AWS Elects Clara Queen Of May Fete

Clara Armstrong was elected May Queen to reign over the annual May Fete festivities in the primary election held Wednesday in the Ad Building by the Associated Women Students. 506 women voted in the primary.

Other candidates surviving the primary election are Carolyn Sanderson, Sue McMahon, and Janis Archibald, president; Sharrol Bartlett, and Mollie Godbold, secretary; Jane Bonham, Eula Gray, and Jane Lange; treasurer.

Maid of Honor finalists for the May Fete are Jane Remsburg and Barbara Warner. Georgia Carrico and Lorraine Langdon are candidates for page.

Clara Armstrong, President of the AWS, said that the voting for president and treasurer were so close that it was impossible to limit the number of candidates to two people. There was a two way tie in the results of the treasurer competition.

Final elections will be held February 29 from 8:15-12 a.m. and 12:45 to 4:15 p.m. in the Ad building. All women students are eligible to vote.

The campus political scene is popping this week with the news of a possible fourth party throwing its hat into the ring.

The basic idea is to create another all-campus party on the order of the Student Government machinery. Of course the new party will have revisions over its old sister, the Greeks United Party, from which it grew. It will be interesting to see how far and how fast the idea goes.

Present politicians are labeling the move "premature." They all say it's a good idea, but . . . The but might be that a new cross-campus political machine will probably mean keener competition.

Cross-campus politics is a good idea, Jason would like to see it thrive.

New Party System Vetoed In U' Caucus

A motion to formally disband the Greek caucus, thus destroying the machinery of the United Party, was defeated by one vote in the political group's Wednesday night meeting. The motion was made as a result of a plan for the construction of a new all-campus system which was introduced by interested members of the Caucus.

In other action the group elected Frank Niek president to fill the vacancy left last week when Roger McPike resigned. John Chapman was elected vice president to fill the position vacated by Ray Wilke who resigned during the meeting.

The party split and subsequent controversy arose as a result of the new plan. The new party backers explained that a constitution would be set up to govern the existence of the party and it would outline its functions. They stated that all the power would actually lie within the membership of the party.

The party was to be set up in an open all-campus assembly at which time five people would be elected to form a Board of Directors. These five directors would act as agents or as a steering committee from which to direct party operations throughout the year, backers said. One of the five directors would be party chairman.

According to the plan, the new party would also form an all-campus caucus consisting of a member from all campus living groups including the Town Men's Association to act as an advisory group to carry out the work and functions of the party. The Arg was told that the members of the party's permanent committees would probably come from this caucus group.

Function
The plan also included a definite procedure for choosing the party slates.

Nominations of candidates for office would be made from the floor of the general assembly immediately after the platform had been drawn up by this same group. The constitution would allow for the nomination of any student on campus regardless of where that person lived on campus or whether he was a member of the party or not. Those persons nominated would have to sign a statement of willingness to run on the new party and to back its platform.

Those consenting to run would have their names put on an all-campus primary ballot and submitted to the students for a vote. The persons winning the majority of votes under a weighted preferential primary would be the party's candidates in the regular election.

Ray Wilkie, one of the new party's main backers, said that "this idea was an attempt to establish an all campus party which would have the stability to live on after its founders were no longer students here at the University of Idaho."

When queried by the Argonaut as to what will become of the new party after its veto by the Greek Caucus, Wilke intimated that he and interested students were going ahead with the idea of starting a fourth party regardless.

Straw Ballot Taken
Tuesday night, when the plan was first presented to the Caucus, a straw ballot was taken at the close of the meeting to measure the group's sentiment toward starting the new party. Thirteen houses voted to disband the Caucus in favor of a new organization. These were Delta Chi, Sigma Chi, Delta Tau Delta, Alpha Phi, Kappa Sigma, Phi Delta Theta, Phi Gamma Delta, SAE, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Alpha Chi, Gamma Phi Beta, Pi Beta Phi, and Delta Delta Delta.

Those opposed to the move were: Beta Theta Pi, Sigma Nu and Kappa Kappa Gamma. Kappa Alpha Theta, Delta Gamma and Alpha Tau Omega were non-committal. Delta Sigma Phi and Phi Kappa Tau representatives were not there.

Wednesday night an official vote was taken. At that time, the houses voted 10 to 11 against disbanding. Those in favor of abolishing the Greek Caucus were as follows: Delta Chi, Sigma Chi, Delta Tau Delta, Alpha Phi, Kappa Sigma, Alpha Chi, Gamma Phi Beta, Pi Beta Phi, Delta Delta Delta, and Kappa Alpha Theta. Those in favor of retaining the old party system were: Phi Delta Theta, Alpha Tau Omega, Beta Theta Pi, Delta Sigma Phi, Phi Gamma Delta, SAE, Sigma Nu, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Delta Gamma, Kappa Kappa Gamma and Phi Kappa Tau.

Lambda Chi Alpha had previously withdrawn from Greek Caucus.

Dr. Kermit Eby Delivers Dinner, Assembly Talks

The University of Idaho will devote itself to "Christ on the Campus" Feb. 26 to 28 when the campus observes its annual Religious Emphasis Week.

Highlights of the four-day activities, as the school looks with special interest toward the spiritual aspects and needs of living, will be a kick-off banquet at 6 Sunday evening, and a Monday morning address by Dr. Kermit Eby of the University of Chicago's social science division.

The banquet, to be held in the north ballroom of the SUB will start the week. Dr. Eby is also slated to be the main speaker which annually draws capacity crowds. Several special acts have been secured for entertainment, officials said.

Three main points will be outlined by Dr. Eby in his speech at a Student Events assembly at 11 a.m. Monday. Topics to be discussed are "In Defense of Sectarianism," "What is a Good Man?" and "What is an Educated Man?" Classes will be shortened.

Special Address
In connection with R. E. Week, a lecture on "Christian Science: God's Promise Fulfilled" by Walter S. Symonds, C. S. B., of San Antonio, Texas, will be presented at 7 p.m. this evening at the Campus Christian Center. Symonds is a member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, The

Dance Doors Open Sat. At 9

The Foresters Ball complete with an alcohol still, sheep wagon, fire-fighting displays, and a couple hundred fir and spruce trees is set for Saturday night at the SUB, according to Spencer Miller, president of the Associated Foresters. This annual dance, which two years ago got so lively that a crack was opened the length of the cafeteria ceiling, and last year was attended by more than four hundred couples, will begin at nine to the strains of Rod Burton and his orchestra, Miller said.

