Dad's Activities Nearly Washed Out

Thetas Take Two Trophies For Wet Dad's Weekend

Kappa Alpha Theta took two trophies in the annual Dad's Day competition. The girls won first place in women's house decorations, and were awarded the trophy for the highest percentage of dads present, with 30 percent of the dads being present.

Yesterday Jason spent a good share of the afternoon in a meeting with the ASUI- Executive Board and Stan Glass, President of the National Student Association discussing the pros and cons of an effective NSA program on the University of Idaho campus.

Prior to this informative discussion, Jason witnessed a feeling of indifference toward NSA, but at the conclusion of Stan Glass' explanation of what it is and how it works there seemed to prevail a much warmer feeling toward the subject. The ASUI Executive Board and other officials were as ignorant of NSA's benefits as the rest of the entire University of Idaho student body. They based their prior opinions on hearsay—not factual figures and informative explanations.

Stan Glass accomplished one thing during this three hour discussion. That was to clear the air here at Idaho and afforded the ASUI Executive Board for the first time a real glimpse of what the whys and wherefores of NSA are.

Seeking concrete examples where NSA could help the Idaho campus, Glass was besieged with questions concerning all facets of University life. For every question he had a ready answer, not only from his own source of information, but from information that NSA had accumulated in its files for just such use. He explained that this was the field that the national organization could render the most help. Through NSA as a coordinating agency, schools could exchange information on how problems were met and solved on other campuses, applying that which was applicable to their own particular situation.

Representatives from the Washington State College committee on the National Student Association were also present at the meeting. They expressed a firm desire to develop an effective regional NSA association encompassing the schools in the Pacific Northwest. The Idaho Executive Board seemed to be in favor of this proposal also.

In this writer's opinion, all NSA needs to be a success on the Idaho campus was to have competent student leaders that understood and believed in the National Student Association. With this new realization that this national organization can be of real use to the Idaho student body, NSA may rate a chance on our campus.

To quote Stan Glass, "NSA can only be effective on campuses whose students are aware of the good that it can do." Jason is sure that a few Executive Board members are now aware of the good that this organization can do. It remains for them to impart this knowledge to the Idaho student body.

Idaho Ensigns Learn To Fly

Navy Ensign Ray D. Sipes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dell R. Sipes of Lewiston made his first solo flight at Whiting Field, U. S. Naval Auxiliary Air Station in Milton, Florida last week. Ensign Sipes graduated from the university last spring prior to entering the navy.

Naval Aviation Cadet James W. Thomas was graduated from the U. S. Naval Pre-Flight School in Pensacola, Florida on October 22.

Beta Theta Pi won first place in men's house decorations. Second place honors went to Pi Beta Phi and Sigma Chi. The trophy for the house having the dad from farthest away was awarded to Alpha Phi. Ex-University of Idaho President Jesse Buchanan came from College Park, Maryland for the big weekend.

The beard growing contest, which ended Thursday evening, resulted in a tie between Delta Chi and Delta Sigma Phi for the house having the highest percentage of beards. Three houses were disqualified from the competition. Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Phi Gamma Delta, and Phi Kappa Tau had "over 100 per cent" participation and were not eligible for awards. Individual honors went to R. J. Newman, Campus Club, longest; Tom Olson, SAE, healthiest; and Ray Morgan, Willis Sweet Hall, most novel. Morgan's beard spelled out "Pop."

The individual winners received their awards at the rally, Friday night. The crowd was surprised when Tom Olson, winner of the healthiest beard award showed up clean shaven.

Saturday, a determined crowd of about 1200 braved the rain and cold to watch the Vandals wash out the Montana Grizzlies. Other dads were content to stay at the living groups and listen to the game on the radio.

Saturday evening, about 250 couples and 150 dads danced to the music of Cec Heick's orchestra at the "Pop's Hop." The crowd was good, considering the weather, according to Gale Mix, ASUI general manager.

Sunday, dads were again entertained at many of the living groups before starting the trip home.

General Electric Presents Award To Idaho Student

Allen Stubberud, University of Idaho senior in electrical engineering from Ponderay, has been awarded a $500 scholarship by the General Electric company.

Selected on the basis of activities and promise of success in the engineering profession, Stubberud won the scholarship in competition with students from five Northwest engineering schools. He was presented the award by G. W. Wimer, General Electric sales engineer at Spokane, and J. B. Holmes of engineering services from Schenectady, N. Y.

