Entertainment Set This Week

The Idaho Argonaut

VOL. 58, NO. 27

THE IDAHO ARGONAUT, Official Publication of the ASUI

TUESDAY, JANUARY 12, 1954

With the old thinking apparatus in a backwash between a sea of term papers and the rocky shore of finals, we feel a bit harassed when we look at the list of super-cultural events clamoring for our esthetic attention in the next week or so.

Some razzle-dazzle broken field scheduling should enable us to get to some of these fine events. We note especially the one-act plays due for a three-day run, the oratorio, "Elijah", a speech by a Pulitzer prize winner, and the Community Concert pianist Claudio Arrau. Plus the Juilliard Players only a week off.

Not dizzy yet? Well, we held back mentioning the University hand concert, a University Orchestra concert and a lonely art exhibit.

We can enjoy some of this culture if it is fed bit-by-bit. But we are low life enough to admit that a sprinkling of basketball games would be pleasant. And why do the esthetics-schedulers go out of their heads with finals so close?

We must admit that the student body faked us out recently. With the Executive Board in session discussing such things as where to spend YOUR ten bucks, we thought there would be at least one timid soul from the masses in attendance at the meeting.

Maybe some of you don't know that these meetings are open. You could even open your mouth if you wanted to. But, we guess the Battle of the Purse and other discussions will be decided without "civilian" help.

The only issue which drew outside parties to a Board meeting this year was the Navy intramural squabble. Perhaps this situation is due to a lack of refreshments at these meetings. We'd hate to say it could be disinterested.

We returned from a cool Yule holiday to find that the Army ROTC boys were mourning the loss of one of their favorite secretaries — Betty Ruth Westberg.

A former member of the Exec Board, active in many University functions, Betty Ruth changed horses in mid-stream. In fact, she got all the way through her seventh semester before leaving for another school. Idaho loses again.

Along the same line, we were sniffing around and found that three other top-grade students will be among the missing soon. Stan Blackwell, top tenor tooter for the Suburbans, has accepted a position with the U.S. Air Force. Rich Orme, Exec Board member, and Bob Stivers, Gem editor are deciding whether to accept Uncle Sugar's offer. The old guard, sirs, is passing.

A modified version of the Suburbans will be on hand to help out at the dance Friday for the benefit of Nancy Benfer.

You'll probably be sick of hearing about this function before the week is out. Maybe you're sick of it now. Only thing to do then is make a decision now to attend that dance. Then your guilty conscience won't bother you.

This dance is not an appeal for someone you don't know. It is not one of those professional jobs like the March of Dimes. It will be a University affair, first, last, and in the middle. Nancy Benfer was the gal in the next seat from whom you used to copy. You're not going to forget her, are you?

And, some of those acts being cooked up are real cool. We'll see you there.

McCarthy Burns

(ACP) — "I dislike communism to the extent that I feel any means directed against its destruction are fair."

And, so saying, news editor Paul Bacon of the University of Toronto's student newspaper resigned his job. He was protesting the burning in effigy of Sen. Joseph McCarthy by fellow students, who hung and roasted the senator one night with the full support of the paper.

Noted Author To Speak On Symbols Of America

Due to an anticipated large audience, Bernard DeVoto's University of Idaho talk on "Some American Symbols" has been scheduled for Memorial gymnasium at 11 a.m. Friday, January 15. It had been reported earlier that the Pulitzer prize-winning historian and writer would give his speech in the University auditorium.

DeVoto is recognized as an authority on the history of the west, having devoted considerable research to America's westward movement. His latest book, "The Course of Empire," a history of western exploration over a period of 278 years, won the National Book award for non-fiction.

Known As Author He is also the author of "The Year of Decision: 1846," and Bernard DeVoto "Across the Wide Missouri," winner of the 1948 Pulitzer prize for history.

A native of Ogden, Utah, DeVoto has been editor of "The Easy Chair" of Harper's magazine since 1935. He also served as editor of the Saturday Review of Literature for two years.

DeVoto was graduated from Harvard university in 1920 with Phi Beta Kappa honors. He later taught at Northwestern university and Harvard before devoting full time to his vast research and writings on the west.

Classes Shortened In his talk here DeVoto will point to "this nation's non-conformist tradition and the fact that our inner strength has always been based on respect for dissension and unpopular opinion." He added that a true understanding of our past will enable us to meet the challenges this nation is now facing.

Classes will be shortened as follows to provide time for the assembly:

- 1st period 8:00 to 8:35 a.m.
- 2nd period 8:45 to 9:20 a.m.
- 3rd period 9:30 to 10:05 a.m.
- 4th period 10:15 to 10:50 a.m.

Oopopa U. Hep Cats Panic Over Cool Yule

(We dug the following cool tale in the University of Washington Daily and thought some of you cats would derive a honk from it. It was penned by a hep chap named John Tewkesbury.—ED.)

Once upon a time at the cool school of Oopopa U. two hip kids were going steady like. These cats had been digging the texts the most but when they well upon the holy days they closed up shop for a real cool Yule and nervous New Year. The doll and her daddy had really flipped for the vacation thing and at the beginning of the next crazy quarter they came on the least.

In fact the frail commented to her male, "Daddy-o this loafing is a gasser." And in the goofing department they both came on big. Well, Uncle Sugar's gone "greeting" came on the scene as advertised and man that doll's man was a reel gone galoot. The quarter was finished and so was daddy-o.

