THE IDAHO ARGONAUT, UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1955

3100 Students Are Expected

Second-semester enrollment at the University, including 160 new students, totaled 3,038 Thursday, and is expected to be near 3,100 when all late registrations are completed.

This figure is about 100 more than University officials expected—not 400 less as was stated in Tuesday's Argonaut. First-semester enrollment totaled 3,252, but second-semester enrollments are always lower than those of the first semester.

This is due to such factors as completion of work by some students, personal illness or illness in the family causing students to drop out, lack of finances or low grades, according to Rafe Gibbs, director of information here. This semester, however, there have been fewer drop-outs and more new students than expected.

The current enrollment shows a slightly higher percentage of women students than in past years. The women number 837 and the men 2,181.

College enrollments are customarily figured on the basis of the number of students served during the academic year, which means that the total consolidated enrollment for the University this year now has passed 3,400. Adding the 160 new students who showed up this semester to the 3,252 who registered last semester, the year's enrollment to date stands at 3,412.

Last Tuesday the Executive Board had a healthy discussion on whether or not to make the class presidents ex-officio members of the Board.

Right now there are three ex-officio members on the Board. The president of Associated Women Students, The Argonaut editor and the station manager of KUOI. All attend Board meetings but none can make motions or vote. The ASUI president votes only in case of a tie.

As we see it there is no difference whether a person is or is not an ex-officio member. Anybody can come up to the Board meetings and voice his opinions; you don't have to be an ex-officio member to do that.

About the only thing that comes along with the ex-officio title is a couple of free dinners a year or a frown when you miss a meeting.

If a class officer has enough interest to deal in Executive Board activities he can come up on his own accord. Most of the underclassmen who are class presidents usually end up on the Board anyway.

In fact, a few of the present Board members are ex-presidents of some class.

Right now, in order to pass something through the Board, nine people have to put in their two cents worth. The ex-officio usually have a comment or two. Why add any more talk to the pot; it all comes out the same in the end anyway.

We notice by the last night's Idaho Argonaut that Idaho is headed for OCS next. Officers Candidate School maybe?

Exec. Board Discusses Ex-officio Membership

Should class officers become ex-officio members of the ASUI Executive Board? The question, backed by Board member Bob Bakes, highlighted discussion at the last meeting of the ASUI Executive Board. The question came up during a discussion on certain ASUI constitution changes. After a sizeable amount of discussion, Board member Jack Parker moved that the topic be shelved until next Tuesday's meeting so members could get some more information.

Second on the list of Board discussion Tuesday night was a report by James Kruger, chairman of the 1955 Campus Chest Drive. He submitted the following list of possible donations for chest drive proceeds: World University Service, 20 pct.; Elks Convalescent Home,

The Executive Board has set the 1955 Homecoming for Oct. 8, when Idaho will play College of Pacific.

These six healthy young lads are the men behind tonight's Mucker's Ball. The dance is scheduled from 9 to 12 p. m. in the SUB ballroom. Tickets will be sold at the door for $1.50 per couple. The six backers are Gus Laskaris, 7751; John Blessinger, 29461; Hap Ferree, 29951; Jim Townsend, 2113; Walter Lovejoy, 25071 and Jim Taita, 29461.

Officers Elected By Law Fraternity

At a recent meeting of Phi Alpha Delta, national law fraternity, the following officers were elected: James Aston, justice; Wallis Friel, vice justice; John Reese, clerk; Bill Brown, treasurer; and Winston Churchill, marshal.

The Idaho chapter will be host for the district Phi Alpha Delta Conclave, which is to be held in Spokane in the latter part of March.

Recently initiated into the fraternity were Herbert Berman, instructor in law at the University of Idaho, Gary Bell, William Black, Chuck McDevitt, Tom Miller and Ralph Hale.

Jim Hearn To Head Navy Activity Club

Jim Hearn, a senior Marine student here, will lead the Eagle and Anchor Club for the second semester. Hearn was elected president of the club from a group of eight candidates.

Other new officers include Lloyd Marsh, veep; Al Karn, secretary treasurer and Dick Gaskins, social chairman.

The Eagle and Anchor is an activity of the Idaho NROTC Unit. They sponsor dances and a unit publication of the Idaho middies.

Other members include Bob McAlister, Gene Brennan, Ronald Robertson, Claude Tate, Gene Lofdahl, Dick Wisdom, Larry Welch and Jack Wells.

Miller To Advise On Study Abroad

William Houston Miller, west coast field representative of the Institute of International Education, will be on campus Monday, February 14, to talk to any students interested in learning of study opportunities abroad.

The Institute of International Education, a privately-sponsored organization, provides information on current developments in the field of international educational exchange, and administers the Fulbright and other scholarships for Americans studying abroad.

Miller will meet with interested students in SUB Conference Room C at 11 a. m., or between 1 and 3 p. m. Monday.

CHALLENGE

University of Idaho students have given 7,752 pints of blood to the Red Cross in the past four years, it was announced today by Student Body President Flip Kleffner as he issued a formal challenge to any university or college in the nation to equal this four-year mark.

