CAMPUS SWINGS INTO ACTION ONCE MORE

New Faculty Members Appointed By Theophilus

Glad to see you back and just plain glad to see you if you're a new student. Looks like we're in for a big year. At least one Argonaut friend thought so—he just joined the Army.

Willie Chang was one of our students who publicly announced his intentions of cancelling his Arg subscription last year. Just for kicks we're sending Willie a free subscription this year.

We happened to be trundling through the halls of North Idaho Junior College last week and ran into Joyce Mostead. Some of you will remember that she was an Idaho coed who came down with polio two years ago. She's in a wheelchair at the present time but having no difficulties with her schooling. We thought she might enjoy hearing from some of her Idaho friends. Send the letters c/o the college in Coeur d'Alene.

Jim Bowlby, the Student Union building manager, tells us that some students are not clearing their tables in the Bucket, Years ago, when sages planned the show they decided to keep prices down by letting the students clear their own tables. Need we say more? The Phi Delt house takes the cake now. Heard some fresh ask if it was the infirmary. Well, we can't say for sure but all the whitewash needs is a big red cross (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Besides the many faculty appointments made last spring were additional ones made late this summer by Acting President D. R. Theophilus, following regents approval.

Named to replace Asst. Professor Vernon P. Shook during his two years' leave of absence in Iran with the Near East Foundation, is Dr. Mhyra Minins who will become visiting assistant professor of sociology and social work. A native of Latvia who came to this country at 12, Dr. Minins has been senior social science research analyst for the Library of Congress in Washington, D. C. Previously, she was public health research analyst for the U. S. Public Health Service, and has taught at Bowling Green, Western Reserve and George Washington universities. She has also done social service work and headed recreational and educational programs for children. She holds B.A. and M.A. degrees from Oberlin college, and her doctorate from Yale.

Appointed documents librarian was Michael C. Slama, a political refugee from Czechoslovakia, who has just completed his master's work at the University of Denver school of librarianship. Slama has also studied extensively in colleges in Czechoslovakia and Switzerland.

Visiting assistant professor of law will be Edmond R. Anderson, Jr., from the University of California school of law faculty. He will replace Dr. William J. Brockelbank, on leave for a year to teach in Puerto Rico under a Fulbright fellowship.

Named as assistant professor and assistant dairy husbandman was Robert A. Hibbs, who holds a doctorate degree from Washington State college, and who has been quality control supervisor for the Darigold dairy in Spokane. Also from Spokane is Homer I. Futter, who becomes assistant county agent of Idaho county. Previously, Futter had done extension work in Kootenai and Lemhi counties, but has currently been serving as a field representative of the Centennial Flour Mills in Spokane.

Appointed home demonstration agent for Madison county was Clara Zirkler Newman, native of St. Anthony and a Utah State Agricultural college graduate, and home demonstration agent for Nez Perce county, Bernadann Reese, Tudder, a University of Idaho graduate who had previously served in Fremont county.

Minoru Hironaka, who holds a master's degree from the University of Idaho, becomes assistant range ecologist, jr., and assistant agronomist, jr. Appointed assistant plant pathologist, jr., was Lucien Laferriere, University of Maine graduate.

Kenneth E. Grimm, who has been working on his doctorate at Stanford, was named instructor in geology. Holding a B.S. degree from the University of Arizona and an M.A. from Stanford, he has done geological work in the Southwest for the last 12 years.

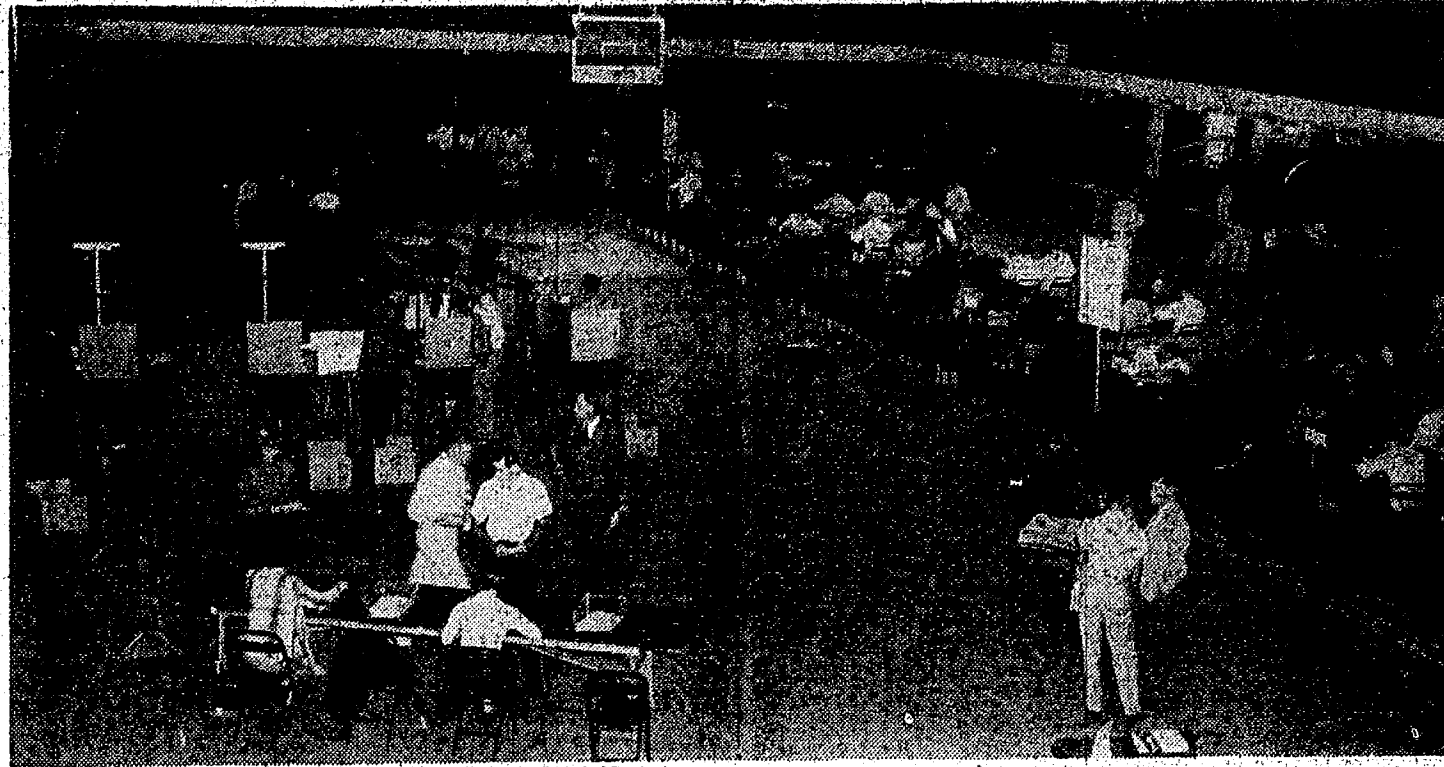

Named an instructor in music was William A. Billingsley, who holds both bachelor and master's degrees from Drake university. (Continued on Page 5, Col. 1)

Gem Arrives October 1

The first batch of "Gem of the Mountains" will be available in the General Manager's office around the first of October, according to ASUI General Manager Gale Mix.

