"Mary Of Scotland" Tells Of Protestant Rule

By Jane Querna

It is a sleety, windy night when nineteen-year-old Mary Stuart docks at the pier of Leith to begin her rule of Scotland. The young woman scarcely docks before John Knox, the Protestant reformer and opposing faction to Mary's mother in Scotland, sets his terrible sign of doom upon her.

From the beginning, fateful incidents are planned by Protestant Queen Elizabeth in hopes that Mary will abdicate. The ghastly murder of Rizzio, Mary's private secretary, and her loveless marriage to Lord Darnley as planned by Elizabeth are just part of the tragic outcomes of the play.

Fast Action

The birth of Mary's son, James, the revolt of the lords of the clans, her marriage to Lord Bothwell, climax the subsequent trickery and deception which puts Mary and her loving husband, Bothwell, out of the way, and leads to Mary's final meeting with Elizabeth in Carlisle Castle before Mary is condemned to live for 19 years in prison.

The young, innocent Mary Stuart is portrayed by Janet Birk, whose natural Canadian accent needed little changing to fit the part of the good-hearted heroine.

Crafty, young, ambitious Queen Elizabeth (Karen Hurdstrom) with her haughty airs seeks to remove from her path a gracious, romantic and ardently religious rival. Costumed in a deep red-velvet gown and gilligreed white Elizabethian collar, Karen interprets her role of the unmarried, jealous queen with abounding variety.

Burton Is Knox

As the Protestant reformer, Fred Burton characterizes John Knox, a tall, thin, man faltering in his speech because of age. Knox steals the scenes with his prophecies of doom for Mary. Burton, who starred in the University's production of Hamlet, is outstanding in this character part of John Knox.

Dashing Bothwell, lover of Mary Stuart who succeeds in becoming her third husband, portrays the hero of the historical tragedy. Jim Madison, cast as this hero, gives the play some of its high points. His whole personality reflects his interpretation of the part.

Gary Leaverton in his pompous, expensive dress with Elizabethian period accessories, plays the drunken, boastful fool, Lord Darnley; who is next heir to the throne after Mary. In his drunken stupor Darnley almost faints before he is ordered off the stake by his wife, Mary.

Dave Cummins, cast as Rizzio, accomplishes his variety of tasks with cleverness. It is Rizzio who plays the lute, prized property sent to the drama department from Ashland, Oregon.

Surrounding these characters is a pageantry of lords, ladies, and guards, outstanding in their colorful full period costumes.

With a complete knowledge of the history of the Elizabethan period in their minds, the characters of Mary of Scotland, Maxwell Anderson's historical chronicle in verse, present sincere interpretation of the play.

Mule Deer Herd In Fine Shape

Despite heavy hunting pressure, the mule deer herd on the Cassia division of the Sawtooth national forest is holding up and is in good shape, reports Dr. Paul D. Dalke, leader of the cooperative wildlife research unit at the University of Idaho. Dr. Dalke bases his appraisal on the reports of Burt R. McConnell, research fellow assigned to the herd the past two years.

This study of the productivity of the Cassia herd has been conducted in cooperation with the United States Forest Service and the Idaho Fish and Game Department. McConnell has been located at Hansen.

Indicative of the hunting pressure on this herd, Dr. Dalke cites the 1953 season. Permits were issued to 5,800 individuals. Of these, 5,463 actually participated in the hunt. Nearly 4,000 deer were taken. "This is a case of having your cake and eating it too," comments the leader of the wildlife research unit.

"Without so much hunting there would be a larger percentage of older does producing fewer fawns," Dr. Dalke notes.

DEAR JASON

The Graduate Journal Club is going to have to buy a new and bigger coffee pot. This momentous conclusion was drawn after last week's record attendance at the second seminar meeting of the newly organized Graduate Journal Club.

The seminar was led by County Weed Supervisor, Jim Torell, who is also a graduate student in Agronomy. Jim conducted the discussion very capably, keeping it at an informative and meaningful level without going over the heads of those of us who are not agronomists.

Since the nature of the last meeting perhaps hindered some of you from meeting everyone there, I would like now to invite all of you to come to our next meeting, the purpose of which largely just that—to give each graduate student a chance to meet his fellow grads. We feel this is an important function of the Journal Club, and have planned to set aside every second meeting to becoming better acquainted with each other, and each other's problems.

