

Blue Key Acts Rehearsal Set

By Charlene Roth
Dress rehearsal will be held Thursday at 6:30 p.m. for persons who will appear on the Blue Key Talent Show. All those selected will be notified by Wednesday evening, George Yost, co-chairman, said today. Each of the acts will be notified as to the time they are to appear.

Auditions are still being held, and those people who have auditions scheduled are encouraged to make them at the time appointed, as it may be impossible to find another time. They are being held in the Central Ballroom of the SUB. Acts selected will be competing for trophies on March 23, when the annual event is presented at 7:30 p.m. in the Memorial Gym. Trophies will be given for the best musical serious acts, vocal and instrumental divisions; best group comedy; best single comedy and best nonmusical serious acts. Three judges will be selected from among the faculty of Pullman and Moscow High Schools. MC's for the show will be Chuck McDevitt and Kenny Wright. Tickets will go on sale at the door with the admission price set at 25 cents. Journalism convention delegates, who will be on campus that weekend, will be guests of the Blue Key.

According to Yost there have been some very good acts auditioned, including top dancing acts, twirling acts, vocals, charleston acts, and others.

Students have already witnessed the completion of the first phase of the SUB expansion—the new booths, planter, lights and acoustical tile in the cafeteria. But what is the second phase?

As ASUI President McDevitt explained it at the first house president's meeting last fall, the second phase of the development would consist of enclosing the present patio, which is adjacent to the cafeteria, in glass, constructing a fireplace, and increase the present seating capacity of the cafeteria to 150.

The house presidents took this plan back to the students for their opinion. The presidents reported that the students were 100 per cent in favor of the proposed plan. As a result the ASUI Executive Board underwrote the idea. Hugh Richardson, a Lewiston architect, was called in and preliminary plans were drawn up.

This is all well and good, but will this project be completed in time to accommodate the rise in enrollment next year? Unless students can get the project through the administration's road blocks pretty soon, we'll never witness the reality of second phase.

The ASUI, during the past three years, has developed the Student Union Building into the number one gathering place of the students. The Union is "the place to go." Will this attitude prevail if students are turned away because of lack of adequate facilities?

The students of the ASUI have made the SUB "the place to go," and the students of the ASUI will continue to make the SUB "the place to go."

The only thing barring the way is getting the machinery moving and working out the details and specifications. Facilities must be made available to meet the ever increasing enrollments each year.

Best IK & Spur Chosen Tomorrow At Annual Dinner

"Knight of Knights" and "Spur of the Moment" awards will be presented at the annual Intercollegiate Knight-Spur, national sophomore service honoraries on campus, banquet to be held Wednesday evening at 5:30 p.m. in the SUB's Central Ballroom.

Opening Press Confab Still Lacks Housing

The problem of delegate housing for this week's Idaho High School Journalism conference was still plaguing convention planners today as the Friday convening date approached.

Dr. Granville Price, chairman of journalism, Monday said most of his worries were centered around the lack of space for women representatives who will compose more than half of the 350 high school students expected to attend. Price said the greatest need for housing would occur on Friday night following the opening day of the two-day session. He again appealed to sororities and women's living groups to advise him of any space available.

Meanwhile, the program for the conference today was being rounded out. Registration will begin Thursday evening and continue Friday morning prior to the 9:45 a.m. opening session in which Dean H. Walter Steffens, executive dean, Chuck McDevitt, Gary Pietsch, Arg editor and Jamie Steele, Gem editor will welcome delegates in the SUB's main ballroom.

Bill Boni, former Associated Press newsman and war correspondent, now sports editor of the Spokesman-Review, will discuss "Newspaper Work is People" at the initial address of the confab. Ken Miller, head of Western Engineering and Colortype Co., Seattle gives a "Chalk Talk" at 10:50 a.m. The day will continue with panel discussions and ends with a banquet in the main ballroom.

