

Queen Field Cut Sept. 29

Five finalists for the University of Idaho Homecoming queen will be selected from Janet Campbell, Alpha Chi Omega; Shirley Byrne, Gamma Phi Beta; Shirley Blick, Alpha Phi; Ann Popma, Tri-Delt; Sally (Gus) Ghiglieri, Delta Gamma; Shirley Henry, Kappa Alpha Theta; Susie Oberg, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Margaret Costello, Pi Beta Phi; Mary Lin Meek, Forney; Donna Hansen, Steele House, Lois Judd, French House, and Jan Avery, Hays Hall.

For the most part registration is over, ASUI activities are reorganizing with eager freshmen swamping everything and the big guns, the ASUI prexy and Executive Board, are gathering around the table for their first meeting of the year tonight.

There is quite an order of business scheduled for the first one. Naturally there will be nine opinions on who should be appointed for what, but from this corner, this new interview system should bring the cream of the crop to the top.

For those of you who haven't heard of the system, the idea was brought out in elections last spring. The Student Government party picked it up, slapped it into their platform and with the coming of Chuck McDevitt, we have the interview system.

The ASUI will interview anybody for a job, providing they make their wishes known. Prior to committee appointments, the candidates will always be personally interviewed by McDevitt or an Executive Board member. Here-to-fore, the only contact with a prospective committeeman was by way of the activities card he filled out at the beginning of the year.

The Gem of the Mountains have been going out of the ASUI office at the rate of 400 a day. Distribution starts after lunch every day until the ASUI office runs out of 3,000 copies.

"Don Juan in Hell" will be staged Monday night in the Gym. Tickets have been selling like hotcakes, but for our money, we don't think there are enough students who are planning on attending the show. A buck plus an ASUI card is a pretty small price to pay for such a fine group of talent. If this one doesn't pay, it will probably be another decade before anyone will ever see anything like it again.

Po-Ping Wong Is Lab Technician For Limoneira

Po-Ping Wong, the popular Chinese student who earned his master's degree in horticulture at the University last spring, is now employed as a laboratory technician with the research department of the Limoneira Company at Santa Paula, Calif., it was learned here recently.

Wong's duties consist mainly of moisture and nitrate determination of the different soils in the company's orchard for the purpose of establishing irrigation and fertilization schedules. The Limoneira company is one of the largest citrus fruit producers in the Santa Paula area.

During his undergraduate days at the University, Wong was a member of the Vandaleers, and participated in other campus activities.

MANUSCRIPTS ASKED

Students are invited to submit original verse to be considered for possible publication in the Annual Anthology of College Poetry.

Manuscripts must be typed or written in ink on one side of a sheet of paper. Students home address, name of college and college address should appear on the manuscript.

Closing date for submission of manuscripts is November 5, 1956. Manuscripts should be sent to: National Poetry Assn., 3210 Selby Ave., Los Angeles 34, California.

Male students will vote on these candidates in a preliminary election at noon, September 29, to choose the five finalists. The final election will be held at noon, October 6, to choose the queen.

All men affiliated with a living group on campus vote in that living group when ballots are distributed. Ballots will be given only to those who are present when voting occurs. Male students living off campus, not affiliated with a living group on campus, vote in the ASUI office during the noon hour, not later than 1 p.m. Male students living in Vet villages will vote in the managers' offices during the noon hour.

This year the U of I and Lewiston will have a three day celebration to celebrate Homecoming and the Lewis and Clark exploration of Idaho. The three days are October 6, 7, and 8.

Main events planned for this year's celebration are a fireworks display, a parade with floats from the living groups, a pre-game rally following the pajama parade.

KS Hosts Alums For Anniversary

One of the 10 greatest all-time basketball coaches will help Kappa Sigma fraternity celebrate its golden anniversary on the University of Idaho campus the weekend of October 15.

He is Clarence S. "Hec" Edmundson, a 1910 Idaho graduate who later earned national recognition as a basketball and track coach at the University of Washington. Edmundson will be the featured speaker at the fraternity's 50-year banquet following the Idaho-Washington State college football game October 15.

