The Religious Emphasis week

The GOLDEN FLEECE
by Jason

Glancing over the copy for today's edition, we noticed that the infirmity seems to be attracting some rather elite people these days. First, we have Janet Biker who has the leading role in the coming play "Mary of Scotland." Then we find Marybelle McVicker, high grade-point and political science whiz.

Shirley Lent, organ and piano player deluxe, was also a recent visitor. Rounding out the week's cast were Bob Garrison and Harlan Melton of casaba fame. Maybe Lt. Mr. Virus is getting choosy about who he bites.

Due to the recent upsurge in letters to the editor and his associates, we are forced to put a limit on such letters and also on our guest editorials.

Letters to the editor should not exceed 300 words. Guest editorials are to be cut at the 500-word mark.

"Look," the man said, as he held up a black, lacy unmentionable. We took a good long oogle. Not bad!

"How much?" we asked. The man replied that it was not for sale. Then he looked around the Bucker and voiced his opinion that it was "disgusting to have such a piece of apparel thrown on him" in a public place.

"Just because some group is having an event is no reason for their acting like a bunch of children," he added as he strode out of sight.

Report on Elm and West 7th Traffic Problems:

Mayor Everett Will of Moscow was requested to place stop signs at the intersection as temporary action pending a comprehensive solution. Mayor Will readily agreed to this request, and stated that the signs would be erected.

The Washington Water Power Company was called regarding the street light, and officials advised that it had been repaired.

Meanwhile, action is continuing with the studies being made of the problems involving this intersection. They are concerned not only with traffic, but parking.

Three comprehensive proposals have been prepared as possible solutions for handling the situation. These are now to be reviewed with group houses concerned before being taken to the Moscow City Council. It should be noted that those concerned with the problem include students and townspeople living on the streets involved, city officials and the University.

The University does not have jurisdiction over streets not actually on University property, but there has always been fine cooperation between the city and University in handling problems arising on such streets. Traffic signs have been erected by the University in some cases, for instance, after obtaining concurrence from the city council.

The situation at Elm and West 7th streets has pointed up the importance of student cooperation. The students themselves have a responsibility in such situations in the following:

1. Driving carefully.
2. Promptly reporting hazardous conditions to the proper authorities.

Where city streets are involved, the city council should be contacted. The students have a representative designated to the city council. Where street lights are concerned, the Washington Water Power Company should be notified of the condition. Where University property is concerned, the Office of Buildings and Grounds or the Traffic Safety committee should be contacted.

Dear Mr. Buchanan:
I have been informed by General Matthew B. Ridgway, United States Army Chief of Staff, that reserve commissions will be tendered to all graduates of the 1954 Reserve Officer Training Corps program. However, at this time the Department of the Army is not prepared to announce plans for calling these reserve officers to active duty.

I have been advised further by the Chief of Staff that when a firm decision has been reached you will be informed of the plans.

NOTICE

Argonaut reporters, rewrite and copy staff members are asked to meet Tuesday, February 23, at 4 p.m. in the Vandal Room. People now on the staff who expect to continue, are urged to attend. Any interested people are invited.

RE Speeches To Be Aired

A broadcast of the Forester's Ball will be aired tomorrow night at 10. Intermission entertainment and the music of Al Reeves orchestra will be featured.

Sunday portions of the Religious Emphasis Week Kick-off banquet will be broadcast and a speech by Dr. Alexander Miller will be programmed Monday morning from the auditorium at 11.

Tape recordings of R. E. Week events on Wednesday afternoon will be made for broadcast that evening.

Installation of more wires to improve KUOI coverage is planned for this weekend according to Assistant Station Manager Charles White.

"We have been getting good results at the Phi Delta Theta and Delta Gamma living groups where installation was completed last week. Plans are currently pending for installation to Phi Kappa Tau, Pi Beta Phi and Kappa Kappa Gamma, weather permitting."

"Speaking for the staff, I want to say that we all appreciate Roger's work in building up our record library this year," White said.

