

Blood Donors Drained Soon

The all-campus blood drive gets into swing again next Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, October 25, 26, and 27 with the goal of 1000 pints of blood expected. The Red Cross is once again asking eligible students to donate a pint to this worthy cause.

Saturday we saw a reversal of last year's "Battle of the Palouse"—footballwise and otherwise.

The weekend activities have shown one thing—Idaho can't take it on the chin with a smile. I guess Vandaville's one taste of victory in 29 years was too much for them to handle. We seem to have forgotten that it is more important to be a good loser than a good winner.

Speaking of losers, McDevitt, Smithy and ol' Jason came out on the losing end of a pre-game challenge. Things haven't materialized as to the details, but my corns are anticipating a tiring weekend. Care to join us?

It's going to be a bloody two weeks as the Idaho Blood Drive swings into action. Goal this year is 1000 pints, so come on in and "fill em up," says Dale Carlisle, a bloody good chairman. It is rumored that the blood drive slogan this year is "I Tapped a Pint."

15 For 5 Is Dance Ratio

A nickel for fifteen minutes of dancing is the program for the annual Spur Nickel Hop Friday, October 21 from 8 to 11 p.m. All women's living groups will observe closed hours during the time of the Hop. A prize will be awarded to the living group which collects the most money.

Co-chairman of the Hop, Jan Wilms and Dorothy Drayton said, "We hope the boys will turn out for the dance because we are guaranteeing a supply of dance partners."

NOTICE

Anyone wishing to go to the Sandpoint Cosmopolitan Club banquet should sign the list in the International House so that transportation can be arranged. One group will leave Friday afternoon and another Saturday noon. Housing will be arranged.

Any person in good health may donate blood. Students under 21 years of age will need their parents' consent.

Two years ago, the University of Idaho was tops in the nation in the national collegiate blood drive. Last year, students contributed over 1650 pints of the valuable fluid.

Same Procedure

It is expected that the drive will be handled much the same as last year. There will be competition between the houses for 100 per cent donations. Last year, a kick-off dance was held to start the big drive. Something along that line is being planned for this year.

A slogan contest highlighted last year's drive. The best slogans won Flip Kleffner, last year's ASUI President, and Clara Armstrong, Homecoming queen, as "Slaves for a Day." Some of the better slogans were "Blood is the one gift you give straight from the heart," and "Part with a pint—your pint is a part." Over six hundred slogans were submitted to the contest.

Students can give blood any time between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. in the central ballroom of the SUB. Entertainment will be provided by Spurs.

The average, healthy, adult has about thirteen pints of blood in his body. The pint donated is replaced almost immediately. The healthy person will feel no effects at all after giving a pint of blood. Donation in no way lowers resistance to illness, according to the Red Cross.

3,700,000 Pints

Blood given to the Red Cross is used to supply hospitals, laboratories, and emergency blood centers. No charge is ever made for blood collected by the Red Cross through its centers.

Over 3,700,000 pints of blood per year are needed to satisfy the national need. The Red Cross supplies about 40 per cent of this. The students of the University of Idaho can do their part by giving about 15 minutes of their time, and a pint of blood.

TV ARTISTS NEEDED

Anyone interested in doing art cartoon, background shots, and illustration for TV is asked to contact Bob Tracy at the Radio Center. Tracy said artists are needed to work in the production of filmed television programs which the University is starting to produce.

Remsberg Lauds Schools At Dedication Saturday

Pointing out that "the unprecedented standard of living enjoyed by the people of the United States today could not have been achieved unless our educational system had been good," John D. Remsberg, president of the University of Idaho board of regents, urged that more stress be given to the "good things about education."

Remsberg gave the dedicatory address for Gault and Upham dormitories Oct. 15. Turning to Idaho education in particular, Remsberg referred to a recent national magazine article which shows Idaho tied with Connecticut for 14th place in over-all ratings.

"While Idaho is outraged greatly when considering the money spent per pupil — Idaho is in 34th place in this respect — it ranks high when it comes to results obtained," said Remsberg. "We are rated in the excellent class slightly below our neighboring states, Oregon and Washington, but above California, Utah, Wyoming and Nevada."

Remsberg said he hoped the students in the new dormitories would take advantage of the many opportunities to get together and discuss problems. He stated:

"In this connection I would like to rise to the defense of the average student. I would defend him against the exceptional student who has become an isolationist to secure for himself alone the benefits of this university. The principal purpose of an education is to teach people to live together in harmony and to join in mutual enterprises."

