriffs and state liquor control officials picked up nearly 20 juveniles with beer in their possession at Riverside park dancing pavilion Saturday night. The youths, between the ages of 14 and 19, were from Pottlatch, Garfield, Pullman, and Lewiston. No University of Idaho students were involved.

Prosecuting Attorney Marvin Alsager filed charges against two of the youths. Samuel Morris, Pullman, was charged with illegal possession of alcoholic beverages and pleaded guilty in justice court to Judge William Black. He was fined $25 and $3 costs. According to officers, the youth had a bottle of vodka.

A student at WSC was charged with being drunk in a public place and was committed. He appeared before Judge Black in justice court yesterday.

The officers waited outside the tavern and arrested the boys and girls while they were drinking in automobiles in the parking lot.

A car load of youths were brought into Moscow and then officers returned to the tavern to pick up two other car loads.

The tavern is located two miles from Pottlatch.

Fellowship Applications Now Open

Applications are now open for Ford Foundation fellowships for study or research concerning Asia, the Near and Middle East, Professor W. J. Brockelbank of the Rhodes, Fulbright and Foreign scholarship committee announced today.

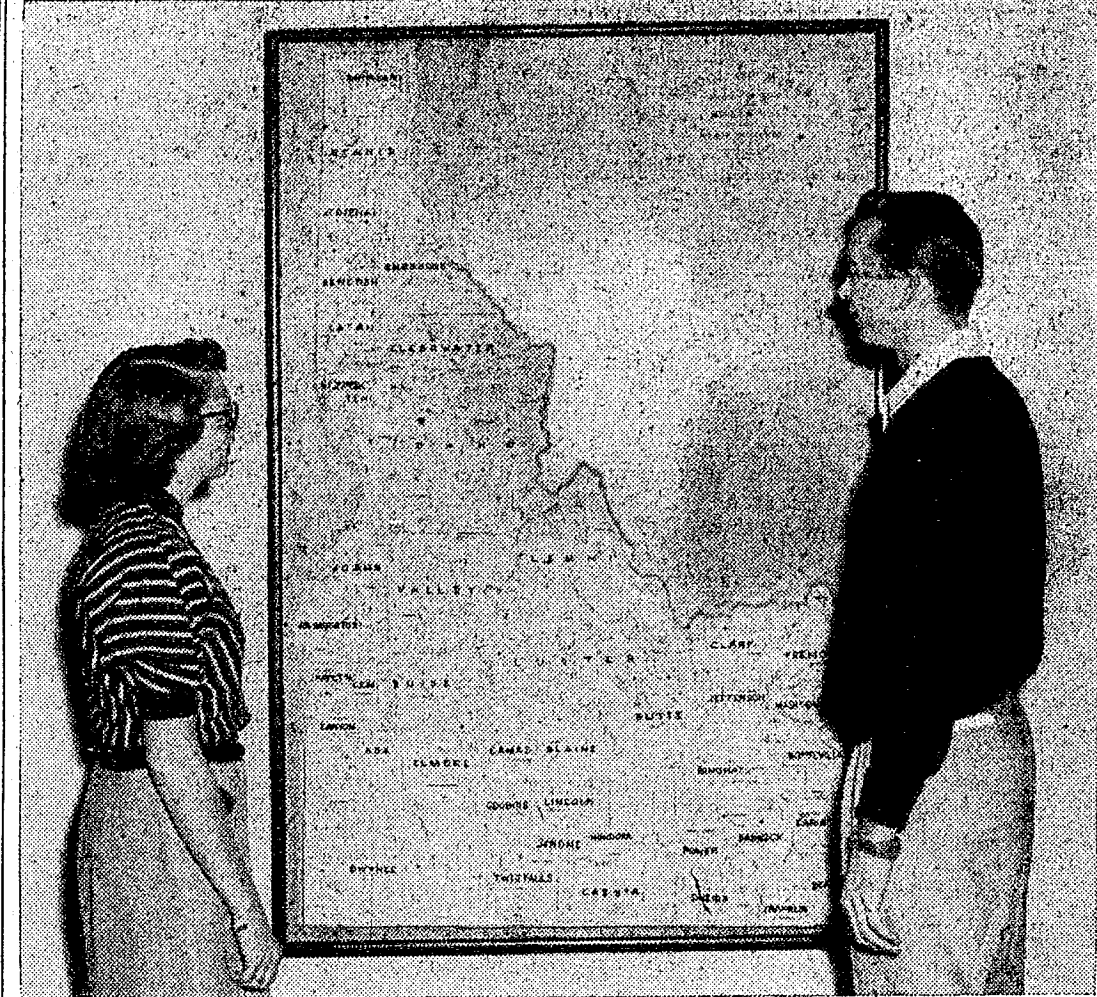

Applications, which must be in New York by January 8, 1954, must be accompanied by a comprehensive statement of the applicant's proposed plan of work and study, Brockelbank said. The age limit for both men and women applicants is 36.

