

The GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

"Giving dimes now may save your dollars later," says Ralph Watson, a second semester freshman here. Ralph knows what he's talking about because in November, 1952, at the age of 24, he was stricken with polio.

"It came on like a common cold," said Ralph. "We called the doctor, he sent me to the hospital, and there I found out that I had polio." Ralph was in the hospital for four and a half months.

"While I was in the hospital a representative of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis called at my home. From there on out they helped me fight polio."

"Following my stay in the hospital I went home for a short time and then on to the Elks' Convalescent home at Boise where I spent five and a half months."

While at the home Ralph met Joyce Molstead, another polio patient who, before, was a University of Idaho student. Joyce spent 15 months at the home under the sponsorship of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. She is now enrolled in the North Idaho Junior College at Coeur d'Alene.

The Foundation reimburses the convalescent home for all expenses of the polio patients.

According to Ralph, Idaho was classed as an epidemic state since they had over 120 polio attacks in the last year. Being an epidemic state means that 80 per cent of the March of Dimes contributes in the state stay within Idaho.

You'll find March of Dimes posters and containers throughout the campus. Give 'em a hand.

We saw an interesting movie this week, one that provoked a healthy discussion. At the film committee preview of "Mussorgsky" the reaction of the seven members made a show in itself.

One member fell asleep, four others began a violent argument and the remaining two didn't think it was worth talking about.

Only one conclusion was reached in the argument; the ASUI movie audience ought to be polled on their reactions. We had a set of ballots printed that contained the following questions:

1. Did you enjoy the film?
2. What subject do you think played the dominate role in the film? (choice of Mussorgsky, politics, and music).

3. What or who was the hero of the film? (choice of Mussorgsky, Russia's people, Boris and Communism).

"Mussorgsky" shown here was an interesting example of the Communist party line embedded in a "hero" story of a Russian composer. It's results on an American college audience are worth publishing.

The results will be printed in Tuesday's edition of the Argonaut. Today's issue carries the opinions of two members of the ASUI film committee.

HEAR KUOI JAZZ

Jazz lovers: Thursday evenings at 8 p.m. Bill Vermillion will present "Jazz Time" on KUOI. The hour program will feature all types of jazz including modern, swing, Dixieland and blues.

Exec. Board Approves Course Evaluation Plan

Formal approval of a course evaluation plan was given by the ASUI Executive Board at last Tuesday's meeting. Their approval will be forwarded to the Student-Faculty Committee, who, in turn, will carry out the plan.

Some suggestions sent along with approval of the plan were: 1) a change in the credit weight for certain courses; 2) elimination of unprofitable courses and 3) more difference between upper and lower division courses.

Also on Tuesday's agenda was developing a system for limiting freshmen student's activities. Keith Jorgensen, former chairman of the National Students Association here, was named to head a committee to study the activity limitations.

Karen Hinckley, AWS president,

E. Power Biggs, famed for his radio concerts and recordings of organ music, will give a concert on the Margaret Weyerhaeuser Jewett Memorial organ here at 8 p.m. Thursday, February 3, in the Music Building.

Organ Concert Is Scheduled

E. Power Biggs of Boston will come to the University of Idaho Thursday, February 3, to present an organ concert in the Recital Hall.

The concert will begin at 8 p.m. and tickets may be obtained either at the ASUI General Manager's office or from the music department in the Music Building. Admission will be $1.00.

Biggs, a nationally known organist who is largely responsible for the remarkable revival of interest in the organ as a concert instrument and who has stimulated the largest output of new organ music since the golden age of Bach and Handel, is one of the great virtuosi and musicians of the day, a press reference states.

Born in England, Biggs has been an American citizen since 1937. After graduating from the Royal Academy of Music with highest honors he toured England, where he appeared in many of the historic cathedrals and played in Queen's Hall in London.

Came to U. S. Eventually he came to the United States and settled down in Boston. In 1949 E. Power Biggs was elected a Fellow of the Royal Academy of Music. More recently Biggs received the honor of election to Fellowship in the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

Biggs' fame has been spread not only through concert appearances and over the radio, but also through his Columbia and RCA-Victor recordings. These recordings include many of the masterworks for organ by such greats as Bach, Handel, Mendelssohn and Franck, as well as concerted music by the contemporary composers Piston, Sowerby and Poulenc.

In Musical America's recent Annual Poll of Music on the Air, May, 1952, the 850 Music Critics of the newspapers and magazines of the United States and Canada voted E. Power Biggs America's favorite organist, and it is a distinction he has received every year since the organ poll was instituted. Since 1942 the eminent organist has broadcast regularly over CBS every Sunday evening.

Acclaim of the "ability" of E. Power Biggs has come from many parts of the Western World.

...New York Times says "E. Power Biggs has, in no small way, created a musical renaissance of that great instrument—the organ." The Royal Gazette, Bermuda, reports that "E. Power Biggs gives a wonderful recital. Ones first impression is of sheer artistry; the technical wizardry of his playing. It has that breath-taking, spell-binding power that you get from the finest virtuosi; he can perform the dizziest fugal feats with seemingly casual ease, and he has a wonderful and unflinching sense of style."

