

'SKIP' STAHLEY WILL SERVE AS NEW COACH

Here's How—

"What Does Education for Freedom Mean?" was the topic of Dr. Harry D. Gideonse who spoke on the Idaho campus last Wednesday. He was the fifth in a series of public events speakers here.

So You Think You Got Troubles: Look!

Are you worried about your bank account, your grades, your lack of time? Things aren't really as bad as they seem. We have it easy here at Idaho compared to other campuses. If time is your worry, consider the Iowa professor who keeps his students after the bell rings. "Since the instructor expects the student to be on time, it is only fair to reverse the practice."

You'd have cause for your money worries if you attended Minnesota where there is talk of raising the tuition. At the University of Toronto the student body has a deficit of $1500.

At Westen Washington, the trustees have voted to raise the rent of veteran's housing. At San Jose, approximately 1000 students will be refused admittance next fall if the state legislature's proposed budget cut puts a ceiling on enrollment.

On Probation
Worried about grades? A survey at Oregon State shows that one student out of five is on probation. If you're worried about your shape, Lenard Docherty of the University of Washington refers you to an article entitled "Why I Never Joined a Sorority." The two answers included read:

"I don't fill out a sweater and I don't look attractive in a sleeveless, low-cut gown."
"I'm a male."

And Of Dates
A Cornell University freshman, apparently worried about dates, has offered to buy all the copies of the freshman directory. She believes that a picture published in the directory when she was trying to remove a piece of stringy substance from between her teeth will ruin her social life.

A final worry for the males is that of baldness. Dr. Laurence H. Snyder, Oklahoma authority in human genetics, says, "each bald father will pass on the shiny plate to one-half of his sons, and one to remove a piece of stringy substance from between her teeth will ruin her social life."

Dr. Snyder must know. He's bald himself.

We arrived at the scene of an auto crash at West 7th and Elm the other night. It was a familiar scene. That corner is one of the most dangerous spots on the campus. It is pitiful that a blind corner without a stop or yield sign should be allowed to go unchecked.

If the proper officials, committees, councils and what have you continue to refuse remedies, we urge you to take it upon yourselves to be careful at the corner of West 7th and Elm. Funerals come high and so does automobile damage and insurance.

To the new football coach we wish the best of talent and luck. We've always felt that these two items, coupled with a bunch of hard work and some real green dollars, were the answer to a coach's dream.

We have other things besides players. We have a stadium, a nice brisk climate and the schedule is all arranged. You don't have to do anything but give our fans a winning team. And why shouldn't we have a winning team? Please, Mr. Stahley, put the Vandals back in the upper areas of the PCC.

Freedom Not Democracy, Says Speaker

"The people of America have no general attitudes in common." This is the opinion of Dr. Harry D. Gideonse, as expressed in the speech he gave Wednesday at the University auditorium.

"What does Education for Freedom Mean?" was the subject for Dr. Gideonse's talk. He claims that "There is no other country in the world where so many people have the right to vote but do not exercise it, as America."

He describes the American people as "idiots" according to the ancient Greek meaning of the word. To the Greeks, an idiot is a person who excels in one thing but does not share in public responsibility.

"The American people too often give the words 'freedom' and 'democracy' the same meaning," states Dr. Gideonse.

"There is a sharp reduction in the number of graduate students now enrolled in our colleges. . . . This is the real problem of American education," he claims.

"Individualized education is impossible when there are too many students and faculty members in school. Progressive education in these institutions is non-existent. Only mass education reigns," said Gideonse.

Summer School Staff Named

The University of Idaho will draw on school officials from throughout the state to augment its staff for Summer School to be held June 14 to August 7.

New Wiring May Aid Campus TV

New developments in the stringing of wire to campus living groups to provide a clearer and stronger signal for station KUOI were announced this week by the executive staff.

If weather conditions are favorable this weekend, reports Assistant Station Manager Charles White, engineers will run wires from the Sigma Nu fraternity to Delta Gamma and Phi Delta Theta.

Wire will also be strung from the Beta Theta Pi house to Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Other arrangements with various living groups are pending, White said. We hope to have O.K.s from other houses in the general vicinity of wired-in houses. Also, plans are being worked out to include living groups in other campus areas.

"Wiring into Sigma Nu and Beta Theta Pi have been extremely successful and it is hoped that the new groups on the hookup will be able to hear KUOI better," White said.

A line has been placed into the Radio Center to enable live and transcribed programs to be piped from the University radio department direct to KUOI. The line was hooked into the remote output at MacLean field.

A meeting of all old and new announcers will be held at 1 p.m. tomorrow to enable them to learn of the recent programming and engineering changes and improvements.

