CAMPUS BENEFIT BRINGS IN NEARLY $1000

Seconds Please...

Dewey Newman's Kute Kompany of Kissing Koeds highlighted the all campus dance held Tuesday night in the SUB for the Accident Benefit. Kissing the unidentified Atlas is Marilyn Stewart. Other grinning queens include Linda Williams, Nancy Leek and Nancy Lee.

Exec. Board Sponsors Drive

A pair of falsies from the Kappa house, a taxi dance, a 39 Chev and a host of other gimmicks raised nearly $1000 dollars for University accident victims at a campus wide benefit held here Tuesday afternoon and evening.

The ASUI Executive Board went into action last Sunday afternoon and cooked up a list of money-making suggestions.

Tuesday afternoon at 3 the campus went into action. The Fijis took on an Argonaut picked all star team in softball. The Fijis were the campus champions this year but the all stars out-did them 4 to 1.

Door Is Jammed Handsome Man Saves Jo

Disaster struck the Alpha Phi house yesterday afternoon when Jo Haight, junior, found herself locked in her room by a jammed door.

After attempts to open the door failed, the local fire department was called and assistance arrived in the form of two firemen. News from an unidentified source puts it this way, "When Jo found out that the firemen were to be called she quickly placed an order for a handsome young fireman.

During the wait, Miss Haight quickly cleaned up the room, combed her hair and got herself all ready for her hero. Much to the amazement of all, one of the firemen was just what she ordered.

Our handsome young fireman climbed a ladder to rescue our lady fair, and it took him thirty minutes to open the door.

At present, the room has no door and the opening is covered with a blanket, so the girls at the house refer to the room as "Swami's tent."

Musicians Make Baseball Challenge

The Vandaleers have been challenged to a baseball game by the University band Friday night at Moscow park. Following the game the musical groups will have a picnic, which has become a tradition.

Karen Hurstrom was elected president of the Vandaleers, being the first girl to head the group in ten years. Other newly elected officers are Yvonne Wilson, secretary; Jane Lange, librarian; Barbara Knight, publicity chairman; Janice Radovitch, Roger Simmons, robe chairmen; Stan Neely and Janette Rawls, social chairmen.

It now appears as though the University of Idaho is going to have one of its finest years in 1955-56. I feel that the students can make this an even better year if they will promote the University of Idaho during the summer to their friends and associates. Bring back a new student next fall so that we'll have even more students to cheer Idaho's victories.

CHUCK McDEVITT, ASUI President.

'Do I Hear Four Bits?'

Over $150 was raised for the ASUI Benefit by the senior auction sale. Seniors donated discarded clothes, books, furniture and one pair of falsies. Giving the pitch is Fred Williams. The bashful Spur is Lexie Gill. John Thornock was also an auctioneer.

The GOLDEN FLEECE

by Jason

So we come to the end of the line for an editor and volume 59. This is the time when a Jason should paste on the mask of wisdom, apologize for the jokes and bid the campus a hearty farewell. It's also a good time to say what you think—can't print a letter to the editor until next fall.

Most of our wisdom went into finals this week so about all we can do is pass out some "thank you's" and call it good.

The first man on our list is a guy called Gale Mix. He's been our closest adviser this year, all the way from advice on advertising to explaining why we put out the WSC paper.

There's another man behind the scenes who you might not have heard about. He's Rafe Gibbs, director of information here. Rafe kept us up to date on administration matters and gave us a pat or two on the back when the going got rough.

Our biggest asset this year was having a healthy staff. The top mastheaders—Pietsch, Brede, Brooks and Hughes kept the sheet on the presses through all 63 issues. Comes a final week and they're your only staff.

New editor Pietsch is a man fit for the job. He went to town as assistant editor this year and should continue as an excellent Jason next fall. Give 'em hell boy!

It doesn't seem so long ago that we sat down at the desk and worked up the Fleece for issue number one. Plenty of rain has fallen on Moscow since we put out that issue.

We got our share of criticism this year, but we also dished out what we thought was right. The criticism to an editor means one thing—people are following the paper. Frankly, we welcomed it.

We're just about off on another editorial—better cut it off here. Our four years here have been happy ones. Truthfully, I never met an Idaho student I didn't like in one way or another. That goes for the Zoo too.

Good Luck Idaho—You're Great

—Fred Williams.

Homecoming Chairman Appointed

Kenny Wright was appointed by Executive Board as Homecoming chairman for next year at a meeting Wednesday. Ed Schmitt and Hans Gotsch were also nominated.

ASUI General Manager Gale Mix suggested that one or two assistant chairmen be appointed.

Board member Mike O'Callahan suggested that the Student Activities Committee appoint at least one freshman to each committee.

In other board business, members voted not to send a delegate to the National Students Association national convention this year.

The motion was made by George Eidam. President Chuck McDevitt said he felt ASUI funds should not be spent to send the delegate.

The board approved a list of students eligible for Argonaut, Gem and KUOI keys. They are Betty Brooks, Marilyn Marvel and Gary Pietsch, Argonaut; James Steele and Keith MacPhee, Gem, and Roger Groth and Chuck White, KUOI.