The annual will be available to all students who were regularly enrolled in the University last year. Old ASUI cards will not be needed to obtain copies.

The Battlefield

Memorial Gym, all decked out for the new year and registration, seems to be taking it easy prior to the big rush. Around 950 students made it over the hurdles yesterday to get off on a flying start for the 1954-55 school year.

New Titles Are Given

Students returning to the University this fall will note some new titles in the Office of Student Affairs, which is the service link between administration and students.

In the reorganization Charles O. Decker becomes Director of Student Affairs. Following the death last year of Herbert E. Lattig, he had been named acting Director of Student Affairs and Acting Dean of Men.

Guy P. Wicks, who has long served the university as Field Agent, was appointed Associate Director of Student Affairs for Men and Field Agent, Louise Carter, Dean of Women, becomes Dean of Women and Associate Director of Student Affairs for Women.

Charles Bond, Acting Chief Student Counselor, was made Chief Student Counselor. This was the position held by Decker before he was named to fill the vacancy left by the death of Lattig.

To fill the vacancy created by the promotion of Bond, Donald J. Kees of Rupert was appointed Student Counselor. Holding both bachelor and Master's degrees from the University of Idaho, Kees recently received a fellowship for special training in student counseling this summer at New York university.

Dr. Warren J. Wolfe, chairman of languages at the university, has been named one of more than 300 of the leading language scholars of the world to act as a consultant on the second edition of the Britannica World Language dictionary—the first really new dictionary in more than a century—it has been announced in Britannica's Chicago headquarters by the president of the company.

The new Britannica dictionary gives word equivalents in seven languages—English, French, German, Italian, Spanish, Swedish and Yiddish.

"Students who have registered at the University of Idaho and paid their regular fees will be admitted to the Idaho-Oregon football game Saturday by showing their pink registration receipt. They will be admitted at the northeast gate in Neale Stadium by showing this receipt, and no extra charge will be made."

Wanted: Two men to deliver Argonauts Tuesday and Friday, each week during the school year, under ASUI contract. Must have car. Contact General Manager's office, Student Union Building IMMEDIATELY for details concerning contract.

Nearly 400 Pledge As Rush Comes To Close

A total of 224 men and 165 coeds found new homes on the university of Idaho campus with the cooperation of the 1954 edition of formal fraternity and sorority rushing this week. The homes are the 14 national fraternities and eight national sororities on the campus which released their pledge lists following the completion of rush week.

Pledge lists were not available at this time for two fraternities, Lambda Chi Alpha and Phi Gamma Delta. Those pledged are: Alpha Tau Omega — Manley Waldron and Charles Stowe, of Bovill; John Raeder and Robert Thomas, Moscow; Mark Cole and John Landreth, Grangeville; Carl Harris, Lewiston; Don Morse and William Drake, Coeur d'Alene; Edwin Crockett, Sandpoint; Jerry Ballard and Richard Sayer, Idaho Falls; William Cooke, Boise; Perry Jones, Malad; Edmond Keller, Soda Springs; Jack Teater and Layne Shockley, Kimberly; Donald Donaldson, Opportunity, Wash.; Douglas Seely, Walla Walla, Wash.; Robert Cole, Bellevue, Wash.; Daniel Belton, Pendleton, Ore.; Peter Ostrander, Los Angeles, Calif.; and David Rowlands, Hilo, Hawaii.

Beta Theta Pi — David Maxey, Jack Little, Kenneth Arnold, Cliff Scharf, Stewart Robertson, Donald Dick, Donald Mendolola and Charles Tate, Boise; Knute Westergren, Stanley Pierce, Robert Childress and Michael Boles, Twin Falls; Robert Benjamin, Joseph Adams and Lawrence Ward, Idaho Falls; Denny Hague, James Pierat Jr. and Van Larson, Coeur d'Alene; John Connell, Kellogg; Jay Leavitt, Moscow; James Muncels and James Richel, Pierce; Richard Schultz, Cottonwood; Ernie Egan, Kimberly; Michael Patton, Caldwell.

"Again, we as a public-supported institution must appear during this academic year before the bar of public opinion, and justify, not our existence—that has been done by you and your predecessors—but our needs for the future.

"Personally, I look with favor upon giving an accounting of our stewardship of the state University every two years before the legislature, and of explaining the planning of the future. This requirement keeps us constantly alert to our responsibilities and opportunities. It likewise reminds us that this institution was created to serve the people of Idaho."

Elected by the faculty at the meeting to serve on the Academic Council as faculty representatives at-large were Professors Mabel Locke, chairman of the department of physical education for women, and Warren K. Pope, associate agronomist.

Staff members who will explain the openings in their departments at the 2 p.m. meeting include Gary Pietsch, acting managing editor, Steve Ermine, sports editor, Ruth Brede, news editor, Betty Brooks, copy editor, Jane Querna, business manager, and Carol Rujan, advertising manager.

Mailing subscriptions for the Argonaut can be obtained through the General Manager's office in the Student Union Building. Subscription rates run $1.50 per semester.

Purpose Is Stated

Stressing that "we are here to serve the people of Idaho — not ourselves," Acting President D. R. Theophilus officially opened the University of Idaho's 62nd academic year with an address before the general faculty.

The dean of the college of agriculture, who was named acting head of the university following the resignation of President J. E. Buchanan, said in his first formal appearance before the entire faculty:

"I look with favor upon giving an accounting of our stewardship of the state University every two years before the legislature, and of explaining the planning of the future. This requirement keeps us constantly alert to our responsibilities and opportunities. It likewise reminds us that this institution was created to serve the people of Idaho."

3000 Expected For New Term

Registration at the University of Idaho proceeding at the rate of 15 to 200 students an hour, with 950 scheduled to be registered by the end of the first day. More than 3,000 students are expected to be enrolled for fall studies at the completion of registration.