Those eligible for fellowships are (1) seniors completing the bachelor's degree in June, 1954; (2) persons now engaged in business, government, education or other fields, and (3) graduate students who are doing or have done work relating to these areas or whose work have specific application to these areas.

Awards, which are made for periods of from one to three years, are determined by reference to applicants' qualifications and experience, and the individual program of study and research. Study may be conducted in the United States or abroad or both, and must begin prior to January 1, 1955.

Additional information may be obtained from the Rhodes, Fulbright and Foreign scholarship committee (Professors Cook, Wolfe and Brockelbank), or the Ford Foundation Board of Overseas Training and Research, 375 Madison Avenue, New York 22, N. Y.

Says New Union Is Needed; Proves It

MINNEAPOLIS—Paul W. Larson, St. Paul Union manager, has been telling people for years that they need a new Union. Now he's even more convinced.

Larson fell through the Union attic-ceiling Monday afternoon while he and some students were looking for stored committee materials.

An abandoned elevator shaft had not been covered and Larson fell through. "I didn't see it, but I found it," he groaned.

Yesterday afternoon Larson went to Midway hospital to have X-rays taken. He is afraid he may have broken a few ribs, but he'll find out for sure this morning.

Major Landell Speaks to Unit

Major Leslie J. Landell of the Scientific Manpower section, research branch, spoke on the general staff policies and procedures concerning research done for the army, at a recent meeting of a Moscow unit of the Army Organized Reserve corps.

The Moscow members of the unit are: Major V. A. Cherrington, Captain W. R. Harvey, and Lieutenant Marvin Jagers.

The purpose of Research and Development units is to provide the military service with research personnel who are, by civilian education and experience, particularly qualified to fill positions requiring scientific or technical abilities.

Share a Ride!

Has the "Share a Ride" plan succeeded?

Well! Only fifteen students have volunteered to offer rides to Thanksgiving vacationers. This is considerably less than was expected.

NOTICE

AIR FORCE ROTC GRADUATES

All AFROTC grads who hold "Certificates of Eligibility" and who have applied for flight training are to report to Room 104, Ag Science building at 1900 hours on Monday and Tuesday nights 30 November and 1 December 1953, for the purpose of taking pilot and aerial-observer aptitude tests.

Campus Radio Station KUOI will go off the air for the Thanksgiving vacation beginning Tuesday night at sign off time, 10:30 p.m., station manager Gene Hamblin announced yesterday.

The station will return to the air with a variety of programs Monday following vacation at 12:30 p.m.

Juilliard String Quartet To Give January Concert

European Study Tour to be Taken During Summer

For the third consecutive year the University of Idaho is sponsoring a summer study tour of Europe.

The course in travel-study is under the direction of the department of social science, and is listed as the "European Scene." Credits approximately equivalent to those given for a whole summer school study program can be earned in social sciences for one tour.

Tentative plans now schedule the tour to begin about June 25. Students will board an airplane at New York then arrive in Glasgow, Scotland, the same day. From there the tour will lead through England, France, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Germany, Holland and Belgium.

From Paris, the group will fly back to New York on about August 20. The approximate cost of the tour from New York and return will be $1,250. All European travel, meals, hotels and tips are included in this price.

Dr. E. M. Hause, associate professor of political science and history, has been designated the director of this summer's tour, and will travel with the group to conduct the lectures and study programs.

Any person not now registered at the University may also register for this study tour if his qualifications are approved by the University.

Home Ec Honorary Taps Two; Lists Coming Activities

Norma Hunt and Marge Hattan were tapped for membership in Phi Upsilon Omicron, the national home economics honorary November 11.

The initiation was held Sunday morning in the Home Ec lounge. Initiation breakfast at the Ad club was attended after by the initiates, Marian Featherstone, advisor, Margaret Ritchie, Adah Lewis, Helen Scheve, and Phi U members. Marion Featherstone gave a talk on the history of Phi U.

Light rain and snow at higher elevations will hamper Thanksgiving vacation drivers Wednesday when they leave for their homes throughout the state. Skies of Idaho, eastern Washington and western Montana will be cloudy with little change in temperature.

The Department of Music has announced a concert to be given January 24, 1954 by the Juilliard String Quartet of New York City. This appearance of the famed quartet—their only concert in the Moscow area—is a special attraction, not connected with the Moscow-Pullman Community concerts artist series.

