BORAH CONFERENCE TO START THURSDAY

Frosh Royalty Finalists Named

Finalists have been selected by the freshman class to run for freshman king and queen. The winners will reign over the class dance Friday.

Chosen last night as finalists for the Queen title were Sonia Henrikson, P. Phi; Lou An Olson, Kappa; Mary McLeod, Hays; and Fred Payne, also of Hays.

Finalists for the King title are Bill Davis, ATO; Pete Shawver, Sigma Nu; Ted Gillett, LDS; and Bill Holden, Phi.

The dance, following an Irish theme is titled "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling." It will be held in the SUB ballrooms. Dancing will be from 9 to 12 p.m. Dale Ruark's six-piece orchestra from Pullman will provide music.

The separate living groups will be asked to vote on the finalists and the king and queen will be selected Thursday.

Wiley To Speak At Meeting

Bonnie Wiley, an Associated Press war correspondent in the Pacific theater during World War II, will be featured speaker at the eighth annual Idaho High School Journalism Conference here March 26 and 27.

She holds the distinction of having been one of the few women managing editors of a major daily newspaper. At the present time Miss Wiley is publications director at Central Washington College of Education at Ellensburg.

Other speakers will include Steve Smitlanich, Boise high school newspaper adviser and a former Salt Lake City sports writer; Mrs. G. H. Powell, Blackfoot adviser; Mrs. Ruth Boas, Moscow high school newspaper adviser, and Rafe Gibbs, director of information at the University of Idaho.

Also scheduled for the conference are a series of panel discussions on newspapers and year books for high schools. Approximately 23 high school students from throughout the state will comprise the panels.

Sigma Tau Pledges Ten

Nine students will soon be seen wearing the distinctive white hat shaped like a pyramid with a blue rail section through it which singles them out as pledges of Sigma Tau, national engineering fraternity.

These students are Robert L. Ackaret, Theodore R. Frostenson, James E. Hemphill, Glen W. Hostetter, Herbert Lowell Magelby, Roy D. Merrill, William L. Paul, Judd M. Torgstad, and Frederick P. Wahlquist.

Calvin C. Warnick, professor of civil engineering, has also been elected to membership in Rho chapter and will be formally initiated along with the students.

U. of I. Band Books Concert

The University of Idaho Concert Band will present its annual Spring concert on Thursday evening, March 25 in the auditorium.

The concert, starting at 8 p.m. will be under the baton of Warren Bellis, instructor of University bands.

The program will include a varied selection of the best of music available to the symphonic band repertory. Composers represented will include Bach, Weinberger, Richard Strauss, Johann Strauss, Leroy Anderson, Morrissey, Curzon and Cailliet. The program will include a sufficient variety of styles and types of music to satisfy all listeners, according to the director.

AWS Voters To Elect Tomorrow

AWS primary elections will be held in the Ad Building from 8:15 a.m. to 4 p.m., tomorrow, March 17.

The AWS ballot is as follows:

PRESIDENT: Patty Bartlett, Dorothy Carter, Karen Hincley, Vonda Jackson, Janis Jolly, Sally Landers.

SECRETARY: Judy Flomer, Joyce Genoway, Jo Ella Hamilton, Ingrid Jones, May Popenhagen, Carol Rojan.

TREASURER: Darlene Duffy, Nancy Jutla, Joan Welsh, Penny Wheatley, Cherie Wood.

MAY QUEEN: Lirlda Archibald, Nathalie Bales, Mazie Collett, Colleen Hinchey, Phyllis Payne, Barbara Pierce, Liz Winegar.

In order to vote, students must present their ASUI cards.

Only Finals Count At India Schools

By MARIE INGEBRITSEN

Fred Miranda, one of Idaho's students from India, arrived in the United States by way of a Norwegian oil tanker from Saudi Arabia. Fred, a senior in chemical engineering, spent three and a half years as a laboratory analyst for the Arabian-American Oil Company.

He has a degree in chemistry from St. Aloysius College in Mangalore, Madras State, India. St. Aloysius is a men's college with about 800 students, he said.

"The college testing system is completely different in India," Fred remarked. Tests are given during the school year, but they are not important.