One of the highlights of the evening will be a skit presented by the Foresterettes during intermission. All Foresters will be admitted free if they present their Associated Foresters Member's Card at the door. General admission will be $1.50 per couple, available at the door.

The college of Agriculture retained possession of the Aes-shovel trophy by dragging the College of Forestry through the pile of organic fertilizer late yesterday afternoon in the Annual Forestry-Agriculture Tug-of-War. About 60 aggies and 60 foresters paired off in the battle on the Ad Lawn which lasted for about 3 minutes.

Richard Feeney, forester chairman of the ball, explained that the alcohol-producing still will be managed by students of wood utilization it will be well attended, and it will be roped off out of reach of dance patrons. The alcohol will be a product of the distillation of wood.

Paul Baker, display chairman, said that a sheep wagon with possibly live sheep will add to the air of the occasion. Ethan Freeman is in charge of this range management display, Barker said.

The forest management men plan to set a display of the latest in fire-suppression and fire-detection devices including communications devices and transportation plans. Blaine Cornell is in charge of the "management" display, Barker said.

The wildlife students will arrange a trapper's camp complete with equipment and assorted stuffed animals and hides, Barker said. Bob Kindschy is the wildlife manager in charge of this booth.

Rupert Andrews, student of fisheries management, will arrange a display of equipment used in fisheries research and industry, Barker said.

Robert Speedy is the forester in charge of publicity for the dance. Assisting Speedy are Floyd Brooks (half-time publicity at last week's Washington - Idaho basketball game); Richard Schwab, James Gregg, Elwin Price, and James Grabon, poster advertising; and the entire membership of the Associated Forester club, Speedy said.

Suprise Promised
"Plans for the Dipper have gone awry," Richard Stauber, chairman of Dipper decoration, said yesterday. "We had planned to portray a backwoods barroom and to sell soft drinks," Stauber said, "but SUB officials vetoed the idea saying that possible damage to floor and SUB furnishings prohibited such consumption. We will come up with something that may be as much of a surprise to dance customers as it will to us." A tincan piano player will be entertaining in the Dipper as in past years, Stauber said.

Modern Novel Shorer's Text Tuesday Morn

Dr. Mark Shorer, fourth public even's speaker at the University of Idaho this year, will speak Tuesday at 11 a.m. on "A Novelist in the Modern World" in the University Auditorium.

Classes will be shortened as follows: 1st period, 8 to 8:35; 2nd period, 8:45 to 9:20; 3rd period, 9:30 to 10:05; and 4th period, 10:15 to 10:50.

Dr. Shorer, American novelist, critic, and biographer, is a professor of English at the University of California teaching story writing, contemporary literature and critical theory.

"The Wars of Love" is his latest novel, which was published in 1953. "A House of Vision," "The Hermit Place," "William Balke: The Politics of Vision," and "The Foundations of Literary Judgement" are among his more well known writings. He began writing short stories in 1933 and since then has placed literary articles and stories in such publications as the Scribner's, Harper's, New Yorker, and Story. Of these stories thirty-two were published in book form in 1947 under the title, "The State of Mind."

Schorer was a Fulbright student in Italy where he lectured on his novel, "The Wars of Love," in Italian universities. Also, he gave a series of lectures before the Princeton Seminar in Literary Criticism in 1950.

"I write criticism rapidly, fiction very slowly, but I can obviously not afford to put my faith in the old notion that the two do not get amiable together," and "To find out what a novel is, you have to read a great many novels," are Dr. Shorer's more famous sayings.

New ASUI Card System Next Year

At the house president's meeting held Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 in the Borah Theater, a new ASUI card system was explained. Plans for the Campus Chest and reasons for the change in the dates of the student recruitment tours were discussed.

John Thornock and John Gillis explained the new ASUI card system that will go into effect next year. Dick Weeks talked about the Campus Chest drive, March 5 through 10. Because of the new dates for the student recruitment tours more students will be able to try out and the dates will not conflict with the Blue Key Talent Show according to John Thornock. The tours are now scheduled to start on April 23.

Dear Jason:
 In regard to the recent uproar over "The Lightner Incident," we would like to present some timely criticism before the parties concerned have completely circled the wagons. Our fans accusations were vulgar, all right, and so was Lightner's response, only he was wearing the uniform of the Pacific Coast Conference. Is this the way we expect officials to react as an official?
 Let us point out that the Argonaut displays deep regret at Lightner's aftermath action, not his officiating. He is a top official, knows his rule, but his temper strays. You must be among the many who enjoy hooting him.

Dear Jason:
 I've held back and watched and listened as long as I can. With the publishing of Miss Taylor's letter my patience became exhausted.
 Why don't people who don't know anything about the problems of segregation stay out of the issue? Why don't people who want to get involved do a little research before they come up with such brilliant statements as: "tests have shown that the I.Q. of a Negro is as high or higher than that of a white man." Which white man and which Negro were used to uncover this brilliant statement? Fact and theory are not based on exceptions to rules.
 What has I.Q. got to do with the issue anyway? Lobe and Leopold, both had high I.Q.'s and they were murderers.
 Miss Taylor stated that, "the riot is narrow-mindedness and prejudice at its ugliest." I think that she should have stopped and considered many things before she made that statement. Has she considered the southerners feelings in her statement? Did she ever stop to consider that she might not know what she is talking about? Perhaps the reason that the Negro is having so much trouble is because "God is judging them." I wonder if Karen ever considered that possibility.

Dear G. and H.
 Points well taken, but—
 With Lightner in Memorial Gym, other "flagrant" uprisings may occur again. This we don't want. Save face you say, let's do it. Search for further and you will find Lightner has talked behind your back. He was here at Farmerville and naturally would take such a stand for Idaho. By the way, who is he in your reference to the officials?
 Our fans accusations were vulgar, all right, and so was Lightner's response, only he was wearing the uniform of the Pacific Coast Conference. Is this the way we expect officials to react as an official?

