Moore will be the features of the annual Kick-off Banquet tonight for the 30th annual Little International Agricultural show to be held May 7-12. 30th Little International Dedicated To Theophilus

By Charlene Roth

"Showing an Angus Cow in a Little International Show at Iowa State College was my first experience with Little International agricultural shows and one of my fondest memories," said Dr. D. R. Theophilus, president of the University of Idaho, today.

Scheduled for May 7-12 by students in the College of Agriculture and the U of I Ag Club, the 30th annual Little International show has been dedicated to President Theophilus because of his outstanding participation and service to agriculture and the University.

President Theophilus came to the University of Idaho in 1927 after receiving two B.S. degrees, an M.S. degree and a Ph.D. degree from Iowa State College and working in the dairy department at Western Kentucky Teachers College, Bowling Green, and Kentucky Universities.

Was Ag Head

From his first position of Associate Professor of Dairy Husbandry he was promoted in 1935 to Head of the Department of Dairy Husbandry. In 1946 he was promoted to Dean of the College of Agriculture and Director of the Agricultural Experiment Station. He served as Acting President of the University in 1954 and 1955, and in May of 1955 was appointed President of the University of Idaho.

Dr. Theophilus said that he considered the Little International show an opportunity to gain valuable experience by actually doing the things which are not available in the classroom. He went on to say that the show gives a community interest in the College of Agriculture, gives students a chance to work together, and provides an opportunity for people to see what we are doing at the University.

D. R. Theophilus

see what we are doing at the University.

"One of the biggest changes in the show in recent years," the President said, "is the discontinuation of the parade because of lack of horses and the danger of walking livestock long distances." He said that better facilities and the greater number of students participating in exhibits have been the two main improvements of the show.

Dr. Theophilus concluded by saying "The Little International is well worth all efforts spent on it by both students and faculty. It is one of the big events in which everyone in the College of Agriculture can and should be interested."

The queen will be crowned by Hans Gotsch, President of the Ag Club, from the three finalists: Charlene Roth, Arlene Book, and Elsie Putnam.

Tom Trail, Loren Evans, and Earl Banner will speak in the finals of the public speaking contest. The winner will receive the first points toward the High Man Trophy which will be awarded to the participant in the show earning the most points.

Another part of the program will be the awarding of judging awards to the judging teams for their work in recent intercollegiate contests.

Entertainment will feature Billy Atchley and Darryl Dixon playing a guitar duet and Harvey Jensen and Lorana Jones singing a duet.

Show Begins Monday

The actual show will begin Monday with the running of the first of the 27 contests of the show. The entomology, vegetable and seed identification, plant identification, and transplanting contest will be run off starting at 1 p.m. and the other contest following at 2, 3, and 4 p.m. respectively.

Other contests to be run during the week are—arc welding, acetylene welding, tool identification, dairy products judging, livestock judging, poultry judging, soils, seed and plant identification, daily cattle judging, poultry fitting and showing, swine fitting and showing, sheep fitting and showing, dairy fitting and showing, beef fitting and showing, and agriculture economics.

Maurice Clements is general manager of the show this year. He is assisted by Philip Edwards and Ladd Mitchell. Other committee chairmen are—programs, Bill and Chan Atchley; publicity, Don Ingle; banquet, Larry Harrop; properties, Dennis Long; prizes, Harvey Jensen; features, Bill Carlson; display, Jay Garrett; dance, Lash La Rue; concessions, Howard Tankersly; and announcing Keith Hinkey and Tom Cooper.

The GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

Tuesday evening the ASUI Executive Board voted to specially commend the present ASUI Election Board and Committee for the outstanding job they have done the past year and especially during the past ASUI spring elections. A special commendation was extended both Jim Hargis and Larry Ellis for the fine coordinating they did.

On behalf of the Argonaut, Jason would also like to commend these people for a job well done. Never before, in this writer's experience on the staff, has the Argonaut received the cooperation and help that we received. It was a pleasure to cover the elections and final returns as this committee speedily rapped them up.

It is Jason's sincere wish that future Election committees can follow the splendid example set by their predecessors.

ASUI Ups President's Monthly Pay

Executive Board Tuesday decided to raise monthly wages for the ASUI President to 75 dollars and began an investigation into salary increases for workers in publications and communications. Previously the president had received 60 dollars per month.

