

BORAH CONFERENCE WINDS UP FINAL SESSIONS

'Shamrock Swing' To Be Held Tonight

It's the "Shamrock Swing" at 9 tonight with couples dancing to the music of Ralph Dickerson Band. A king and queen will be crowned at intermission time. Also included in intermission will be participants in the Blue Key Talent Show. Freshman class president, Joe Subia, will be MC for the evening.

One of the best quotes to come out of this year's Borah conference was one brought up by Dr. Ronald B. Levinson while speaking at the conference banquet Wednesday night. In our estimation the complete theme of this year's conference might follow this thought. Dr. Levinson stated:

"Hope creates from its own wreck the thing it contemplates." And hats off to Boyd A. Martin and his committee who gave us, as usual, a very well-planned conference. Incidentally, the theme of this year's conference was submitted by Joe Corless. His theme was "The United Nations—Is it the Road to Peace?"

Campus politics are shaping up quickly. The Uniteds picked their Executive Board slate last Wednesday. They list (unofficially, of course):

- John Payne, Fiji.
- Jim Lynch, Sigma Chi.
- Roger McPike, Delta.
- Dewey Newman, SAE.
- John Mix, Phi Delta.
- George Eldam, Sigma Nu.
- Karen Lee Krauss, Kappa.
- Marcia Thornton, DG.
- Janet Campbell, Alpha Chi.

The only one of the above we didn't have listed in our prediction list was Roger McPike. We picked Bill Bausched to run for the Delta House but he declined. In our estimation that's the reason McPike made it.

The Independents put Bakes in as their candidate for the presidential chair as we expected. That will leave Dick Denny as an Independent Executive Board potential, or we might say cinch.

Right now, some people are talking up third party. The talk is coming from somewhere in the vicinity of Lindley Hall. There are a few good candidates that were left off the United slate that might be third party material. Combined with some Lindley Hall men they could swing a few votes. However, nothing more than hush-hush meetings have come up thus far. Something might pop after the Independent Executive Board slate is made up.

There is an old Idaho administration policy about preventing graduate students from holding offices in student activities. The common definition for a grad student is someone with a degree. However, there might be a difference between a grad student and a law student with an undergraduate degree. An interesting point is that the Independent presidential candidate Bob Bakes has a degree and so does Jim Lynch, a United party Executive Board candidate.

So we'll see what happens.

TODAY'S THOUGHT
Carl Sandburg: "Why is there always a secret singing. When a lawyer cashes in? Why does a hearse horse snicker. Hauling a lawyer away?"

Idaho Grad Takes Position In Iran

Viola Fisher, a '42 grad of the U. of I. who has been a nutrition consultant for the Idaho Department of Public Health, will leave New York March 18 for a new position in Iran.

Employed by the Iranian Foundation, a private organization, she will serve as a dietitian in a new medical center at Shiraz where she will be responsible for teaching nutrition and diet therapy.

Graduating in home economics at the University of Idaho, Miss Fisher later earned her master's degree in nutrition at Columbia University.

The Iran assignment will be her second time abroad—in 1948 she studied at Oslo University in Norway.

High School Girls To Arrive Sunday For FHA Meeting

Approximately 350 high school girls from throughout the state will arrive here Sunday, March 20, for the ninth Future Homemakers of America convention to be held March 20-22.

"Are You a Leader for Better Homes?" has been chosen as the theme of the convention. The keynote speaker Monday will be Professor Margaret Ritchie, head of the home economics department at the University, who will discuss "You and Your Family." Her talk will be the basis for Monday afternoon discussion groups.

University home ec. student teachers are in charge of the convention publicity. All other arrangements are being made by the Moscow FH Agroup.

IRC Hold Discussion On Germany

"Germany—The New Partner" was the title of last Tuesday's discussion of the International Relations Club.

Dick Cook, program chairman of the IRC, led the discussion held on the effect of Konrad Adenauer in the influencing of German policy.

During the discussion it was brought out that finding a chancellor who could effectively replace Adenauer and lead the Germans toward eventual unification is the biggest internal problem Germany faces today.

Developments of the recent Brussels Treaty and Paris Treaty and their effect on the German problem were also discussed.

Tentative plans for the next IRC meeting is a group of movies of Europe and special problems arising there. The movies are scheduled for next Tuesday at 4:10 p.m. in SUB Conference Room A.

Jane Remsberg, Janet Campbell Win In Elections

Jane Remsberg and Janet Campbell won the majority vote to be elected AWS treasurer and Maid of Honor respectively on the first ballot. Election day for other AWS officers is scheduled for Wednesday.