Foresters Answer Call To Colors

Dr. Merrill E. Deters of the Forestry faculty is pictured lecturing on forest management. The attire and general casual appearance of the class is not ordinarily accepted; however, to make the rest of the campus aware that the Foresters are having their annual Forester's Ball this Saturday night at the SUB, both faculty and students are wearing the backwoods garb. "Doc" Deters says that any resemblance between the above pictured class and his regular forest management lecture is purely accidental.

Campus Shutterbugs Compete

Entries are being turned in for the SUB committee's photo contest which opened February 14 and closes Feb. 24. Results of who won the cash prizes of $10, $5 and $3 will be announced between 11 and 12 a.m. Sunday, Feb. 27.

The theme of the contest is "Campus Life." Any picture not a prize winner in a previous contest and pertaining to anything on the campus is eligible.

Judges for the contest are William K. Farrell, assistant professor of forestry, Albert Sittinger, assistant professor of education and Roy A. Bell, assistant professor of the photography department.

Blue Key Talent Show Next Month

March 26 has been set as the date for the 1954 Blue Key Talent Show. The show is sponsored each year by Blue Key, men's honor fraternity, and consists only of student talent from the University of Idaho campus.

Last year's winners have been ruled ineligible for this year's competition by the members of Blue Key so that this year's entries will not have to compete with former winners.

Ed Johnson and Bruce Sweeney are co-chairmen of the show. Serving under Johnson and Sweeney are Gene Hamblin, stage manager, and Harry Brizee, publicity.

There will be four classes of entries with trophies awarded for each class. The four classes are: men's serious, men's humorous, women's serious and women's humorous.

Last year's winners were Jo Murelaga in the women's serious competition and Karen Hurdstrom in the women's humorous. The Singing Sig copped honors in the men's serious division while Don McCabe and Jim Richardson took top spot in the men's humor category.

Miners To Muck

Mouse roulette and dancing will tip off the annual Mucker's Ball scheduled for Feb. 27 at 9 p.m. in the SUB ballroom.

Official garb is any old thing that covers the essentials, according to Charles Kidwell, president of the Associated Miners.

Tickets are $1.50 and will be available at the door or may be obtained from a member of the Associated Miners.

The pile of barnyard manure on the Ad lawn took on a new look yesterday with seventy-odd Aggies wearing it. The gigantic tug of war between the Idaho Aggies and the Idaho Foresters ended just a few minutes after it started with the sodbusters going down in odoriferous defeat.

The five-eighth inch tug rope broke under the strain 20 seconds after Dr. Harry H. Caldwell, professor of geology and geography, sounded the starting gun. A two-inch tug rope quickly took its place and the contest resumed. The foresters won.

Mebbe Sheep
Not only do the Aggies have to live with themselves until the next rain but they must also present the Foresters with an ax-pitchfork trophy, which has already been assembled. The presentation will take place during the intermission at the Foresters Ball, Saturday evening.

The Ag Club members have also promised to clean up the SUB ballrooms and the Dipper. This will not be difficult as Joe Helle, the president of the Associated Foresters, says that he has authorization to decorate the "range" ballroom with live sheep.

Exworthy To Play
Art Andraitis, who is in charge of decorating the Dipper for the Foresters Ball, reports that the room will be made into a saloon and that Bill Exworthy has been engaged to play a tin-can piano. The barroom music will be there to appeal to the soft-drink crowd.

The Idaho Foresterettes, married foresters' wives' club, will stage an intermission skit which has been arranged by Mrs. Bill (Mickie) Wallace. The skit will reveal the humorous side of the doings of Dangerous Dan.

Backwoods style will be the dress for the dance, but those who wish to "come-as-you-are" are urged to attend. Al Reeve's Masters of Music will play a wide variety of music ranging from the hillbilly to popular tunes.

Tickets will be on sale at the door for $1.50. The stamp will last from 8 to 12 p.m.

Electron Expert To Speak Thursday
Dr. L. O. Brockway of the University of Michigan, will present a talk entitled, "The Electron Diffraction Determination of Molecular Structures" at 7:45 p.m. Thursday in 110 Science Hall.

A dinner in honor of Dr. Brockway, a well-known authority in the field of electron diffraction, is scheduled at 6 p.m. at the Moscow Hotel.

Editors Visit Tomb Of Lenin, Stalin

(This is the second in a series of six articles written by Dean Schoelkopf, editor of the University of Minnesota Daily.)