Arrangements for a weekend of activities are being made under the chairmanship of Ted Miller with Pat Daly as assistant in addition to the banquet, a jubilee dance is scheduled and a special section has been reserved at the football game for returning alumni.

Established here in 1905, Kappa Sigma was the first national fraternity on the Idaho campus.

Sharing the banquet spotlight with Edmundson will be Paul Harlan of Pasadena, Calif., a 1925 Idaho graduate who will serve as master of ceremonies. Harlan is now editor of the fraternity's national monthly publication.

After coaching at Idaho and Texas A&M, Edmundson joined the Washington athletic staff in 1919 as track coach and trainer.

He later assumed the duties of basketball mentor, guiding the Huskies to 10 Northern division and three Pacific Coast conference championships in 27 years. In 1934 he was named one of the 10 greatest all-time basketball coaches by the Helms Athletic foundation.

While an undergraduate at Idaho, Edmundson was the Amateur Athletic Union half-mile champion, and later represented this country in the 1912 Olympic Games at Stockholm. His track teams at Washington won 10 Northern division trophies in 23 years. The Washington field house is named in his honor.

Interest in the reactivated Town Men's Association is exceeding expectations of last spring, association officers reported today.

"With nearly one hundred off-campus men already registered as members, we feel we will have one of the strongest student organizations at the University," Elwyn Larson, TMA prexy said today.

With the opening of the Town Men's lounge, located on the main floor of the SUB, off-campus students will have additional facilities available to them.

Plans have been formulated to enable TMA members to participate in all of the intramural sports, as well as in the exchange dance program. Additional social events are being planned.

All off-campus men are urged to attend the first meeting, which will be an opening meeting designed to introduce the TMA to eligible persons. This meeting will be held tonight in Conference Room A in the SUB at 7:30.

PRE-MEDS MEET

Dr. J. Irving Jolley, chairman of pre-med and dent studies, urges all students interested in entering a med. or dent. school by September, 1956 to attend a meeting tonight at 7 p.m. in Room 29, Science hall.

Stars Appear In 'Don Juan'

By DOUG EIER

Brilliant acting by four great stars of the theatre and motion pictures makes the current production of George Bernard Shaw's "Don Juan in Hell" an exciting and wonderful experience in theatrical history.

Sharing the stage, in person, are Edward Arnold, Ricardo Montalban, Mary Astor, and Reginald Denny to bring to life the witty and sardonic character of Shaw's intellectual masterpiece.

Edward Arnold has been basically a Shakespearean student and actor. It was in a Shakespearean company that he first reached the professional theatre.

Arnold joined the famous troupe of the Ben Greet Shakespearean Players at the age of 15. He toured the nation from coast to coast. When that tour closed, he immediately joined the world-renowned beauty and leading lady, Maxine Elliott, serving both as a juvenile player and as assistant stage manager.

Later, still as a juvenile, he appeared with Ethel Barrymore, and then, as a leading man, he appeared in many plays in many roles.

"Diamond Jim Brady" was Mr. Arnold's greatest success in pictures. Among others that he has appeared in are: "My Brother Talks to Horses," "Rasputin," "Crime and Punishment," "You Can't Take it With You," "Idiot's Delight," "Kismet," "The Hucksters," and "Command Decision."

Ricardo Montalban

Though born in Mexico, Ricardo Montalban was educated in the United States, where through many trials, he gained his first real entry onto the stage with Tallulah Bankhead in "Her Cardboard Lover."

He followed this season on Broadway with several important stock engagements and returned to the Great White Way the following season in a part in "Our Betters" with Elsa Maxwell.

Montalban jumped to prominence in Mexican movies while there during his mother's illness. He made nine films in Mexico. Then he answered the call of Hollywood where he was soon established as a dramatic romantic star.

In 1955 he returned to Broadway as a legitimate theatre star in his own right, playing the lead in the musical version of "Seventh Heaven."

Mary Astor

In the long cavalcade of films and plays in which Mary Astor has appeared, she has been glamour girl and vixen, dowager and queen, siren and heroine, a clown and a tragedienne.