Dr. D. R. Theophilus, President of the University, who presided at the dedication ceremonies, pointed out the significance of the dedication of Gault and Upham dormitories on the day of the annual football game with Washington State College. He said:

"Former President Franklin B. Gault, who served from 1892 to 1898, was thus president in 1894—the year the University of Idaho played its first football game with Washington State College, and defeated the college 10 to 0. Dr. Alfred H. Upham was president of the University during what was perhaps an even more significant football period. He was president from 1920 to 1928, and had the pleasure of watching Idaho defeat Washington State three years in a row. In 1923, Idaho won, 14 to 0; in 1924, 19 to 3, and in 1925, 7 to 6."

Responses were given by the two student presidents of the dormitory — Homer Oberst for Gault, and Jerry Walsh for Upham.

'Battle Of The Palouse'

Bedlam broke loose as thousands of WSC and Idaho students raced onto the playing field as the final gun sounded at Saturday's annual battle of the Palouse. A near riot occurred as the students from Cougarville tried vainly to tear down the goalposts.

Full Crowd Hears Pair On Friday

Meredith Willson and his wife, Rini, performed before a packed house last Friday in Memorial Gym. At one of the best attended programs in U of I history, the entire audience was captivated by the quality of the music and humor.

Willson, a nationally known musician, in his new role as a musical lecturer, is possibly best known for his radio and TV appearances. His wife is a successful concert singer in her own right.

Also a successful songwriter, Willson and his wife sang three of his hit-parade numbers, "Iowa," "You and I," and "I See the Moon."

The program ended with the Willsons inviting the audience to join them in "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You," another of his hit tunes.

Besides being a musician, songwriter, and lecturer, he has also written serious compositions, marches, anthems and musical scores for a number of films. An autobiographical best seller, "And There I Stood With My Piccolo," was written by Mr. Willson, and his novel "Who Did What To Fedelia?" was published in 1952.

UN Day Observed By Cosmo, IRC Clubs

The tenth anniversary of the UN was celebrated a week early on the Idaho campus with a panel discussion on the United Nations. The moderator was Dr. William H. Tenney and students and professors from the following countries presented their views on the United Nations and what it has accomplished or failed to accomplish over its first ten years.

Assisting Dr. Tenney on the panel were Professor K. R. Charya from India who represented Liberia because of the United Nations work he has done there. Professor Julio Pena represented Ecuador and Professor Beringer represented Germany.

Students on the panel were Chankaur Singh Barr of India, Hosien Rafiee of Iran, Abdul Kamal of Syria, Seto Jo of Formosa, Sverre Daehli of Norway and Olga Figueroa of Guatemala, and Jim Kruger.

Bernie Henderson, Cosmo Club President, opened the panel by introducing Dr. Tenney who in turn made a few comments about foreign students on campus. He said that there are approximately 80 students on campus from foreign countries and Canada leads the list with about 30 students. Norway has 18 students here and India is represented by 8 students. Each of the panelists presented

Ag Bawl, FFA Bar-B-Q, Highlight Aggie Weekend

The annual harvest feature of the campus will be the Ag Bawl, sponsored by the Ag Club, Saturday, Oct. 22 at 9 p.m. in the SUB ballrooms. The Ag Bawl is in connection with the Bar-B-Q sponsored by the University of Idaho FFA, which will be held at the University Field house Saturday from 6 to 7:30 p.m.

The Bawl begins at 9 p.m. Saturday. The price is $1.50 per couple.

The orchestra will be the "Harmomettes," a girl's combo from Spokane. The evening will include some square dancing but mostly ballroom dancing.

A western theme will be carried out in the decorations. The dress

Half Time Presentation

The "Clarence S. (Hec) Edmondson Inspirational Football Player Award" trophy is shown being presented to Dr. D. R. Theophilus, (right) President of the University of Idaho, by John Blanton, (second from right), president of Kappa Sigma fraternity during the WSC-Idaho game. Each year the name of the most inspirational player will be inscribed on the permanent trophy, and the winner will also receive a small gold cup. Edmondson, (second from left) was named one of the 10 greatest all-time basketball coaches by the Helms Athletics Foundation. In 27 years he guided the University of Washington to 10 Northern Division and three Pacific Coast Conference championships. Ted Miller (left), was chairman of the fraternity's anniversary celebration.