Kleffner said that Idaho students are now standing on their record as they have already had their annual blood drive for this year. Last fall the students contributed 1,335 pints to boost their four-year total to 7,752.

Speaking for the student body, Kleffner also challenged any school in the country to equal the three-day total of 1,335 pints.

University To Go 'Met' With American Bass

"Talent, hard work, intelligence, personality and luck" are listed by Jerome Hines, Metropolitan Opera basso as the keys to his door of success. He also lists one minor talent—hypnosis.

Hines will appear at Memorial Gymnasium at 8 p. m. tomorrow night.

The nine-term veteran of the "Met" is the first American basso in 14 years to receive international acclaim. About that hypnosis—it's not in his act, but he says he has actually hypnotized more than 150 persons, including many Metropolitan colleagues.

He was graduated from UCLA in 1943 where he majored in chemistry and mathematics.

During his college program he managed to continue with specialized musical training. He continued with graduate studies in physics but also sang in opera festivals in Montreal and Colorado and with the New Orleans Opera.

In 1946 Hines started with the Metropolitan Opera and since then has played more than 30 roles there.

His program will include Rolling in the Foaming Billows, from "The Creation," by Haydn; "Danza, Danza Fanciulla," Durante; "Non piu andrai," from "The Marriage of Figaro," Mozart; "O to Be a Child Once More" and "O Beloved Child," by Brahms.

Schubert. "Der Doppelganger" and "An Schwager Kronos" by Schubert; "La Calunnia" from "The Barber of Seville," Rossini; "Ecco il Mondo" from "Meistersofele" by Boito; as well as many modern composers including "Loneliness" by Jerome Hines himself.

Religious Emphasis Week Speakers Are Chosen

Five speakers have been invited by local churches for Religious Emphasis week, according to student co-chairman Becca Ruby. Monsignor Daniel B. Harrington of Helena, Mont., one of last year's speakers, will return as main speaker.

Dr. Myron C. Cole, pastor of First Christian Church in Portland, will be serving his fifth assignment as a speaker at college RE week.

He has appeared on Columbia Church of the Air broadcasts, and is on the executive committee of Oregon Mental Health Association.

From Davis
Dr. Wendell O. Rich comes from Logan, Utah, where he is associate director of the Logan LDS Institute (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Cosmo Dance To Start Fund

One of Cosmopolitan Club's main spring activities will be held in the SUB ballrooms Saturday, February 26.

What is it?
A dance!

Informal dress and native costumes will be the rule, not the exception, and Chuck Clauser, an Idaho bandleader, will play, according to Thane Johnson, publicity chairman.

The newly initiated Cosmo Club will receive most of the proceeds from the dance, according to club Vice President Abdul Kamal. The club organization fund will receive the remainder of the proceeds.

The refugee fund will provide a year's scholarship for an European or Asiatic refugee to attend the University of Idaho, Kamal said.

The sponsorship of the refugee will be in conjunction with sponsorship from World University Service, an international educational organization.

"Shake, Rattle, Roll," At Ball

You don't have to go to Reno or Las Vegas to indulge in the art of gambling. Go to Idaho's "Golden Garter Saloon", which plans its grand opening this Friday night at 9 in the central and north ballrooms of the SUB.

Tickets will be on sale at the door for $1.50 per couple. Upon entry to the ballrooms, Mucker's bucks will be passed out in denominations of $5, 10, 50, 100, 500 and 1000.

These bucks are to be used for gambling and the gamblers who have been the most successful during the evening will have a chance to bid on secret prizes that are going to be auctioned. Jim Townsend, president of the organization, will be auctioneer.

Dice
Students who like to see small animals with mighty long tails taking their money away from them or else rewarding them with a big prize will enjoy the various gambling devices offered for student enjoyment.

Mouse Roulette, Black Jack, and various dice games will satisfy everyone's taste in gambling. Mucker's bucks such as the one shown on one of the inside pages are to be used instead of money so lose your shirt.

Roulette
Walter Lovejoy, Dave Pinkard and Ted Lessard will operate the Mouse Roulette game; Ted Moon and John Blessinger are in charge of the dice tables. John Blessinger, Ted Lessard, Bob Rackham and Hap Ferree are in charge of decorations; Gus Laskaris is publicity and dance chairman.

Dress is "come-as-you-are" and music will be by Rod Burton and his band. Associated Miner's membership cards admit all members and their dates to the dance free.

No One Barred
Pre-requisite
Work Hard

This is one organization which is not limited to freshmen. Nor is it limited to sophomores. Nor juniors, nor seniors.

It is not an honorary. It is a lot of hard work. But it is also a lot of fun.

Anyone can join. No one gets any honors for joining.

What is this slightly ridiculous, hectic, hard working organization? It is the Idaho Argonaut.

Anyone with ability to sell advertisements, glue papers around newspapers, write headlines or write news stories can join this organization.

The ad selling is done during the week.

The headline writing is done from 3-5:30 p. m. Mondays and Thursdays.

Reporting is done during the week or also on Monday and Thursday afternoons.