Meantime the frail had also pulled a frantic flunk but being a hep chick she decided to join a real crazy combo headed for nine'neurotic nights in L.A.

Orchestra To Present Concert

The annual winter concert by the University Symphony orchestra, Carl Claus, conductor, has been announced for 4 p.m. Sunday, January 17. Featured soloist will be Ruth Krieger, cellist, a member of the faculty of the department of music.

Conductor Carl Claus, associate professor of music in the University, founded Idaho's orchestra in 1922. Thus the group is one of the oldest in point of years among colleges and universities in the Northwest. Through the years the Idaho Symphony has come to be known as one of the outstanding school orchestras in the area.

As a recognition of his talents both as a conductor and a composer of original symphonic music, Professor Claus filled an engagement last year as guest conductor of the Portland Symphony orchestra, conducting the premiere public performance of his tempoem, "Horizons."

She will be heard in two movements of the Concerto in D Major for violincello and orchestra, by Haydn. A popular concert artist, Miss Krieger has performed for several seasons with the Coolidge String Quartet in New England, and has concertized extensively in New York and the eastern United States.

A native of Seattle, Miss Krieger recently completed a short concert tour of Washington cities. She is visiting instructor in music theory and cello and string classes at the University.

The concert, which is open to the public without admission charge, will be given in the University auditorium.

Journalism Award Applications Taken

Formal applications for graduate scholarships in journalism at the Institute for Journalistic Studies must be received by February 15 in order to be eligible for consideration for awards for the 1954-55 academic year.

Two fellowships and a scholarship to be awarded carry stipends of $1,200, $1,400, and $1,800. Requests for additional information should be addressed to the director, Institute for Journalistic Studies; Stanford university, Stanford, Calif.

Four Areas Only Set Aside For Kissing

(ACP) — At the University of Houston, the dormitory council issued the following regulations to govern necking on campus:

- "1. Area outside of 'D' and 'E' dorm reception rooms approved for goodnight kisses only.
- "2. Cullen boulevard, side of 'D' dorm; recommended.
- "3. Cars in dorm parking lot only if we can see your heads showing over car seat.

"All other areas are taboo. Don't go about wrecking the necking by using the taboo areas."

Military Honorary Entertains Cadets

Idaho's chapter of Scabbard and Blade will entertain a number of outstanding Army, Navy, and Air Force cadets and midshipmen at a smoker on Thursday, January 14 at 8 p.m. in the Memorial gymnasium.

The program will consist of a short business meeting followed by cider, donuts, plenty of free cigarettes and some appropriate movies. It is important that all those who have qualified attend. Selections will be made immediately after the smoker and initiation will begin soon after finals.

Concert To Be Aired On KUOI

A preview of the University Singers Concert being held tonight and tomorrow night will be aired this afternoon at 5 p.m. over KUOI, it was announced yesterday by Special Events Director Charles White.

A 30 minute transcribed preview will highlight several numbers from the concert. The entire program heard Wednesday night at the Music building will be transcribed for rebroadcast Saturday.

The time of the rebroadcast will be announced Friday, White said. At an announcers' meeting held Saturday, production director Donald Bundy and White assisted members of the announcing staff in handling remote broadcasts. Station KUOI handles extensive remote coverage of special campus activities.

On Saturday night and Sunday morning, late KUOI dial twisters picked up a six and a half hour request program until 2 a.m. Announcers Jerry Chandler and John Hughes broadcasted into the morning until 2:15 a.m. Sunday.

Larry Looney is a recent addition to the announcing staff and will broadcast on Friday night.

Coffee Check Being Made

Some changes and improvements have been reported by the SUB committee.

Playing cards are available for use by students at any time during the day. ASUI cards are to be left in the carton behind the counter as deposits. They can be recovered when the playing cards are returned.

Due to some complaints from noon-hour patrons, the juke box has been turned off during that hour.

Gripes about SUB coffee have reached official ears. Jim Bowlby, SUB manager, says that he is keeping a close check on the popular fluid. He promises improvement if the complaints are found to be true.

Suggested improvements may be dropped in the SUB mailbox by any student. Committee members can also be contacted. Serving on the sub committee are Barbara Higgins, chairman, Lee Anderson, Don Broughman, Jim Seeley, Donna Shively, Jane Rensberg and Ted Torok.

Seaweed One Of Dishes At Cosmo Club Dinner

Delicious dishes of their native lands were prepared by foreign students for the international dinner of the Cosmopolitan Club Sunday evening January 10. The dinner was held in the home of Bob and Dale Tracy.

China was well represented with different rice dishes prepared by Po Ping Wong. Chopsticks were provided for experts and laymen, which were the cause of much laughter from the onlookers.

A Siamese dish, called "palow" was prepared by Sa-ard Bunkard. In English, "palow" means Siamese eggs soaked in Worcester and then cooked with pork.

Other foreign dishes were Japanese seaweed, Puerto Rican chile con carne, Mexican tamali pie, and German sauerkraut with sausages.

America, Too France, Norway, Greece and America were represented by delicious pastries and other trimmings.

After dinner, entertainment was furnished by Po Ping Wong and Shirley Lent.

The Cosmopolitan club extends its sincere appreciation and thanks everyone who made this dinner a very successful one. Seventy-five members and guests attended the dinner. Among the faculty members present were: faculty-advisor of the club and proctor of Chrisman hall, Mrs. Tom Hopkins and Mr. Hopkins; assistant professor of geology and geography, Dr. Harry H. Caldwell and Mrs. Caldwell; professor of English, Dr. William C. Banks and Mrs. Banks. Others were in

Coeds to Compete

The affair was already scheduled as an all-campus dance, and the Executive Board decided to make it a benefit. The Suburbans are donating their music, and the SUB committee has authorized free use of the ballrooms.