The artists will appear under the joint sponsorship of the University of Idaho chapters of Sigma Alpha Iota and Phi Mu Alpha—Sinfonia, national music honoraries for men and women.

A limited number of tickets to the Juilliard String Quartet concert will be sold by members of the music fraternities. Since the Recital hall of the Music building seats 352 persons, only 250 adult tickets at $2.40 (including tax) and 102 student tickets at $1.20 will be available.

Considered ideal for the presentation of chamber music, the Recital hall with its acoustically perfect listening facilities will present a rare opportunity for chamber music enthusiasts.

"In order to insure good seats for this performance, reservations for tickets will be taken by the office of the Department of Music starting immediately," states Hall M. Macklin, head of the department. The phone number is Moscow 2196.

Tickets will be reserved and will be delivered as soon as practicable. Tickets not contracted by phone will be placed on open sale by members of the music group at a later date.

The Juilliard String Quartet serves as artist quartet-in-residence at the Juilliard School of Music in New York City. Members of the quartet are Robert Mann, Robert Koff, Raphael Hillyer and Arthur Winograd.

Classes will be dismissed tomorrow, Wednesday, at noon and will resume Monday at 8 a.m.

Resolved: To Know Of World Affairs

By Ross Breda
 Dr. John E. Tsouderos will speak at International Relations club on "Critical Evaluation of the World Today," specifically concerning the relationship among the countries of the western world. He will speak at the regular bi-monthly meeting Thursday, December 3 in conference room A at 4:10 p.m.
 International Relations club has had a long and varied existence at the University of Idaho, says faculty advisor Dr. R. E. Hosack, professor and chairman of political science.
 During the war period, International Relations club became almost inactive. Then, in 1944, through the work of only a handful of interested students, the club was re-activated to bring news and developments of the war situation to attention of the students.
 According to Mary Belle McVicker, club secretary-treasurer, the club now is open for any students, townspeople and faculty.
Policy Change
 VE and VJ day meant a change of policy for the club. Where it had given war news and definition, it now functioned to give the larger aspect of international relations.
 The club then started having discussions, showing movies, and giving panel talks on aspects of international concern both in the United States and abroad.
 Co-advisor for the club now is Dr. Siegfried B. Rolland, assistant professor of social science. He is really the advisor, Dr. Hosack says, for varied interests do not allow him the close relationship with the club necessary to give it the attention it needs.
 President of the club this year is Joris Rosse, formerly of Holland. Vice president is Pat Gallagher.
 But the club, says Dr. Hosack, is for everybody interested in international relations — townspeople, all students and any faculty who wish to attend. Members pay dues, but the number of non dues-paying members is high, with an attendance often as high as 75 students.
 A surprising number of students who are not connected with the social studies field attend the meetings, such as engineers and chemistry students, says Dr. Hosack.
 ASUI is connected with International Relations club, too, in that occasionally it helps finance transportation for students to attend the Annual regional conference of the national association, says Dr. Hosack.
 Attending the conference held at Boise last year were Ken Kyle, Jim Costly, Pete Byrnes and Ellis Spackman.
SIX JOIN HONORARY
 Informally initiated last week into Alpha Zeta, agricultural honorary fraternity, were Fred Walmisley, Don Aegenbrod, Carl Gotsch, Raymond Seeman, Harry Judd and Harold Solinsky.
 The formal initiation and banquet will be announced sometime after the first of December.

Stock Exposition Has Record Entry Of Aberdeen-Angus

An estimated 16,000 head of stock will be shown by exhibitors from 37 states and three Canadian provinces when the 54th International Livestock exposition opens in Chicago, Friday, November 27. Aberdeen-Angus entries lead the cattle breeds in number of entries with a record 685 head entered. Boys and girls from the 4 H and FFA organizations will show upwards of 500 head of stock, it is expected. Managers of the exposition say they expect carlot entries to top last year's entry of 265 carloads of cattle.
 Following Aberdeen-Angus entries in number are Herefords, Shorthorns, and Polled Shorthorns in that order. Swine entries are also bigger this year. So far 838 barrows of eight different breeds have been entered. Poland Chinas lead with 179 head and are closely followed by Yorkshires.
 Sheep numbers are smaller than peak entries of recent years, the management reports. A total of 883 head will be shown in individual classes representing 10 breeds.

