First Term 'Hilites' Pass In Review

Can You Remember....

The 'Battle Of The Palouse'

When the final whistle sounded, the referees ended the game for the Idaho-WSC football players but not for some six thousand student fans from both schools who streamed onto the field. A near riot occurred as the students from Cougarville tried vainly to tear down the goalposts. In the hour or two that followed, fists flew, clothes were ripped and bedlam reigned in general. The Cougars, however, didn't go home empty handed. They borrowed the Idaho state flag, valued at over $300. As a result, the next day the Cougar gridiron at Pullman sported a giant "I" salted into the turf.

When O'Callaghan And Steele Got Theirs

This was the ghastly scene which "faked out" Argonaut readers on November 29 when the Arg staff sprung its traffic safety issue, "Could This Be You?" The staged Thanksgiving weekend tragedy occurred a mile north of Moscow on highway 95. Mike O'Callaghan and Jamie Steele were "supposed" to have been killed and Chuck McDevitt and Gary Pietsch were draped around the wreckage as "injured."

Idaho Runs Gamut From Homecoming To Hutchins

By Jason
Wandering through new University buildings, campus dances and traditional rivalry with Washington State College Cougars has all but monopolized the time of University of Idaho students over the period of the first semester. With the end of the term in view, students are spending more hours with the books and less time reminiscing over by-gone days.
To help summarize the first half of the year's activities, the Arg staff calls for these memories to "Pass In Review."
A total of 337 students found new homes waiting for them when they arrived on the campus in September. Opening their doors for the first time were three new dormitories—Gault and Upham for men, and Perneal French for women.
One of the first programs for all campus entertainment was George Bernard Shaw's Broadway play, "Don Juan In Hell." Mary Astor, Reginald Denny and Kurt Kasznar. The Broadway troupe was directed by Agnes Moorhead.

Alums descended upon the campus three weeks after school started and the whole area whooped it up for a big 1955 Homecoming weekend. Idaho males picked Sally Ghiglieri, a Delta Gamma, as Queen and the whole affair was coordinated with Lewiston's Lewis and Clark Sesquicentennial celebration. Kenny Wright was in charge of the show. Other queen finalists were Jan Avery, Janet Campbell, Susie Oberg and Shirley Blick.
The Deltas won first place in the men's float division in the parade and the Sigma Nus copped second. The DGs swept the field of floats to take first in the women's division while the Kappa's float placed second.
Two weeks later traditional rivalry between Idaho and WSC reached the breaking point at the famed "Battle of the Palouse." Smarting from a 10 to 0 defeat last year at the hands of the Vandals, Cougarville descended upon Neale stadium in force to see that it didn't happen again.
P.S., It Didn't
When the final whistle blew the score stood 9 to 0 in favor of WSC, but unorthodox plays continued over the playing field for some two hours. About 6,000 students from both schools streamed onto the field and bedlam reigned. The Cougars were bent on tearing down the goal posts and Idaho backers were as much determined not to let them do it. Fists flew and clothes were ripped as the ensuing battle raged from one end of the field to the other.

The Cougars didn't go home empty handed. They "borrowed" the Idaho state flag, valued at over $300. The next day the Cougar gridiron sported a giant "I" salted into the turf.
The latter part of October, Idaho donors were dragging around the campus mumbling "I parted with a pint," as the annual campus blood drive dripped into action. Drive co-chairmen Dale Carlisle and Dick Roberge set the goal at 1000 pints of blood.
The drive unexpectedly closed after two days of operation with a total of 848 points, but over 300 more went home untapped. Why? The Red Cross ran out of bottles.
Meanwhile Jean Collette, chairman of dramatics, whipped up her drama students to perfection and tickled campus audiences with "My Sister Eileen," the first production of the year.

Campus politics took the spotlight during the first weeks of November. Political aspirants trooped around the campus selling their theories and plans for votes until election day, November 10, when the democratic process was exercised.
Jim Russell, Hans Gotsch, Marcia Thornton and Monte Strickling were picked to guide the senior class.
Juniors voted into office Dick Weeks, Gary McEwen, Barbara Warner and Lou Ann Olson.
Knute Westergren, Lowell Martin, Gertie Carder and Marg Sullivan were chosen to lead the sophomores.
Freshman class officers were Jimmy Kay, Chris Chisholm, Jan Novak and Shirley Henriksson.
Idaho males sprouted beards a week later to welcome their Dads to the University of Idaho. Frank Nosek was in charge of the show. His committee rounded out the weekend's activities with the Pop's Hop in the SUB after the game. Everyone cooperated for a gala weekend except "ole man weather."

And Idaho Picked A Sweetheart

Sally Ghiglieri, a junior from Redding, Calif., was chosen by the male population of the University of Idaho as the 1955 Homecoming Queen. As Queen, she reigned over Idaho's annual Homecoming activities which were held this year in connection with the Lewis and Clark Sesquicentennial celebration at Lewiston.