Early predictions by Registrar D. D. DuSault for a 12 per cent increase in new students appeared to be holding good. There will also be a substantial increase in foreign students, particularly from Canada.

Although regular registration days for undergraduates ends Saturday, graduate students and latecomers will continue to register for some time, it is expected.

This year's registration is probably the quietest in history. Acoustical tile added during the summer to the Memorial gymnasium, scene of registration, absorbed much of the sound of students moving from desk to desk. They also were walking on heavy paper and canvas placed on the floor to protect the new maple surface of the basketball court.

First classes will start at 8 a. m. Monday, although the students have an important date before then: 2 p.m. Saturday when the University of Idaho meets the University of Oregon on the football field.

On Monday evening an assembly will be held in the Ad Auditorium from 7 to 9 p.m. Its purpose will be to introduce to the new students the campus organizations and honoraries. Wednesday and Thursday evenings the committee will give new students suggestions on study techniques. These assemblies will be held at the Ag Science building, room 106, at 7:30 p.m.

Concluding the New Student Days program will be the all-campus mixer, Saturday, September 25, at 9 p.m. in the Student Union ball rooms.

The University of Idaho's famed alma mater song, "Here We Have Idaho," will appear in two new publications.

Permission was granted by the regents for Ira H. Masters, secretary of state, to reprint the song in his biennial report, and also for use by the Daughters of Utah Pioneers in a lesson pamphlet entitled "State Emblems."

ASUI Heads Visit NSA

Flep Kieffner, ASUI president, Jim Saad, ASUI vice president and NSA representatives Charles Oldham and Liz Winegar represented the University of Idaho at the National Students Association meeting held at Iowa State College Aug. 22 through 31.

The ASUI, a member of NSA, sends delegates each year to the national convention to exchange ideas in student government with other campus leaders.

"We plan to put NSA on the student level so that benefits can be realized. For example, NSA was instrumental in obtaining many Air Force commissions for Air ROTC cadets who were going to be excluded by the Air Force," said Saad in commenting on NSA plans for the coming year.

Miss Jean Collette Announces Tryouts For 'Mrs. McThing'

Tryouts for acting in the first University drama department presentation, "Mrs. McThing," will be held in the University auditorium next Wednesday and Thursday, September 22 and 23, according to Miss Jean Collette, head of dramatics.

The tryouts, which will be held at 7 p.m., are for all interested in working in drama this year, Miss Collette said, including those who will do backstage and property work. All students are eligible to work in dramatics, but Freshman women will be restricted from acting during their first year because of their inability to attend night rehearsals.

From the U . . .

D. R. Theophilus

Ordinarily, it might be appropriate for me to stress here in the first issue of the Argonaut for the 1954-55 school year the importance of adopting the right attitude toward studies. But I do not feel that this is necessary because, in looking out over the new students at Monday's assembly, I sensed a fine enthusiasm for the year ahead.

And nothing is more contagious than enthusiasm. If there should be an occasional student without enthusiasm, he will soon catch this healthy attitude from his colleagues.

So, if I am to stress anything here today, it is that all of you students—both old and new—are extended a most cordial welcome by all of the faculty and staff. Your achievements are the primary satisfaction we get out of our endeavors. When enthusiasm is there to absorb the information, the pay-off is certain for both students and members of the faculty and staff.

My compliments to you, the students, for a good start on a good year. D. R. Theophilus Acting President University of Idaho

Rights Are Granted To Use Alma Mater

The University of Idaho's famed alma mater song, "Here We Have Idaho," will appear in two new publications.

Permission was granted by the regents for Ira H. Masters, secretary of state, to reprint the song in his biennial report, and also for use by the Daughters of Utah Pioneers in a lesson pamphlet entitled "State Emblems."

From ASUI

Flep Kieffner

A warm welcome back, new and old friends, to the bothe of the Vandals.

To the freshmen, this year brings the greatest experiences and the best memories. To you, our special welcome goes out, with the hope that Idaho will be more than you anticipated. Join the fun and keep our Idaho traditions active and alive with your new ideas and spirit.

To the "old pros" of our campus, this year can be just the same old grind of it can be your best year ever at Idaho. We're hoping for the latter. The easiest way to attain this objective is to have a good positive attitude about your campus life. Be for your University—it's the best!

A great year has already begun. Hop on the bandwagon and be the first to attend the Pap Rally on Friday night, and the Oregon game on Saturday. The Vandals need you, and you need them!

The all-campus mixer is on the next weekend, and Homecoming follows that. We expect the best from all you and know that it will be a great year for all of us Vandals! Flep Kieffner, ASUI President

Tomorrow Navy Freshmen, Navy building, 10 a.m., welcome aboard program. Sunday Cosmopolitan club, SUB. 2 p.m., conference rooms A and B, welcoming meeting for new foreign students and others interested. Reception follows at International House.

Official publication of the Associated Students of the University of Idaho, located in Moscow, Idaho, on Friday of the college year. Entered as second-class matter, Post Office at Moscow, Idaho.

Jason States Arg Policy For The Coming Year

In beginning a school year the new Jason is faced with the question of how to handle campus political questions along with the problem of agreeing with all the plans of the student Executive Board. In short, the question is whether to become a publicity medium for student politics or to remain independent and sound out both sides.

For the benefit of Argonaut readers the 1954-55 Jason would like to outline his policy for the forthcoming 62 issues. 1. All news space will be filled with purely objective reporting to the best of the staff's ability. Any dispute appearing as campus news will be given equal play both pro and con. During campus elections political propaganda will be labeled as such.

2. All letters to Jason that can be printed without endangering the livelihood of the Argonaut will be printed. Letters should be kept under 500 words. All letters must be signed to show that the writer is acting in good faith.

3. The Golden Pledge column will be strictly the opinions of the present editor. It does not necessarily reflect the views of the University or Argonaut staff.

4. Editorials appearing on page 2 in the Argonaut will carry the writer's initials and will reflect the opinions of the writer and not necessarily those of the University. Reasonable great editorials are invited providing they have enough reader interest to warrant publishing.

5. The 1954-55 Jason is 100 per cent behind any Student Executive Board plans that will make the University of Idaho an even better school.

The Argonaut invites anyone with ideas or complaints to visit the Argonaut office in the Student Union Building and "sound off."

Hazing Reported Dangerous

In the June 2 meeting of the academic council former president J. D. Buchanan reported that there appears to be an increase in the amount of student hazing and that he is much concerned over the possibility of some student being seriously injured by this practice.