The theme will be "bull session," the place, Ag Science 31, the time, 7 p.m., Wednesday, March 10th.

Although representation of the various departments was very good, by the way, we feel it could be better.

We would like, therefore, to re-emphasize the fact that all departments are welcome. We need more of you people from humanities. We would like to feel that you, on the other hand, need us. Give us a try—you might find that you do.

We meet only twice a month, and try to keep each meeting down to one hour's time. Dues are $0.00 for life membership and coffee, of course, is served (we've got connections). So don't be a sad grad. Get activated! We expect you next Wednesday, March 10 at 7 p.m., Ag. Science 31, or the big get-acquainted meeting of the Graduate Journal Club. See you there.

Sincerely,
 Thomas B. O'Connell
 President

Crescent Girl Candidates Are Chosen

Twenty three candidates, including a set of identical twins, from five states and the District of Columbia have been nominated by the eleven women's living groups to vie for the 1954 Lambda Chi Crescent Girl.

Five finalists will be selected Sunday by judges made up of local businessmen and women. One of the finalists will be chosen by the men of the fraternity to represent them in the national contest of the Lambda Chi Alpha.

Finalists in the national contest will receive a trip to the National Convention at Miami, Florida, this summer to compete for the honor of the National Lambda Chi Crescent Girl.

Candidates are Jo Carol Fouch and Lou Ann Olson, Kappa; Sonya Davey and Arma Huschka, Delta Gamma; Eleanor Henry and Ann Poole, Theta; Ieta Sabin and Billy Hanchev, Tri Delta; Nancy Lyle and Diane Billings, Alpha Phi; Roberta Bohne, Barbara and Mary Ison, Kays.

Others are Barbara Simons and Carole Gudeman, Alpha Chi; Connie Brookins and Barbara Warner, Forney; Shirley Ring and Iris Holloway, Ethel Steel; Nancy Lee and Barbara Knight, Gamma Phi; Rochelle Henderson and Margaret Costello, Pi Phi.

The dance, and the crowning of the 1954 Idaho Crescent Girl, will be held March 20 at Moscow Legion Cabin.

Student Tells About German School Ideas

By Julie Lightner

Study abroad? Everybody's dream. But would you still have that dream after talking for an hour with Tony Dunhart about the school systems in Germany?

Tony is a Delta Tau Delta pledge at the University of Idaho, majoring in geological engineering. He has been here less than two years.

"College in Germany is much different than it is here. To enter the University, the student must pass very rigid entrance examinations. Once he is enrolled in the University, he takes only highly specialized courses that he feels are necessary to complete his education.

"The school system takes care of the extra required courses, in high school," he explained. "Actually there are two academic school systems. In one, the student attends eight years of grade school and then finishes with three years of vocational school. In the second system, the student attends four years of grade school and eight years of high school.

Student Pays

"You see, in Germany, high school students pay tuition and take certain required courses as he does in the college system here. Because of this, only families of adequate income can send their children to high school."

In his opinion, the American system is very good because in this country almost everyone gets a chance to get the University level of education.

In reply to a question about dating in Germany compared to America, he said, "Oh, yes, there is quite a difference. You never call up a girl in Germany and ask for a date unless you know her very, very well. It is also necessary to know and be approved by her parents."

Movie Date

"For amusements, you might take the girl to the movies, a German picture or a cowboy picture from America. If you prefer, you could go somewhere to try the jitterbug dance that has recently been brought in from America."

Tony, who is studying for a career in the foreign service, has been living with his sister, Mrs. Morris West of Wallace, who came to this country about four years ago.

here from Munich, Germany. Tony's brother, Heinz, is attending the eighth grade in Wallace but cannot yet speak English.

South Idaho College Heads Resign

COLLEGE OF IDAHO—The resignation of Paul M. Pitman as president of the College of Idaho and Brinton H. Stone, vice president, was announced Thursday by J. R. Simplot, chairman of the board of trustees.

The resignations are effective immediately.

Simplot said that "problems of administration and finance recognized by both individuals and the board of trustees" were responsible for the resignations and their acceptance.

Margaret Bone, dean of women, was elected acting president by the board, which held its regular monthly meeting here Wednesday night.

Pitman became president July 1, 1950. Prior to that time he had served 11 years as dean of men at San Jose State College.

Stone came to the college last September from Chicago, where he had been executive director of the Associated Colleges of Illinois.