Intramural Debate Time Here Soon

Dates and the rules for the annual Delta Sigma Rho all-campus intramural debate tournament were announced today by the co-chairmen, Charles Oldham of the men's division and Joy Chilcott for the women. The tournament is sponsored by Delta Sigma Rho, national speech honorary, and is open to any college team which has never participated in a college debate tournament. Each team will pay an entrance fee of one dollar to help defray the costs of the tournament.

The men's tournament will be held Saturday, Nov. 5 and the women's tournament the following week. A meeting for interested men's team has been scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 20 in Conference Room B at 4:10 to explain some of the rules of debate and to point out where material for the question might be found.

The winning teams will have their names inscribed on suitable trophies to be presented to their living group. A feature new to the tournament will be a debate between the winners of the men's and women's tournament with the winner to be presented with the Dean Holyoak Memorial Trophy.

Students interested in participating are urged to contact Dr. A. E. Whitehead of the speech department or co-chairmen.

150 Couples Attend Hop

One hundred fifty couples waltzed and bopped to the music of Cec Heick and his Notables at the publication mixer last Saturday, after the Palouse battle.

Intermission entertainment featured Ralph and Louretta Alley, accompanied by Marie Van Orman. Ralph and Louretta gave impersonations of the Bell Sisters and one of Johnny Ray as part of their act. Fred Burrows emceed during intermission.

Football coach Skip Stahley who gave a short speech for himself and the team said that the squad played a good game, and just made a few mistakes. He wasn't disappointed in the team, they have played good all year, he continued. With a team so heavily populated with underclassmen, Stahley is sure of a good team in two or three years. The players are just getting experience now, he concluded.

Gary Pietsch and Jamie Steele were co-chairmen of the dance, sponsored by the Arg and Gem. Louise Tatko was intermission chairman and Marlon Briggs was in charge of ticket sales with Jim Bell handling publicity.

Kiddies Hour Wrecks Game

The traditional Idaho-WSC game turned out to be more than just a football battle this year. Idaho lost the game, but that was only the beginning.

WSC Student Hurt Saturday Night As Accidents Continue

A Washington State College student was seriously injured and two cars were damaged extensively in two accidents that took place late Saturday night and early Sunday morning.

John Albert Shuttee, 26, suffered severe head, abdomen, and chest injuries when his car left the road and overturned about 12:15 a.m. Sunday morning, on highway 95 some 10 miles north of Moscow. His condition is reported to be "serious" by his attending physician. He is being treated at Gritman hospital.

A three car collision involving Mike W. Mahoney, Pullman, Loyal E. Talbot, and James L. Carrico both of Moscow, took place about 11:00 o'clock Saturday night three miles north of Moscow.

State Patrolman Kenneth DeYoung, said the Shuttee accident may have been caused by a blown tire.

Company Grants Are Large Share Of Scholarship

A $5,185 grant for the Hebla-Bunker Hill Scholarship fund was included in a total of $7,445 in scholarship awards formally accepted by the board of regents, announced D. R. Theophilus, President of the University of Idaho.

Other gifts to the University included $500 from the Culler, Gale & Martell architectural firm in Spokane to establish a scholarship in architecture; $500 from the American Smelting & Refining company for a scholarship, and $125 from the Presser Foundation of Philadelphia, Pa., as the first half of its award.

The Moscow Lions club presented scholarships totaling $300 to six students. Recipients are Agnes Bergman, Jim Nelson, Barbara Carlson, Rudy Johnson, Larry Gotschalk, and Larry LaBolle.

Other individual scholarship winners included Carolyn Edwards, $400 from the Boise Pan Hellenic association; Daphne Hellemons, $150 from Mrs. Marie K. Wormward of Kellogg; Norma Callender, $110 as the balance of her First Security bank scholarship.

Janemarie Smith, $75 from the Twin Falls PTA; Doris Gissel, $50 from the Ontario, Ore., branch of the American Association of University Women, and Joseph Erramouspe and Jim Kay, $25 each from the Idaho State Federation of Labor.

Drew Pearson's Charges Called False By Welker

Herman Welker, junior United States senator from Idaho, made what he said was his first and "only" reply to "lies" told about him by Drew Pearson, author of the daily newspaper column "The Washington Merry-Go-Round." The senator spoke on "What it is to be a United States Senator" at a public meeting sponsored by the Latah County Republican Women's Club.