He recommended that the Council take up this matter next fall with student groups and that probably the University should be on record concerning its attitude toward school hazing.

Hazing, we are told, is a necessity for building character and making a man out of an undergraduate or a pledge. But just how much manhood does a dunking in a tub of cold water impart? Or perhaps being tied in a strait jacket style up in a tree and then waiting to be cut down, by a girl imparts some measure of manhood (and maybe a broken neck).

Then there are paddlings, running around in awkward outfits, midnight rides, and long walks to impart maturity. These are said to be necessary. Nevertheless we wonder if they and other forms of hazing really are essential.

After all, the army, or walking to classes gives us our hiking exercise; costume dances provide the special outfits; and as for paddlings our parents should have taken care of that long ago.

Webster's tells us that hazing is "infliction of excessive work" or "harassment by abusive or ridiculous treatment." So, we wonder if this ridiculous, abusive treatment is in store for our new students this year. Will hazing be used as a childish method to make men (?) out of people who should already be men?

Professors Leave Idaho To Do Studies Elsewhere

Several University of Idaho professors have been given sabbatical and other various leaves of absence to work abroad this year.

Among them is Dr. J. F. Weltzin, dean of the college of education and director of the summer school session, who has been given sabbatical leave during the 1954-55 school year to conduct a study of schools in the Scandinavian countries. This was announced from the office of the president of the University this summer.

Serving in Weltzin's absence will be Dr. Ray M. Berry, head of the department of education. He will also retain his present position.

One-Year Leaves
W. J. Brockelbank, professor of law at the University, is another professor who will leave the University. He has been given a one-year leave of absence to accept a visiting professorship at the University of Puerto Rico.

Others will be Leonard Halland, instructor in physics and technician, who plans to make a study of physics and instrument shops at various institutes here and abroad, and Ervin T. Bullard, associate horticulturist at the University of Idaho since 1950, who has recently been appointed agricultural research advisor to Liberia, Africa.

Jason

then Doc Alley and Co. and move in.

Speaking of living groups, the Kappas played it cool by building an addition to the humble dwelling before the big rush. We understand it's named already—"Fiji Annex." Keep building, gals. By 1956 you'll be able to step out the front door into the Fiji living room.

It's back to the Suretan foot bath tonight after those registration lines all day. Join me?

Students desiring part-time work during Saturday's ball game should see Del Klaus in Memorial Gym 101 anytime Friday.

Bush Fills Math Post

Dr. Kenneth A. Bush, from the University of Illinois graduate faculty, is the new head of mathematics at the University of Idaho. It was announced by Acting President D. R. Theophilus, following regents approval.

Dr. Bush fills the position vacant since the retirement of Professor Eugene Taylor, who taught mathematics at the university more than 30 years. Holding bachelor and master's degrees from Columbia University and a doctorate from the University of North Carolina, Bush has been active in the teaching field since 1938.

Besides teaching at the University of Illinois, he has served at Hobart, Bard, Mohawk and Champlain colleges. While head of the mathematics department at Mohawk college, he was also assistant to the dean of engineering. For five years during World War II, Bush taught mathematics at the U. S. Naval Academy. The author of numerous technical papers, he has also done consulting work for the armed forces on various projects.

Price Heads Journalism

Professor Granville Price, who has taught journalism at the University of Texas for 20 years, is the new chairman of journalism at the University of Idaho. It was announced by Acting President D. R. Theophilus, following regents approval.

Price succeeds Professor Wayne Young, who resigned to turn from journalism teacher to law student at the University of Idaho.

Besides many years of teaching experience, Price has had eight years of practical newspaper experience. For three years he was on the copy desk of the New York Herald Tribune. As reporter, city editor and news editor, he served the Galveston (Texas) News for four years, and held similar positions on the Austin (Texas) Statesman for one year before turning to teaching.

He is a member of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, and Kappa Tau Alpha, honorary journalism fraternity. For the last year he has been on leave from the University of Texas to complete his doctorate work at the University of Missouri. His B. A. and M. A. degrees in journalism are held from the University of Texas.

DEAR JASON

Dear Jason:
The name Vandals represents the fighting spirit of the U of I. To use it is something to be proud of, not degraded. The thought never entered my head that the Vandals are ugly or distasteful. Did the people who think it is ugly ever look into the matter?

Sincerely,
A. C. Walter Myers
Former pre-med at U of I.

Thanks for the line. Last year there was some grumbling over the name Vandals so the Arg printed an editorial asking people to submit a better name. Four replies were received. Three wanted "Vandals" retained. Guess that settles it!

—Ed.

$7000 In Scholarships Given To U of I Students

Scholarships total more than $7,000, according to reports received from the office of Charles Decker, director of student affairs on the campus.

Lucky winners include: Spencer Miller of McDermitt, Nev., who won the $500 scholarship given by the Crown Zellerbach Foundation, San Francisco.

Winner of the recently created $500 Idaho State Federation of Labor scholarship was John Hedges, freshman from Ashton. This scholarship was created in 1952.

Sears, Roebuck Award
Sears-Roebuck Foundation scholarships went to 19 University students. The $200 home economics award went to Elinor Johnson, Jerome. Kenneth Jenkins, sophomore from Jerome, received the $250 agriculture scholarship. Awards of $150 each were given to Quinton Rogers and Walter Lühr, Emmett; Larry Summers and Floyd Lydum, Blackfoot; Darryl Dixon and Virgil Young, Payette; Robert Hansen, Pocatello; Gordon Henderson, Eden; Don Harris, Grace; Derald Glenn, Kimberly; Neil Cross, New Plymouth; John Alexander, Richfield; Don Miller, Samuels; Ronald Beal, Idaho Falls; Lawrence LaRue, Heyburn, and Garry Sather, Genesee.

Out-of-State
Out-of-state elementary education tuition grants of $150 were awarded by the Board of Regents to Bette Blakely, Opportunity, Wash.; Gerald Ainsworth, Edmonds, Wash.; Sally Jo Miller, Seattle; Emilie Davidson, Ogden, Utah; and Josephine Haight, Santa Barbara, Calif.

The Board of Regents also renewed out-of-state tuition scholarships of 4 Norway students. They are Tore Kristoffersen and Reidar Ullevaalseter, both of Oslo; Henning Olsen, Fredrikstad, and Olaf Stavik, Molde.

Recipients of the Howard and Linnie Shriver scholarships were Joann Bozeman, Parma and Gerald Bierweg, Rupert. Joan Bozeman also received a $200 award from the Parma Parent-Teachers association.