Fireworks Prompt Board To Reorganize Pep Band

The ASUI Exec Board Tuesday passed legislation to revise the Pep Band under terms in the student government constitution. The action came after a series of public fireworks over the present band in which accusations pointed that it is inadequate in performance and organization.

John Thornock moved that the Board accept the proposal after Neal Powell, member of the pep band, asked that the band be reorganized to work closely with the Music Department.

Student Body president Chuck McDevitt suggested that the four Pep Band members making the investigation start work immediately and get a new leader.

Under the ASUI constitution, Article IV, Sections 1 through 9, the band will be under the direction of a student leader and a faculty adviser. Mike O'Callaghan recommended that William Billingsley be appointed. Membership to the band is open to any University student. Financial affairs will be handled through the ASUI and the band will be directly responsible to the Executive Board.

In other board action co-chairmen of student recruitment, Bob Schreiber, brought up conflicts between a proposed talent tour and school activities such as the Blue Key Talent Show, nine week's exams, and the Campus Chest. McDevitt appointed Dick Gaskins and Carol Pietsch to investigate the situation.

Chuck pointed out there was growing resentment of the problem that University police have been writing tickets on the city police tickets. "The students feel that they would rather pay the fines into the University Scholarship fund and not into Moscow city funds."

O'Callaghan presented his views on the problem with the feeling that the legality of the ticket was not being questioned but the ethics and common sense behind the issuance of such a ticket. He moved that the board inform the administration of the problem.

In other action: Thornock asked that the text of Dr. Robert M. Hutchins' recent speech here be reprinted for interested students.

Exec Board Sends Proposed Holiday Change To Council

The executive board will submit a student proposal to the Academic Council that the 1956-57 Christmas vacation be held between noon December 21 to 8 a.m. January 7.

The action was passed Tuesday after student body president Chuck McDevitt met with house presidents who had polled their members to pick one of three proposed dates.

McDevitt said that the proposal will also include a request that students who live too far from Moscow to reach home through adequate transportation by Christmas be given academic excuses to leave earlier than Dec. 21.

The three vacation proposals presented the students through the house presidents included the recommended date; Dec. 14 at noon to January 1 (with January 1 off); and Dec. 19 to January 3.

Vandal Vets Urge Petition's Signing

In cooperation with the Veterans' organization at other colleges in a nationwide campaign, the V.V.O. will have a petition in the line at registration urging the passage of Senate Bill 533. This bill would increase veterans training benefits by as much as $45.

The petition will be sent to Idaho's senators and representatives at the same time that other organizations will be filing similar petitions with their congressmen. It is urged that all veterans favoring the passage of this bill be sure to sign the petition at registration time.

Gymnasium Admission Numbers To Be Issued In Armory

Second semester registration, that nerve-wracking two days noted for its innumerable problems, begins Monday, Feb. 6, D. D. DuSault, registrar, said today. Regulations will be much the same as last fall, officials reported.

Some 3400 registrants are expected to run the gauntlet of advisers, deans and other officials in the two-day grind. Numbers will be assigned in the Memorial Gymnasium Armory instead of the University Classroom building because of crowded conditions which would leave students standing in snowdrifts, DuSault said.

Students will be admitted to the gymnasium by number according to a schedule released today. Admittance will be by blocks of numbers, but students need not be in strict numerical order although they must be in the block of numbers assigned, officials said. If a student miscues on his group, it will be necessary to get a new number and be admitted with a new group.

Officials released the following schedule:

Survey In Ohio Shows Ad Is Best Item

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (ACP)—Dick Budd reports this in his "Off the Record" column in the B-G News:

"College newspaper polls can often be disastrous to the ego, as members of the Kent Stater campus publication found out. The paper conducted a student poll to find out which feature was the most widely read.

Among the usual stories, including pinnings, parties, movies, football and columns... what was to stand out above all others as number one on the poll?

Mucker's Ball Has '49 Theme

The annual "Mucker's Ball" sponsored by the Associated Miners will hit the SUB ballroom Friday, February 10. Informal dress will fit in with the old-time bar room setting, planned to go with the "Gold Rush of '49" theme. "Mucker's Bucks" will serve as the medium of exchange for gambling games. Among the games to be featured will be house roulette, craps, 21, wheel of fortune, and chuck-a-luck. Rod Burton's band will play for dancing.

The GOLDEN FLEECE

by Jason

When an old tool becomes worn out it is usually discarded in favor of a new one. This is what has happened in the case of the University of Idaho Pep Band as of Tuesday night's ASUI Executive Board meeting.

By unanimous consent the Board members formally accepted Chuck Clauser's resignation as Pep Band leader and dissolved the moribund organization. Not wanting to act without some constructive end in mind, the Board authorized Neal Powell, former Pep Band member, to reorganize, elect a new leader from within the Pep Band itself, conduct tryouts for new members and thus start anew with a clean slate.