Bill Parsons, ASUI president, urges that the women's groups turn in the names of their acts and the participants to the ASUI president's office by Thursday night. The present plans call for the money to be presented to her personally during the student recruitment tour next February.

Senator To Speak At Political Dinner

February 9 is the date set for the annual Lincoln Day dinner sponsored by the Latah County Women's Republican club. It will be held in the Grange hall starting at 7 p.m.

Senator Barry M. Goldwater, Republican senator from Arizona, will be the guest speaker. Ten counties will be represented at the dinner.

Bill Nixon, Sigma Chi is in charge of tickets for students.

Borah theatre in the SUB will be the site of the forthcoming three act plays written by European authors. The plays will be presented students to give them practical at 8 p.m.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday All plays will be directed by the experience in the field of directing. James Madison will direct August Strend's "Miss Julie," June Adams will direct "The Post Script" by Emile Augier, and Mary Lou LeFors will direct Anton Chekov's "On the High Road."

Betty Smithers, Geneva Sarvis, and Kenneth Putzier will have roles in "Miss Julie." "The Post Scripts" cast will include Thomas Adams, Nancy Leek, and Paul Matthews.

"On the High Road" cast will include Joseph Jessoph, Thomas Wright, Gary Leaverton, Muddy Numbers, Dennis Thompson, Sally DuSault, George Rensink, Glenmar Hoke, Donald Hartman, Gordon Groff, and David Johnson.

The performance time for the famous oratorio "Elijah" has been moved up to 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings in the Recital hall in the Music building.

This is due to a heavy schedule of activity in concerts and other events during this week. This earlier starting hour will free the performers and the audiences by 9 p.m.

The University Singers will be under the direction of Norman R. Logan with Marian Frykman as organist.

Vocal soloists for "Elijah" will be Margaret Fox, soprano; Karen Hurdstrom, alto, and Rex Eikum, tenor; Joanne Poitevin, alto, and William Kerr, baritone. Margaret Johnson is the regular accompanist for the singers.

Some of the presentations that will highlight the program are "As God the Lord," "If With All Your Hearts," "Hear Ye, Israel," "Man of God," "Arise, Elijah," "O Man of God," and "Lord God of Abraham."

In order to help distribute audiences for the two nights, students are requested to attend Tuesday night's performance, while all others are asked to plan to attend the repeat performance on Wednesday night. The presentation is open to the general public without admission charge.

Rah-Rah Spirit Bad; Team Is Sad

(ACP) — Readers of the Iowa State Daily have come up with a solution to their school's athletic problems. When the Daily complained editorially that only seven students had turned out to give the football team a sendoff to Oklahoma (where Iowa State lost, 47-0) a group of readers wrote a letter with these suggestions:

- Fire (1) the football coach, (2) most of the assistant coaches, (3) the athletic director, (4) the basketball coach, (5) the publicity director and (6) the radio announcer who broadcasts the games.

Then, the readers added, build up a strong alumni organization to help athletes through school.

"Educational standards of a school go easily unnoticed by the ordinary populace," the letter said. "However sports are known to all and it is here that a major portion of college interest and spirit develops."

Noted Pianist Featured

Claudio Arrau, pianist, will be featured Thursday evening at 8 p.m. in the fourth performance of this year's Moscow Community concert series. Arrau will present his program in the Memorial gymnasium.

Manchester Guardian calls him "the greatest of the great pianists." Rudolph Elie, of the Boston Herald, says that Arrau's music has a captivating effect on the audience and each person is literally "hypnotized" by the notes which

New Attorney Now in Moscow

Cope R. Gale, class of '49, arrived in Moscow Saturday to assume duties in the recently formed law partnership of Goff & Gale. Gale will have charge of the new firm while Abe M. Goff, class of '24, is in Washington, D.C., as legal adviser to Postmaster General Summerfield.

Goff received the appointment from the postmaster general last week. It will become effective on or before February 1.

The Gales now reside at Blaine Manor with their four children. Mrs. Gale is the former Virginia Keeton, daughter of Justice and Mrs. William D. Keeton of Boise. Judge Keeton is currently serving his second term on the Idaho Supreme Court bench.

Gale is a former Benewah county prosecuting attorney and was recently chairman of the Benewah county Republican central committee.

He is a partner in the St. Maries Realty company and was manager of the Benewah county credit bureau.

Why Teacher Shortage?

Every year more and more graduates of high schools are continuing their education by enrolling in some type of college or university within the United States.

The above statement is a well-known fact and startles no one, but there is really a great amount of irony in it.

The irony lies in the fact that these students in American institutions of higher learning are being guided to positions as lawyers, doctors, engineers, dentists and many other higher-than-average paying jobs by the LOWEST paid professional people in the country, the teacher.

The average professors, instructors, and administrators in colleges have spent many more years than most in study only to become part of the lowest paid professional class in the country.

In a recent bulletin, released by the National Education association, it is reported that if you are planning to be a college instructor you will receive a beginning average salary from $2,743 in a small private college to a possible $3,533 in teachers' colleges.

It also states that a professor in a state university may receive a beginning average salary of $5,525 and professors in some municipal universities may receive $8,950.