Campus Politics

Ed.—With this issue, the Idaho Argonaut is initiating a new column dealing with editorial comment on campus political happenings. The ideas and opinions expressed in this column are not necessarily those of the Argonaut or its staff members.

Professional and battle-scarred third party politicians thoroughly succeeded in throwing the decadent United Party into a state of chaos Wednesday night when they successfully manipulated Greek Caucus members into a position where they cut their own throats. The split which resulted in the Caucus can readily be distinguished in the 10 to 11 vote which vetoed a motion to formally disband the organization. Party officers resigned in disgust and the imprudent members elected new ones in their place. New Greek Caucus president, Frank Nosek, just so happened to be an old Student Government party man.
 But the biggest turn-coat of them all, John Chapman, accepted the vice presidency of the very Caucus, which minutes before he was strongly advocating be disbanded. With an old third party member and a "wishes-washes" for party leaders, the United Party should make a brilliant showing in the forthcoming ASUI spring elections.
 A straw ballot was taken at a meeting Tuesday night when the plan for a new political party was presented. At that time 13 of the 21 members were in favor of disbanding the old party. Among these were the Kappa Sig, Teke, and SAE representatives, who at that time publicly announced that their houses were solely supporting the Student Government Party and were therefore in favor of doing away with the Greek Caucus. The Tekes had withdrawn from financial support and from participation last year to go over to the SG Party when it was first organized.
 Someone undoubtedly got to the Tekes and SAEs before the Wednesday night meeting to inform them as to how they should vote, because it was these two houses that changed their vote from that of disbanding to that of saving the old Caucus. But, how could the Student Government Party stand to profit by this move?
 By splitting the Greek party and throwing it into a state of chaos, the third party is in an excellent position to move into the Greek side of the campus and cap-

Military Honorary Names 16 In ROTC For Initiation

The Idaho chapter of Scabbard and Blade initiated 28 ROTC cadets at a banquet Sunday at the SUB.
 Ten of the new members are from the army ROTC program and eight each from the Air Force and Navy detachments.
 Initiated from the Army were Curtis Anderson, Henry R. Blecha, Fred H. Burrow, Arlen Chaney, William J. Emacio, Gary N. McEwen, Gary L. Randall, Gerald G. Renfro, P. Elvind Resa and John R. Thornock.
 Air Force personnel included James D. Buckley, Dale Carlisle, Jay Grafmiller, William Griffin, Robert Koontz, Ralph Provencal, Gary Wilhelm and Robert H. Will.
 From the Navy unit William Bliesner, Charles Canfield, Dwaine Griffith, Robert Hillyer, Jerry Kessler, Peter McConnell, Stan Palmer and Ronald K. Robinson were initiated.
 Guest speaker at the banquet was Rafe Gibb of the publications department.
 The honorary's advisors, Capt. Ben Tunnell, Army ROTC, Capt. Richard Hanson, Air Force, and Lt. (jg.) Philip K. Collins Navy attended the dinner.

ize in the forthcoming elections.
 But how hypocritical can the Student Government Party get by blowing this new all-campus party in the head. It was the third party who so strongly advocated cross-campus politics and parties throughout their campaign last year. Now, before this new all-campus party can even get going, they beat it down because they suddenly realized that it might present them, a little competition.
 And meanwhile, new Caucus president Frank Nosek, is wandering around the campus muttering, "The Greek Caucus is 22 houses strong and with all this loyal support, we'll make a fine showing in the spring elections."

Campusology

By Mr. Peepers
 I've received many letters asking me about myself and how I came into the newspaper business. Well it all starts in a little town in the east. My family moved out here to Idaho a few days after I was born. It was easier then explaining it to our friends. We settled in a little town called Buffalo. Just on the other side of Indian Head.
 My parents were very fond of me. They called me son because I was a boy and also very bright. When I first started to school I was different than the other six year olds. I was seven. I was set back a year in kindergarten for spilling my pabulum. I was known as the boy bogler of the Alley.
 My parents were very proud of me when I was elected to play Abraham Lincoln in the fourth grade play. I was the only boy with a beard.
 It was then I always had my nose in a book. Couldn't afford a book marker. It was also about this time that I became interested in history. I read all the books I could that were educating to a 12 year old boy. Peek-a-boo, Forever Amber, The Kinsey Report and Mickie Splane. My mother had started me on these books when she told me the facts of life. About the three sexes, male, female and in.
 Outgrows Delinquency
 I was at that adolescent stage. What some people call the growing up stage. Too tall for keyholes and too short for transoms, too old for a juvenile delinquent and too young for a gangster. Too old to drink milk and too young to go to college.
 After grade school I went to Buffalo City High. But they sent me home to sober up. I found high school rather easy. Two blocks down and to the right. I was rather smart in high school. Whenever the teacher asked a question I was the first one to raise my hand. When I got back they were on a different subject.
 Then I came to the U of I.
 Small Refund
 I turned out for football. I was a two letter man till I heard of Chlorophyll. Some of the fellows got to be half back. All I ever got was two pennies back on the bottle. Then came stubbies. I was invited to a drinking contest by the Argonaut staff. I never won a match but did come in sickened. Then I met the girl of my dreams. And what a dream. Sandy Dreams. When I first met her I'll never forget. I was walking into the Bucket when I saw her—sitting there scraping gum from beneath the counter and putting it between the leaves of the book "The Weed of Gum, Bears Bitter Taste."

 When I first tried to kiss her she slapped my face. From then on I chewed tobacco. She stopped slapping. When I finally did receive a kiss it was the warmest kiss I've ever had. She was smoking a cigarette.
 She knew all there was about college boys. She wore kiss-proof lipstick, run-proof stockings and her breath was 100 proof. She could be the downfall of any man—if you're lucky.
 Then the day came when she told me she liked dirty jokes. It was then I turned to writing. Where else could you find the world's best material than in the College Paper.
 SPECIAL TV MEETING
 There will be a special meeting for all persons interested in becoming radio amateurs at the new TV building on Tuesday, February 28, at 7:00 p.m. Mr. Kenneth Hungerford, a licensed amateur, will be present to answer questions and to help plan a program for learning the Morse Code and the basic fundamentals of radio.