The senator said he hired two University of Idaho students last spring to be on the lookout for a lecturer "who had taken refuge 150 times behind the Fifth amendment" when appearing before the Senate Internal Securities subcommittee, of which Welker is a member.

Pearson last spring had charged that the Idaho senator put the two on his senatorial payroll while they attended the University and performed no work. Welker last night identified the lecturer as William Hinton, whom he charged had slipped into the United States through the back door after "peddling propaganda" to American

Up till the final gun, the game went like any other gridiron battle. As the game drew to a close, Idaho students started leaving their seats and crowding down towards the playing field.

Idaho students were determined to save the goal posts from the victorious Cougars. In the hour or two that followed, fists flew, clothes were ripped, and bedlam reigned in general.

The action seemed to focus around the west goalpost. Time after time WSC students tried to tear the iron posts to the ground, only to be repulsed by the Vandals. Scattered fights broke out, and black eyes, cut lips and torn clothes were a common sight.

Two Idaho students climbed to the top of the goal post, and prevented any Cougars from gaining this position. One brave soul from Washington who tried to climb the pole, came down minus his pants. Numerous shirts and sweaters were worn for the last time that afternoon.

Firemen Called
The first department was called to dispel the crowd with water, but could not come due to a lack of water to spray on the mob.

While all this display of good sportsmanship was going on, the Cougar band tried vainly to stop the riot. Among the tunes they played was the "Star Spangled Banner," but the battlers were not impressed. The Idaho band surveyed the situation and left.

The Cougars did not go home empty handed, however. They borrowed the Idaho state flag, valued at over 300 dollars. Numerous Idaho students converged on Pullman Saturday night in an attempt to recover the flag, but were unsuccessful.

It is reported that on Sunday night, Idaho students went to Pullman and salted an "M" in the Cougar gridiron. Workmen toiled all yesterday afternoon replacing sod on the field.

2 a.m. Brawl
Fights continued Saturday night all over town. About 2 o'clock Sunday morning, police were called to stop a brawl at the stadium between about 85 WSC students and several of the Idaho males. The Dean of Men from WSC came over to Moscow to intervene in the disturbance. Moscow police report that there were no serious fights, but that several students were suffling around when they arrived.

Negotiations are underway between Dean Decker, and the Dean of Men of WSC for the return of the Idaho state flag. Nothing definite has been decided as yet.

CE STEAKS TO FRY
Civil engineering students are invited to attend the ASCE annual fall steak fry Friday, October 21. Students will leave the Engineering building for Robinson Lake at 4:30 and will return in time for the Nickel Hop. Signing for the fry must be done before noon Thursday. Charge is $1.25 per person.

We Don't Like 'Vandals'

Is your face red? If you're an Idaho student it should be. What kind of sports are we, anyway?

Saturday night some very brave people had to go to WSC and prove what poor sports they were. So we lost the game. Does that call for an outburst of juvenile vandalism, vandalism in its worst connotation?

Last year when we beat WSC we tore down the goalposts. Fine, we had won the game and we did it in broad daylight in front of the WSC student body. However, we settled down to a sensible quiet celebration afterwards. As a matter of fact not one instance of disturbance was even reported.

And what about WSC? They didn't even bother us. The people across the line took their defeat like true sportsmen. They even brought over a good-sized delegation of students to show their spirit.

Personally, this writer doesn't have an overdose of love for the cow college, but they certainly had a better attitude than we did this year. Our "students" (?) who salted an "I" in WSC's field certainly did not show anything except how to be poor losers.

One sure mark of good sportsmanship is being a good sport win or lose. And, one sure mark of a sour sport is a poor loser, or winner. How about it, Idaho? Are we going to be classed as a sour grapes school from now on?

Crowd Was Pretty Thin

Yesterday the Cosmopolitan Club and the International Relations Club presented a panel discussion on the United Nations. This is rather a significant year for the UN. It has been ten years since the San Francisco conference inaugurated the United Nations. At San Francisco it was agreed that after one decade the United Nations charter would come up for automatic review. Well, this is the big year.

Now a question. Where were the students while this panel was in session? After getting professors and students from nine different counties, other than our own, to give up their time and prepare reviews of the UN the student body responded to the IRC and Cosmo Club's panel with a handful of listeners.

