6 U. Students Injured In Collision

Idaho's First

No serious injuries were reported although six University of Idaho students and two Potlatch youths suffered minor injuries as the result of the head-on collision near Riverside Dance Hall 14 miles north of Moscow about 8:15 p.m. Sunday. It was Idaho's first major traffic accident this spring. Six Idaho students, returning from a lake outing, were riding in the car on the right, apparently driven by John Pearson of Cambridge when the two late model automobiles plowed nose to nose into one another.

None Seriously As Cars Hit Headon Near Riverside

Six University of Idaho students Sunday escaped serious injury in a headon car wreck near Riverside, about 15 miles north of Moscow. Idaho State Police reported Monday.

The six youths were riding in a car driven by John Pearson, 19, and were returning from an excursion to Chatcolet Lake at the time of the accident. Two Potlatch area youths, Kenneth Carter, 22, and Geraldine Best, 18, of Princeton, were in the other car.

Identified as occupants of the Pearson car, none of which received critical injuries were Pearson, Janice Archibald, 20; William Pederson, 19; Myrna Palmer, 19; Betty Hutchison, 20; and James Corbett.

In Infirmary

Miss Archibald and Pederson were still in the University Infirmary Monday. Infirmary officials said they both suffered lacerations about the face and head. The other four were released earlier.

Police officers said the accident occurred near a concrete bridge over the Palouse River when a sedan driven by Carter did not return to the right side of the highway after leaving Riverside. The Pearson car was apparently traveling toward Moscow at the time of the mishap.

The condition of Miss Best was reported as "good" Monday morning.

AFROTC Will Hold Review Today At 1:45

The Air Force ROTC detachment at the University of Idaho will hold its annual federal inspection and review at 1:45 p.m. this afternoon, with inspectors coming from Headquarters AFROTC, Maxwell AFB, Ala.

Lt. Colonel James M. Hughes, professor of air science at the university, has invited the public to the review.

Cadets will be presented awards and citations during the ceremonies. The highest award from the Air Force association will be given to Robert P. Speedy, Ricker H. Jones will receive the Air Science IV Medal award.

Other awards and citations include: Armed Forces, Communications and Electronics award, George F. Eldam; American Legion Dudley Loomis Post Insignia award, Hans G. Gotsch; Convoir award, Donald L. Duncan; and National Defense Transportation association citation, James F. Hanzel.

AFROTC Medal awards will be presented to: Richard L. Fuechsel, Ernest J. Davenport, Bruce F. Buckman, and William J. Girffin.

The Air Force Rifleman award will be given to Michael M. Foster. Foster will also receive the Dean's award for rifle skill. Peter C. Preston will be given the Air Force Drill Team award.

Jr.-Sr. Ball Friday Has Late Permission

Women will have 2 a.m. permission to attend the annual Junior-Senior Prom Friday evening from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. in Memorial Gymnasium, Dick Weeks, co-chairman of the dance, said today.

Weeks said that Rock Rice's orchestra from Spokane and Seattle would play for the dance. The orchestra is composed of eight pieces and a vocalist, Weeks said.

The dance will be semiformal with tickets set at $1.50 per couple on sale at the door.

Early plans were to have everyone wear an eye mask and to have the decorations featured around an masque theme, but Marcia Thornton, decorations chairman said today that the plan had been abandoned and that the theme and decoration would be announced later this week.

Weeks said that members of the junior and senior class had been appointed to the various committees for the dance. They are: Weeks, Jim Russell and Sonja Hoisath, publicity; Hans Gotsch, tickets; Monte Strickling, programs; Marcia Thornton, Barbara Warner, and Lou Ann Olsen, decoration; and Gary McEwen, clean-up.

Ward's Paint and Hardware furnished paint for the work and Roger's Ice Cream parlor treated the workers at a morning coffee break.

Three of the proposed amendments that students voted on in the ASUI spring election passed with the required two-thirds majority, but the two vice presidential amendments failed to attain the required number of votes.

Thus the Editor of the Gem of the Mountains will take a seat on the ASUI Executive Board as an ex-officio member, students absent from the University with official excuses will be able to exercise their democratic right to vote in all elections by using the absentee ballot, and the time given over to campaigning for spring elections has been increased by one week to accommodate the absentee voters.