Bucket Help Merits Praise

Possibly the Argonaut editorial staff has been too much on the antagonistic critical side, rather than looking around for some of the take-for-granted campus activities which go on about us, for instance jobs well done.
 With many hours of hard work, practice and determination, the new Vandalettes drew thunderous applause last Saturday night with a half-time show that thrilled many. This group is to be congratulated for clearing a tough hurdle. The half-time entertainment committee doubted earlier whether this group would be ready. They were.
 Take the Bucket this year. Gale Mix and his staff have a top staff, political and courteous and willing to serve the students. The atmosphere has changed, things work smoother, and that coffee break has drawn more students this year than other years.
 The Bucket crew is doing a top flight professional job. Today the waitresses and waiters will wear lapel badges: "Our boss will match our tips today for Moscow Opportunity School." Recognition for a fine job could be shown by helping out this fine cause.

VETS MAIL BAG

Veterans Administration received appraisal requests for 29,284 proposed homes during January, an increase of nearly 18 percent over the December total of 24,892.
 VA said the number of proposed in appraisal activity last fall, VA units for which it receives appraisal requests is considered an indicator of future GI home loan business. VA characterized the increase, in part, as seasonal since builders are beginning to come to VA regional offices with their Spring building plans.
 VA added it still is too early to feel the effects of the partial relaxation of credit controls announced on January 17, 1956.
 VA said it received 18,938 appraisal requests for existing homes in January—about the same total as in December.
 However, the 41,882 GI home loan applications received in January were eight per cent below the December total of 45,514.
 This decrease reflects the drop in appraisal activity last fall, VA said, when no-down payment loans were halted by VA in face of a 2 per cent down payment requirements.

Music teachers and supervisors attended sessions Thursday devoted to church and school music instruction conferences. Thursday evening, the IMEA Conference Banquet was held in the North Ball Room of the SUB. Dr. H. Walter Steffens, executive dean, University of Idaho, spoke about "The Jargon of Education."

The mixed chorus and senior band of Moscow high school appeared at 8:15 p.m. at the high school auditorium for a Moscow city school concert.

The evening came to a close with a "lobby sing," in the lobby of the Moscow Hotel, with Robert Gibb, director of athletics, directing.

Friday, sessions will be devoted to new music for high school choral, orchestra and band organizations. Friday evening, the Host Night Concert will be presented at 8:15 p.m. in the university auditorium. Carl Claus will conduct the University Symphony Orchestra with the Vandaleers singing under the direction of Glen R. Lockery. The University Concert Band will be under Warren Bellis' baton.

Exec Board Work Outlined

(Ed. Note: This is the first in a series of sketches of the ASUI Executive Board members.)
The ASUI Exec Board this year has put to advantage a new interview system and has taken a big step forward in polling the students interest, Vice President John Thornock said today.

Thornock, an independent party member of the Board, says the group has worked smoothly this year in carrying out the student's wishes.

"In interpretation of a representative government," the veep comments, "I feel the Board member is elected to vote as if the people he represents are there and the people would know what his official knows. A Board member should inform the people that the vote cast will be carried out as the people's wish."

Thornock will receive a degree in education next year and will also enter law school.

The veep was confronted with the question of the benefits of sending a recruiting group about the state when the school is near to capacity in housing for students.

"The more students the better," Thornock responded, "Certainly we have enough to offer at Idaho. Idaho Board's work this term: Cites Board's Work
"We have used the house president's system to good advantage. The ASUI has taken over the SUB and there has been a noticeable improvement with the anticipation of further expansion."
"Our actions have had better coverage this year through the Argonaut and the two radio stations,"

He said "the Board has made a more flexible ASUI program through committee revisions and the interview system. The Drill Team and Pep Band were helped by the Exec Board."

Thornock feels the Vandal Riders issue has been kicked around too long. "May of 1955, the issue first arose and we're still waiting for channels to pass the recommendation to recognize the rodeo team under the ASUI. The main administration concern has been the problem of finances and liabilities. There is a great risk in ro-deoing."

"President Theophilus," Thornock remarks, "certainly has the students at heart. He wants us to run our entire show and has helped us in every way. His cooperation has been greatly appreciated by the Board."

Activity-wise Thornock has spent his undergraduate years in the midst of the ASUI and campus picture. He sang for Vandaleers two years and is a member of Phi Mu Alpha, music honorary. He is the president of the LDS House. He was president of Phi Eta Sigma, scholarship honorary, his freshman year.

As a sophomore he was a member of Intercollegiate Knights, headed the Blood Drive and Campaign Chest and was president of the Regional Independent Student Association last year.

A junior, Thornock was tapped for Blue Key service honorary, Scabbard and Blade, ROTC honorary and is currently co-chairman of Religious Emphasis Week.

In June of 1955 he married Rochelle Henderson, Pi Phi, at Idaho Falls.

Next week: John T. Gillis, Student Government member.

Revamped Card System Streamlines ASUI Work

A revamped student activity card system, designed to streamline the selection of students to positions in campus government, will soon go into effect, it was announced today by John Gillis, Executive board member. Gillis headed a committee to revise the system and has explained the changes to house presidents.

To be eligible for committee selection, students will be required to fill out the activity cards, Gillis pointed out.

"The new program," Gillis said, "will attempt to bring a more equal basis for selecting people by keeping up with individuals' progress. In planning the change the committee kept in mind the anticipated enrollment increase."

Gillis pointed out the system will be gradually integrated into the present program and will be subject to minor changes.

Under the new system a student will choose five activities which he is interested in, listing three first place choices and two seconds. Gillis remarked that this would enable students to have equal preferences when applying for committees at different times of the year such as Homecoming in the fall, Religious Emphasis Week in the winter or Borah Conference in the spring.

The cards will be colored for the different classes, enabling a more streamlined filing system. Red Tabs will be placed on first choices and blue tabs on second choices.

Sophomores for the 1956-57 school year will have pink cards, juniors, yellow and seniors, orange cards. These cards have been passed out to enable the students presently enrolled to apply for the next year's activities. Incoming freshmen next fall will receive blue cards.

New File in March
Present students, Gillis said, will make out new cards and make changes in these cards next fall so that the cards will be current when committees are being selected in the spring for the next school year.