The boost came on the recommendation of John Thornock who cited the time and work required in that office. The Board will also begin research on pay hikes for publications staff members and radio station managers.

In other action, the fiscal budget report was submitted and suggestions for improvement were made for improvement on the Borah Conference to be presented to the Conference committee.

The Board adopted a plan calling for reports from all committees of the ASUI concerning their work and accomplishments and for recommendations for future committee posts.

Newly elected Exec. Board members were special guests at the session.

MINER'S PICNIC SET

John Hughes Is Journalists' New President

John B. Hughes, managing editor of the Argonaut, Tuesday night was elected president of Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalism honorary. He succeeds Jerry Pietsch.

Elections followed the initiation of Chandler, George Fowler, Dave Hogge, Ingle, Dean Judd, Don Nelson, Don Neville-Smith and Art Schmauder.

Professional members William F. Johnston, managing editor of the Lewiston Tribune, and William Marineau, publisher of the Moscow Daily Idahoan spoke to the new initiates.

Marineau encouraged the group to be "more active on the undergraduate level." He suggested the fraternity hold more banquet meetings and call in outstanding speakers from this area.

Johnston told the members the crying need for a trained, devoted journalist, is being felt in papers all over the country. He cited three qualities a newsman should have—talent, energy and a desire to seek out the truth. He said members of Sigma Delta Chi should pledge themselves to seek this goal through this creed.

All-Campus Clean-Up Set Saturday For May Fete

The annual all-campus cleanup is scheduled for Saturday, from 8:30 to 10:30. Object of which is to clear the campus of all trash, refuse and undesirable articles before the Mother's Day week-end, according to Dale Carlisle, chairman.

Students will be awakened and cheered on by the Holsum bread sound truck. Cooperation from each living group is requested in this project and will be highly appreciated, Carlisle emphasized.

Three trucks manned by the building and grounds employees will supply mechanical equipment and pick up the trash collected and deposited in a somewhat orderly cluster.

Carlisle continued that in case of a terrific rain storm no organized cleanup activities will go on. However, a slight rain is not to be used as an excuse to avoid cleaning up he added. In either case trucks will pick up any accumulated trash.

Following is a list of the projects scheduled for the various living groups for the cleanup.

Delta Chi and Kappa Alpha Theta: area around respective houses and around the Nest, the Perch and Campus Christian Center. Phi Delta Theta: area around the house and along the street in front of the house and including vacant lot.

Fall Pom-Pom Girls Chosen

Four men turned out for the initial cheer leading tryout and it was decided that due to the lack of interest another chance to participate would be given those interested. This will be the final try-out and anyone interested is urged to come out.

According to Dale Carlisle, last year's yell king, women may try-out if they are really interested.

"We feel that there are a lot more people interested in cheer-leading than first turned out so we are giving them another chance. We must have a larger group to choose from," said Carlisle.

J.J. on Jazz

By J. J. O'Connell "Bebop sounds to be like a hardware store in an earthquake," said Jommy Cannon when asked what he thought of it. But no matter what individuals think of it, the odd thing about bebop is that it was not created especially as bebop, but men like Dizzy Gillespie, Charlie Parker, Lester Young and others found that it had "just happened along."

Well, some of them—as far as they were aware—had been playing pretty much the same way all their lives; it was only after they had been in the profession for many years that they found their practice of doing what comes naturally (improvising) had been branded as a new music and given the name of "bebop." To some of these musicians the heralding of the "new music" seemed a little ironical, since only a few years earlier the same musicians, playing the same music, had been branded as outlaws, rebels or just plain nuts.

If anyone did actually start bebop, it was most likely the tenor saxophonist, Lester Young. His recordings with Count Basie in 1938 were the first recordings with a bebop "flavor."

Around the same time that Young was starting out, an eighteen year old named Charles Christian started playing the electric guitar, which was an oddity in 1937. Charlie felt that no one liked music but himself, so he holed up in Bismark, N. D. But the local record store liked his work, and made some recordings. Soon Charlie was being hounded by many band leaders. He finally joined up with Benny Goodman.

Young and Christian started the ball rolling, and Dizzy Gillespie, Charlie Parker, helped push it along. Like a snowball rolling down a hill, it has grown larger and larger. Today, bebop is here—and it is here to stay.

The story of bebop, like that of swing before it, like the stories of jazz and ragtime before that, has been one of constant struggle against the restrictions imposed on all progressive thought in an art that has been commercialized to the point of prostitution; of struggles against those people who resent anything new which they could neither understand nor perform themselves.