Students who are at the University of Idaho to learn what they can, certainly didn't take this opportunity to broaden their education. It truly was a rare opportunity, for where else, outside of the UN, could one hear the combined opinions of people from nine different nations?

The response to this panel should be considered as a danger sign in our school. When the thirst for knowledge slackens and apathy sets in our educational standards decrease, along with the level of knowledge our students possess.

The panel was presented jointly by the Cosmopolitan Club and International Relations Club as a celebration of United Nations Week which is from October 17 to the 24. Governor Smylie has officially declared the 24th as United Nations Day.

A group of fresh recruits in the Navy was gathered dismally by the rail on their first day at sea. An old salt joined them and inquired sarcastically, "What's the matter, Jones, got a weak stomach?"

"Hell, no," snapped Jones, "I'm throwing it as far as the others."

Dear Jason

DEAR JASON: First, let me extend my congratulation to President Theophilus, the Vets' group, yourself and the many other Idaho faculty and students on the positive stand concerning the appearance of Dr. R. M. Hutchins, noted ex-prexy of the University of Chicago.

At last a stand has been taken in the Pacific Northwest to wipe out the unfortunate blot earlier this year of the cancellation of Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer's appearance at the University of Washington. (I wholeheartedly agree with you in pointing out that censorship, whether it be of words or ideas, can lead to the fundamental collapse of the principles of democracy.)

Idaho, far from being labeled progressive, should be called retrogressive. For such clear cut answers to a flagrant mis-interpretation of "the American way" are characteristic of the earlier days of the United States when the Bill of Rights had full literal meaning—when, for example, (a man could express his opinion without fear of being labeled un-American merely because he differed in thought from some group.) Those days you could hold your head high when saying "I may disagree with what you say, but I will fight for your right to say it." Those days are not gone—at Idaho, at least.

Sincerely yours,
Joe D. Corless

U.S. Civil Service Sponsors Exams

A new examination is now open for student trainee positions in the fields of physics, metallurgy, chemistry, cartography, engineering, mathematics, meteorology, and oceanography, the U.S. Civil Service Commission has announced. The jobs are in the Potomac River Naval Command and in various other Federal agencies in Washington, D.C., and the nearby area, and pay from $2,680 to $3,415 a year.

College students who have completed either one, two, or three years of study leading to a bachelor's degree with major study in one of the optional fields listed above may apply. The program consists of periods of on-the-job training at a Federal agency alternating with attendance at a cooperating college or university.

Further information and application forms may be obtained at any post office or from the U.S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, 25, D.C.

What young people are doing at General Electric

Young engineer pioneers in design and sales of new tiny transistors

The germanium transistor—some smaller than the eraser end of a pencil and able to operate on a few thousandths of a watt—is probably one of the most promising developments in the electronics field today. It opens the way to new midget radios, TV sets flat enough to hang on a wall and many other exciting possibilities.

One of the men who helped design and perfect these tiny transistors—and the man who is now head of sales for all General Electric germanium products—is James H. Sweeney, Manager—Marketing, Semiconductor Products Department.

Sweeney's Work Interesting, Vital

As early as 1948, Sweeney was head of a group that studied the design and possible uses of germanium products. He gained national recognition for his work in developing and introducing these products to other industries, and when a new Semiconductor Products Department was formed in 1953, Sweeney was a natural choice for the job of marketing these products.

25,000 College Graduates at General Electric

When Sweeney came to General Electric in 1941, he worked in many different departments until he finally found the work he wanted to do. Like Sweeney, each of the 25,000 college-graduate employees is given the chance to grow, to find the work he does best, and to realize his full potential. For General Electric has long believed this: When fresh young minds are given the freedom to make progress, everybody benefits—the individual, the company, the country.

Progress Is Our Most Important Product

GENERAL ELECTRIC

JAMES H. SWEENEY joined G.E. in 1941 after graduating with a B.S. degree in E.E. from the University of Pennsylvania. During World War II he served four years with the Army.

Phi Taus Dance October 22 Also

Sigma Chis held a successful pledge barn dance, in fact the first of the season while many are being planned for next weekend, including Phi Kappa Tau, Beta and Phi Delta Alpha Chi Omega.