Prominent Civic Leader Succumbs

Jacob F. Jenny, 72, former member of the board of regents and a prominent north central Idaho civic leader, died at a Cottonwood hospital Monday following a lengthy illness.

Funeral services were held Wednesday, with Business Manager Kenneth Dick and Alumni Secretary James Lyle representing the University.

Jenny was a member of the regents for nine years. He served from 1934 to 1939 and from 1941 to 1944. He also served on the State Board of Education, and represented Idaho County in the Legislature for three terms. In 1934 he was elected state senator for Idaho County.

A native of Utica, N. Y., Jenny came west to Cottonwood in 1902. In 1903 he married Anna Kees Seubert, and they engaged in farming and stock raising near Cottonwood continuously since then.

In addition to his state offices, Jenny also was a director of the Idaho Rural Rehabilitation Corps. He was chairman of the North Central Idaho, Planning Board comprising Idaho, Lewis, Clearwater, Nez Perce and Latah counties. He served on the state committee of the Farmers Home Administration.

Jenny was a member of the Cottonwood Chamber of Commerce and served as its president from 1943 to 1946. He was secretary of the Cottonwood Elevator Company, a life-long member of the Catholic church and a fourth degree member of the Knights of Columbus.

Engineers Win Awards

For having made the highest grade point averages among last year's freshman engineers, sophomores Allen Stubberud and Peter Van Houten were each presented with the Annual Sigma Tau Award at last Saturday's Engineer's Ball.

Ralph Townsend, vice president of this upperclassmen's engineering honorary, made the awards in lieu of the ailing Bryce Johnson, Sigma Tau president.

Both students received a silver medal symbolizing scholastic attainment in the field of engineering. Duplicate awards were given this year, as both winners completed their freshman year with straight 4.0 averages.

Stubberud, a native of Ponderay, makes his campus home at Willis Sweet Hall and is an electrical engineering major. Van Houten, a Campus Club resident, hails from Twin Falls and is majoring in agricultural engineering.

Band Awards To Be Given By ASUI

The Executive Board decided February 9 that caucus reports should be investigated and possible candidates questioned before proceeding with the appointment of a candidate to fill the position on the board that was vacated by Rich Orme.

The board also appointed Ted Torok and Dave Thompson to a committee to choose band awards. Sid Curtis was appointed chairman of the Bridge Tournament that is to be held February 21, and Del Naser was appointed chairman of the Budget Committee.

The candidate to fill the vacancy in the Executive Board will be chosen from the list of candidates from last year. John Sheridan, Donna Bray, Bob Bakes, Walt Root and Jody Ennis were candidates in the 1953 election.

The University Band has $51 from which it can purchase band awards under the supervision of the Executive Board. It was decided that band awards would be authorized similar to other ASUI awards.

DEAR JASON

Dear Jason,
 This is a copy of the letter we sent to the editor of the Ubysee in an attempt to rectify your display of bad manners and lack of courtesy in answering the editor's well-meaning letter.
 Mr. Allan Fotheringham, Editor-in-Chief, The Ubysee, University of British Columbia, Dear Mr. Fotheringham,
 With the appearance of our bi-weekly campus rag, we notice that our boy Jason has gone off the deep end again with his uncalled for, sarcastic answer to your well-written, well-intentioned letter. Inasmuch as we are identified with the student body and with any of the campus publications we are somewhat concerned with his indiscretion and wish to state that his biased views are not necessarily that of the entire student body.
 It seems that our editor does not possess sufficient journalistic inventiveness to fill his columns with news of local interest, so he must revert to picking apart small news items from other papers. Whether or not this is good journalism, it is not for we P.E. majors to decide. However, we can recognize incompetence and distasteful ethics in journalism and want no part of it.
 Best regards to our Canadian friends and especially the members and former members of the P.P.C.L.L., a good bunch of Joes.

