

3030 NOW ENROLLED FOR NEW SEMESTER

Religious Week Set For February 20-23

Program line-ups are becoming more definite for Religious Emphasis Week, according to Rebecca Ruby, chairman.

RE Week is to be held from February 20 to February 23. A banquet to introduce the RE Week speakers to the students will be held Sunday evening, February 20, at 5:30 p.m. at the SUB central ballroom. All students are invited to attend and may secure tickets for $1.25 at all campus living groups and church organizations.

On preferential voting. "I think something will be done on it before spring elections," says Jim Saad, vice president of the ASUI Executive Board.

We certainly agree with Saad. Something ought to be done and it should be done soon before the issue is back on the shelf.

Here are some more arguments against it:

1) A person that isn't represented by a definite living group is at a disadvantage unless he is exceptionally popular.

2) It is a complicated and involved system to tally after the votes are cast.

3) It is a difficult system for a voter unfamiliar with it. This was shown last year by the number of disqualified ballots.

4) A candidate only needs a certain number of votes to be elected, consequently any ballots, over the number required, do not actually count in that election. The number used in ASUI elections is determined by dividing the total number of votes by the number of offices open, which in this case is nine.

5) Even though students vote for nine candidates just one of their votes actually counts in the election.

In summing up, if the ASUI president can be elected by merely marking an "X" on the ballot why can't Executive Board members be selected the same way.

We received a slightly ridiculous letter the other day, supposedly written by a "veteran." The writer makes claims up and down against our views on UMT.

If your convictions are as strong as your letter tends to be, Mr. Vet, we invite you to visit the Argonaut office and sign the letter.

The poll on UMT should be underway by the middle of this week. Students will be asked to fill out questionnaires asking if they are in favor of UMT. If all goes well we should be able to have some results by next week.

Scabbard And Blade Will Initiate 40 Pledges

Initiation of 40 pledges to Scabbard and Blade, national military honorary, will be this week, February 8-11. According to Roland Robertson, pledge chairman, all pledges will wear their uniform equipped with a saber at all times when they are on the campus.

In addition to wearing the uniform, the pledges, called Heines, the "lowest form of matter," are required to give a full saber salute to all Scabbard and Blade members. They are at the service at all times and must repeat a lengthy definition of leather upon request.

"Heines" Friday, the initiation will end with the pledges standing guard at all the girls' houses and halls. Two "Heines" will guard each living group from 4 to 5 p.m. That evening the formal initiation will take place in Memorial gym at 7 p.m.

High School Press Meet To Be Here

Political news and the human side of the news will compete for attention in the principal addresses before the ninth annual High School Press Conference at the University of Idaho March 25 and 26.

Some 300 delegates and sponsors from high school publications will hear John Corlett tell some of his experiences as political editor of the Boise Idaho Statesman. Dorothy R. Powers will discuss the human traits she reports in the Town Topics column in the Spokane Spokesman-Review.

Dr. Granville Price, chairman of journalism at the University, will be in charge of the conference, which will be held at the Student Union Building.

Louie J. Schroyer, journalism advisor at Twin Falls high school, will supervise a series of panel discussions in which students, advisors and staff members of the Argonaut will discuss problems of a publication's relations with its community and its readers.

The conference will close with announcement of school newspaper prize winners.

Instructor Given Leave Of Absence For Overseas Job

Edith Betts, instructor in physical education for women will be given a one-year leave of absence in June to accept a Fulbright lectureship in physical education in Burma, according to Dr. D. R. Theophilus, acting president of the University.

Miss Betts' work overseas will be centered at the State Training College for Teachers at Mandalay. She will lecture on the entire field of women's physical education, including recreation, rhythms and games.

A graduate of the University of Wisconsin, Miss Betts earned her master's degree at Smith College. She has been on the faculty here since 1951.