Willie joined ROTC, shot six profs enjoying tea, laid them out in neat alignment, got an "A" on that assignment.

The secret of all true greatness is blending.

MEET YOURSELF - 10 YEARS FROM NOW

Ever wonder what you'll be like when the class of '54 holds its 10th reunion? If you started to work for one of the Bell System companies after graduation, here's a pretty good idea.

INTERESTING, RESPONSIBLE WORK: Perhaps a Commercial Manager, the company's representative and spokesman to as many as fifty thousand customers. Or a Transmission Engineer, helping to provide the telephone needs of an entire state. Or a Supervisor in the Traffic Department, responsible for the speed and quality of local and long distance service in several cities and for the personnel relations of a large number of employees.

WE MAKE SURE THERE ARE PLACES TO GO: The number of college men hired is related to the number of administrative and technical positions expected to be available in the next 10 or 15 years. It is our policy to fill these positions from within our organization.

ARTS, SCIENCE, BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION AND ENGINEERING GRADUATES are among our particular needs. The specific degree is not as important as the total effect of your college training.

NO MATTER WHAT YOUR MILITARY STATUS, contact your Placement Officer soon for details on the opportunities for employment with the Bell System.

Oddities Mark Court Season

The University of Idaho basketball squad hung up their jerseys and once more just became students here this week as the Northern Division hoop race was concluded. The Vandals won nine and lost seven in the conference race to finish in a tie for second place with the University of Oregon.

There were a number of oddities in the whole thing:

1. Against Oregon, for the first time in years, the Vandals won the series three games to one.
2. They broke even two and two with the pennant winners and could only break even with Washington and Washington State, clubs that finished below them in the standings.
3. It marked the third straight year in a row that the Vandals had finished either second or tied for second.
4. In breaking even with the eventual champions, Oregon State, in the four game series the title holders won total points by a single free throw.

Morrison High Man
Dwight Morrison was the individual point scorer for the Vandals with 321 points for 23 games and 218 for the 16-game Northern Division race. He trailed last year's top scorer and Idaho record-holder, Hartley Kruger, who scored 414 points in 1953 but who played in four more games than Morrison.

Second in scoring and trailing Morrison closely all the way was the junior forward, Harlan Melton, with 298 for the season and 191 for ND play. In addition to Morrison and Melton, Captain Tom Flynn and the sophomore, Bob Garrison, each scored more than 100 points in ND competition.

Out of the squad of 15 players who finished the season only four will be lost by graduation. They are Captain Tom Flynn, Lewiston; Dwight Morrison, Walla Walla; Rog Lillibridge and C. W. Totten, Coeur d'Alene. These latter two were not starters.

Good Frosh Prospects
Up from the freshman team will come a number of likely lads to fill out Coach Chuck Finley's hopes for next season. These include Gary McEwin, Kimberly, top scorer; Gary Moore, New Plymouth; Bill Liebe, Hermiston, Ore.; Tom Vopat, Grangeville; Kel Herchberger, Herlong, Calif.; Ted Tate, Kimberly, and a number of others.

Field goal average — .363
Free throw average — .633
Offensive average — 64.6 per game.
Defensive average — 59.3 per game.
Final record — Won 15, lost 8.

Baseball Schedule Announced

The University of Idaho today announced 12 pre-conference and 16 Northern Division games for the 1954 baseball schedule. The non-conference games include a double header May 8 in Nampa with Northwest Nazarene College.

The pre-conference season opens, weather permitting, against Whitworth in Spokane March 26. Coach Clem Parberry has some 30 candidates busily working out and is building the 1954 Vandals around nine returning lettermen. Cold has hampered outdoor work thus far in the season.

The schedule follows:
March 26—Whitworth in Spokane
March 27—Whitman at Walla Walla (2)
March 30—Gonzaga at Moscow.
April 2—Whitworth at Moscow.
April 3—Gonzaga at Spokane.
April 9, 10—Lewiston Broncs at Lewiston.
May 8—Northwest Nazarene College at Nampa, (2).

Conference Schedule

April 16, 17—Washington at Seattle.
April 19, 20—Oregon State at Corvallis.
April 21, 22—Oregon at Eugene.
April 26—Washington State at Moscow.
April 27—Washington State at Pullman.
April 30, May 1—Oregon State at Moscow.
May 5, 6—Oregon at Moscow.
May 14—Washington State at Pullman.
May 15—Washington State at Moscow.
May 21, 22—Washington at Moscow.

