Summer Theatre Comes Back To Idaho Campus

The color and glamour of New England's summer stock theatres are coming to Idaho.

Idaho's biggest "barn" — the University of Idaho field house — is being opened this summer to capture the theatrical atmosphere of New England's barn performances by summer companies. Opening of the field house is in conjunction with reviving the University's summer theatre, which was discontinued during World War II.

In making the announcement, J. F. Weltzin, director of summer school, pointed out that the summer theatre is designed to give both acting and production experience to students and teachers — in addition to providing fine entertainment for the Moscow area.

Five plays — three modern comedies, a revival show and a melodrama — will be presented during the eight-week summer term, June 14 to August 7. One of the shows will be telecast on a Spokane television station, and another one will be an exchange production with Washington State college.

Undergraduate and graduate students enrolling in the summer theatre will receive two to eight credits, depending upon the number of weeks enrolled and the number of plays in which the student participates.

The student who wishes to "live" theatre will have an opportunity to devote a full eight weeks to theatre production and will receive eight credits. His life during the day will be one of rehearsals and production assignments; at night he will be in the world of make-believe, grease paint, costumes and applause.

Other students may fit their drama schedule to their other summer school courses, and will receive credit accordingly.

Jean Collette, chairman of dramatics, will direct the summer theatre. All five plays will follow the popular arena style of production, with the audience seated on all four sides of the acting area.

With apologies to Dr. Karl Klages, University weatherman, we think the weather has been vile. It is bad enough to wake up with that built-in nylon film over your eyes. It is doubly numbing to sit through an entire morning and afternoon of fog and snow bound lectures.

The crusher comes when you expect to be out of the haze in time to see the sun set. But you ain't because Ma Nature's special brand of external fog comes tripping in. And if, as the marj said, it is coming in "on little cat's feet," the puss had better be the one in boots. Pneumonia is hell.

According to Jim Bowlby, SUB manager, the alleged nationwide slump in business has hit the campus. Mr. Bowlby told us yesterday that the Bucket was having one of its worst days in a long time.

We asked the good man for possible reasons. His reply? Spring Fever! Think of it, spring fever in February! Might be the title of a new song if anyone wants to write one.

Seriously, with the hole in the Bucket (pun) and the rise in coffee prices, we can see a cup of coffee with 15c written on it coming our way in the future. However, this is entirely unofficial and unconfirmed.

We were pleased that the University did not chicken out and cancel the showing of the scheduled Russian film. Of course, the film is hardly classed as "propaganda" or "radical" or any of the other McCarthy metaphors.

And even if it is partly objectionable, we'd like to think our students are clever enough to know the truth from the bull. As men all over the country are finding out, once you ban a part of one book or film, you start a chain reaction. The trickle becomes a flood and soon the dam is washed away.

We're with anybody who rejects a contract for witch hunting. Give the students a chance to prove that their education is teaching them how to think straight. Let's have more "partially objectionable" films.

Proposed new library," it says, and immediately the "Move the Library" and the "Restyle the Library" forces join hands and swing into battle in defense of the Ad lawn and popular architecture.

Where it will end, we don't know. Personally, we feel that the Ad lawn site would be the best one since it has the large advantage of being central. Also personally, we think the design of the building is attractive.

OK, go ahead and scream. Frankly, we think some students, having had a slight sip of medicinal architecture, are putting themselves up as experts. It was truly written, "A little knowledge is a dangerous thing."

However, the amount of thunder being raised in opposition is considerable and should be given notice. We don't know if any changes could be made, even if popular demand boiled up to burnings in effigy. But then again let's sit tight and hope we get a library — ANY kind of library.

Play Fields Authorized For Coeds

Plans for new women's dormitories and recreational fields to be located south of Ridenbaugh Hall and the Home Economics Building were announced today by President J. E. Buchanan, following board of regents approval at their Boise meeting this week.

Other improvement and repair work for the campus, as authorized includes the removal of the old frame building known as Center Cottage, relocation of a power line, removal of trees, installation of a drainage line and water main, the first phase of grading, and stockpiling and distribution of topsoil.

The science and geology buildings will receive new light fixtures. Also, there will be towel-washing facilities in the Memorial gymnasium, and explosion-proof lighting installed at the dairy barn.

Banquet Begins R E Week Soon

Religious Emphasis Week will begin February 21 with a banquet at 5:30 p.m. in the central ballroom of the SUB.

Bob Wells is in charge of tickets which are $1 per plate. There is also a ticket salesman in each living group.

Betty Thompson is in charge of the non-profit banquet which will feature the Vandaleers, and an introduction of the prominent men that will speak during Religious Emphasis Week.

All members of the Argonaut staff (reporters, advertising, circulation, sports, copy, night, photo and editorial) are requested to meet in the Argonaut office Thursday, February 11, for Gem pictures, at 4:00 p.m.