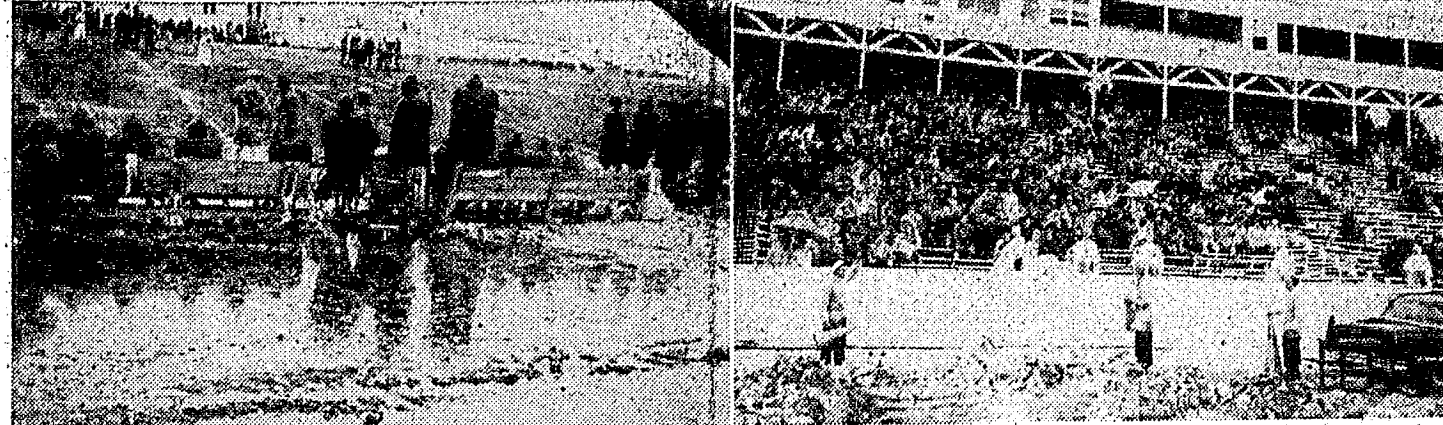

A graduate of Sandpoint high school, Stubberud has been active in campus affairs. He is a member of Sigma Tau, honorary engineering fraternity; American Institute of Electrical Engineers student chapter, and the Associated Engineers organization. During his freshman year he won the Sigma Tau award for the highest scholastic record.

Stanford Offers Journalism Grants

The Stanford University Department of Communication and Journalism is now receiving applications for graduate scholarships in journalism for the 1956-57 academic year. The scholarships carry stipends from $1,200 to $2,400 and total $11,800.

Requests for additional information should be addressed to the Executive Head, Department of Communication and Journalism, Stanford University, Stanford, Calif. January 15 is the deadline for applications.

WILL ENTER TEAM
Nationalist China's Olympic Committee reversed its stand yesterday and decided to participate in the 1956 Olympic Games whether or not Red China takes part.

So this is football? Muddy, ice cold water covered the gridiron in Neale stadium Saturday as the Vandals pleased a sparse Dad's Day crowd with a 31 to 0 victory over Montana.

"Neither rain nor sleet nor snow." The undaunted cheerleaders and pom pom girls kept things going at Saturday's sloppy, slushy football game as a few brave souls looked on.

Hutchins Calls Communism Threat

Dr. Robert Hutchins Sunday admitted that the Fund for the Republic considers Communism the most serious menace to civil liberties in the United States. The chairman of the Fund sharply denied however, the Fund is soft toward Communism or undermining the security of the U. S. government.

Dr. Hutchins spoke at a radio news panel in Washington, D. C., "Meet the Press," and was queried by some of the nation's top news personnel. The controversial educator is to speak at the University of Idaho in January and his appearance has been disapproved by the Idaho Department of the American Legion.

In regards to hiring personnel for the Fund, Dr. Hutchins said that neither he nor the association agree to a system of blacklisting individuals through guilt by association without due process of law.

"An individual must be considered in his merits," Dr. Hutchins said in reply to hiring possible "fifth amendment" or known communist. Last week he said that he would maintain personal supervision over such individuals.

"The Fund for the Republic," the educator said, "believes that individuals should be allowed to stand on their own rights. That is the American principle."