The mailing staff works Tuesday and Friday afternoons.

WUS To Get A Portion Of Funds

One of the organizations to which the Campus Chest will donate part of its funds is the World University Service.

World University Service has consistently been receiving the "lion's share" of Chest funds, according to Campus Chest chairman Jim Kruger.

Why?
WUS is an organization to assist needy students in health facilities, opportunities to increase the effectiveness of their schools and provide basic necessities of food and shelter.

More than this WUS helps students to help themselves, Kruger said. WUS is a world-wide organization with headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland. There are national offices in most of the countries of the free world in addition to this main office. The regional office for the U. S. northwest region is at Portland.

Liz Wmeger, a former University student now working for WUS, recently sent a letter to the Campus Chest Committee explaining a couple of WUS activities.

One of these activities was the recent contribution of the Finnish WUS. It was discovered that students at Calro University in Egypt were extremely short of housing.

Kruger said in quoting the letter: "Many of these students," he said, "were living in caves and basements. So the students in Finland collected enough money to send pre-fabricated dormitories to Egypt."

In Japan, students who had never been asked to donate before were able to raise enough money for a new tuberculosis sanitarium. This happened only a few years after the U. S. aid had helped build up the schools there, Kruger said.

"We hope to aid more students in other countries this way so we are again including World University Service in our donations with a substantial sum," he added.

Dancing Class To Feature Rumba

The latest rumba steps will be featured in this week's dance class. Classes are sponsored by the ASUI Dance Committee with Glen Hale as chairman. Class will be held tonight in the SUB north ballroom from 7 to 8:30 p. m.

"Stop in and learn a few steps before you go to the Mucker's Ball on a big date," suggested Jan Avery, publicity chairman.

"We are glad to see the girls coming out," said Jan, "but we still want them to come out in larger numbers."

Students may come to these classes stag or with a date if they wish.

Foresters Say Students Gotta Dress Up In Plaid

Ho who they dress 'way out in the back woods when there's some where special to go?

Jack Olson, Foresters Ball committee chairman, says, "Dress up! Sure they dress up. Clean jeans, clean plaid, clean levis, clean cottons, clean what-have-you?"

"That's the only way to dress up, isn't it? That's the way to dress up for the Foresters Ball next Saturday night."

"And to show you first-hand by what we mean when we say 'backwoods dress-up,' all members of the Associated Foresters have been requested to wear their outdoor garb next week," Olson added.

"When asked if a guy and his gal could 'come-as-you-are', Olson stared and said, 'No! You've got to dress up. What do you think this is; just another dance?'"

That seems to be the sentiment of the Associated Foresters about their up-coming fling to be held at the SUB next Saturday night, February 19, from 9 to 12 p. m.

Tickets are now available from any member of the Associated Foresters. Admissions will be sold at the dance.

The price is $1.50 per couple.

College Romance Typified Perch Owners

By DON NELSON
 Twenty-one years ago, it was called the Campus Inn. A Mrs. Green built it.
 Now it is called the Perch. Mr. and Mrs. Long Green run it. Long and Mary Green's romance began as many college romances begin, and the history of their well-known snack shop is threaded throughout their histories.

They have been known on campus from the beginning of their college education in the "twenties," through a war and separation for the couple, and through two ownerships of the Perch.
 A Founder
 Mary was one of the founders of the Alpha Chi Omega chapter here, graduating in English and minoring in French. Long, a Signa Chi, majored in forestry. Their romance was fulfilled in marriage in 1922.

The Perch, originally built by Long's mother in 1924, was rented for a bookstore and storehouse and has housed a barber shop and a cleaning establishment.
 The Perch romance was interrupted during World War II when Long went to Alaska to work for the Army engineers and Mary stayed here to work for the University.
 Not Perch, But Nest
 But when Long returned in 1944, the Greens couldn't stay out of the restaurant business, and so bought the Nest.
 Then World War II veterans swelled University enrollment. Long saw his chance to get back on home ground and so reopened the Perch in 1950. For a while he was "at a loss" for a name, but thought that if the Nest was too full for nesting, students could perch a while at the Perch. Thus, the "Perch."

 Bridge and Cigarettes
 The Longs' romance is not the only one built in and around the small cafe where pinochle, bridge, oaks, coffee and cigarettes are consumed by the hours—usually around 10 a.m. and 9:30 p.m.
 Many alumni and present students can show rings and pins which have come from "Perching."
 The absolute trust of the Greens in their fellow man and even in students is shown through the successful use of the "Buck Board," where students' IOU's hang, often for weeks, in place of the dollar bills furnished as small loans by the Greens.
 Long said the students' honesty has been rewarding, on the whole.

Pershing Rifles To Hold Smoker

Forty to fifty outstanding freshmen and sophomore Army ROTC cadets will receive invitations to a smoker Thursday, Feb. 17, at 7 p.m., where the Idaho chapter of Pershing Rifles will select the new members for this year.
 Captain A. D. Foster, advisor to the group, said the freshmen and sophomores who receive invitations will be selected on their scholarship, leadership and interest.
 He also stated that the Pershing Rifles is an honorary for underclassmen, but only junior and senior cadets can be officers.
 There are about 15 members in the organization at the present time.