Cram For Exam By Listening To Sam

Some people have trouble studying with the radio on but it's a cinch that you won't around American University in Washington, D.C.

Senior class president and disk jockey Sam Albert recently got into print in Newsweek magazine when he began a radio program featuring professors of undergraduate courses reviewing their respective subjects.

Although not officially approved, "Cram With Sam's" broadcast time is now listed along with the final exam schedule.

The idea originated when Albert started reading his assignments between records on his disk jockey show. The program is now sponsored by the radio station and Omicron Delta Kappa, a scholarship and leadership fraternity for juniors and seniors.

Editors Find Russia Wet With Vodka

(ACP) — Russian students are familiar with the American idiom, "down the hatch," reports one of seven United States college editors now touring the Soviet Union.

The seven editors spent New Year's Eve with students of Moscow University and, according to Dean Scholkopf, editor of the University of Minnesota Daily, welcomed 1954 in true Russian style.

"Festivities started," Scholkopf reports, "with a musical program in the university auditorium. Following that the seven Americans and a group of Russian students retired to a private midnight supper and a round of toasts.

"The first toast — to world peace, incidentally — was with vodka. There is no sipping the stuff. The Russians were quite familiar with the idiom, 'down the hatch,' and were insistent that everyone comply. After that there were more vodka toasts to perfectly innocuous proposals. Then followed toasts with champagne, cognas, wine and beer, in that order. Interspersed with the toasts were rounds of caviar and other Russian dishes."

Four of the seven Americans, Scholkopf says, had to be helped to bed after the celebration.

From Moscow, the touring editors headed 1,800 miles south to Azerbaijan, one of the 16 Soviet Republics, and from there to Georgia, Rostov, Yalta, Kiev and Minsk.

Soviet Premier Malenkov turned down the editors' request for a personal interview.

Orchesis Announces Membership

Second semester tryouts for Orchesis and Pre-Orchesis were held Wednesday, February 3. New members were tapped Monday evening in their respective living groups.

New members of Pre-Orchesis include Velma Warren, Betsy Scudder, Judy Hodgins, Kay Wendell, Elmore Henry and Sonia Hendrikson. New Orchesis members are Nancy Casteel, Val O'Donnell, Chan Atchley, Henry Eyrich, John Meyer and Dave Omans.

The theme for the Orchesis Spring Show has been chosen. Among other contrasting types of dance themes the English "creep" dance will be compared with the American way of dancing.

A longer dance form will portray the life of Peer Gynt. Original music for one of the dances is being written by a music student.

Plans were made to attend a master class at WSC. It will be given by Harriette Ann Gray and Company. Ann Gray is a well-known dancer and choreographer.

Those who were interested but were unable to tryout or Orchesis or Pre-Orchesis may contact Patricia Rowe at the Women's Gym before February 12th.

Foresters Set Dance Date

Sabbatical Leave Given 2 Professors

Two associate professors at the University have been selected by the faculty committee and approved by the regents to go on sabbatical leave this year under the University "extension plan."

To be given leave during the academic year 1954-55 are Alfred E. Haltman, associate professor of mathematics, and Roland C. Bevan, associate professor of agricultural economics. Haltman will do advanced study at the University of Oregon, and Bevan at Michigan State or Iowa State College.

The sabbatical leaves under the extension plan were instituted in 1947 by the regents to provide more opportunity for faculty members to increase their knowledge in their particular fields.

NOTICE

About 20 books were not claimed after the I.K. used book sale. Also, there is some money left. Students who have not yet picked up their books and money should contact either Dewie Newman or Louie Barrett at the SAE house, 2114.

Money not claimed by February 17 will be turned over to the March of Dimes.

Criminals Caught By Prof's Sketches

Alfred Dunn, professor of Art and Architecture at the University, is working at an increasingly popular new idea in crime detection.

The object is to draw a picture of a wanted criminal, and the FBI picks the man up.

There was a bank robber the FBI was hot after about three years ago, but they had no leads. Dunn went to the scene of the crime, and interviewed the witnesses. None of them had a good description of the man, but he drew sketches from what they had.

From these he sketched what he thought the criminal looked like. The picture was taken to all the people in the vicinity who might possibly have seen the man.

A few thought the picture looked familiar, but each had some different ideas. After many more drawings, Dunn drew a composite. It didn't satisfy everyone, but it was fairly close.

The FBI flashed the picture around, and caught the man. The sketch matched him almost exactly. Dunn went on their list as a part-time agent. He gets regular agent's pay for the time he spends on a job.

Dunn's most recent case was a bank robbery in Victor, Mont. A man had lifted about $15,000 the day before Christmas. Four days later, Dunn arrived in Victor.

A little more than a day later, his work there was finished, and he returned to the campus. In a short time the man was picked up.

"Sounds easy, doesn't it? And remember that Dunn is battling 1000 for his three years of work. All his sketches have turned out to be very close to what the criminal actually looks like.