The London Times, England, acclaims, he has "... prodigious gifts as an organist and musician. . . ."

Eventually he came to the United States and settled down in Boston. In 1949 E. Power Biggs was elected a Fellow of the Royal Academy of Music. More recently Biggs received the honor of election to Fellowship in the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

'Pops' Concert Is Thursday

The University Concert Band and University Symphony Orchestra will present a "Pops" concert on Thursday evening, January 20 in the University Auditorium.

Warren Bellis and William Billingsley will conduct the band in familiar and light concert favorites with Elwyn Schwartz leading the University Orchestra in modern and novelty selections. The concert will begin at 8 p.m. and is open to the public without admission charge.

The program will open with the 70 member band playing the Spanish march "Amparito Roca" by Texidor. Sibelius' "Finlandia" and a familiar Chopin "Etude" offer two concert favorites. Closing the first part of the concert is Jerome Kern's "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" as arranged by Erik Leidzen.

The 55 member orchestra will play three selections, excerpts from Howard Hanson's "Romantic Symphony," Haydn's "Famous Largo" and "Fugato", a sparkling treatment of a well known tune by Robert McBride.

Billingsley will conduct the band in Leidzen's "First Swedish Rhapsody" and the old favorite "To a Wild Rose" by MacDowell.

Bellis and the band will close the concert with Billingsley's arrangement of the popular favorite of several years "Laura" and the lively novelty overture "Thunderbird" by Phil Lang.

Many Acts To Be Given At Half-Time

A rope skipping act, fencing exhibition, high school bands complete with majorettes, and University of Idaho talent will appear in half-time entertainment during basketball games, reported Dale Carlisle, yelling.

Friday night Kendrick High School's 20 piece pep band under the leadership of George Poulos, Idaho alum, will perform and provide all music after the game half.

Lewisston High School will exhibit its talent later on in the season. The student activities council has arranged for all entertainment.

Freshman class officers, under the leadership of Joe Subia, class president, have organized a frosh team of four that will lead pep yells during freshman games.

If the "T" section of the gymnasium isn't filled by 7:50 each game night, it will be open for all students, said Carlisle. If spirit falls at the Oregon games this weekend, the yell team will work up a special pep section which will be located in and around the "T" section.

Referring back to our football win over WSC, Carlisle commented, "It sure would be nice to beat our rival in the basketball games Tuesday and Saturday nights through good support of our team." He hopes to see a large Idaho section in the WSC gymnasium next week.

Dunn Completes Regent's Portrait

A portrait of Phillip Tillinghast was found this year — on the drawing board of Professor Alfred Dunn of the art department.

Tillinghast, a regent of the University in 1893-95, was the only person missing from the gallery of portraits hanging in the regents' room of the Administration Building.

Three years ago O. A. Fitzgerald, University staff editor, was put in charge of a project to collect pictures of all the former regents. James Lyle and Guy Wicks assisted him in contacting former students and families of regents.

50 Pct. Expected Instead of the 50 per cent success they expected, they had pictures of all but Tillinghast by last spring.

Tillinghast had also been a prominent attorney in Tacoma, so they extended the search to Washington. A judge in Seattle who was also looking for a picture of Tillinghast had had no more luck than Fitzgerald's crew.

Magazines To Be Sold In Bucket

Located along the north wall of the Bucket, between the soda fountain and the entrance, is the newest addition to the SUB, the magazine rack.

A long planned project of the SUB Committee, it finally became reality this week after completion by the Building and Grounds, plus three months of red tape.

The rack will be filled in the near future with publications that are picked with the students in mind. An effort will be made to keep these magazines of the better quality, even though a suggestion for Mad Comics has been under discussion.

The bigger newspapers of the vicinity will also be carried, and, if successful, others from southern Idaho will be tried.

Students are urged to give the SUB Committee any suggestions which they believe should be carried.

Glide, Slide, Slip Break A Hip Lawsuit!

It's slippery! Idaho's hilly campus provides many a hill to slide on (whether one wants to or not) when the ice accumulates. Though the state of Idaho does not fix any particular fine for it, not removing the snow from one's sidewalk by 9 a. m. every morning is considered a misdemeanor according to a Moscow attorney.

One coed fell four times going up the steep slope next to Willis Sweet—her only complaint was a deeply bruised elbow. Another coed lost her footing twice walking down "hallo walk," and a third stopped traffic on her way to town as she tried touching her head in the middle of the road.

The men on campus also have a time standing on their own two feet. Some people always do things the hard way—one fellow from the LDS House fell, receiving a slight brain concussion just so he could go to the infirmary to rest a few days.

Several days ago, the boys from Chrisman Hall merely had to set their feet firmly at the corner of the sidewalk by Willis Sweet in order to slide to their door. Some of these fellows really had a system worked out—they sent their books down ahead of them.

He has appeared as soloist for orchestras of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Cleveland, Minneapolis, and many others.

Such growing praise as he has received comes as no surprise, claims the release, when, season after season, Byron Janis' talent is confirmed.