You May Be Worth It—

It looks as if Dad may get a break tax-wise if legislation now under consideration by the House Ways and Means committee is passed in the next Congress.
 The committee has proposed a measure that will enable your dad to claim the $600 exemption on you regardless of how much you make next summer. He will get the exemption if he can prove that he is contributing more than one-half of your support.
 The present law says that Dad may not claim you for the exemption if you earn $600 in a year. You become a taxpayer in your own right and your dad loses the chance to claim the exemption.
 If the law goes through, earn all you can during the school year. Dad will still be able to claim you as dependent so long as you stay in school and he sends money to keep you there.
 This new law should act as a boon to college enrollment—at least to some extent. Most families are hard pressed to scratch enough together to meet current expenses while meeting the occasional demands placed on them by you, their pride and joy.
 H.A.S.

Ten Dollars Well Spent

First "they" soak you $10 and then "they" ask you how to spend it. This seems to be the most frequently-heard statement of the past two weeks.
 As you know the ASUI recently sent around a list of possible ways in which to spend your $10, formerly used as a breakage cover charge. There has been a great amount of criticism about this action and many students feel they can put their $10 to better use.
 Let us leave the facts for a moment and pretend. Suppose the cash was to be refunded. Do you really think you could put it to better use? Would you spend it at the local beer parlor or for that piece of clothing you have been wanting for months or maybe on that little blond in your English class? At least one of the above suggestions probably appeals to everyone concerned, but now we shall return to the reality of the situation and we will try to think sensibly.
 A few dollars, in any student's pocket, has a very short life and when it is gone, the use it was put to forgotten. Life continues as before.
 Now let us do a little figuring. Multiply 2850 by $10 and what do we get? A lot of money. Take this $28,000 and invest it on one of the proposed projects which will give us something we need or want. Now what do we get? A place to enjoy ourselves, a place to take a date, a place to go and save a lot more money than the lost $10; a place to serve us and give us a never before offered facility.
 What? You are still complaining? Oh, yes, you don't like to do anything associated with the proposed facilities or maybe these facilities would not serve you? Well there are two solutions:
 First, come up with a better idea and if it is good enough it will undoubtedly be adopted. Second, wait and find out what is to be done with the money and then develop a liking for the particular mode of enjoyment presented or find a way to make use of the service offered. Besides, you can't please everyone and it might be a good idea if you noticed the people around you with their betterment in mind.
 Also, at the present, some students, here at the U of I, feel there is not enough entertainment offered in Moscow. Well here is a proposal to widen the number of possible modes of enjoyment available to the students.
 Now this above statement would leave most of the dissatisfied (about their pesos) people in the same two trains of thought; two opposite ones. The statement made by these people would have to go something like this: There are not enough ways to enjoy ourselves therefore we don't want any more. This doesn't make sense. You want a different way in which to entertain yourselves? It's being offered, so why complain?
 —T. C. D.

Methodist Delegates To Be Chosen Soon
 University of Idaho delegates will be chosen soon to attend the Fifth Quadrennial National Methodist Student conference at the University of Kansas December 28 to January 2.
 Approximately 2000 students and 300 faculty members from over the nation are expected to attend.
 The theme for the conference will be "Christ Transforming Culture." Three books have been especially written for this conference and they are accompanied by a study guide.

Cosmopolitan Club Is Guest of WSC
 About 20 members of the Idaho Cosmopolitan club were guests at an exchange meeting with WSC Cosmo club in Pullman last Friday evening. It was a social meeting held in the Compton Union building.
 "Music Around the World" was the theme of the social program. Arabian, Indian, Chinese, Japanese, Ceylonese, Malayan recordings were explained. Po Ping Wong and Gus Laskaris entertained the group.
 Dancing and refreshments concluded the evening's entertainment.

Spurs Entertain Former Spurs
 The Spurs, Sophomore women's service honorary, entertained former Spurs at the annual Spur alum banquet in the North ballroom of the SUB last night. Dean Louise Carter and Mrs. William Boyer, advisor, were special guests.
 Nancy Jutila, president, presented corsages to Dean Carter and Mrs. Boyer and gave miniature emblems to all old members. She announced that former Spurs unable to attend the banquet would receive their emblems in the near future.
 Marigay Nelson, winner in this fall's Horace Heidt talent contest, sang "Through the Years" and "Someday." Judy Crookham accompanied her on the piano.
 Table decorations included crepe paper Spurs handing out programs, selling concessions, dancing around the Maypole, and performing other typical duties.
 Eleanor Horsman served as general chairman, with Penny Wheatley and Carol Hutsell helping on her committee.