Complications

However, there are a few complications. The descriptions of the on-the-scene witnesses are usually far from correct. When a man is in the act of committing a crime, his face is contorted. He is scared. Think well, too, about the many disguises possible in any particular case. And there is the time element. On one case, Dunn was not called in for 30 days. Imagine trying to get someone to describe a person he had not seen for that long. Perhaps he had had only a few second's contact at that time. Any number of things could go wrong.

You're In The Army Now

In a brief ceremony in the office of Lt. Col. James A. Moore, Charles W. Duffy, Robert G. Michell, Gerald E. Gordon, Harry W. Brizee, and Jack W. Perry were commissioned as second lieutenants in the United States Army. Gerald Gordon is going into active service immediately. Pat Duffy, Harry Brizee, and Jack Perry will go into active service in June. Bob Mitchell has been referred to attend the University of Washington Medical school. The ceremony took place February 1.

Educator Will Speak On Freedom

Dr. Harry D. Gideonse, president of Brooklyn College and one of America's foremost educators and economists, will speak at the University of Idaho auditorium at 11 a.m. tomorrow. His subject will be "What Does Education for Freedom Mean?" This is the fifth speech in a series of public events sponsored by University of Idaho.

Dr. Gideonse is a graduate of Columbia University, and has served as the president of Brooklyn College since 1939. His writings include "The Higher Learning in a Democracy," "America in World Economy" and "The Commodity Dollar." He has been an outstanding participant in the University of Chicago's Round Table, a top radio program for many years.

Classes will be shortened to enable all students to hear this speech. Periods will be shortened as follows:

1st period — 8:00 to 8:35 a.m.
2nd period — 8:45 to 9:20 a.m.
3rd period — 9:30 to 10:45 a.m.
4th period — 10:15 to 10:50 a.m.

Sigma Delta Chi Holds Initiation

Members of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism honorary, held their annual initiation banquet Sunday night in the Syringa Room of the SUB. Seven pledges were initiated earlier in the afternoon.

They include: Al Dieffenbach, Ricky Jones, Donald Romanik, Ray Sipes, John Gillis, Chuck Alford and Gary Pietsch.

Members of the honorary that conducted the initiation ceremony were John McDermott, Fred Williams, Joe Corless and Jim Peterson.

Bill Johnson, managing editor of the Lewiston Morning Tribune and Bill Wilmont, publisher of the Colfax Gazette were guest speakers at the banquet.

Students Differ On Site For New Library Building

By JOE CORLESS

Since the announcement of the proposed site of the new library building on the lawn across from the north door of the Ad building, the coffee in the SUB has been sweetened with discussion of the pros and cons of the location.

Although both sides are pretty definite in their convictions, they all agreed that we badly need a new library. "That's the first thing this campus needs," urged Fred Williams. Ronnie Glover added, "If they have to draw designs for a new building in a new location, as some students propose, it will be another fifty years before we get our library building."

Summing up some of the expressed ideas was Ted Torok, who stated, "I think it's going to be a horrible spot. They are blocking off a lot of the beauty of the campus." Says Jerry Hansen, "Leave the Ad lawn alone."

Nancy Buchanan is in favor of

Small Animals Get Special Housing

Amphibians have been given special housing facilities in a new $33,000 small animal laboratory recently completed. The new one-story structure is located west of the Agronomy building.

Besides providing space for rats, mice, cats, dogs and guinea pigs, the all-reinforced concrete structure has a built-in frog pond. The pond is 3 1/2 feet square and 18 inches deep.

George Gagon, University engineer, said the building was constructed entirely of concrete, even to interior walls and floors. Purpose of the concrete, he said, was to facilitate cleaning. The building will be used by several departments on the campus as a central research facility.

Among the applicants for space are the College of Forestry, the psychology and biological sciences departments.

NOTICE

All students who have Part-time Employment Applications on file please come in to the Student Counseling Center as soon as possible to change your free hours schedule for the second semester.

Those who do not report will have their applications removed from the file.

First semester grades are now available at the Registrar's window in the Ad Office building.

NEW JAZZ?

Capitol Records, Inc. has come out with a hep disk. They say it will answer the childhood question: "Where did I come from?"

The record album is a 27-minute documentary record of an actual birth, produced by physicians in a Madison, Wis., hospital for radio broadcast.

Campus Recruitment Tour Starts

Bill Parsons, ASUI president, Guy Wicks, field agent, Louise Carter, dean of women, and Colleen Hinchey, AWS president left Moscow late Wednesday for Weiser to begin the spring recruitment trip to Idaho high schools.

They will visit the Weiser, Payette, Caldwell, Nampa, Meridian, Emmett, Boise, Twin Falls, Jerome, Gooding, Burley, Rupert, Preston, Malad and Blackfoot high schools.

Next Tuesday the group will visit the Idaho Falls High School and also visit Nancy Benfor.