But Idaho students still do not have a representative way of choosing whom they want to represent them as ASUI vice-president. When the newly elected Board organizes and grooms itself for next year's work, nine members will again decide who is the second in command.

What's in store for next year? Students will maybe see some good come from the $10 paid into the registration fee each semester that is labeled—the Student Facilities Fee.

The GOLDEN FLEECE
by Gason

Congratulations, newly elected leaders of the Associated Students of the University of Idaho.

Jason would like to extend publicly his best wishes and hope for the future of Idaho as it now rests in the hands of our 1956-57 student leaders. I am confident, that the ASUI will continue to make great strides toward more student participation in their own University, toward more effective student government, and toward closer and more workable cooperation with the University of Idaho administration.

To each of you—ASUI President Dick Weeks; ASUI Executive Board members Fred Burrow, Jane Remberg, Bob Schreiber, Roger Tovey, Lon Davis, Carolyn Sanderson, John Hoch, Dave Maxey and Dick Rhoades, I say carry on the traditions and customs of our alma mater. But don't just be content to carry these principals on, build them for a bigger and better Idaho.

Sigma Nus Give Oppor'tunity School Spring Cleaning

Members and pledges of Sigma Nu fraternity swarmed on Moscow's Opportunity School Saturday to give the school for the community's handicapped children its spring cleaning.

The work was the fraternity's annual "service to Moscow" project. The men painted the school trimming, conditioned the grounds and set plants and flowers and did odd carpentry jobs about the school.

Bill Winter and Tom Requist, project co-chairmen, said the fraternity hopes "other organizations will find time to help this worthwhile program for the handicapped. There is a lot of work to be done for the children in making the school comfortable."

Praises Frat
A member of the school's Board of Directors, William O'Meara, told the fraternity on behalf of the Board and teachers "we are grateful to the University and particularly the Sigma Nus for the work they have done. It is cooperation by such groups that makes the Opportunity School possible."

Ward's Paint and Hardware furnished paint for the work and Roger's Ice Cream parlor treated the workers at a morning coffee break.

Two proposed amendments to the ASUI constitution, both concerning the vice presidency, failed to gain a necessary two-thirds majority required for adoption. Three others were adopted.

One amendment would have made the vice president an individual candidate for Executive Board who receives the highest number of vice-presidential votes. A special box would be placed on the ballot adjacent to the Executive Board candidate's name.

The other would have been applicable in the event three or more candidates are running for the ASUI presidency. According to that amendment, the candidate receiving the second highest number of votes would be named vice president and be a member of the executive board.

The vice president is currently elected by incoming members of the Executive Board from its membership.

Receiving the required majority was a revision which adds the editor of the Gem to the non-voting members of the Exec. Board. Another addition, which allows students who will be absent from school and who have academic excuses for the absence to vote one week prior to the spring elections, also passed.

A second revision was adopted stipulating that nominations for all ASUI offices shall be made not less than two weeks and not more than five weeks prior to the general election.

New ASUI officers will take over duties in the near future and outgoing President Chuck McDevitt Monday invited newly-elected officers to attend a regular meeting of the Executive Board tonight at 7 p.m.

Weeks, McDevitt Seek Full Support For Next IK Men

"There have been many rumors circulating that perhaps some of the halls and houses will not participate to the full extent in the activities of the Inter-Collegiate Knights," said Dick Weeks, last year's Duke of IK's, and Chuck McDevitt, ASUI President, today in a letter they sent the presidents of each men's living group.

Both men said that they sent the letter because of rumors based on the circumstances and issues that arose during the ASUI elections held last week.

"I know," Weeks said, "that all of the present IK officers are qualified. Anyone who has been elected to a position of leadership is chosen for such a position because the people in his organization feel him to be qualified," he continued.

McDevitt said, "I encourage you and your living group to give the IK's your whole-hearted support. Let's start to judge them on the basis of what they do from now on in their organization and not on the basis of past unfortunate circumstances."