"The median salary paid to presidents of state, private, and municipal institutions is $15,000," said the bulletin, and at the same time a great number of HEAD COACHES at these same schools are being paid as much as $18,000.

These are the hard cold facts and they would seem to imply that the only two types of people who would be satisfied with the teaching profession are

- (1) those who do it for the love of the job and the satisfaction it might offer and,
- (2) those who are satisfied with that type of profession because of lack of ambition or because it might offer a type of positional security, being a lower pay grade. The most optimistic opinion would tend to hope most of the teachers are such because of the former reason.

Money is not everything in a job. Happiness is also important. Still, it is hard to imagine how a person can be happy in a stagnant position which has not financially brightened as the cost of living increases.

Now, is it hard for you to understand the need for teachers when the average physicians, dentists, and lawyers are making thousands of dollars a year more than their associates in the class of professional people, the teachers? T.C.D.

The Student Speaks . . .

We just finished reading a rather wordy article in the Minnesota Daily Ivory Tower. What the thing boils down to is—if you got something to say, say it.

Now, before modifying that statement, let us mention that the dissertation called "Why the Campus is Silent" was written by a member of the clergy, James Boren, who is a counselor on the Minnesota campus.

Boren fears that the silence on campuses today is like that of Germany in 1937. And Boren should know. He was an observer at the German Hitler Youth camps in that year.

Yet, the students our campus are not particularly silent in expressing their views on items of interest to the campus community, the state and the nation.

Evidence interest shown in last year's national election. Look over Jason's column or note the many opinions expressed in "Dear Jason" on events that come up from week to week concerning our students.

And notice the Campus club students last spring who protested certain changes and took a positive stand to express their ideas.

These actions and many more like them reflect a different spirit than the Rev. Boren insinuates exists on not only the Minnesota campus, but other campuses as well. We can see that our students on this campus, whether singularly or in groups, speak out what they believe is right.

If they are proven wrong, they graciously accept the other opinion, view or regulation and abide by it for the common good.

We are proud to say that there is no atmosphere of fear and suppression on our campus as Boren insinuates there is, at least on his own campus. There is, instead, a healthy, tolerant spirit with respect for the beliefs, rights, and privileges of the other guy.

We would like to invite the Rev. Boren to the Idaho campus during the Borah conference this year just to observe the democratic actions of our student body and faculty in their keen interest and participation in this program.

And we believe that Boren is jumping to some wrong conclusions if he is using his own campus as a reference point.

If the editorial policy of the Minnesota Ivory Tower is any hint of the spirit of the campus, then Minnesota students need not fear the ominous silence of Germany of 1937. J.C.

Biology Expert Will Give Lecture Here And At WSC

Dr. David S. Anthony, director of the Biology division of Mound Laboratory in Miamisburg, Ohio, will visit the University of Idaho and the State College of Washington on January 13, 14 and 15. Dr. Anthony's appearance is being jointly sponsored by the local chapters of the Society of the Sigma Xi at the two institutions and by the Natural Sciences Lectureship committee at the State College of Washington.

Dr. Anthony will present three lectures. The first is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, January 13, in 207 New Science at WSC, and is entitled "How Carbon Is Made and Measured."

The second lecture will be Thursday evening, January 14, at 7:30 p.m. in 104 Agricultural Science building here, when Dr. Anthony will discuss "The Types of Re-Energy Commission."

Dr. Anthony will also be in Boise on Friday, January 15, at 7:30 p.m. in room 207 New Science.

An informal seminar will be held at WSC in the Orton room of Holland library at 4 p.m. Friday, January 15. Dr. Anthony will be available for consultation with staff members of the two institutions who are engaged in research involving radio-active elements, or who have problems under investigation in which radio-active substances might prove useful.

Arrangements for personal consultation on such problems should be made through Dr. T. B. Keigh, program chairman of the U of I chapter of the Society of the Sigma Xi.

To Consult

The series will end with a report on "The Effects of Radiation and Certain Chemicals on Cell Division and Escherichia coli," to be presented at WSC at 7:30 p.m. Friday in room 207 New Science.

An informal seminar will be held at WSC in the Orton room of Holland library at 4 p.m. Friday, January 15. Dr. Anthony will be available for consultation with staff members of the two institutions who are engaged in research involving radio-active elements, or who have problems under investigation in which radio-active substances might prove useful.

Arrangements for personal consultation on such problems should be made through Dr. T. B. Keigh, program chairman of the U of I chapter of the Society of the Sigma Xi.

Penn Grad

Dr. Anthony is a graduate of Pennsylvania State college, with advanced degrees from the University of Wisconsin in the field of Biochemistry. He has been associated with biochemical research involving tracer elements since receiving his Ph.D. degree in 1942. His work has included the study of fat nutrition, the intermediary metabolism of bacteria, and the radiotoxicity and metabolism of fission products.

For several years during and after the war, Dr. Anthony served as senior chemist at the Clinton Laboratory at Oak Ridge, Tenn. The Mound Laboratory, where Dr. Anthony is currently employed, is affiliated with the Monsanto Chemical company and is now engaged in various research projects which employ tracer elements.

Prof To Sue Gypping Spirit

(ACP)—His faith "materially shaken" in the power of crystal balls, Dr. Albert Hyma, a professor at the University of Michigan, has sued his Detroit spiritualist for $16,400.

A fellow of the Royal Historical Society of London and of the Gugenheim Memorial foundation, Hyma began having seances with the spiritualist in 1937. Her financial advice, he said, has been nothing but wrong. At one time the professor even mortgaged his house to get $9,500 he needed to follow up a tip.