Arts Or Specialization?

The engineering student learns the trade of an engineer during his four or five years at the University. The liberal arts student studies everything from ancient history to modern English, and is often heard complaining that his subjects will be worthless to him on the job.

The big question is one of specialization in education. Is a student, who has a broad education in the humanities, better suited to fill an executive position than the student who spent his college years studying strictly in one specific field?

An interesting comment on this question appeared in Time magazine (January 18, 1954) when A. A. Stambaugh, board chairman of Standard Oil of Ohio, said "Real leadership is compounded of the broadening cultural influences of liberal arts colleges.

"Industries have lots of men worth $10,000 a year, but can't find many worth $100,000."

The article also stated, "The (business executives) have found that engineering graduates are often so unschooled in the humanities that they talk and write badly. They have not the wide background needed to become executives."

The problem has revealed itself right here on the Idaho campus. One of the stumbling blocks for the engineering student seems to be a course in English involving engineering reports. The student has applied himself to specialized courses so long that when he has to meet the requirements of an English course he finds it quite difficult.

If specialization is a detriment to one's chances of ever becoming an executive, then something should be done about the deficiency.

Maybe the engineering student on the five-year plan should enroll at least one year in humanities and then go into the specialized courses required for an engineering degree while at the same time carrying English throughout the five years.

It's a good question and a hard one to solve. Even to become the $10,000 specialist seems to fulfill most ambitions let alone ever dreaming of the $100,000 position. —F.D.W.

Movie Might Bring Comment

The ASUI film committee is bringing a movie this Thursday which may excite a lot of comment from the audience. This is the Russian picture, "The Grand Concert."

Because of the sickening propaganda found in many Russian films, the University has been somewhat sensitive about permitting a Soviet movie to be shown on this campus.

However, consent was given to present this picture because it was believed that propaganda was pretty much lacking. The movie mainly deals with Russian music and ballet. So, it was felt that propaganda could not be too much in the fore.

Editorialists and critics alike said that there was little political hullabaloo in the film, but a preview here leaves some doubt in our minds as to the correctness of that opinion. In the dialogue of the film, outside that of the opera cuts, there is definite political intimation that the Soviet Union and her way of life is the greatest thing in the world.

And at the end of the film we shall see two huge photos of Stalin and Lenin which form the backdrop to a stage. However, Stalin has died as men must.

But the great music and dance of the world will live on. The great Russian classical and folk music and dance which are featured in this movie are what the film was brought to the Idaho campus for. Take the bitter with the sweet with that in mind. —J. C.

Halteman, associate professor of mathematics; Eric B. Kirkland, associate professor of physical education and swimming coach; and Emmett E. Spiker, instructor in physics.

of the State Board of Education will be guest speakers.

College Professors Using Television For Teaching

(ACP)—A glowing, glimmering tube is creating a new breed of college professor. He is forced to lecture to a handful of technicians and a tiny red light. All the while, he must maintain the grinning neighborliness of some of the highest paid talent in show business.

Television has so convincingly demonstrated itself as an educational force that college faculty members are actually going to school again to learn how to utilize its potential. Educational institutions are carrying on mammoth fundraising campaigns to finance non-commercial, strictly educational, channels of their own.

Throughout the country, colleges and universities are offering, via TV, courses to "viewdents" or "teledents." Professors must learn to better the medium's top entertainers, for a flick of a dial and the "viewdent" cut class.

Latest to attempt TV teaching, and first in New England, is the University of Bridgeport (Conn.). The Bridgeport classes are standard, 50-minute ones, and are offered without charge by a local commercial station. At present, "Living with Literature" and "Personal Adjustment in Family Living" are conducted, but more are to come.

Give College Credits
While the Bridgeport station donates the time, several schools meet their financial problems by charging fees and giving college credits to TV students.

Others have decided the best way to utilize TV's potential is to own and operate an educational channel.

Iowa State College, University of Houston (Texas), University of Southern California and Michigan State College now have stations on the air. Construction permits have been granted to the University of Illinois, University of Kansas, Kansas State College, University of Michigan, University of North Carolina, Ohio State University and University of Washington.

Six construction permits have been granted to the board of regents of the State University of New York, which plans to build an entire network of educational TV stations.

Experiment In 1932
Grand-daddy of the colleges and universities engaging in TV activities is Iowa State, where TV was an experiment way back in 1932. WOI-TV, the college station, now originates more than one-fourth of the filmed material being used by beginning educational channels. WOI-TV last week boosted its

DEAR JASON

Dear Sir:

Recently brought to my attention was an excerpt from a column in the January 15 issue of your paper, "Jason," writing in "The Golden Fleece," criticized the Ubysey for printing several stories in a recent edition. Since apparently this is not the first time criticism of the Ubysey has appeared in the Idaho Argonaut I feel that some explanation should be offered to your readers.