Kizer Named Outstanding Senior Forestry Student

Ralph Kizer Saturday was named outstanding senior forestry student at a banquet climaxing Idaho's annual Forestry Week. He was presented with a one-year subscription to the Journal of Forestry.

The Forester's heard Dean A. Sherman, managing editor of the Timberman from Pullman, deliver the keynote address. Five delegates were named to attend the annual meeting of the Association of Western Forestry Clubs at Missoula this week.

Kizer transferred to the Idaho College of Forestry from the University of Washington in 1952. He had been enrolled in the school of Journalism at Washington for two years and was an active member of Sigma Nu fraternity.

He is a past president of the Associate Foresters, editor of the Idaho Forester, member of Xi Sigma Pi and is a member of the Society of American Foresters.

Blister Rust

The outstanding forester is married and has one child. He lives in St. Maries where he has been employed by the U.S. Forest Service in the St. Joe National Forest as a unit supervisor in blister rust control. He said he will continue to work there upon graduation this June.

The Foresters named Paul Barker, Bill Barclay, George Berscheid, Alex Gilbert and Ben Jenness as Idaho's delegates to the Missoula confab. They will leave Wednesday morning.

The AWFC is composed of all Western Forestry schools which meet each spring to discuss problems of the clubs. The meetings will feature speakers from the state and federal forestry offices. Foresters will test their skill with a field trip the final day.

Associate Forestry Club president Spencer Miller extended his thanks to the members and faculty "for all the help in making this a successful year."

Ed. Note—This is a reprint of an editorial printed in the Idaho State Bengal in reference to an editorial on recruitment objectives that appeared in the Idaho Argonaut on March 6.

Recruiting of high school seniors in the state was an editorial subject in the University of Idaho Argonaut last month. The question the writer sought to answer was "What are recruiting objectives?"

Precipitating the editorial comment was the failure of the University's recruiting team to stop off at Pocatello high school. The complaint was that the Poky sod shouldn't be regarded as the sovereign soil of ISC.

"It is very possible that our recruiters had things to offer the students that recruiters from Idaho State College could not offer."

Then the writer pointed out that the Idaho agriculture department offerings were far superior to the ISC program. "With little interest shown by the University of Idaho, the students interested in agriculture at Pocatello, would probably go to Utah State Agricultural College."

"Looking into another field of study let us consider pharmacy. What does our university offer in this field in comparison with Idaho State College? Nothing!"

The writer's contention was that the University's recruiting objective should be to help the graduating senior enter the institution that will afford him a better preparation in his field, not just to attract students to the institution.

We agree. The same should be true of the recruiting program here.

Actually it is incongruous for recruiters from both institutions to spend the state's money to compete with the other in attracting students.

Ideally, to achieve the aim outlined, a person or persons representing both institutions and listing the advantages of both should make the circuit of high schools with the title "informer" rather than recruiter.

Unfortunately, it is impossible to escape the fact that the two institutions compete for students and that the present recruiting system isn't likely to change.

And while in some fields—agriculture and pharmacy in this state are examples—the student will have little trouble picking the institution with the better program, in others he is likely to have trouble choosing between them on an academic basis alone.

So he can be attracted by things like strong athletic teams, a good climate, fraternity and sorority facilities, the destination of his friends, a friendly pat on the head by the recruiter and the opinion of mother and father or Uncle George.

The result isn't the ideal situation. But the recruiter can help if he puts the student first, the institution second. —K.R.

National Honoraries Will Tap 87 During May Fete

Approximately 87 students will be tapped for Mortar Board, Silver Lance, Spurs, and Interscholastic Knights, all national honoraries, during the annual Idaho May Fete and Mother's Day celebration on May 12.

Vandals Place In Contests

Two University of Idaho students, Jim Kruger and Richard Day won trophies at the annual meeting of the Pacific Forensic League held at the University of Nevada last week.

Kruger won second place in the oratorical contest and he was third in the extemporaneous speaking contest. He was also chairman of one of the panel discussions on how best to implement the Supreme Court decision on racial integration.

Day was second in the after-dinner speaking contest. He also paired with George Woodbury in the debate tournament on the question of a guaranteed annual wage. Dr. Whitehead was the faculty representative and served as chairman of the extemporaneous speaking contest and as a critic of the discussion sequences.