CHALLENGE

Whereas: it is a known fact that the Idaho Foresters can squat lower than the Idaho Ags, and
 Whereas: everyone knows the Idaho Foresters can reach higher than the Idaho Ags, and
 Whereas: it is granted that the Idaho Foresters can grunt louder than the Idaho Ags, and
 Whereas: it is established that the Idaho Foresters are a meaner mob than the Idaho Ags, therefore be it hereby Resolved: it will be proven on February 18, Thursday, on the Ad lawn at 4 p. m. that the Idaho Foresters can tug harder than the Idaho Ags.
 So be it that on this day the Ags are challenged to meet the Foresters for a tug-of-war. The rope is to be furnished by the Foresters; a pile of barnyard fertilizer to pull the losers through is to be furnished by the Ags, who have plenty.
 The old law of science, "like forces attract," will prove a disadvantage to the Ags, whereas the Foresters will be naturally repelled by the manure.
 Also, as if the losers' fate is not nasty enough already, the loser will have to pay the further penalty of cleaning up the SUB ballrooms after the Foresters' Ball on Saturday, February 20. If by some twist of an insane person's imagination, the thought should occur that the Foresters will lose, the Foresters promise to clean up after the Ag Bawl on March 6.
 Just so the loser will know that the battle was really lost, a trophy will be at stake and will be presented to the winner by the loser at the intermission of either the Foresters' Ball or the Ag Bawl—depending on the outcome of the war. The trophy will be made by Foresters and will look like something never seen around these parts before. A wooden handle will have an ax-head on one end and a pitch-fork on the other. Here is the challenge, Ags! What do you say?

Improvement Suggested

Unfortunately, another car accident has disturbed the peace and quiet at Seventh and Elm near the Alpha Chi house. We say "unfortunate" because something could probably be done about that treacherous street corner.
 Most people who drive on the campus have had the experience of inching their way cautiously past that Seventh and Elm corner at some time or other. There are a few dare-devils who scoot through the intersection at excessive speeds. But, it is the treachery of the blind intersection that is probably responsible for Wednesday's accident and the others which have occurred there.
 Cars parked to the corner on both sides of Seventh street and on the East side of Elm obstruct vision of drivers.
 Here is the problem: What can be done to overcome the blindness of the intersection? Suggestions made by the chairman of the Traffic Safety Committee include placing a yield right of way sign on the Seventh street part of the crossing. He also set forth the idea that the curbs be painted yellow a good deal of the way in all sides so parked cars which obstruct vision would be eliminated.
 We like his ideas, but we have one other of our own. We feel that Seventh is quite narrow at the corner. That factor is a great problem to anyone trying to turn onto Seventh from Elm if another car is already on Seventh nearing the corner. This may also be a cause of accidents.
 So, to the chairman of the Traffic Safety Committee, we would like to request that the north side of Seventh as far as the SUB parking lot be labeled "no parking."
 We realize that any action as suggested above must go through quite a bit of red tape involving the Traffic Safety Committee, the operations council, and the city council. But, we want to urge immediate action.
 All too soon, someone may be killed at that dangerous intersection.

ACCEPTANCE

Last fall the University of Idaho Cosmopolitan Club challenged the WSC Cosmopolitan club to a soccer game with the loser walking the seven miles between Moscow and Pullman. Here, four months later we find WSC accepting the challenge.—Ed.
 To: U of I Cosmopolitan Club
 From: WSC Cosmopolitan Club
 Subject: Soccerball game
 We are very glad to announce that you Idahoans are able to play soccer; furthermore, that you have challenged us to play a game. We admire your courage; count on our sympathy.
 However, we were also informed that you want the game to be held in one or two weeks—a proposal that surprised us very much. Since we don't want to have any advantage over your team, we decided to postpone the game until the first week of March, a date on which we will have our International Week.
 Our purpose in postponing the game is to give you enough time to improve the difficult art of playing soccer, so you will not be too badly beaten. Between now and March you can also practice walking between Moscow and Pullman.
 Sincerely,
 J. Weinstein, Captain.

 Patronize Argonaut Advertisers

It would be useless to argue with you about such things as "campus rag," "uncalled for answer," "sarcastic," "indiscretion," "biased views," "incompetence," "distasteful ethics," and "bad manners." We just hope you understand what all those words mean.
 About the "journalistic inventiveness" and "picking apart small items from other papers," we have a word to say. A quick check of this year's Argonaut shows that over 75 per cent of the Golden Fleece was devoted to items of local interest.
 Any way you look at it, though, that column is the editor's PERSONAL column and does not reflect the views of University of Idaho students.
 We realize that we are a black-hearted villain and Mr. Fotheringham is a nice, sweet boy. But we'd like to invite you lads down to the office to answer our letters, you seem to have done a nice sarcastic, incompetent, biased and uncalled for job on us.
 Dear Jason,
 I received a clipping taken out of the Argonaut the other day. It concerned a benefit dance with proceeds to go to Nancy Benfer I heard about her accident, and notified some of her old Pi Phi sisters that are now attending college here in San Diego.
 Our meeting came to the conclusion that the University of Idaho has a pretty swell bunch of stud-

Picture of a man changing his motor oil

It's hard to believe now, we know. But several years back—before you could buy Royal Triton in most any city—some people who had discovered the amazing purple motor oil on a visit to California were in the habit of ordering it by mail after their return home.
 When a product earns this kind of loyalty, you think twice before you do anything to it, even to improve it.
 Yet we have just announced Royal Triton motor oil in two new all-weather, all-climate grades: Royal Triton 5-20 and Royal Triton 10-30. They lubricate with the thoroughness of a lightweight winter oil, protect with the toughness of a heavyweight summer oil.
 This is only one of hundreds of times since the end of World War II that we have improved a product you, the customer, were more than happy to keep right on buying as it was.