SPIVAK ASKS
Charles Spivak, a regular member of the Press panel, asked Dr. Hutchins if he would hire a communist for a job in an organization which is fighting communism. The fund is currently making a study of communistic efforts in the States, in which a known communist is taking part.

Dr. Hutchins replied "The Fund for the Republic is founded on the basis of the Bill of Rights—freedom and justice for all. We consider that the individual is in himself."

The past commander of the American Legion, Seaborn Collins, strongly opposed Dr. Hutchins, claiming that he and the organization are propagandizing that communism is not a big threat.

Dr. Hutchins told the panel that Collins has misconceived the purpose of the Fund. He further explained that the object is to make the Bill of Rights a living document today. He said "this undermining is absurd."

"The Fund for the Republic is not a propaganda agency of any kind," chairman added.

N. Y.'s Harriman Will Be Panelist At Lewiston Wed.

Governor Averill Harriman of New York will present a Public Events discussion at Lewis-Clark Normal School this Wednesday at 4 p.m. The discussion to be held in the Student Union Building at Lewis-Clark Normal will be broadcast over radio station KRCL.

Dean Walter Steffens, executive dean of the school, will serve as chairman of the panel leading the discussion with Dr. Boyd Martin, dean of letters and science acting as panel moderator.

Two students from Idaho, Charles Oldham and Lee Anderson, will comprise the panel along with two students from WSC and Lewis-Clark Normal.

Dean Steffens invites all interested Idaho faculty and students to attend the affair.

Takes Use Snow As Trimmings Are Fired

Snow served a useful purpose on campus last Sunday morning. About 1 a.m. Sunday, someone set fire to the TKE Dad's Day decorations. The boys spotted the blaze immediately, and rushed out to extinguish it. Snow was the only thing handy, and turned out to be an effective fire fighter.

About an hour later, the TKEs saw another fire. This time the Gamma Phi decorations were blazing. Again the TKEs and more snow put the blaze out. The Gamma Phi called the police and fire department, but it was all over when they arrived.

The cause and starter of the fires is unknown.

What It Means . . . Idaho Lacks Other Contact Similar To NSA

By CHARLES OLDHAM
Ed—This is the third in a series of informative articles concerning the National Students Association written at the request of the Argonaut following the tentative decision of the ASUI Executive Board that Idaho maintain its affiliation with NSA.

Probably one of the main reasons why Idaho has supported the National Students Association in the past, apart from the reasons of supporting an organization which performs functions of service to the educational community, to the nation and to its member schools is because it offers an area in which student leaders may come together and exchange ideas. It has been charged that what Idaho spends on NSA could be better spent in other means to secure some of the same results—namely the bringing together of college leaders for the exchange of ideas and the promotion of mutual purposes.

What does NSA cost the ASUI? Our membership dues amount to $75 per year for the support of NSA and all its activities which it conducts on the national and international level. The rest of the cost of NSA, approximately $400 is involved in sending two delegates (usually the ASUI President and Vice President) to the nationalized alternative here in the Northwest to which Idaho can turn and she has been forced in the past to seek contacts with other student leaders at the NSA Regional meetings and the National Student Congress. Because the University of Idaho is geographically isolated from other schools, this isolation has made it difficult and expensive for her student leaders to participate in any sort of student government meeting whether it be regional or national.

There have been some suggestions that Idaho attempt to organize a region on a non-NSA basis which might afford the possibility, there is a likelihood that such a regional organization encompassing the larger schools of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana is possible. The preliminary inquiries along this line have been made by ASUI President Chuck McDevitt. It is the hope of the Executive Board that such a program may be possible. Support of such a program does not mean that the ASUI would have to give up its support of NSA.

Tentatively the Executive Board recommended that the ASUI maintain its support of NSA by paying our membership dues of $75 but diverting the funds usually spent in sending delegates to the NS Congress and using this money to try and establish this larger regional program. Affiliation with

Campus Stays Open Thursday

Thursday is Thanksgiving, and all Idaho students are encouraged to remain on the campus. Bad weather and accidents in previous years along with the need of an extended vacation in the spring has resulted in shortening of Thanksgiving vacation to just the day. This action was taken after student request last year.