The Pacific Forensic League was founded in 1923 with Idaho joining in 1928. At the present time there are ten schools in the league, but invitations will be extended this year to two new schools; the University of California at Santa Barbara and Occidental College. The three day event will be held next year at the University of Arizona.

Big Mugs Prove Vandals Like SUB Java

The Bucket's experiment in oversized coffee mugs has surpassed all popularity expectations, Gale Mix, ASUI General Manager said today. The 11-ounce mugs went on sale April 20.

Mix said the three dozen cups first ordered were in use fifteen minutes after they were put on sale and that the Bucket has been unable to meet the demand for them ever since. Six dozen more mugs have been ordered for delivery in about two weeks, Mix said.

Plans for the sale of coffee in the cups which sell for 15 cents or two for 25 cents anticipated a light demand during the warm spring months. But, Mix said, students still like their coffee.

He said over 300,000 cups of java are consumed by students and visitors in a school year, averaging about 50 to 60 cups per student.

Sigma Tau Initiates 13 New Members

Sigma Tau, national engineering honorary, initiated thirteen new members in a ceremony at the LDS Institute Saturday afternoon.

Included are the following students: Dayle Carlson, Samuel Dorcheus, Andrew Gerhart, John Kroiss, Waldo McCoy, Donald Warner, Charles Monson, Gary Randall, Jerry Reeve, Elden Sifka, Wallace Dembiczak, and Edwin Russ.

Professor Joseph Newton of the School of Mines was initiated as an alumni member. Professor Newton is the third alumni member to be initiated by the Idaho chapter.

Following the initiation a banquet was held at the Moscow Hotel. The speaker was Dr. Harry H. Caldwell of the School of Mines.

VETS MAIL BAG

Veterans of World War I and II who cannot afford to reinstate permanent plans of GI insurance because their policies have been lapsed some years may now effect reinstatement with a smaller outlay of cash under a new Veterans Administration procedure.

VA explained that before the new procedure was adopted, these veterans had two choices of reinstatement:

1. Pay all back premiums and indebtedness with interest in a lump sum; or

2. Borrow against the reinstated loan value of the policy to reduce the cash outlay for reinstatement, but creating a debt against the policy.

VA said veterans also may apply regular dividends, which are payable as of the date of reinstatement, towards the cost of reinstatement.

Insurance Loans
VA stressed it does not encourage veterans to make loans on their GI insurance because unpaid loans reduce the proceeds of matured policies; but, if veterans find it necessary to resort to a combination policy loan and dividend offset in order to afford reinstatement, they are at liberty to do so under the new procedure.

The lapsed permanent plans of World War I or II GI insurance to which the new procedure applies are ordinary life, 20-pay life, 30-pay life, and three endowment plans.

VA said the procedure does not apply to lapsed five-year term policies.

Question Of The Week
Q. I am drawing a VA pension. I have recently received a small inheritance of several shares of stock. Must I include these shares as income, for pension purposes?

A. Your shares of stock need not be considered as income until they are converted into cash. Dividends you receive from the stocks, however, are considered as income.

And in the not too distant future, Idaho snow bunnies might be frolic-ing over a new Idaho ski area within a reasonable riding distance.

If out-of-towners are lucky, they'll be greeted by an ASUI campus reception committee at all principal University of Idaho functions and sponsored activities held on the campus. A friendly smile and firm handshake will continue to point out Idaho as one of the most friendly campuses on the Pacific coast.

And finally Moscow citizens and students alike may benefit from the proposed liaison committee. Jobless Vandals may even be able to find decent work if the job-placement committee functions as proposed.

VENDING JOB OPEN
Anyone interested in acting as a representative for a merchandising firm handling Chesterfield and L and M cigarettes please contact Karen Becker, Hays Hall, phone 8601, or Jim Kruger, Chrisman Hall, 8391.

Officials said the teams were judged on the military bearing of the group, the perfection and precision of the drill and the difficulty and originality of the manual of arms and formations.