Gillis said two points of their revamped system will be gradually integrated with the interview

Campus Chest Starts With House Drives

This year's Campus Chest Drive will be built around the theme, Campus Chest Carnival. Jim Wright, booths chairman, and Clark Anderson decorations chairman, plan to have the SUB ballroom decorated with booths, set up by the living groups, in carnival festivity style, thus following the drive theme. Music for the "dime a dance" donated by Gary Pietsch and his combo for dance. The drive will begin March 5th and will come to a climax the evening of March 10th.

The auctions, under the chairmanship of Lou Ann Olsen, will be held the night of March 10th. Each living group will be auctioning various articles and even people during this time. These auctions were a main source of income last year and all cooperation is urged to make this phase of the drive a success. A stunt has also been planned to take place between basketball games March 9th.

House donations and funds will be handled by Roger Tovey. Fund raising jars will be put in eye appealing places about the campus. All houses are urged to give their utmost help on this campaign. Ticket sales will be handled by Joe Hallis.

The Campus Chest is a fund by which you, the U. of I. students give to the worthy organization called World University Service. The items for which your campus chest dollar is used for includes: student lodging and living, student health, educational facilities and equipment, and individual and emergency aid. In previous years, the World University Service has received 20 per cent of the funds.

Fifteen per cent was given to the Religious Emphasis Week program; 10 per cent to the American Heart Association; 10 per cent to the Crippled Children's Society, Boise; and 10 per cent to the Save the Children Federation; 10 per cent to the Elk's Convalescent Home for Polio in Boise and 10 per cent to the North Idaho Children's Home in Lewiston. The committee retained 5 per cent of the money to be used independently.

The Campus Chest Committee will propose the placements of the per cent of the funds, after which the Executive Board will approve the proposal.

Dick Weeks, junior class president and overall chairman of the drive, plans to make this the biggest Campus Chest Drive yet.

'Shell Out' Today For Handicapped At Local School

Moscow waitresses and their bosses open a one-day campaign today to raise money for the Opportunity School for handicapped children. The waitresses will donate all the tips they receive today and their employers will match the sum.

Waitresses at the Student Union cafeteria will also join in the drive. They will wear lapel pins with such inscriptions as "Help Moscow Opportunity School Today," and "Our boss will match our tips today for Moscow Opportunity School."

L. G. Connelly, school board president, has said that the basic problem is finances for the school, that the school has abundant "well-qualified teachers."

The school is located on the southeast corner of Fifth and Washington Streets and is filled nearly to capacity with 22 to 26 children attending daily classes.

The children's handicaps range from wheel-chair cases to speech defects. They take the basic curriculum of the public schools and progress to their ability.

The school has run primarily by donation at a monthly cost of nearly $2,300.

Elizabeth Ann Winegar of Moscow, a 1954 graduate of the University of Idaho, has been awarded a Rotary Foundation fellowship for advanced study in the British Isles during the 1956-57 academic year, it was learned here today.

Recommended for the award by the Rotary club of Moscow, Miss Winegar is one of 128 outstanding graduate students from 32 nations to receive a fellowship. Each grant averages $2,500. She will study zoology at one of the major universities in Britain in preparation for a career in health education work.

The Rotary fellowship is the fifth scholastic award to be presented the Moscow woman in the past three years. She holds two scholarships for the present school year—a teaching fellowship in biology at Harvard university and the Thomas Dana scholarship for studies in biology at Radcliffe college. She expects to receive her master's degree from Harvard next August.

In 1953, Miss Winegar was awarded a scholarship to the University of Oslo summer school, Oslo, Norway, where she studied art, music and language. For the summer of 1954, she was granted an award to the U.S. National Student association's International Student Relations seminar at Harvard. She spent the year 1954-55 as a field representative for the World University service, lecturing at universities, colleges and preparatory schools.

Miss Winegar received numerous scholastic honors at the University of Idaho and was active in many campus organizations. She was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honorary; Alpha Epsilon Delta, pre-medical honorary; Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's scholastic honorary, of which she was president and junior adviser, and Mortar Board.

She was northwest regional officer of the U.S. National Student association and the University of Idaho delegate to the NSA national congress.

The Rotary fellowship program was inaugurated in 1937 as one of the organization's contributions toward the promotion of international understanding, good will and peace. To date, more than 800 young men and women from 61 nations have been awarded fellowships for a year of graduate study in 40 countries.

Janssen Speaks About Engineering

A. S. Janssen, dean and director of the College of Engineering, spoke to the Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday, February 22, on the present situation in the engineering profession and in engineering colleges.

Janssen's talk was in connection with National Engineer's Week which was recently designated by President Eisenhower to be February 20-26. It was sponsored by the National Professional Engineers Society and has emphasized the importance of the engineer's contribution to modern America.

According to Janssen, one out of every three male students on the Idaho Campus is enrolled in the College of Engineering. To celebrate their week, U. of I. engineers have given several radio broadcasts over a local station. An exhibit prepared by the Idaho Highway Department has been displayed in the Engineering Building.

Dr. Hosack was struggling with a drowsy class on a warm spring day (last year that is). They were discussing the constitution. Spotting a particularly sleepy fellow in the back row, the professor snapped, "If the President of the United States died, who would get the job?"
The student was puzzled for a moment, then replied, "A Republican undertaker."

One of Dr. Graue's lectures on this campus was so boring that two empty seats got up and walked out.

The Road

Or what paved the way for sixty-one million cars?

WHEN you drive anywhere in America today it isn't an adventure.