Running for president on the primary ballot are Clara Armstrong and Joella Hamilton; secretary, Marian Driscoll and Carolyn Sanderson; May Queen, Karen Hinckley and Pauline Peterson, and page, Dixie Kroush and Dorothy Larson.

Girls going on the Vandaleer tour can vote from 9-12 a.m. Saturday morning in the ASUI office of the SUB.

KUOI Will Cast Freshman Dance

KUOI will broadcast portions of the Freshman Dance this evening beginning at about 9:15. A description of the dance will be given. The crowning of the Freshman King and Queen will be broadcast.

Also to be heard is the Debate Monday night at 8 p.m. This will pit Chuck McDevitt and Dean Holt, the Idaho State Debate Champs, against the University of London team.

Exec Board Discusses Improvement Plan

Improvements for the SUB cafeteria, the election system and ASUI constitution changes were the main topics of the Tuesday Executive Board meeting.

Jane Remsberg, SUB committee chairman, submitted a list of improvements for the cafeteria. Plans include removing stools and replacing the regular counter with a long rail and bar like the present coffee facilities. Booths may be placed around the walls and maybe redecorate the entire room.

Board member Bob Bakes moved that the committee report be approved and a recommendation sent to President Theophilus that funds be made available from the Student Unavailable from the Student Union Facilities Fee for the im-

A hot contest will be on tap here Monday night when Idaho's Dean Holt and Chuck McDevitt meet University of London debaters Jennifer Copeman and Lester Borley. The debate will be held in the auditorium at 8 p.m. The Idaho team will take the negative side of the question of whether the United States should extend diplomatic recognition to Communist China.

Debate Team Features Coed

The University of London has sent debaters to Idaho for over a quarter of a century. But for the first time a coed is coming. The teams will meet in the University of Idaho Auditorium at 8 p.m. Monday, March 21.

"The situation is rare enough to give our debaters pause," said Dr. A. E. Whitehead, chairman of speech.

The Idaho team will be composed of Charles McDevitt, Pocatello, a junior law student, and Dean Holt, Nampa, a junior in history. McDevitt and Holt have won 18 of 20 debates entered. Two of the major debates won thus far this year are Linfield Tournament and Idaho's All-State Tournament. In previous years and with other colleagues, Holt won the 1951 Idaho All-State Debate and McDevitt went to West Point in 1952 and reached the semi-finals.

They will take the negative side of this year's national debate topic on the question of whether the United States should extend diplomatic recognition to Communist China.

Opposing the Idahoans from the University of London will be Jennifer Copeman and Lester Borley. Miss Copeman is president of the University of London union. Previously, she attended Bedford college, and was editor of its literary magazine. Active in sports, she has been a member of the university's rowing team. She has traveled widely on the continent.

Borley is deputy president of London university's union, and while attending Queen Mary college was president of the union there. He was a member of the British delegation sponsored by the Council for Education in World Citizenship to Youth Festival at Rouen in 1948.

Dr. Whitehead stated that the Idaho debaters will be sponsored by the ASUI to go back to West Point for the contest this year. He said that he would be unable to represent the University at the tournament because of lack of funds, therefore an Eastern alumnus will be his substitute.

Prospective Teachers Try Their Wings

By RUTH BREDE

Approximately 70 juniors and seniors at the University are now braving winter storms and quite another type of storm—the human one—at the Moscow public schools, student teaching in subjects ranging from physical education to English.

Director of the student teacher training program at the University of Idaho is Dr. Herson Snyder of the education department. Students teach for nine, six and four credits. Some teach full semesters, some take accelerated nine week courses and teach the remainder of the semester, and some teach in Kellogg, Genesee, Lewiston, Coeur d'Alene and Potlatch.

The students observe for a few weeks, generally teach a week, observe some more and then, quite often, they are entirely on their own, making lesson plans, giving assignments and correcting tests and daily work.

And grade and high school students are used to it. They have had student teachers—in one form or another—since they entered the first grade.

Get Credit

The purpose of the actual teaching situation—for which class credit is given—is so student (Cont. on Page 2, Col. 4)

'Can't Live Alone' Says Prof Quincy Wright

BY DEE HUMPHREY

Dr. Quincy Wright, professor of international law at the University of Chicago, stated in his opening address to the eight Borah conference Wednesday afternoon, "It seems doubtful in the atomic age whether Americans, or nationals of any other state, can live alone and like it."

