Fraternity Rush Dates Set For September 16-19

Interfraternity Council today set September 16 to 19 as official dates for fall rush and looked forward to 16 fraternities participating.

President Pat Daly said registration for rush would close at 12 noon September 16 and activities would close September 19 with pledging. Farm House, a professional agriculture fraternity, and Theta Chi will join with Idaho's 14 other fraternities in rush.

Rush chairman is Larry Haight, with assistants chairmen John Wood and Don Wavra. Daly said the appointment of assistants was a move to train men to take over the chairman's job the following year.

First day rush activities will include a general tour of all fraternities with dates starting the following day. These will continue until Wednesday evening when rushes will pledge.

Daly said the IFC will publish an enlarged rush magazine aimed at informing rushees about Idaho fraternities. He said these would be available before June 13.

Movie Illustrates Life On Campus Of Wisconsin U.

Students got a glimpse of a multi-million dollar "campus community center," the Memorial Union Building at the University of Wisconsin, in a color film shown Monday through Thursday in the Buck.

Entitled "Living Room of the University—The Story of a Building and an Idea," the production made a sweeping survey of the activities and benefits of the Union during its 25th anniversary in 1953. According to the film, the building has established itself as the center of life on the U. of W. campus.

Included were scenes explaining Wisconsin's all-campus open house, dances, students working the crafts shop, installing art exhibits, the Union Theatre, kitchens that prepare 6000-8000 meals a day and an outdoor program which includes mountaineering, sailing, ski jumping—all sponsored by the Union.

Personalities introduced in the film included Jascha Heifetz, violinist; Tyrgve Lie, former secretary-general of the United Nations and Charles Peterson, world's champion billiard player, who performed earlier this year.

Wilke Heads Union Comm.

"I would like a year in Spain," he said, "but that can wait. Meantime, I shall read and write."

Scholarly Author
Church is the author of the book, "The Italian Reformers," which had an Italian translation in two volumes. He has also written more book reviews than he can remember for scholarly and professional journals, but now he intends to concentrate more on writing material for others to review.

He was graduated from Cornell University in 1909, and received his doctorate from that institution in 1916. Besides his many years of teaching at Idaho, he taught two years at the University of Missouri, one at Williams college and two at Penn State. Then, in 1929, he took a semester's leave from the University of Idaho to serve as a guest lecturer at the University of Chicago.

McDevitt Practiced What He Preaches

By SALLY BEATTIE
"The role of student government covers anything that affects the students," Chuck McDevitt, outgoing ASUI president said this week. He explained that the students originally went together for the common good and expressed the opinion that student government should not be limited, but should only be directed from the faculty.

The People Want To Help

Up at Kellogg they are dedicating a new million dollar high school. Over in Idaho Falls, which only two years ago completed a million dollar high school, they are going to build another million dollars worth of classroom buildings. Our own Latah County town of Potlatch last week (after three failures) approved bonds to complete its current school building program.

These are but proofs that the people are aware of their educational responsibilities, and that they care. On the other side of the picture we've been chagrined these many years at the callous attitude toward education of Idaho's leading newspaper, the Boise Statesman.

This week a Statesman column again questioned the need for higher salaries for teachers by citing figures supplied by the Idaho Idaho Education Association and then attacking them in an attempt to prove that the loss this past year of 986 teachers from Idaho's 5000 schoolrooms was not due to low salaries available in our state.

We'll agree with The Statesman that you can always get a teacher no matter what the salary. The Statesman can always get a reporter, too, no matter what the salary—the only thing is that The Statesman couldn't publish with the kind of reporters it could get if it offered less than the going rate.

That's the situation in Idaho. If we are satisfied to fill our schools with teachers that stay in Idaho because they've been fired in other states, or couldn't get teaching jobs elsewhere, then the problem is solved.

The people of Idaho, however, will not be satisfied long with that type of teacher. Our children deserve better. We'd like to say they deserve the best.

As we've pointed out many times before Idaho is not unique in feeling the squeeze on teacher pay, or just the lack of teachers. It exists throughout the country. Idaho is a favorite hunting ground for Oregon, California and Washington schools whose superintendents and personnel directors comb our state on personal trips. They pick up the desirable teachers at salaries that average around $1,000 a year more than most Idaho schools can pay.

The only inducement that can be held out to young people to enter the teaching profession in Idaho is that it offers an easy existence. There are nice vacation schedules and the security that comes with the assurance that the teacher will never be fired. Any bright young person with ambition for a comfortable income isn't looking forward to a career as an Idaho school teacher.—Moscow Idahoan.

J.J. on Jazz

Since we are nearing the end of the year, I thought that with the possibility of this being my last article, I would give a review of west coast jazz highlights for the year 1955.

Dave Brubeck's Quartet won the Down-Beat annual poll for top instrumental combo; Stan Kenton won the jazz band award. Chet Baker, Stan Getz, Gerry Mulligan, Buddy De Franco, Shelly Manne and Pete Rugolo, all were winners. The emphasis was on the West Coast as far as the public was concerned.

The first in-person experience many West Coast men had with real Afro-Cuban music was when the Machito band made its initial appearances in Los Angeles and San Francisco. The top news early in the year was that Atlantic had snatched Shorty Rogers away from RCA Victor to act as musical director for Atlantic's new LP series and also to record for them as a leader.