Mortar Board Plans Junior's Banquet

NINE TEAMS ENTER UI POMEROY RODEO

63 Entrants Will Provide Thrills Aplenty For Fans

Rough riding collegiate cowboys from nine Western schools will compete Saturday and Sunday in the Vandal Rider's sponsored Intercollegiate rodeo in Pomeroy, Washington.

Kicking off the two go-around event will be a free cowboy breakfast from 7 to 10 Saturday. A Western dance will be held that night beginning at 8.

Queen Kay LaBarge will reign over the two day affair accompanied by princesses Diane Olmsted and Betty Jo Roberts. All of the girls have been active in western and square dancing organizations both on campus and in their home towns. Miss LaBarge is from Spokane, Miss Olmsted from Grangeville and Miss Roberts from Lewiston.

The nine colleges entered, representing six states, are Washington State College, Pierce J.C. of California, Colorado A & M, Oregon State College, Brigham Young University, Montana State University, Eastern Washington, California Polytechnic, and Idaho.

Prizes for the show will include an inscribed western saddle, which will be awarded to the all around cowboy, and a large team trophy to the best all around team. Engraved belt buckles will be given the first place winners in each event, and additional awards will be made to second, third, and fourth place winners.

Harley Tucker, well known Joseph, Oregon stock raiser, will furnish bucking and roping stock for the show. Wallace Halsey, Astoria, Wash., is show announcer. Halsey is Western Livestock Magazine reporter for the area.

Competing for Idaho will be team captain, Mickey McCarty; C. J. McCarty, Adrian Anderson, Ronald Lee, Rod Lish, Tom McKay, Dick Drashner, Gerald Bishop, Jerry Brumlow, and Charles Thomas. Members of the Vandal Riders will handle ground work at the show. Approximately sixty-five entries have been received for the show. All will be housed in Pomeroy.

Word has been received that the National Inter-Collegiate Rodeo Association will sanction this show. The purpose of the N.I.R.A. is to promote more and better inter-collegiate rodeos and to promote more interest in them. The Riders have just recently joined this organization, as member clubs must be recognized by the school and must have a faculty advisor. The board of regents recently recognized the Vandal Riders as an official U of I organization for the first time.

Show time will be 1:30 p.m. daily. Admission charges will be $1.25 for adults and 50c for children. Family tickets are available for $2.50.

Said head coach J. Neil (Skip) Stahley, "The boys are coming along very satisfactorily now, although we still lack the necessary depth in the backfield and in the end positions. The morale of the team as a whole is very good. We have quite a few sophomores out who are showing much promise."

T. J. Owens, freshman halfback who was injured in the first full game scrimmage, has improved, and will undoubtedly be out for ball in the fall.

The Vandal grid picture is bright for next season, with two former All-American high school stars out now! They are Jack Hogan, 205 pound tackle, a freshman, and Wade Patterson, 214 pound end, who was out last season because of an injury.

Idaho has seventeen lettermen returning for next season, and is unusually strong in the signal calling spot, with seniors Nick Uglelich and Gary Johnson, and junior Howie Willis back.

Rain Halts Intramural Softball

Rain temporarily halted play in intramural softball yesterday as six games were called due to the weather. The contests will be played at the end of the schedule.

Only five teams still remain undefeated with more than half the schedule left to play.

Phi Gamma Delta, defending champions, became the first team to win four games as they picked up a forfeit win over Lambda Chi Alpha Wednesday afternoon. The four other perfect record teams, Delta Tau Delta, Phi Delta Theta, Lindley Hall 1, and Willis Sweet 2, all have 3 and 0 records.

The Phi Deltas will be trying to cut down the half game lead the Fijis hold over them when they meet Kappa Sigma tonight. PDT downed Beta Theta Pi 8 to 4 Wednesday to keep pace with the '55 champions.

Max Durall pitched the Deltas to the League 2 lead with an 11 to 3 victory over the previously undefeated SAE's Tuesday afternoon.

In horseshoe competition defending champion Arlen Chaney, Beta, became the first man to move into quarter-final competition by defeating Grove of Willis Sweet.