Wright's address was the first of four main addresses of the two-day eighth Annual Borah Conference at the University of Idaho. Other speakers were Dr. Carlos Davila, Thomas Jefferson Hamilton and Dr. Ronald B. Levinson.

North-South Organization Is Effective

"Regional Organizations and the Roads to Peace," was the title of Dr. Carlos Davila's address to the Borah Foundation Conference on the Causes of War and The Conditions of Peace.

Dr. Davila was formerly the provisional president of Chile and is presently the secretary general for the Organization of American States, Pan American Union.

Dr. Davila traced how the Organization of American States has effectively and efficiently prevented war in the Western Hemisphere. He pointed out how they recently settled the Costa Rican and Nicaraguan hostilities by quick, concise action.

Dr. Davila expressed the belief that such a program of regionalism not only works theoretically, but practically as well.

In tracing regionalism, Dr. Davila told of his experience at the San Francisco Conference at which the present UN Charter was drawn up and of the fight for regionalism working with and through the UN.

Dr. Davila proposed that regionalism is an effective means of working toward peace in our world and showed how the Organization of American States has in practice brought peace to the Americas.

Military Awards Granted To Three

Three advanced students in the Army ROTC program here last Thursday were awarded distinguished military student awards thus qualifying them for application to be commissioned in the regular United States Army.

Seniors receiving the awards were Quinten Erwin, Burdette Hess and David Lauthers.

Awards were made during corps of cadet drill class by Lt. Col. James A. Moore, professor of Military Sciences and Tactics of the instructor group here.

Advanced students awarded this certificate are eligible to apply for a commission in the regular Army. Other graduating cadets receive commissions in the Army Reserve.

Diplomacy, Security Are Needed

"The solution of world problems requires a combination of Traditional Diplomacy and Collective Security," stated Thomas Jefferson Hamilton, chief of the New York Times press section at the UN, in the final address to the eighth annual Borah Conference yesterday.

In his talk, "Traditional Diplomacy versus Collective Security in the Contemporary World," Hamilton pointed out that in the United Nations itself, there is a growing trend toward secret diplomacy.

"In the past 12 months the world has swung back to the traditional diplomacy; collective security through the United Nations has been tried and found wanting, and the old methods are being revived," he said.

In demonstrating his contention that there is a swing back to traditional diplomacy, Hamilton pointed out the solution of the vexing problems such as Trieste, the Anglo-Iranian oil dispute, the Anglo-Egyptian Suez dispute and the Geneva settlement which consolidated the Communist victory in Indo-China settled outside of the UN.

Hamilton said that restoration of the UN to its full vigor is dependent upon the re-establishment of harmony among the great powers, particularly between the United States and the governments in Peiping and Moscow.

He went on to state: "The United Nations has a number of techniques that are overlooked by those who consider it a mere propaganda forum. Yet the hard fact remains that it has not achieved collective security, and there are no signs that it will do so unless and until here is a fundamental change in the policy of the Communist nations."

Reasons

Hamilton said that several reasons the UN does not appear as the exclusive solution is that Communist China is not a member and has therefore reduced the influence of the UN in certain Asian and Arab countries and that this lack of UN influence has resulted in a policy of neutrality among these countries.

"A truce to partisan politics is imperative," he said.

Hamilton concluded his speech by stating, "The traditional diplomacy certainly has its advantages, but I believe that the trend toward its exclusive use has gone too far. Perhaps the greatest challenge that can face a secretary of state is to combine the diplomacy of the UN with that of traditional diplomacy to advance the highest aims of our country and mankind."

RALLY IS POSTPONED

The Road Rally planned by the Iron Angels has been postponed from Sunday, March 20 till Sunday, March 27, because of the condition of the roads, announced Club President Bob Merritt.

The regular meeting will be held Tuesday, March 22, but will be held in the Police court above the Police Station.

Strengthen UN

In concluding his speech Wright stated that more can be done in strengthening the UN: if the US would become a leader in the settlement of world problems through the UN. "This would strengthen the position of the US as well as the security of all mankind," he added.

"Traditional Diplomacy versus Collective Security in the Contemporary World," an address by Thomas Jefferson Hamilton, chief of the New York Times press section at the UN, followed by three simultaneous conferences brought to a close the Conference.

Hamilton's address terminated another year of lectures followed by forums in which ideas on the theme of the conference, "The United Nations . . . Is It the Road to Peace?" were developed and discussed in respect to the views of the students and guests participating in this year's conference.