The University of Idaho Alumni association awarded $125 scholarships to Martha Sue Dempsey, Nezperce, and Suzanne Watson, Garfield, Wash.

Finishing the list are Judd Rogstad, Boise, General Electric Co., $500; James Stanton, Bakersfield, Calif., Carol Howe Foster trust fund, $300; Dean Judd, Blackfoot, News-Review Publishing Co., Moscow, $125 journalism award, and Shirley Long, Boise, Scholastic Magazine, $115 scholastic art award.

CLOCK TELLS
HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Pennsylvanians can now tell easily what time it is on Mars.

The state industrial and construction exposition developed what it calls "the world's first space clock" for its annual meeting.

The space clock simultaneously records the hour, day, month and year on Mars, as well as on earth. The clock divides the Mars year into the conventional 12 months and into Mars days of 24 hours, 37 minutes, 23 seconds.

GI Bill Is Not Affected

Money veterans earn going to school under the Korean GI Bill in after-school jobs will have no effect on the GI allowance paid them by the government. Veterans Administration said in a special ruling.

GI Bill Is Not Affected

In fact, VA said, these earnings need not even be reported to VA. VA explained that some veterans have been confusing the new Korean GI Bill with the original World War II GI Bill which did have an income "ceiling" that applied to veterans taking all types of training—in school, on-the-job and on-the-farm.

GI Bill Is Not Affected

The Korean GI Bill does have a "ceiling," but for on the job trainees only. It does not apply to veterans in the classroom.

GI Bill Is Not Affected

Instead, when a veteran's on-the-job training wages, plus his GI allowance, exceed $310 a month, VA scales down the allowance according to the total within the $310 limit.

GI Bill Is Not Affected

Starting allowance rates for Korean GI job trainees are $10 a month with no dependent, $25 with one, and $105 with more than one dependent. Under the law, these rates are reduced at four-month intervals, as training progresses and veterans' earning abilities increase.

GI Bill Is Not Affected

The rates for veterans in school full-time are $110 with no dependents; $135 with one dependent, and $160 with more than one dependent.

Student-Faculty Council

Function—Advisory group to consider major student problems and to effect coordination and unity of purpose among students, faculty, and University officials; clearing group for student organizations; responsible for University calendar of student events through subcommittees. Chairman may designate subcommittees to be responsible for specific activities and he may call upon other personnel to serve on special assignments.

Membership—Mr. Decker (Chr.), Dean Carter, Dr. Don Marshall, Mr. H. E. Slade, Miss Betts, Profs. Otness, Mayfield, President ASUI or his designated representative.

Demand Is High For Graduates In Engineering

The demand for engineering graduates continues at the University of Idaho with 100 industrial firms, governmental agencies, states, cities and universities contacting the university in the past year for young engineers, according to figures released by Allen S. Janssen, dean of the college of engineering.

Janssen, who expects the national demand for engineers to exceed the supply for at least six more years, pointed out that 54 of the employee-seeking organizations visited the campus and interviewed June graduates. Several firms save the students expense-free trips to inspect their plants, some of which are located on the east coast.

Membership—Dr. Alley (Chr.), Profs. Adah Lewis, Beck, Jobe, Newcomb, Ardrey, Mr. Robert Greene (ex officio) and Mr. Bowlby (ex officio).

Public Events Committee

Function—Plan, announce and direct University public events and assemblies. Chairman may designate subcommittee to be responsible for specific activities, and he may call upon other personnel to serve on special assignments.

Study and report on problems and questions referred to it by the President. Call to the attention of the President any matter concerning faculty or staff affairs in any division or department of the University which the committee believes would be of concern to him. Receive, weigh, sift, and reject or forward to the President formal petitions or informal but responsible suggestions and criticisms from members of the faculty or the staff.

Membership—Prof. J. W. Mar-

Remodeling On Campus

During the summer months, carpenters and painters have been busy on the University campus remodeling and redecorating several of the campus living groups.

The Phi Delta began a complete remodeling job on their first two floors early this spring. A double fireplace, game room, library, and tentative house mother's rooms have been added, with new draperies, furniture and mahogany paneling. The dining room is now downstairs, as is a new rumpus room.

A large patio has been built on the back and the outside of the house has been painted white. The Phi Dels hope to have all the remodeling done by Homecoming and plan an open house at that time.

New paint and pine paneling highlight the redecorating of the Alpha Chi house plus repainting of the pink shutters. The new smoker is finished in knotty pine with built-in cabinets and book shelves. A new trunk room and laundry room have been added to the smoker. The halls and sleeping porch show off a bright paint job, and the dining room, new tables.

A new wing on the Kappa Kappa Gamma house will be completed early in January and will contain a chapter room, six new study rooms, a sun deck and dining room. The present dining room will be converted into a guest room, and a TV and utility room. The living room and reception room have been repapered, with draperies to match.

Thomas, Teutsch Win Essay Contest

Darlene Thomas, Priest River, and Jean Teutsch, Boise, have won top honors in the annual Philo Sherman Bennett essay contest dealing with problems in contemporary government. It was announced by Dr. Boyd A. Martin, assistant dean of letters and science at the University of Idaho.

Darlene Thomas won first place with her essay, "American Policy in Indo-China." The essay, "How Should Civil Liberties Be Upheld in America" won second place for Jean Teutsch.

One-hundred students in American government classes entered the contest. Awards to the two winners are provided from income invested from the Philo Sherman Bennett estate trust fund which was established at the University in 1905.

Sub Cafeteria Gains Manager

Keeping hard on the hamburgers, cheese sandwiches, coffee, and milkshakes this year will be Jerry Coolidge, new manager of the SUB cafeteria. The new head man also doubles as dish-washer in rare emergencies.

Coolidge has many problems as manager—a few originating from the precariously stacked dishes of customers, and finding places for the many eager students anxious to work there.

At present the manager and dietitian posts are combined. Jerry replaced Al Maurich. He is assisted by the many fine menus on file and the competent cooks employed there. He said one of these, Joyce Merrill, a graduate student in education, has charge of the banquets served in the "Buck-st."

The cafeteria serves a noon meal all year. As an experiment this year they are going to serve an evening meal. Though this has failed in years past, Coolidge feels the increase in student enrollment this year may make it profitable.

Jerry spent three years in the air force and was stationed in Japan most of the time. He is married and has two daughters. Originally from San Francisco, Coolidge received his BS degree in Botany at the University of Idaho.