Slides were shown of executed and planned works from the architectural offices of University of Idaho graduates. Included were slides of Kellogg high school and the new Spokane high school, outstanding designs by Culler, Gale and Martell of Spokane. They were explained by alumnus Fulton Gale, Jr., member of the firm. Other graduates, who are also practicing architects in Spokane and who attended the affair, included John Witt McGough, Donald Reed, Keith Boyington and Charles Soliday. Entertainment was provided by Ralph Alley, architectural student, who represented most of the seven live ly arts in a series of musical imitations.

Prize Winners
Winners of the C. F. Hummel prize awards were announced by Prichard. This annual competition is sponsored by Hummel, Hummel and Jones, and Chester Shawyer, associate of Boise. Tying for first place and sharing the first and second prize money were Blanton and Paul L. Duffy. Each will receive $40. Third place honor with an award of $20 goes to William E. Ostrander. Subject for this year's competition was a design for an elementary school.

5 Finalists Picked For Military Ball
Lou Ann Olsen, Helen Doring, Pat Berry, Clara Armstrong, and Janet Campbell have been chosen as finalists for queen candidates for the Military Ball to be held May 18 at 9 p.m. in the SUB ball-rooms.

The queen will be selected from the five candidates and crowned at the intermission of the dance, said Wesley Rash, Dance chairman. The dance will be a formal affair with ROTC students wearing their uniforms, said Rash. Tickets will be on sale at the door for $1.50 per couple.

Thirty Years Of Teaching Marked By Idaho Prof.

Thirty years of teaching at the University of Idaho by Professor T. J. Prichard, head of the department of art and architecture, were marked today by the gold wrist watch he is wearing. The watch was presented by students of the department.

The gifts to the professor highlighted an open house over the weekend for present and past members of the department. The affair is sponsored annually by the student chapter of the Idaho chapter of the American Institute of Architects. Activities included an exhibit at the Art building of current work done by architectural students, a social hour at the home of Dr. and Mrs. William E. Folz, and a dinner at the student Union building attended by about 75 persons.

Paul L. Blanton, senior student and president of the local architectural chapter, reviewed the year, and made the watch presentation to Prichard. Carroll Martell gave the principal address, "Education of an Architect."

Vandal Babes Win In Ninth

Wally Friel's Frosh diamondmen downed the WSC Couababes 7-4 Friday afternoon on the Cougars home field in Pullman with a hit studded ninth inning, after trailing for seven innings.

Winning pitcher Steve Hincley allowed the Couababes only four hits throughout the contest while Vandal batsmen racked up eight hits against Andrews, hurling for the Couababes.

WSC scored early in the first inning, putting three of their first four men at bat around the bases. Third baseman Hall of WSC hit for a single and advanced to second when Brandt gained first on an error. Wendt then struck out and Damon walked, filling the bases. The next man up, Spike, singled on a drive to right field, scoring three runs. The Couababes again filled the bases on walks, only to have all three men die on base when Andrews grounded out.

The Couababes' only other run came after a pair of walks and an error combined to score Damon in the fifth stanza.

The Idaho win was their second of the season and stopped the defending champion Ducks win streak at three games. Friday afternoon Oregon blanked the Vandals 4 to 0.

Idaho dropped the first two games of their "Death Valley" trip to Oregon State by 3 to 2 and 16 to 13 scores. The Vandals, now in fourth place in the division race, wind up their tour at Seattle this afternoon against the cellar-dwelling Washington Huskies. The two teams met yesterday but no result was available at press time.

Randall will likely get the mound call for this afternoon's contest with Washington, having defeated them 5 to 4 in the season's opener at Moscow.

Vandal Win
In the Vandal's win over Oregon they came from behind to score three runs in the seventh inning, driving Oregon pitching ace Stan Dmochowsky from the box, and added what proved to be the two winning tallies in the eighth.

Idaho's winning rally consisted of Jim Chrisman's safe bunt, Jim Howard's double, an error and Ray Copeland's double. Chrisman and Howard each had two hits. Outfielder Duane Moore batted home three Idaho runs.

For Oregon Jim Pifer and basketballer Jerry Ross each had two hits. Pifer, who had a triple, batted in two runs as did veteran Dick Schlosstein, who banged out a double.