Along with the main speakers were professors and student representatives from many northwestern colleges and guests from Washington, Montana, Utah and Oregon and from all parts of Idaho.

"Outlawry of War and the Nature of Man," was the title of the banquet address by Dr. Ronald B. Levinson, son of the founder of the Borah Foundation S. O. Levinson head of the Department of Philosophy at the University of Maine.

In his speech Levinson discussed the nature of man and traced the lives of the original members of the Borah Foundation and their relation to the movement towards the outlawry of war.

Here's More About— Prospective

Goals pertaining to teaching are actually known, what teaching is like in Idaho, teaching certificates and those of most other states require some form of actual teaching. In Idaho, also, students may get education majors, teach a year on probation and then receive their certificates.

Types of certification in Idaho includes regular, secondary and primary certificates, advanced certificates for those with master's degrees and, for special psychology and people trained in other work, special degrees. Students may also attain joint secondary and elementary certification.

Interviews Administrators from hiring high schools visit the University often to interview senior education majors, or those others planning to teach, and who have met requirements for certification.

Certification may be given to students majoring in other fields who take a required number of education courses to meet this certification.

Many students who did student teaching just a few years ago such as Joan Chavez, wife of Ed Chavez of the drama department, and Andy Tosier, assistant editor of the Gem, are now supervising teachers in the schools here in Moscow.

Here Em Is! Following is a list of student teachers in Moscow and their departments.

Teaching in the first grade are Frank Teverbaugh, Robert Holz, Elfriede Garvens Huntley, Joyce Merrell, Rebecca Ruby and Darlene Duffy. Jo Ballard is teaching in the Whitmore School. Others are: Russell school, second grade, Martha Duncan, Harriet Regan, and Lavonne Schuler; third grade, Dorothy Farmin, Mary Louisa Gill, Bernice Lyle and Valeria O'Donnell; fourth grade, Norma Bradley and Meriel Grimm; and at Whitworth, fifth grade, Janice Gwartney and Lavonne Kallusky; sixth grade, Connie Brookings.

Teaching physical education are Frank Teverbaugh, Robert Holz, Elfriede Garvens Huntley, Joyce Merrell, Rebecca Ruby and Darlene Duffy.

SCIENCE MADE SIMPLE: NO. 3

Once again the makers of Philip Morris, men who are dedicated to the betterment of American youth, have consented to let me use this space, normally intended for levity, to bring you a brief lesson in science.

It is no new thing, this concern that the makers of Philip Morris feel for American youth. Youth was foremost in their minds when they fashioned their cigarette. They were aware that the palate of youth is keen and eager, awake to the subtlest nuances of flavor. And so they made a gentle and elegant smoke, a suave blending of temperate vintage tobaccos, a summery amalgam of the most tranquil and emollient leaf that their buyers could find in all the world. And then they designed their cigarette in two sizes, king-size and regular, and wrapped them in the convenient Snap-Open pack, and priced them at a figure that youth could afford, and made them available at every tobacco counter in the land.

That's what they did, the makers of Philip Morris, and I for one am glad.

The science that we take up today is called astronomy, from the Greek words astro meaning "sore" and nomos meaning "back." Sore backs were the occupational disease of the early Greek astronomers, and no wonder! They used to spend every blessed night lying on the damp ground and looking up at the sky, and if there's a better way to get a sore back, I'd like to hear about it. Especially in the moist, Mediterranean area, where Greece is generally considered to be.

Lumbago and related disorders kept astronomy from becoming very popular until Galileo, a disbarred fencer of Perth, fashioned a home made telescope in 1624 out of three Social Security cards and an ordinary ice cube. What schoolboy does not know that stirring story — how Galileo stepped up to his telescope, how he looked heavenward, how his face filled with wonder, how he stepped back and whispered the words heard round the world: "L'etat, c'est moi!"

Well sir, you can imagine what happened then! William Jennings Bryan snatched Nell Gwynne from the shadow of the guillotine at Oslo; Chancellor Bismarck brought in four gushers in a single afternoon; Hal Newhouse was signed by the Hanseatic League; Crete was declared off limits to Wellington's entire army; and William Faulkner won the Davis Cup for his immortal Penrod and Sam.

But after a while things calmed down, and astronomers began the staggering task of naming all the heavenly bodies. First man to name a star was Sigafos of Mt. Wilson, and the name he chose was Betelgeuse, after his wife Betelgeuse Sigafos, prom queen at Michigan State College from 1919 to 1931.