He is one of seven American college editors just returned from a three-week tour of the Soviet Union. —Ed.)

(ACP) — Like a modern Mecca, the tomb of Lenin and Stalin on Red Square in Moscow daily attracts thousands of Russians who come to view the mummified bodies of their former leaders.

From all over the Soviet Union they come to visit the red marble mausoleum that stands next to the Kremlin wall. What motivates them — curiosity, reverence, duty — it is impossible to tell.

They stand in line for hours in the icy Moscow weather to make their pilgrimage. Like a great black snake, the double file of visitors winds for blocks down out of Red Square past the Lenin museum.

Police stand all along the line at 25-foot intervals to maintain order. When the tomb is opened, late every afternoon, police completely encircle Red Square.

We were pleased when our guides told us we could enter the mausoleum, for few Americans have been inside since Stalin was placed there Nov. 17, 1953.

About 4 p.m. on a dull, gray day, our group moved through a double police cordon to the head of a double line that had begun forming six hours earlier. Half an hour later a police officer stepped to the head of the column and paced us slowly up Red Square to the front of the tomb. About 50 feet in front of the entrance he stopped, and an army officer moved to the head of the column.

As the clock on the Kremlin tower struck 4:45, the officer began to pace the column forward through a double column of soldiers with fixed bayonets. We went through a little iron grill, up a few steps and into the tomb.

It was warm inside, and the smell was something like that of decayed flowers. In the crypt itself, soldiers with fixed bayonets stood all around.

Lenin and Stalin lay side by side in completely enclosed glass cases. Lenin was on the left, dressed in a plain military style jacket with no decorations.

At his feet and head were bronze wreaths. He looked thinner than he appears to be in photographs. His body seemed well-preserved, although he has been in the tomb since 1924.

Stalin looked just as he does in his portraits — steel gray hair and mustache, military tunic with two gold medals and many other service ribbons on his chest and a single silver star on a gold epaulet on each shoulder. His body, too, seemed completely lifelike.

The line of visitors moved slowly forward, and two minutes and 38 seconds later we stepped out a side door into the palor of Moscow dusk. The tour continued past graves of revolutionary heroes, but for us it was an anti-climax. We had been frankly awed by something we had never expected to see in our lives, and none of us spoke until we were almost back to our hotel.

But even if our trip had not included a visit to the Moscow tomb or the Gori birthplace, we could not have escaped the Stalin legend.

It is not enough to say his picture and statue are everywhere. You must see his portrait in every room of a school, factory or home — you must see his statue in every public square or auditorium — to get the impact.

We saw Stalin in hundreds of poses. In the factories he was pictured standing among workers. On the farms he was shown standing in the wheat fields. In the schools he was depicted holding children on his lap.

Lenin was a close second to Stalin in number of pictures and statues. If you looked on one wall and saw Stalin, you could almost be sure to find Lenin on the opposite.

Only rarely did we see pictures of Malenkov, and all we saw of Lavrenti Beria, one time head of the secret police, was an empty nail on which his picture had been hung at Stalin University in Tbilisi and his likeness in a subway mosaic — which our guide denied was Beria.

See Stalin's Birthplace
Later we were to see the house where Stalin was born in 1878. It was a Gori, a little village about two hours drive from Tbilisi in central Georgia.

Bob Bakes Now On Ex. Board

Bob Bakes, a senior in law from Boise, was appointed a member of the Executive Board to replace Rich Orme who left at the end of the first semester to join the Air Force.

Other business at the Wednesday meeting was the appointment of Marie Ingebritsen to the position of handbook editor.

The Board also received a request for help from the library. It was reported that a large number of books are taken out of the library and not returned. The present fines system is not a deterrent. Members of the Board were asked to seek a possible solution for discussion at the next meeting.

The men of Willis Sweet are now striving to outdo their social events of the past with their coming Beachcomber annual Willis Sweet Beachcomber Ball will be held March 5 in the gallery of Willis Sweet.

Sunday evening a fireside was held in honor of the candidates for Esquire Girl. Mr. and Mrs. Todd Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wallace were chaperones.