During the seances the spiritualist would connect Hyma with his mystic "godfather"—English author Thomas Carlyle.

Professor Staley To Speak in Boise

Professor W. W. Staley of the University of Idaho's college of mines will be a main speaker at the meeting of the Idaho Society of Professional Engineers, to be held in Boise on January 15.

Staley, who returned this fall from a year's leave of absence in the Philippine Islands, will speak on mining and cultural developments in the islands. He will supplement his talk with colored slides.

More than 200 professional engineers in the fields of chemical, civil, electrical, mechanical and mining engineering will attend the meeting. Also attending from the University of Idaho will be A. W. Fahrenwald, Dean of the college of mines and director of the bureau of mines and geology.

In considering the effects of hydrogen or atomic warfare, Americans are presented with two common reactions: Citizens may ignore the issue altogether by refusing to delve into the mysterious, or they may seek to learn more about these deadly weapons and possibly methods of protection against their powers.

The latter is the only remedy. Why should information concerning the bombs be kept from the American people? Baylor and other university students should be the first to learn as much as possible on this subject. The public needs a more complete knowledge of atomic energy.

Exhibition Held At Art Building

An exhibition of painting by Herald John Elias of Muskegon, Michigan, is now on view in the Art building. There are about 30 pictures in a variety of media, including oil, casein, tempera and water color.

Elias says of his own work, "Although I am an abstract artist, I am not what is generally termed a non-objective artist as it is difficult for me to paint without a definite subject in mind."

The paintings show much original talent and are meticulously rendered. Many are clearly the works of long and painstaking effort. This combination of qualities will be found pleasing by people who find themselves unable to accept the "unfinished" appearance of Modern Art.

Some outstanding works are titled "Cathedral," "It is the Law," "Dennis," "First Year," "Merian and Dennis," "Black Nude," "The Water Tower," "Waste," and "Corner Tenement," plus several numbered studies of architectural forms.

Elias was born in Cleveland, Ohio, in 1920. He served in the U. S. Air Force during the war and later received a degree of bachelor of fine arts from the Art Institute of Chicago and did graduate work at the Art Institute and DePaul university.

He is at present assistant to the director of the Hackley Art gallery in Muskegon, Michigan, and teaches art and ceramics at Muskegon Community college. He has exhibited widely and has been acclaimed as a promising young American artist.

The exhibition will be shown until January 22 and can be seen during the day and evening, Monday through Friday, all day Saturday and Sunday, 2 to 6 p.m.

It was the teen-aged daughter's first dance, and she desperately wanted an off-the-shoulder frock. Her mother felt she wasn't old enough to wear anything so sophisticated. There was a heated family discussion, and it was father who finally settled the problem.

"Well," he proposed, "let her try one on. If it stays up—she is old enough to wear it."

Idaho Medical Students Rate High In The Nation

"Our capable students need not worry today about getting into a medical school," Dr. J. Irving Jolley, chairman of premedical and predoctoral studies at the University of Idaho, said today.

Reporting on the University's placement record, Dr. Jolley said that in the last five years "every one of our students with a 'B' or better average has been accepted."

Since 1948, over 80 per cent of all Idaho students who applied have been successful in gaining admission to a medical school. This compares favorably with the national average of 33 per cent during the same period.

"Applicants for medical schools in 1952 throughout the nation totaled 16,700, Dr. Jolley said, "and there were only 7,425 places for first-year students. This means that there were approximately 2 1/4 times as many students wanting to get into medical schools as could be admitted, but we have been fortunate in placing a much higher percentage than the national average."

Dr. Jolley added that Idaho recently took steps to assure places in medical schools for future students from this state by participating in the Western Interstate Commission on Higher Education, ratified by the last Idaho state legislature.

Under this program, states not having medical schools may, if desired, work out contracts with other states in the region having schools.

Dr. Jolley's report showed further that during the last six years 51 University of Idaho students have entered 18 different medical schools throughout the country.

Many of these students were accepted by several schools. Prominent among the school which Idaho students are attending are the University of Chicago, Columbia university, Harvard, Northwestern, Oregon, Utah, Washington university (St. Louis), and the University of Washington.

At Washington university in St. Louis, Idaho students have won the Gill award, for the top student in anatomy in classes of approximately 90, four times in the last five years.

Three University of Idaho graduates are now on $500 a year scholarships at this same school.

New Wheat Hailed For Stem Rust Resisting Quality

Cheering news for southern and eastern Idaho wheat growers who have been plagued by stem rust comes from the University of Idaho agricultural experiment station.

A new variety of wheat with resistance to rust, Lemhi 53, has given such good results in trial grounds the seed supply will be increased this year on several of the branch stations.

"If Lemhi proves as good as it now appears to be, the new rust resistant strain will be released to certified seed growers in 1955," announces Dr. J. E. Kraus, associate director of the station.

Lemhi 53 is a product of Idaho's wheat improvement program, in which both smut and rust resistance is being bred into the principal wheat varieties of the state.

Lemhi is one of the principle spring wheats of eastern and southern Idaho. It was developed at the Aberdeen branch station by Harland Stevens, agronomist with the U.S. department of agriculture, with cooperation of plant breeders in the University agricultural experiment station.

Civil Service Gives Teaching Exams

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced a new elementary teacher examination for filling positions in Indian schools throughout the United States and in Alaska. The salary is $3,410 a year.