Not to be outdone, Formig of Yerkes Observatory named a whole constellation after his wife, Big Dipper Formig, the famed dirt track racer. This started the custom of astronomers naming constellations after their wives — Capricorn, Cygni, Orion, Ursa Major, Canis Major, and so forth. (The Major girls, Ursa and Canis, both married astronomers, though Canis subsequently ran off with a drydock broker named Thwaite Daphnis.)

After naming all the heavenly bodies, the astronomers had a good long rest. Then, refreshed and brown as berries, they undertook the gigantic project of charting the heavens. Space is so vast that it is measured in units called "light-years." These are different from ordinary years in that they weigh a good deal less. This, of course, is only relative, since space is curved. As Einstein laughingly said, "E=mc²."

Well, I guess that covers astronomy pretty thoroughly. But before we leave this fascinating topic, let us answer one final question: Is there life on other planets?

The answer is a flat, unequivocal no. Recent spectroscopic studies have proved beyond a doubt that the atmosphere of the other planets is far too harsh to permit the culture of the delicate vintage tobaccos that go into Philip Morris Cigarettes... And who can live without Philip Morris?

This heavenly column—like the author's more earthy ones—is brought to you by the makers of PHILIP MORRIS cigarettes—who feel you'll find real enjoyment in their product.

Paris And Russia In Social Activity

Students around the campus are putting on their dancing shoes as costume and initiation dances take the spotlight in many living groups. Gamma Phi honored initiates with the theme, "So This Is Paris." Deltas are still growing beads for the Russian Ball, Willis Sweet is preparing for the "Beachcombers' Ball," and Alpha Phi revealed its suppressed desires at last week's costume dance.

Election results in the living groups are still coming in. Faye Hartwell is the new Gamma Phi president, and Mary Cox is president of Phi Tau.

Initiations in Greek living groups this week were held by Pi Phi, ATO and Phi Tau.

A faculty banquet was held last Sunday. Guests included Dr. and Mrs. Seaman and Jill and Hallie. Dr. and Mrs. Gustafson, Dr. and Mrs. Tanner, Margaret Coffey, Edith Betts, Mr. and Mrs. Logan, Mr. and Mrs. Billings, Dr. and Mrs. Grahn and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mann.

DELTA TAU DELTA

Saturday night the Deltas purchased seven WSC girls which were placed on auction by the WSC executive board. It is uncertain what they will do, but the boys are anxiously awaiting the delivery. The Delt surprise package was sold to the DGs.

Back for a visit at the Shelter this week is Carl Murphy of Hazelton. Sunday dinner guests were Beverly Williams and Coleen Watson.

The fraternity field secretary, Jack McClenny, is expected this weekend for a five-day visit on his annual tour of the Delt chapters.

Plans for the Russian Ball are progressing under the supervision of Steve Boyle. Beards are gradually bushing out and many new costumes are turning up for the occasion. Rod Burton's Collegians have been hired for the evening music.

SIGMA NU

Sigma Nu continued their social exchanges last night when the house enjoyed dinner and dancing with the Kappas to celebrate St. Patrick's Day.

Bob Robson spent awhile in yesterday's sun while paying the penalty for passing his pin to Joyce Latham, Kappa Alpha Theta.

The weather was not so much in favor with George Pugh's tubbing last week. George's tubbing was the consequence of his pinning to Vanessa McGowan, Gamma Phi.

PHI KAPPA TAU

Seven pledges who officially became Phi Taus at Sunday's initiation were Grady Staley, Larry Summers, Richard Spraker, Dean Judd, Dee Humphry, Kenneth Garrett and Melvin Anderson.

The sweethearts of Phi Taus were honored Wednesday at a Sweetheart Dinner. All of the members who are pinned or going steady brought their dates to the dinner.

President Marvin Cox recently pinned Francis Yost of Buhl, and Byron Gage passed his pin to Leah Nanninga, Theta.

Assisting President Marvin Cox on the new slate of officers will be Norm Garrett, pledge trainer; Bob Kindschy, assistant pledge trainer; Grady Staley, intramural manager; Larry Summers, social chairman; Dee Humphry, historian; Dean Judd, reporter; Dick Stauber, chaplain; Melvin Anderson, sergeant at arms; Ken Garrett, houseman; Dick Spraker, song leader; Byron Gage, assistant song leader and Emerson Purcell, sheet chairman.