"The final test is the only one that is counted," he said.

A student could fail all his tests during the year but still get his degree by passing the final, he explained. Final tests are sent out by a government university board so that instructors don't even know what will be included.

He told about the many languages spoken in India.

"If I went a hundred miles away from home, I would hear a completely different language," he remarked.

Some of these languages have a separate alphabet. The most commonly-used language is Hindustani. Indians also speak language like Tamil, Tulu and Malayalam. Three languages—English, Kananda, and Konkani—were used at the school.

"There is no social life at the school," he explained. "We went to school for study and classes and then we went home."

There is a girls' school about a mile away, but students at the two colleges are not allowed to mix socially.

Families still arrange most of the marriages, he commented. Hindu families sometimes pick husbands or wives for their children when they are only four or five years old. Indians who have become Christians have more freedom, but picking their own mates is still "a possibility, not a probability," he added.

After he graduated, Fred went to Bombay. Although Mangalore is a city of nearly 80,000 it has no real industry. Technical jobs are scarce and poorly paid in India for men without an engineering degree.

After a year Fred found a job with the Arabian-American Oil Company. He was an analyst at the main refinery, which is at Ras-Tanura on the Persian Gulf.

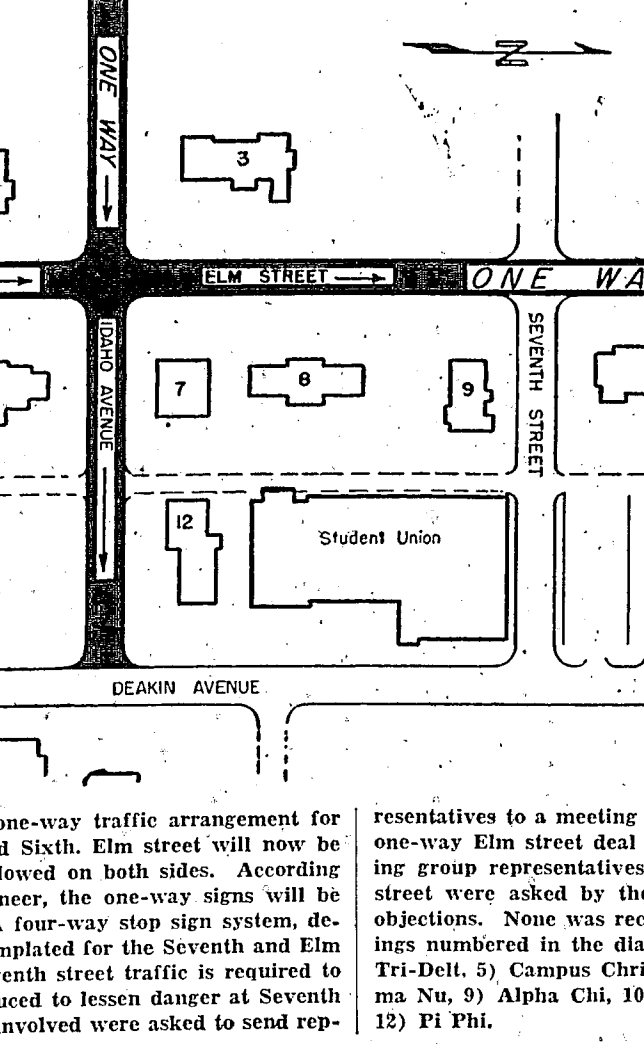

Festival To Be Held

Idaho's Women's Recreation Association will present its annual Folk Dance Festival in the women's gym Friday at 7:30 p.m. Eleven groups will compete for the top four places and house participation points.

Those participating and the dance they will perform are "Kolo-meika," Kappa; "Kerry Dance," Alpha Chi; "Austrian Polka," Phi Phi; "Stick Dance," Hays; "La Cucaracha," Alpha Phi; "The Grasshopper," TriDelt; "Swedish Schottische," Theta; "The Hat-ter," Gamma Phi; "Rheinlander," Forney; "Country Gardens," Steel House, and "American Square and Carisle," DG.