Public Address Directors Named For Vandal Games
 John Hughes and Jim Sanberg have been designated to be in charge of the public address announcing activities for the University of Idaho basketball games, it was disclosed recently by Robert Tracy, faculty advisor.
 Hughes, program director at KUOI, and Sanberg, news editor for campus radio, will handle the selection of men interested in this type of work to assist them this year.
 After being appointed to this position, they announced that a meeting of all personnel interested in working on the PA meet with them at Station KUOI next Tuesday at 4 p.m. Sanberg will explain the duties of the announcer and Hughes will be in charge of tryouts at the gym which will be held soon after the organizing meeting.
 Hughes handled the announcing at all football games, assisted by John Mix, Steve Emerine, Bruce Whitmore, and Ken Dick, and was announcer for high school events at Lewiston High school. Sanberg was the assistant news editor at KUOI last year and has had considerable radio experience.
 All those who are interested are urged to contact Hughes at Sigma Nu and Sanberg at Phi Delta Theta before the meeting Tuesday.

Staley To Address Mining Association Annual Gathering
 Prof. W. W. Staley of the college of mines will address the annual convention of the Northwest Mining association in Spokane Saturday, December 5.
 "The Philippines, a Pictorial View of Its Mining and Its People" will be the subject of his talk.
 Professor Staley plans to show colored slides of various mining operations and properties. The pictures were taken during a year and a half leave of absence in which he visited Philippine coal, gold, copper and iron mines.
 He will also show slides of war-damaged buildings in Manila.

Government Forecasts Fall In Farm Prices
 Farmers are facing a tighter squeeze in 1954 than they are experiencing this year, is the opinion of Dr. William E. Folz, head of the department of agricultural economics in the University of Idaho college of agriculture.
 Discussing the farm outlook at the weed control short course this week, Dr. Folz said he expected a decline in net realized income of around 10 per cent, or about 1 billion, 200 million dollars nationally.
 This anticipated decline is greater than that forecast by the U. S. department of agriculture in its annual outlook report. The government forecast pictures some further weakening in farm prices during 1954 but nothing of any great significance.
 Dr. Folz explained that his opinion was based on a careful study of factors considered by the department of agriculture economists, conferences with agricultural economists at other Pacific Northwest colleges, and a study of general business conditions.

Patronize Argonaut Advertisers
 Looking ahead in business and making forecasts is not new to this University of Idaho professor. During World War II he was with the office of price administration at Washington, D. C. There his job was to study business, and, as he puts it, "stick my neck out predicting what might happen."
 "No great change in prices of things the farmers buy is in prospect, according to Dr. Folz. Nothing short of a severe decline in industry and business generally, which Folz doesn't expect, would bring that about. Property taxes can be expected to remain steady. Feed, seed and fertilizer costs probably will be lower but these "only reflect lower agricultural income."
Uncertainty Is Factor
 Biggest factor of uncertainty in the agricultural picture, particularly in Idaho, will be the fate of the surplus wheat acres.
 "Wheat returns depends upon the support price," he explains, "but losing 21 per cent of our wheat land means we are cutting total income.
 Crops row on an open market basis, such as peas and beans, could suffer severely from a shift of wheat land. Dr. Folz points out that while some of the surplus wheat land is capable of producing only wheat much of it could shift to other crops and break

Cadet Selection To Be Explained
 Air Force Aviation Cadet Selection Team 107 will be at the SUB November 30 and December 1 to give information on the cadet program.
 At present there is an urgent need for pilots and aircraft observers. Unlimited opportunities exist for qualified young men.
 Other than physical requirements, qualifications for civilian applicants are that they be unmarried citizens between 19 and 26½ years old when they apply.
 The Air Force has announced a number of changes in its rapidly expanding Aviation Cadet program. These changes are of interest to all young men and will be discussed by the team during its stay here.

Kappa's Give "Moulin Rouge" For Pledges; Steel House Has "Ball"

In a final burst of pre-vacation social reports, we find indications that most living groups have been busy. On Friday evening, Steel house presented its Cinderella Ball, while the members of Kappa Kappa Gamma honored their pledges with a dance bearing out the theme of "Moulin Rouge."

Next on the TKE agenda is the Apache Dance, scheduled for December 5.

The Beta alligator is still with us, this time with prospects for a new wardrobe.

BETA THETA PI

Work is rapidly progressing by several Kappas who have had experience in knitting alligator sweaters. Baby pink and baby blue are the colors of Albert the Alligator's expected wardrobe.

Two tubbings were held last week. John Nelson took the plunge with Darlene Duffy and the Beta pledges plunged John in a bath of rubber cement. Most people think that John's new crewcut is cute.

Stan Tate was tubbed two days later with plaster of paris. Lynn Campbell's scissors just wouldn't turn the trick, but finally Stan was free, with a good start on a case of pneumonia.