Why don't we wait until you demand these new and better things? Because we can't afford to. We are competing for your business, and if we don't constantly better our products our competitors will better us.

Obviously, no matter which one of the oil companies comes in first in this race, the real winner is... you.

Duke University Passes Out Cash

(ACP)—Student engineers work with actual motors, home economics majors bake cakes with real flour and—at North Carolina's Duke University—finance majors play the market with real money, reports an article in the December issue of Pageant magazine.

Source of the money is a Winston-Salem philanthropist who has supplied a $10,000 cash fund to the university to give students practical experience in investment techniques. The money has been set up in a trust fund; young investors aren't a penny richer if they run up to a million dollars, nor do they starve if they lose every red cent.

There are only two hard and fast investment rules: students can't sell short, and they can't buy on margin. Each term six students are chosen to serve on a board of directors, with the complete say about what investments will be made, when stocks will be bought, when sold and how they'll hold on to them.

"We'll have to renege that," said the undertaker as the coffin fell out of the car.

LDS House Holds Formal Initiation

Birth Of 'Worthal' Seven Years Past

The University of Kansas newspaper ran a contest for cartoons for publication seven years ago. Dick Bibler, under the illustrious name of 'Worthal', won the contest with a single cartoon for each edition of the newspaper.

Thus was born "Worthal" and his satiric tormentor "Professor Snarf". Misery must love company, because Worthal, typifying the exploited, down-trodden student, caught the fancy of students everywhere. A number of campuses conducted their own "Professor Snarf" contests.

As champion of the oppressed, Bibler was chosen president of the student body at Kansas. From there he went to Colorado State Teachers College and then to Stanford.

But a grim note enters next, for Bibler deserted the Worthal camp and joined forces with the Snarfs. He accepted a teaching job at Colorado State. About the same time, Stanford University press published a collection of LMOC cartoons and Bibler exhibited further snaffish tendencies when he remarked: "In order to guarantee sale of the book I considered making it a required text for my art classes." It would seem artist Bibler has little cause for concern as his book of cartoons ran three printings in October, alone.

However, Worthal's creator explains that the high cost of printing, advertising and postage leaves him a meager profit. Let's hope he hasn't forgotten the meager existence of his student days.

Out Of The Past

25 Years Ago
February 12, 1929—The ingenuity of Idaho students is hard to beat. In the spring, the dates flock to the arboretum, to the graveyard, and to the hills. But in winter they are not to be left out in the cold.

The latest report is that they have invaded the heating tunnel which runs from the Memorial Gymnasium under the sidewalk near the University Hut where it joins old pipes and winds up in the heating plant.

Cadets To Attend Summer Camp At Fort Lewis

About 75 Army ROTC cadets will attend summer camp at Fort Lewis, Washington, on June 19, it was learned today from Lieut. Colonel A. Moore, Idaho professor of military science.

Moore said location of the camp, and starting date, was received late yesterday from the Department of the Army for the general military science students. Last year, the first under the new general program, junior cadets attended camps all over the United States.

"Experience dictated," Moore said, "that students from a general training school were at a disadvantage when competing with students who had received specified branch training. Therefore, ROTC summer camps this year will be consolidated for students with comparable military curricula."

This year's summer camp will be of the usual six-week duration, with the closing date set for July 31. ROTC students attending camp receive the pay of army privates during the period, plus five cents per-mile for travel from their homes to the camp and return.

Professor To Serve On Committee

Dr. Frances Maib, associate professor of elementary education at the University of Idaho, has been appointed as a member of the state curriculum development and textbook committee, it was announced today by Alton B. Jones, executive secretary of the state board of education.

Jones, here for a joint meeting of members of the University college of education and of the State Department of Education, said that there had been no representative on the committee from the state's second education district since Kathryn Burgramm of Lewiston moved to Coeur d'Alene as county elementary supervisor. Mrs. Maib will fill the vacancy on the committee, which studies textbooks and other educational aids used throughout the state from grades 1 to 12.

Joining the University of Idaho faculty in 1951, Professor Maib has had extensive experience in elementary school teaching. She taught for 15 years in elementary schools of Grandview, Zillah, Sunnyside and Seattle, Wash. She holds a doctorate degree in education from the University of Washington.