Portrait Of A Busy Musician: Mr. Biggs

By HERB PENDERGAST Although his kindly, relaxed personality gives no hint of it, E. Power Biggs is one of the busiest musicians in the United States. His concert tours during the current season will take him across the country three times; recording sessions for Columbia and pre-recorded broadcasts for his weekly program over CBS will occupy his spare time between concert appearances.

Mr. Biggs arrived in Idaho last Monday night after giving a concert in Salt Lake City. He felt that he needed a couple of days to become familiar with the organ in Recital Hall. He made use of this extra time between his arrival and his concert Thursday night not only to practice but also to visit music classes at the University.

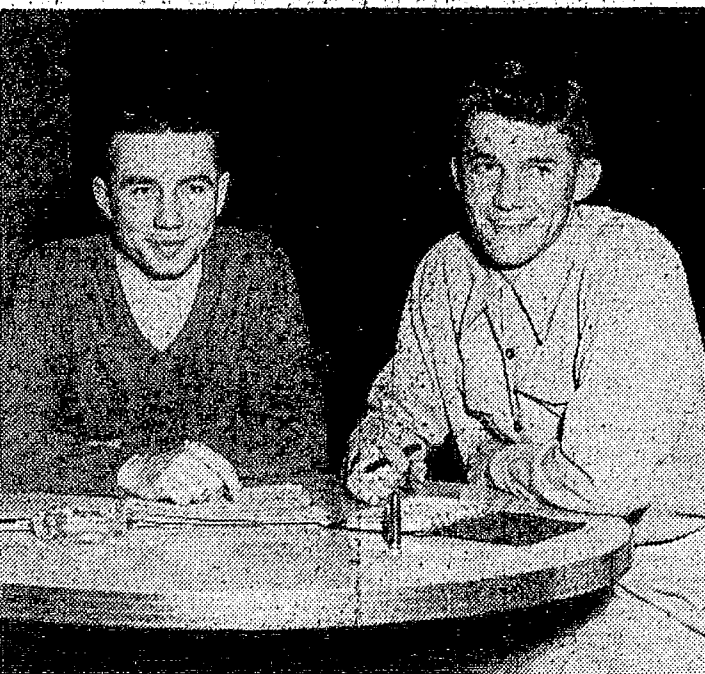

Although his rehearsals and other scheduled activities took up much of his time here, Mr. Biggs was never too busy to stop and answer a few questions. When asked about his current activities, he spoke with modesty and good humor; when asked about the repertoire of organ music, he spoke with keen interest and enthusiasm.

His career as a recording artist dates back to the early 1930's when he made a series of records of the works of Bach for Technichord Records. When he subsequently became affiliated with Victor Records, he recorded large segments of the organ repertoire from the music of Bach, Gabrieli, Handel, Corelli, down to that of our own day. He has re-recorded in high-fidelity for Columbia most of the pieces that he performed for Victor. His most recent album for Columbia is a series of recordings on two LPs of his performances on famous organs all over Europe. Some of the organs

We Want You!

If you sing, dance or have a talking dog act the Blue Key can use you in the annual Talent Show. Chairmen for this year's show are Ernie Bedke and Ray Miller. The event is set for March 11 in Memorial Gym.

Honorary Starting Talent Hunt Again

Dig out your "Ukes" from the closet and oil your voices because the Blue Key Talent Show is coming soon. March 11 is the date and the location is Memorial Gym.

Applications will be sent to the living groups or can be obtained from either of the Talent Show chairmen—Ernie Bedke, SAE, 2114, or Ray Miller, Delta Sig, 2-0471. The deadline for applications is March 1, and anybody except last year's winners can enter.

"There will only be four divisions this year compared to the five divisions of last year," commented Ray Miller. The divisions will be single comedy, group comedy, non-musical serious, and musical serious.

Tryouts will probably be about March 1, but the exact date will be announced later.

Last year's winners will be featured as guests.

The main purpose is to discover talent on campus, so start practicing now and be prepared for the show.