Third Assistant Ready For Duties

Fifteen minutes after his arrival in Moscow yesterday afternoon, Earl Klapstien, third Idaho football coach was busy working along side Skip Stahley and Jay Pattee in preparation for the coming spring workouts which will begin March 15.

Klapstien was former head football coach at Stockton College in Stockton, Cal. before assuming his new position at Idaho. He played his college football at College of Pacific and was named as an all-coast tackle in 1943.

A native of California, the new line coach is married and has three children. His family will follow him to Moscow later in the spring.

Mittmen Finish Season Against WSC Here Saturday

The Idaho boxing team will wind up the dual meet season here Saturday night at 8 o'clock against Washington State college in Meomrial gymnasium. The two teams met earlier in the season at Pullman with WSC emerging as the winner 5 1/2 matches to 2 1/2. In this one the Vandals will start out two down having to forfeit the 178 pound class and the heavyweight class.

Thus there will be but six varsity matches, but a return freshman bout between Idaho's Varsal Peterson and WSC's Jim Robertson adds an attractive battle to the program at 145 pounds.

Coach Frank Young of the Vandals said today that Pete Higgins will be the referee and that Hal Jones and Clyde Luce will be the judges with Stan Hiserian as the timer.

One of the top varsity bouts will match Don Anderson of Idaho, with Gordy Gladstone, NCAA champion at 165 pounds in 1952. Anderson has lost only one bout this season and is in top condition for this struggle.

Another top bout will be Idaho's captain Lynn Nichols versus Ken Bauggens in the 147 pound class.

The remainder of the card:
135 lbs.—Ray Ragan vs. Eddie Olson.
132 lbs.—Ralph Wadsworth vs. Gil Inaba.
139 lbs.—Ron Titus vs. Dixie Riddle.
156 lbs.—Jerry Manderville vs. J. Bacus.

Garrison Named To All Northern Division Team

LOS ANGELES — Ore. State's Wade Halbrook, 7 foot 3 inch center, and Ron Bennick, Washington State College forward, were unanimous selections of coaches for the Pacific Coast Conference's Northern Division all-star basketball team.

The coast commissioner's office, in announcing the selections Thursday, said that Dean Parsons of Washington was picked by the coaches as the other forward, and that the guards are Barney Holland of Oregon and Bob Garrison of Idaho.

Halbrook, highest scoring sophomore in the history of the PCC, with an average of 20.8 points a game, leads the Beavers against Southern California Friday night in Long Beach in the first of three games for the PCC title. Southern California won the Southern division title.

The Northern Division coaches selected this second team: Karl Voegtlin, Washington, and Ed Halberg, Oregon, forwards; Idaho's Dwight Morrison, center; Ken Wagner, Oregon, and Tom Flynn, Idaho, guards.

Honorable mention was given Jay Dean, forward, and Ron Robbins, both of Oregon State.

Stahley Sends Call For Gridders

With March 15 set for the opening of spring football practice Coach Skip Stahley has called a meeting of those interested in the sport for Friday at 4:30 p.m. March 12 in the Little Theatre room at the Student Union building.

"It is the desire of the coaching staff," said Stahley, in calling the meeting, "that every student in the University who has played the game, who has an idea that he might like to play the game come to the meeting. We are starting out from scratch with no preconceived ideas as to who will play where. The opportunity for each candidate will be equal. I should like to urge those planning to compete to be on hand or to let me know if they cannot attend the meeting. We are starting from the beginning and it is to the best interest of all that all start together."

Coach Stahley and his present staff have been getting acquainted on and about the campus as well as lining up details so the work can get started efficiently.

Union. But all intentions of cutting the visit short were immediately shot down. We were taken into the room and given a thorough explanation of what is going to happen next year when the Silver and Gold clad laddies trot onto the field on a cool Saturday afternoon in the autumn.

We also learned that Stahley is not letting one man pass by his door without seeing if said young fellow would care to venture onto the field for a whirl at the game of football.

From what we can pick up, spirit is rising rapidly on campus and new blood is showing up at the athletic offices for a chance to try out for the team. We have one question to ask if this is true.

"Where were you last year, and the year before that you couldn't turn out?"

Stahley expressed hopes of having around 75 men turn out for spring drills and with the size of the Idaho student body it shouldn't be hard.