Dances will be judged on the following three factors: Spirit of the dance, execution of the dance and originality of costumes Judges for the festival will be Mrs. F. J. Weltzin, Mrs. Richard Smith, Mrs. Stanley Hiserman, Mrs. E. W. Tisdale and Mrs. E. E. Spiker.

No Two Ways About It

representatives to a meeting at which Gagon showed three plans. The one-way Elm Street deal was deemed most practical by these living group representatives. Owners of private property along the street were asked by the Moscow City Council if they had any objections. None was recorded and the plan was adopted. Buildings numbered in the diagram are 1) Figi, 2) Kappa, 3) Beta, 4) Tri-Delt, 5) Campus Christian Center, 6) Phi Delt, 7) DG, 8) Sigma Nu, 9) Alpha Chi, 10) Canterbury House, 11) Alpha Phi, and 12) Pi Phi.

All Classes Will Be Dismissed During Three Major Addresses

Classes will be dismissed so that students may attend all main addresses of the seventh annual Borah Peace Conference Thursday and Friday. Main addresses will be given at 1 p.m. Thursday, and at a banquet at 6:30 p.m. Thursday. The third main address will be at 9 a.m. Friday and the last one will be at 1 p.m. Friday.

The dismissal of students for the attendance at forums will be left up to the discretion of the individual instructor.

To Speak for Peace

Addresses will be held in the gymnasium, SUB, and the last two in the auditorium.

The conference schedule is as follows:

Thursday 1:10-2:30. Thurgood Marshall, "Race and Caste Distinction Effective Barriers to Education and Democracy."

2:40-5:15 — Three forums held simultaneously.

1. "Can Majority Rule and Personal Right be Reconciled?" in Home Economics 6.

2. "The Role of Government in Assuring Access to Knowledge."

3. "Can the Courts Defend Human Liberties?"

Friday 9-9:50—Paul F. Lazarsfeld, "Mass Media and Modern Society."

10-11:30 — Three forums held simultaneously.

1. "What Type of Education—General or Specialized—is the More Adequate Aid in a Free Society?"

2. "Does Man Really Have the Right to all Knowledge and the Free Use Thereof?"

3. "How Can We Prevent the Distortion of Truth in Mass Media and Yet Preserve Freedom of Expression?"

Friday 1:10-2—Dr. Ursula M. Niebuhr "Men's Freedom Under God."—2:10-3:40 Two forums held simultaneously.

1. "Do Religious Differences Promote Freedom of Knowledge?"

2. "Must There be Freedom of Religion to Preserve a Democratic Society?"

31 Initiated Into ROTC Honorary

A total of 31 Army, Navy and Air Force students were initiated into Scabbard and Blade Thursday evening.

The initiation climaxed four days of pledging, which included wearing of the uniform, carrying sabers and standing "guard duty" at the women's living groups.

The new members include John Armitage, Franklin Bahr, Theodore Bell, John Bjork, Thomas Butera, Edwin Byrne, Buddy Blenheim, David Clements, Larry Creek, Terrill Davis, Gerald Dougherty, Joseph Edgett, Quinten Erwin, Richard Feeney, Lewis Bourley, Robert Hanson, John Hess, Rodney Hoicos, Edwin Hudson, James Jessup, Wale Kaku, Eugene Lofdahl, Yult Lovejoy, Marvin Newell, William Reed, Robert Robertson, Barry Rust, Hubert Stein, Keith Stokes and Francis Strickling.

Red and blue fourragers have been ordered and will be worn on the uniform by the Army and Air cadets. It is against regulations for the Navy to wear them.

The next company meeting is scheduled for March 24 at 7 p.m.

Green or Red For Ladies' Lips?

HALIFAX—"If artly painted a brilliant green" was the motto of Charlie Murphy for a few days when she decided that green lips could attract male glances better than red ones.

Other females got on the band wagon until men at the Maritime University crushed the move with a 200-13 vote to down the new plan.

Charlie Murphy argued:

"Bless all the ladies
"From shrew to saint
"And bless their powder
"And bless their paint
"But I think their lips
"Would be better seen
"If artly painted a brilliant green."

Slave Mart Wins Trophies

The TKE, Gamma Phi and Kappa Sig Slave Mart at the Campus Chest Dance netted $70 to win trophies or the booth making the most money and was judged the most original booth by the dance patrons.