Jerome Hines, Metropolitan Opera basso, will appear here in Community Concert Feb. 12 at 8 p.m. in Memorial Gym. The 28 year old singer once won a $1,000 Caruso award from the Metropolitan Opera Company.

Some Thirty Students Have Registered Late

Students are still raising registration figures with late registration. The total now reported from the Registrar's office is 3030. Registrar D. D. DuSault said he expected a total of 3100, according to last year's indications.

John Bahr To Report Key Confab

This is 400 less than was earlier expected, according to DuSault. Most students registering late fall into classes of graduate students scheduling research projects and "just plain" late students.

Last semester grades are expected to be ready today at the Registrar's office.

Graduating seniors are reminded that their applications for baccalaureate degrees must be filed, with a $5 fee, at the registrar's office before February 18.

The bookstore reports that caps and gown orders must be made before March 15. The rental is $2.75. The bookstore is the only place where these may be rented for the University Baccalaureate ceremonies.

Graduate announcements are expected to arrive at the bookstore after April 1 and will cost 12c.

ME's Take Top Rank At Dance

Approximately 250 couples danced to the music of Eddie Alverdi's band Saturday night in the ballrooms of the Student Union Building, as the engineers ball entertained once again.

Sparkling exhibits of engineering mastery were viewed by dancers during the intermission, with the exhibit entered by the mechanical engineers taking top honors.

The mechanical engineers won the exhibit contest with their "Guessing Game," consisting of two conveyor belts, running in opposite directions carrying small buckets. The theme was "We constructed it, you name it."

The Plaque from the Idaho Society of Professional Engineers, which was to be presented to the winning department, failed to arrive and will be presented at a later time. G. A. Riedesel was to present the plaque.

Other exhibits entered were the civil engineers with a model dam and hydro electric plant, electrical engineers had a TV exhibit and magic fluorescent tubes, the ag engineers had a push button lighting arrangement to light up different sections of the farm, demonstrating the modern mechanical devices on the farm, and the chemical engineers had a display showing how chemistry has boosted the clothing industry.

On Thursday, February 10, Schwartz' topics will be "Music, a Communicative Art (session A)," "Music as a Vocation and as an Avocation," and "Modern Trends in Music Education."

'Viva Zapata' Shows Vivid Picture Of Mexican Revolt

By JOE CORLESS Marlon Brando stars in "Viva Zapata," the first ASUI film for the second semester, this Thursday at the Borah theatre at 4, 7, and 8:30 p.m.

"Viva Zapata" is a recent American film on the life of the Mexican revolutionary called the "Attila of the South," Emiliano Zapata. Newsweek calls it a "sincere tribute" to the leader who came to the forefront of the "vivid crazy quilt" of Mexican history in the 1900's.

This is the story of revolutions and the men who lead them. "The story of a man," says Commonweal, "who fought desperately hard to help his people but had cause to wonder after nine years of turbulence and bloodshed if violence really leads to peace and if the revolutions he organized really brought about change."

Script is by John Steinbeck from a novel by Edgum Pinchon. Pinchon's purpose behind the novel he describes was "to rescue from the back of a mule, where it once hung, bodiless and bloody, the head of one of the great human beings of modern times." Zapata was a little known contemporary of Pan-

A Solution For Today

The disagreement as to the merit of UMT has continued now without much of an attempt to offer a better solution. If UMT is not the best answer for preparedness of our democracy for Russian aggression, what is? How can the United States maintain a strong military and still avoid the traps of militarism, preserving the peace while preserving our freedom, liberty and justice? The answer appears simple—build citizens instead of soldiers.

Comments: P. A. Kuenzli in his book on Swiss UMT, "An Able-bodied, physically strong man, with a sound and open mind, is the ideal citizen. The man who is a useful servant to Uncle Sam in time of peace and an effective defender in time of war, is a real American." The Swiss, now copied by many other European countries such as Denmark, inaugurated a program of physical training and military drill within the established, democratic school system. This was done without arms. "Why not," asks Kuenzli, "lead the enthusiasm for charge and self-defense, for shooting arrows . . . into channels of systematic training?" Thus, without ever entering the military service, our future citizens could be trained to take care of themselves physically while they are continuing their mental development outside of a military atmosphere.