The following is excerpts of the discussion that ensued over the question.

Powell: The whole purpose for us being here tonight is to clear up difficulties concerning the Pep Band. Our group decided to get together and get something constructive done or get completely out. We came up with several solutions, but we feel this one is the only way anything good can come. We feel that this organization should be set up to support athletic events, stimulate student interest, and be a real Pep Band.

We propose that the Pep Band, such as it now exists, be dissolved by the Executive Board completely. This will allow a group of interested musicians to start a new band working under the direction of Warren Bellis or William Billingsley.

Clauser has resigned as leader and Bellis has taken over the organization. This may lead to a condition of having the Concert Band make up a Pep Band, with half of the concert band playing one night and the other half playing the next night at games. This won't further anyone's interest. Organize the Pep Band to specify their position as playing for basketball games and football rallies only. We feel that if we can't get a satisfactory organization by semester time next year it should be definitely stopped and reverted back to a concert band set up.

Krauss: Neal, do you feel that by dissolving the Pep Band and setting it up under an instructor would be any different from what we have now? My idea is that the Music department is not interested in having a good Pep band.

Powell: I think you have the wrong idea.

Krauss: I feel that the Pep Band needs to be bubbling over with enthusiasm and it should be tough to get into. It should be first and should receive first class treatment.

Powell: I defy you to do it that way. If we can't work with the Music department we can't work against them. We wouldn't have the essential horns that we would need because they belong to the Music department.

O'Callaghan: This is the way I understand it. Either you play ball with the Music department or you won't have a Pep Band. The Pep Band was organized about 36 years ago and the Music department grew out of the idea of a Pep Band. It seems that now that the department has been created it wants to swallow up its creator.

Powell: I can't see how it can be organized under anyone except the Music department. The students have said that they would be glad to play in the organization if it is under the supervision of an adult.

McDevitt: If the organization was divorced from the Music department, it would revert back to the original stand which had been deviated from. The Executive Board has the power to remove the leader of the Pep Band and to pass on its music. It would be along the same line as before but different organizational structure.

Powell: I want to clarify my position. I want to get something organized and play music that the students will like and not laugh at. We want it to be an organization that has fun as well as doing a good job.

McDevitt: It is my opinion that the Music department is most interested in the three other musical groups and as a result of this the Pep Band has dwindled.

Powell: We should specify the duties of the student leader and the assistant student leader, but we need an advisor or figurehead to go to when we have a problem.

McDevitt: I can't see where the proposal is different from what it already has been. It should be an official organization under the ASUI, should be under a faculty advisor, should have a student Pep Band leader elected by members of the Pep Band. I think it is entirely right that they could be capable of going on a tour but the statement made by a representative of the Music department was that Pep Band didn't have the talent.

Thornock: Do you think that Billingsley would have more enthusiasm as faculty adviser?

Powell: Perhaps he would.

Pietsch: You will probably agree that the athletic department and the Music department display their wares before the public consistently. It is imperative that they put on a good show. The Pep Band in past years has put on a good show, however, in recent years the organization has been going steadily down. Also in recent years the University Concert Band has not received any regional recognition within the Pacific Northwest.

Bellis has been the leader of this organization. It could be that in the capacity of Pep Band adviser and (Continued on Page 3 Col. 4)

Dear D.N.O.

I fail to understand how you could exhibit such an utter lack of comprehension of Dr. Hutchins' speech.

On your editorial you wrote that Dr. Hutchins' cure for our educational system's ills might make schools a great deal more specialized. Evidently you failed to notice that Hutchins is not against specialized schools and alumnae.

You also said, "The educator goes on to point out that the dull as well as the bright are going to be citizens and therefore they have the right to development of their minds. To say that they have the right and the same time imply they do not have the ability seems a wee bit ridiculous."

Dr. Hutchins' thoughts on this point were paraphrased in last Friday's Argonaut as follows: "The dull as well as the bright have the right to development of their minds to the line (limit) of their possibilities." (Note: I assume that the word line is one of the numerous typographical errors found in the Argonaut, and the intended word in this case was limit.)

Dr. Hutchins did not imply that the dull do not have the ability to develop their minds. The very fact that he mentioned that there are dull as well as bright persons indicates that he does not give the fact that there are obvious differences in mental ability, but this doesn't mean that the dull do not have the ability to develop their minds. It simply means that their ability to develop their minds is limited to an extent, but their level of intelligence.

You state that according to Dewey the purpose of an education is doing, not being. Certainly, as you say, doing is a means to an end. The question which Dr. Hutchins' speech poses for us is, is the emphasis on doing the best means to the highest end attainable.