"Idaho" Program Will Have Football And Campus Chest

This week's "Here We Have Idaho" includes everything from coaches to music.
 John Mix will interview football coach Skip Stahley and they will talk about next year's football prospects. Agricultural engineering will be discussed by Don Bundy and Prof. J. Martin.
 Elaine Highland and Bob Stolley will hold a discussion on the forthcoming Religious Emphasis Week, to be held on the campus from Feb. 20 to 23, and Don Bundy, Radio-TV Guild president, will be interviewed by Roger Groth.
 Musical entertainment will be supplied by the Vandaleers, the University Concert Band, the Sigma Chi Quartet and Rod Burton's Orchestra.

Drop The Hell And Give Some Help

Some of the fraternities and sororities have completed "hell week" on the Idaho campus, and still others will begin those events quite soon. In the last year or two on the Idaho campus "hell week" has changed into a more adult and safer "help week" for some of the groups.
 Unfortunately a few still cling to the rather immature practices involving heavy use of the paddle or other more violent physical "tests" of pledges' firm decision to become a member. Some good honest gags are pulled, but some may become a little vicious and destructive such as tubbing in freezing weather or eating of certain questionable items.
 Ninety-nine times out of a hundred no one will be hurt by the "hell" given pledges. However, what happens when that one fellow comes along with the bad heart?
 Washing cars for members, painting, cleaning up the house or the campus won't hurt the pledges. They'll learn real respect for those who are their leaders by ACCOMPLISHING SOMETHING UNDER THE LEADERS' ABLE AND HONEST DIRECTION for intelligent tasks.
 "Help Week" will still give the members a chance to pull a little horseplay on the pledges. But instead of being dangerous it will be constructive.

DEAR JASON

Dear Jason:
 In the last two columns of the Golden Fleece an attempt has been made to stir up emotion against the present system of counting ballots in the executive board elections. This is good. A change is needed. However, we should not be so short-sighted as to discard the advantages of a preferential system and resort to "putting an X" after the nine of their choice. It is readily seen that this results in simply majority rule, with not even a hint of proportional representation of any group but that which comprises over fifty per cent of the campus. Why not elect only the president to run our affairs? He represents a majority and is far more efficient than a group. The only reason for having an executive board at all under a majority rule is the "ten heads are better than one" argument. There would never be the proportional representation that our present system achieves. In the method prescribed by the ASUI constitution, under the National Municipal League rules, each board member represents, and is elected by, one-ninth of the student body. Maintaining this would be worth using a faulty system!
 However, it is not necessary to continue our present method to maintain proportional representation. If we were to use the "weighted preferential" minority groups could still have a voice and the element of chance in the method would be eliminated. The weighted preferential involves voting in the method as is presently used. The tallying is done so as to record the total number of first, second, and on through ninth place votes. First place votes are multiplied by nine, second by eight, and so on. The nine candidates with the greatest aggregate of points are elected. Time involved? No longer to count than the present system. Possibility of "blocking" or "stacking" votes through a disciplined party? Practically impossible, and much less chance than marking X. It is nearly as good as the present system in this respect. Simplicity? This is the way most students think their votes are counted anyway. It is easily explained and understood. Fairness? A voter knows his first place vote will count nine times that of his last, yet he can distribute his votes knowing each will count to some extent.

Mr. Field:
 You speak of saving our sparkling proportional representation. Do you realize that during the first semester this year the female side of the Idaho campus had no official voice in the ASUI government?
 Now that Patti Gustafson has replaced Lee Anderson the coeds have a vote—but only one vote—not at all in proportion to their group.
 In referring to your last statement, do you really believe every Idaho student has a personal preferential list of his nine choices?
 Most students have a list all right, but it is an extra job to put them all down preferentially. Why not let the voters mark an "X" beside the candidate of their choice. We elect the ASUI president that way—why not his nine helpers also?

Jason.

"What did you do with my shirt?"
 "I sent it to the laundry."
 "Ye Gads! The whole history of England was on the cuffs!"

"Did you get home from the party all right last night?"
 "Fine, thanks, except that just as I was turning into my street, some idiot stepped on my fingers."