Instead, then, of inculcating youth with militarism, they will be prepared first for peace, second for war. "Sometimes the issues of freedom and survival make a casualty of part of all of us," says Commonwealth. "But we cannot live as though crisis were normal, even though we may never have experienced a time when it was abnormal." The Swedish Educational department goes on to add "that peace and mutual understanding between all countries is a BASIC condition for the common advancement of humanity."

It has been shown previously that such great military leaders as Field Marshall Montgomery realize that in the next war, our technology will be the only deterrent to Russian aggression. Hugh M. Milton, assistant secretary of the Army says, "Our army would be completely overwhelmed by sheer weight of numbers." In a military arm which requires a technically trained man, the period of UMT service would not be sufficient, points out John F. Loosbrock, enlisted man, infantry officer, now managing editor of Air Force Magazine, official spokesman for the Air Force Association—one of the most powerful, influential groups in the United States. "We must recognize," he writes, "the revolution in weapons and strategy . . . We must gear our manpower requirements to this revolution instead of to the outmoded principle of 'equity of service' which calls for a fowl-ing-piece over every man's mantle."

General John Palmer writes "that it is feasible to establish an American adaptation of the Swiss system. WITHOUT adopting the principle of compulsory military training . . . Our existing military law gives the President ample discretion to establish such an organization." Our reserve strength would lie in the national guard and the organized reserve, says the general. A standing army would be made up of volunteers.

How, then, to attract enough Americans to create such a military structure revolving around the best weapons for defense or offense, if necessary? As John Loosbrock says, "Certainly there is an 'equity of obligation' to be provided this nation on the part of every citizen. But it need not follow that this equity be interrupted as equity of service. Obviously, conscription, under the guise of Universal Military Training, is not the answer to the Air Force's manpower problem" or that of the Navy or even the Army, he concludes.

"A better solution would be to grasp the nettle firmly and adjust the sizes of the active forces of all the Armed Services in line with our stated national policies," continues Loosbrock. "It doesn't take a fantastic stretch of my imagination to conceive that a sizeable fraction of American youth may never have to serve at all."

"There are many improvements . . . with added benefits to MAKE A SERVICE CAREER ATTRACTIVE AS WELL AS HONORABLE. We would solve our military manpower problem in a way which would obviate the necessity of even talking about conscription."

Swedish Prime Minister Erlander said it best, "However intense our will to peace and understanding may be, WE NEVERTHELESS PUT FREEDOM BEFORE PEACE. An attack would convert our peacetime defense into a defense of our lives, our future, and our independence." —J. C.

"Wonder what we'll get from the folks for graduation?" "I got a trip to Florida to visit that sister of mine!" "Wish I'd get a new car." "I think we should—a new car, and $8000 along with our diplomas to let us get readjusted to civilian life."

"Sure. After all, how can they expect us to go to work immediately . . . and without a car, too." "I don't care what I get from the folks, just so it's a big present . . ."

"I don't know. My dad's already griping about registration fees. And it costs more money to get out of this place than to get in." "And . . ." "Yeah, Diplomas and degree fees, cap and gown rental, announcements for graduation pictures, new clothes to wear under the gowns . . ." "We can't spend too much on that stuff. We gotta have enough for some parties after we take our finals and before graduation." "Yeah." "Sure will be nice to get out of this place, though." "Are you kidding? And go to work?" "I'm trying for a scholarship." "I'm going to sack out for the summer with the folks."