Many Panels Set

Three more panel discussions on yearbooks and photography will be run Saturday morning with criticisms of newspapers. A speech by Laurin E. Pietsch, publisher of the Sandpoint News-Bulletin on "Journalism as a Career" is scheduled at 10:30 a.m. followed by a summation of the entire conference by a high school adviser, Miss Loretta Lynch of Bonners Ferry.

Awards for reporting and sports writing contests and judging of newspapers will be presented prior to adjournment.

Jim Kay, freshman class president, said members of his class would be available for guided tours of the campus on Saturday afternoon.

FOUR TO UN MEETING

The Academic Council formally excused four students from classes to attend the sixth annual Modern United Nations General Assembly in Corvallis, Oregon, April 4-7. Those representing the University of Idaho at the meeting will be Al Arrivee, Arlie Caudle, Maurcon Mix and Carol Reichert.

The Crescent Girl will win a traveling trophy and she will be pinned to the Fraternity. Also she will represent the local Chapter in a nationwide contest sponsored by the national magazine, Cross and Crescent. At the Convention the Crescent Girl for the United States and Canada will be selected.

Hosack and Mr. and Mrs. Jay C. Dotson.

Other guests will include Dean and Mrs. C. O. Decker, Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Cross, Ralph Litton, President of the Alumni Association, Robert Sessions, and Kenneth Hensley.

Idaho School Trustees Hold Annual Affair

Over 200 school trustees from all parts of Idaho attended their annual meeting held here March 15-17. This was the largest turnout in the history of the organization.

School district superintendents from throughout the state were also in attendance. They held a separate discussion Saturday. At other times they met with the trustees and discussed future state legislation pertaining to schools.

Dr. M. E. Stapley of Evansville, Indiana, was the speaker the opening session Thursday, March 15. He is one of the national field representatives on the Community Conference Technique for giving out information relative to school operations and school needs.

Elwin S. Schwartz of the Music Department of the University of Idaho was toastmaster for the banquet which was held in the SUB Friday night. A quartet under the direction of Norman R. Logan provided musical entertainment.

Mr. Herbert Roberts, immediate past-president of the National Trustees Association, was the guest speaker. In his talk he stressed the things that school trustees need to do to familiarize themselves with the most up-to-date methods of meeting school problems.

GERMAN TALKERS MEETING

Campus Politicians Prepare For Battle

New blood in the campus political scene. The Campus Coalition party, starts the ball rolling tomorrow night with a nominating and party platform convention, while the other three parties will hold presidential primaries Thursday.

The "Fourth Party" will meet at 7:30 Wednesday night in Conference Room A of the SUB to nominate presidential candidates for a primary to be held possibly next week. Co-chairmen Ray Wilke and Jerry Walsh said the meeting is an open all-campus assembly and fresh women will have 9 p.m. permission.

The Student Government, Independent and Greek parties will hold primaries Thursday in campus living groups. Next on the political agenda will be Executive Board primaries to be run next week. Thursday is the opening day for primary elections.

Weeks Unopposed

The third party nominated last week and will run Dick Weeks unopposed in the primaries with the party considering write-in votes. Bob Ridener, party co-chairman, said town men will cast ballots in the Town Men's room of the SUB.

The Independent caucus met last night to complete the party platform and nominated presidential candidates. Party chairman Jim Russell said the group will hold Executive Board nominations this week and hold the primaries Monday. Dick Gaskins and John Thornock, present members of the Executive Board had been nominated by Independent living groups prior to the meeting, but final presidential candidates for the primary were unavailable at press time. Russell said the party does not limit primary candidates.

Three Greeks

The Greeks have nominated Neal Powell, Delta, Dale Carlisle, Phi; and Paul Schultz, Sigma Chi (although the Sigma Chi delegation has reportedly withdrawn from the caucus) for presidential primaries.

Karen Krauss, a member of Executive Board, was the fourth nominee on the Greek slate, but declined to run. She issued a statement this week: "I sincerely feel—now that I have seen what the ASUI presidency involves—that I have none of the qualifications necessary. I appreciate the suggestion—but even the considerations of a woman in such a position seems impossible to me at the present time."