ALPHA CHI

Elinor Johnson, recently tapped for Alpha Lambda Delta, received a diamond in her pin for the highest grade point among the initiates. Congratulations, Ellie.

The Friendship Fireside was held Monday night with 25 girls from various living groups. Cocoa and cookies were served.

Sunday morning, bright and early, the pledges were given a surprise breakfast. The initiation dance date, April 1, was announced at the breakfast.

Guests for Wednesday dinner were Carol Seitz and Marilyn Frazier.

Alpha Chis are anticipating an afternoon with the Lambda Chis, but are hoping there isn't too much work to do.

WILLIS SWEET

Congratulations to all the Blue Key Talent Show winners. The show this year was tops.

The men from Sweet had a profitable time at the carnival Saturday night. We lucked in by buying the Kappas and were happy to be bought by Hays and Forney Halls.

Not a man has shaved, had a haircut, or shined his shoes since the Kappa plan to provide these services.

Sweet men are planning busily for the Beachcombers' Ball, March 25. Chuck Monson, general chairman, says everything is progressing satisfactorily.

Sweet honored Mrs. Darwin L. Mayfield on her birthday Saturday. Rumors say that she is approaching 29.

GAMMA PHI BETA

Faye Hartwell has been announced as the new Gamma Phi president as a result of the annual house elections. Other officers are Barb Knight, first vice-president and pledge trainer; Nancy Lee, second vice-president and social chairman; Jan Willins, recording secretary; Marilyn Marvel, corresponding secretary; Connie Denison, treasurer; Shirley Byrne, standards chairman; Joella Hamilton, rush chairman; Louise Tattol, scholarship chairman; Elaine Schroeder, house manager; and Patsy Lou Robinson, song leader.

Nancy Lee announced her pinning to Jim Aston, Phi, Friday night.

Miss Elizabeth Mosher, Coeur d'Alene, and Dr. Myrra Minnas, sociology department, were dinner guests Tuesday night. Claudia Parsell, Regents Hill, WSC, was a weekend guest.

Initiates were honored under a canopy of pink and rose at their annual initiation dance, "So This Is Paris." Also present were Gamma Phis from WSC. Music was provided by Chuck Clausen's orchestra. The initiates extend thanks to the sophomores for the beautiful decorations and good time.

What's it like to be the center of attraction at a tubbing? Just ask Vanessa McGowan and George Pugh, Sigma Nu, who had first hand experience last week.

PHI DELTA THETA

Guest for the Borah Conference was Mike Hatch from Ricks College. Mr. and Mrs. Rick Bendo and Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Christensen were dinner guests Sunday.

Several Phis attended the big Founders' Day banquet at Spokane's Manito Country Club Wednesday evening. Chapters from Washington and Montana were also represented. Sunday, the local chapter will hold a Founders' Day banquet for alumni of the area.

Phi is looking forward to the shingling at the Ad Club tomorrow. Dinner for the formal function starts at 7:30 p.m., followed by the dance featuring Rod Burton's orchestra. Boyce Max is dance chairman.

Sure signs of spring are evident around the house. Wayne Walker, Bruce Smith and Gary "Ganche" Wallace, are waging a fierce battle for the marble championship. They are looking forward to outdoor games of "pots" when the weather gets warmer.

The Phis also enjoyed a short game of London Bridge at the DG house Tuesday night at 11:20.

PI BETA PHI

Recently initiated were Ann Beardmore, Jeanne Bishop, Jean Charbulac, Diane Davis, Judy Falkins, Pat Friend, Loyce Hall, Marilyn Hammer, Rowena Hasbrook, Karen Hastings, Marcene Jeffery, Valerie Kroll, Marilyn Matthews, Marilyn Nugent, Judy Ferkhieser, Jane Sauer, Jolene Williams and Joanie Wicklund. Guests this week included: Mel Schmidt, Wade Patterson, Dudley Mayo, Richard Koster, Mr. George Cooke, Professor Howe, Professor John Raeder, and Mr. Lew Raeder.

FORNEY HALL

Congratulations to the five four point students, LaRene Newberry, Betty Bovey, Alice Billman, Theresa Mathiesen and Shirley Elliot.

Darlene Bagley is now wearing the Kappa Sigma pin belonging to Ike Blackburn. Congratulations.

Forney is looking forward to the dance with Willis Sweet. To be sure there were enough girls, Hayes and Forney combined bank accounts. Sounds like fun.

ALPHA PHI

A variety of people from Chinese to a bride appeared at the Suppressed Desire Dance held last weekend. You never know about these things.