"You mean they're going to support you for another three months?" "Sure. They want to. After all, when I get a job, I'll be gone, and they won't have their little darling around anymore." "And . . ." "What kind of job you gonna get?" "I don't know. I got an uncle who got his BS in Psychology, and he's a beer distributor." "An' my ma majored in English." Political Theory Ts Topic Thursday

Dr. Bernard C. Borning will speak on "The Role of Political Theory" Thursday evening at 8 in Home Economics Building room 6. This is the first of three talks in the spring public lecture series of the American Association of University Professors, intended for students, faculty and the general public. "Political theory," professor Borning points out, "can be an immensely hard-headed and practical matter, affecting people's daily lives and their liberties. It will profoundly influence men's actions not because it is necessarily true, but because it is believed."

One thousand students and faculty members attended last year's closing panel discussion on "The Role of Religion in Life" in which University of Idaho's professors sat in on the panel which was moderated by Lorell Weiss of Idaho Institute of Christian Education. Present-day problems concerning Communism, Negroes in religion, courtship, and religious doubts were discussed, some sessions lasting for three hours or more.

Ordnance Depot Will Send ROTC Inspection Team

An inspection team from Mt. Rainier Ordnance Depot at Tacoma, Washington, will be in Moscow February 18-21 to inspect all weapons at the University of Idaho Army ROTC detachment, reported Capt. Ben F. Tunnell Jr., Army ROTC supply officer today. The team, which usually consists of one officer and two enlisted men, will be accompanied by a small arms maintenance truck from which routine repairs will be made, said Tunnell. "The inspection team will probably look for rust, burrs and in the case of the M-1 rifles weak recoil springs or overall defective equipment," said the supply officer. The team is to make all repairs necessary to put the weapons in top firing condition. The Army ROTC's arsenal consists of caliber .30 M-1s, .22s, Springfield '03s, light and heavy .30 caliber machine guns, .50 caliber machine guns, .30 caliber M-1 and M-2 carbines, 60 mm mortars, 81 mm mortars, 4.2 mm mortars, 57 caliber recoilless rifles, 3.5 rocket launchers, 45 caliber pistols, 22 caliber pistols, Browning automatic rifles caliber .30 and optical sights for indirect fire weapons.

Dear Jason, Men needed! Dramatics isn't all acting, fellows! Many technical and "he-men" jobs are included. Perhaps you're an electrician, then the lighting or sound crew is for you. "He-men" are always needed to construct and paint scenery. During the show a husky stage crew is used to move scenes or props. There is publicity for the "public relations" fellow, might meet some new girls in that job. Not quite so macabre are the make-up and costume crews. Why not come to the afternoon meetings of dramatics in the University Hut, Room 105? Each Wednesday at 4 p.m. the department presents an hour's worth of dramatics. Tomorrow's presentation will be slides from "Yellow Jacket," a former student production, to demonstrate the Chinese theatre. Jo Carol Bicket

WHAT'S THIS? For solution see paragraph below.

A STUDENT'S BEST FRIEND is Lucky Strike. At any rate, the greatest, up-to-date college survey shows that college smokers prefer Luckies to all other brands—and by a wide margin. Once again, the No. 1 reason: Luckies taste better. They taste better, first of all, because Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then, that tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—tones up Luckies' light, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better. Luckies taste better anywhere, any time, as illustrated in the Droodle.

Sig Nus Set Dance; SAEs Plan Dinner

Elections are still being held in some of the living groups to determine the new officers. The Sigma Nus have scheduled their annual White Rose initiation dance for February 18. Sigma Alpha Epsilon has been making arrangements for its Sweetheart Dinner and Upper-Classmen's dinner.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

We want to thank the Delt pledges for their surprise serenade Sunday night. Ties and shoes were recovered in exchange for their singing.

Much scrubbing and polishing was done this weekend and now we have a shining house from "housecleaning."

A fireside was held last week in honor of Billie Hanchey. Skits were presented by each class and hot chocolate and cookies were served. Billie is going to Twin Falls for this semester.

Sunday dinner guests were Martha Demsey, Joan Bliss, Patty Webb, Charlotte Townsend and Monica Elcock.