THE MAIL BAG
 If the spirit should ever move you to write me a letter—and it's always a pleasure to hear from you—take pen and paper and address me c/o Philip Morris, 100 Park Ave., New York 17, N. Y. Or if you don't have any paper, snap open your Snap-Open pack of Philip Morris, remove the fine vintage cigarettes, turn the neat brown wrapper inside out and use it for stationery. The regular size Philip Morris pack is perfect for short notes. For longer letters use the king size pack. For chain letters and petitions, glue several packs together.
 This week's column is devoted to a few of the many interesting letters that have been coming in:
SIR:
 Maybe you can help me. I came up to college eight years ago. On my very first day I got into a bridge game at the Students Union. I am still in the same bridge game. I have never gone to a class, cracked a book, or paid any tuition. All I do is play bridge.
 To explain my long absence and keep the money coming from home, I told a harmless little lie. I said I was in medical school. This made Dad (my father) very proud. It also enabled me to keep playing bridge. We were both terribly happy.
 But all good things must come to an end. Mine ended last week when I was home for spring vacation. I arrived to find that Sister (my sister) was in the hospital with an ingrown spleen. Dr. Norbert Sigafoos, the eminent ingrown spleen surgeon, was scheduled to operate, but unfortunately he was run over by a hot-food cart on the way to the scrubbing room.
 "Oh, never mind," chuckled Dad (my father). "Harlow (me) will fix Sister (my sister)."
 Well sir, what could I do? If I told the truth I would make a laughingstock out of Dad (my father) who had been bragging about me all over town. Also I would get yanked out of school which would be a dirty shame just when I am getting to understand the weak club bid.
 There was nothing for it but to brazen it out. I got Sister (my sister) apart all right, but I must confess myself completely at a loss as to how to put her back together again. Can you suggest anything? They're getting pretty surly around here.
 Harlow Protein
 Dear Harlow,
 Indeed I do have a solution for you—the solution that has never failed me whenever things close in: Light up a Philip Morris! Light as you taste that rich vintage tobacco. Shade becomes the pure white smoke drift lazily upward, and you will know that nothing is as bad as it seems, that it is always darkest before the dawn, and that the man worthwhile is the man who can smile!

 Blanche Carbohydrate

Dear Blanche,
 Not unless he is her escort.

Here is a rather amusing coincidence that may amuse your readers.
 Just off the campus where I go to school there is a lake called Lake Widgiwagan where students from time immemorial have gone fishing. Thirty years ago when my father was an undergraduate here he went fishing one day at Widgiwagan and many weeks, he never recovered it.
 Just yesterday—thirty years later, mind you—I went fishing at Widgiwagan. I caught a four pound bass. When I got the fish home and opened it up, what do you think I found inside of it? You guessed it! Two tickets to the Dampsey-Firpo fight.
 Fleance Fat

It certainly is a small world.

Last Of The Schmoe Heekins

BY HUBERT PENDERSNIPE

The GARGOLROT recently received a post-paid copy of the newly published novel, The Chartreuse Bruise, written by Lucas P. Heekins, assistant cow-currer in the ungular department of the School of Agriculture here. The following is a review of that book. The opinions expressed here do not necessarily reflect those of the University of Idaho, the GARGOLROT, or even the reviewer himself; they're just opinions.—ED.

For the past several weeks students haven't been talking or thinking about a recent novel called The Chartreuse Bruise over their cups of coffee at the SUB. In fact, they haven't been talking about any novels, except in an occasional game of Charades, but then they're not receiving complimentary copies through the mails. So it is that no one knows much about the book, much less the author of the Bruise, even though he has written such phamplets as "Horse-sense Cattle Mongering," and Ways to Decorate Your Abatoir. Mr. Heekins carries quite a reputation with him around the Ag. barns, and it is surprising that they haven't gotten wind of him over in the English Dept. But, in spite of the author's limited popularity I deem it my duty to be among the first to take pot-shots at Mr. Heekins' novel. This is a completely frank appraisal, let me assure you, and without any malice or personal spite detracting from my sound judgment. I am a critic; the public deserves and expects to hear my—ahem—expert opinion.

In diffidence to Mr. Heekins though, let me add that I thought up such a catchy derogatory title for this review, before I had made up my mind about the book!

Now let's examine this book in a critical, literary manner. First the cover. Frankly, we can't stand that cover. It has a picture of a peptic ulcer, with hem-stitched sutures cleverly underlining the title. Now this will really get you—on the back of the book is a picture of the author smiling yet. Can you feature that, smiling, and he doesn't even know if the book will sell. If this critic had his way there would be a few lines under this picture differentiating it from the peptic ulcer.

Then I read the book. Now, who can accuse me of bias?

The plot of The Chartreuse Bruise is quite simple. George Bubblegum is a psychopathic scatologist working for the N. Y. Dept. of Sanitation. Each night he likes to row up and down the Gowanin Canal in Brooklyn, towing a seine. One night he harvests Debris Paget, a bored socialite, who tangled in his net while practicing for a channel swim. He hauls her in and removes her protective grease. It's love at first sight. Later he gives her his most prized possession, a hand-made urnal. She submits it to a modern sculpture contest and wins the $10,000 first prize. George then quits his job, convinced by the prize money that he has great talent. He and Debris move into a small hot-water apartment (the book is loaded with sex) to begin a Bohemian-type life together. In fact, they spend so much time trying to be Bohemian that George has little time left for sculpture. They separate when Debris refuses to give up her channel swimming, and there is a conflict in their careers. George perigrinates in wild alcoholic abandon (the book is loaded with wild abandon). Finally one morning, rousing from a drunken stupor, George finds himself lying among trash cans in a darkened alley. He is at last ineffably inspired. He creates a masterpiece, and wins acclaim.

With these simple ordinary, yet poignant, events, who could fail to mold them into a first-rate novel? The question is rhetorical, for the answer is obviously, "Mr. Heekins fails." He has aborted a great opportunity.