Tuesday evening the five finalists for Esquire Girl were chosen. They are: Karen Parkinson, Delta Gamma; Sonia Hendrikson, Pi Beta Phi; Pat Gustafson, Hays; Donna Officer, Ethel Steel, and Susie Oberg, Kappa Kappa Gamma. The finalists were guests for dinner Wednesday evening.

Tuesday morning Ro Jeanne Coyle awoke the house with a yell as she walked out to sweep the walk and beheld above her the head of a decapitated cow. A placard was wired thereon and many appetites were lost in cutting it down and dragging it to the alley. No culprits have as yet been apprehended.

A pledge exchange was held Wednesday with Christman Hall.

A hayride and fireside will be held tonight at 8 p.m.

The date for the initiation of twelve pledges has been set for February 28.

New Bible To Be Sold

By action of the Inter-Church Council, a new pocket-size edition of the Revised Standard Version of the New Testament is to be sold as a service to University of Idaho students during Religious Emphasis Week.

According to Neils Christiansen, chairman of this campus-wide project, the new translation is to be praised because "it does away with much of the confusing language of the older versions, and presents many of the passages with a new clarity."

The book will be sold at a minimum price, and proceeds, if any, will go towards the Korean Relief Fund.

Just Chatter

By JOHN McDEERMOTT

These rumors that have been flying through the press service wires of late concerning Coach Charles (Chuck) Finley's departure for lands unknown seem to be quite unfounded still.

We heard from Gale Mix yesterday that every coach in the country is "being considered" by some other school other than the one he is presently working for.

Finley has not indicated that he is going to move on and has repeatedly said he has made no commitments to anyone. Mississippi Southern is interested in Finley, but that doesn't mean a thing unless it works both ways, and as yet, the none too talkative basketball mentor has said nothing to indicate he is leaving Idaho.

The University of California is also rumored to have a finger pointing in his direction, but again, it must work both ways. If Finley is going to move on he hasn't told anyone about it yet.

When Nibs Price, California coach, retires at the end of this season, Finley is in line to replace him, according to the grapevine.

Should the cheerful man leave Moscow, Idaho basketball would have to make a fresh start. It would take a long time for a new coach to live up to Finley's reputation as a colorful character and top coach.

Chuck Finley isn't the only man in these parts who is living in a world of rumors. According to Eugene H. Russell, sports editor of the Seattle Times, the University of Washington is after Raymond A. "Babe" Curfman to fill an assistant coaching job for the Husky football squad.

The report said Johnny Cherbourg was looking for two replacements for Lou Saban and Red Badgro, both of whom recently resigned and Curfman was No. 1 man on the list.

Feeling among students concerning the hiring of J. Neil "Skip" Stahley as new head football coach at the University, in general, seems to be quite favorable.

Probably the strongest point in his favor is his desire to field a passing team. Idaho has sorely lacked a good aerial combination for the past several years and students seem to feel that you can't win a game without taking a few chances.

True, Idaho did hit the air-planes in many of its games last fall, but it was nearly always in a last ditch attempt to score.

We would like to see Skip Stahley come up with an aerial squad, but the question mark in our minds at the present, is "Who is going to catch the passes?" George Eidam and Bob Haines will undoubtedly be the pair who will share flipping honors next season if Stahley does emphasize passing.

A rumor which we haven't been able to check on and we hope is untrue is that several ball players are making plans for joining Uncle Sam's team at the end of this year. We don't know who they are or if they are, but we hope they aren't.

Stahley is coming into Moscow with the idea of pulling Idaho out of its chronic football slump and with several good pieces of material deserting him, it will be a bigger job than ever.

Another thing which students seemed to like in Stahley strategy is the use of deception. It is well known that Idaho lacked any deception last year and that was probably a big thorn in the side of the squad that kept them from winning a few.

In a few rare instances, teams have won game after game on the use of brute force alone, but the University of Idaho hasn't yet expanded to the point of enrolling gorillas.

Deception is a big factor in football these days. Especially when you haven't got manpower to throw away. Stahley is going to have to scrape and scrape hard to whip up a good substantial 25 man traveling squad and keep them injury free all season. The use of some top notch deceptive plays may be the combination to knocking over some of the bigger schools Idaho plays.