"Jason" takes exception to a story reporting that University of British Columbia housing officials had posted a notice warning students that certain members of the men's dormitories had been returning home late "in a drunk and rowdy manner."

The second supposedly offensive article dealt with "service in Vancouver for unwed mothers." Apparently our tongue wasn't quite far enough in our cheek for "Jason" regarding this article. He asks if we were kidding or not. In regard to this article, Jason, we were.

But the first article was definitely not in a light vein and dealt with a problem which we believe was legitimate news. An official of the men's dormitories had posted the notice, and regardless of our private opinions on the validity of the charges in that notice, the posting of the notice was news and we treated it as such.

I don't know the policies under which you run your student newspaper at Idaho, but I doubt if you deliberately suppress news which is of concern to the student body. We operate under the same principal here at UBC and try at all times to keep The Ubysey a student newspaper, not a notice board.

I can understand "Jason's" confusion in deciding if we were kidding or not in one of these articles but I see absolutely no excuse for his use of the term "muckraker" in referring to the staff of the Ubysey. At UBC we regard as objective reporting the printing of news which does not reflect the bias of the writer or the paper. And we also have a name for newspapermen who intentionally suppress news which concerns the readers.

"Jason" also charges that we "played up" those stories. Actually I suppose the distinction between what "Jason" calls "distasteful reporting" and what we regard as undesirable but necessary reporting is a distinction in

Broadcast Features Idaho Groups

"Here We Have Idaho," recorded on the Idaho campus, will be broadcast tonight at 8:30 on KUOI. Featured on the program will be the University Concert Band, the Vandaleers, the Singing Sigs, Shirley Lent at the Hammond Organ.

Also included are the Pep Band, the I club with Ted Frostenson, Albert E. Whitehead, (associate professor and chairman of speech, and debate coach), who will speak on debate, Hazel Tomlinson from Kellogg, who will tell about a position in Washington, D.C., and Professor Merrill E. Deters (professor of forestry) who will talk on forestry.

Here's More About—Criminals

He is in and out before many people know what has happened. An average case takes about 30 hours work, and 20 to 30 sketches. Want to try it?

The editorial policies of two different newspapers. In case "Jason" has any illusions, we did not enjoy printing that story, but it happened and we felt, as a newspaper, we were obligated to print it.

I hope that this has cleared up any misunderstanding.

Sincerely,
Allan Fotheringham,
Editor-in-Chief
The Ubysey.

Dear Allan,
We think your attitude is inconsistent. While you are righteously beating your chest and shouting about journalistic ethics, you are at the same time telling us that you printed a lie, or at best a piece of fiction not labeled as such.

How can you reconcile your situation? "We do not suppress news," you shout, implying honesty of purpose. Then you tuck your little pink tongue into your cheek and proceed to deliver a snow job. Frankly, we still "misunderstand" you and your policies.

IT'S ALL A MATTER OF TASTE

I've tried so many cigarettes, All brands from A to Z—But nothing beats that better taste. It's Lucky Strike for me!

Charlene Bernstein
State University of Iowa

When you come right down to it, you smoke for one simple reason... enjoyment. And smoking enjoyment is all a matter of taste. Yes, taste is what counts in a cigarette. And Luckies taste better.

Two facts explain why Luckies taste better. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco... light, mild, good-tasting tobacco. Second, Luckies are actually made better to taste better... always round, firm, fully packed to draw freely and smoke evenly.

So, for the enjoyment you get from better taste, and only from better taste, Be Happy—Go Lucky. Get a pack or a carton of better-tasting Luckies today.

Betas To Sing In Canada Some Initiations Held

Social life seems always to hit a low ebb each year at this time and we find the "comings and goings" of new and old students and pledging by several of those remaining comprising much of the news.

However, the Betas are busily practicing for their annual Northwest songfest, to be held in Vancouver, B.C.; and the Sigma Chis have plans underway for their upperclassmen's dinner dance.

Wednesday elections at Delta Gamma resulted in the election to the presidency of Jane Blomquist.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA NEWS
Jay Nelson has been arranged pleasure trips to Genesee every week-end. It is rumored that the area is still uncivilized. Rapid shot-gun fire was heard late in the afternoon, and the boys scrambled into their cars and beat a hasty retreat towards Moscow.

Dick Hood was appointed by the executive board to the position of work chairman. He is assisted by Pete Gerpheide. Art Dalke was appointed study chairman, to be assisted by Stan Nealey.

Last week at formal initiation ceremonies, Bob (Porky) Campbell was initiated into the Fat Man's club. Dick Rodgers is the new president and Harvey Bickett is the new secretary.

Plans are now underway for the annual upperclassmen's dinner dance to be held in March. The Sig junior class is in charge of the dance.

Former Consul Bill Luscher of Libby, Montana, has graduated from the University, following the completion of the first semester. Former Consul Bob Stevenson arrived from Boise and will continue his studies in engineering.