Appropriation education is required. No written test will be given. The maximum age limit is 50 years (waived for persons entitled to veteran preference). Students who expect to complete all the required courses within 90 days of the date of filing applications may apply.

Full information regarding the examination, including instructions on how to apply, may be obtained at many post offices throughout the country or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C. Applications will be accepted until further notice.

Phi Phis, Kappa Sigs, And Sigma Chis Have Elections

Social life is at a premium this week—could it be that spirits are already dampened by the cold hands of the forthcoming final week?

The Pi Phi, Kappa Sigs, and Sigma Chis have joined the ranks of those under new regimes and Sylvia Moore, Dave Porter and Dick Rodgers now maintain the presidencies of their respective houses.

Housemothers have come into the news with the SAEs welcoming the return of Mrs. Snyder to the SAE house, and Steel house the arrival of Mrs. Macartney.

PI BETA PHI
Helen West announced her pinning to Fiji Bob Hanson at a Christmas fireside on December 16.

House elections were held January 4 with these results: president, Sylvia Moore; vice president, Ginger Jones; treasurer, Billie Wilbur; social chairman, Helen West; recording secretary, Joanie Redford; corresponding secretary, Carolyn Harper; song leader, Kathy Fitzgerald; rush chairman, Nancy Nelson; scholastic chairman, Jessie Deklotz; pledge supervisor, Loren Schmeizel.

An all-house exchange with Willis Sweet was held January 7. Entertainment was provided by Barbara Brewer, Shirley Holden, Sonia Henriksson and Norma McRae. Hugo Riecken presented us with a beautifully-wrapped silent butler, which they had relieved us of during the Homecoming festivities. The rest of the evening was spent in dancing, bridge playing, and keeping Beaver from taking more trophies.

SIGMA CHI
At formal dinner last Sunday, Bill Luscher presented LouAnn Olsen, Barbara Simmons, Sonia Henriksson and Ann Carson with their Sweetheart of Sigma Chi finalist trophies.

During the past week the Sigs serenaded Marilyn Evans, who is pinned to Bruce Sweeney, and Karen Hinckley, pinned to Bob Campbell. During the Christmas vacation Cecil Hayter announced his engagement to Jane LaBarge of the Tri Delta house.

An exchange was held with the Gamma Phi Beta house; Sue Brown was special guest.

A basketball team composed of Bob Haines, Dick Hood, Jim Cothran, Marv Abrams and Bruce Sweeney represented Sigma Chi in the Boise Christmas Invitational Basketball tournament.

House election results are: president, Dick Rodgers; vice president, Bob Campbell, and secretary, Jim Saad. Rodgers succeeds Bruce Whitmore.

KAPPA SIGMA
Dinner guests Sunday included Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Thomas, Jr., Mrs. John Armitage, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lynn, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Merrill, and John Hess.

Sunday evening voting resulted in the election of the following officers: Dave Porter, president; Reid Lau, vice-president; John Harrigfeld, master of ceremonies; Jim Van Sant, scribe, and Ed Parsons, house manager. The outgoing officers are: Don Clark, president; Leo Muller, vice-president; John Tall, master of ceremonies; John Armitage, scribe, and Mandus Lundahl, house manager.

Wednesday evening dinner guests were Chuck Munson, Russ Brown, Paul Barker, and Bruce Beckman.

Friday evening the SAE's welcomed the return of their housemother, Mrs. R. S. Snyder, from a short leave of absence.

At 10 a.m. Sunday the pledges rode out of the Sig Alpha house with president Ernie Bedke in tow. Bundled in a mattress filled with catsup and mustard, he was escorted to the other end of the campus where it looked like a morning dip was in store. Due to the fact that it was a little chilly outside, he was exempted from this usual custom. Billie Wolf, Alpha Phi, did the honors of untying him. "Ernie" had the misfortune to have passed his pin.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Boor were Sunday dinner guests.

Out Of The Past

1 Year Ago
January 13, 1953 — The season's one-acts feature "Scenes from Shakespeare," opening tonight, including "The Taming of the Shrew," "Othello," and "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

Carlos Fallon, Colombia, South America, brought an appreciative roar from ROTC students when he mentioned Officer Candidate school and referred to it as a "degenerate kindergarten" in a speech to University students and townspeople yesterday.

5 Years Ago
January 11, 1949 — Idaho's proposed Student Union Building construction was OK'd December 15, 1948, by the Board of Regents.

A preliminary survey has shown that students generally favor combining all charity drives into one Campus Chest drive each year.

10 Years Ago
January 13, 1943 — "Gee-Eyes Right," the first musical comedy ever to be presented at the University, will make its debut in March. It was written by University staff members Hall Macklin, Ted Sherman, and Geoffrey Cooke, who drew a setting familiar to war time Moscow.

The story concerns a college stripped of men by the war, leaving only women in possession, and a unit each of soldiers and sailors are detailed for training.

25 Years Ago
January 11, 1929 — Registration fees have been upped to $23, with the addition of a $5 laboratory and library service fee. The following charges are now included: $8.50 ASUI fee, $5 extra-curricular or gymnasium fee, $4.50 health fee, and the $5 service fee.

Engagements

Dixon-Manweiler
Diane Dixon announced her engagement to Howard "Brick" Manweiler at Sunday dinner at the Kappa Alpha Theta house.