There's still a few kinks to be ironed out in the all-star freshmen basketball game. The date has been set for next Wednesday, February 24 at 6:45 in Memorial Gym. The trouble lies in finding a suitable time for the all-stars to get together and work out some kind of a defensive pattern to use against the much practiced frosh squad.

Hartley Kruger, frosh coach, set the date for the contest and it will be played as a scrimmage game by his freshmen crew. No official score will be kept.

The game shapes up to be quite a tilt. With the frosh undermanned and the all-stars able to field three teams it might be a game of endurance on the part of Kruger's charges to see if they can last out the four quarters against always fresh players from the all-stars bench.

The all-stars will have the disadvantage of lack of practice, but if the two squads play a good man-to-man game it could be something that will be talked about for a few days around campus.

A tentative date for practice has been set for 6:30 Monday night at the gym, and all those men who were named to the all-star squad should be there.

Weakened Frosh Lose To Couababes

With only nine available players suited or on the bench, the Idaho Frosh dropped their opening encounter with the Washington State yearlings Tuesday night 75-65 in a preliminary game to the big battle of the Palouse.

Nine players were all that Coach Hartley Brugger had to work with Tuesday night and will most likely be the total for the remaining three games. The team was zeroed to that number from the regular 15 quota due to injuries and failure to fill eligibility rules.

Led by towering center Gary McEwen and scrappy guard Ted Tate, the Vandal Babes showed signs of catching their overzealous opponents, but constant toppling on the part of the abundant-benched Cougars tired them in the closing frame.

McEwen potted 25 to lead both teams while Tate countered for 15. Ted Kamp, rangy forward, led the WSC squad with 21.

Swimmers Should Have Easy Victory

Idaho's varsity swimmers will be out for two new varsity records Saturday when they meet Eastern Washington College of Education at Cheney.

Jerry Jones, 100-yard freestyle swimmer, will be out to crack the old 100 yard mark of 56.1, and a four man relay squad composed of Jerry Jones, Rich Bradbury, Byron Richards and Don Medley will seek to beat the old 400-yard relay record.

Eric Kirkland, swimming mentor, said his team should have no trouble in overcoming the EWCE finmen, having beat them in a meet at Memorial Gym pool, 23-50.

Kirkland said the meet would be a "conditioner" for Washington State meet next Tuesday. WSC has already bested the Vandal swimmers in the first meet 44-42.

Only one meet remains after the Washington State clash, and that will be with the University of Washington February 26.

New Mentor Due Here Soon

J. Neil "Skip" Stahley, Idaho's new football coach should be on campus on the 28 of this month, according to Gale Mix, athletic manager.

Stahley, who has been finishing up business with the Chicago Cardinals and looking for assistants for next year, expects to be here in plenty of time to get things ready for an early spring, training session.

Stahley told Mix by phone yesterday he hopes to get spring practice underway by March 15 and conclude the 20-day session in the allotted 30-day limit before spring sports get rolling on the campus.

Mix also reported two assistant coaches will be named by the mentor before spring training sessions get underway. Mix said the selection of the assistant coaches may come anytime pending approval by Stahley of the several candidates for the three assistant coaching berths.

A last minute three point spurt gave Idaho's Vandals a 45-42 victory, over Jack Friel's Washington State Cougars Tuesday to keep the fire under Idaho's flag hopes burning.

The Vandals who were under pressure all the way and never able to forge a substantial lead over the Cougars battled their way through a suspense filled game right from the opening tip-off.

Zone Effective
WSC set up an effective zone defense against Chuck Finley's five that kept the Vandals hopping and nearly gave the Vandals as much trouble as did the zone set up against them when the two teams clashed in Pullman, with Idaho losing 71-61.

Approximately 3500 fans saw the Vandals leave the floor at half-time trailing 21-22 after catching up to a six point lead held by the Cougars, 22-16 late in the second stanza.

In a game that saw the score evened up better than ten times, the two squads were tied 11-11 at the end of the first period and 35-35 at the finish of the third quarter.

Idaho went into a stall with only four minutes left in the game but lost the ball on a wild pass to WSC. But turnaround was fair play Tuesday night and the Cougars couldn't manage to hold the ball long enough to swish it through.