Possessed with the gift of perfect pitch, young Bryon began to reveal his talent at kindergarten age. After a few years of concentrated study, he made his debut at fifteen years of age in Pittsburgh's Carnegie Hall. His first performance receiving national attention was with the NBC Symphony Orchestra under the baton of Dr. Frank Black. He gave a series of recitals on the national network thereafter.

His program includes: "Sonata in D major" by Haydn; "Arabesque" by Schumann; "Nocturne in F sharp minor"; Opus 21, No. 8, by Schumann and "Sonata in C major"; Opus 53 ("Waldstein") by Beethoven. "Visions fugitives," Opus 22 by Prokofieff; "Nocturne in G major," Opus 37, No. 2 by Chopin and "Scherzo No. 3 in C sharp minor," Opus 39 by Chopin.

Radio Production Features Jim Lyle

Jim Lyle, alumni secretary, will be one of the many persons featured on the "Here We Have Idaho" program during the week of January 17 to January 23. He will talk on Founder's Day.

Others featured will be the Singing Sigs, Po Ping Wong, Marigay Nelson and the Vandaleers in musical selections. Talks about the International Farm Youth Exchange by Maurice Johnson and Dan Warren, and the AWS by Chuck White and Karen Hinckley will also be featured on the University of Idaho sponsored program which is heard throughout the state of Idaho.

Byron Janis, famed pianist, will appear here through the Community Concert organization, January 17, at 8 p.m. in the Memorial Gym. Janis has recently returned to the United States after filling numerous concert engagements in Europe.

Byron Janis Will Perform

The pianist acclaimed by some as the greatest of our time will appear in Moscow, Monday, January 18.

Youthful and well-known Byron Janis will present his concert at 8 p.m. in the Memorial Gym. His appearance is one of the series of community concerts sponsored by Moscow and Pullman.

Still in his twenties, Janis has played in Carnegie Hall several times and has toured the continent five times. Of his last performance in New York, the New York Times Magazine said, "at present he is, if not the greatest pianist of our time, certainly one of the most promising."

He begins his sixth tour of the United States this month. "Delirious ovations" claims a Community concert press release, greeted the American on his first and recent tour of South America.

In Europe he was hailed as having "the technique of a Liszt and the delicate touch of a Chopin." He is a distinguished and favorite artist of RCA-Victor.

He has appeared as soloist for orchestras of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Cleveland, Minneapolis, and many others.

Such growing praise as he has received comes as no surprise, claims the release, when, season after season, Byron Janis' talent is confirmed.

Two University Students To Attend Vienna School

Two University juniors have been chosen for a term of study in Vienna sponsored by the Institute of European Studies. Lee Anderson, Aberdeen, and Ingrid Jones, Blackfoot will sail from New York February 5 and will begin their work in Vienna the second week of February.

The two from Idaho are part of a group of American students who will take a special course running from February through June.

They will live with Austrian families in order to get acquainted with their way of life. Classes will be conducted in English, but students expect to learn German on the side.

Optical weekly tours of Vienna are being planned. Each one covers a different aspect of the city.

Italy Tour. Spring vacation provides a break in the term with a trip through Italy. The tour is planned so the students will be in Rome for Easter. The students will hear a lecture series on aspects of contemporary Italy and introductory lectures on Italian art, literature and social problems while there.

To London. Another detour the students will take will be to London where they will tour the traditional landmarks of London by bus, and will attend a reception at the Conservative Party and see the Parliament in session.

Two weeks in Yugoslavia will climax their study after the program ends June 30. After that they hope to travel in Europe for the rest of the summer.

Ingrid Jones is majoring in English, and Anderson is studying political science.

Gals Wanted At Dance Instruction

Wanted! More girls at the dancing instruction held in the SUB each Friday. Tonight's class will be taught from 4 to 5:30 p.m. because of the basketball game. The class will be taught each Friday from 7 to 8:30 p.m. except on closed night such as ball games and other special activities. On those nights the class will be held from 4 to 5:30 p.m. There will not be a class during finals, Jan. 21 or Jan. 28.

Class this afternoon will be taught by George Hieber and Helen Hanford. Students will teach all classes, with different people teaching each session.

Practice on the fox trot and beginning instruction in basic waltz steps will be taught this evening.

Popular dances such as samba, mamba, rumba and jitterbug will be taught later in the year. There will be classes held throughout next semester.

The dancing committee members are co-chairmen, Gen Hale and Ann Popma; music, George Hieber; instructors, Bob Peterson; advertising and publicity, Jan Avery, and secretary, May Pappenhagen.

Last night a committee of boys visited the independent girls' halls to recruit girls to come to classes. Last week 100 to 150 boys and only 10 girls attended the instruction. All girls are invited to come.

Dr. Greever began work on the book in 1941. World War II interrupted his work temporarily. Following the war he continued doing research.

Dr. Greever's book is the first to make a study of land grants in arid territory.

Another detour the students will take will be to London where they will tour the traditional landmarks of London by bus, and will attend a reception at the Conservative Party and see the Parliament in session.