Others moving into the third round were, Hardy and Anderson, Phi Delta; Meyer and Harris, ATC; Pearson and Burke, SAE; Smith and Rathburn, Willis Sweet; Nelson, Sigma Nu; B. Parks, TKE; Wood, Kappa Sig; Croy, Lindley Hall, Chandler, Chrisman and Schultz, Beta.

Horseshoe competition will move up a day with the cancellation of yesterday's games because of rain. The tourney will wind up on Thursday.

WRA Hosts HS Playday Saturday

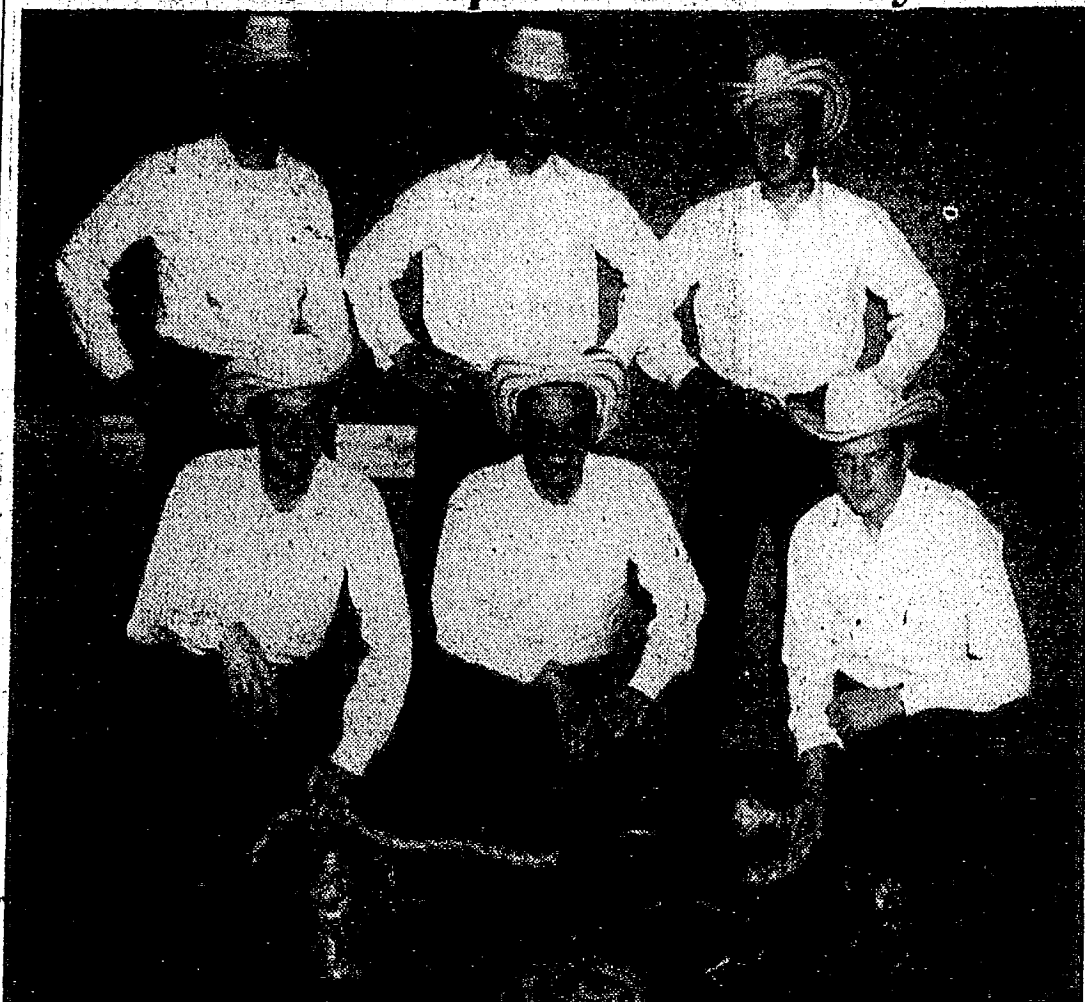

The management class of the Women's Physical Education Department with the assistance of WRA members and P.E. majors will sponsor a playday Saturday.

High School girls from Northern Idaho and Southern Washington will participate. One hundred and eighty girls from 11 different schools in the area are expected.

These girls will take part in volleyball, track and field, and softball; with a recreation period offering any women's sport available at the University. The playday will convene at 8:30 a.m. and will close at 3:30.

A guided tour of the campus will be taken and the girls will be shown to the various playing fields by members of women's living groups on campus.