A surprise fireside was held Thursday night announcing the pledge dance as November 5. Barbara Keller is general chairman. Wednesday evening the pledges had an exchange with the Sigma Chis at which everyone had a wonderful time.

Jan Hale announced the taking of Ken Goodman's pin and awaits the mattress ride, but doesn't know about the cooking of breakfast. Janet Harding is now wearing the Delta Sig pin of John Laut. Congratulations!

For outstanding work during rush Janet Daigh was presented the traditional carnation at dinner Sunday.

The Sigma Nook might have the Alpha Chi's cook, but Friday the girls showed up for dinner at the neighbor's house—little surprised?

UPHAM HALL
Dedication of Upham was October 15 with Jerry Walsh, hall president, giving the response.

Besides Jerry the offices are filled by: Carlisle Russell, veep; Dale Smelcer, secretary; Chuck Walter, treasurer; Bjorn Fremming, social chairman and Lee Thurber, intramural manager.

SIGMA CHI
Sig Chis had the annual pledge dance—barn dance, that is—Friday night. Rod Burton's combo provided the music.

Transportation was via trucks "hayride" style. Seventy-five couples attended while the pledges and dates enjoyed the intermission "fun?"

Harvey Bickett and Chuck Deger returned this weekend to witness the "battle of the Palouse."

WSC-Idaho Host Meet

The University of Idaho and Washington State College will be co-hosts to the annual meeting of the West Coast Instructors in Architecture organization October 28 and 29. Representatives from 11 western institutions are scheduled to take part in the two-day session.

Training in architecture and architectural engineering, and the continuing problems in these fields are subject up for discussion. Delegates will also discuss the possibilities of improving professional education to provide some experience in the special areas of architecture and architectural engineering.

The October 28 meeting will be at WSC, with the banquet session and October 29 conference at Idaho. Among those scheduled to speak here are Herbert McKean, research director for Potlatch Forests Inc. The annual meetings were brought about by a desire on the part of professional schools of architecture to exchange ideas on methods and subjects pertaining to the teaching of architecture.

WE LOST; WALKATHON IS THIS WEEKEND

Two Vandal Drives Fail As Team Drops Fifth

By Jim Golden
The Cougars from the Cow College nine miles away dropped in on the Vandals from the U of I for about three hours last Saturday. The occasion was the annual "Battle of the Palouse," a spectacular affair in which 22 men battle it out for a coveted victory. While here they played football. And a good time was had by all. Also on hand at the affair were several referees and about 16,000 spectators who stopped at Neale Stadium to view the entertainment. Oh, by the way, the silver and gold lost. The score was 9-0. Like to hear about it? Well then, a-way we go.

Field Goal
Idaho's Vandals, playing potent football for nearly three quarters of their annual football clash, lost their defensive power in the last period, and bowed to their arch-rivals, the WSC Cougars, 9-0 last Saturday.

The Cougars' scoring came on a 28-yard field goal in the second period and a six-pointer in the third quarter.

The loss was a complete reversal of the 10-0 Vandal victory last year.

WSC Held
The silver and gold held back the favored WSC team for all the first half and well into the second half with the exception of the field goal off the talented toe of Frank Sarno, Cougar quarterback.

That came in the second quarter after a 67-yard punt return by halfback Jim Hagerty, who brought the ball to the Idaho 11. Four plays later, Sarno booted the 3-pointer to put WSC in the lead.

Idaho's big threats came at the onset of the game and late in the second period. In neither case, however, could the home team break across the magic chalk line and rack up points.

First Drive
The first drive started with a 17-yard kick off return by right half Ron Braden. His return signaled a march which threatened to push the Cougars all the way back. But the Idahoans lost the ball after a fourth down pass was incomplete, lost three yards and gave the pigskin to the Cougars.

The silver and gold again had the ball and were headed in the general direction of the Cow College's goal as the quarter ended.

Idaho Threat
In the second period, the Vandals pushed to the Cougar 39, then punted on a fourth down. Hagerty latched onto the ball and

Bob Campbell Top Medalist In ASUI Golf Championship

Veteran Bob Campbell copped ASUI golf championship medalist honors with an even par 70 to top a field of 24 qualifiers. The deadline for qualifying was Sunday and a comparatively small group are entered.

Campbell and the seven other lowest qualifiers will constitute the Vandal squad to enter eight-man Lewis-Clark team competition beginning at the Moscow Elk's course October 23. Other teams to be represented are the Moscow Elks, the Lewiston Elks and possibly the Clarkston Country Club. Each club will host a match during the competition.