Mussorgsky and the Party Line

Most of the people who saw the Russian film "Mussorgsky" yesterday were probably not disturbed by its very incidental fidelity to the life of the composer. We have been conditioned to such distortions by dozens of Hollywood film biographies which have defiled the lives of dozens of great men.

Perhaps the most ghoulish example of this sacrilege was "A Song to Remember." In this Technicolor scenario the composer Chopin was shown giving concerts all over Europe with a bag of Polish dirt in his pocket. As he played the piano to raise money for his native land, blood from his tubercular-infected lungs spattered all over the keyboard. Compared to such macabre perversions of truth as that, the events of "Mussorgsky" are as authentic as today's newspaper.

The distortions of fact in "Mussorgsky" result not so much from the use of falsehoods as from the use of misrepresentation. Few of the facts about Mussorgsky's life in the film are completely untrue. They are facts, however, which have been selected to create a dominant political impression. The events in Mussorgsky's life which did not tend to reinforce this impression were omitted.

This desire of the Russian film makers to superimpose the Communist Party line on even the lives of composers was responsible for the selection of scenes that were shown from the opera "Boris Godunov." The film audience did not get a chance to hear the barbaric, magnificent "Coronation Scene," the touching Death of Boris, because they conflicted in sympathy with the scenes of the starving peasants begging Boris for bread. The "line" was responsible for such unobtrusive though preposterous statements as a comparison between Beethoven and the Russian composer Glinka.

These distortions are all the more unfortunate because in actual life Mussorgsky believed many of the ideals which are professed by Communists. He DID write much of his vocal music in the idiom of the Russian folk song, he DID make the Russian people the heroes of his magnificent opera "Boris Godunov," he DID believe that the conditions of the serfs in Russia should be improved.

Mussorgsky, however, was not the timid little Marxist visionary that the movie implies. He was a handsome, arrogant, sensitive man who quietly drank himself to death at the age of 42. His last opera was a sympathetic treatment of the extinction of the old nobles who resisted the efforts of Peter the Great to modernize Russia. That subject is scarcely the Communist Party dogma.

What is really lacking in "Mussorgsky" is a picture of the composer's character. Shortly before his death Mussorgsky's portrait was painted. The painting shows a man whose face was a battle ground of dissipation. The eyes were sunken and bleary; the nose is brightly discolored; the mouth is surrounded by a spit-encrusted beard. It is a face full of humanity and arrogance, savageness and understanding.

We cannot, however, censure the Russian film-makers too strongly for not presenting this moving film portrait of the composer. They — as well as the film-makers in Hollywood — have learned that people want to believe anything about famous men except the truth.

HERB PENDERGAST

DEAR JASON

Because some of the best parts of the opera "Boris," around the composition of which a great deal of "Mussorgsky" was plotted, were omitted, and also because certain well known facts form the life of the otherwise great composer Mussorgsky were not mentioned, some campus critics pronounce the movie "a perfect example of poor production and of profound communist propaganda."

Personally, I formed a different opinion. I didn't know too much about Mussorgsky, and the only thing that I'd ever heard was a worn record with the "Coronation" scene on one side and the "Death of Boris" on the other. The music throughout the picture, although slightly affected by the poor sound reproduction of the little portable projector used was more than pleasant and appealing to nearly every one. The dialogue was in Russian and someone of the group who was following the Russian language with efficiency (he claimed so) told us that the explanatory English subtitles were never put on the proper place and at the proper time. This, of course, might have been a serious handicap in deciding whether the acting was good or bad.

The photography was marvelous, I believe, although the intensively contrasting colors with the bright subtitleds, which, as far as I know, characterize all foreign color movies, might have been tiresome to the eyes of a young coed, who went to sleep during the preview. Sex and love scenes were entirely but also effectively omitted to make the plot fit historical character. Surprisingly, though, the Hollywood influence on the actresses' figures was profound.

I didn't notice a great deal of Communist propaganda. As a matter of fact, after seeing some other Russian pictures I was quite surprised how little of it there was in this one.

Even though I completely disagree with the Communist party line and the Communist way of life, I have to say that Mussorgsky was one of the best movies the ASUI film committee has so far shown.

Gus Laskariz
(Ed. note) He must have liked it because he saw it three times. He's the projectionist.

Suggestions Made To Improve Arg

Over 40 staff members of the circulation and advertising staff attended the Argonaut meeting Tuesday afternoon.

Dr. Granville Price, head of the journalism department, was introduced to the many students who had not met him. Price offered to aid reporters or anyone else needing help on the Argonaut.

Editor Fred Williams read several suggestions that the staff had made to improve the Argonaut. Among these were a more complete and earlier assignment of stories, getting copy in earlier and requisitioning for more typewriters.

Students interested in working on the Argonaut next semester may come down to the office in the SUB on Monday and Thursday afternoon to let the staff know in what phase they would like to work.

SCIENCE MADE SIMPLE: No. 1

In this day and age, as I like to call it, everybody should know something about science. Unfortunately, however, the great majority of us are majoring in elocution, and we do not get a chance to take any science. But we can at least learn the fundamentals.