Freshman Ball Saturday topped off the proceedings with the crowning of Frosh queen Joan Ramstedt and King Tim Kime. They were elected by an earlier Freshman vote. About 150 couples saw Jim Kay hand over the milk can trophy signifying a hard-fought Tug of War loss to Knute Westergren, president of the winning sophomores.

Thursday the class of '59 met a soggy defeat at the hands of a determined score of sophomores in the Battle of Paradise Creek. President Kay had promised a trophy to the winning class.

Ralph Dickinson's orchestra supplied music for the dance, themed "Over the Rainbow." Chairmen were LaRae Sasser, Carol Wachal, Nancy Norton, Gail Stellman, Liz Cleveland, Marilyn Wright and Joan Fisher.

University Singers Slated March 24 In Choral Program

A choral work of special significance for the Lenten and Easter season will be given by the University of Idaho Singers in Recital hall of the Music building at 8 p.m. Sunday, March 25.

Conducted by Norman R. Logan, assistant professor of music, the Singers will be heard in a performance of "The Redeemer," which has been described by composer Martin Shaw as "an oratorio for Lent." The work is divided into three parts, which are subtitled "the conflict of good and evil," "the agony and the betrayal," and "the crucifixion." Soloists for the performance will include baritone Harry S. Morrison of the music faculty; tenor Elmer Stitzlein, soprano Barbara Parish, and contralto Rochelle Thornock. Organist will be James Osborn with Idanne Schreiber serving as accompanist. The concert is open to the public without admission charge.

Services Today For Beta Pledge; Shot By Accident

Funeral services for John Harold Thiessen, University of Idaho freshman and an affiliate of Beta Theta Pi fraternity, will be held at 11 this morning at the Brower-Wann Funeral Home with burial at Normal Hill cemetery. He was killed almost instantly Sunday afternoon when shot accidentally in the back while driving a carload of fraternity brothers to a hunting area near his home south of Lewiston.

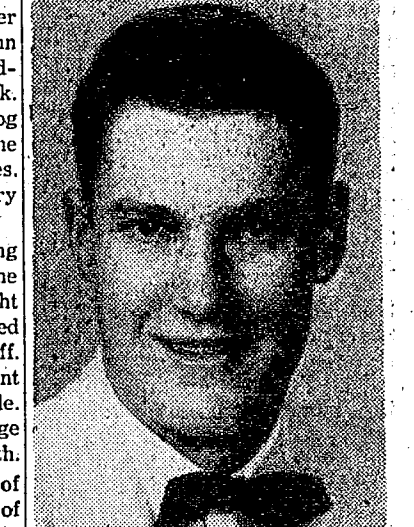

Deputy Sheriff W. A. Frye said the victim died about 12:50 after a rifle, being checked by John Arduser of Boise, discharged sending a bullet into the youth's back.

The men were going groundhog hunting and had stopped at the Thiessen home for some rifles. Other companions included Larry Ward and Duane Perron.

Arduser said he was checking the rifle to see if the magazine was loaded and when he thought it wasn't, he levered the bolt closed and the .22 caliber rifle went off. The bullet passed through the front seat and in the victim's left side. The wound caused a hemorrhage that resulted in Thiessen's death.

The victim was a graduate of Lewis High School in the spring of 1955 and entered the University in the fall majoring in agriculture.

Nez Perce county coroner Kermit Malcolm said the death was attributed to accidental causes and said no inquest is planned.

Spring For A Day Treats Campus To Early Surprise

Spring touched the University of Idaho campus Saturday—three days early—stayed a day and then began a slow retreat. For Vandals, however, it was here and that was all that was important.