Navy Tests Prove To Be Encouraging

Among the many high school and college students who took the Navy College Aptitude Test here in Moscow, and in other cities in the state on last December 12 were a number of the NROTC Contract students. Thirteen of these students achieved marks in the higher bracket and have been ordered to report to Seattle in mid-February for physical examinations and personal interviews.

About eleven scholarships will be awarded in Idaho this year and some of these will undoubtedly be awarded to University of Idaho men. Successful candidates will be appointed midshipmen, USNR. They may continue their studies at the University of Idaho, or if they elect, may go to another institution.

Scholarship Race For Foreign Travel Now Underway

The opening of the 17th annual scholarship contest for travel and study abroad, sponsored by the Students' International Travel Association, was announced this week. All-expense travel and study tours will be awarded to deserving high school, college, and graduate students on the basis of their scholarship records, home community contributions, and general achievements.

Founded in 1933, the organization makes possible low-cost educational travel. SITA is now America's largest organization in the field, with adventure trips by bicycle, rail, and motor to all parts of the world. Over 10,000 persons from the 48 states and 18 foreign countries have participated in SITA tours.

This year scholarships will be granted from the adventure tours, and also in conjunction with SITA's newly-established World University which schedules 17 study tours sponsored by leading universities in the United States and foreign countries.

Campus Will Get Slight Face Lifting

A modernization program is currently being conducted in the Ad Building, according to George Gagon, University engineer. At the present time, workmen are working in four classrooms. One of these rooms is on the 2nd floor and the other three are on the 3rd floor.

The plan is to modernize the lighting system, paint the rooms and lay plywood sub-floors. Workmen will cover the sub-floor with linoleum. Classrooms will also get new desks.

This modernizing should be completed in about 3 or 4 weeks.

Two Idaho Men Speak On Panel

Two Idaho men will participate on the opening day panel at the first annual Pacific Northwest Farm Forum at Spokane, February 15-16.

Moderator at the panel discussion of "building and maintaining agricultural production" will be Dr. D. R. Theophilus, dean of the college of agriculture at the University.

A member of that panel will be William C. Moore of Moscow, president of the Idaho Cooperative Council and state legislator from Latah County. Moore, a wheat farmer, is a former officer of the Washington-Idaho Wheat League.

Sponsored by the Spokane Chamber of Commerce, the farm forum was organized "to foster a better understanding, greater goodwill and mutual respect between farmers and businessmen of the Inland Empire."

A $6,855 grant from the Atomic Energy Commission will finance the fourth year of a special research study in forest tree physiology, announces Ernest Wohletz, dean of the college of forestry and director of the forest, wildlife and range experiment station at the University of Idaho.

This brings to more than $37,000 the amount the commission has awarded to the University of Idaho during the past four years for special forestry research with radioactive isotopes.

Primary objective of this research, explains Dean Wohletz, is to find the cause of pole blight, the mystery sickness threatening the white pine forests of the Inland Empire.

The research is being carried on with potted seedlings in the University greenhouse and with older trees in the Coeur d'Alene, St. Joe and Clearwater national forests.

Leader of the project is Dr. W. K. Ferrell, assistant professor of forestry. Working with him is Dr. E. E. Hubert, research forest pathologist, and Frederic D. Johnson, radioisotope technologist.

Former Cardinal Backfield Coach Takes Idaho Position

J. Neil (Skip) Stahley, formerly head football coach at Brown University and Toledo University, was named last night by President J. E. Buchanan as new head football coach at the University of Idaho following approval by the Board of Regents.

Stahley's telegram of acceptance, received at the University at 4 p. m., sent an optimistic feeling of football resurgence through the campus, because he was the unanimous choice of the screening committee and all officials concerned. They met and discussed the Idaho job with Stahley, who was on the campus for several days last week. At that time Stahley, who presently is backfield coach of the Chicago Cardinals professional football team, told the Idaho interviewers he was deeply interested in returning to the college football coaching ranks.

No salary was announced, and President Buchanan explained: "We traditionally do not announce the salary of any faculty member, and Coach Stahley is being hired as any other faculty member."

No Idaho Stranger
Skip Stahley is no stranger to Idaho nor to the Pacific Coast Conference. From 1950 to 1952, he was backfield coach at the University of Washington. While on the campus last week, he spent many hours going over motion pictures of past Idaho games.

Asked what system he planned to use if he took the Idaho coaching job, Stahley replied: "I will answer that one after I've gotten a good look at the players in spring practice. My policy is to use a system best suited to the players, not to try to adapt the players to any one particular system."