Steady Bob Adamson will hold down the number 2 spot by virtue of his 71. Rounding out the team will be John Benzin 73, Dick Sheppard and Gary Wagner 74, Clyde Sheppard 75, and Tom Miller and John Rosholt both at 76.

Match Competition
In match competition Bob Adamson, the defending ASUI champion, Bob Campbell and John Benzin drew first-round byes. Also in the championship flight Jamie Steele takes on John Rosholt, Gary Wagner meets Dick Sheppard, Clyde Sheppard plays Larry Comstock, and Tom Miller is paired against Jerry Camp.

First flight action sees Wisdom vs. Buyers, Shirley vs. Ekelund, and Compton vs. Hiller. Only Parrish drew opening round first-flight bye.

Third flight pitch Shumaker against Nixon this week. The fourth flight sees Denny against Henry.

All first round losers will continue competition in a drop flight as the tourney is double-elimination.

First round matches must be played by October 23.

headed downfield to set up the first score.

Idaho threatened again near the close of the half. Soph halfback Larry Norby grabbed a pass from quarterback Howard Willis on the Cougar seven and put the Vandals in real contention. Three plays later quarterback Gary Johnson let fly a pass into the end zone on a fourth down, but it was blocked. Officials ruled that his forward motion had crossed the line of scrimmage and Idaho got credit for the first penalty of the ball game.

Cougars Take Charge
After that, the Cougars took charge and in the fourth period began a ground-eating drive to paydirt.

A 23-yard pass from quarterback Bob Iverson to end Pete Toomey advanced the ball to the 46, after which the WSC team stuck to the ground. A pitch-out to Bill Steiger was the play that marked the last scoring of the day. Sarno attempted the extra point, which was blocked by Rog Randolph.

The remaining minutes were filled with action as the ball traded sides numerous times. Idaho had possession as the final gun sounded.

The end of the game signaled the start of a minor riot as Vandals successfully fought to protect their goal posts from Washington fans bent on taking them home as souvenirs.

INTRAMURALS

Delta Tau Delta and Phi Delta warmed up for their big match scheduled for Thursday that should decide the champion in League 2, both winning easy decisions in touch football games yesterday afternoon.

The smooth running Delt squad rolled to their third straight victory by whipping once beaten Sigma Chi 21 to 12.

Phi Deltas kept pace with the Deltas by trouncing Alpha Tau Omega 24 to 0. The loss was the ATO's third against one win.

In other games yesterday, Sigma Nu edged out Kappa Sigma 9 to 6 and Willis Sweet Hall 1, Gault Hall 2 and Upham Hall 1 all won by default.

Phi Gamma Delta still lead League one with a 5 and 0 record. DTD and PDT are tied for the League 2 lead with 3 and 0 apiece.

Gault Hall 1 and Willis Sweet Hall 1 each have won two and lost none to share top spot in League 3 and Lindley Hall are perched alone atop League 4 with 4 wins and no losses.

Idaho Cosmo Club Down WSC Sunday In Soccer Match

The University of Idaho's foreign student soccer team defeated WSC Sunday by a score of 2-1 in one of the hardest fought games yet between the two schools.

Played at Pullman, the Washington team scored in the beginning of the first half with a hard-kicked ball, well-placed in the corner of the goal, out of Idaho goalkeeper Sverre Daehli's reach.

Ronald Mugerud tied the score for Idaho fifteen minutes later, and Helge Gagnum scored the winning point near the end of the first half after the WSC keeper had stopped the kick once.

The game is played without a break for two 35 minute halves.

Others playing on the winning team were: Inge Eikland, Arne Thune, Ole Westerheim, Thor Haug, Mouin Zought, Henning Olsen, Erik Berggren, Reidar Ullvalster, and Per Windju.

Over 100 PE Majors Attend Steak Fry

The distaff side will renew the recent Battle of the Palouse Oct. 29 when a WRA field hockey team will take on the WSC contingent.

Practice dates for the big game are Wednesday, Thursday and Friday starting at 4 p.m. Four practices are required.

Tennis finals are also slated for this week.

Physical education majors, 100 strong, attended a picnic Sunday afternoon. Frying steaks was Dr. Green, head of the P. E. department and Eric Kirkland led singing later.