Many activities are scheduled for the rest of the week and will start Wednesday evening with the "Turkey Trot" to be held in the SUB ballrooms from 9-12. This will be sponsored by AWS and Rod Burton's orchestra will furnish the music for this "stag or drag" affair.

The sings and dances of Karen Taylor and Brenda Lister will be featured during intermission. Door prizes will be given.

No Admission will be charged for the dance. All campus women have been given one o'clock permission. Faculty members and house mothers are cordially invited to attend for a happy Thanksgiving eve.

Also scheduled is the Ag Club Square Dance which will be held in the SUB Saturday night from 9-12. Admission for this will be free also.

Friendship Dinner
The Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship, a non-sectarian Christian fellowship group, will sponsor a friendship dinner at the VFW hall at 7 p.m., Thursday, November 24. Special guests at the dinner will be foreign students. A traditional Thanksgiving menu of turkey and trimmings is planned.

For reservations, students are to contact Willard Feeley or Paul Kennedy at Lindley Hall, phone 31960. There are only a limited number of reservations available. The VFW hall is at 317 E. First Street.

The administration has not set a policy for cuts, but students will not be excused on the 25th, and the faculty will not be allowed to excuse anyone.

Library Hours
The loan, reference, periodical desks and special collections will observe the following hours: Wednesday, November 23, closed at 5 p.m.; Thursday, November 24 closed; and Friday, November 25, open at 7:45 a.m.

Reserve books may be charged out overnight at 3 p.m. Wednesday and returned until 8 a.m. Friday.

SUB Activities
Thanksgiving Day will find the SUB opening at 11 a.m. and the game room will be open from 3 p.m. until closing time. A main feature will be the Texas A&M football game on television.

Safety Drive To Be Pushed On U. Campus

A five-member student safety committee will be formed this week to coordinate a concentrated traffic safety drive on the Idaho campus this year, according to Fred Burrows, chairman of the student events council.

The council will interview students for the group at 7 p.m. Tuesday in Conference Room C of the SUB.

Function of the committee, Burrows said, will be to plan and coordinate a safety program for the Idaho campus in cooperation with the National Safety Council, local authorities, state police and the Argonaut.

The campaign, when it materializes, will be in conjunction with a similar one at WSC. Both schools have had high accident rates attributed to student drivers.

Two Hospitalized In Only Weekend Traffic Mishap

Two persons were hospitalized with minor injuries and two autos were damaged in a collision several miles south of Moscow on Highway 95 at approximately 8 o'clock yesterday morning. The two injured people were returning to Boise after attending the Dad's Day festivities at the University.

Driver of one auto, James Martin and Mrs. Robert Campbell, Boise, are in Grifman hospital with injuries. Martin has a head injury and Mrs. Campbell head, eye and chest injuries. Neither is in serious condition, their attending physician reported. Two other riders, unidentified, in the auto enroute to the Lewiston airport, escaped injury.

Mrs. Winifred Lande, driver of the other auto, lost control of her car when she slowed down behind a truck on a hill while traveling toward Moscow, Deputy Sheriff William Logan reported.

When Mrs. Lande applied the brakes, her auto slid across the highway into the path of the Martin vehicle and hit the left front part of it. Mrs. Lande received cuts and bruises but was not hospitalized.

VA Tightens Rules For Dependency

"The Veterans' Administration is becoming much stricter in its interpretation of what is satisfactory evidence to establish dependency of a wife or child," Charles H. Bond, veteran counselor, has reported.

Under a new policy enacted by the Veterans' Administration, additional benefits for dependents will not be made until proof of the dependency comes from the custodian of the official record. Birth records must now come from the Bureau of Vital Statistics in Boise and marriage records from the county clerk. Documents will have to bear the official seal of the respective office.

"Heretofore, church records, hospital certificates, and photo-stats could be used, but they are no longer acceptable. This is not a University rule; the orders have come from the VA in Washington, D.C.," Bond stated.

"The result of this new policy may result in some delay in the receipt of increased educational benefits," he also said. Anyone who has any question about the new procedure should contact Mr. Bond at the counseling center.

On Student Opinion

Last year we heard a lot of words about the platforms of the various parties. We also heard that these promises were going to be kept. One idea inherent in all the platforms was that government would be brought closer to the students. Also, each party had some specific program to accomplish this. Another theme running through all of the parties platforms was to keep the students informed. Just how energetically is this idea of bringing government and information to the students being pushed? We have to admit that it has been implemented better than most platforms or planks. Of the three specific party statements on this problem, only one has been implemented.