With two minutes remaining in the contest, Ron Bennink drew a foul and knotted the score with a free throw at 42-42.

Again the Vandals took control of the ball and held it until they could feed it to Dwight Morrison, who canned a ten foot push shot to give the Vandals the lead and the game.

Oregon State Leads PCC Stats In Most Fields

Oregon State, both individually and as a team, dominated the weekly Northern Division basketball statistics released today by the Pacific Coast Conference Commissioner's office.

The Beavers' towering center, Wade Halbrook, led in scoring, field goal marksmanship and rebounds; teammate Jay Dean topped the free throw shooters and Oregon State as a team led in field goal percentages and defense.

Halbrook's point average for 12 games through February 13 was 22.3 on 94 field goals and 79 free throws for a total of 267 points. Next in line were Ron Bennick, Washington State, 17.9; Dean Parsons, Washington, 14.0; Dwight Morrison, Idaho, 13.8; and Bill Rehder, Washington State, 12.9.

Halbrook's field goal percentage was 48.2 per cent on his 94 field goals in 195 tries, ranking him ahead of two Oregon men, Ed Halberg, 45.7, and Max Anderson, 40.7. In the rebound department, Halbrook averaged 12.3 per game to 10 for Parsons and 9.8 for Morrison.

Dean's free throw percentage was 82.8 on 24 points in 29 tries. Other leaders were Barney Holland, Oregon, 81.6, and Harlan Melton, Idaho, 78.8.

Oregon State has shot 36.4 as a team, having hit 252 of 693 field goal tries, to Oregon's 36.2. The Ducks excel from the free throw line with 64.1 while Idaho has the lead in scoring with 65.3 points per game.

Oregon State has allowed but 52.4 points per game to opponents and has held foes to 31.4 on their field goal attempts. The Beavers also have the best rebounding game with 437 to their foes' 379.

Oregon State beat the Vandals in both games of a two game series at Moscow to knock the Idaho squad from second place into third in the Northern Division standings 10 years ago today.

First Track Event Slated For March 20 At WSC

Fifteen cindermen, including seven lettermen, have started their first licks toward getting conditioned for the coming Northern Division track season, track mentor Stan Hiserman related yesterday.

Diamond Men Wait for Cold Spell to Snap

A sudden cold spell that swept over the Palouse yesterday had its effects on the Idaho Vandal diamond hopefuls as head coach Clem Parberry halted practice to give his crew a day's rest.

Pitchers and catchers have been working for a week with other outfield and infield hopefuls keeping about the same schedule.

According to Parberry, most of the work has been concentrated on running and throwing and general conditioning.

Idaho has its opener in the exhibition field on March 27 against Whitman at Walla Walla. A fourteen game exhibition slate is scheduled.

Work has been confined to the field house and gym for the past week but weather permitting, the team will move to Lewiston tomorrow afternoon for some hitting practice at Harris Field, on the NICE campus.

Pitchers working out include: Ken Hallett, Gary Barton, Mal Reynolds, George Eidam, Aubrey Stevens, John Turner, Doug Young, Dave Crisp and Dick Denny.

The Vandals open actual competition at the Washington State Invitational at Pullman on March 20. Teams to be represented besides the Palouse foes include Whitman, Whitworth, EWCE and several other Evergreen Conference squads.

Gone from the cinder paths this year is Bruce Sweeney, acclaimed Idaho's one man track team last season. He set individual scoring records right and left to lead the Vandals.

Hiserman indicated that several other varsity and freshmen hopefuls would turn out in the near future.

In the distances, Hiserman has Lou Gourley, Emerson Clark, Bob Rackham and Bob Thornton working out. Half-milers include Henning Olson and Larry McDonald. Running the 440 yard dash will be Gary Dixon and possibly Dick Cook. Cook is the lone man working on sprints while Larry Church and Buzz Hansen have been putting in time on hurdles.

In weights, javelin tossers include Bruce West, Blair Harrington and Hansen. Harrington is the sole man in the shotput department and Ed Barton in the discus division.

Jerry Duffy is back in the pole vault and Parker Coupeau and Church are the broad jumpers.

NOTICE

All men who were named to the intramural all-star basketball squad report to Memorial Gym at 6:30 Monday night for practice.