Stahley said that he would bring his wife and two sons, 16 and 14, to Moscow from their present Chicago home in June, but that he would come to the Idaho campus within two weeks to prepare for spring practice. He has been authorized to nominate candidates to fill the three vacancies on the football staff, and he said that he was starting on this immediately.

Penn State Star
Stahley, 44, comes to Idaho rich in playing experience and coaching know-how. He played his undergraduate football at Penn State, from which he was graduated in 1930 with a B.A. degree in pre-law. He also holds a masters' degree from Columbia University. During his senior year at Penn State, he was captain of both the football and basketball teams, and was selected by Coach Andy Kerr as a backfield star for the annual East-West Shrine game in San Francisco.

For a total of 10 years, he worked as an assistant under Coach Dick Harlow, considered one of the all-time greats among football strategists. Stahley's first coaching job was under Harlow at Western Maryland, where he was also assistant Dean of Men.

Coached at Delaware
In 1934, he became head football coach at the University of Delaware, but left there when Harlow induced him to come to Harvard as an assistant under him there. He remained with Harlow for six years at Harvard, until Harlow retired in 1940.

Stahley then moved up to the head coaching position at Brown. One of his assistants was William (Tippy) Dye, now head basketball coach at the University of Washington.

Called to Navy duty in 1944, Stahley coached the San Diego Navy team that year and the following one. Leaving the service, he became head football coach at George Washington University, and next took the head football job at the University of Toledo. In 1949, his Toledo team won seven games and lost two, and played Cincinnati University in the Glass Bowl.

Stahley was brought to the University of Washington in 1950 under Howie Odell, and resigned after the 1952 season to become backfield coach for the Chicago Cardinals, the position he is leaving to come to Idaho.

Passing Team Possible
A passing team is seen for Idaho, as passing has long been a specialty of Stahley. While coach at Brown, he successfully taught such a passing game that Brown established a new national air football record. During his regime as backfield coach at Washington that school set passing marks never surpassed in the Pacific Coast conference.

Stahley's record indicates his type of coaching is fitted to the material at hand, and his recent contacts with the professional game indicates his wide knowledge of all types of play as well as the latest improvements and refinements of the sport. He demands perfection, but with that he stressed the importance of fighting spirit. He does not depend as much on variety as he does on each individual performing his duties to make the team a functioning unit.

Oregon Ducks Invade Pool

Swimming Coach Eric Kirkland's varsity tank crew will face the University of Oregon Ducks here Saturday afternoon at 2:30 in the Memorial Gymnasium swimming pool.

The Ducks, who are making a circuit of the Palouse, will travel to Moscow Saturday after a dual meet with Washington State College.

Kirkland said Wayne Johnson, a letterman from last year's crew, will be swimming with the squad Saturday in the 400 yard relay. He said Johnson would be a "valuable man in the freestyle against Oregon." Byron Richards is another man to whom Kirkland is looking for help in the relay.

Jerry Jones, who looked good against WSC last week has improved greatly during the week, according to the swimming mentor and should be a strong contender in the 50 and 100 yard freestyle races against the Ducks.

Rich Bradbury, team co-captain and Bill Buckley have been showing good in the backstroke, he said. Don Medley, co-captain, and Jerry Light are also going to be a big asset in the breaststroke, according to Kirkland.

Just Chatter

By JOHN McDERMOTT

Intramural A basketball is over with and we have picked our all-star team that will play the freshman hoop squad.

We (Jason, Steve Ermine, intramural editor, and this writer) saw all the team in action and saw a lot of mighty fine basketball players. It was quite a decision to knock all our choices down to fifteen men, but we think we picked the ones that deserved it.

No matter how we would have picked these all-stars we would have undoubtedly left some hard feelings somewhere but we hope we didn't do wrong by keeping their name off the list.

Here are the fifteen that survived the final cutting:
Emerson Clark, SAE
Bob DeYoung, VV
John Foskett, DC
VaNoy Hymas, PDT
Jim Howard, PDT
Bruce Sweeney, SC
Mac Porter, LCA
Gene Lofdahl, WSH
Aubrey Stephens, BTP
Holly Crosby, KS
Ron Siple, BTP
Dee Hall, WSH
Tom Falash, VV
Sonny Long, CH
John Thornock, LDS

Hartley Kruger, frosh coach is behind the idea and is willing to match his freshman against the all-stars. Kruger, who is in Seattle, has not been available to set a time for the game, but it will more than likely be before the WSC-Idaho game.

Members of the team will be notified and have ample time to hold practice sessions before the contest.