ETHEL STEEL HOUSE

Steel house presented their Cinderella Ball Friday, November 20 at the SUB. Ron Tan was crowned Prince Charming by Jeanette Tate. Jo Cates and Kim Kimerling presented a modern dance at intermission. Hostess was Mrs. Ruby Collins. Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Decker, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Debenbach, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Thomas were patrons and patronesses.

On Thursday 22 freshmen surprised the upper-classmen and went to Pullman. Thirty Campus club boys were surprise dinner guests of the upper-classmen.

Mrs. Robert Resta, dietitian, was Wednesday night dinner guest. Sunday dinner guests were Jack Riddemoser, Gary Petesche, and Mr. and Mrs. Stan Thomas.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

Friday evening the annual pledge dance was held at the chapter house. The theme, Moulin Rouge, was carried out with French scenes and decorations. The pledges were immortalized for the evening by chorus girl caricatures. Patrons and patronesses were Mrs. Myrtle Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Banks, and Mr. and Mrs. Willard Barnes.

Wednesday dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Kerif Klages, Ferol Joan Walroth, and Barbara Knight. Guests for a pre-Thanksgiving Sunday dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Austin and daughter Pam, and Dr. and Mrs. Giles and daughter Carolyn.

TKE

Sixteen TKE's journeyed to Boise for the Idaho-Utah State game and enjoyed a combination alumni and rush party at the Owyhee Hotel after the game.

Tom Mackay was pledged recently. Formal initiation was held last Sunday for W. W. Riggers, Jim Ferhaar, and George Radcliffe as associate members.

Cub Behrs is taking charge of the plans for the TKE Apache dance scheduled for Saturday, December 5.

Formal installation of new house officers was held last Tuesday evening.

Several girls from Hays hall visited us Thursday evening.

Lefty Muir was a recent dinner guest.

Out Of The Past

25 Years Ago

Nov. 23, 1928 — Committees of the men's P.E., women's P.E., and military departments each desire the new office room under the basketball floor in the new Memorial gymnasium. The athletic heads have hopes of an indoor track in this space at some future date, while the ROTC desires a hard-surfaced court on which to drill.

Petitions to the University asking for a three-day holiday at Thanksgiving were signed by too few students because too little time was allowed for the project. Thursday, November 29, will be a University holiday. Classes will be held as usual on Friday and Saturday following.

CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS

A special Thanksgiving service, open to the general public, is announced by the Christian Science society of Moscow for 11 a.m. on Thanksgiving day. The service will be held in the Church edifice at Eighth and Washington.

The latter portion of the service will be devoted to spontaneous expressions of gratitude by Christian Scientists for God's goodness as shown in spiritual growth, healings, and other blessings.

Selections on the subject of praise and thanksgiving to God will be read from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, in a specially-prepared Lesson-Sermon entitled "Thanksgiving."

ROGER WILLIAMS CLUB

If you're staying in Moscow over vacation or if you're back Sunday evening, come down to the church at 6:30 for a "just-fun" meeting—games, singing, etc.

WESLEY FOUNDATION

Wesley Foundation was attended by a large group of students last Sunday evening. After a chili supper and recreation, the group enjoyed a worship program with Dr. Martin as guest speaker.

Several students planning to go to the national conference at Lavenara have been meeting with Stanley Thomas each Tuesday (during the noon hour) to look over the discussion material for the conference, and to plan projects for financing the trip. Anyone who is interested in going on this trip or in helping with the project can get in contact with Stan at the Wesley office.

CANTERBURY CLUB

Services will be held at Canterbury house Wednesday at 7 a.m. All Canterbury members are reminded that our Christmas Bazaar will be Dec. 4 and if they have as yet failed to bring anything to the bazaar to arrange to bring something back with them when returning from Thanksgiving vacation.

NSA Provides Opportunity To Better Student Government

(Ed. note: This is another in the series of articles explaining the National Students Association.)
By BETTIE JENSEN

What do NSA's accomplish at a national Congress? This is rather an illusive problem as many of the benefits are personal to those students who attend. Other benefits are so intangible it's hard to put your finger on them.

Below is a break-down of the 1953 Congress in its various commissions and sub-commissions. The total structure is so arranged that new sub-commissions may be added and old ones dropped as necessity dictates.

Student Government commission: theory and philosophy, administration and technique, nomination and election systems, financial and budgetary systems, judicial systems, relationship to campus organizations, relationship to faculty/and administration, national leadership training program.

Student Affairs commission: academic freedom, role of student government in national emergency, athletics and health, culture and entertainment, students rights and responsibilities, orientation programs.

Educational Affairs commission: the student and the curriculum, economic welfare, legislative activity, human relations.