TRI-J

We've got a new member in the house. Tom "Jazbo" Dolson moved in at the beginning of the semester. Finalists have been chosen for the "Our Lassie with the Classy Chassis" contest. Our new queen, when she is elected, is to be feted at a banquet at Robert's Pastry Imporium. At the banquet she will be presented with a genuine ivory 4-5-6 table and a two weeks' vacation in Vladivostok.

We had an informal fireside last Saturday night. It was also a going-away party for our guppy, David, who is leaving school to rejoin his old UDT outfit.

IDAHO CLUB

Dayle Carlson will head the Idaho Club for the coming semester as a result of elections held last Thursday. He will take over from retiring president, Gordon Roberts. Other officers for the semester are: Bud Gibson, vice president; Jim Eggleston, secretary; Don Fish, treasurer; Homer Oberst, social chairman; Bud Gibson and Bob Marzuli, intramural managers; Don Fish, postman; Don Neville Smith, reporter; Harold DeHaven, Bob Marzuli, Jim Nakamoto and Gar Johnson, discipline committee. A vote of thanks was given to last year's officers who turned in a splendid job of running the club.

Wednesday night an exchange was held with the Theta pledges and a very enjoyable time was had by the men of the club.

Thursday night was a big night for the Idaho Club in intramural play as three of our teams came out victorious in their games.

Hal Solinsky, Idaho Club's boxer and president of the Hasher's Union graduated from school at the semester and was given a small gift by the members of the club in token of his hard work for the hall.

Two members of "the gang," Ralph Hull and Jackie Edwards, were forced (ahem) to depart from the scene due to scholastic reasons. As the old song goes, "Those GPA's are breaking up that old gang our ours." The south wing will seem very quiet with these two boys gone.

dance will be semi-formal with music by Dale Ruark's orchestra. Decorations will pertain to the White Rose.

Chapter advisors and their wives were special Sunday guests. They included Mr. and Mrs. Victor Casebolt, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Bond, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Hunter and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cornelison.

Butch is here to stay. He is the new house mascot, an English bulldog weighing close to 75 pounds. Unofficially he has been tabbed as mascot.

The chapter announces the pledging of Howard Willis of Los Angeles, Calif.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

Idaho Alpha chapter is eagerly looking forward to a great semester with the newly elected officers. Plans are under way for our annual Upper Classmen's Dinner dance, which will be held March 5, and the SAE Sweetheart's Dinner to be held Sunday, February 13.

Now open to all campus art enthusiasts is the studio of Larry "Rembrandt" Haight, which is located in Room 1 of the house.

This has come about through many tedious hours of delicate labor. Keep up the good work, Larry.

HAYS HALL

Sunday the new officers of Hays were installed. They are: Mary Ellen Allred, president; JoAnn Wallace, vice president; Marian Driscoll, secretary; Jean Parr, treasurer; Barbara Smuin, social chairman and Barbara Larson, health captain. We want to extend a vote of thanks to the out-going officers, and especially to Sid Curtis for the wonderful job she has done as president this past semester.

Other newly-appointed officers are: Judy Flomer, scholarship chairman; Mary and Barbara Ison, manners chairmen; Carol Webster, head monitor and Joan Jabbora, song leader.

Rose Harper, a junior transfer from the University of Mississippi, brought with her a Beta pin belonging to the University after serving in the Air Force for the past two years.

Carol Dillard recently announced her engagement to Ralph Bain, a freshman living in Lindley. No wedding date has been set.

Congratulations to Patti Gustafson, newly appointed member of the Executive Board.

Easy For Swede

Oregon State's number 36—Wade (Swede) Halbrook lays the ball on the basket, but it doesn't go in in Saturday night action against the Vandals. The towering OSC club took a pair of wins over the shorter Vandals 69-63

OSC Beavers Stop Idaho Twice

Tall Beavers Top Vandals 59-52 Friday

Three bad passes late in the game Friday gave Oregon State clear sailing to a 59-52 opening night Northern Division basketball win over Idaho. The Vandals also shot a miserable 21 per cent but made a remarkable account of themselves on defense and in general hustle and fire.