White and red aces of hearts with "It's in the Cards" — Diane and Brick gave the announcement. The centerpiece was a large ace of hearts made out of white mums and red carnations. The ring was displayed on a heart-shaped nose-gay of red carnations.

Guests included Mrs. Leroy Dixon, Mrs. W. H. Cox, and Joy Chilcott.

Both are sophomore students in business administration and are from Rathdrum. An August wedding had been planned.

Weddings

Delores Jean Morton became the bride of Jerry Reed December 27 in a candlelight ceremony at the First Presbyterian church of Jerome.

The bride is a graduate of Jerome high school and a freshman at the University of Idaho. The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of Wyoming. They plan to reside at Emmett after the semester and attend summer school here.

Girls from Steel house who attended the wedding were Joy Smith, Peggy Webb, and Roberta Bancroft.

WRA NEWS

This Saturday Idaho's WRA will host for a volleyball game with WSC. All girls who are interested in playing this game should attend the volleyball practice Wednesday evening. This practice is open to everyone and house groups are especially urged to get in some team practice.

Two volleyball games scheduled for Thursday in league A are: Alpha Phi vs. Tri Delta; Pi Phi vs. Hays.

The badminton singles tournament began Saturday morning. Several matches were not played that were scheduled. All first-round matches must be completed by Wednesday noon, so competitors should check the chart in the women's gym to arrange make-up matches.

Participants are urged to watch the tournament chart for future game schedules.

RECKS CUT COSTS
Williamstown, Mass. — (I.P.) — Fourteen of the fifteen fraternities at Williams College are participating in the Campus Business Management plan this year, in an effort to cut costs through a system of centralized purchasing.

Under the new program, purchasing is handled by the college's director of dining halls. Each fraternity buys its foodstuffs from a central storage center incorporated in the new $1,400,000 Student Union, under construction.

FFA's To Elect

Election of officers for the coming semester will highlight the next meeting of the Future Farmers of America. The meeting will be held in Ag. Science 104 beginning at 7:30 p.m.

A short film will be shown.

FINAL EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

First Semester 1953-54

(Two and one-half hour examinations—three examination periods each day)

Regular class rooms will be used for the examinations unless instructors make special arrangements through the Registrar's Office. Examinations in courses not included in the schedule will be arranged by the individual instructors during scheduled examination week. Examinations in courses comprised of lecture and laboratory periods may in most instances be scheduled according to the sequence of either. Announcement of time and room should be made by the instructor. Rooms should be reserved in the Registrar's Office for "arranged" examinations in order to avoid conflicts with scheduled examinations. For these courses in which a two and one-half hour examination period is not considered adequate, the final class hour or laboratory period could be used for additional examination purposes.

Your hands on the Future!

When you grip the wheel of an Air Force jet, your hands are on a fast, high flying future that leads to the top in jet aviation.

• Once behind the controls of an Air Force jet, you leave the humdrum of everyday life . . . soar far above the cares of the crowd into a bright new future of adventure and excitement. You're part of a select flying team, playing for the highest stakes of all . . . mastery of the Jet Age! You'll win too, because you've been trained to win. You have confidence in yourself, in your fellows, and in your plane, the fastest and safest flying equipment in the world.

As an Air Force Aviation Cadet, you get in on the ground floor of jet aviation, learn jet flight with the latest equipment and best instructors. You graduate as an Air Force lieutenant earning over $5,000 a year . . . a man thoroughly prepared for leadership in both military and commercial aviation. Join the many fine young men who keep their hands on the future. Train as an Aviation Cadet!

HERE'S WHAT YOU DO:

1. Take your high school diploma or certificate of graduation and a copy of your birth certificate to your nearest Air Force Base or Recruiting Station. Fill out the application they give you.
2. If application is accepted, the Air Force will arrange for you to take a physical examination at government expense.
3. Next, you will be given a written and manual aptitude test.
4. If you pass your physical and other tests, you will be scheduled for an Aviation Cadet training class. The Selective Service Act allows you a four-month deferment while waiting class assignment.

You may be eligible
To qualify as an Aviation Cadet, you must be at least a high school graduate. However, you will be of more value to the Air Force if you stay in college, graduate, and then volunteer for training. In addition, you must be between 19 and 26½ years, unmarried, and in good physical condition.

IDAHO QUINT, BEAVERS SPLIT 70-65; 65-60

Oregon State's "Swede" Halbrook's 32 points weren't enough last Friday night against Idaho's Vandals, as they swept over the highly favored OSC Beavers 70-65 in the first game of the two-game series between the two schools.

The Vandals who had split with the Oregon Ducks on Tuesday and Wednesday of last week went on to Corvallis to face the tallest man in basketball and the tallest team in the history of the sport. They were also facing a highly favored quintet, but it didn't dampen their spirits or efforts in routing the Beavers.

Many predictors were also at a loss after the final score came out as to who might be the kingpin in the Northern division this year.

Shaky Start

The Vandals who played a rather unsold first half came out to lead the rest of the way during the last two stanzas. OSC came up within 3 points of Finley's squad but were unable to pull ahead.

Halbrook and his boys tied the score three times during the first half.

Build up Lead

Idaho's second string went against the Staters in the third quarter, and not only held them but advanced the score up to a 50-39 lead at the end of the third period of play.

Dwight Morrison, Idaho's 6-8 center, went out of the tilt on fouls but was brought back in the last minutes of the fourth quarter after the official scorer declared he had only four persons to his credit. The tall redhead went on to score four more points before the final gun sounded.