I will attempt to answer your question, "Why climb a hill when you can use a ski tow to accomplish the same purpose?" (You were referring to the alternatives of teaching students what they should be interested in learning, or teaching them what they are interested in learning.) One might climb a hill to develop himself physically, and to achieve a certain satisfaction. The human mind can be developed by mental effort and discipline. Indeed, it is difficult to conceive of a person developing his mind at all without some effort on his part.

Discussion and criticism of a stimulating speech such as Dr. Hutchins' is very interesting, especially to college faculty members and students. However, to make valid criticisms of such a speech by a man of Dr. Hutchins' intellectual stature requires a great deal of thought and accurate reading or listening.

Sincerely,
Robert S. Hemingway

Dear Robert:
The first four words in your letter sums up the content of your entire dissertation. However, I shall do my best to unravel the ideas you present.

Your second paragraph shows that your entire knowledge of Dr. Robert Hutchins and his philosophy of education was gained from the talk you heard last week. I have read many of Dr. Hutchins' works and have heard him talk on different occasions in the past. If you also would read some of Dr. Hutchins' work, it is possible, you may also find that he is against specialization within our system of education even as it exists today. May I ask, are not the teachers, students and the graduates of our present system products of these "specialized" schools.

In regards to your third, fourth and fifth paragraphs I would like to say that there are approximately 2.14 per cent of our citizens who do not have the ability to develop their minds. Also there are another 13.59 per cent who would not only have great difficulty in application of Dr. Hutchins' philosophy, but it is considered by many educators that the time and effort needed to educate these people by such means would not be justified by the meager results.

In paragraphs six and seven you put forth the theory of learning known as "the theory of formal discipline." This theory was first badly shaken by William James in the year 1890 and since that time has been wiped from the books by the work of such men as Thorndike, Woodworth, Briggs, Kline and others too numerous to mention. (References: L. W. Kline, "Some Experiment Evidence in regard to Formal Discipline," Journal of Education Psychology, 1914, 5, 259-266; T. H. Briggs, "Formal English Grammar as a Discipline," Teachers College Record, 1913, 14, No. 4; W. G. Sleight, "Memory and Formal Training," British Journal of Psychology, 1911, 4, 386-457.) I can't find too much recent work in regards to this subject as most people feel that it is something that educators take for granted. However, if the above references are insufficient, stop down at the Arg office and I will supply you with some more intellectual reading.

After reading your letter I entirely agree with your last paragraph.

AN ARAB VIEW-POINT

From my travel experience I have come to the conclusion that fundamentally human beings are the same. Some of us object to such a statement and introduce the differences in history, culture and religion. These differences, however, appear to be nothing but myths. History repeats itself because in essence it is the same in every country. It only occurs at different times and places and through different methods.

As to culture it is expressed through a different language and flavored with different emphasis, but fundamentally it also portrays the oneness of mankind's yearnings, real or ideal.

Coming to religion we ought to know by now that, in spite of the creed to which we belong, we all believe in the unknown who we call God. Whether we go to a church, a temple, or a mosque to worship is again a difference in method, not in essence. Some say: "Moslems worship Allah not God," this is true but it is only true because the word "Allah" is Arabic not English. I also affirm these differences which though, superficial, have always been responsible for our myths and our fancy imaginations.

These differences are those of language and customs and of the methods and standards of living. However these differences should be known in order to create that kind of understanding which the world needs.

Vets Have 3 Days For Benefits' File

Veterans under the Korean G.I. Bill have only three days, February 1, 2, or 3, to file for their January educational allowances in order to receive their checks on time, Charles H. Bond, veteran counselor, reports.
Any veteran who plans to withdraw from school at the end of this semester should file a report for the first three days of February when filing for the January allowance. They are part of the first semester and therefore veterans are entitled to their benefits. Bond also requested that veterans notify Mrs. Erma Hansen, veteran clerk, before leaving the University.

OH, FOR THE LIFE OF A NEWSPAPERMAN!

Look at the campus newspaper you are now holding. An ordinary object, you think? An everyday convenience? Something to be taken for granted?

Faugh, sirs and madams! Faugh, I say! Don't you know what prodigies of skill and labor and organization and art and science go into the making of your campus newspaper?

Come, I'll show you. I'll take you to a typical office of a typical newspaper on a typical campus.

The editor—let's call him D. Fermin Bohorquez, a typical enough name—calls his staff together first thing in the morning. "All right, you guys," he says, lighting a Philip Morris, which, naturally, is the favorite cigarette of newspapermen, and of anybody else who knows a hawk from a handsaw. "All right, you guys," says D. Fermin, "this here ain't no ladies whist society, this here is a newspaper. So get out there and get the news. Get it first, get it quick, get it right! Ed, you cover the ag campus. Phil, you cover the school of mines. Wally, you cover home ec. Sam, you cover buildings and grounds. Ethel, you cover the men's gym. . . . All right, get going!"

... Ethel, you cover the men's gym.