Almost as one, convertible tops went down along with feminine necklines. Accumulations of winter mud were washed off cars, revealing that not all vehicles on campus were a streaked brown, sun porches were put into service and spring dresses dotted the sloughed green campus. Observers threw in a sour note, however, by pointing out the gradually melting patches of snow and observed, "Not yet." But pessimists were few and had little chance against the overwhelming majority of optimists who shouted them down before they could dampen spirits. Anyway, who cared? It was spring.

At the ATO house Benny Goodman and Bill Haley were animating dancers that gathered on the concrete outside. Fijis were busy dragging a couple of pinned members to an untimely dunking in Paradise and most fraternities were busy training binocular on nearby sun decks.

Athletic-minded men were busy warming up for baseball season, getting their pitching arms in shape—or ruining them—for a big diamond season ahead.

But off the main highways, all was not so pleasant. Four to six inches of mud in some places defied cars trying to climb hills to residential districts around Moscow. One suburban street boasted historical markers: "Original Lewis and Clark Trail" as a pointed reminder that rivers of water were taking their toll.

Everywhere couches were dragged out on porches for a first look at the sun since sometime in November and short sleeved shirts were unveiled again, much to the regret of some shivering male students.

Happily or unhappily for some, it was also Green Beer Day, alias St. Patrick's Day and one living group boasted 100 per cent attendance at a local establishment. Several others claimed a close second. Several unidentified spies discovered the secret entrance to the Fiji house and were included in a "function." They emerged elated, saying they now know the closely guarded name of the house president.

Hello Walk was the main scene of afternoon strolling as life once more started to fill the grass and trees everywhere. In word, Vandals had tasted spring and they liked it. They hoped it was here to stay.

"Krankit," Czechoslovakian Production, Will Be Shown

"Krankit," a Czechoslovakian movie with English subtitles, will be shown at 4, 7, and 8:30 p.m. in the Borah Theatre of the SUB on Thursday, March 22. Admission price will be 35 cents.

The plot of the movie revolves around Krankit, a new and powerful explosive discovered by a chemist named Prokop. Prokop wishes to use the explosive to benefit humanity rather than for destruction purposes. His attempts to do so are complicated by personal illness and by an unscrupulous colleague who learns the formula and sells it. However, Prokop is finally successful.

Other characters which round out the story are the youthful scientist who is sincere in his desire to do good, the beautiful temptress, the sweet young girl with whom Prokop becomes infatuated, and the oily villain who is an agent for the militarists.

According to some critics, Karel Capek, who wrote the original novel thirty years ago, was sighting against man's inhumanity to man and was preaching for peace. The psychologically complex adventures which appear throughout the

VETS MAIL BAG

The millionth veteran has repaid his GI loan in full, according to Veterans Administration.

As of January 31, 1956, 1,024,919 loans for homes, farms and businesses totaling more than $5.1 billion had been repaid in full, or nearly one out of every four. GI loans guaranteed or insured by VA. VA has underwritten 4,599,685 GI loans totaling $34.4 billion. Most of the loans, or 4,306,515 were for homes. Of the remainder, 68,956 were farm loans and 224,214 were business loans.

Of the 1,024,919 GI loans repaid in full, 899,511 were home loans totaling $4.6 billion; 42,277 were farm loans totaling $132 million, and 173,131 were business loans totaling $420 million.

In addition to the $5.1 billion repaid in full, VA estimates another $3.5 billion has been paid off in installments by veterans whose loans are still outstanding.

VA has paid claims to lenders on only 40,035 loans for homes, farms and businesses. These loans had an original principal amount of approximately $200 million.

The net loss to VA has been only $19 million, or slightly more than 50 cents for every thousand dollars borrowed. VA said the net loss is subject to further recovery, either from the veteran or from the liquidation of tangible security.

Of the 40,035 loans on which claims have been paid, 24,588 or slightly more than one-half of one percent of the total number guaranteed, were home loans.

Allowing for repaid-in-full loans, amortization payment and claims paid, VA estimates that $24.5 billion of the original $34.4 billion borrowed by World War II and Korean conflict period veterans still is outstanding.