Though she reached the utmost pinnacle of success and fame in motion pictures, she still feels that her real love is the living stage, and she brings this intense devotion to the theatre in her portrayal of the part of Donna Ana in this presentation of "Don Juan in Hell."

Acknowledged as one of the great beauties of the American theatre and screen, Mary Astor imparts that glowing beauty to the character that Shaw has created in his intellectual stage adventure.

All-Campus Dance Held For Frosh

Friday, September 30, is the date set for the annual all-campus mixer to be held in honor of the freshmen in the SUB ballrooms from 9 to 12. This will be the first big campus dance of the year and no admission will be charged.

Stag or drag is the order of the day, but stag is encouraged. Dress for girls is sweaters and skirts and for fellows, slacks and sport shirt. Music will be by Wally Johnson's orchestra, a campus band, furnished by the Moscow Chamber of Commerce.

During intermission, Homecoming queen finalists will be introduced and various talent acts will be presented. Dave Maxey will be the emcee.

All freshmen will be eligible for a gift certificate for a sweater, which will be given away during intermission. Only freshmen will be eligible for the drawing and registration for the drawing will be carried on at the door up to the time of intermission. The gift certificate was donated by Davids'.

Judy Crookham is chairman of the committee and Carol Warren is in charge of decorations. Pat Friend is publicity chairman and Mike Patton is chairman of intermission.

Derr Earns Teke Award

A 1951 University of Idaho graduate, Allen Derr, son of State Senator and Mrs. A. M. Derr of Clark Fork, was awarded Tau Kappa Epsilon national fraternity's Distinguished Service award for 1955, it was learned here today.

Derr has been editor of the fraternity's national magazine, The Teke, for three years, and during that time has also served as assistant executive secretary for the fraternity, traveling to nearly all of the group's 117 chapters throughout the country, as well as investigating new groups at new schools and bringing them into TEKE. He was formerly employed as a reporter for the Lewiston Morning Tribune, and while at the University of Idaho was editor of the Argonaut, student newspaper.

In making the presentation of the award, a loving cup, National President James C. Logan, a Kansas City attorney, cited Derr as "having done more than any member during the past year for the fraternity and those it serves."

Lewis-Clark Starts Classwork With 130 Enrolled

Classes were being held at Lewis-Clark Normal school today with 130 students registered and additional registrants still to come.

"We are highly pleased with the student interest shown in Lewis-Clark in its first year," said Dr. D. R. Theophilus, president of both the University of Idaho and Lewis-Clark. The normal school, which this year is offering freshman courses in teacher training, is being operated as a division of the university. President Theophilus added:

"The Lewiston institution has come a long way in a few months, considering that it was dormant for four years following its closing as Northern Idaho College of Education. Commendation is due all members of faculty and staff of both the normal school and university who worked so hard to meet the September opening deadline. I would like also to express my appreciation for the fine cooperation we received from the people of Lewiston."

House Presidents Meet Wednesday

The first House Presidents' meeting will be held Wednesday afternoon at 4 pm in the Borah Theatre.

Facts will be given regarding the proposed skating rink, and discussion will be held on the remodeling of the SUB that will take place next year.

3402 Students Are Registered

Fall enrollment at the University of Idaho today has already passed the predicted 3,400 mark. A total of 3,402 students had registered by Monday afternoon, and many late-registering students are still to come.

Last fall's total enrollment was 3,246. Estimates made during the summer on the basis of early applications indicated that there would probably be about a 5 per cent increase this year, but now it appears that the increase will be considerably more than 5 per cent, said D. D. DuSault, registrar.

More new students are being attracted to all the major divisions of the University, with the biggest increases being noted in the colleges of engineering, mines, forestry, education and business administration.

This year something new was added to the registration procedure. Required of all students before entering the gymnasium for the final phases of registration was a chest X-ray.

'Happens Every Thursday' Paired With Parade Film

The first ASUI film for the 1955-56 year will be shown Thursday, September 29. Showing of the movie "It Happens Every Thursday" will be held in the Borah Theatre at the SUB at 4 and 8:15 p.m. Admission is $35.

A short film of last year's Homecoming parade will also be featured. This film will last about twenty minutes, and would be a good film for social chairmen from living groups to watch to get ideas that would be of assistance in preparing plans for this year's Homecoming parade.