With many a laugh and cheer, the reporters light up Philip Morris, favorite cigarette of the young and agile, and dash away on their assignments.

D. Fermin retires to his office to smoke a Philip Morris and write a fearless editorial scolding the university for not buying patches for the worn-out elbows of the chess team.

On the rim of the copy desk three rewrite men—Tensing, Hillary, and Laverne—sit poised and expectant, waiting for the reporters to phone in their stories. They smoke Philip Morris, favorite cigarette of the poised and expectant. Tensing's phone rings first; it is Ed calling from the ag campus.

"Stop the presses!" cries Ed. "Got a scoop! Hunrath T. Sigafos, professor of curds and whey, has just sold his article The Romance of Butterfat to the Drovers and Poultryers Monthly."

On another phone Sam is calling from buildings and grounds. "Tear out the front page!" he cries. "Got an exclusive! Harold 'Pop' Wishnograd, superintendent of buildings and grounds, today announced the purchase of a new dorm for the vestibule of Burton Hall. The last dormat, it will be recalled, was eaten by a pledge named Norman Harringay for his Chi Psi initiation."

Meanwhile, elsewhere in the city room, Ganglia Questover, vivacious and ubiquitous gossip columnist, sits smoking a Philip Morris, favorite cigarette of the vivacious and ubiquitous, and typing out her chatty, informative tidbits: "Maureen Valgerholtz, popular Theta, announced her engagement last night to Webster Scuff, Oliver Jenkins, Cosmo Erskine, and Walter Penn Dowdy. Wedding dates have been set for June 9, June 24, July 5, and July 18 respectively. Good luck, Maureen! . . . Irving 'Behemoth' Anselm, popular fullback, blew out 120 feet of esophagus yesterday while inflating a football. Good luck, Irving 'Behemoth'! . . . Robin Kroveney, popular Deke last year, this year popular pfc. in the U. S. Army, writes friends that he has been convicted of deserting his post and will be executed on April 28. Good luck, Robin!"

And now, friends, we take our reluctant leave of the drama, the action, the tension, the glamor, the churning, the seething, the roiling, the Sturm und Drang of the wonderful world of journalism. Aloha, journalism, aloha!

The makers of Philip Morris, who sponsor this column, have got some news for you too. It's today's new gentle Philip Morris in today's bright new package of red, white, and gold.

Concert Band leader that he has reached the limit of his ability.

Thornock: How about Billingsley?

Powell: We need some way to get the Music department and the ASUI to work together, and with the interested representatives here tonight we could form a nucleus and by following these constitutional rules and any necessary amendments we could form a band that would be a credit to the University.

Thornock: I move that we accept the proposal to start anew with the Pep Band as in the contents of article four of the ASUI constitution.

O'Callaghan: Amend the proposal to read that a faculty adviser be appointed by President Theophilus with the recommendation that it be Billingsley.

Motion carried unanimously.

McDevitt: I suggest that you get people together and elect another leader from the Pep Band members and start from there.

Powell held an organization meeting of the Pep Band last night in order to get the ball rolling. Make way Idaho. The rejuvenated Idaho Pep Band is comin' through.

Wicks Given Term Leave; Recruitment Tours Loom

Guy Wicks, associate director of Student Affairs of Men, and University field agent, will take a sabbatical leave second semester to further study in academic and student affairs work at the University of Arizona.

Wicks has been field agent for nine years, and has served as recruitment coordinator throughout the state during that time. He will also work in the office of student affairs at Arizona "to see how other people handle this work."

In his work at Idaho, Wicks has headed spring recruitment tours throughout the state contacting senior classes in all high school working through the county agents. The field agent feels that the best recruitment plan is carried out by the students themselves, when members of the student body accompany him on statewide trips, and also through an entertainment tour.

"Each year at vacation time," Wicks comments, "we ask the students to talk University of Idaho to high school seniors. This is one of our big selling points. The students take home information about the school and keep these prospective college people conscious of the state University."

Three Tours

During Wicks' absence three field trips are tentatively planned by members of the faculty and student representatives.

Margaret Ritchie, professor and head of the Department of Home Economics, and Assistant Dean of the Department of Agriculture Don A. Marshall, with student body president Chuck McDevitt and a woman student to be named, will visit the large high schools in South and Southeast Idaho.

The larger high schools in Northern Idaho will be toured by Mabel Locke, chairman of the Department of Physical Education for Women, and Professor of English William C. Banks, accompanied by AWS president Clara Armstrong and another student to be named.

who drenched the whole works.

Second in the year's series of ASUI dramatic productions, "The House of Bernard Alba" filled the University Auditorium for a two night run the first week in December, while the campus was bubbling over the American Legion-Dr. Robert M. Hutchins controversy. The Legion tried to ban Hutchins from speaking to University students in a public events assembly.