In other discussions, Bob Bakes and Dick Gast were chosen to work on the Traffic Appeals board with faculty member and Student Counselor Charles Bond.

Tom Grafmiller was chosen as alternate.

The possibility of recognizing Vandal Riders was discussed, and McDevitt said he would discuss the "pep band situation" with music professor Hall Macklin before the board heard the issue.

Student Accident Victims Are Reported Improving

Sandra Fuller, one of the five weekend accident injuries, will probably be discharged from Gritman Memorial Hospital today and transferred to the University Infirmary, according to hospital officials.

Alpha Zeta Honors Members

An Alpha Zeta breakfast was given Sunday to honor all senior members of the national agricultural honorary. President D. R. Theophilus spoke to the group, according to Darrel Kalbfleisch, chancellor.

'Idaho The Future', If Plans Materialize

What will the University of Idaho look like to us many years hence? What will the campus look like to our sons and daughters and perhaps even grandchildren when they are here furthering their education?

According to Geo. Gagon, University Engineer, if things work out there'll be some changes made.

The Library will be moved into its own building across from the Gym. In the place of the library the Law School will move down to the first floor and on the third floor existing departments will expand and take up the space.

The Temporary class room buildings are scheduled to leave the Idaho scene and in their place will stand new buildings which house many departments. Behind the Ad Building will stand a new building for education, business administration, journalism and a new auditorium.

The baseball diamond will be relocated to an area north of West Sixth behind University Greenhouses which will face Sixth on the north side of the street. Three of the greenhouses are to be built this summer and others are to be added over the years.

One of the next proposed buildings will be a classroom building located on what is now the girl's recreation area across from the Art Building.

An ice skating rink will shoot up in the recreation area. Other plans call for a line of new girls' dormitories along a new street called Arboretum Drive which will start in the area of Hays' and French Halls and go over the hill by the Arboretum, west of the football stadium and on out to the Moscow-Pullman Highway. Rayburn Avenue will also be extended to the highway. Other extensions include the covering of Paradise Creek and building a new street over the covering.

The old Women's Gym will be torn down and a new one built south of the Men's Gym where the baseball diamond used to be.

The proposed construction of new buildings in the area of the University Farm may necessitate the moving of the farm to a new location north of the Pullman Highway.

Gagon wonders how many of these changes will really come about.

One of the main problems that will have to be overcome, said Gagon, will be providing school facilities before removing the old buildings, which are in such demand now. Other factors that must be taken into consideration before the plans become a reality are that they are subject to approval of the State Legislature and the ability of the University to obtain the necessary land which they do not own at present.

A mapped-out plan of proposed buildings is kept up to date in the University Engineer's Office. Whether these proposed changes will ever take place is anyone's guess. A wait and see attitude will have to prevail.

House Plans Wins Prizes For Three

An architectural drawing of a two-story house has won three University students, Roger Spiker, Kenneth Hasenoehrl and Ron Tan first prize of $50; second of $30 and third of $20 in a contest sponsored by the Hummel, Hummel and Jones firm of Boise.

Awards were presented at a recent American Institute of Architects student chapter meeting. At the meeting, Tan was elected president of the AIA student chapter and Hasenoehrl was elected secretary.

The competition involved designing a two-level house on a sloping lot for a family of four. One of the most important features of the house was a recreational room for family activities. T. J. Prichard will be honored at an AIA banquet at the Ad Club today at 6:15 p.m. He is in the architecture department here.

Position Open

Students eligible for a commission in 1955 to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., should contact Dean of Men Charles O. Decker before Saturday noon, Decker said.

Decker received word from Idaho Senator Herman Welker that an appointee for the academy had dropped out of the program, leaving a vacancy to be filled immediately.

Graduation Speaker Is New York Editor

Main speaker at the 60th graduation exercise of the University of Idaho will be Dr. Clarence W. Hall, executive editor of the Christian Herald magazine from New York City. Dr. Hall will address Baccalaureate-commencement exercises to be held Sunday, June 5, at 10 a.m. in Memorial Gym.

Jane Querna Gets Journalism Award

The Idaho Presswoman's Award was presented to Jane Querna Sunday at the installation banquet of Theta Sigma Phi. Dean J. Walter Steffens presented the award for the outstanding woman graduate in the state of Idaho.

The Idaho Presswomen give a pin and a year's membership in the association to the journalism major with the highest grade point and most journalistic activities.

Jane was charter president of Theta Sigma Phi, business manager of the Argonaut this year and feature editor last year. She was on the Mademoiselle College Board two years and last year won the Boise Statesman Scholarship.

The deans of each school in the University will present the 524 bachelor and 113 master degrees. In addition to the granting of the academic degrees, forty-two Air Force, thirty-two Navy and thirty-one other students will receive commissions in their branch of the armed services.

Graduates can pick up their caps and gowns at the University Book Store on June 3 and 4. Graduates are asked to return the caps and gowns to the Book Store as soon as possible after the Commencement exercises Sunday. The Book Store will be open immediately after the exercises until later in the evening.