A tea is scheduled today for members of the Women's "I" club at the Women's Gym. It will be held from 9 to 5 and all girls are invited to attend.

Two Vandal Drives Fizzle

1. Bill Baxter, hard-driving Vandal halfback, goes for some yardage in Saturday's clash with the Cougars. Ed Resa (63) is out in front blocking for him. Tom Gunnari (67) stellar WSC tackle closes in for the kill.

2. Ron Braden (43) runs into a host of Cougar tacklers as he makes a short gain. The speedy Vandal halfback turned in a good performance in the game. Again Gunnari is shown at the far right.

Vandal Riders Prep For Rodeo This Weekend

by Neal K. Powell
Vandal Riders and other interested Idaho students are progressing rapidly with plans for the first Intercollegiate Rodeo in the Inland Empire this year.

The first performance of the two day event, bigger and better than ever, according to Mick McCarty, Rider Prexy, is scheduled to start with the Grand Entry at 2 p.m. this Saturday at the Moscow Rodeo Grounds, northeast of the city on the Troy road. The final go-around will be same time, same place on Sunday.

Special Events
In addition to the regular rodeo events such as saddle bronc riding, bull-dogging, and calf roping, the Vandal Riders have concocted a couple of new events in order to give those students on the U of I campus who like the sport of rodeo riding, but find it too expensive to "operate a ranch" and go to school at the same time, a chance to have their fun and show their "stuff."

For the women's living groups, the rodeo will feature competition in a Girl's Ribbon Tying class. Teams of two girls from each living group will try to catch a calf with a colored ribbon around his neck, untie this ribbon, and carry it to the judge. The first team that gets the ribbon to the judge is the winner for the day. A trophy will be awarded to the living group that has the best average times for the two days.

More Entertainment
To provide more entertainment on a larger scale, the men's living groups will compete in a wild cow milking contest (no roping skill necessary—a rope will already be around the critter's neck). Working in three man teams, the object will be to put enough milk in a pop bottle so that it will pour out when the team gets their bottle to the judge, that is. A trophy will likewise be awarded to the winning living group based on a two day average.

Both of these special events will be under a time limit of five minutes, so there will be plenty of hustling. Living groups are encouraged to unwrap their would-be cowboys and cowgirls and join the fun by contacting Chuck Alford, Sigma N, phone 2465, and entering the events.

CHALK TALK

with Don Neville Smith
Note, the new heading. Due to circumstances beyond our control "Jock Talk" was buried along with the last issue. New column, better predictions (five out of ten isn't so hot).

The Battle of the Palouse is over for another year, but what a battle it was while it lasted. The Vandals gave it all they had but it wasn't quite enough to turn aside a fired up Cougar team from across the state line.

However, Idaho did gain one bit of satisfaction from an otherwise dismal day, when several hundred students successfully defended our goalposts from numerous WSC thrusts. Several rousing fistic engagements enlightened the day for the good portion of the game crowd of 16,000 who stayed after the final gun to watch the proceedings on the field. Last year after the Idaho victory in Pullman the Roger's Field goalposts came down in less than five minutes.

Vandal's Idle
The Vandals are idle this weekend, getting back into action Oct. 29 when they travel to Eugene to meet University of Oregon Ducks, one of the several teams that upset our predictions last Saturday.

Several stars emerged from the WSC-Idaho clash on both sides. Outstanding for the Vandals was veteran end Roger Randolph. Rog was inserted into the starting lineup in place of the injured Ed Hilder and turned in a bang up performance. Randolph picked off several passes and blocked the extra point after the Cougar only TD.

Larry Norby pulled off the catch of the day when he made a diving grab of Nick Ugesich's long toss to the WSC 7 in the second quarter.

Soph Backs
A pair of big hard running sophomore halfbacks looked particularly impressive for Al Kircher's squad. Rey Alvarado, 188 pounds and Bill Steiger, 179 pounds repeatedly cracked through the Vandal line for good gains.

Tom Gunnari, burly Cougar tackle lived up to his advance notices playing a strong game in the line. He was in on numerous tackles and repeatedly was harassing Idaho's quarterbacks.

Love is like a poker game: it takes a pair to open, she gets a flush, he shows a diamond, and it ends with a full house.

The excited young mother called to her husband: "The baby has swallowed the matches."
He called back: "Here, use my cigarette lighter."