PI BETA PHI
On January 28 a surprise shower was held for Ginger Symmes who is planning to be married in March. The same evening a fireside was presented in honor of Marilyn Kelson, Ginger Symmes, Peggy Lou Horn and Norma Ring who left at the semester.

Lucy Spencer was honored at a fireside on February 5. She is leaving to attend the University of Washington.

A demitasse on February 7 was given in honor of our housemother, Mrs. Mary Clark, who has now been with us a year.

Recent dinner guests were Dale Martin, Bob Donningworth, Jerry Hill, Tad Kuga, Fritz Holtz, Bud Van Stone. Weekend guests were Ed Kenworthy, John Mack, and Jim Barnes.

Notice—The Tekes still have several trophies from some sororities. If they want them, they'd better claim them soon.

If anyone knows the whereabouts of W. S. Johnson, one of Keith Winton's horn blowers, please call the Teke house. The last time he was seen was in the vicinity of Genesee headed north and carrying his horn.

The Tekes held a small convention in Genesee last Saturday night and everyone seemed to be in gay spirits, including G. Powell.

Recently pledged to "Teke" were Harry Ray, Fritz Holtz, Bud Van Stone, Jerry Hill and Tad Kuga.

The annual Founder's Day Banquet was held with the WSC chapter at Pullman and was reported to be very good.

Cartographers Needed In Alaska And United States

Two inquiries have been received recently by Dr. H. H. Caldwell, assistant professor of geography and geology, for cartographers for work in Alaska and the United States. The inquiries were sent from the United Department of Interior, Bureau of Land Management.

Positions for cartographers to supervise field parties engaged in surveying lands and cartographic aids are open at a pay rate per annum ranging from $3,125 to $6,325 in Alaska. Twenty per cent of these rates represents a territorial cost-of-living allowance which is not taxable according to a recent Internal Revenue ruling. In addition, each employee will receive a subsistence allowance each day he is in the field.

Recruiting Now

The Office of Research and Liaison, USAF Aeronautical Chart and Information Center, Washington, D. C., is currently recruiting to fill vacancies in the field of cartography. This center performs research and provides information relevant to the aeronautical charts and related materials required by the U. S. Air Force.

4-Year Course

Cartographers for the Alaska positions are required to have completed a four year college course leading to a bachelors degree with major study in cartography, engineering, mathematics or physics. Such courses must have included advanced surveying and training in the operation of solar transits.

Experience Necessary

Applicants who have had four years of progressively responsible cartographic experience or who have successfully completed study, in a school or institution above high school level, with an aggregate of 24 semester hours in the following subjects, may qualify for the position of Cartographic Aid, GS-5, $3410 per annum: cartography, college level math, physics, plane surveying, engineering drafting or graphics, descriptive geometry, astronomy, geology, geophysics, geodesy, advanced surveying, optics, navigation, forest mensuration, photogrammetry or photointerpretation.

Upon completion of a planned on-the-job seven month training program, promotional opportunities to GS-7, $4,200 per annum, with the organization are afforded those individuals who demonstrate technical proficiency in the field of cartography.

The University of Idaho Board of Regents met here Sunday. They reviewed the work of University officials and committees in sitting through a large number of possibilities for the head football coach position, but no deal was consummated with any applicant.

The search for a new mentor continues. It is still anybody's guess as to who the No. 1 man in Idaho football coaching circles will be.

"It may be some time yet before a coach is named," says President J. E. Buchanan.

Sallie Krehbiel Wins Contest

Sallie Krehbiel, DG, is the lucky girl whose name was drawn Thursday from the Chesterfield poster ballot boxes displayed in the campus coffee shops. Sally was awarded a carton of Chesterfield cigarettes for her correct entry guessing the identity of the Chesterfield mystery student — Lucy Spencer.

The Chesterfield contest, under the sponsorship of the two campus representatives, Fred Williams and Jane Querna, will continue for another two weeks when a new limerick is placed on the posters Thursday. Again, a carton of Chesterfields will be given to the lucky student whose entry is drawn from the ballot boxes.

The rules are the same. You guess the identity of the mystery student from the hints on the poster. Write your guess on an empty Chesterfield wrapper, and put it along with your name in the ballot box placed on the poster. It's an easy way to win a whole carton of Chesterfield cigarettes.

Gas Light Era Approved

Science has come a long way since the old gas light era, but gas flames are still important in the science laboratories at the University of Idaho.

The gas flames are for Bunsen burners, used by students and professors in their studies and research work. To keep them from going out, the Board of Regents recently approved a $4,000 project for replacement of the 28-year-old, rusted and obsolete tank supplying the campus laboratory gas system.

Caldwell To Teach New Course

A new course designed to bring teachers and students up to date on Idaho resources and their conservation will be offered during the University of Idaho's 1954 summer school opening June 14, Dean J. F. Weitzin, director of summer school, announced today.