Back Yard Picnic Area

Unknown to many students at the University of Idaho, the campus has a picnic area right in its own backyard. Dr. Leon G. Green, head of the department of physical education, calls the recreation area his pet project and within five years hopes to expand the present facilities into a year-round recreation area. In the picture on the right the skating rink will be situated in the Arboretum in the left of the picture. Bleachers will be built into the bank in the foreground behind the open fireplace. In the picture on the left, the warming hut to be built in connection with the skating rink will be placed to the left just out of the picture. Groups wanting to use the picnic area, can request reservations by seeing Dr. Green in the Memorial Gym.

Play It Cool, Wear Shorts

(ACP) — The case of the "un-sanforized pants," to quote a phrase from the Miami Hurricane, is losing ground on northern campuses with the approach of winter, but north or south it was a dilly while it lasted. Look for a revival of the Bermuda shorts question next spring, although some campuses may try to skirt the whole issue.

Editorials, letters to the editor, pronouncements by deans of women, and numerous opinion polls in college papers marked the fray from week to week. As matters now stand, the fate of the long shorts, or short slacks, depending on your viewpoint, has been clarified in some schools.

Texas State College women may now wear Bermuda shorts on campus under certain conditions, the Daily Lass-o reports. The student-faculty conference unanimously voted that they be worn for on-campus activities such as sports, picnics, production rehearsals and other specially designated situations subject to the dean of women's direction. They may not be worn to labs or classes or most campus stores.

"Personally, I agree that Bermuda shorts do look better than blue jeans," said College President John A. Guinn, who presided at the meetings.

Meanwhile, the Ursinus weekly, at Collegeville, Pa., reports that the perplexing question has been solved. The student government women's council decided "to treat Bermudas separately." The Dean advised that they should not be worn to meals, in classes, in the library, to chapel or in her office. The motion was made, passed and adopted.

At Miami University, Coral Gables, Fla., Bermuda shorts on boys made their fall debut amid howls of protest from indignant coeds, whose pretty knees have been restricted.

The girls feel they look more attractive in shorts "than the usual knobby-kneed, bow-legged male." (The Hurricane story was written, of course, by a girl). "One unbiased boy" claims that "Boys like to look at girls' legs, but do girls like to look at boys' legs?" (Who among us would cry "Nay!")

American U. Expands Program

Washington, D. C. (I.P.) — American University has expanded its Washington Semester Program. Twenty additional schools means that seventy colleges and universities will now be participating member of the plan.

This program is a political science laboratory started in 1947 by five institutions. Each of the original five schools were allowed to send up to four students. Students studying under this plan attend American University for one semester, and have an opportunity to "study government in action with the regular curriculum."

The study plan under this program, during the one-semester of resident attendance, has a two-fold purpose.

First, it gives the student a chance to join a seminar which examines the Federal government and political parties. Second, those carrying out individual projects use libraries and interview government figures to gather information. The principal features of the plan include the following:

"It enables promising young people to be more effective citizen leaders by helping them develop insight into people, process and organization of our government; cooperating institutions select up to four students per year of honors quality for a semester in Washington; the American University provides an academic program and individual guidance to carry out the objectives of the Washington Semester; the student remains enrolled and pays tuition in his home institution; American University bills the home institution for tuition; policies are developed at annual meetings of representatives of the member institutions.

Prof's Composition Heard In Texas

A symphony composed by William Billingsley of the U of I music faculty was featured at the fourth Southwestern Symposium of Contemporary American Music sponsored by the College of Fine Arts at the University of Texas, it was learned here today. The work, "Symphony for Winds and Percussion," was performed by the University of Texas Symphonic Band, conducted by R. Bernard Fitzgerald. Fitzgerald is well known in the Northwest, having been director of U of I bands from 1938 to 1940. According to a letter received from Ernestine Gohrband, 1954 Idaho music graduate who is now engaged in advanced study at Texas, Billingsley's symphony was "very well received." A graduate of Drake University, Billingsley is instructor in brass instruments and assistant director of University Bands at Idaho.

Plans Made For 'Sisters'

A "Big Sister" program will be started this summer by Associated Women Students to acquaint incoming freshman coeds with the school, its activities, traditions and organizations.

University women who are interested in having the name and address of an incoming freshman to write to, answering questions about the University and extending a welcome from AWS to them should give a self-addressed envelope to the AWS representative in her living group.

Vivian Vaagen, DG; or Jo Ella Hamilton, Gamma Phi, will correlate the names of new freshmen with those coeds wishing to write letters. "Little Sisters" names will be given to seniors first, then juniors and sophomores. A fall "Big-Little Sister" function is tentatively planned for next year.

STURGES AWARDED $10

Virginia Sturges, junior in music, has been chosen to receive a $10 cash award from the Foundation Board of Sigma Alpha Iota, women's national professional music fraternity. She was chosen from the University chapter on the basis of musicianship, scholastic and attainment, and contribution to the fraternity chapter. Selection was made by Professor Hall M. Macklin, music department head.

VA Checks To Be Late

First VA checks will be late next fall according to VA advisor, C. H. Bond. Due to a VA regulation, which requires that certification for training benefits for veterans who register after the 20th of the month must be included with the certification for the following month.