Idaho's sophomores kicked off their annual Holly Week activities with a Holly Queen contest and serenade. Karen Warner was chosen Queen and crowned at the Holly dance just before Christmas vacation began December 21.

With Hutchins out of the way, students have settled down to "specializing" in studying in anticipation of finals Saturday, Hrimm.

A Campus-to-Career Case History

"I take a job from scratch"

The Air Force introduced Forrest I. Hurst to communications. In 1953 he was Communications Officer at Lowry Air Force Base near Denver, Colorado. He was partially responsible for the communications setup of the President's "Summer White House," and in this assignment he met members of the local Bell telephone company.

"The telephonic people I met," says Forrest, "were always helpful. I considered them the experts. They gave a very good impression of the Bell System. I wrote to Indiana Bell for an interview, and subsequently I was hired as a Student Engineer."

Today Forrest is in Indiana Bell's Engineering Department, working with carrier facilities—the means by which a number of telephone calls can be sent simultaneously over one circuit.

Forrest is given the basic circuit and equipment requirements for a job. "My boss farms it out to me," Forrest says, "and I take it from scratch." Forrest does the complete engineering job. He writes the specifications, including wiring plans and the list of equipment for the job. Then the installers take over.

"I really feel that I'm contributing to the telephone business," Forrest says. "My wife does too. When we're in the car we get a kick out of driving by a job that I engineered. Nothing can compare with a career in a business that's growing as fast as the Bell System. It's the place to move ahead."

Forrest graduated in 1952 from Purdue University with an E.E. degree. His career is typical of those which exist in other Bell Telephone Companies, and in Bell Telephone Laboratories, Western Electric and Sandia Corporation. Your placement officer has more information about Bell System companies.

REVAMPED LINEUP TO GO AGAINST TROJANS

Vandals Face PCC's Second Place Club In Two Games

Idaho head coach Harlan Hodges named a revamped starting lineup to go against the University of Southern California Trojans tonight in Memorial Gymnasium.

The Vandals will face the PCC's second place club both Friday and Saturday night in the first meeting between the schools since 1939.

Guard Gary Simmons, 6 foot hustler, and tall center Jim Branom whose last second shot downed Oregon last Saturday, have been moved up from the second string to start against the Trojans.

Two Vandals In Top Ten PCC Scorers

A pair of Idaho Vandals are listed in the top ten PCC scorers in statistics released this week by the Commissioner's office.

Jack Mitchell is tied with Stanford's George Selleck for seventh place with 78 points and co-captain Jay Buhler ranks ninth on 72 points.

Larry Beck of Washington State has assumed the scoring lead in the PCC basketball race but UCLA's Morris Taft still has the best average per game.

Beck has scored 119 points in Washington State's first six games on 38 field goals and 43 free throws, and has averaged 19.8 points per game. Taft, who ranks only third in total scoring with 105 points, has a 26.2 game average but has played in only four games. He has connected on 42 field goals and 21 free throws.

Second in total scoring is Dave Gambee of Oregon State with 108 points. Willie Naulls, UCLA, has 92 for fourth place followed by Max Anderson, Oregon, 86. Others in the top 10 in scoring include Bill Bond, Stanford, 84; Mitchell, and Selleck, 78; Buhler, 72, and Barry Brown, Stanford, 63.

Naulls and Anderson also have averaged better than 20 points per game—Naulls 23.0 and Anderson 21.5.

Taft is the top marksman in shooting from the floor with 54.5 per cent on 42 field goals in 77 attempts. Others at 50 per cent or better include Carroll Adams, UCLA 53.3 per cent; Ray Bell, Oregon, 52.8 per cent; Jerry Ross, Oregon 51.5 per cent; and Gary Van Gelder, Stanford, and Jim Kaufman, Southern California, 50 per cent.

Bill Bauscher of Idaho retains his leadership from the free throw line, even though his consecutive string was broken last weekend. His percentage is 91.3 per cent on 21 points in 23 attempts. Bauscher sank his last five attempts of the 1955 season and his first 20 of this season for an unbroken string of 25 straight for a new Conference record. The old mark of 21 straight was set by Jay Dean, Ore. State in 1951.

Ranking behind Bauscher in free throws are Bob Blake, California, 85.7 per cent; Gary McEwen, Idaho, 81.3 per cent; and Bill Bond and Carl Isaacs, both Stanford, and Ron Patnoe, Washington, 80 per cent.

UCLA's fast-breaking Bruins continue to hold a 20 point per game lead over their nearest rival in the Pacific Coast Conference scoring race while the Oregon Ducks have the best mark on shooting from the floor according to statistics released today by the PCC Commissioner's office.

Deadeye Dunne

Leading scorer for the Southern California Trojans who meet the Vandals in two games here this weekend is Jack Dunne (14), shown above. Dunne, 6-3 1/2, is a two-year letterman for Forrest Twogood's squad and has scored 181 points in the Trojans 13 games for an average of 11.9 points per game. Dunne has a fine jump shot and hits well from the outside.