International Affairs commission: organizational and area relationships, student participation in assistant and exchange, campus participation in international programs.

With 10 to 30 delegates in each sub-commission, discussions are recorded into the annual Congress minutes and are available to the participating schools.

Dee Hall In Hot Pursuit Of Aggie Back

Idaho's Vandals put on a good show for a crowd of alumni Saturday but fell anyway to Utah State. Above, Dee Hall is chasing Tom Lorenat who was pushed out of bounds a yard farther. Below, is Dee Hall again, this time with the ball after he intercepted an Aggie pass. Larry Gorrell (5) is blocking Lorenat. Ed Barton (13), Dave Cragthorpe (70), Lewis Edwards (52) and Ted Ramsdell are closing in on Hall. In background is Dick Fray (47), Ray Bittner (17) and Bill Grunst (22).

Utah State Gives Idaho Vandals Ninth Loss In Final Contest

FINAL PACIFIC COAST CONFERENCE STANDINGS table with columns: Team, Won, Lost, Tied, Pct., PP, PA. Teams listed include UCLA, Stanford, USC, California, Washington State, Washington, Oregon, and IDAHO.

Two Idaho Gridders Selected In PCC Poll

LOS ANGELES—The 1953 Pacific Coast Conference football team, as selected by the Associated Press with the cooperation of coaches, features Stanford University's dazzling passing combination and a set of hard running backs led by Paul Cameron of UCLA. Cameron, the 185-pound blaster from Burbank, Calif., was the lone unanimous choice by the coaches and their assistants. There was no question, either, about the selection of Stanford's star quarterback, Bob Garrett, and his two sparkling receivers, Sam Morley and John Steinberg. Named with Garrett and Cameron in the backfield were Oregon's great all-around quarterback, George Shaw, and fleet Aramis Dandoy of University of Southern California. The line boasts Charles Doud of UCLA and Duane Wardlow of Washington, tackles; George Timberlake of Southern California and Milt Bohart of Washington, guards, and Ron Pheister of Oregon, center. Vote was Close The coaches' ballot is confidential with the AP, but it is easy to guess that the vote on most of the positions and candidates was close. The tabulation soon showed that some of the outstanding players would of necessity be squeezed out of the top 11 places. The second team is no less star-studded. It leads off with backs Paul Larson and Al Talley of California, Wayne Berry of Washington State and Flip Klefner of Idaho. Eight Seniors The first team consists of eight seniors and three juniors, Dandoy, and Pheister and Shaw. As an aggregate, the team can boast of speed, size, deception and experience. Doubtless the main surprise of the team was the fact that California, for the first time in many years, did not land a player on the first outfit.

Vandals Thwarted In Last Ditch Effort To Win

Approximately 5200 people, composed of alumni, students and just fans, saw the Idaho Vandals drop their season finale to the Utah State Aggies Saturday in Bronco Stadium at Boise 19-7. The Vandals showed more spirit than has been seen all year with the exception of their performance during the first half of the Idaho-WSC game earlier in the season. Sparked by reserve halfback Larry Gorrell, Curfman's crew fought to overcome a first quarter lead taken by the Aggies but were unable to catch them. John Roning's USC team started things off with a TD midway in the first period when Earl Lindley, Utah State halfback, plunged over from the 1 climaxing a 30 yard march. Lindley, who is the second leading scorer in the nation went over for a second time in the third period when he snared a pass from John Karnick on the 40 of Idaho and ran to the end zone with it. DelRay Campbell kicked the extra point to put the Aggies out front 13-0. Idaho's TD came as the result of a pass interception by Gorrell. The sophomore back intercepted a Utah State pass on the Idaho 10 and carried it out to the 25. From there George Eidam went for a first down. A series of passes by Eidam failed to click and USC took over on a fumble. Gorrell then intercepted a second pass and galloped across from the 30 untouched. Eidam kicked for point to put the score at 13-7. A fumble by Ray Bittner set up the final Aggie score, when they recovered the fumble on their own 47 yard line. A series of passes and line bucks brought the ball down to the 14 where Karnick pitched out to George Hotchkin who went over

Idaho Men Not On All-PCC Squad

Hal Deal, manager, Advertising and Sales promotion, Tide Water Associated Oil Company, announced this week the selection of an All Pacific Coast football team by Tide Water Associated sportscasters, commentators and producers. The selections were based upon the players that the radio broadcast crews had seen in action during the 1953 collegiate season. The players named to the all-Pacific Coast team were as follows: Ends, Sam Morley and John Steinberg, Stanford; tackles, Mario Da Re, USC, and Jack Ellena, UCLA; guards, Milt Bohart, Washington, and George Timberlake, USC; center, Ron Pheister, Oregon; backs, Bob Garrett, Stanford; Paul Larson, California; George Shaw, Oregon; Paul Cameron of UCLA.