The first VA educational benefits checks for veterans in training under PL 550 will be received about November 20, instead of a month earlier as has been the policy in the past. Veterans should keep this in mind when making financial plans for the coming school year.

This regulation has been in effect since the beginning of the VA program for Korean Veterans but next fall will be the first time since this law has been in effect that University registration has been held after September 20.

Idaho Grad Writes Book

A U. of I. graduate is the author of a full-scale biography of Charles Churchill, English neoclassic poet and political writer of the 1760's.

He is Wallace Cable Brown, a native of Lewiston who was graduated from the University in 1926. Presently professor of English at the University of Kansas City, Brown was a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford from 1927 to 1930, and holds a doctorate degree from the University of Michigan. His brother, Walter Brown, is professor of English at Montana State University.

Brown's "Charles Churchill: Poet, Rake and Rebel," evaluates Churchill's work in relation to the development of English satire and portrays him in his historical setting, London. Author of several articles devoted to English and American authors, Brown has also written a book, "The Triumph of Form," which deals with "the masters of the heroic couplet."

Dinners; Tubbings Held For Seniors

Seniors have received their "reward" this week in various living groups where they have been honored by dinners and tubbings. The men from Delta Shelter presented the departing brothers with paddles at their annual senior banquet, seniors at the ATO house gave parting speeches at the dinner held in their honor.

The victim list for tubbings included Kappa Sig seniors, who were tied to the pillars in the front of the house, and Gamma Phis, who were awakened by freshmen one early morning.

Jim Wilson was selected as president of Sigma Chi during recent house elections, and John Blanton was chosen to lead Kappa Sigma for the next term.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

The annual Upperclassman Dinner and Spring Formal was held Friday night with dancing to the music of Rod Burton. Many thanks go to Gail Ward who was chairman.

The traditional carnations were presented Thursday night to Betsy Scudder, Tre a Knudsen, and Sandy Slaven for their outstanding work and contributions in the house for the last three months. Congratulations, girls!

Guests for Tuesday evening were Nancy West and Gail Dufer, who were visiting while taking freshman tests. Both girls are from Grangeville.

Wednesday evening guests were Diane Almsted and Karen Jordan, Grangeville, Barbara Weohletz, Susan Snow, and Mrs. Betty Pierce.

Last night the annual house picnic was held in the Alpha Chi living room due to the bad weather. Songs were sung while the girls munched fried chicken.

Elaine Hyland was chosen to represent Alpha Rho chapter as delegate to the National Alpha Chi convention in July at Greenbrier, Virginia.

DELTA TAU DELTA

With the coming of finals the social activity around the Delta Shelter will see its last splurge this weekend when an open house will be held for Deltas and their dates.

Wednesday evening the annual senior banquet was held for graduating seniors and juniors who will be transferring to medical and dental schools. Presented with paddles by the pledge class were Bob Thornton, Jim Hill, Ted Frostenson, Gary Dixon, Max Nunnkamp, Darrell Maule, Ed Allison, Bernie York, and Gene Dickey.

Mrs. Frank Beer is a guest at the house while her son, George, is recovering from injuries at Gritman Memorial hospital. The Deltas would like to thank all those who so generously offered blood to aid in George's recovery.

FORNEY HALL

Many thanks to the men from Willis Sweet who helped decorate for the dance last weekend. About 70 couples attended the dinner and dance.

Clara Armstrong is now wearing an SAE pin which belongs to Jim Karlen. Twinkle Lister rescued her Figi, Buzz Hansen, from the watery flag-pole Wednesday. Congratulations!

The Kappa Sigs serenaded in honor of Darlaine Bagley Tuesday. Thank you, boys!

Twenty-four-hour quiet hours have started for the seniors—a sure sign that the end of the year is drawing near!

Friday evening, Chrisman Hall enjoyed a very colorful and successful informal dance with music by Eddie Alverti and his orchestra. Decorations for the dance were based on a Hawaiian theme, including palm trees and a miniature beach.

Jane Saver added to entertainment for the Hawaiian atmosphere by presenting a hula dance during intermission. Jose Cabrera sang songs from his native country, Saipan.

Rounding out social activities for the week was the annual hall picnic Saturday afternoon. From all indications, it was a great success—at least everyone attending seemed to be in excellent spirits!

Guests at the house Wednesday and Thursday were Elizabeth Curtis and Barbara Brenich, Sandpoint.

Wednesday dinner guests were Brenda Lister, Maxine Parks, Gerie Carder, and Margaret Garrison.

Theta Sigma Elects Prexy

Officers of the five-day-old Beta Nu chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, national women's journalistic fraternity have been elected to serve for the 1955-56 school year.

Marie Ingebristen, a junior journalism major, is president. Vice president is Barbara Knight; secretary, Jane Remisberg; treasurer, Audrey Montgomery, and Keeper of the Archives, Julie Temple.

Barbara Knight was selected to attend the national convention, June 19-22 in St. Louis, Mo. The local chapter will pay her expenses. She will stay at the Chase Hotel and be entertained at an outdoor opera, "Brigadoon," by the editors of the Ladies Home Journal, by Sigma Delta Chi, national men's journalism fraternity, and at a pink luncheon and style show by Proctor and Gamble among numerous other events.