We hope that those who were picked for the team will cooperate with the freshman squad and the intramural department in helping to make this game a worthwhile project. We would like to see it become an annual affair.

Members of the "I" club have been hashing over the boogie problem here at Idaho and have come up with what they think is a satisfactory solution. Boogie, or lack of it is almost the sole factor in determining a school's sportsmanship and an excess of it such as we have seen in the last few games here is certainly a long way from being a bright feather in the University's cap.

The "I" Club solution to the problem is to bring white handkerchiefs to the games and instead of protesting vocally, do it by waving the handkerchiefs at whoever is being criticized.

As of late, the school has gotten quite an infamous name for itself in respects to the excessive jeering that has been going on, and

Halbrook Still Riding At Top Of PCC Stats

Wade Halbrook, Oregon State's giant sophomore center, dominated the Northern Division basketball statistics released by the Pacific Coast Conference Commissioner's office.

His performance through February 6 placed him atop the field in total scoring, field goal shooting percentage and rebounds. Barney Holland, Oregon guard, was the only player to break Halbrook's monopoly, as he maintained his leadership in free throw shooting.

Halbrook has a game scoring average of 23.3, having scored 80 field goals and 73 free throws for 233 points in his first 10 outings. Trailing are Ron Bennink, Washington State, 17.9; Dean Parsons, Washington, 14.3; Dwight Morrison, Idaho, 14.2, and Ed Halberg, Oregon, 13.2.

Halbrook is shooting an even 50 per cent from the floor with 80 field goals in 160 tries. Next in line per cent, and Max Anderson, 45.5 per cent. In the rebound department, Halbrook has 11.7 per game, to 10.9 for Parsons and 9.8 for Morrison.

Holland has dropped 28 of 33 free throw attempts for a mark of 84.9 per cent and the lead over Jay Dean, Oregon State, 79 per cent, and Harlan Melton, Idaho, 78.3 per cent.

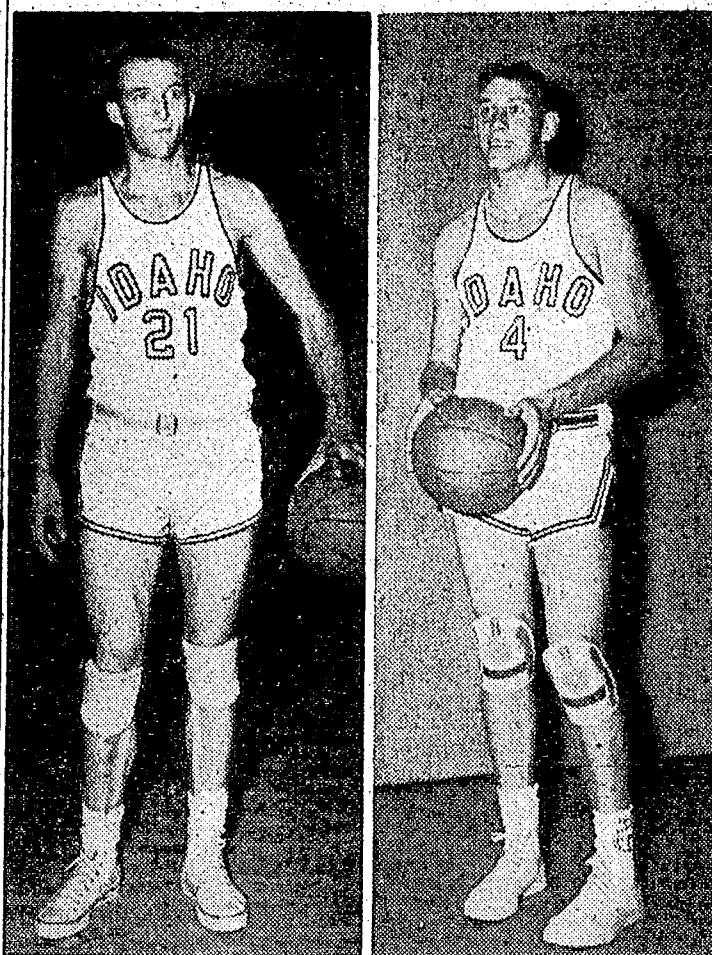

In team shooting, Oregon leads Oregon State by the smallest possible margin, 38 per cent to 37.9 per cent. The Ducks have scored 222 field goals in 585 tries. Idaho leads in free throw shooting with 64 per cent on 194 points in 303 attempts. Oregon State has the best rebounding game with 344 to their opponents 300, and Idaho the best scoring average, 63.6.