Question Of The Week

Q. I applied to VA for disability compensation by a letter. VA sent me a formal application form to be filled out. Is there any time limit on mailing this form back to VA?

A. The form should be returned to VA within one year from the date it was sent to you, in order for VA to consider your original letter as the effective date of your application.

Song Fest Eliminations Scheduled For April 21

Preliminary eliminations for reducing the field to five men's and five women's groups is the new plan adopted by the Song Fest Committee for the Annual Mother's Day Song Fest to be held in the Memorial Gymnasium May 13, 1956.

Try-outs will be held for women's living groups on Saturday, April 21 at 1 p.m. and for interested men's groups the same day at 3 p.m. in the Recital Hall of the Music Building. Those groups which are not selected in the try-outs are allowed to combine with other eliminated groups to form mixed choirs. The matching of these groups will be made with the approval of the Song Fest committee.

Song leaders should select one of the suggested selections or submit copy of their own for consideration of the committee before March 31. Music lists are available in the Music Education Workshop of the Music Building. All living groups will have to purchase two massed numbers this year: "Onward, Christian Soldiers," and "Battle Hymn of the Republic," both Ringwald arrangements.

Selections may be reserved by paying the $6 entrance fee. This fee is also used to defray expenses of the fest on such items as trophies and programs. No song can be reserved unless the fee is paid. Groups singing in the fest will be judged on presentation and quality of their program, including: intonation, phrasing, accuracy, interpretation, and the general musical effect. The judges are to be selected by the Song Fest committee.

The Darrell Callihan Memorial Trophy will be presented as a traveling trophy to the winning men's and women's living groups. For the mixed groups, a Phi Mu Alpha-Sigma Alpha Iota traveling trophy will be awarded. Each of the winning groups will also be presented a permanent trophy.

Any additional information and copies of the song fest rules and regulations are now available to song leaders from Idanne Schreiber.

Remedy To Old Situation

The Athletic Board of Control asked student Mike O'Callaghan to draw up a plan to help Idaho athletics out of another financial problem. And they got the blunt truth—(see page 3) a shocking, realistic answer to a situation that needs investigating.

The Pacific Coast Conference has upped the monthly assistance to athletes scholarships from 75 to 100 bucks. Idaho can capitalize on this increase, but is faced with the problem—where the hell to get it.

To get extra money, the department must tap already exhausted sources, unless it takes a step to cut down the program from the participation angle or within its own department.

The O'Callaghan 5-point plan strongly emphasizes getting rid of "excess weight" in the department. Between the lines it appears that the department is overstaffed for the size of college and program.

The athletic department works on a budget cut short by the small amount of "slush fund" contributions from the University, students and alumni. In fact the department barely makes ends meet, in some cases doesn't do that.

Can't Tap The Students
The students won't stand for an increase in fees despite the fact that our base fees are lower than nearly every other school with which Idaho competes. A public relations job would have to be done here to make such a plan go over. The University apparently can't afford to chip in more and the Boosters are now shoveling in all they can round up.

As O'Callaghan puts it:
"It appears that the work pay raise to two-dollars an hour for athletes is a necessity and the seventy-five dollars received by athletes here at the U of I will go farther than one-hundred dollars received by those at USC or UCLA. Because of the low cost of room and board at Idaho, this seventy-five dollars allows a small amount of take-home pay, whereby we understand that board and room for the Southern California schools is about one-hundred and eighteen dollars a month and no meals on Sunday. Despite this fact, it would be foolish for us to expect to compete in the PCC and not pay the same rate that the other institutions are paying. We realize it is difficult enough for a coach to get athletes to leave the climate of California to play for Idaho in the snow without the lack of monetary help to further block the way. Also it is a recognized fact, by anybody with an athletic background, that to attempt to participate in PCC play with nothing but Idaho athletes is foolhardy."