Campus Chest solicitations to date total $1888.89, with $406 collected at the dance Friday night. Faculty contributions, under the solicitation of Dr. Bernard C. Borning, professor of political science, totaled approximately $65.

Winners of the KRPL Late-Date show were Willis Sweet Hall and Gamma Phi. The winners are asked to contact John Mix at KRPL to schedule the shows, which will be broadcast this week and next from the winning living groups.

Living groups and their booth proceeds are as follows:

Gamma Phi, TKE, Kappa Sig, $70; Tri Delta, Willis Sweet, Delta Sig, $54.30; Alpha Phi, Sigma Chi, Phi Tau, $49.20; Kappa, Campus Club, $44.40; DG, Fiji, Phi Delt, $37; Alpha Chi, Sigma Nu, Lindley Hall, $34.50; Theta, Chrisman Hall, $33.10; Steel House, SAE, Lambda Chi, $32.30; Pi Phi, ATO, Idaho Club, $28.70; Hays Hall, Beta, LDS, $25.50.

Ag Boys Choose Three

Finalists for the 28th annual Little International livestock show are Ruth Ann Korvola, Steel House; Billy Hinchey, Tri Delt, and Eleanor Henry, Theta.

The queen will be selected at the next Ag Club meeting. Lorna Hobdye, Theta, was last year's queen. This year's 11 candidates were narrowed down to the final three at the Ag Club meeting Thursday night.

Howard Shepard, agriculture senior, is manager of this year's show set for May 3-8. Assisting him will be Walter Butcher and Norman Walker.

A total of 23 contests will be featured in this show. Anyone wishing to participate in the contests must register by signing lists that will appear in the Ag Science Building March 29.

AFROTC 'Review' To Be Broadcast

The Air Force ROTC cadet corps is taking to the air in a series of 13 weekly programs beginning Friday evening.

The program, titled "Pass in Review," will be aired over KRPL, Moscow, every Friday evening at 9:15. Featuring both members of the cadet corps and staff officers, the program will present an insight into training and experiences received in the Air Force program.

In charge of the weekly series are Joe Corless and Gene Hamblin.

Foresterettes Hold Meeting

The Foresterettes held their regular meeting Friday in the Syringa Room. The Forestry Wives were guests and 29 members and guests were present.

Miss Jo Murelaga furnished special entertainment by playing several Basque songs on the accordion and also told the group about the history of the Basque people.

Refreshments of coffee, sandwiches and cookies were served.

Three Columbia university faculty members and Thurgood Marshall, chief legal officer of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, will speak Thursday and Friday at the University of Idaho's annual Borah Education and the Pacific Northwest Conference on Higher Education. Pictured at top left is Marshall and next to him is Dr. Paul F. Lazarsfeld, director of the Bureau of Applied Social Research at Columbia. Dr. John A. Krout, vice president and provost of Columbia is at bottom left, and Dr. Ursula M. Niebuhr, head of the department of religion at Barnard college, Columbia University, is at the lower right.

See You at The Borah Peace Conference

Thursday and Friday, March 18 and 19, the campus will be able to witness and participate in the seventh annual Borah Conference. This year something new has been added in that the Pacific Northwest Conference on Higher Education is being held in conjunction with this outstanding conference on "Peace."

The combination of these conferences will give students and faculty an opportunity to voice their views and hear the views of others who have come quite a distance to be our guests.

This conference will not, and does not, pretend to solve the topics chosen, but it will give all those who participate many helpful ideas on current problems that are paramount in the minds of the college community and the people of the world.

Many Northwest schools are sending delegates to participate with us and take back to their respective campuses ideas and points that are important to all American citizens in helping to acquire world peace.

The committee has done a fine job in bringing to our campus the outstanding leaders in the fields of the chosen topics. The participation in this conference will make it a success and achieve the objective for which it was intended. I would like to urge each and every member of the college community to give his utmost attention and support to this conference. I will see you at the opening plenary session Thursday at 1:10 in the gym.

Bill Parsons
ASUI President.