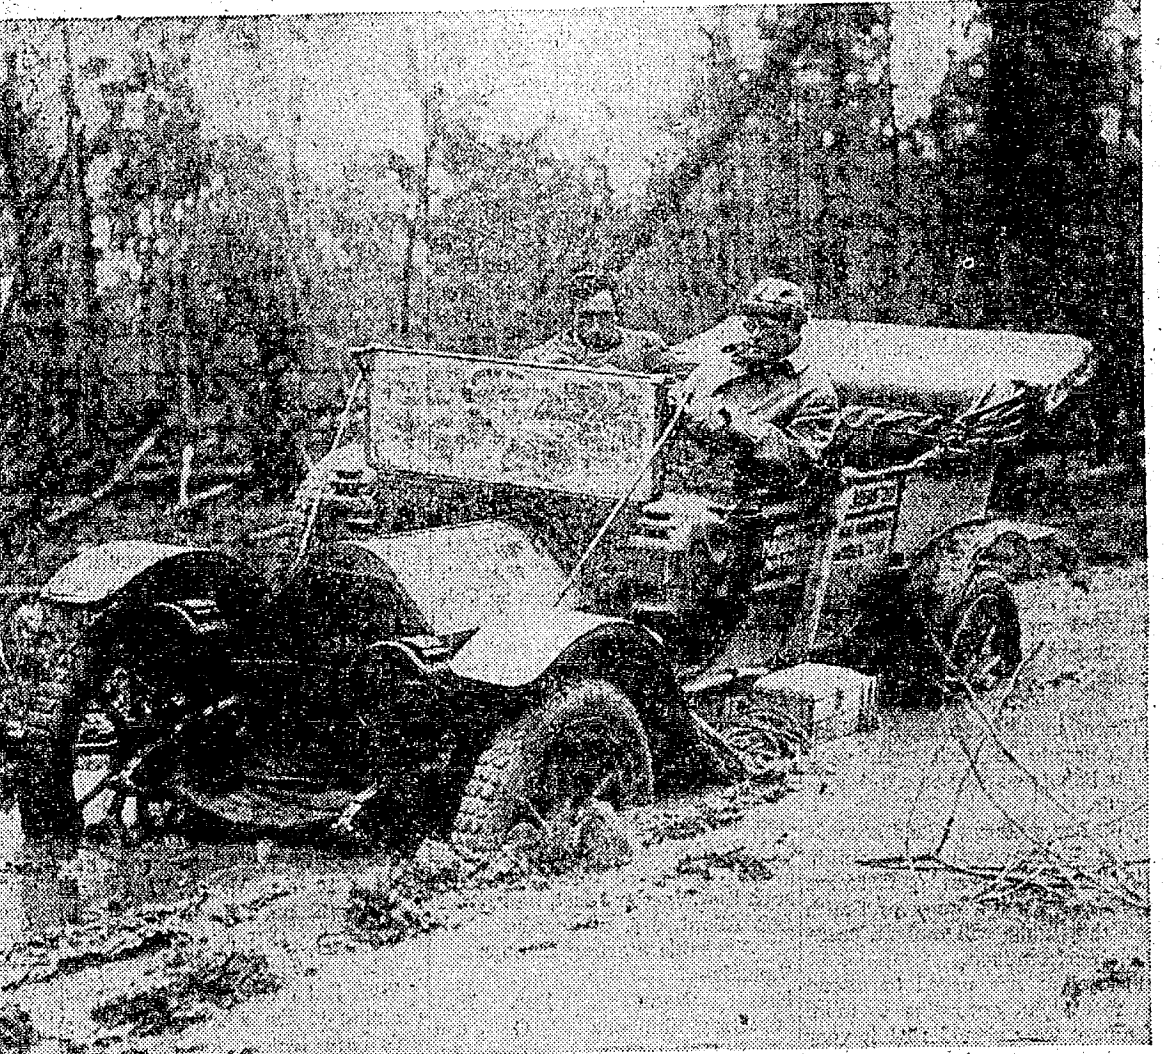

You no longer jolt down unmarked and uncharted roads in uncertain cars. Roads that are bottomless mudholes or rock-ribbed ruts.

But your father did. For a mere forty years ago there were hardly 4,000 miles of paved roads in this country, and not quite 2,500,000 automobiles to go anywhere on them.

What changed the picture so quickly to 300,000 miles of smooth highways and over 61,000,000 vehicles? For one thing, the simple need for American business to make a profit.

Example: the automobile manufacturers. Trying to sell more cars and make a profit, they made constantly better cars. The better the cars became, the more people bought them. The more people bought cars, the greater the need for safe roads. And we built them.

Example: the oil companies. We had to make a profit, too. So after we refined the gasoline we scraped the bottom of the barrel of crude oil and made asphalt. At first it was a primitive black-top that was poured right on the road. But to sell it in competition with costlier materials, we kept improving it.

Result: today heavy-duty asphalt covers eight out of every ten miles of American roads. Today, too, our expanding economy calls for a third more miles of new and wider highways.

Your taxes will pay for these new roads, so we hope they're built of asphalt. It does everything any costlier material does. It can save you as much as $78,848 per mile. It's proved itself in paving the way for sixty-one million cars.

A Campus-to-Career Case History

Cliff Downer (right), A.B. in Mathematics, '49, M.S. in Civil Engineering, '50, Harvard, on the site of a building construction project.

"Projects you can sink your teeth into"

Clifford J. Downer started his telephone career in the building engineering department of The Southern New England Telephone Company. At present he is working with the Bell System's manufacturing unit, Western Electric, helping to build facilities for housing a Continental Air Defense project. His assignment: a key liaison job in supervising a subcontractor's work on a several million dollar construction operation.

"One of the most interesting features of my present job," says Cliff, "is making decisions on the spot. For example, drawings showed where bedrock for footings would be reached. Excavations revealed a poor grade of rock. How much further down do we go? A hundred workers and tons of equipment are waiting for the decision.

"There's a lot of future for a civil engineer in the telephone business. New and smaller types of telephone equipment will probably change our ideas about how telephone buildings should be built. It's fascinating work, all right. And broadening, too, because it's leading me to other engineering fields.

"It looks to me as if there are real challenges ahead—projects you can sink your teeth into. Besides, I'm convinced the telephone business recognizes and regards personal industriousness and drive."

Interesting career opportunities of all kinds are also offered by other Bell Telephone Companies and Western Electric Company, Bell Telephone Laboratories and Sandia Corporation. Your placement officer has more information about these companies.

Vandals Face Young OSC Team In Two Games At Corvallis

Idaho Vandals hit the road again this weekend, after a long homestand which saw them drop seven out of eight games. Harlan Hodges and his twelve-man squad left yesterday by plane for Corvallis, Oregon, where they will meet the Oregon State Beavers Friday and Saturday nights.

Little Beaver

One of the three sophomore starters on the OSC Beavers, Ken Nanson, is one of the hardest workers on the squad and is best for his size on the team for backboard play. Nanson, 6-0, is the Beavers' second highest scorer in conference play.