There's the bleak wintry night when Gen. Ulysses S. Grant strode into a tavern in Galena, Ill. It was during the court session and a bunch of lawyers were huddled about the fire. One of them noticed Grant and commented "Here's a stranger, gentlemen, and by the looks of him I'd say he's traveled through hell itself."

"I have," agreed Grant. The lawyer chuckled and demanded, "How did you find it there?" "Just like here," admitted Grant. "Lawyers all closest to the fire."

The annual cruise was held May 15. Needless to say, a good time was enjoyed despite a bit of untimely precipitation. Special thanks go to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bickham who fulfilled the duties of chaperones.

Senior tubbing was the main attraction, Thursday, May 20. The sturdy white pillars again proved their worth as the seven graduating seniors were lashed to them quite securely and given a treatment which it is hoped they will not forget.

House elections resulted in the seating of John Blanton as Grand Master of Kappa Sigma for 1955. Other new officers are Bill Miller, grand procurator; Donald Harper, grand master of ceremonies; and Larry Looney, grand scribe.

With the propinquity of finals, the famous scholars of Kappa Sigma are to be seen, at their study desks with few interferences. The slogan being popularized to reach the 3.2 goal is "Beat Those Kappas", but will settle for a 2.5.

The Pi Phi enjoyed a Chinese dinner Wednesday night with guests attending from Potlatch and the campus.

Congratulations to Jeanie Bishop on her recent pinning to Duane Gowan, Delta Chi.

Thank you, Sigma Chis and Ejis, for the beautiful serenades.

Sunday night a fireside was held for Pi Phis and their dates. Card-playing and dancing spotlighted the evening.

"They play an 'unbalanced line'—I heard none of 'em have an I.Q. over 40."

Drawing Engineers Studied By Group

Recommendations are before the United States Civil Service Commission for making Federal service jobs more attractive to engineers, especially student now in college.

The Advisory Committee recently held a two-day meeting with the Commission in Washington, presenting views it believed would enhance the stature of the Federal corps of 47,000 professional engineers.

The Committee suggested clear separation of professional from technician positions. It supported training outside the government for competent Federal workers.

The Committee approved the Commission action toward higher than minimum pay rates for engineers and physical scientists and favors employment programs for student trainees.

The Committee recommended building up the Federal engineer corps by stricter standards, including an absolute requirement of a bachelor's degree in engineering for entry into the two lowest grades, Engineer GS-5 and Engineer GS-7; an examination for proficiency for entry into the intermediate grades, Engineers GS-9 to 11, and adequate professional standing and recognition for promotion to Engineer GS-13 and higher grades.

Sunday was a "victory day" for the seven charter members of Theta Sigma Phi, national women's journalistic fraternity, installed here by Mrs. Oakley Maxwell, Northwest regional director. Since the local group's organization 28 years ago, it has worked to gain affiliation with Theta Sigma Phi.

The first official Theta Sigma Phi sponsored dinner by Beta Nu chapter (University of Idaho) climaxed a day of formal pledge, initiation and installation ceremonies conducted by Mrs. Maxwell, assisted by Maxine MacDougall, and Mrs. William McArthur, Spokane, and Ann Killiam, Kitty Williams, and Mary Turner, Pullman.

It was the big day for the University of Idaho and coach Skip Staley when Idaho trounced WSC with an unbelievable 10-0 score. Within seconds after this picture was taken the coach was on fan's shoulders while the rest of the Idaho section packed off the goalposts.

'54-'55 Has Its Share Of Upsets And Dances

Upsets, dances and more upsets would be a good way to sum up '54 and '55 at the University of Idaho. The first big event of the year started shaping up near the end of September in the form of homecoming. Carol Ann Zapp, Lou Ann Olson, Freda Payne, Clara Armstrong and Sonia Henriksson were the five finalists. Harry Brenn was in charge of the show. October 1 rolled around and Clara Armstrong swept the queen contest to become queen of Idaho's homecoming. Around 6000 showed up for the event. After homecoming clouds passed on, the campus drew a quick breath and started thinking about a blood drive. Co-chairmen were Dennis Thompson and Karen Lee Krauss. While the blood drive was shaping up the ASUI Executive Board started their almost year-long investigation on the possibilities of building an ice rink with the student facilities fee. On October 26 the Argonaut came out with two events covering the whole six and one fourth pages. Idaho had beaten WSC—students got the following Monday off—a blood drive was the other big event. WSC took the walk and some even donated to our blood drive. With the blood drive down the drain Dad's Day was the next big event in sight. While beards were trailing behind most students, the campus had class elections. On November 12 the dads came rolling in. The Idaho football team gave them a good greeting with a 45-0 win over North Dakota University. The campus settled down again after Dad's Day and waited for Thanksgiving vacation. The fall vacation came and went on as usual. No big event crept in between Thanksgiving and Christmas. About the only highlight during the holidays was the death of WSC's cougar. Final exams for '54 traveled on through. With final exams in the wind the Executive Board got busy and passed on the ice rink. Moscow weather pulled its regular routine and we were up to our necks in the white stuff. A new semester got underway and enrollment kept Steady. Religious Emphasis Week was mark-

U. of I. Students Saw Three Major ASUI Productions This Year

Final Drama Plans Set For Summer

"We are trying to bring to life the 'New England barn theatre' at the University of Idaho this summer from June 13 to August 5," says Jean Collette, chairman of the dramatics department.