Idaho's Cowpokes Ride Today

Idaho's six man rodeo team hopes to drop Cal Poly from the top seat in the West as the number one rodeoing school this weekend at the annual spring Intercollegiate rodeo sponsored by the University. Nine teams will compete tomorrow and Sunday at Pomeroy, Washington. Idaho's team includes front row, left to right—Mick McCarty, Tom Mackay and Rod Lish. Rear row, left to right—Gerald Bishop, Adrian (Twirp) Anderson and C. J. McCarty.

Cindermens Challenge ND Champion Oregon

Idaho tracksters will challenge the University of Oregon's long time Northern Division track supremacy tomorrow afternoon when they hit the cinders against these ND defending champions.

Vandal miler Warren Johanson looks good to take a first spot in that event, as the Duck's two great milers, Bill Dellinger and Jim Bailey, will be in Los Angeles tomorrow running with Australia's John Landy. All three will be attempting to run a four minute mile.

Dellinger was 1954 NCAA mile champion, and Bailey is the current NCAA top miler. These two are the best mile duo that any school in the nation can field.

Idaho's mile relay team "may have it a little rough," according to head coach Joe Glander. Oregon is expected to field a good squad in this event. Walt Denny will be back with the Vandal relaymen again for this meet. Other men running this event are Warren Johanson, Bill Bauscher and Henning Olsen.

Milers for the U of I will be Johanson, who was number two man in that event in the PCC in 1950, Doug Seely, and Milt Riggers. In the 100 yard dash, Vandal entrants will be Wilbur Gary and Dick Shern.

Gary and Bauscher will be the Idaho entries in the 220 yard dash. 440 men for the Vandals will be Olsen, Denny and Larry Aldrich, Olsen currently holds the third highest time in the Northern Division in this event, and should not have any serious competition. In the 880 yard run for Idaho will be Johanson and Seely.

Larry Church will compete in both the high and low hurdles for the Vandals. Larry Aldrich will also be running the highs, and Denny will be entered in the lows.

Gary, Bauscher, and Shern will constitute the Idaho entry for the broadjump event in the field section of the meet. Gary, the strongest man that Idaho has in the event, will have tough sledding as he will be jumping against Ore-

Parberry Happy With Vandal Diamond Trip

Coach Clem Parberry attributed Idaho's road trip success to "hustle and heads up playing" yesterday as the Vandals went in the field house for a batting workout. The coach said one more win would have made it a "great trip."

Idaho won two and dropped four in the treacherous Death Valley invasion which circled around the Oregon schools to the University of Washington.

The Vandals meet Eastern Washington on McLean field tomorrow afternoon in a non-conference tilt at 1:30. The teams split a pre-season doubleheader.

"In the games we won," Parberry said, "we did it through good base running and alert fielding. We could have had another win against Oregon and should have beaten OSC once, but we didn't hit well enough."

The Coach was pleased with the hurling of Doug Randall, sophomore righthander, who set Oregon down 6-5. The win gave Randall a 2-2 record.

In past years the swing through Oregon and Washington has proved disastrous for Idaho. Parberry was well pleased with his pitching staff which worked six games in seven days.

Lower Leads

Infielder Ralph Lower continues to lead the Vandals at the plate with a hefty .581 average with 16 hits in 31 trips. Catcher Jim Howard leads the regulars with a .323 average and 17 RBIs.

Howard, second baseman Jim Chrisman and centerfielder Duane Moore have the most hits, 20, and left fielder Ron Braden has scored the most runs, 17.

The figures are for the entire season in which Idaho has won 13 and lost 10. The Vandals have a three and five conference record, good for third place ahead of Oregon State and Washington.

WSC Next

The Vandals get another good workout next week, meeting league leading Washington State Monday at Pullman and Tuesday at Moscow and will meet Oregon State in a weekend battle here.

Said head tennis coach Frank Young, "Although both of these schools are always tough tennis competitors, we hope to oke something out of the trip. The squad has improved very much since last week. The boys have been working out every night and have been concentrating on their serves."

The squad will have five more matches, against Eastern Washington, Seattle University, the U of W, and WSC, before leaving May 24 for the Northern Division PCC matches in Corvallis.

Traveling to Oregon by auto, the team will include captain Sonny Long, George Heiber, Dave Cummins, Keith Spencer, and Dick Smith.