Despite Halbrook's efforts, the Vandals were able to go ahead of the veritable giant and his teammates for the biggest upset so far this season in Northern division play.

Just Chatter

By JOHN McDERMOTT

It looks as though Skyline Drive ski area will be open for use in a few short weeks if all goes well with setting up the rope tow. From the last reports we had, the rope had been ordered and would be here soon so that it could be installed.

There's been a lot of work done on that hill this fall, and every bit of it has been voluntary with most of the credit going to members of the ski team who have not only worked up there, but helped lay out the area developing the best possible places for ski runs.

The hill won't be in full operation this year. Only the intermediate run will be open, but from what we understand, it is quite a run and will afford any type of skier a good downhill jaunt.

It seems that the building up of Skyline has been quite a community project. People from Moscow and surrounding towns have been putting in voluntary man hours and many merchants have donated shop space and equipment to further developments of the hill.

To date, the hill is equipped with a warming hut and good parking area and almost enough snow to start skiing. Workers on the hill predict that by the time the rope is installed, the snow will be bountiful and plenty of good schuss-booming will be available to worshippers of Ullr.

Some of you might have been wondering what the "VV" was in the intramural standings. Several people were stumped by it and couldn't figure out whether it was an Arg misprint or the real thing. It's the real thing and it stands for Vets Village. They aren't doing bad either. Vets Village team 2 is yet to be defeated in the intramural basketball tourney.

We're also starting to check to see what kind of prospects there are available for the intramural all-star hoop squad.

We may as well use this little bit of space to apologize to Wade Halbrook for the constant misspelling of his name. It seems we picked up the idea it was spelled "Halbrook" and came to find out it was Halbrook.

Last weekend was something of a predictors headache in the basketball world. Idaho not only went to Corvallis with the hopes of winning against Oregon State, but they did win.

Idaho has been tabbed the team to watch, and after upsetting the Beavers, they will be more worthwhile than ever to watch. In the eyes of the writer of this column, they may be the team not only to watch during the remainder of the season, but the team to beat.

Someone said the other day that a lot of Idaho people were paying off debts after the Oregon State upset. That would seem to be quite unloyal to the Vandals. We hope the losers are paying off with smiles on their faces. It hurts to Chrisman Hall No. 1, Vets Village No. 2 and Willis Sweet No. 1 remained today as the only unbeaten teams in the independent section of the intramural A basketball league. Four teams including defending champion Delta Chi are unbeaten in the Greek loop.

Besides last year's champs, the undowned teams in the fraternity circuit are Phi Delta Theta, Sigma Chi, and Kappa Sigma. Of these, PDT set a new high in scoring for the year, rolling up an 82-37 win over the Phi Taus.

Alpha Tau Omega, Phi Kappa Tau, Phi Delta Theta and Willis Sweet chalked up bowling wins in last week's play.

Nine Mittmen Travel To Sunny California

Three ring veterans and six newcomers to the Idaho boxing team embark by plane upon a two-match California road trip tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock.

The veterans include Lynn Nichols, Don Anderson and Hal Solinsky.

On tap Thursday night for the Vandal mittmen is Cal Poly at San Luis Obispo. Saturday evening will find the Idaho sluggers at San Jose State College at San Jose.

The Idaho team got a bit of the taste of pushing leather Friday night in a smoker held at Memorial gym. Several newcomers captured the eye of head mentor Frank Young. Mike Hepler, a sophomore transfer from West Point, ineligible for PCC competition this year, and Ron Titus, who mixed it with two-year veteran Lynn Nichols, both did a commendable job, according to the coach.

Other boxers competing in the smoker who are not making the trip are Mick Polillo, Varsal Peterson and Roy Westfall, fresh prospects, and Frank Fletcher, Glen Erickson, Jack Talbot, Jerry Manderville, Dick Symons and Ed Hanson.

Peterson, from Shelley, put up a good fight with sophomore Ken Connel at the 135 pound weight. Coach Young considers Peterson among his top fresh prospects who, with experience this year, will be helping his varsity mittmen in the future.

The squad is flying in order to give the boys as much rest as possible so they will be in good shape for both matches, Young commented yesterday.

There will be a meeting of the Ski club this Thursday at 6:45 in conference room A of the SUB. Business for the meeting will be feasibility of ski trip between semesters.

There will also be a report on Skyline Drive ski area.

Vandal Defense Tumbles Down After Weekend

The 81 points scored by the Oregon Ducks against the Idaho Vandals in the opening game of the Northern Division campaign Tuesday night sent the Vandals down to 10th place in the national defensive ranks, the NCAB said.

The Vandals in winning six of eight games have allowed opponents an average of 55.1 points per game. The nations' leader is Oklahoma A&M, winner of 12 of 13 games. The Aggies have given up 50.2 points per game. Washington State, with six wins and four losses, ranks seventh in defense by allowing its foes 52.7 points per game for 23.7 points per game.

The offensive leader, the NCAB reports, is George Washington U., winner of seven straight games. The leader has scored 88.3 points per game. Seattle U. is third with an average of 86.2.

In the individual categories, Idaho's Dwight Morrison is fifth in the nation in field goal percentage. The tall Vandal senior has hit 39 of his 73 attempts for 53.4 percent. Ed Halberg of Oregon is 15th in shooting percentage with 48.3 percent.

Big Swede Halbrook of Oregon State ranks 21st among the nations scorers with 237 points in 10 games for 23.7 points per game. Halbrook is 19th in rebounds with an average of 14.2 per game.