Randall struck out eight batters although he was a bit wild, walking four, hitting one and uncorking two wild pitches.

Eugene Opener
In Friday's opener at Eugene, Oregon's pitcher, sophomore Don Lane, allowed only five hits, struck out five and walked only one. Two of the hits off him were by Ron Braden, both singles.

Loser, sophomore Kent Church walked six, struck out four and hit one batsman. He was relieved by another sophomore, lanky Jim Branom in the eighth inning.

Oregon's first run came in the second inning on a walk to Terry Maddox, a stolen base and a double by Ross.

The Ducks added two more in the third when Ken Bond walked and advanced to third on a double by Pifer. Both runners scored on a single by Lewiston's Jim Pingree.

Whits Fall As Idaho Cops 1st Cinder Win

Vandal tracksters grabbed their first cinder win of the season from the Whitworth Pirates Saturday 75 to 55 on the Whit's Pine Bowl field in Spokane.

In copping ten first places, and numerous second and thirds, the Idaho squad showed good balance for the first time this year. In previous meets the Vandals had been somewhat lacking in depth.

Big scorer of the day for the Vandals was cage star Bill Bauscher who racked up 12 1/4 points with a first in the 220 yard dash, seconds in the 100 yard dash and the broad jump, and a berth on the winning Idaho mile relay squad.

The mile relay team, turned one of the best in the PCC, earned a mediocre time of 3:25.7 to grab first spot, possibly because of the absence of regular relayman Walt Denny, who was replaced by Milt Riggers. The regular squad, of Denny, Warren Johanson, Bauscher, and Henning Olson, has turned in the fastest time in the N.D. in that event with a 3:21.0.

Owens Injured In First Full-Game Scrimmage

The first injury to hit the Vandals came Saturday as Coach Skip Stahley put his charges through their first full-game scrimmage.

Speedy freshman fullback T. J. Owens had both his knees dislocated as he was tackled while carrying the ball. Owens, 165 pound star of last year's freshman club was moved from Gritman Hospital to the University Infirmary yesterday morning and according to coach Stahley his injury is not as serious as first presumed.

"He'll be back with us next fall, although he will be out for the remainder of spring practice," said Stahley.

Two Miscues
The Howard Willis led Whites triumphed over the Reds, quarterbacked by Gary Johnson, 13 to 0 in the scrimmage. The Whites capitalized on two Red fumbles for their two scores, which came in the first and third quarters.

Willis set up the first touchdown, recovering a bobble on the Red 37. Two plays later Willis threw to end Walt Denny, who was finally tackled on the three-yard line after a 34 yard gain. Senior fullback Mel Schmidt drove over for the score on the next play.

Stahley is impressed with the team in comparison with last year at this time.

"We are a lot better, a lot further ahead than at this time last year," added the coach.

Stahley plans five workouts for this week, including yesterday's practice. The team will rest Thursday. "However, if the weather looks bad for the weekend, we will workout Thursday," he said.

Idaho have now completed 10 of the 20 workouts they are allowed.

High pointer for the meet was Whitworth's Ward Woods, who piled up 17 points with firsts in the low hurdles, high jump, and the high hurdles, and thirds in the javelin and the broad jump.

Olsen Wins
Henning Olsen, who has turned in the third highest time in the Northern Division of the PCC in the 440 this season, surprised no one in taking his customary first place in that event. Olsen has been a consistent placer for the Vandals.

Stocky Wilbur Gary grabbed a first spot in the broad jump with a leap of 22' 4 1/4", one foot, six inches off the mark he set in copping the first place distance in his ND of the PCC this season so far.

Doug Seeley copped the first place in both the mile and the two-mile runs, while Warren Johanson took number one spot in the 800 yard run.

Jerry Kramer tied the existing division third highest throw for the year in the shot put with a toss of 47' 11", although the mark will not count as this was not a conference meet.

A three way tie went on the record books for this meet in the pole vault, with Idaho's Ron Edwards and Jerry Duffy and Whitworth's Larry Mumford all able to clear the bar at 12 feet but unable to go any higher.

Big Stan Neely took a first place in the Discus throw.