We believe the quality of every novel must depend upon its construction, its characterizations, its covers, and size of type. The characterizations here are weak, nebulous; the pages pulpy. Take George for example. He appears as a flat, single-dimension character. True, in the book in early life, he was run down by a steam roller, but that's no excuse; the author could have exhibited his sideways. Take the dialogue when George and Debris are parting, for example:

"George, I'm leaving."
"You are. You're not taking my urnal are you?"
"No, I've left you that, besides, I haven't got room for it with all that grease."
"Well, so long, it's been real Bohemian."
"Yes, stay loose, George."

Notice how the author's fanatical thoughts creep into his characters' speeches — this at a wild party in George's apartment (the book is loaded with orgies), a girl is saying: "Yes, I went to college, but I still managed to get an education."

Mr. Heekins is an inveterate name dropper. All through the book (which is loaded with sex) appear the names of great sanitation experts, flagpole sitters, and Kentucky Derby winners, which the author has sprinkled like sifted smiles.

All these many weaknesses merely point up the book's one great short-coming. It's loaded with sex. It fairly flaunts sex in the faces of those thousands of people who have no such interest. The book ignores that vast segment of the population without sex, and it is doomed to failure. Thankfully, this critic can feel a little less God-like, knowing The Chartreuse Bruise would not have succeeded, even without my disapproving pen.

CHALLENGE

By KEITH JERGENSEN
WHEREAS: Some alleged students of the University of Idaho have formed a loose knit, ill-defined community known as the club of the aggies which has as its motto, "any stick can be a club" and which relies on its lack of brain and excess of brawn for claim to fame.

AND WHEREAS: The Dynamic and Dexterous members of the Energetic BENCH ANR BAR so thoroughly trounced the aggies in the last encounter of Trial by Battle, and being accustomed to one contact a year with the uneducated masses for the benefit of said masses, and further being highly skilled athletic as well as highly trained in all intellectual matters.

BE IT RESOLVED: That the members of the illustrious BENCH ANR BAR do hereby lower themselves to one day of slumming and challenge said mass of aggies to a game known to those in the outer world who are able to read a newspaper (this is a newspaper?) as basketball. Said gymnastic will be played in Memorial Gym, Feb. 19, 1955, at 2 p. m.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That all aggies be required to leave their pitchforks and slippery shoes of slime at the cow barns that day and make some attempt at external cleanliness (might even try soap and water) before entrance to the gymnasium will be allowed.

Rushing Is Early—Or Maybe Late

Denver Clarion—A major controversy was nearly formed at the first fall quarter meeting of the Inter-Fraternity Council.

It seems that one of the fraternities, namely Delta Sigma Phi, does not belong to the Inter-Fraternity Council. Therefore, they can begin rushing before the other fraternities who belong to IFC.

The IFC ruling is no rushing before two weeks before the rushing period.

The problem is being considered and as the AK Psi president said, "I am anxious to work out an agreement which will be satisfactory to all but at this time can't see letting the Delta Sigs take the cream of the crop."

IDAHO VANDALS FACE TOP OREGON ND CLUBS

Weekend Series Last One For Invading Hoopsters

Idaho's iron-man basketball team takes the court this weekend for four ball games in five days against the Northern Division's top two teams. The Vandals play tonight and Saturday at Eugene against the Oregon Ducks, then move Monday and Tuesday for a pair with the Oregon State College Beavers.

The trip is the final of the season for Idaho and commonly the most feared by Idaho backers. In past seasons Idaho basketball teams had been riding high until they went into "death valley" only to come back licking their wounds.

Idaho Skiers Enter Meet

The University of Idaho skiing team, winners of one meet this year and runners-up in several other important Northwest matches, travel to Kimberly, British Columbia this weekend to compete in the Washington State College Invitational ski meet.

Oregon Tank Beckons Fin From Idaho

With two wins and a loss under their belts, eleven Vandal swimmers invade the state of Oregon this weekend to test their strength against Oregon State College today and the University of Oregon Ducks tomorrow.

The Vandals, on the bounce from a shellacking at the hands of WSC last week, will be at full strength for their second conference meet this afternoon. OSC is not to be lightly regarded.

The Beavers beat Oregon but lost to the powerful University of Washington crew.

Oregon on the other hand sports the same conference record as the Vandals with a single loss and also share the bottom rung in Northern Division standings.

The Ducks were completely outclassed by the mighty Beaver team and should be more of a match for the experience-lacking Vandals.

Frosh Beaten
A strong Washington State Frosh swimming team splashed its way to a 49-30 victory over the Vandal Babes Tuesday in Memorial Gymnasium.

The Cougar frosh took wins in all but three events in taking the meet. The Vandals, steadily improving, took first in the medley relay, breast stroke and 440. Two of those wins were new Idaho frosh records as Jerry Giles set a new breast stroke record at 1:20.5 and John Bethke splashed through the 440 in 5:51.5 breaking the record held by varsity swimmer John Helle and set last year. Bethke knocked off eleven seconds.