The Idaho Vandals jumped until they could jump no more this weekend after giving Oregon State College the worst score they have received in the Northern Division season this year.

Lefty Melton Bulges Lead For Idaho Scoring Honors

Lefty Melton has taken a commanding lead in scoring for the Idaho Vandals basketball season, according to figures released today by the Athletic News Bureau.

TAKE FIVE WITH JOHN B. HUGHES

All Oregon State Coach Slats Gill needs now is a two-headed basketball player and he can go into the stidshov business."

Nine Games On '55 Idaho Grid Slate

Idaho's Vandals will play nine games during the 1955 football season, according to Bob Gibb, Idaho athletic director.

Jim Sather, 6-4 center, leads the team with rebounds at 152 for the entire season followed by 6-foot guard Bob Falash with 114.

Beavers Nip Vandal Rally For 2nd Win

Wade Halbrook reached over a zone defense Saturday night to score 27 points and lead Oregon State to its 10th straight Northern Division basketball victory with a 69-63 win over Idaho.

Halbrook gained most of his points by stuff-in shots and tips. Idaho's great forward Lefty Melton played probably his finest game of the conference season and collected 24 points before fouling out.

It was forward Tex Whiteman, who wielded a wicked hook shot, that sparked the OSC attack. Idaho held the lead for the first 12 minutes of the game, left the floor at halftime behind 33-31, but let Whiteman loose in the second half while Lawking Halbrook, Reggie Halligan and Ron Robbins for a ten point surge.

The Idaho team tired late in the game after pressing the Beavers throughout the entire first 30 minutes. Jay Buhler had 15 for Idaho.

Over Swede

Lefty Melton goes up and over the outstretched fingers of Wade Halbrook in Friday night's game for a two pointer for Idaho. At left is Idaho's Jim Sather (11). OSC ball players are Ron Fundingsland (27) and Ron Robbins (15).

Four Intramural Kings Unbeaten On Maple Court

Basketball play moves into the final week in the intramural 'A' division and all but four teams remain undefeated; Kappa Sigma, Phi Delta Theta, Idaho Club 1, and Chrisman Hall 2.

Willis Sweet Hall 1 was the last team to be knocked out of the ranks of the undefeated as they became the fifth straight victim of Idaho Club 1 30-27 Thursday. A twenty-foot field goal by Max Watt climaxed what undoubtedly was the game of the year so far in the Independent Leagues.

Willis Sweet took a 17 to 9 lead at the half but Idaho Club came back strong in the second half and led by Jim Eggleston, who scored eight points, tied the score at 27 all at the end of regulation play. Both teams had several scoring opportunities in the overtime period before a free shot by Roger Hanson put the Idaho Club out in front 28 to 27.

A Sweet player was called for dragging his pivot foot soon after they took the ball out of bounds and this set the stage for Watt's game winning shot. Gene Lofdahl and Dick Denney were the top scorers for Willis Sweet with eight points each.

K Sigs Rally Kappa Sigma came from behind to defeat Delta Tau Delta 26 to 25 in League 1 and remain undefeated after five games. Dick Newby paced the Kappa Sig attack with 13 points while Dick Weeks was best for the Delt with 8. The loss was Delta Tau Delta's second while winning four and dropped them down into third place behind the Betas and Kappa Sigs.

Chrisman Hall 2, led by Dick Cooke who scored 18 points, won their fourth straight game edging out Vets Village 2 32 to 28. Idaho Club 2 defeated Sweet's 2 team 23 to 19. The win was Idaho Club 2's first of the season. Larry Weinmann was the top Club scorer with 11 points.

Pine Hall 2 defeated Campus Club 2 24 to 23 and Campus Club 1 downed Pine Hall 1 49 to 32 in the remaining Thursday night games. M. Smith poured 21 points through the hoop for Campus Club 1.