This first ASUI presentation is a comedy based on the autobiography of Jane S. McLivaine. Loretta Young and John Forsythe star in this story. Other stars include Frank McHugh, Edgar Buchanan and Palmer Lee. The film is a Universal-International presentation, directed by Joseph Pevney.

The movie is the story of a New York newspaper reporter who buys a small town weekly newspaper, sight-unseen, in Eden, California, and settles down there with his wife and family to make a go of the run-down publication.

"It Happens Every Thursday" has one entertaining situation that leads to another in a felicitous domestic comedy with a small-town background. The new-born baby is parked in a file drawer, lullabied by the clanking of the decrepit presses, as Loretta Young amusingly helps her editor-husband to rebuild circulation for the paper. Tales of happy young marrieds are all too rare; here is a young couple who treat their troubles lightly, with undaunted affection for each other. The comedy is well acted; the dialogue is natural and occasionally witty in a pleasant romantic story.

Good Vision—Better Driving

In Idaho, if you are of legal driving age, you can qualify for a driver's license if you can read and understand traffic signs, if you have a knowledge and understanding of traffic laws and safe driving practices, if you can handle a car with reasonable skill—and if you have good vision.

One of these qualifications—the requirement of good vision—is a physical qualification. It is included in the driver examination because it's such an important physical qualification. You can't drive if you can't see—and you can't drive safely if you don't see well, maintains the Traffic Safety Director, Harold Davis.

Unfortunately, the driver's examination can only test your potential vision. It will tell you if your eyes are good enough for adequate vision—but it cannot say if you will always be able to see danger on the highway.

Effective vision starts inside the driver's head—or to say it differently, in the driver's mind. Some drivers see things that other drivers miss even though their eyes aren't any sharper. Good vision depends on experience and common sense. This may sound wrong, but here's an explanation. A smart, experienced driver will see things that someone else would miss entirely. For example, when he sees a side road, he sees the possibility of a car entering the highway without warning. When he sees a hill, he knows that no one knows what's coming along on the other side of the hill—so he slows down. In other words, he not only sees objects, but he sees potential danger and he drives accordingly.

So you can see how sharp mental attitudes and good judgment help a good driver to see more than an average driver—because he knows what to look for.

Never drive so fast that you can't stop your car, easily, within the range of your vision. Safe driving depends on clear vision. When vision is reduced, driving speed must be reduced, warns the Traffic Safety Division.

'Tain't Funny? Don't Do It!

College students are traditionally full of pranks and jokes. These take many forms. Some are funny and innocent, others are malicious and destructive. The latter are, or should be, something to be expected from juvenile delinquents in high schools.

However we at Idaho have already heard of cars running over lawns and debris placed upon yards. These are rather childish actions when we remember that everything on campus belongs to students collectively. So, when we destroy or damage anything we hurt ourselves. The University property is ours as taxpayers and citizens of the State of Idaho. Other property of the ASUI belongs to us as members of the student body.

Fraternity and sorority property belongs to only a small segment of the student body, yet when we force this segment of our school to lose money we take that much money away from them, money which they may have used in a much more constructive way for the good of the campus.

So when we think of pranks let's grow up and not be destructive and cause ourselves to lose money. Remember, it's your property!

Dalke paid tribute to the wildlife units, pointing out that since their inception in 1935 they have provided a much-needed supply of highly-trained personnel for wildlife conservation work. About 2,200 students have been graduated from unit schools located at universities and colleges in 16 states and Alaska.

The units are designed primarily for field and laboratory research, student training, promotion of conservation education, and for guidance to conservation organizations. Sponsoring and financing the units are the Fish and Wildlife Service, the Wildlife Management Institute, land-grant colleges and state game departments.

Basic research conducted by the units has resulted in findings which have been used by conservation agencies throughout the nation to initiate or modify game laws, conduct game inventories, manage wildlife habitat, and to solve numerous conservation problems requiring fundamental facts.