Students Like Islands

HONOLULU (AP)—Tourist conscious Hawaii is taking full advantage of the 500 students who each year go to the mainland to attend college.

The Hawaii Visitors Bureau provides each student with an information kit, and, for those who want it, hold a short course in Hawaiiana to give out more detailed information.

The students, called "College Ambassadors" can use their ambassadors kits for classroom assignments, answering other student queries about Hawaii and other island promotions.

University Of Idaho Acquires Many New Instructors For 54-55 Season

Besides having many new students on campus this fall the University of Idaho can boast some new faculty members. The appointments were made last spring by former President J. E. Buchanan and approved by the regents.

Becoming visiting assistant professor in business administration is Leonard F. Vidger, Seattle, who recently completed his doctorate work at the University of Washington. He replaces Howard G. Jensen, who will be on leave for 1954-55.

James R. Baker, who has been completing his doctorate work at the University of Denver, was named an instructor in English. He replaces Asst. Professor Edward A. Cebull, who has been on the staff since 1947. Cebull resigned to become West Coast public relations representative for the G. and C. Merriam Publishing company, with headquarters at Berkeley, Calif. Also named an English instructor was Glenn M. Pedersen, who holds a Ph.D. from the University of Washington.

Becoming instructor and assistant agricultural engineer technologist is John E. Dixon, who is a graduate of Oregon State college and has been doing advanced work at Colorado A & M. William E. Wallace, who holds B.A. and M.A. degrees from the University of Oregon, will become a visiting instructor in languages while Richard G. Kappler is on leave. Named a part-time visiting instructor in education was William O'Neil, who has been on the staff of Western Washington College of Education and who holds bachelor and master's degrees from that institution.

Appointed as order librarian was Cam Liso, native of China, who holds B.A. and M.A. degrees from the National University in that country and also taught there. He

Additional Appointments Announced By Theophilus

Additional appointments, rounding out the University of Idaho's faculty and staff for the start of classes September 20, were announced by Acting President D. R. Theophilus, following regents approval.

Named assistant professor of economics was Dr. Eugene M. Lerner, who has been chairman of the economics department at Elmhurst college in Illinois. Visiting assistant horticulturist and assistant professor will be Darrel R. Blenz, a native of Montpellier, he is a University of Idaho graduate who has recently been working on his doctorate degree at Cornell university.

Alum News

Kenneth McClellan, 34, was awarded a $1,200 graduate assistantship in real estate at the University of Florida for the 54-55 school year.

W. G. Reinger will be resident manager of the Longview Fibre Co. corrugated box plant, Seattle, Wash.

Clifford G. Thomas, (B.S. soils and Agronomy) will go to Iraq as Director of Irrigation and Drainage Laboratory.

John W. Howard is power plant design engineer of the United States Operations Mission in Iran.

Alum In the Service
Back together are 2nd Lt. Charles Hudson and 2nd Lt. Floyd Cloninger, now members of the 10th Infantry Division.

Monte Edward has been graduated from the U. S. Naval School. Margaret Pruitt was commissioned a 2nd Lt. in the Marine Corps Reserve on April 24.

A first solo flight was made by Naval Aviation Cadet Ralph Koster.

Jack Mosman (B.S. Math.) graduated from Newport Naval Base June 4. Mosman, graduate of '50, is a member of Delta Chi.

Nancy Is Back And Feelin' Fine

By JANE QUERNA
She's feeling fine and very grateful to be back among her friends at the University of Idaho. "I feel I can never repay the students for their thoughtfulness," said Nancy Benfer, Pi Phi, who has returned to school after spending almost a year in an Idaho Falls hospital.

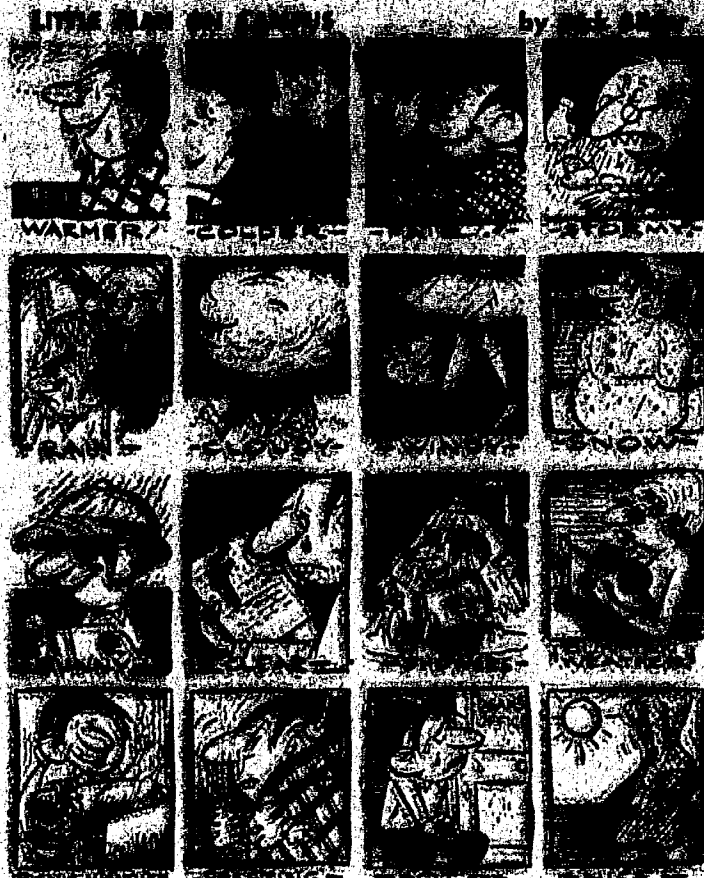

Nancy was severely burned while donating her talents to entertain a group of Idaho rushees last fall. Costumed in a grass skirt and lei, Nancy danced close by a cluster of candles. A flame licked up and ignited the dry fiber skirt. Nancy suffered second and third degree burns. After a few days in a Moscow hospital, Nancy was sent to her home town hospital in Idaho Falls, where she spent most of last year having skin grafts.

Although she was over 500 miles away, the students of the University of Idaho did not forget Nancy. Panhellenic and Executive Board met to decide upon a money-making project to help Nancy and her family with the hospital expenses. A benefit dance called the "Benfer Benefit" was held in the Student Union Building. Each women's living group provided entertainment during the evening. When the profits were counted, two student recruitment representatives visited Nancy to present her with the money, gift of the student body.