Five popular arena-style plays will be produced in the outdoor atmosphere of the University of Idaho Field House with the productions varying from one week to another. In conjunction with this, Jean Collette reported that the University's "big barn" has taken on a new look.

The bleachers and chairs have been removed and platforms have taken their place.

The entrance to the theatre will take on the carnival look. Brightly colored flats with theatre information will be lighted by lanterns that will also light the walk from the entrance door to the theatre door.

Students will have a chance to "live" theatre—and only theatre—for eight weeks while earning university credit hours. According to Jean Collette, students may participate in from one to five productions depending upon the number of credits for which they are registered. Those students enrolled in other summer courses may participate part-time.

Students, who have some time to spend in the realm of grease paints and spot lights, may work with the program for no credit.

Other courses in dramatics being offered in connection with Summer Theatre is a workshop in high school directing, Drama 126. It is a new, three week's course offered from July 4 to 22 for from one to three credits.

According to Jean Collette, the course is designed primarily for teachers who wish to gain experience by observing an actual theatre organization in operation. She said that credit may be earned without actual participation in the plays, although students who wish to work on productions are welcome to do so.

Faculty teachers for the eight week session will include Jean Collette, Edmund Chavez, assistant professor of dramatics, University of Idaho, as well as guest instructor Cecil Matson, director of dramatics, Lake Oswego High School, Oregon.

The five major plays are "Charity Begins," "The Moon Is Blue," "Ten Nights In A Barroom," "The Taming of the Shrew," and "The Willow and I."

Season tickets for the five productions can be obtained at the Student Bookstore and at Hodgins Drug Store for $2.50.

A sophisticated British comedy, "Charity Begins," will be staged June 28 through 30, announced Ed Chavez, director of the play.

The plot depicts a young niece, of a well-to-do English family, who falls in love with a playboy who doesn't really love her, but who leads the innocent girl on. An old aunt of the family finally makes her see the light and talks her out of running away from home and marrying her wood-be lover.

The well known comedy, "The Moon Is Blue," will be staged by director Cecil Matson.

The play is about a very charming and innocently fresh young girl, Patty O'Neill, who meets a young architect, Don Grehsam, on the top of the Empire State Building in New York.

Don picks her up and invited her to dinner, but instead she is determined to cook the meal for him.

David Slate, Don's friend and neighbor, shows up at the party and is attracted to Patty, and when he gets too friendly, Don gets jealous. Matters come to a climax when Patty's father, an irate and puritanical policeman, directs his anger at Don, in the form of a black eye.

Ultimately it turns out that Don is not to blame and the scene reverts to the top of the Empire State Building, and ends with Don and Patty happily married.

"Ten Nights In a Barroom," directed by Jean Collette, is a 19th century classic "meller".

The play depicts the woeful effects and the evil wrought by the demon—rum. The once honest Simon Slade, operator of a jugmill, seeks a fast fortune and forces his young son, Frank, to work in the Sickle and Sheaf Inn barroom.

Frank succumbs to the temptation of the bottle and takes over the business of his father, and kills him.

The summer version of Shakespeare's "The Taming of the Shrew" depicts the antics of Petruchio as he tries to tame the mad-cap shrew, Kate.

Jean Collette says the production will be done in gay multi-colored costumes, which will have to be made especially for this play. Edmund Chavez will direct the play.

"The Willow and I," a thrill packed drama involving two sisters, will be staged July 26-28, by director Cecil Matson.

or what model gasoline for your 1958 model car?

"You've probably heard it said that competition in an industry brings the customers better products ahead of time.

"If you ever doubted it, you should have been looking over my shoulder lately.

"I'm a research chemist for Union Oil. That's why, back in 1951—when Union was selling all the gasoline it could refine—the boss called me in. He said management wanted to know what kind of gasolines we'd have to be able to market in 1958 to satisfy cars then.

"After studying trends in engine design, we set to work on our '58 model gasolines. We pushed octane right to the ceiling for the highest practical power and knock-rating. But we wanted more than power.

"We wanted gasoline that would start a cold engine in a wink and let you drive away without a warm-up. We took our test cars into snow country and worked at 20-below.

"We also wanted gasoline that wouldn't vaporlock. So we drove down into the desert and tested blends till we had one that would perform in an oven.

"Well, when we had all the vital statistics we showed 'em to the men on the 12th floor. They took a long look at the facts, okayed $70,000,000 for a refinery expansion program.

"As a result, we were able to introduce our 1958 model premium and regular gasolines in 1955—three years ahead of schedule. And man, are the customers taking them away from us!"

Maynard's true story points up again the big advantage of being a customer under America's free enterprise system.

Because we compete with every other oil company for your business, we constantly have to introduce improved products to please you.

But if—as in Russia today—government had a monopoly on all business, there would be no incentive to bring you anything better.