ANYONE FOR FOOTBALL?
Pancho Sigafos, pale and sensitive, first saw Willa Ludovic, lithe as a hazel wand and fair as the morn, outside a class in money and banking. "Let us not hem and haw," said Pancho to Willa. "I adore you."
"Thanks, hey," said Willa, blushing prettily. "What position do you play?"
"Position?" said Pancho, looking at her askance. (The askance is a ligament just behind the ear.)

ANYONE FOR FOOTBALL?
Pancho Sigafos, pale and sensitive, first saw Willa Ludovic, lithe as a hazel wand and fair as the morn, outside a class in money and banking. "Let us not hem and haw," said Pancho to Willa. "I adore you."
"Thanks, hey," said Willa, blushing prettily. "What position do you play?"
"Position?" said Pancho, looking at her askance. (The askance is a ligament just behind the ear.)

Spokane-To-Field Greyhound Service Set For Colleges

Special Greyhound bus service between Spokane and the football stadiums at Washington State College or the University of Idaho has been arranged for the 1955 game season, announced J. H. Rosenberg, general traffic manager for Northwest Greyhound Lines.

The special football trips have been arranged on an individual fare basis, but any group may travel together on the same bus or large groups may arrange for their own charter buses at outside pick-up points with further fare reductions on full bus loads.

A round trip fare of $2.95 plus tax, will apply between Spokane and either destination. The special buses will start at 10:50 a.m. each Saturday from the Spokane Union Bus Depot at Sprague and Jefferson and go direct to the stadium at either Pullman or Moscow, returning to the Spokane bus terminal immediately following the games.

The special trips will apply to the first two games including WSC vs. UCLA at Pullman on October 1, and WSC vs. Idaho at Moscow on October 15. Similar special service will be offered for subsequent games if sufficient interest and patronage develops, Rosenberg said.

Revised State Motor Code Explained By Koehler

A detailed explanation of the security requirements of Idaho's newly revised Motor Vehicle Safety Responsibility Law was made public today by Earle E. Koehler, State Commissioner of Law Enforcement, in which he emphasized that it is not a compulsory insurance statute and cited a number of ways in which motorists can avoid loss of their driving and registration privileges if they are involved in an accident.

The law makes mandatory within 60 days the suspension of both privileges of every driver and owner who is involved in an accident in which a person is killed, injured, or property damages to any one person exceeds $50 unless they have furnished satisfactory proof of their ability to meet damage claims up to $11,000.

"It is perfectly true," Commissioner Koehler said, "that the law specifically directs that the right kind of insurance, if it was in effect at the time of the accident, shall serve as proof of ability to meet damage claims, and the suspension penalty is thereby removed automatically. But that is not the only way suspension can be avoided."

"The right kind of insurance, in the great majority of cases, will be either an automobile liability insurance policy for motor vehicle owners or an automobile liability insurance policy for drivers who are not owners. An owner's automobile liability insurance policy covers both the owner and any legally licensed driver who is operating the car with the owner's permission. A driver's policy covers a person who is not an owner but operates motor vehicles owned by other persons. The law accepts any kind of insurance that covers damage claims arising out of a motor vehicle accident. "There are several additional things motorists should understand about the kind of insurance this law accepts. It must be written by a company licensed to write insurance in Idaho. It also must provide the following minimum coverage: $1,000 for property damage; $5,000 for death or injury of one person, and $10,000 for death or injury of more than one person in one accident, or a total of $11,000 for death, injury and property damage in one accident. The insurance for non-residents may be written by a company not licensed in Idaho but which has complied with this state's insurance laws."

"Now let's consider how uninsured motorists may comply with the law. "If an owner or operator, following an accident, files a written release from liability signed by all other persons involved, the Safety Responsibility Law will be satisfied. Or he may obtain a final court decision of non-liability. He may also execute a legal written agreement with all other persons involved, providing for the payment of damage claims in installments. Or he may deposit with the Department of Law Enforcement, sufficient collateral to cover the amount of damage, in the judgment of the Department, for which he might be liable.

Koehler could not estimate how much this collateral might amount to. "If the accident is a very serious one, it could run up to $11,000, but no more, under this law. If it is a comparatively minor accident it might be as little as $51. Nor does this mean that motorists will be required to pay for damages they did not cause; they are required only to furnish satisfactory proof, in one of the manners I have cited, of their ability to pay if a court returns a judgment against them.