A telegram received from her in thanks most appropriately reveals her sentiments: "Please convey my grateful thanks to all the students of the University of Idaho. More than any gift will I ever remember the loving thoughts which prompted your action. I am benefited already. Humbly, Nancy Benfer."

"I'm so happy and thrilled to be back," remarked Nancy. And we're just as glad to have her back among us.

Marriage brings a lot of changes into a man's life, but not into his pockets.

Professor Friberg Approves Sweden's School System

Education is for those who want it and work for it, would seem to be the hint of success of the school system in Sweden, as was found by Prof. W. R. Friberg and told in a summary report of his sabbatical leave in Sweden this year.

This system varies from the American system of education, where for the most part, education is for those who can work to earn it or who have the money to pay for it.

Friberg, who is with the department of agricultural engineering here, reviewed the climate and technology of Sweden—but more significantly for students at the University—the school system.

"The real difference is in the attitude toward the student," Friberg said. "Beginning at the equivalent of our high school, or perhaps our junior high, the Swedish student who fails to profit from his educational opportunities is considered to have no further rights to them."

"Education in the elementary grades seemed little different from ours; but, beginning at about the seventh grade, the students work harder, and only the more promising are accepted for advanced study."

"The student entering college in Sweden is much better prepared for it than most of our entering freshmen. There is a very low percentage of failures during college," he added.

Oxford English is the "word," Friberg said, for students from the sixth grade on. This English language training continues four and sometimes six years, he said.

Students attend school classes when they want to, don't worry about credits, and take their final examinations when they feel ready, he said. This varies from the American credit-grade system and cramming for finals, Friberg hinted. Grades are based on the quantity of work done as well as the quality.

"The responsibility for learning is primarily that of the student... Swedish professors expressed to me the opinion that their method develops character and initiative." Again far from the American

Buchanan's Appointments Bring New Titles For Staff

Many faculty and staff members here will start off this year with new titles, following appointments made last spring by former President J. E. Buchanan and approved by the regents.

Harold Mollvaine moved from associate professor of botany and acting head of the department of biological sciences to professor and head of the department. C. Norton Coe was promoted from associate professor of English and acting head of the department of humanities to professor and department head. Kenneth A. Dick, business manager, burser and professor, was given the added title of comptroller.

Associate professors promoted to professors included: Jean Collette, chairman of dramatics; John A. Snider, chairman of elementary education; and Mary Kirkwood, art. Assistant professors moved up to associate professors were William S. Groeyer, history; Dwight S. Hoffman, chemical engineering; and Kenneth E. Hingford, wildlife. Arthur M. Finley was promoted from assistant plant pathologist to associate plant pathologist.

Instructors named assistant professors included Mildred Burlingame, psychology; Edmund M. Chavez, dramatics; Marian Frykman, music; Verl G. Garrard, chemistry; Earl A. Sibley, civil engineering; and Richard J. Smith, gymnastics. David N. Ramseyer was promoted from assistant accountant, and Kenneth R. Fredrickson from assistant animal husbandry, jr., to assistant animal husbandman.

Warren J. Wolfe was made associate professor and chairman of languages after holding acting titles; William H. Maker, associate professor and chairman of botany, also formerly acting chairman, and Bruce R. Blackstone, head of secretarial studies and associate professor of secretarial studies and business education (formerly acting).

Council Shelves Eligibility Proposal

The Academic Council in their last meeting of the spring semester June 28, reviewed a proposal from the ASUI Executive Board, discussed eligibility requirements, and was asked to clarify the use of English composition credits earned by correspondence.

The Council decided to postpone action on a proposal of the ASUI executive board which suggested a graduated grade point requirement for eligibility until Dean Charles O. Decker conferred with the ASUI executive board this fall.

A suggestion that the student's academic dean could declare the student ineligible for activities for failure to attend classes and for other legitimate reasons was discussed by the council. This suggestion concerned the adding of a new paragraph to regulation "N" in the University catalog concerning eligibility. The suggestion was

STANLEY'S "NEW LOOK" SHOWN SATURDAY

Gridders Out To Upset Pre-Season Predictors

The University of Idaho Vandals open the 1954 football season here Saturday against the highly touted Oregon Ducks at Neale Stadium at 2 p.m. in a game which fans and players alike hope will be the turning point for Idaho football.

The Vandals will have to stop the passing of George Shaw, who guides the Ducks from a straight and split T formation. The Vandals taper off their practice session this afternoon when the club will report for loosening up drills in game uniforms. Yesterday Coach Skip Stahley worked primarily on pass defense and improving his own passing game.

Idaho will rely mainly on Senior Quarterback George Eidam for its passing punch. Eidam, in his third year with the Vandals, will run the club from the straight T formation. The Idaho club, under Babe Curfman in 1953, ran from the split T formation in 1953.

Ball handling and defense against short and screen passes wound up the two and one-half hour practice yesterday.

Stahley has named Wilbur Gary, Negro transfer, to open at the fullback, thus utilizing but one of the 14 transfers brought in this season by the new coaching staff. Gary replaces Bill Baxter, a charging sophomore, at the slot.

Idaho's line will be outweighed by nine pounds per man but will have the weight advantage by six pounds per man over Oregon. The Idaho line will average 200, the backfield 188.

Named to starting positions for Idaho were Paul Giles and Frank Teverbaugh, ends; Mike Hepler and Jerry Leigh, tackles; Eivand Resa and Burdette (Archie) Hess, guards; Ed Barkno, center; Eidam, quarterback; Bill Lawr and Mel Schmidt, halfbacks; Gary, fullback.

The Ducks will sport a fine ground game as well as air barrage, according to press releases. Dick James, much respected halfback, will lead the Ducks on the ground.

Jasper McGee, a rookie fullback will run from the fullback slot. He is a 208 pound speedster. A fourth year man, Ron Pfeister, all-coast in 1953, will return to handle one of the linebacking chores.

Hal Reye, in his third year with the Ducks, is counted on to be on the receiving end of most of Shaw's passes.

The Vandals will be three deep at each position for Saturday's game. A 37-man club will take the field.

Behind starting positions include Pete Gerpheide and Ed Hilder, ends; Marsh Jones, Dick (Tiny) Foster, and Ron Leppke, tackles; John Payne and John Armistage, guards; Jim Fulkner, Chuck Fires and Fred Magee, center; Gary Cozian, quarterback; Ron Braden, Ray Blitner and Cal Hugenberg, halfbacks; Baxter and Warren Hawley, fullback.

The Vandals have not beaten the Ducks since 1950 when at Moscow they took a 14-0 decision.