However, during the Executive Board's last meeting the idea of members visiting the houses and halls was discussed. Didn't the four members of the Independent Party promise to put this into effect if they were elected? Since they were elected why did Carol Pietsch speak against the idea? Why were the other three, Dick Denny, John Thornock, and Dick Gaskins more or less silent? True Dick Gaskins did concur with a committee resolution to have the visitations. The committee was composed of Dick Gaskins, Karen Lee Kraus, and Mike O'Callaghan. Dick and Karen agreed and Mike opposed the visitation idea. Also we may congratulate John Thornock for individually practicing this plank of his party. But why, gentlemen, didn't you speak for the idea on the floor?

Didn't the Student Government Party promise to bring government to the students rather than them to come to the government? Why then did John Gillis remain more or less non-committal? Why did Mike O'Callaghan fight the idea of going to the students? Certainly the Student Government Party did implement their specific plank on the problem. However, don't the specific statements of bringing student government to the students and keeping the students informed morally obligate the party to just that in every respect? Does forcing the student to go to the house president and then the Executive Board really bring government to the students? Or does the forcing of students to call the Executive Board BRING student government TO the student? True they can call the Board as the Kappa Alpha Theta house has done but this does not absolve any party from the responsibility of fulfilling its promises.

The United Party had the least to say about bringing student government to the students. Yet, the implication in their platform is plain. They, too, made a number of references to keeping the students and government close together. These. During the discussion Mike O'Callaghan and Dewey Newman made a motion which in effect amended the basic idea. This motion stated, basically, that the Executive Board members would place their names on a list and go visit those houses which called them to come. Also, a member could disqualify themselves from going to any house. Later this motion and the former committee suggestion were shelved without a formal vote on the seemingly common consent that they were extra, unneeded machinery and that the same job would be accomplished by an Arg column on the Executive Board.

Since the theme of the parties platforms was for closer Executive Board-student cooperation, why did the Board fail to pass or even vote on this proposal? It shouldn't be too much trouble for an Executive Board member to have dinner with some house four times a year and then have a discussion afterwards. If and when this idea is brought up again it might be a good idea for the board to recall the implication of ASUI President Chuck McDevitt's statement which was that each Executive Board member was elected to serve the students and has the individual responsibility to do so.

The Board through the House Presidents meeting has asked for your opinion on this matter. So you will have the opportunity to say whether you want to have these visitations or not through your house president. J.W.K.

Meridian Heads Yearbook Ratings

Honor ratings for high school yearbooks submitted to the University of Idaho this fall for judging by the journalism staff were announced today by Dr. Grapvill Price, chairman of journalism.

Topping a list of eight annuals submitted was Meridian's "Manana Ha Sa," which received All-State recognition in the class four letterpress division. Dr. Price pointed out that most of the high school yearbooks in the stat were judged in a contest last spring, and the eight reviewed this fall were received by the University after the May deadline for that contest.

First-class (excellent) ratings were given six annuals. They are Parma's "Panther Tales" and Rigby's "El Troyano" in the class six lithographed division for schools with an enrollment over 250 students; and Fruitland's "Poma Terra," New Plymouth's "The Pilgrim," and Soda Springs' "Cardinal" in the class seven lithographed group for schools under 250. "The Comet" of Rupert received a second-class (good) honor rating in the class four letterpress division.

Tobacco Spitter Sets Record In Texas

There are all kinds and shapes of athletic contests, but it looks as if the East Texas State Teachers College has come up with one to top them all. They've got a junior down there named John Chapel, who for two consecutive years has won tobacco spitting contests.

John won the contest two years ago by expelling a stream of juice 23 feet. A year later he defended his title with a spat of 21 feet, 3 inches. The loss of distance the second time was due to a strong wind.

Now he's going after the title for the third year in a row. This is the sort of thing the American Tobacco company might get hold of and really exploit.

Brazilian 'Fazenda' Impresses Dunham

Things are big in Brazil. Charles Dunham of Gooding is impressed by the size of farm operations he is observing as an International Farm Youth Exchange student.