Though this column is intended to be a source of innocent merriment for all sexes and not to concern itself with weighty matters, I have asked the makers of Philip Morris whether I might not from time to time use this space for a short lesson in science. "Makers," I said to them, "might I not from time to time use this space for a short lesson in science?"

"Bliss you, lad!" cried the makers, chuckling. "You may certainly use this space from time to time for a short lesson in science." They are very benign men, the makers, fond of children, small animals, community singing, and simple country food. Their benevolence is due in no small measure to the cigarettes they smoke, for Philip Morris is a cigarette to soothe the most savage of breasts. I refer not only to the quality of the tobacco — which, as everyone knows, is amiable, humane, and gracious — but also to the quality of the package. Here is no fendishly contrived container to fray the fingernails and rasp the nerves. Here, instead, is the most simple of devices: you pull a tab, a snap is heard, and there, ready at hand, are your Philip Morris Cigarettes. Strike a match, take a puff, and have a delicious little rippling sigh of pure content.

So, with the cordial concurrence of the makers, I will from time to time devote this column to a brief lesson in science.

Let us start today with chemistry. It is fitting that chemistry should be the first of our series, for chemistry is the oldest of sciences, having been discovered by Ben Franklin in 123 B.C. when an apple fell on his head while he was shooting the breeze with Pythagoras one day outside the Acropolis. (The reason they were outside the Acropolis and not inside was that Pythagoras had been thrown out for drawing right triangles all over the walls. They had several meetings outside the Acropolis, but finally, Franklin said, "Look, Pythagoras, this is nothing against you, see, but I'm no kid any more and if I keep laying around on this wet grass with you, I'm liable to get the break-bone fever. I'm going inside." Pythagoras, friendless now, moped around Athens for a while, then drifted off to Brussels lined oil game. He would also certainly be forgotten today had not Shakespeare written "Othello.")

But I digress. We were beginning a discussion of chemistry, and the best way to begin is, of course with fundamentals. Chemicals are divided into elements. There are four: air, earth, fire, and water. Any number of delightful combinations can be made from these elements, such as firewater, dactron, and chef's salad.

Chemicals can be further divided into the classes of explosive and non-explosive. A wise chemist always touches a match to his chemicals before he begins the experiment. A great variety of containers of different sizes and shapes are used in a chemistry lab. There are tubes, beakers, flasks, pipettes, and retorts. (A retort is also a snappy comeback, such as "Oh, yeah!" or "So's your old man!")

(Perhaps the most famous retort ever made was delivered by none other than Noah Webster himself. It seems that one day Mr. Webster's wife walked unexpectedly into Mr. Webster's office and found Mr. Webster's secretary sitting on Mr. Webster's knee. "Why Mr. Webster!" cried Mr. Webster's wife. "I am surprised!" "No, my dear," he replied. "I am surprised. You are astonished." (Well, sir, it must be admitted that old Mr. Webster got off a trifling with his secretary, and more time working on his dictionary. Many of his definitions show an appalling want of scholarship. Take, for instance, what happened to me not long ago. I went to the dictionary to look up "noughband" which is a band that you pass around the leg and neck of an animal. At the time I was planning to pass bands around the legs and necks of some animals, and I wanted to be sure I ordered the right thing.)

(Well sir, thumbing through the H's in the dictionary, I happened to come across "horse." And this is how Mr. Webster defines draft animal: "A large, solid hooved herbivorous mammal, used as a draft animal.")

(Now this, I submit, is just plain sloppiness. The most cursory investigation would have shown Mr. Webster that horses are not taken from them under the most severe duress. It has to be (Nor is the horse a draft animal, as Mr. Webster says. Man is a draft animal. Mr. Webster obviously had the cavalry in mind, but even in the cavalry it is men who are drafted. Horses volunteer.)

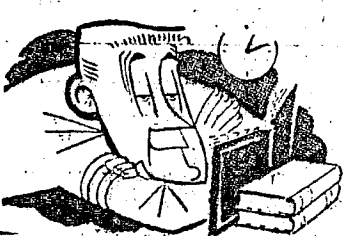

But I digress. We were discussing chemistry. I have told you the most important aspects, but there are many more — far too many to cover in the space remaining here. However, I am sure that there is a fine chemistry lab at your very own college. Why don't you go up some afternoon and poke around? Make a kind of fun out of it. Bring ukeleles. Wear funny hats. Roast frankfurters on the Bunsen burners. Be gay, be merry, be loose, for chemistry is your friend!

This column is brought to you by the makers of PHILIP MORRIS who think you would enjoy their cigarette.

Group Officers Are Now In Running

New officers are taking over reins in various living groups as they select their leaders for the coming semester. Margaret Costello and Elaine Hyland will lead Pi Beta Phi and Alpha Chi Omega. Jim Van Sant was selected by Kappa Sigma, John Mix will lead Phi Delta Theta, and Jim Kocker was chosen by Delta Sigma Phi.