"It is most important, however, for all owners and drivers to understand two points: (1) all questions of fault must be settled finally or proof of ability to pay filed with the Department of Law Enforcement within 60 days after it receives a report of the accident in order to avoid suspension of both the motorist's driving licenses and the registration of all cars owned by him or her; and (2) the Department

J. W. Martin Has AG Text Published

Professor J. W. Martin, head of agricultural engineering at the University of Idaho, is co-author of a new text which explains the importance of engineering in agriculture and the relationship of agricultural engineering to agricultural science.

The book, "An Introduction to Agricultural Engineering," is being published by the McGraw-Hill company and is ready for use by fall classes. Co-author with Martin is H. F. McColly, professor of agricultural engineering at Michigan State College.

In 1954, 35,500 Americans were killed in traffic accidents.

of Law Enforcement has no authority or jurisdiction whatever to determine questions of fault under the law. If court proceedings of settlement agreements are not completed within the 60-day period, suspension will be applied regardless of fault, unless a court issues a stay order, said Koehler.

at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft

Here's something unique in education.

Near the Pratt & Whitney Aircraft plant in East Hartford, Conn., a full-fledged graduate center was established this fall by Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. Located 115 miles from R.P.I.'s home campus in upper New York State, the new graduate facilities will enable working engineers from Pratt & Whitney Aircraft and other companies in the Hartford area to continue their studies. Without interrupting normal employment, it will be possible for students to obtain advanced degrees in specialized fields from the nation's oldest engineering college.

Designed to raise the level of knowledge and to broaden the base from which advanced research can be approached, this entire program will simultaneously lead enrolled engineers to greater achievement in their careers.

Working engineers of P & W A. waiting for classes to begin at R.P.I.'s new graduate center. Courses include Aeronautical Engineering, Physics, Mathematics, Nuclear Technology, Management Training.

IDAHO TEAM DOWNED FOR SECOND LOSS

Utes Bruise Vandals For Second Defeat

Taking advantage of crucial mistakes by the University of Idaho the Utes of the University of Utah outplayed the Vandals, 20-13 Saturday in Boise in their 20th annual football clash.

Idaho's silver and gold uniformed Vandals fought the hard-charging Utes to a 13-13 deadlock in the third period, but could not hold the Utahans back as quarterback Dave Dungan heaved a 23-yard touchdown pass to halfback Lou Mele, who scored the game-winning touchdown.

Utah started its drive in the middle of the first period after the Vandals returned a punt to their 20, then lost the ball on a fumble by end Ed Hilder. Ute halfback Mele recovered the fumble and scored four plays later.

End George Boss booted the extra point, making it 7-0.

Boss Instrumental

Boss was instrumental in setting up the next Utah score in the same period as he intercepted a pass thrown by Vandal quarterback Howard Willis on Idaho's 39 yard line.

A pass from quarterback Marty Bezyack to right end Charlie Wells advanced the ball to the Vandal 24. A pair of ground-eating running plays and a personal foul penalty called on the Vandals brought the Utes to the Idaho two, Stewart Vaughan, left halfback, then crashed over for the second Utah tally.

The Vandals, who dropped their season opener, 14-7, to the powerful University of Washington Huskies, were outplayed throughout the first period, but showed new strength and solidarity as the second period opened.

The Vandals scored in the second quarter after tackle Marsh Jones recovered a fumble by right halfback Herb Nakken on the Ute's 20. It took seven plays for the Vandals to cross the stripe and break into the scoring column.

Idaho drew Utah blood again in the third period after another Utah fumble.

Fullback Wilbur Gary grabbed the fumbled ball and wound up on the Utah 47. A pass and a running play moved the pigskin to the 13 and three quarterback sneaks finally put the ball across. Tackle Jerry Kramer kicked the point to tie it at 13-13.

Tungan's 23-yard throw to Mele clinched the contest for the Utes in the final quarter.