Coach Stahley was not sure how much each player would see action in the Saturday game. The junior college transfers are not yet adapted to the system Stahley employs but are expected to bring the team around after two or three games.

Vandal Football Schedule

- Sept. 18—University of Oregon here.
- Sept. 25—Oregon State college at Corvallis.
- Oct. 2—San Jose State here (Homecoming).
- Oct. 9—College of Pacific at Stockton.

Anyone interested in working on the Argonaut staff is invited to attend the first meeting scheduled for 2 p.m. Sunday in the Borah Theater in the Student Union Building. Both new and old Arg workers are urged to attend.

THE SCOREBOARD

By STEVE EMERINE

In 1951, hard hit by the draft increases which resulted from the Korean war, the Pacific Coast conference threw away their rule which prohibited freshmen from playing varsity sports in a move to help remedy the manpower shortage.

It may have helped the other schools in the conference, but Idaho profited very little and may have even lost a little ground because of it.

As a case in point, a quick look at the Vandal roster in comparison with the Oregon Duck roster bears this out.

The Vandals have three men who played as frosh. Center Ed Barton and Guard Burdette Hess will be in the starting line-up. Guard Burch Roark is the other one. Of these, only Hess played enough to letter in his first year.

Gone from the Vandal football scene for various reasons are Flip Kieffner, Jay Buhler and Dick Pfeister, three-fourths of what could have been Idaho's starting backfield this year. Also gone are Lou Mendiola, Roger Randolph, Ron Chase and others.

On the other hand, the Ducks are built around a nucleus of fourth year men. Four of their starters—Quarterback George Shaw, End Hal Reeve, Center Ron Pfeister and Guard Jack Patera—are playing their fourth year of varsity ball. A fifth, Halfback Lloyd Powell, isn't starting.

Once again, Idaho seems to have lost a little ground in its battle to keep up with the other Coast schools.

Gibb New Athletic Director; Program Is Reorganized

In one of his last official acts as president of the University, J. E. Buchanan last June named Robert S. Gibb of Boise as director of athletics and announced a complete reorganization of the school's athletic program.

Gibb, the former Boise high school football and track coach and director of recreation and athletics for the Boise school system, has replaced Gale Mix, who resigned last spring to devote more time to his job as ASUI general manager.

The athletic reorganization has changed athletics to a separate department, completely apart from the Associated Students. All athletic offices have been moved to the gymnasium.

Also part of the reorganization was the assigning of new titles to three University staff members. Frank Young has been named assistant director of athletics, personnel officer and associate professor. Young was formerly boxing coach, assistant manager of athletics and associate professor.

Wilson T. Bowly, former assistant to the general manager of the Associated Students and athletics, has been named administrative assistant in athletics.

Kenneth M. Hunter, ASUI publications director, is now the athletic news editor.

In addition to his other duties in Boise, Gibb served as supervisor of physical education at Boise high school. Before coming to Boise in 1942, he was at Wayne and Crete high schools in Nebraska.

A graduate of Nebraska Wesleyan University in 1933, Gibb was captain of the football team there in his senior year and won all-conference honors in both football and basketball.

While at Boise, he served as a

Slated To Start Tomorrow

SUCCESS OR FAILURE IN THEIR FIRST GAME will depend a great deal on the Vandals' passing combination of Quarterback George Eidam (left) and End Frank Teverbaugh (right). Both are seniors and will see plenty of action tomorrow when Idaho takes on the Oregon Ducks at Neale stadium.

ANOTHER STARTER FOR THE VANDALS TOMORROW will be Center Ed Barton, a senior from Boise, playing his fourth year of football for Idaho. Barton stands 5-10 and weighs 198 pounds.

consultant on building and grounds improvements for Boise public schools, and helped lay out the present track and field at Bronco stadium in Boise. He also assisted nearby towns in planning recreational program. For a number of years, he authored a column for the Idaho Daily Statesman, entitled "It's Fun to Play."

Coaches, Players To Be Introduced At Pep Rally

Head cheerleader Dale Carlisle announced today that the year's first big pep rally featuring both pretty coeds and tall, dark and handsome football players will be held tonight beginning at 7 p.m. in front of the SUB.

Carlisle said the cheerleaders, the band, and part of the student body will meet the team as the finish their evening meal at the training table in the SUB.

WRA NEWS

By Jean Iverson

It appears that the Women's Recreation Association is going to have quite an active season this year with a full schedule in view.

Starting September 27 at 4:00 p.m. with tennis followed either by wickets or speedball at 4:00, September 28 and field hockey at 4:00 on September 29. These sports are not terribly competitive and are not for just those who know how. They are for anyone wanting to come and learn to enjoy the game.

For modern dance enthusiasts, Pre-Orchestrated tryouts are being held at 4:00 in the Women's Gym on September 29. Orchestration tryouts are held later in the year.

For those who like to shoot, there is the Rifle Club. Tryouts will be held later in the year.

In the mid-semester to mid-semester W.R.A. Participation Trophy contest, it looks like the Thetas, Kappas, and the Ethel Steele House are leading. Every time a girl from a house goes out for a sport, she gets a point which will count toward her house winning a trophy.

The sports events, including basketball, bowling, folk dancing, tennis (both singles and doubles), archery, softball, golf, field hockey, badminton (singles and doubles), volleyball, skiing, rifle, and orchestration offer enough variety to suit anyone.

When a house wins first, second, third or fourth place in a sports tournament, that house receives points toward winning a W.R.A. Tournament Cup. Tournaments are held in all the above activities with the exceptions of skiing, rifle and orchestration, and it seems that Forney Hall and Hays Hall are leading the

An all campus parade will follow with the cheerleaders and the band in one truck and the players in another. Carlisle urged that all students be ready at about 7 to join the parade when it passes their houses.

After going past all the campus living groups, the parade will travel to McLean field where the rally will be held.

Each man on the team will be introduced and the entire coaching staff will be present, Carlisle said. He added that Head Coach Stahley will make a brief speech summarizing the outlook for the coming season.

Entertainment will be provided by the Alpha Phi pledges who will present a brief skit.

Carlisle will be assisted by Gary Westcott and Phil McRoberts in leading cheers and the pom-pom girls will be on hand to aid the yell leaders.

This year's pom-pom girls include Sally Ghiglieri, Barbara Ison, Mary Ison, Joan Pettygrove, Freda Payne, Ellie Horsman, Norma Bordon and Pat Berry.

Carlisle urged all living groups to be represented by banners and signs for the rally.

For further information concerning W.R.A., consult the intramural chairman in your living group. More details will be given next week.