The above scenes are from the ASUI production "Lute Song," a Chinese classic. Audiences chuckled at the Chinese methods of presentation and their attempts to be entirely unrealistic. Over 80 students participated in the staging of the production which proved to be the largest of the year. The play was directed by Jean Collette, dramatics department head.

FINAL EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

Second Semester 1954-55

(Two and one-half hour examinations—three examination periods each day)

Regular class rooms will be used for the examinations unless instructors make special arrangements through the Registrar's Office. Examinations in courses not included in the schedule will be arranged by the individual instructors during scheduled examination week. Examinations in courses comprised of lecture and laboratory periods may in most instances be scheduled according to the sequence of either. Announcement of time and room should be made by the instructor. Rooms should be reserved in the Registrar's Office for "arranged" examinations in order to avoid conflicts with scheduled examinations. For those courses in which a two and one-half hour examination period is not considered adequate, the final class hour or laboratory period could be used for additional examination purposes.

Next Season's Prospects Good

By DON SMITH, Sports Assistant

"Wait till next year," is a favorite saying by everyone, but predominantly used in the sports world by coaches, players and fans alike.

This quote was echoed by Vandal supporters throughout a not too successful, with the exception of the last four football games, 1954-55 sports season.

A talented frosh team that won one out of three games will provide several stars for the 1956 edition of the footballing Vandals that with a little luck should answer the cries of the "wait till next season" crowd. Jerry Kramer and Jerry Smythe will add plenty of strength to a line that lost strength through graduation. Returning linemen who are expected to carry the brunt of the load include guards Eivind Resa, John Payne and Mike Hepler; tackles Marsh Jones, Ron Leppke and Dick "Tiny" Foster. Frosh Bill Skinner, transfer Gus Bagetelos and returnee Jim Faulkner will compete for a starting berth at center.

Gary Tops

Wade Patterson, a freshman who missed the majority of spring practice because of an injury will join lettermen Ed Hilder and Pete Gerpheide to give Idaho three outstanding ends.

Larry Norby, fleet-footed halfback, looks like the best prospect among the many backs up from the frosh.

Filling the shoes of graduating quarterback George Eidam seems to be the biggest problem faced by coach Skip Staley and his assistants. Junior college transfer Howard Willis and last year's understudy to Eidam, Gary Cozian, are the main candidates for the job. Freshmen Gary Kenworthy and Jim Green should add depth in this position.

Heading the list of returning backs is of course Wilbur Gary, star fullback whose speed and spirit make him an outstanding offensive threat. Hard driving Bill Baxter, switched from fullback, leads a strong group of halfbacks including Ron Braden, Mel Schmidt and Ray Bittner. Backing up Gary in the fullback slot will be Ralph Kendley and Warren Hawley.

Tough Schedule

Idaho faces a tough nine game schedule which includes all of the Northern Division teams, Arizona, Utah, Montana and Brigham Young.

In basketball, coach Harlan Hodges faces a complete rebuilding program with but two veterans back with the needed experience. Bill Bauscher and Jay Buhler have been named co-captains for the coming season. Buhler played forward last year but will probably be moved to guard with Bauscher with the addition of some tall frosh.

GO FARTHER WITH SIGNAL GAS from Land's Signal Service

Heading the ex-freshman list will be the Vandal Babe high scorer this past season Jack Mitchell, a Cheyenne, Wyo., product standing 6-5 who can pot a basket from nearly anywhere.

Other regulars who are likely to move up are Jerry Jorgenson, 6-5 forward, Bob Goold, 6-8 center, Gary Simmons 6 foot guard, Jim Branom, 6-7 forward and Roger Walser, 6-4 forward.

In reserve strength will probably be returnees Jay Webb, Tom Hoots and John Sullivan with sophomores Mark Cole, Bob Prestel, Gary Sattler, Bill Wilson, Brent Thomson, Charlie Capps and Herb Hill.

The Vandal cage slate includes a swing through the midwest and south to face Washington of St. Louis, Kentucky, Dayton of Ohio and Vanderbilt.

In baseball Coach Clem Parberry will have several returning vets including outfielder Ron Braden, infielders John Sullivan, Mick Polillo, Ray Copeland, Dick Berger, and catcher Jim Howard.

Hurlers Return

Back from this year's not too strong mound staff will be Dave Anderson, Dave Cripe, Tom Vopat and Rocket Rog Ranta. To add to these hurlers Parberry will have former frosh Doug Randall, Gordy Ties, Clark Anderson, Jim Branom and Kent Church.

Knute Westergen and Duane Moore are a pair of hardhitting players who will move.

In track Joe Glader will be strong again in the sprints with

Burdette Hess
Pro Football

Wilbur Gary and Bill Bauscher back there. In the weights Jerry Kramer and Andy Anderson will be up from the frosh.

Gone will be Gary Dixon, Lou Gourley and Nick Speropolis, all who have piled up many points while with the varsity track team. Other returnees will include Buzz Hanson and Duane Hodgson in the javelin, Henning Olsen in the quarter mile, and Jay Buhler in the dashes.

In golf Bob Adamson, Tom Lindsay, Bill Summers and Dick Shepard, the latter a frosh this year, will probably form the nucleus of that team.