Gymnasts Make First Showing Against WSC

Idaho's inexperienced gymnastics team faces its first dual meet of the season Saturday afternoon when they meet the WSC Cougars in Memorial Gym at 2 p.m.

Twelve Idaho men will be taking part in the meet, competing in the eight events. Idaho team members include: Dale Carlson, Dick Wisdom, Perry DeLong, Floyd Lydum, Jerry Duffy, Mike Peterson, Bob Brasher, Doug Eier, Dwaine Eastman, Gerald Bishop, Bob Kidd, and Brian Olson.

Included in the eight events are: long-horse leaping, free-hand exercises, tumbling, horizontal bar, parallel bar, side-horse, rope climbing and trampoline. The latter event has proven to be the most crowd pleasing event. Competing for Idaho will be Eier, DeLong and Peterson three of the four that supplied half-time entertainment in the Cal. game two weeks ago.

Three men from each school will compete in each event with points being awarded on a 6-4-3-2-1 basis.

WSC has a strong squad according to Idaho coach Dick Smith, with more veteran performers than his own team. However, Smith feels that Idaho will make a creditable performance.

Spectators are urged to attend the meet, and according to team members they should find it very interesting and enjoyable.

The next meet for the Idaho team will be on March 17 when they compete against University of Washington and WSC in a tri-dual meet at Pullman.

High Scoring Beaver

The Vandals left in high spirits despite their position at the bottom of the PCC, hoping for at least a split against Slat's Gill's squad.

Coach Hodges said that Idaho would be at a disadvantage playing away from home, but despite this fact he was hopeful that they would gain at least a split.

A clean sweep of the series would boost the Vandals ahead of Oregon State who are currently in seventh place with 2 wins and 10 defeats.

Idaho played one of their better games of the year against Washington last Saturday night, losing out in the overtime period after their height had been reduced by fouls.

Forward Jay Buhler topped the Idaho scoring in both games with a total of 31 points and is counted on to carry the brunt of the scoring load this weekend along with guards Bill Bauscher and Gary Simmons.

Probable starters for the Vandals will be guards, Bauscher and Simmons; center, Gary McEwen and forwards, Buhler and Jim Branom.

Others making the trip are forwards, Jerry Jorgenson and Brent Thomson; center, Mark Cole and guards, Gary Sather, Bill Wilson and Pete Shawver; as well as trainer, Packy Boyle and student manager, Jim Shawver.

Heavy Losses
In facing the Beavers, Idaho will be up against a club that is in somewhat the same position as themselves. Both teams suffered heavily from graduation losses and are deep in the rebuilding process.

OSC coach Slat Gill, after whom the Beavers' home court, Gill Coliseum is named, guided his club to the Pacific Coast championship last season. Seven of the eight scorers on that club were lost through graduation and the eighth, Jay Dean, a native Idahoan, transferred to Northwest Nazarene College at Nampa.

'Big gun' for OSC this year has been 6-7 sophomore forward Dave Gambee, who ranks third among all PCC scorers with a total of 207 points for an average of 17.3 per game.

Other probable starters for the Beavers will include forward, Larry Paulus, 6-3 senior; center Wayne Moss 6-9 sophomore, and sophomore Ken Nanson 6 feet, and junior Bob Allord, 6-4, at guards.

WRA Ski Team Is Second In NW Meet

Idaho women's ski team placed second among five teams in the Northwest Inter-Collegiate Ski Meet held at Whitefish, Montana last weekend.

The team coached by Miss Patricia Rowe placed behind only the University of Washington. WSC finished third, Montana fourth and University of British Columbia, fifth.

Lucienne Gioanni was the top Idaho point getter placing 2nd in the individual awards. Deanna Geertsen placed fifth and the two remaining members of the team Lorin Addington and Shirley Hornig finished further back in the list.

WRA house representatives are asked to check the tournament schedules at the Women's Gym, basketball and bowling slates have both been postponed.

An open practice will be held Friday afternoon in the Women's Gym for girls interested in playing on the Idaho team that will compete in the playday to be held at WSC on March 10.

Women's badminton tournament will resume action Saturday morning and all competitors are urged to be on time for their match or have it forfeited.

NOTICE

Varsity baseball prospects are asked to attend a meeting in Room 109 of the Memorial Gym Monday afternoon at 4 p.m.

High Scoring Beaver

Vandals will have to hold down big Dave Gambee (shown above) if they hope to stem the OSC scoring punch in their coming series. Gambee, 6-7, soph ranks third behind only UCLA's Naulls and Morris Taft in latest PCC figures. Gambee hooks well with either hand and has a good jump shot.

Frosh Game Cancelled

A last minute frosh hoop-schedule change has been announced by Ken Hunter, athletic publicity director. The contest scheduled here for Friday night with the Moses Lake Sportsmen was cancelled with the onset of bad weather.

The airmen canceled the game because of the possibility of bad roads.

In its place a game has been scheduled with the WSC Couabes for Saturday night. The contest, prelim to the WSC-Stanford meet, will be played in Bohler Memorial Gym at Pullman at 6 p.m.

The other two remaining scheduled games for the Vandal frosh are also with the Couabes on the 9th and 10th of March. These two games will be a home and home series.

Three Left

With just these three games remaining in the season, the Vandals are hoping for an eleven straight victory skein to finish out the season. The Babes made it eight straight Saturday night with a 79 to 60 win over the Eastern Washington Jayvees.

In the intrasquad scoring race battling forward Harold Damiano moved out in front of his teammates by one point. An unusual tie for second involves three of the starters, Lou Vesely, Whaylan Coleman, and Jim Prestel.

Damiano leads with 148 points while the other three are tied with 147 apiece. John Livius, ineligible because of grades, also had 147 points to his credit.

Individual scoring for the frosh's first 12 games, (won 10, lost 2) reads as follows:

	FG	FT	Rebs	TP
Damiano	.66	.16	130	148
Vesely	.51	.35	25	147
Coleman	.62	.29	157	147

Schaeffer	.15	.12	34	42

Buhler Lengthens Lead In Vandal Scoring Race

Scoring 31 points in last weekend's two games with Washington, senior forward Jay Buhler moved 34 points in front of his nearest competitor in the Vandals' individual conference scoring race.