Idaho's athletic department is of comparable size to larger PCC institutions. Some will say it should be to compete with schools which are similarly staffed. But investigations will prove that the present setup at Idaho is a case of "excess baggage," and a streamlined corps of persons adequately prepared to handle athletics will get the work done as efficiently.

The desire to have an outstanding athletic program need come from more than the athletes and coaches themselves. The athletic administration needs cleaning out and reshuffling.

This could be the time to do it. Cutting down at this point could ease the new problem, adding $11,000 to $14,000 per annum to the athletes fund would be an answer. As it is now this money is being pounded down a rat hole, rather than going to the channels where it is most directly needed.

Foreign Forum

By Jacob Bahador

Although March 21 is an ordinary day on the American calendar, it is one of the most important days for an old nation—Iraq—which for six thousand years has celebrated this day as its new year.

The beginning of spring which is the beginning of life for flowers and other beauties of nature, creates an atmosphere of excitement among the people, poor and rich, men and women. Everyone is trying to celebrate it as magnificently as he can because this day is the only memory that the nation has from its old and glorious history.

About a month before spring the people begin to clean and redecorate their homes. The women especially do their best to make beautiful clothing for themselves and their children. They also make various kinds of sweets and nuts to give to their friends to use during the vacation.

On the night before March 21, custom requires that the members of the family remain at home. After 6 p.m. the father will pray for the peace and health of his family and his nation. The rest of the family joins in the prayer. Then dinner, consisting of chicken, fish, and rice, will be served. The rest of the night is occupied by singing, dancing, and enjoying the New Year's Eve.

On the morning of the New Year, old friends meet and exchange gifts. This also marks the beginning of 15 days of vacation for the populace. School boys and girls are especially anxious for the vacation because they have the opportunity to work or to return to their homes for the holiday.

This is New Year as it is celebrated in Iran. The small group of Iranians in Pullman and Moscow who are almost 12,000 miles from home will celebrate their New Year with their American friends on Wednesday, March 21, at 6:30 p.m. in the Clearwater Power Co. Auditorium in Lewiston, Idaho.

Two Awarded $300 Grants

Peter Van Houten and Joseph Erramoupe are the first recipients of a new scholarship program at the University of Idaho announced today by Charles O. Decker, director of student affairs.

The scholarships, each for $300, are the first of a series to be awarded by the Westvaco Mineral Products division office at Pocatello of the Food Machinery and Chemical Corporation. Van Houten is a senior in agricultural engineering and Erramoupe a freshman in electrical engineering.

Westvaco plans for the future include the awarding of a $300 scholarship each year to an entering freshman, and continuing the grant upon satisfactory scholastic performance for the student's four years of college. Thus at the end of a four-year period, four students in four different classes would be receiving scholarships.

The scholarships are designed primarily for sons and daughters of Westvaco employees who are enrolled in courses leading to a degree in engineering, geology, chemistry or agriculture. If no qualifying persons apply from this group the awards will be available to other students majoring in these fields of study.

O'Callaghan Proposes Cut In Athletic Staff

By John B. Hughes

Idaho doesn't have a slush fund, in fact its about the poorest school in the Pacific Coast Conference when it comes to money available for its athletic program. But the school will have to find more financial resources to cope with the assistance to athletes raise next year from $75 to $100 per month.

In answer to the new ruling made by the Pacific Coast Conference, a student member of the Athletic Board of Control, Mike O'Callaghan, has proposed the administrative end of the Athletic department be streamlined in personnel.

O'Callaghan was asked by the Board chairman Dean E. W. Wohletz to draw up a plan of recommendation as to how the additional money can be raised.

In his report to be submitted to the Board, O'Callaghan pointed out that several suggestions have been made. He said the money could be raised with an increase in student fees, cutting athletic administrative operational costs by dropping some administrative staff members in athletics and applying this money to the athletic program; University increasing its share in the athletic program; taking money from the reserve in the Athletic Department which was set up by transferring about 52 percent of the ASUI reserve funds on July 1, 1954, to the Athletic Department; additional money from Boosters.