Frosh Splash Men Look Strong For Coming Year

Swimming prospects for freshmen swimming for the coming year look bright to coach Eric Kirkland with 15 men working out for the past two weeks.

According to Kirkland, "this doubles last year's small turnout of only seven swimmers, indicating, possibly that the Vandal varsity might be looking forward to better material in the near future."

Top prospects mentioned by the swimming mentor include: Jack Helle, Fargo, S. D., a breaststroke performer; Bruce Buckman, a freestyler from Walla Walla; and George Vasko, distance swimmer from Chicago, Ill.

Others on the club include Dick Samek, sprints, from Bainbridge Island, Wash.; Mike McKay, sprinter from Kellogg; Dennes Jensen, Idaho Falls; sprinter; Dale Carlisle, Walla Walla, Wash., and Gene Anderson, Coeur d'Alene, both breaststroke swimmers. Other sprinters include Larry Haight, Sandpoint, and Lynn Robertson, Burley.

Dick Miles, Kellogg; Duane Tovey, Nampa; Russell Holman, Bayhead, New Jersey; Bud Gibson, St. Maries; and Dick Crooks, Orofino, round out the team members.

15 Survive Cuts On Frosh Squad

Fifteen freshmen basketball players have survived the final squad cut made by coach Hartley Kruger last week. Thirty one hopefuls answered the call earlier in the month.

Of the men on the squad at present, Kruger praised the work of four top prospects.

Named were Bill Liebe, Hermon, Ore.; Gary Moore, Nampa; Kelly Herschberger, Susanville, Calif.; and Gary McEwen, Kimberly.

Others on the team include Mike Spence, Council; Bob Murphy, Spokane, Wash.; Jim Wicks and Roger Hansen, Lewiston; Norman Foltz, Stites; Carl Prenner, Chicago, Ill.; Ed Dix, Salinas, Calif.; Pete Shawyer, Jerome; Bob Reinert, Chicago; Tom Vopat, Grangeville.

The Vandal Babes' open action in January, playing preliminary games to the varsity conference games.

Colombia: Against Preparation Students in Bogota have gone on strike against the planned introduction of a course in preparatory studies. The rector of the University of Medellin joined the students in opposing the plan, which he said would result in students' going to foreign universities.

Hess, Falash Chosen on Grizzly Opponent Team

Burdette Hess, junior tackle and Tom Falash, senior guard for the Idaho Vandals were chosen on the Grizzly All-Opponent team this week by members of the Montana State University Grizzly squad. The Grizzly All-Opponent team was tabulated from All-Player-All American ballots filled out by the Montana team.

Larry White, University of New Mexico center, and Joe Mastrogiovanni, sophomore tailback from Wyoming were both unanimous picks by Montana players for the All-Opponent team of 1953. Utah State and Wyoming rated three each, New Mexico and Idaho two and one from Brigham Young and Colorado A&M.

White made his "hit" with the Grizzlies by his outstanding defensive linebacking play. He stole a Montana aerial and went 45 yards to score. "Cowboy Joe" piled up 171 yards rushing against the Grizzlies and scored on a 75-yard romp. Lamont Lamb, guard and Earl Lindley, halfback, both of Utah State, and Wyoming's Wimp Hewgley, tackle, were popular choices of the Silvertip squad.

Three ends were chosen in Brigham Young's Dewey Brundage, Colorado A&M's Kay Dalton, and New Mexico's Ray Guerette. Dalton received votes for both the end and tackle position. Utah State's Kent Harris was picked at quarterback and Wyoming's George Galuska at fullback. Others polling votes at end were Cavalluci, Utah State; Probert, Brigham Young; Carter, Wyoming, and Griebel, Denver.

At tackle, Lauderdale, New Mexico. At guard, Haupt, Wyoming, and Matteucci, New Mexico. Fullback, Mohorich, Colorado A&M; Parac, Montana State, and Bowen, Denver. Halfbacks, Lee, New Mexico, and Buhler, Idaho. Babe Curfman's Vandal football team also balloted for their choice of all-opponent players this year. Three University of Utah Redskins and three Oregon men led the list.

BOXERS WORK OUT Vandal boxing hopefuls, including 20 frosh mittmen, worked out yesterday afternoon under coach Frank Young. Conditioning and running have been the main work thus far until sparring yesterday. Varsity and Frosh boxing begins Jan. 8 with an intra-squad smoker.