It is doing more harm than good. Let's give the "I" Club suggestion a try and see if we can alleviate the noise whenever someone gets a raw deal in the eyes of the fans. Everyone bring a white handkerchief to the games tonight and Saturday and see if we can give out our protests in a silent manner.

With the appointment of "Skip" Dahley as head football coach, the University of Idaho became the last major college in the nation to fill a coaching vacancy. Blanton Collier was chosen as head coach Tuesday Thursday morning to leave Idaho the remaining school looking for a coach.

We'd like to take this opportunity to offer congratulations to "Skip" Dahley and wish him a lot of success in his role as head grid mentor for next years Vandals. Coaching is no easy job and coaching at a school where he will have to start almost from scratch is going to make the task that much tougher.

Thorns In The Ducks' Side?

A pair of sophomores who will be out to help spoil Oregon's chances for the Northern Division flag tonight and tomorrow are Bob Garrison, right, and Harlan "Lefty" Melton. The Ducks will be in Memorial Gym for the last two games of a four-game series with the Vandals. The two teams split at Eugene in the first series.

Willis Sweet number 1 thwarted Delta Chi's hopes to repeat as intramural class A basketball champs when they crushed the Greeks Wednesday 30-18 to cop the 1954 crown.

Frosh Splashers Best WSC 44-40

Paced by Bruce Buckman, who collected 12 points and broke the frosh record for the 100 yard freestyle, the Idaho frosh swimmers posted six wins of ten events and emerged with a 44-40 victory over the Washington State frosh Tuesday.

Individual winners were:
50 yard — Bruce Buckman.
100 yard — Buckman (new frosh record of 57.3).
Breast stroke—Jack Helle.
Back stroke—Dale Carlisle.
200 yard relay—Mike McKay, Norm White, Gene Anderson, Buckman.
150 yard relay—Carlisle, Helle, McKay.
Eric Kirkland, swimming coach, said his frosh "gave a good showing and displayed exceptional team spirit."

"My boy friend doesn't smoke, drink or swaer."
"Does he make his own dresses, too?"

Duane: My uncle plays the piano by ear.
George: That's nothing, my uncle fiddles with his whiskers.

Oregon's Ducks invade Memorial Gymnasium tonight for the first of a two-game series here with game time set for 7:30.

The Vandals who are virtually out of the race after a pair of losses to the University of Washington last weekend will be able to foil Oregon's chances by taking the two games and making the road easier for the Oregon State Beavers.

Two losses by the Ducks and a pair of wins by the Beavers would almost clinch the flag for Halbrook and Co. at OSC.

Oregon, a fast breaking squad, will be matched against another quintet of fast breakers in meeting Chuck Finley's group.

In their first meeting of the season at Eugene, the two teams split the series, but Oregon will be after a pair of victories this weekend to boost them along toward the Northern Division crown.

Ed Halberg, Duck forward, along with Max Anderson, center and guard Ken Wegner will probably be the triple threat the Vandals will have to watch for in the series. All three of them are riding high in scoring columns. Forward Barney Holland will also be out to boost his total point number up. He now has a total of 106 points for the year. He is also leading in free throws hitting a mean .849 per cent.

Skiers Meet At Emida Sunday

Idaho's varsity ski team will compete in a conference meet Saturday at the Emida Ski Bowl. They will be pitted against WSC, Wenatchee, University of Washington and Whitman.

The University of Columbia, College of Puget Sound and Oregon State may enter teams for the meet.

Schedule of events:
Saturday, 11:00 — Slalom; 2:00 cross-country.
Sunday, 10:30 — giant slalom; 1:30—jumping.

Coach Henry Burnett said that Reidar Ullevaeter will probably see action in the meet. Ullevaeter's injured ankle was the direct cause of Idaho's loss of points at Banff. Until the time of his injury, the Vandals were probably the strongest jumping team in the nation. Burnett said he believed Idaho and Wenatchee were the teams to beat in the meet this weekend.

For those who will be able to attend the meet, Emida Ski Bowl is approximately 40 miles east of Polatch on 95E.

Idaho, Washington State, Seattle University and University of Washington are possible national champions, according to the ski coach.

carry blankets and collect money for the March of Dimes.

The Vandal Booster banquet will be February 27.

"I" CLUB

"I" cards will be checked for the Oregon basketball games this weekend at the "I" section entrance. Members of the Club will be admitted with the cards and their lettermen sweaters. One guest is permitted for each member and they are asked to wear red shirts and sweaters.

This is in the "I" Club constitution and will be in effect for the remainder of the year. All graduate students are asked to wear their sweaters when they sit in the "I" section.

Reinstatement and cards for the "I" Club activities will be sold at the next meeting on February 17.