"In considering the raising of student fees," O'Callaghan says, "we feel there is going to be opposition from all students for many reasons. We understand approximately thirty per cent of our students are employed in part-time jobs on our campus at a basic rate of seventy-five cents an hour for working a full sixty minutes on jobs which are not nearly as desirable as the athletic jobs. These students are not going to be very happy about approving an athletic job for two dollars an hour when they feel the athletic job situation on the campus is more or less a joke. We do not feel that students would object to raising their fees, which are considered low for state universities, if the benefits would help all students, but we are certain there would be many objections if this raise was to help raise pay for any individual group." "Many students also feel that when athletics was separated from ASUI the students were not consulted, and the students at that time felt the overhead of the Athletic Department was far too high for the amount of income received by athletics for their overall operation.

"We feel our best chance to raise more money is to decrease the full-time personnel in the athletic administration and that the present coaches and the administrative staff could assume more duties. We feel that one full-time employee and possibly a part-time student could handle the job presently handled by the Assistant Athletic Director, Assistant to the Athletic Director, and the Athletic Publicity Director. The saving made in this set-up would allow some eleven thousand to fourteen thousand dollars to be available to the work program. In other words, we feel that two of these full-time jobs should be absorbed or transferred to some other department and that the athletic work program supervisor could also be lone away with and these funds also be made available."

"We realize our present athletic administrative staff would be very satisfactory if we had the income to go with it, but at the present time, it is quite evident that we must make some sacrifices. This would also help eliminate a common student cry, "There are too many chiefs and not enough Indians" in the Athletic Department." "At the present time we feel that these students have a legitimate complaint. Although this change in administration would not supply all the necessary money, we feel it is certainly a step in the right direction."

"We also understand that a few thousand dollars more income was received from football receipts than estimated in the budget, and the remainder of this could also be transferred for the work program, if necessary."

"In conclusion, we definitely feel that it will be necessary to cut some administrative overhead in the Athletic Department, and this source of revenue could be transferred to the athletic work program and will not hurt the efficiency of our athletic administration."

"According to the records in the Student Union, the ASUI office cut approximately four thousand dollars off the salaries of the Student Union Operations when we took over on July 1, 1955. Although this meant additional hours for our present employees, our present financial operation is far ahead of last year's in Student Union Operations. Our Student Union is probably one of very few unions in the nation that is operated without any student fees at the present time."

Gymnasts Lose Twice To WSC And UW

Handicapped by a lack of overall team experience, the Vandal gymnasts were soundly defeated Saturday night in a triangle meet with the WSC Cougars and the U. of Washington Huskies.

The WSC squad defeated the Vandals 95.5 to 30.5 and the Huskies handed the men from Idaho a 93-34 trouncing. In a meet of this kind each team competes twice, once against each of the opposing teams. WSC was defeated by the squad from the coast 81.5 to 62.5.

Idaho's highest place in the meet was a second taken by Pete DeLong in the trampoline competition against the U. of W. Phil Kivd gained a tie for second in the free exercise division in competition with the Huskies.

Team members taking points against the Cougars and Huskies respectively were: Kivd, 6 and 6.5; Floyd Lydum, 7 and 6; Dick Wisdom, 5 and 4; Duane Eastman, 5 and 4; Dale Carlson, 3 and 3; DeLong, 2 and 4; Brian Olson, 1 and 1; and Doug Eier, 1 and 3. Mike Peterson took 1 point against the U. of W. and Bob Brasch 1 against WSC.

Olson, Peterson, Brasch, and Eier are all freshmen and the remainder of the squad is composed of sophomores and juniors with one or two years of experience.

Said Coach Dick Smith, "I think the boys did a very good job considering the lack of experience which is consistent with the squad. I think that as the season progresses and they gain experience they will do much better." Smith also said that there is a meet tentatively scheduled for next weekend with San Jose State College. The San Jose team is to meet the WSC squad in Bohler gym at WSC but the Idaho team would not keep points with WSC.