SIGMA NU
Sigma Nu held an exchange this week with Ethel Steel Hall. Bill Broderson, a Sigma Nu alum, who is now working in Spokane was a recent guest. Other guests have been Jerry Stubbs and Terry Murphy.

Congratulations to Bob Farmin on his marriage to Dorothy Warren, December 2. Also to Fred Magee, who is engaged to Jeanne Luedke.

Sigma Nu recently began improvements on the chapter room. Redecorating will include a new tile floor and repainting of the walls and ceiling.

PHI DELTA THETA
John Mix was elected president of Phi Delta Theta in an election held last Monday. Other officers for the next semester are Skip Hitchcock, vice president; Jim Stanton, treasurer; Steve Emerine recording secretary; Dave Cripe alumni secretary; Roger Simmons house manager; Reggie Frazier warden; Jim Sanberg, historian; Owen Davies, social chairman; Dave Ellis, scholarship chairman and Jim Howard, pledge trainer.

Dave Ellis, elected treasurer for next year, will assist Stanton this semester. Other officers have yet to be appointed.

Gary Hudson recently announced his pinning to Jesse Powers, Hays Hall. Recent dinner guests were Dr Ralph Alley and Wally Geraghty '36, former Idaho all coast basketball and baseball star. Geraghty is now a major in the US Marines. Jim Faulkner and Dave Cripe were tapped for Scabbard and Blade, national military honorary for juniors and seniors.

A Sunday evening fireside was well attended by Phis and their dates, and dancing and card playing were enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Morrie O'Donnell were chaperones. There was no joy in Mudville last Tuesday noon as the pledges went down fighting in the annual Phi Delta-Beta snowball fight. A valiant effort, men!

A new and talented musical personality appeared on the scene last Tuesday night. Dave Bruback? No, he is Harvey "Prow" Hoff, a dazzler on "Dazz's" slide trombone. It was recommended that Prew move his concerts to the music building after he gave his version of the Cavalry Charge to the sleeping brothers in the still of the night.

LINDLEY HALL
The cooks and hashers of Lindley Hall Cafe got together last Sunday night for an informal steak fry. Venison was donated by Jim Russell. After the dinner, Ted Moon and Larry Wing supplied a little guitar music while the group sang.

Lindley Hall requests that the Home Management House refrain from participating in the private snowball fights. Any further disturbances will result in an organized rush on the HMH.

A recent engagement in the group was that of George Blooms-burge, Worley, to Hilwaj Ulljohn, Spokane. Harold Waggoner, Twin Falls, married Nadine Skinner, Hollister, December 27, at her home. Harold Morin, New Meadows, and Delores Proton, Baker, Oregon, were married December 23 in New Meadows.

HOME MANAGEMET
Recent dinner guests were Bessa Ruby, Rosemary Helsing, George Merry, Gordon Dawson, Lillian Johannessen and JoAnn Lindstrom.

Members of the home economics faculty were entertained at a buffet dinner Monday night. Included as guests were Margaret Ritchie, Adah Lewis, Helen Scheve, Marion Featherstone, Elsie Nielsen, Erma Jackle, Shirley Newcomb and Mrs. Ayres.

Lindley Hall boys have been bombarding HMH girls with snowballs and popcorn.

The Daily Coffee Club has been for the year 1955-56. Avery Floyd will assist his as vice president. Other officers are Bob Gregg, secretary; Ray Miller, treasurer, and Rich Heffel, sergeant-at-arms.

A dinner exchange with the Pi Phis Thursday night was regarded as a great success by the Delta Sigs attending.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA
Officers for the coming year were elected by the chapter Monday. Major officers to be installed are Elaine Hyland, president; Janet Campbell, first vice president; Charlyne Hale, second vice president; Janet Harding, recording secretary; Audrey Montgomery, corresponding secretary; Shari Harp, treasurer; Janice Hale, house manager, and Janet Daigh, rush chairman.

Other officers chosen will be announced after installation to be held January 31. Pledge officers will take office after initiation.

An exchange with the LDS House was enjoyed Wednesday by our pledges.

SIGMA CHI
Sunday dinner guests were Tom Johns and Jo Lacona, Sherie Harp and Ann Pool.

Wednesday dinner guests included Bob Schriber, Harry Beerway, Frank Wallace and Roger Thieme.

The Sigma Chi hot spring and bird sanctuary were closed for the remainder of the season. While feeding the birds, Paul Schultz recently counted 25 robins there.

An exchange was held with the Delta Gammans last Wednesday evening. After being in retirement for two years, John Herrett finally attended an exchange.

Dick Hood is currently leading the house ping pong challenge ladder.

Thursday noon a brief snow ball flurry was held with Lindley Hall.

FORNEY HALL
Honored by a serenade from the Kappa Sigs Tuesday night was Barbara Tibbitts, pinned to Kenny Jones. A dozen roses were received by Jessie Powers, recently pinned to Gary Hudson, Phi Delta.

Tubbings seem to be a general theme in the hall since Christmas. Tubbed for engagements, a marriage, pinnings and other reasons, have been Jane Miller, Joan Pendergast, Shirley Groff, Lois Taylor, Connie Brookins, Marilyn Turner, Janis Radovich and Barbara Linderman.