CHALK TALK

with Don Neville Smith

Assistant football coach Earl Klapstein yesterday sified rumors that he is leaving Idaho to accept another coaching position.

Klapstein, who coaches the line was rumored to be heading for a California school, possibly his old alma matter, College of Pacific, where he graduated.

When interviewed yesterday Klapstein said that he was not leaving, "there are always rumors like that around at this time of the year."

Gene Stauber, Vandal end coach accepted the position as freshman coach at the University of Nebraska and is leaving the school Tuesday.

Buhler Holds Scoring Edge

Despite the fact that he scored only 14 points in the Vandals last series with Oregon, guard Jay Buhler still holds a substantial lead in Idaho individual scoring statistics, released this week by athletic publicity director, Ken Hunter.

The 5-11 senior, who has played both guard and forward this year has tallied 214 points in the Vandals 18 games played to date. Buhler's points are made up of 84 field goals and 46 free throws.

A spurge of scoring in Idaho's last two conference series has boosted sophomore forward Jack Mitchell into second place. Mitchell has scored 72 points in his last four games, to give him a total of 164. Mitchell is leading the Vandals in shooting from the field with a percentage of .411.

Guard Bill Bauscher is tops in shooting from the foul line with a .778 percentage, on 49 out of 63 attempts. Bauscher ranks third in total scoring with 151 points.

Mitchell leads the club in rebounds, gathering 117. Jim Branom is second in this department with 75.

Yearlings Face Tight Games Hold 'Best Since '47' Spotlight In 'A' Ball

Idaho's frosh basketball team will be putting a five game winning streak on the line tonight at 5:50 when they tangle with the strong WSC Couabes, in a prelim contest to the Vandal-USC game.

The Couabes, according to Jack Friel, head basketball coach at WSC, are the "best freshman basketball team since 1947, when Gene Conley was a yearling." The Couabes have won four and lost two this season, including a 53 to 51 beating handed them by the Vandal Babes.

Clem Parberry's squad, fresh from a pair of wins last weekend against Fairchild Air Force Base and Gonzaga Bullpups will meet the airmen again this Saturday night at 5:50 p.m.

The two teams have split in their first two meetings with the Airmen winning the first game, 67 to 62 and the frosh coming back to take last Friday night's encounter by a 70 to 53 margin.

Coach Parberry lauded the efforts of his team in setting a new Memorial Gym scoring record against Gonzaga and named the same starting five to go against WSC tonight.

Whaylan Coleman and Lou Vesely will start at guards with Jim Prestel at center and high-scoring John Liveious and Harold Damiano at forwards. B. J. Shaffer who has shown a lot of improvement in past games is expected to relieve the first stringers.

All Starter
Jerry Spanner, former All-State player from Kalama, Washington, is the top Couababe scorer, averaging 16.8 points per game. The speedy forward has scored 101 points in the yearling's six games. The team as a whole has averaged 77 points per game.

Starting for the Couabes along with Spanner will be guards Jim Ross and Jack Hein, center Dave Hiser and forward Bob Matthews.

The Couabes broke even in two games with University of Washington Husky Pups last weekend as reserve forward Doug Smart hit 49 for 49 in the two games.

Close games prevailed in intramural "A" basketball this week with six games being decided by three or less points.

Two of these games were decided by one point with Uplham Hall edging Campus Club 2 16 to 15, Monday night and Lindley Hall 1 knocking Campus Club from the unbeaten ranks with a 29-28 Tuesday night win in overtime.

Play has been suspended now until Wednesday, February 8th, when the last four days of regular play will commence.

Five teams still remain unbeaten after the first two weeks of play, two of these teams from League 1.

TMA Strong
A surprisingly strong Town Men's Association team won their fifth straight Wednesday night, downing Delta Chi 28 to 21. Last Thursday the TMA upset the powerful Sigma Alpha Epsilon team by a 27 to 19 count.

Sigma Nu kept pace with TMA by beating Delta Tau Delta 26 to 22 Monday night and whalloping the Fijis 43 to 17 Wednesday. Jerry Smythe led the Sig Nu's attack against the Deltas scoring 11 points and Doug Randall was tops against the Fijis with 10 points.

Phi Delta Theta seems on its way to their second straight League 2 championship as they knocked over Alpha Tau Omega, the only other unbeaten team in their league, 34 to 27. Big Jim Howard of the Phi Deltas led all scorers with 16 points.

Wayne Walker turned in the top individual scoring performance of the week, bucketing 24 points in the Phi Deltas 47 to 25 win over Delta Sigma Phi, Wednesday.