To Defend Title

Erik Berggren, outstanding Idaho skier will defend his national Nordic combined title at the National Championships at Steamboat Springs, Colorado, this coming weekend. Last year Berggren placed third in the cross country and eighth in the jumping to capture the Nordic title. He and eight teammates left last weekend to compete in the championships.

Windju Is One Of Many Norwegians

ED. NOTE: (This is the fourth in a series of features on members of the Idaho ski team which is currently on its way to Steamboat Springs, Colorado, to compete in the National Championships this weekend. The nine man team left last weekend to compete in the three-day tourney.)

By Gary Vanderwood

Per Windju, Vandal jumping star got his first pair of skis for Christmas when he was three years old, and started his skiing education at that time. It was natural for him to become a skier Windju claims, being of Norwegian birth and living in a small town where skiing was very common.

When Windju was ten years old he entered his first jumping competition and placed 13th. Figuring this was rather a poor result he started practicing constantly to improve his style for the next meet. Although the good results did not appear for several years, Windju didn't stop trying and he claims now that he is glad that things worked that way because it didn't allow him to become over confident.

In the last three years Windju's record has greatly improved and in the last three years he has gained two victories in international jumping meets and several first in national contests.

Windju came to Idaho this year as a sophomore, receiving a room and board scholarship from Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

Per placed first in the Northwest Collegiate jumping championships at Steven's Pass Washington, picking up valuable points to help the Vandals qualify for the Nationals. Earlier in the season he topped the best amateur jumpers in the Northwest, capturing the Spokane invitational jumping title.

In commenting on the coming national tournament this weekend Windju said, "Our team has obtained good results this past season against top competition, but in the nationals even stronger opponents will be encountered. I think that we should be careful in considering ourselves as the favorites, but the results of a meet are never fact until the last man has raced. Therefore, I will expect the worst and hope for the best."

Vandal Riders will meet tonight in the Borah Theater at 7 p.m. to have pictures taken for the gem.

Baseballers Open Friday

With but one outside practice under their belts the 1956 edition of the Idaho Vandals' baseball team prepare to open the season this weekend.

Clem Parberry's club meets Oregon State College Beavers twice in Lewiston Friday and moves over to Walla Walla to tangle with the Whitman Missionaries in a twin-bill Saturday.

Parberry had his 38 man squad working out on Bengal Field in Lewiston last Saturday in their only outdoor workout. However, the Vandals have been unlimbering in the Idaho fieldhouse for the past several weeks.

Parberry has only seven veterans back from last year's club which failed to win a conference game, and will have to rely heavily on sophomores, especially for his pitching staff.

Returning veterans include co-captains, Ron Braden, an outfielder, and Jim Howard, catcher. Braden was the club's leading hitter last year with a .423 mark.

Other veterans are outfielders Joe Lothrop and Mick Polillo, also an infielder; infielders John Sullivan and Ray Copeland, and pitcher, Tom Vopat.

Due to a knee operation Sullivan will be lost to the club for the first three weeks of the season.

Hurlers up from last year's fresh club include Doug Randall, Jim Branon, Kent Church, Larry Ward, Gordon Tiegs and Clark Anderson.

Church is the only left-hander of the pitching staff, a situation that could prove disastrous to the Vandals as the season progresses.

Two Transfers
Wally Brown, outfielder from Whitman and BJC and Gene Arnone, Lewiston are the only transfers on the club.

Parberry plans to give nearly all his hopefuls a chance to play this weekend and will begin to cut the club after the exhibition series.

The Idaho pre-conference slate includes four games with Whitman, two with Eastern Oregon, four with Whitworth and three with Gonzaga.

club Tau Kappa Epsilon 3, League 6, Gault Hall 2, League 7 and Phi Delta Theta 4 in League 8.

Play will continue in 'B' ball until the first week in April.

The Vandals open their conference schedule against the Washington Huskies here on April 20 and 21.