A Tuesday evening tubbing honored Joann Bozeman, who recently announced her engagement. She was also required to eat the traditional pie under the table—(banana cream.)

Carol Rojan and Gary Pietsch were also found eating pie under the table last Wednesday evening as the result of their December engagement.

Mary Gilderoy was a dinner

THIS OLD HOUSE
Sorry to keep all you low-brows waiting for the society news from TPH, but there has been a definite lack of the usual gossip.

We wish to announce the results of a recent poll taken of all the living groups on campus. Ours is the only living group with 100 per cent of the members graduating this year. No other house can make that statement!

Among those graduating are the house mother, proctor and executive board. This situation was brought about by the low standard of incoming students. Lately, no pledges have been accepted.

Intramural competition has been keen this year. In recent Daisy-Cup handball play-offs, the TOH's defeated the Castle two games to nothing. We are willing to accept any challenge. (That is, most any challenge!)

ing from 9:30 to 10:30 in Egworth Hall. This is a group called the College Forum and is primarily a discussion group in religion.

NEWMAN CLUB
Sunday is Communion Sunday. Students are asked to go to communion in a group at the 9:30 mass. Immediately following this there will be an election of new officers for the Newman Club in the Parish Hall.

WESTMINSTER FORUM
Plan to attend College-age Sunday school at 9:30. Church will follow at 11 a.m.

For discussion, food, fellowship and worship, join the Westminster Forum Sunday between 3 and 7 p.m. Cars will leave the CCC for the Presbyterian Church at 4:15 p.m. The main business will be the election of officers for the coming year.

Don't forget the coffee hour Tuesday afternoon between 4 and 5:30 at the CCC.

There will be an executive board meeting Sunday at 4:30 p.m.

KAPPA PHI
Kappa Phi pledges and members will attend church as a group Sunday at the 11 o'clock service. At 12:30 initiation will be held at the church with a banquet following. The cost will be 50 cents.

The pledge test will be given at 12:45 at the CCC on Saturday. Remember to get your robes to the church by Saturday.

Byron is a senior from Calgary and is majoring in Geology. Iris lives off campus and is also from Calgary.

The wedding date is set for September 3.

KUOI Has Plans To Enlarge Staff

KUOI is planning to enlarge the staff of announcers for second semester. Present plans call for two announcers on duty at all times.

This in addition to allowing more people to become familiar with station operation, should make it possible for smoother operation. Any one interested in getting practical experience which might lead to a good summer-time job is welcome at the studios of KUOI any day of the week between 3 and 5 p.m. to audition with Jerry Chandler.

meeting regularly at varied locations. Wednesday afternoon's entertainment included building a snow fort, baking cookies, and, of course, drinking coffee. How about those cookies, Harry?

Friday afternoon a picture of a typical scene in home management will be taken for the Home Economics Bulletin.

This is the last time you will be hearing from the HMH girls as we all will be moving to our respective living groups on Sunday.

We would like to say thanks to those who came to keep us company and especially to the good old gang across the street.

This is good-bye from the HMH seniors, Janet Biker, Ruth Bartlett, Rose Mary Gulpin, Ruth Johannessen, Delphine Trupp, Ora West, Pat Woodmore, Marie Beals and Harriette Duckworth.

A soldier standing at San Antonio on miniature maps of Texas marked the announcement of Carol Hutsell's pinning to Dick Kornbacher, formerly an Alpha Sigma Phi at the University of Washington. He is now stationed in Texas.

Guests for the announcement at Wednesday dinner were Fritz Hoover, Kay Chamberlain and Jo Reynolds.

Best wishes to Mary Lou LeFors and Larry Hyer, Phi Tau, who were married during the Christmas holidays.

Question of the week—who is Sandy's secret admirer?

ALPHA PHI
Billie Wolf announced her recent pinning to Bruce Kenney, 600 University Avenue. Yes, he is a . . .

The sophomores got extremely exclusive Wednesday night, and all ate dinner out. Many talents were discovered along the lines of "shooting the bear" and seeing who could eat the most steak.

KAPPA SIGMA
Jim Van Sant was elected president of Kappa Sigma at house elections held January 10. Other officers are Ed Parsons, vice-president; Ken Jones, master of ceremonies; Bob Ferguson, treasurer, and Jack Wilson, Scribe.

Bill Floyd recently passed his pin to Shirley Henry of Kappa Alpha Theta. Congratulations to Bill and Shirley.

Guests for Wednesday evening dinner were Gary Cozian and Warren Hawley.

GAMMA PHI BETA
An all house exchange was held Wednesday evening with the boys of Beta Theta Pi. Both houses provided entertainment.

We are looking forward to welcoming Oro West and Alice Rae DeShazer back in the house this weekend. Oro has been living in home management house, and Alice Rae has been doing her student teaching in Lewiston.

Ducks Face Husky Killers; Vandal Offense Uncertain

Idaho's Vandals, surprise Northern Division comers in Seattle last weekend, host the second place Oregon Ducks tonight and tomorrow night in the home teams first series at Memorial Gym.