State Swimmers Trounce Shorthanded Idaho 58-18

Washington State College's swimming team capitalized on Idaho's injury list and splashed to a lopsided 58-18 win Saturday at Pullman. It was the Cougar's fourth straight win and the Vandals' initial conference showing this year.

The Vandals—minus four top performers—were able to squeeze only one first place, three seconds and four thirds for their total eighteen points. Co-Captains Fritz Holz and Jerry Jones, plus Don Medley and Byron Richards missed the meet. Jones and Holz are ill while Richards took the walk to the altar Saturday afternoon. Medley has a job which will keep him from competition the rest of the season.

John Helle took the lone Vandal win as he raced to an impressive victory in the breast stroke. Dale Carlisle showed much improvement in copping second in the backstroke while Bruce Buckman and Bryant Sather were doing the same in the 50 yard free style and diving, respectively.

Friday and Saturday the team journeys to Eugene and Corvallis to continue conference competition against Oregon and Oregon State. Holz, Jones, and Richards are expected to make the trip and this trio should add quite a bit of zip to the slow starting squad.

Idaho's Hess Will Go Pro

Burdette Hess, Idaho football captain in 1954, wants and plans to play professional football he said this week. Hess was a draft choice of the San Francisco 49ers and has received a contract for them.

"I'm going to play pro ball," Hess said, "but I have some academic credits to get for a degree here and I also have a military commitment."

Hess said he was not sure whether he would sign the contract very soon, but that he plans to go into professional ball, probably with San Francisco.

The 215-pound guard was named on several all-Pacific Coast Conference teams this season. He was a four-year letterman at Idaho, switching last season from tackle to guard.

Letter Club Meeting Set

The I Club, letterman's organization, will meet Thursday night at 7:30 to discuss plans for an initiation and booster banquet, President George Eidam announced today.

Babes Stop EWCE For Second Time With 71-64 Win

CHENEY—The Idaho frosh easily scored their second win over Eastern Washington College Jayvees Saturday night chalking up a 71-64 victory. The Babes won 75-50 at Moscow in an earlier meeting.

Guard Jack Mitchell led the Babe attack with 21 points, followed by Jerry Jorgenson with 16 points.

The Idaho team ran up a 31-24 halftime lead, using two platoons during the first half. Coach Clem Parberry's starting five held a slim 18-17 edge at the end of 10 minutes and then the second five took over to run up the halftime margin.

Parberry had praise for forward Brent Thomson, 6 foot speedster who dropped in nine points in that ten minute period. Parberry said he was "pleased with Brent's driving, hustle and his general improvement."

The largest lead the frosh held was an eight point margin midway in the final half. The win was the ninth on the season.

The Babes have four contests remaining on a fifteen game slate. Feb. 18 and 19 the Babes fly to Twin Falls for a weekend series with the Brigham Young University frosh. Feb. 22 the team meets WSC freshmen here, then close out the season at Memorial gym meeting Whitworth Jayvees Feb. 26. Whitworth along with the Washington University freshmen, are the only teams to stop the high scoring Idaho team.

Idaho Narrowly Misses Copping Alberta Meet

The University of Idaho ski team narrowly missed winning the University of Alberta International Intercollegiate ski meet Sunday at Alberta, Canada, and University of Washington skiers took the top three spots in the final day's event — the downhill race.

Idaho placed second behind Washington, just two points back. Washington State College, champions for the last three years, were third in point standings.

The Idaho team had to settle for a third in the downhill, but won the three-mile cross country race.

Ted Hill of Washington won the slalom, one second ahead of Idaho's Bryan Ringheim.

Total points included Washington 286.3, University of Idaho 284.9, Washington State 279.8, University of British Columbia 266.1, University of Alberta 249.6 and College of Puget Sound 202.9.

Idaho held a ten point lead over Washington at the end of the first day's events. The Vandal slat riders, eight strong, returned here Monday.