Bill Bauscher, senior guard, ranks second behind Buhler, followed by soph guard Gary Simmons who has 113 markers and injured Jack Mitchell who is still in fourth spot with 86 points.

Mitchell is the top marks man from the field with a .439 percentage, ranking him fifth in the conference. Simmons has hit for a .414 average from the floor.

Bill Bauscher, retained his conference lead in free throw percentage despite his off-color showing last weekend as he hit on only 6 of 11 from the gift toss line.

Bauscher now has a .782 percentage on 43 of 55 tries. Buhler is second on the squad in this department with a .698 average.

	FG	FT	Rebs	TP
Buhler	.54	.37	48	145
Bauscher	.39	.43	50	121
Simmons	.41	.31	27	113

Helldivers Tap Thirteen For Swim Honorary

The Helldivers swimming club selected thirteen new members at the meeting last Monday night. The new members include: Ralph Lindberg, Jack Helle, Joise Anderson, Helen Farmin, Elaine Heiber, Jan Novak, Donna Gale, Carol Harvey, Suzanne Roffler, Kathryn Torpey, Irene Bratton, Marge Assendrup and Nike Doerr.

Members should remember that automatic expulsion from the club is the penalty for not attending meetings without making prior arrangements. Anyone in doubt about his status should contact the discipline committee immediately.

Attendance at the next meeting is urged as selections for participation in the watershow will be made at that time. Date of the meeting will be announced later.

Slat Riders Host Four Teams At Emida Meet

Outstanding skiers from four northwest colleges will gather in Moscow this weekend to participate in the Emida ski meet, co-sponsored by the Vandals and WSC Cougars.

Top-notch skiers from Whitman, Montana State, and WSC will compete with the Vandals for the final time this weekend before all of these teams enter competition in March with other teams of the northwest for the championship of the Northwest.

Vandal ski coach, Ron Byers stated, "the meet is scheduled to begin promptly at 10:30 Saturday on the Emida run. All the spectators that turn out for the event will be appreciated and greatly rewarded by the fine skiing they will see."

The jumping event which generally holds the most spectator interest is scheduled for Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m. The cross-country event will be held Saturday morning to round out the first day's schedule. On Sunday the slalom will be run at 10 a.m. followed by the downhill event at 2 p.m.

Idaho has won three intercollegiate meets to date and picked up a second place at Reno. Vandal skiers participating in the home meet will be Reidar Ulevaalseter, Erik Breggren, Per Windju, Frank Cammack, John Harrington, Tom Anderson, and Bill Cooke.

Jim Douglass, highly rated freshman skier will also be with the Vandal team after his absence due to an injury he received in Nevada.

Vandals' outstanding cross-country and jumping man, Helge Gaggum will still not be able to participate with the team due to the injury he received in the Reno meet.

The guests to the meet will be divided between the two host campuses with Whitman being housed at WSC and the Montana State team on the Idaho campus. If difficulties can be worked out all of the participating teams will attend an international banquet in WSC Sunday night.

Idaho jumping entrants will travel to Spokane to participate in another meet that is being held there on Sunday.

CHALK TALK

with Don Neville Smith

Basketball coach Harlan Hodges plans to make films of the Vandals' home basketball games and send them to television stations throughout the state.

In commenting on this last week Coach Hodges said that they will only edit the films and send only the better parts of the games. "That way it makes Idaho look better," said the coach.

The cameras were in action in both games of the Washington series. These films should provide excellent publicity for the university especially the basketball squad.

Here's a shocker: With new coaches every day popping into print regarding the invincibility of the great San Francisco basketball team, it's interesting to note that Tippy Dye, Washington's coach, thinks that the Dons may take a beating in the NCAA regional tournament at Corvallis in March.

The Bruins of UCLA are his pick; that is if they can get by the PCC first and he thinks they will. It doesn't seem as though anyone can stop them now.

Dye says that the Bruins are a greatly improved team and are getting better all the time. However, Dye admits that the loss of stellar guard K. C. Jones by the Dons for NCAA tourney play has a lot to do with his pick.

All Stars To Be Chosen Monday

The third annual edition of the Argonaut All Star intramural 'A' basketball team will be announced Monday. Members of the sports staff of the Arg will select the team.

Three members of last year's first team are rated good chances of repeating. On last year's first squad were center, Jim Howard, Phi Delta Theta, Forwards, Mel Schmidt, Willis Sweet Hall and Bill Lawr, Kappa Sigma and guards, Sonny Long, Chrisman Hall and Max Watt, Idaho Club.

Lindley Hall and Phi Delta Theta moved farther out in front in intramural team standings as both houses picked up 200 points in 'A' basketball, despite the fact that PDT won the campus championship.

According to figures released yesterday by intramural manager, Larry Golding, Lindley still holds a 23 point lead over the Phi Dels.

Finmen Meet Undefeated Wash. Team

The Idaho varsity swimming team, which was beaten by Washington State 49 to 34, Tuesday afternoon will meet the strong University of Washington team at Seattle this afternoon.

The Vandals, who have yet to win a conference meet this season and have not lost a non-conference dual match, left for Seattle yesterday afternoon.

The strong Husky squad, which has not lost a dual meet since 1942 when they fell to Oregon 56 to 19, are riding atop the Northern Division with three wins and no losses.

Phi Dels are campus champions in 'B' ball also. 'B' ball will continue until the end of March when the eight league will enter the playoffs.

Idaho Club and Tau Kappa Epsilon share the lead in League 1 in 'mural' bowling with Chrisman Hall leading League 2, defending champions Phi Delta Theta on top of League 3 and Delta Tau Delta and SAE sharing the first rung in League 4 in latest standings.

Other Idaho finmen expected to pick up points are backstroke Dale Carlisle, diver Byron Richards and sprinter Bruce Buckman. The Huskies are led by sprinter and backstroke Don Cramer, a soph record-smasher.

The unbeaten Idaho frosh meet the WSC Couabes at Pullman Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m. The Couabes have lost to Eastern Washington twice while the frosh holds a single victory over the Cheney frosh.

UCLA PLAYS FOR KEEPS

According to Red Sanders, UCLA football coach, the UCLA student body takes an adult view of hanging in effigy. When approached on the subject by a sports writer, Sanders said, "There's nothing childish about our student body. If they decide to hang me, it would be for keeps."