A scholarship fireside was given to honor the freshmen last week. Goodies and entertainment were freely passed out.

The Rev. and Mrs. Lokken and the Rev. and Mrs. Johns were guests at Wednesday dinner.

Carol Lyle was recently pledged into the Idaho Falls alum and faithful fan club for mentioning

"The Falls" twice in a row. Phil Castator, Jeanne Iverson, James Parkinson, Caroleigh Gittens and Doris were recently awarded the scholarship Beta Zeta pin guards.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

Brothers and sons of Thetas attended Wednesday's banquet in their honor. Guests were Don Lin-serenade and wish to thank John Herrett especially.

Pat Duffy, Dick Weeks and Dan Danielson.

Joyce Latham wore Pete Robson's pin home Saturday and then had to cut him out of the "cool cage" at the tubbing Thursday.

Then I was placed in charge of the section which maintains telephone service records. I have more than 60 people in my group with four supervisors reporting to me. Idaho Iron Men Place Among Top 11 Scorers Idaho's "five iron men of basketball" finished among the top 11 scorers for the concluded 1955 Northern Division season, official figures released this week reveal. Jay Buhler ranks fifth, Lefty Melton sixth, Bill Bauscher eighth, Jim Sather ninth and Bob Falash, 11th.

Other individual finishes by the team that played most of Idaho's ball games 'straight' through the season without relief include Buhler and Melton, fifth and sixth in field goals; Bauscher, fifth in free throws; Sather, fifth in rebounds.

The total points for Vandal players: Buhler 220, Melton 201, Bauscher 172, Sather 168 and Falash 144. Melton was selected to the all-Northern Division first five.

As a team Idaho's highest ranking was in free throw shooting where they racked up a .875 percentage.

Set Records
Idaho figured in four single game records being smashed. The Vandals made 38 free throws, most in a single game, beating their own mark of 33 in one game in 1952. Against Washington at Seattle they made a 63.3 shooting percentage from the field bettering Oregon's 1954 record of 56.9.

With Washington in the final game of the season Idaho racked up 80, the Huskies 79 for the most points scored by two team, 159. The Vandals teamed with Oregon to commit the fewest fouls by two teams in a single game, 19. Idaho had 8, Oregon 11, in the game played at Moscow when both teams went into freezing, stalling tactics. Fifteen single-game and season records were broken during the 1955 Northern Division basketball season with individual statistical honors well divided and the team departments dominated by Oregon State.

Loscutoff Best
Oregon's Jim Loscutoff bested Dean Parsons of Washington in a torrid scoring race, 314 points to 313, both averaging 19.6 for each of the 16 games. Loscutoff also was the rebounding champion, snaring 282 for an average of 17.6 per game to break the old season mark of 229 (Chet Noe, Oregon, 1953).

Wade Halbrook, Oregon State, captured marksmanship honors for the second successive year, averaging 38.7 per cent on 110 field goals in 226 tries. Ron Bennink, Washington State, won the free throw title with 81.4 per cent, his 140 points from the charity line breaking the old mark of 115 (Parsons, 1954). It was also the best percentage ever recorded on a minimum of 50 free throws.

Oregon State set a new team record of 38.8 per cent on field goal shooting to win that honor (38.7 per cent, Washington, 1953); led in rebounding with 678 to its opponents 499; tied for the scoring lead with Washington, with 1021 points and allowed opponents the fewest points, 879. Washington State had the best free throw mark, 68.8 per cent.

Take Five

John R. Hughes

The Big Ten football conference has agreed to a National Collegiate Athletic Association plan on televising college games this fall. The Big Ten and the Pacific Conference had earlier balked at the renewal of a national-game-of-the-week plan which the NCAA proposed.

The two big guns of college football even threatened to drop out of the association and set up their own plan if some new workings couldn't be arranged.

The plan set up by the NCAA will now be passed on to the various conference representatives for approval. The 1955 changes are drastic from the 1954 TV contract. The plan calls for eight days on which games will be shown nationally, with the possibility that two games will be shown on a divided network on two of these dates, and for five days on which no games may cross the boundaries of seven definite regions.

Last season the NCAA allowed one game to be televised nationally with a restriction on any regional television except through individual schools or conferences.

NCAA officials said two-thirds of those voting must approve the new plan. The Big Ten and Pacific Coast schools had favored a strictly regional service for its teams, in which each week a conference game would be telecast to that area. The new plan is a compromise.