Divers Plan Club Tryout

Helldivers swimming organization will begin tryouts Monday night to fill 15 member vacancies, according to Bruce Buckman, publicity director.

All students will be eligible for the tryouts, to begin at 7:30 in the Memorial Gym pool. This will include freshman women.

The pool will open for practice this evening between 7 and 8:30 p.m., Buckman said today.

Buckman explained that swimmers will be judged mostly on smoothness and style, in the following strokes and movements: crawl, breaststroke, back crawl, sidestroke, surface dive, back dolphin, ballet leg, sculling and dive from side.

Approximately 15 new members will be selected which will bring the total membership in the swimming honorary to 50. These members, Buckman points out, are dedicated to promote interest in swimming and water safety. A special senior lifesaving course has just been completed by many of the first semester initiates.

Idaho has yet to stop either of the Oregon schools this season. OSC is unbeaten with a 10 and zero record, Oregon second with six wins and four setbacks. The Vandals have won two of nine division games.

Coach Harlan Hodges took a ten-man squad with him by plane along with trainer Packey Boyle and manager Jim Shawver. Making the jaunt were forwards Jay Buhler, Tom Hoots, Lefty Melton and Don Monson; centers Jim Sather and Pete Swanson; and guards Bill Bauscher, Bob Falash, Al Nelson and Jay Webb.

The team plans to return by plane Wednesday.

In Oregon the Vandals face a team that has averaged 61.5 points per game in the current season and in Oregon State a 61.4 percentage. The Ducks have limited their opponents to 55.4 points per contest, OSC to 52.7.

Both Oregon schools will hold definite height advantages over Idaho with 7-3 Wade Halbrook, 6-5 Tony Vlastelica and Jay Dean leading the way for the Beavers, and Smiley Jim Luscutt, 6-5, and Max Anderson, 6-7, tallest regulars for Oregon. Luscutt currently leads the Northern Division in individual scoring by averaging 19.7 points per game. The Beavers' Halbrook is fourth with 15.9 points per game.

Idaho worked this past week on primarily defense aimed to stop the taller teams. Coach Hodges did not comment before the squads left Thursday whether he would use a zone or man-to-man defense against the teams.

"We're in for a rough go down there," Hodges said earlier this week, "but I think we're as ready as we can be."

Halbrook leads the Northern Division in field goal accuracy connecting on 44.1 per cent of his shots. Luscutt is the division's best rebound artist with an average of 17 per game.

Hodges figures to start his iron-man five of Melton and Buhler at forwards, Sather at center, and Bauscher and Falash at guards. Oregon State will probably start Vlastelica and Dean at forwards, Halbrook at center and Reggie Halligan and Ron Robbins at guards. The latter two were hot against the Vandals here.

Oregon will start Phil McHugh and Howard Page at guards, Luscutt at center and Ray Bell and Anderson at forward.

WASHINGTON TEAMS MEET
Third place — and an outside chance at a final second spot — will be at stake Friday and Saturday night in the northern Division basketball series between Washington and Washington State at Seattle.

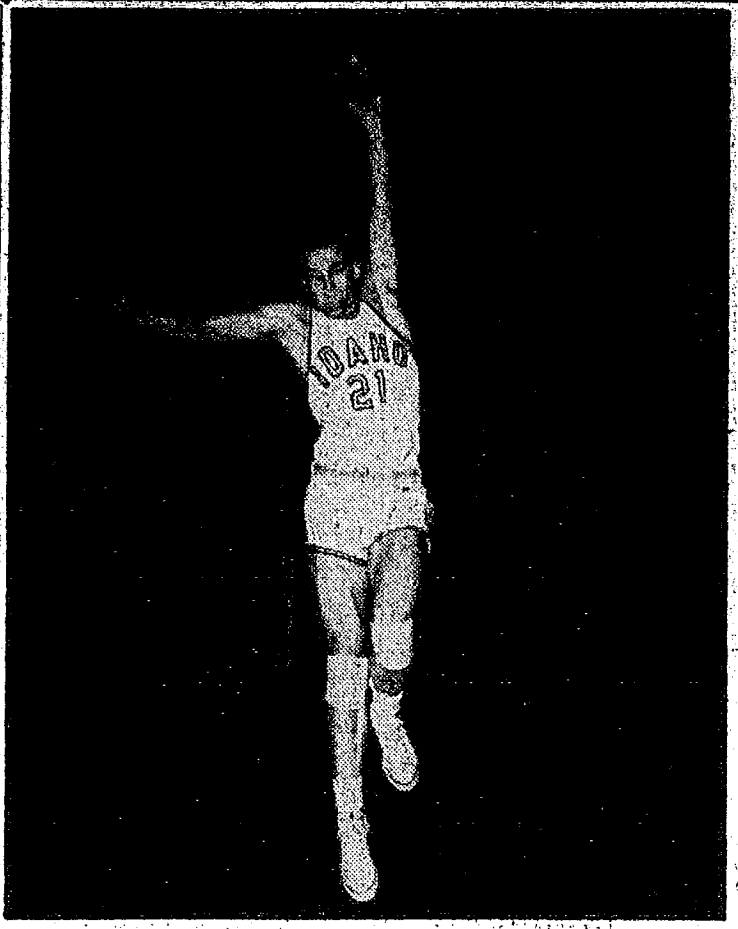

The visiting Cougars, with a 4-7 mark, currently are in third place, a half game ahead of Tippy Dye's Huskies, who have a 3-7 record after splitting a series with Oregon last weekend at Eugene.