The course, Idaho Geography and Resources, will be taught by Dr. Harry H. Caldwell, who has spent the past six years doing research on the subject. Stressing conservation of Idaho resources, the course will center on agriculture, forestry, mining, water resources, wildlife and recreation, transportation and communication and communities and regions.

Caldwell will emphasize changing developments and trends, new industries and possible new ones, new pressures on the land with population increase, and the resulting implications on water resources, wildlife and changing types of recreation.

Dr. Caldwell spent two summers in southern Idaho studying new developments in that area. He later gathered additional information in northern and central Idaho.

Summing up the summer school course Caldwell said, "The intent of this course will be to produce better informed laymen and teachers who will be able to discuss Idaho's resource structure with a full awareness of its significance, future trends, possibilities and problems."

University of Washington Huskies let the air out of Idaho's proverbial tires Friday and Saturday by eeking out a 70-69 win Saturday in a last half spurt of energy.

Idaho, who appeared to have the game locked in safe in the third quarter with a 12 point lead found themselves only nine points ahead at the end of the period and watched the lead dwindle to nothing during the fourth quarter.

With two minutes left the Huskies knotted the score at 67-all and went from there to win the tilt by one point.

The Vandals in dropping the two games over the weekend dropped all chances of a first place berth in the Northern Division leaving the battle a two-way race between the Oregon State Beavers and the University of Oregon Ducks.

Tom Flynn, Idaho captain and forward swept scoring honors for both teams by tucking away 18 points. Dean Parsons took Washington honors with a 16 point total followed by captain Don Tripp with 14. Tripp's shots from corners were a definite factor in giving the Seattle squad the victory.

Huskies Roll Past Idaho At Seattle

In the first game of a two game series at Seattle, the University of Washington Huskies bested Idaho's Vandals 65-59 giving Idaho a 4 won 5 lost record for the season. The Huskies led all the way hitting for a .516 percentage of their shots.

The Washington squad went into an effective stall during most of the last quarter of play to hold Idaho to 12 points while they made 8.

The Huskies held a 43-30 lead at the end of the first half, but the third quarter saw the Vandals begin hitting and slimmed the lead to a 10 point margin, 37-47.

Dean Parsons, Huskie center was top man of the game racking up 20 points for the evening 14 of them going in during the first half. Karl Voegtlin hit for 18 points for Washington. Bob Garrison connected with 13 to top the Vandal squad.

Spartan Boxers Best Vandals

San Jose State's Spartans didn't need a pre-card forfeit to take their second straight boxing decision over the Idaho Vandals Saturday night as all the host mittmen could muster were two wins and a draw.

The card score was 5 1/2 to 2 1/2.

Idaho's battling captain Lynn Nichols showed his usual superb style in taking a decision from John Frietas. The Idaho Falls flash had little trouble in outpointing his struggling opponent.

Ray Ragan, the Vandals lightest at 125 pounds, outlasted his Spartan foe, Kim Kanaya, who was sopping for John Hernandez. The Hawaiian scrapper ran out of steam in the third round and Ragan merely stayed out of the way.

Vic Harris and the Vandals' Ron Titus battled to a three round draw in one of the best bouts. Each fighter mixed it on even terms for the first two and tired in the final round.

Wadsworth Makes Debut

Returning to the ring for the first time this year, Ralph Wadsworth, Idaho Falls sophomore, battled his opponent, Joe Rodriguez strongly for two rounds and showed signs of weakening in the final minutes to drop a very close one to the Spartan.

San Jose's 165-pounder, Tom Stern, to the surprise of many, outpointed senior Don Anderson, who had won easily when fighting at San Luis Obispo.

Spartans Take Three

Other results included: Dick Bender decided Jerry Manderville; Danny Hayes outboxed Ed Hansen and Dave Fannen won by forfeit from Idaho to give the Spartans three bouts.

Joey August, Spokane, was referee and Carl Maxey, former Gonzaga University boxing great, and Clarkston High School coach, Joe Miltenberger were ringside judges.

Peterson Wins Exhibition

In an exhibition match Varsal Peterson stopped Jack Talbott in the third round in freshman competition.

A planned heavyweight exhibition between Mike Hepler of Idaho and Dave Fannen was canceled.

Southern Branch Ringmen Fall

PULLMAN—Washington State and Idaho State each won three boxing bouts Friday night, but the Cougars gained the edge in forfeits and defeated the Idahoans, 5-4.

WSC picked up two points on forfeits — in the 165 and 178-pound divisions — while the defending NCAA champion Bengals scored only one, that in the heavyweight class.

ISC's Mike McMurtry won the heavyweight forfeit and also defeated Washington State's 165-pounder Gordy Gladson in a special match.

Idaho State's national 125-pound champ, Vic Kobe, had to go all out to decision WSC's Eddie Olson. Gil Inaba, the Cougars' national runnerup at 132 pounds, sneaked past Johnny Jaeger.