No TV Here

Again now, should the NCAA plan pass, California dominance of the five regional open dates will undoubtedly occur. With but five open dates for conference games, don't look for Idaho or Washington State to get in on any home game hookups, television facilities will not be made available at such tremendous costs for only one game a season from this Palouse area. Washington at Seattle will be lucky to draw a televised game.

We look for most of the regional contests to be telecast from USC, UCLA, Stanford and Cal.

Talking with Victor O. Schmidt, the conference commissioner, in a recent visit here and he said the Pacific Coast schools were still in favor of a regional program. We look, however, for the PCC to string along nationally, now that the Big Ten has made the step in the right direction.

By step in the right direction we refer to unification of the NCAA. The Midwest and Pacific schools were not only troublemakers over There's even more to Chevrolet styling than meets the eye!

This is beauty with a bonus... for Chevrolet styling is designed to add safety and comfort while you drive, and to return greater value when you trade.

Truly modern lines are shaped by usefulness. You can see what we mean in the deep crystal curve of Chevrolet's Sweep-Sight windshield... a dramatic style note, certainly, but one that stems from the need for wider, safer vision. Or take high-set taillights—they add to the impressive length of line... but they are up where they can be seen for safety's sake.

The smart louvers across the hood aren't just decoration... they mark the intake for the High-Level ventilation system for cleaner, fresher air. And the whole shape of the body—its lowness, the dipped belt line—is merely a reflection of a lowered center of gravity, the added stability.

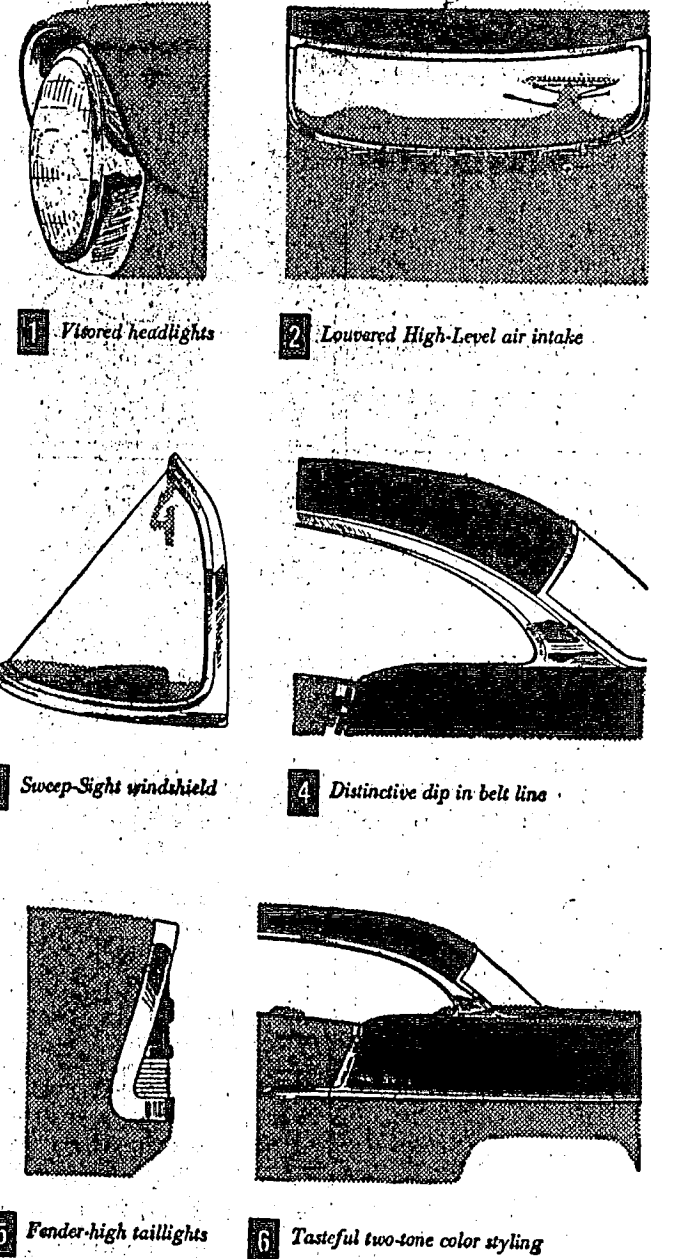

This is truly functional styling that serves you better every mile, and preserves its value against the distant day when you trade. This is Body by Fisher—another Chevrolet exclusive in the low-price field. Come in and let us demonstrate that this new Chevrolet is just as exciting to drive as to look at!