The Utes showed superiority both in the air and on the ground. They completed six of nine pass attempts stacked against eight completions in 21 tries by the Vandals. Rushing yardage totaled 223 yards gained by the Utes versus 149 by the Idaho crew.

The Vandal football team, now losers of their first two games, will travel to Tucson, Ariz., this weekend for a Saturday night game with the strong Arizona Wildcats. Arizona is led by Art Luppino, stellar halfback, who scored three touchdowns and kicked four conversions when the Vandals were downed 35-13 at Tucson last year.

No Pep Rallies

"No pep rally for the Arizona game," said Dale Carlisle, chief yell king today. "The ball team leaves Thursday for the game and Idaho students don't seem to get excited about a game until Friday," Carlisle said.

Homecoming pep rallies are scheduled for next week.

Take Five

John B. Hughes

Now that we've had time to renew acquaintances and chew the fat with the coaching staff, let's draw a picture of the athletic outlook for the coming year. Broadest grins come from football coach Skip Stahley and basketball coach Harlan Hodges.

Then we'll rub it in with a brilliant two for five prediction record last week.

In minor sports Joe Glander, track coach, and Eric Kirkland, swimming, have indicated that help has arrived this year in the freshmen ranks.

Fems To Begin Hockey Practice On Wednesday

Women's field hockey practice will begin Wednesday afternoon at 4 p.m. on the field across the street from the Memorial Gym. Everyone interested is urged to turnout including beginners as well as experienced players.

WRA participation points will be given to all taking part.

Practices will be held every Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 4 p.m. until November, when a team will be selected to attend the field hockey tournament at Vancouver, B. C.

Miss Bernice Evans will coach the team again this year.

New Courts Are Near Completion

Three new tennis courts are nearing completion on the south side of Memorial Gym. These courts will replace the four courts located north of the Gym.

The change of location is necessary to make room for the construction of the new library building which will begin in the spring.

According to Gale Mix, ASUT General Manager, the $16,500 project will be ready for use as soon as fences are placed on the already poured concrete floor. He also stated that additional courts would have to be located some place because there is not enough room to expand the new courts.

Equestrian Club's Initial Meeting Set For Tonight

Memo to all cowboys and cowgirls: An organizational meeting of the Vandal Riders will be held to-night in the Sub Conference Room B at 6:30.

The purpose of this meeting according to Mick McCarty, president of the Riders will be to discuss plans for the coming rodeo season, which will include a big rodeo sponsored by the Vandal Riders and tentatively scheduled for the Moscow Fairgrounds on October 22 and 23rd.

All people interested in western activities are urged to attend this meeting.

The intramural manager's meeting which was printed in last week's paper as scheduled for October 27 will be held this afternoon at 4:15 in room 109 of the Memorial Gym. The previous date given was a misprint.

Sheppard Runner-Up In Wash. Amateur

Dick Sheppard, leading Idaho frosh golfer of last season and an outstanding candidate for the varsity team this year topped off a busy summer on the links by capturing second place among a star-studded field of golfers in the Washington Amateur Championships held at the Spokane Country Club in August.

Sheppard also placed first in the presidents flight at the Idaho State Open, and picked off a second in the amateur division of the Tri-City Open and was second amateur in the Idaho Open held at Twin Falls.

Sheppard moved to the finals of the Washington Amateur with wins over Dick Price, Longview, Washington, George Weishar, top golfer at Gonzaga University, Al Thomason, Vancouver, B. C., amateur and Jerry Camp, Spokane, junior. Camp is now a student at the University and should be a big help to the frosh team this season.

Sheppard eliminated Price, the tournament champ in 1953, 3 and 2.

In the finals Sheppard met up with Erv Parent, a veteran amateur from Seattle and lost a close 3 and 2 match in the 36 hole finale. Parent, last year's champion, has won numerous Northwest Amateur Tourneys and competed in this year's National Amateur Championships.

In the Tri-City Open at Kennewick, Washington, Sheppard was second to Fred Siegel, Spokane amateur in the medal play and picked up $60 in merchandise for his troubles. Sheppard also won an inscribed silver tea set for his second in the Washington Amateur and an 18 inch trophy for capturing the president's flight in the Idaho State Open.