Calvin Warnick Elected To Sigma Tau Fraternity

Calvin C. Warnick, associate professor of civil engineering, has been elected to membership in Rho Chapter of Sigma Tau in recognition of service to the engineering profession.

Warnick, a native of Hinckley, Utah, received his B.S. at Utah State Agricultural College in 1943 and his M.S. at the University of Wisconsin in 1947.

Warnick was a design engineer for Boeing for three years a member of a project planning group for the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation at Salt Lake City. He came to Idaho in 1947.

Warnick chose teaching as his profession because he enjoys explaining engineering subjects to students. At the present time he is teaching strength of materials and hydraulics.

Warnick has also gained distinction in his research work in snow gauges and canal-lining studies. The snow gauge, which is a storage type gauge, satisfies the need for a means of measuring precipitation at high elevations. The gauge has attracted much international interest, especially from the Dutch and British.

Warnick has written an article for the British Glaciological Society. The canal-lining studies were a cooperative project with the Bureau of Reclamation in which lower cost materials are being investigated in the control of seepage losses from canals.

Professional group activities for Warnick include the Western Snow Conference, American Geophysical Union, Northwest Scientific Association,

American Society of Civil Engineers, National Society of Professional Engineers and Sigma Xi and Phi Kappa Phi honoraries. He is a licensed engineer in Idaho.

Arnold Air Gets Headquarters

The University of Idaho has been elected as permanent area headquarters for area I of the Arnold Air Society. Selection was made by other area members including 13 AS squadrons from Idaho, Washington, Oregon, Montana and Wyoming.

Cadet Col. Gerald Leigh has been elected as area commander with area officers as follows: Max Nunnkamp, executive officer; Joe Corless, adjutant; Harry Brenn, comptroller; Stan Swanson, public relations officer.

NOTICE

March 18 is the deadline for applying for the Blue Key Talent Show. Applications may be obtained in the ASUI General Manager's Office.

Veteran Professor Given Ag Post in Belgian Congo

J. W. Barber, a veteran of 34 years with the Agricultural Extension Service, is going overseas for six months to help set up an agricultural extension program in the Belgian Congo.

A leave of absence from his University post, extension studies and permit stations.

today by Dean D. R. Theophilus of the college of agriculture with approval by the regents. Barber leaves next week. His headquarters will be at Leopoldville, Belgian Congo.

In his overseas assignment, Barber will serve under the Foreign Operation Administration of the U.S. government. His duties will involve advising government officials in planning and organizing an agricultural extension service. An agricultural experiment station now serves the country. There are a few agricultural field agents, working individually, and Barber will coordinate them into a service similar to the agricultural extension set-up in this country in which county agents carry to the farmers the findings of the agricultural experiment stations.

Barber will be helping native agents get started on the same kind of work he has been doing in Idaho for a third of a century.

Following graduation from the University of Idaho in 1920, with a major in agronomy, Barber became Cassia county 4-H Club agent. A year later he became that county's agricultural agent. In 1928 Barber became district extension agent, with headquarters at Pocatello. In 1940 he was advanced to state county agent leader, a position he held until 1951 when he became extension studies and training specialist.

While Cassia county agent, Barber instituted a local potato improvement project which has since developed into a statewide program. While district extension agent at Pocatello he was a leader in the production of Idaho's first 4-H leader's manual.

Chem Head To Speak On Radio

Dr. Melbourne L. Jackson, head of the department of chemical engineering, will speak on the opportunities of chemical engineering over KRPL Thursday night. Jackson's talk will be one of the features of "Here We Have Idaho," which is broadcast every Thursday at 8:30 p.m.

Also included on this week's program is an interview of professor Wayne F. Young of the journalism department. You will tell about the high school journalism conference to be held here later this month. Coach Jay Pattee will be interviewed by Gub Mix.

On the musical agenda will be a number by William Herr, baritone, accompanied by Golden Arrington. Al Waitz will present a piano solo. The University concert band will play "A New Day Overture."

This same program can be heard over KUOI Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

THANKS

The SUB cafeteria wishes to thank the Campus Chest Committee for prompt action in cleaning up the North Ballroom Friday evening. By your promptness, we were able to set up our noon luncheon without delay.