The "fazenda"—farm—where he is living near Sao Paulo, is nearly 17,000 acres. Dunham said in a letter to Lillian Johannessen, assistant state 4-H club leader of the University of Idaho extension service. Operated as an experiment station it has 800 beef cattle, 100 dairy stock, 100 swine, and 500 chickens and turkeys. Crops include garden vegetables, potatoes, horse beans, manzels, mandioca, avocados, wheat, corn, bananas and oranges.

Frosh Enrollment High In AFROTC

Freshman enrollment in the Air Force ROTC program has soared from 184 last year to an all time high of 277. This number of freshmen is handled in four Air Science classes, two of which have more than 80 students. To facilitate roll-calling and handling of these classes, they have been broken up into flights.

The increased freshman enrollment in AFROTC has resulted in a larger turnout for the drill team. At present 122 have turned out for the team. The team this year split into four flights, each commanded by an upperclassman who was a member of last year's competing team.

Don't Die For A Drumstick

Don't go home for Thanksgiving celebration, the life you save will be your own. The roads all over the state are not in good shape and from the way things are going, will not be in any better shape for the rest of the week.

This is one of the main reasons that Thanksgiving has been cut down to a one day holiday. Last year, two students from Idaho were killed on the highway as they were traveling home for their dinner on Thanksgiving day. Their place was vacant at the Thanksgiving table last year and it might possibly be your place that will not be filled this year. I am sure your parents would rather not see you at all for Thanksgiving than never see you alive at all.

Activities have been planned on campus to make your stay here more enjoyable, so stick around and have some fun instead of having to be on the road.

Christmas is less than a month away, so a wait for just a little longer would be much better than a rush trip home now.

Cuts from classes are not looked upon too well by some professors so that might be another reason to stay here.

No matter what your reason might be for going home, stop and consider it just once more. You might find that this trip isn't necessary and worth the risk.

Don't Read This Editorial

You don't need to read this. You're careful and nothing ever happens to you. Oh, sure, other guys have had accidents but not you. You know what your car can do. You know you're a good driver. So why should you read anything about being careful. Yes, we did have a surge of accidents and deaths last year. Sure we've had a bad accident already this year. But that couldn't happen to you.

Our roads are slick and wet, driving conditions are very poor, and visibility is often bad, but that shouldn't scare you. Haven't you taken a couple of chances before and pulled through? Well why can't you do it again? Just because more American are killed each year in automobile accidents than were killed any year of the Korean war, that doesn't mean anything does it?

By the way your car is in perfect condition for winter driving, isn't it? Not that it really matters, its just that when you do take that chance and if something should go wrong you don't want anybody to sue your folks because you might have had a defective car.

Well, we'll see you on the roads but don't honk the horn when you pass—it makes so much noise. And besides, when you're going fifty on ice you don't want to distract anybody.

HI! JOIN ME FOR A LUCKY DROODLE?

WHAT'S THIS?
For solution, see paragraph below.

HERE'S A DROODLE THAT PACKS A PUNCH. It's titled: Lucky smoke rings blown by prizefighter with tooth missing. It packs a moral, too: Why knock yourself out looking for a better-tasting cigarette when all you have to do is light up a Lucky? Luckies taste better, first, because Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then, that tobacco is TOASTED to taste better. So light up a Lucky. It's the winner—and still champion—for better taste!

Student Explains Guatemala Culture At Cosmo Meeting

"Latin Americans are often surprised that people in the United States think only of their country as America," said Olga Figueroa at Sunday's Cosmopolitan Club meeting. Miss Figueroa, a junior language major from Colombia, gave a talk on the culture and economy of her country.

Comparing the cultures of the United States and Guatemala, she pointed out that people of the U. S. are more materialistic and don't value community functions as much as Latin Americans. As an example, she pointed out, "You never see anyone sitting down during a dance in Guatemala!" Miss Figueroa also explained the Indian problem within her country and told about Guatemala's chief exports, coffee and bananas.

On the same program with Miss Figueroa were Maria Vallarino and Eduardo Pena who gave a demonstration of the music of Latin America. Miss Vallarino, a freshman home economics major, played several songs on the piano, among them "Tico-Tico" and "El Rancho Grande." Mr. Pena, a pre-college student from Ecuador, sang several selections including the famous "Granada."

Mr. Kenneth Grimm, geology instructor in the college of mines, showed slides and a film on Mexico.

The South American orchestra from WSC completed the program by playing several more Latin American songs.