And it is rumored that in the fall Idaho will hold a cross-country run here.

Arch Earned Four Letters

By JOHN B. HUGHES
Sports Editor

Burdette (Archie) Hess, Shelley, Idaho, senior, and captain of the 1955 Vandal football team, has been named the "athlete of the year" by the Idaho Argonaut sports staff. Hess, a four year letterman, won praise all over the Northwest for his leadership and ability, and represented Idaho at the East-West Shrine Game in San Francisco.

Hess also received offers to play pro football from the San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League and the Calgary Stampeders of the Western Interprovincial Football League in Canada.

Hess along with several other Idaho seniors is the last of the four year lettermen. He played varsity ball as a frosh when the Pacific Coast Conference allowed first year men to compete on the varsity as there was a manpower shortage in the Northwest schools due to the Korean outbreak.

Other seniors mention for the position were George Eidam, football quarterback; Lou Gourley, track; Lefty Melton, basketball; Flip Kleffner, baseball and Bob Falash, basketball-baseball.

The Arg staff named Gourley the outstanding track competitor. Gourley ran third in the Northern Division two-mile the past two years and was a consistent winner for Idaho in dual matches in the mile and two-mile.

The sportsmanship award went to George Eidam, who was most recently elected to the executive board. His leadership and team spirit as the Vandal quarterback was inspiring to his team members.

Falash was named top all-

Cougar Win Top Thrill Of 1954-55

Idaho's triumphant 10-0 football victory over the WSC Cougars, ending a 29 year State dominance over the Vandals, was the biggest moment in athletics this year.

From that point the Vandals marched over three more grid rivals under new head coach Skip Stahley who instilled in his team, supporters and state, a spirit rarely shown at Idaho. Gone was the pessimism that for so long played a part in a downward trend in athletics here.

In other momentous events, a reserve basketball guard sank a free throw to pull Idaho out of the cellar, the track team won a Northern Division meet and the baseball team won six in a row in pre-conference play only to lose 13 of their 13 division games.

The 1954-55 sports scene in a nutshell.

Fourteen junior college transfers including a scabback by the name of Wilbur Gary of San Pablo, California, and John Sullivan, an end from Richmond, Calif., the first two Negroes to play ball at Idaho, reported for opening football workouts Sept. 1 with 13 veterans and 10 sophomores to form the team about.

The Vandals lost the first five games, to Oregon, San Jose State College, Oregon State, College of Pacific and Arizona but then snuck up on the Cougars and caught them off guard to the tune of 10-0.

From that point, the spirited Vandals edged Utah 14-13 the following week when Captain Archie Hess booted both extra points. Idaho then slaughtered North Dakota 45-0 and beat BYU 7-0 at Boise to round out the system.

Stahley has made great improvements in the entire operation of football at Idaho. His recruiting program has brought to Idaho such standouts as Jerry Kramer, Jerry Smythe, Howard Willis, Larry Norby, Bill Skinner as freshmen this past season and Gary, End Ed Hilder, tackles Marsh Jones and Mike Hepler and other top flight material. Several outstanding high school athletes have indicated they will attend school.

The alumni presented Skip with a Mercury after the Vandals beat WSC and presented assistant coaches with suits.

In basketball, Idaho didn't fair too hot, but John Sullivan's last second free throw in the final game of the season gave the Vandals a win over Washington by one point and pulled them to fourth place tie with Washington State.

Fine Yearlings

Coach Harlan Hodges has a fine frosh club to pick from to replace graduating Harlan Melton, Bob Falash and Jim Sather, and has improved the recruiting in the cage sport to a great extent.

Byron Richards led the Idaho swimming team to an improved season and was named to the Northern Division all-star team as the top division diver on both the low and high board. He'll be back to captain the team in 1956.

The Vandal diamond team won six straight in pre-conference baseball games but went winless through 13 Northern Division contests as Oregon emerged the winner in a last day contest.

Coach Parberry was lacking in pitching all season and lost several players toward the end of the season due to injury.

In track Joe Glander, newly appointed from trainer, picked up for Idaho its first division win in three years as his team edged Oregon State 66½ to 64½ at Neale Stadium. Glander has some freshmen coming up and is counting on footballer Wilbur Gary and basketballer Bill Bauscher for more points next season.

The Idaho golf team made an impressive showing during the dual season losing only to Washington, beating Oregon and Oregon State and dividing a pair with WSC. In the division match held on the University owned course, the Vandals failed miserably in taking fourth place back of Washington and Oregon State plus WSC.

Bob Adamson, only a sophomore, was the leading golfer.

And the tennis team was winless in ND action.

New faces this past year brought in Stahley, Hodges, and a new athletic director, Bob Gibb, of Boise high school. Gibb took over duties as the athletic department shifted allegiance from the ASUI to strictly under the University. Frank Young, with the dropping of boxing, was named assistant. Packey Boyle stepped in in February as the new trainer after working as a physical therapist at Sun Valley.

And not to be forgotten there was Tom Falash, the equipment manager and the assistant football coaches Jay Pattee, Gene Stauber, and Earl Klapstein, who have all gained the admiration of the entire group of Idaho athletes. 557c