Idaho's scoring hopes this weekend against Oregon and Oregon State lie primarily in the hands of Lefty Melton, the team's top scorer. Melton has led the team in the Northern Division and for the overall season. The senior is 6-2½ and a candidate for top scoring honors in the North.

Bauscher Best Marksman At Division Foul Stripe

LOS ANGELES — Idaho's Bill Bauscher, a 6 foot guard, has taken the lead in free throw shooting for Northern Division basketball games played through Saturday.

Bauscher takes the lead away from Oregon State's Reggie Halligan by nine percentage points. Oregon State's record of 10 wins and no losses in Northern Division play was reflected in the weekly basketball statistics released by the Pacific Coast Commissioner's office today. The Beavers led in four of six team departments and were second in the other two.

Individual leaders were Jim Luscutt of Oregon in total scoring and rebounds; Wade Halbrook, Oregon State, field goal percentage and Bill Bauscher, Idaho, free throw marksmanship.

Oregon State's dominance was evident in the shooting departments where the Beavers led in field goals with 38.7 per cent and free throws, 69.8 per cent. They were equally efficient defensively, allowing but 52.7 points per game.

Oregon led in team scoring with a 61.5 point game average, to 61.4 for Oregon State, and in rebounds with 48.2 to the opponents' 35.8, Oregon State being again second. Luscutt has averaged 19.7

Arg Proposes Mural Clash

The Argonaut has proposed a basketball game to be played between an all-star team from Idaho's interfraternal 'A' basketball league and an intramural all-star team from their cross-state rivals, WSC. The Idaho team will consist of approximately fifteen players and will be chosen and sponsored by the Argonaut. Further details of this game will be published at a later date.

Only two games remain to be played Monday night along with the opening games of the playoffs which are scheduled to finish up by the end of next week.

Idaho Club 1 and Chrisman Hall 2 will meet for the Independent League championship Tuesday night, however, the competing teams have not yet been decided.

The winner of league 1 hinges on a protest of the game between Beta Theta Pi and Kappa Sigma, won originally by the Kappa Sigs 32 to 27. The Betas protested on the grounds that the Kappa Sigs had used an ineligible player, one who had supposedly won a letter at a junior college. The final result of this protest will be decided today.

Both Unbeaten
Both teams are undefeated excluding this game. Beta Theta Pi won two games this week, trouncing Phi Kappa Tau 76 to 19 and winning over Lambda Chi Alpha by a forfeit. Ron Siple led the Beta attack against the Phi Taus, scoring 26 points. Kappa Sigma won over Alpha Tau Omega 46 to 29 in their only contest of the week.

Phi Delta Theta won their sixth straight game without a defeat Monday night as they downed LDS by a 50 to 34 count. Phi Delta's Wayne Walker was top scorer in the game with ten points. The Phi Deltas played their final game last night against Sigma Chi but the result was unavailable at press time.

Phi Deltas can do no worse than tie for the lead in League 2 should they be upset by the Sigs. Tau Kappa Epsilon are in second place in League 2 with a 6 and 1 record having finished their regular schedule Wednesday with a convincing 52 to 18 win over LDS. Larry Aldrich of the TKE's topped all scorers in this game scoring 17 points.

Champs Win
Both Independent league champions had only one game scheduled this past week. Chrisman Hall 2 triumphed over Idaho Club 28 to 15 in an extremely rough game and Idaho Club won from Chrisman Hall 1 by a forfeit. Chrisman Hall 2 have one remaining game against Campus Club 2 however, this game will have no bearing on the final standings.

Bob DeYoung scored 22 points as Vets Village 1 defeated Campus Club 1 43 to 28.

New Players Join Idled Frosh Squad

Idle until Feb. 18 and 19 when they face Brigham Young University, the Idaho frosh begin two weeks of practice as their big brothers, the Vandals, are out of town.

Coach Clem Parberry has greeted two new prospects who enrolled for second semester classes recently. They are Hubert (Herb) Hill, a 5-11 guard from Richmond, Calif., and Charlie Capps of Chicago, Ill.

Hill wound up high school classes last semester and enrolls as a first semester freshman. He is regarded as a fine ball handler. Hill worked out this week with the Babes as the team went through light workouts. Capps is expected out soon when his registration is completed.

Relies On Jump
Capps, who stands 6-4 and is reported to have as his best shot—a jump shot—played on a ball club that won 21 out of 22 games and he hit 56 per cent on his field goal tries.

Guard Jack Mitchell continues to lead the frosh in scoring with 184 points in 11 games. Center Bob Goold is his chief competition with 151 counters. The Babes have averaged 368 from the field and .592 from the free throw line.