Al Maurich, Dietician

I would like to extend my sincerest appreciation to all the students and faculty members whose diligent efforts put the Campus Chest drive over the top. Special thanks go to Carol Rojan and the Solicitations Committee; Ruth Brede and the publicity committee; the Carnival committee headed by Harry Brenn, and to Dr. Bernhard C. Borning who headed the faculty solicitations.

Dolores Anderson, Campus Chest Chairman

Music Fans To Enjoy Performance

Music lovers in the Moscow area will not want for entertainment this spring.

According to an announcement released by Professor Hall M. Macklin, head of the music department, at least one musical event a week is scheduled for the remaining three months of the current school year.

The first in the series of 18 recitals, concerts and choral programs planned at the University will be presented Tuesday.

Pianist Agnes C. Schuldt, assistant professor of music, will be featured in this faculty recital. Remainder of the spring music schedule includes:

March 21, Sigma Alpha Iota-Phi Mu Alpha concert; March 25, University Band concert; April 14, Vandaleers' home concert; April 22, soprano March Forney, in graduate student recital; April 25, organist Deloris Bloomquist, graduate recital; April 27, Madrigal Singers concert.

May 5, Community concert; May 8, May Fete; May 9, Mother's Day song-fest; May 11, C. Griffith Bratt in dedication series concert of Margaret Weyerhaeuser Jewett Memorial organ; May 13, cellist Ruth Krieger, faculty recital; May 18, tenor Erikum, senior recital.

May 20, University Symphony orchestra concert; May 27, contralto Leah Jensen, senior recital; June 6, University Band concert; June 6, Macklin and Marian Frykman of music faculty featured in dedication series concert of Margaret Weyerhaeuser Jewett Memorial organ.

Out Of The Past

25 Years Ago

Russian Papers Print No Comics

This is the fourth in a series of articles written by a college editor who recently returned from a visit to Russia.—Ed.

By Dean Schoelkopf
 Editor, Minnesota Daily (ACP)—Four-page newspapers with almost no advertising, no comic strips and with daily front page editorials are the rule in Russia.

All the papers we saw, from Pravda and Izvestia right on down to the smallest provincial papers, follow that same pattern. They are issued once a day, and sell for 20 kopeks (five cents).

We talked to seven newspaper editors during our trip, and found the most interesting one—and a typical Russian newsman—to be I. M. Malutin, editor of the Baku, Azerbaijan, Worker. The Worker has a circulation of 90,000, and a staff of 60 persons.

Editorials Answer?
 Editorials in the paper deal with "all questions of interest to the Soviet people," Malutin told us. He said he determined editorial policy, and with the rest of the Soviet press he is currently trying to "educate" readers into a friendly attitude toward the United States.

"You can't find a phrase in our papers against the American people," he said. "We are trying to help friendly relations between nations."

Malutin was bitterly critical of the American press. Since World II, he said, the American press has reflected Soviet life non-objectively and has been full of different kinds of propaganda for war.

"I would like to read the American papers," he said, "but they reflect the USSR in unfriendly terms."

We asked him how long it has been since he's seen an American newspaper or magazine, and he said three years.

How was he able to get accurate reports from the United States? The only fair accounts, he said, come from Howard Fast (winner of the Stalin Peace prize in 1953) and from Paul Robeson.

Committee-Owned Papers
 Other newspapermen we talked to were editors of youth newspapers. They all were chosen by the central committee of the party and then named their own staffs.

We asked them if their newspaper ever disagreed with any government decision. They said they never do because they trust their

IT'S ALL A MATTER OF TASTE

When you come right down to it, you smoke for one simple reason... enjoyment. And smoking enjoyment is all a matter of taste. Yes, taste is what counts in a cigarette. And Luckies taste better.

Two facts explain why Luckies taste better. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco... light, mild, good-tasting tobacco. Second, Luckies are actually made better to taste better... always round, firm, fully packed to draw freely and smoke evenly.

So, for the enjoyment you get from better taste, and only from better taste, Be Happy—Go Lucky. Get a pack or a carton of better-tasting Luckies today.

It's not surprising Luckies lead in college circulation—These better-tasting cigarettes are tops across the nation!

Roger Maseraugh