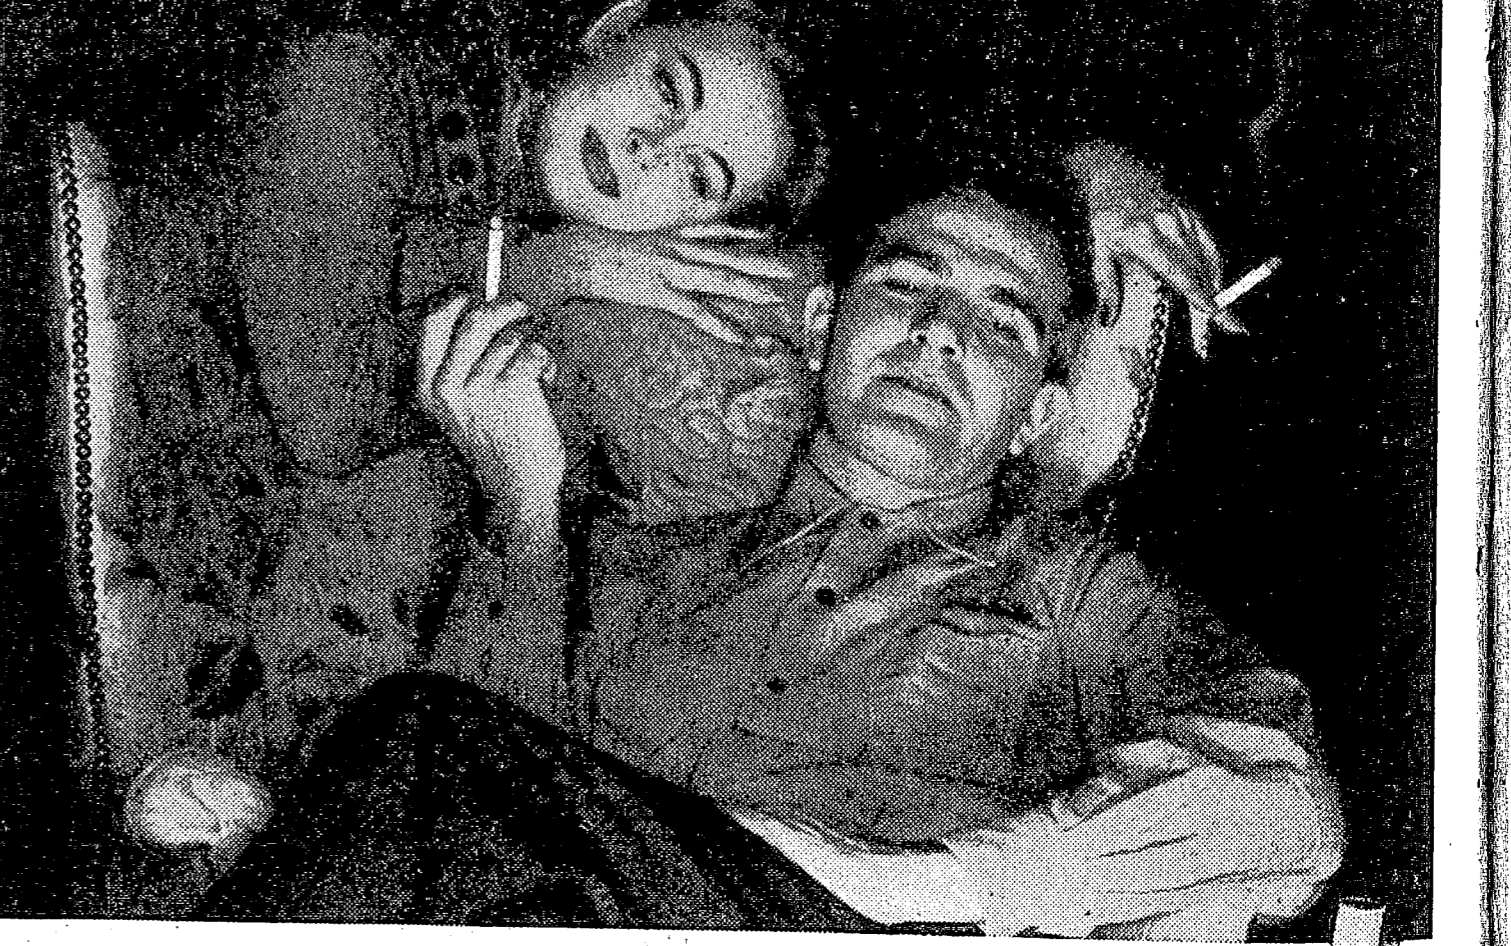

Beta Theta Pi's Knute Westergren shared scoring honors with Walker potting a similar 24 points as the Betas trounced Lambda Chi Alpha 64 to 23.

Lindley Hall, present total point leaders, continued their red hot pace in the Independent Division as their number 2 squad leads their respective league with a 4 PDT def. KS 48-25 and 0 mark and Lindley 1 is in second place in League 3 having