The Oregon club is fresh from a three win out of four series over the Washington State College five, the only team they have faced in the conference this season.

Intramural Scores High In Cage Play

Two high scoring wins by Delta Tau Delta, both of them in the sixties, highlighted the second week of play in intramural 'A' basketball. Sigma Chi racked up the highest score of the week when they swamped LDS 66 to 27.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon became the first three game winner as it edged out Sigma Chi 24 to 23, Wednesday. SAE is closely followed in League 2 by Phi Delta Theta and Tau Kappa Epsilon, both with two wins and no losses.

Despite their two big wins, DTD is tied with ATO for second place in League 1 with two wins and one loss. Undeclared Kappa Sigma is the leader.

Idaho Club 1, Willis Sweet 1 and Lindley Hall 1 are in a three-way tie for the League 3 leadership. These teams won single victories this week.

Willis Sweet Hall 2 downed Campus Club 2 31 to 29 Wednesday to gain sole possession of first place in League 4.

No games are scheduled Monday, however, regular play will resume Tuesday.

Bowlers Hot
Phi Delta Theta continues to lead all teams in bowling with 8 wins and no losses. The league 2 Phi Dels defeated Kappa Sigma 4 to 0 last Thursday. Sigma Nu downed Delta Tau Delta 3 to 1 in the other league game.

Sigma Chi gained four points, winning by default from Lambda Chi in league 1. Delta Chi split 2 and 2 with Phi Kappa Tau. The split dropped Delta Chi into a tie with Idaho Club for first place in League 1.

Vandal's Shot Accuracy Northern Division Best

LOS ANGELES — Idaho may be the lowest scoring team in the Northern Division but it's leading the pack in accuracy both from the floor and the free throw line. It was disclosed today by statistics from the Pacific Coast Conference Commissioner's office.

Figures for games through the weekend of January 8 showed the Vandals hitting 46.3 per cent on their field goal tries for a substantial margin over their nearest rival, and 69.1 per cent on free throw attempts. In total scoring, however, it's another matter, with Oregon State and Washington sharing the lead at an average of 63 points per game.

Dean Parsons, Washington center, is the leading scorer with a 19.5 point game average with Ron Bennick, Washington State, in close pursuit at 18 points. Rounding out the top five are Jim Luscutoff, Oregon, 17; Howard Page, Oregon, 16; and Jay Buhler, Idaho, 14.

Wade Halbrook, Oregon State's 7-foot-3 center, averaged only 12.5 points per game during his first weekend of play, but assumed the leadership in field goal marksmanship with 12 goals in 20 tries for 60 per cent. Bob Bryan, Washington, also has 60 per cent on 6 goals in 10 attempts. Ranked first from the free throw line is Buhler with 8.9 per cent followed by Jim Coshov, Washington, 87.5 per cent. Most frequently at the line has been Bennick with 32 points in 39 tries for 82.1 per cent.

During the first six games of the Northern Division under the new bonus-foul rule, each foul was worth 1.07 points, as compared with .99 during the preceding year.

May Have Won Ski Meet Without Mishaps--Byers

Idaho's ski team—by one or two bad breaks—missed winning the Invitational ski meet at Rosland, B. C., and were forced to take a back seat to Washington and Washington State College, its coach said yesterday.

The Vandals won the cross-country and jumping events, but due to a pair of disqualifications in the slalom event lost out in the final point totals. Coach Roland Byers, newly appointed team coach, said yesterday. Byers is an assistant professor in the civil engineering department of the school.

Byers said two of Idaho's entries John Harrington and Helge Gagnon, knocked over marker stakes in the slalom time race and were disqualified.

"I am almost sure we would have beaten the other two teams if we hadn't had that bad luck," the coach said. "As a result of the mishaps we finished last in that event. We had a second in the giant slalom to go with the two wins, but the Washington schools were too strong in all the departments.

Byers said the team had received an invitation from Wenatchee Junior College to attend a meet there this weekend but will be unable to make the trip. The next scheduled meet is Whitman College's Invitational meet to be held the 29th and 30 of this month at Spout Springs, Oregon, a ski site near Walla Walla, Wash.

Following are the Idaho individual results:

	Helge Gagnon, 2nd-35:19
	Reidar Ullevaeter, 4th-36:16

Eidam Heads Letter Club

George Eidam, a four year football letterman, has been chosen to lead 1955-56 I Club activities. He was elected at a club meeting Tuesday to succeed Lou Gourley.

Others elected to positions include: Bill Bauscher, vice president; Ed Barton, secretary and Elvind Resa, treasurer. These officers will take over their duties at the beginning of next semester.

Presiding President Gourley urged all members to sit in the I section at the remainder of the basketball games.

Members of the lettermen's group will pass an I blanket at halftime of both basketball games this weekend, according to Gourley. The students are asked to contribute their nickels and dimes to the polo drive by tossing them in the blanket.

The University of Montana reports its home basketball attendance to be higher than a year ago.