The shortest match went to the Bengals' Don Axtman, who stopped Dixie Riddle in 45 seconds of the first round of their 139-pound fight.

Swimmers Edged By WSC 42-41

Idaho swimmers broke two varsity records Saturday in a meet against WSC here, but failed to win the meet by one point. They were ousted 42-41.

Bill Buckley, who set a varsity record last weekend against EWCE in the 200 yard backstroke of 2:37:6 broke his own record Saturday when he paddled the 200 yards in 2:34:5.

Rich Bradbury, Don Medley and Jerry Jones broke a varsity medley relay record of 3:19 when they finished up in 3:18:1.

Ted Bell took diving honors with Byron Richards placing second. Medley was top man in the breast-stroke.

Top man in the meet was Ted Cummins, WSC tankman who won the 100, 200 and 440 yard freestyle events. He was also third man in the 440 yard relay.

Jerry Jones, Idaho swimmer placed second in both the 50 and 100 yard freestyle, said Eric Kirkland, swimming coach, Jones can do better than he did against WSC," said Kirkland, "although he did look very good Saturday."

Olaf Stavik, crack varsity skier walked away with individual honors in the eighth annual international collegiate ski meet at Banff, Alberta, Saturday and Sunday, but Washington State college took team honors with a 377.1 total.

Idaho placed fourth as a team and was able to bring home four trophies.

Idaho was second at the end of competition Saturday only two points behind WSC who took their third consecutive team crown.

Numbers placed third in the downhill and Kristofferson tied for fourth to give Idaho a second place team rating. Geertsen tied for sixth place.

Idaho, who possessed an excellent aggregation of downhill and slalom skiers lacked depth in jumping preventing them from entering enough jumpers to give the team the added points it needed to take first place in the meet.

The Vandal squad placed second in a cross country relay which was run without points being given. Harvey Hoff placed first for Idaho with Ullevalstetter, Flatebo and Stavik following.

Team placements for the meet were:

1. WSC

Just Chatter

By JOHN McDERMOTT

Even the law students are pulling fast ones these days. At the University of Oregon, the Legal Eagles, an intramural basketball squad was found to be playing the same team for both "A" and "B" basketball.

It seems the would-be lawyers were playing "A" ball under their own names and on nights when the "B" team played, they assumed the names of professors in the law school.

But the junior shysters had a short-lived career as basketball players and were declared illegal by the intramural department after they played a "B" game under protest by the other team.

It might be said that this group of lawyers will certainly be able to back up the adage that "crime doesn't pay."

All-star selections for intramural basketball here at Idaho is progressing quite well and a lot of good prospects for an all-star team have been stacked up. Larry Golding, intramural director mentioned the prospects of picking an all-star team from all the teams instead of all but the champions and then pitting them against the Vandal frosh squad.

Hartley Kruger, frosh coach, was behind the idea one hundred per cent and with the approval of the intramural managers at the next meeting, everything will be in order for the intramural stars to take the floor against the freshmen.

Cliff Kuhlman, sports columnist for the Oregon State Barometer picked a semi-presason Northern Division all-star lineup and names three Idaho players to his squad. Here is how he lined them up.

First string:
F—Ron Bennink, WSC
F—Ed Halberg, Oregon
C—Svede Halbrook, OSC
G—Bob Garrison, Idaho
G—Kenny Wegner, Oregon

Kuhlman's second string choices for Northern Division play to date was: Tony Vlastelica, Oregon State, Harlan Melton, Idaho, at forwards, Dwight Morrison, Idaho, center; and Don Tripp, Washington, and Barney Holland, Oregon, at guards.

Another little item we picked up from Kuhlman is the fact that Tony Vlastelica used to shoot free throws in his prep basketball days with hook shots. Sounds a little fantastic but it might be true.

What you don't know won't hurt you—unless you try to tell too many others about it.

Frosh To Make Swimming Debut Against Cou-Babes

Eight freshmen swimmers will make their debut this afternoon when they come up against the Washington State College frosh swimmers in the first meet of the season.

The freshman squad will be relying on freestyler Bruce Buckman for much support, said Eric Kirkland, swimming mentor. The tank coach also stated that Jack Helle, Dennis have been showing steady improvement and should add strength to the squad. Ed Russ, a diver, is also expected to show well against the babes from Cougarville, according to Kirkland.

Those swimming in the meet are:

- 150 medley—Dale Carlisle, Jack Helle, and Mike McKay
- 220—Dennis Jensen
- 50 yard free style—Bruce Buckman and Norm White.
- 150 yard individual—Helle and Gene Anderson
- Diving—Ed Russ
- 100 yard freestyle—Buckman and McKay
- 100 yard backstroke—Carlisle and Anderson
- 100 yard breast stroke—Helle
- 440—Jensen
- 200 relay—Buckman, Anderson, McKay and White.