Brubeck Fourth

In February, Columbia announced that West Coast Dave Brubeck was the fourth best-selling artist on their album list. Capitol was sold to the European corporation, E.M.I., and West Coast Jazz was formalized by the publication of Bill Claxton's book, "Jazz: West Coast."

In March, Anne Richards, a girl from Walnut Creek, a suburb of San Francisco, achieved her life-long ambition and joined the Stan Kenton band as vocalist and at the end of the year married Kenton. March also saw Ella Fitzgerald, after shooting her scenes for "Pete Kelly's Blues," make her historic appearances at the Mocambo in Hollywood and the Fairmont in San Francisco.

In June, the Hi-Lo's started their sensational night club appearances at Fack's in San Francisco. This was also the month that Eddie Garland and Kid Ory had their celebrated one-round non-title battle at the Hangover in Frisco, which resulted in the breakup of the Ory band and the breaking of Ory's collarbone, when he fell off the stand.

During July and August, Bill Perkins, Jimmy Giuffe, Howard Roberts, Bob Gordon and Cal Tjader emerged as New Stars in the Down Beat's Critic's Poll.

In September, Erroll Garner broke the house record at the Black Hawk in San Francisco, and Turk Murphy was written up both in Esquire and Holiday, Shelly Manne split from Shorty Rogers to form his own group.

In October, the Kenton-Showcase played two weeks of colleges and Army camps on the West Coast and Gene Norman and Frank Bull sold out their eighth Dixieland Jubilee concert proving there's a market for both traditional and modern jazz.

1955 was a healthy year for jazz on the Coast and by the looks of things, 1956 should even be healthier.

St. Petersburg, Fla. (ACP) — From the Wooden Horse, published at St. Petersburg Junior College, this story for the day:

Tom: "She's my sister."

John: "Shove her off the dock."

What young people are doing at General Electric

Young ad man handles G-E jet and rocket engine advertising

The first jet engine ever to power an American plane was built by General Electric in 1942. Since 1948, G.E. has supplied the Air Force with over 30,000 of its famous J47 jet engines. And General Electric's jet experience soon will be paying additional new dividends to national defense. Its J79—called the most advanced engine of its type in the world—will soon enter production.

The man responsible for reporting G.E.'s jet and rocket engine progress to its customers and the public is Roy O. Stratton, Jr., 27-year-old account supervisor in the Company's Apparatus Advertising and Sales Promotion Department.

Stratton's Work Important, Interesting

Stratton supervises the planning and preparation of direct-mail promotion, brochures, films and presentations, as well as public-informational space advertisements for Time, U.S. News & World Report, Business Week, Aviation Week, and other magazines.

Considerable personal contact with the Armed Services makes Stratton's job an interesting one. Last year he traveled over 60,000 miles, visiting many of the country's Air Force bases to gather necessary information and pictures.

25,000 College Graduates at General Electric

When Stratton came to General Electric in 1952, he already knew the kind of work he wanted to do. Like each of our 25,000 college graduates, he is being given the chance to grow and realize his full potential. For General Electric has long believed this: when fresh young minds are given the freedom to develop, everybody benefits—the individual, the Company, and the country.

In the end, it all comes out of your pocket

"You hear a lot of complaints these days about high taxes. And rightly so.

"But most people who complain about the tax bite are referring to their income tax. Ever stop to think about some of the other taxes you pay that aren't quite as obvious—yet they run up the bill just the same?"

"The taxes, for example, that you pay business as part of the cost of every product you buy.

"Take, for instance, property taxes in Santa Barbara County, California. Last year they amounted to $11,897,300. Union Oil paid 5.15% of that $11,897,300. Add what the other 34 oil companies in the county contributed, and the petroleum industry accounted for 26% of the county's property tax.

"I said the petroleum industry. Actually, the money came from the customers of the industry as part of the cost of product. And it's the same in every business.

"That's why, every time any taxes are increased, it's really your taxes that are raised. In the end, it all comes out of your pocket."

Dewey Shepherd speaks with more than casual authority. He manages Union Oil's tax department, and is responsible for paying our taxes to some 800 government agencies.

Today your total tax bill for government is approximately 30% of national income. This is more than a week of every month you work, and it doesn't promise to get any cheaper.

It seems to us that this kind of taxation is confiscatory. And whether it means to or not, it can cripple the free competitive economy on which it depends.

WSC-USC Begin Fight For PCC Title Today

Northern Division champion Washington State College begins their fight for the Pacific Coast Conference title this afternoon when they meet Southern Division title-holding University of Southern California.

The best of three series, on Cougar home territory, will begin this afternoon at 3, and action will start at 1:30 tomorrow afternoon, with a third game to be played later that same day if it is necessary.

The WSC-Idaho final ND double-header was rained out last Saturday but a 4-1 loss by the Vandals on Friday had already assured the ND crown to the Cougars.

Washington State College has announced that it is prepared to handle a capacity crowd of about 4000.

Student-Faculty WRA Softball Highlights Action

W.R.A. diamond players will be out for revenge this afternoon at four on the hockey field when they meet a Women's P.E. faculty nine, winners last year, for the annual faculty-student soft ball game.

The student team is composed of one girl from each of the teams entered in the W.R.A. softball tournament, and the faculty team is made up of instructors from the Phys Ed. Department.

A group of Idaho women journeyed to WSC Saturday for an interschool softball game. "The results were devastating (?), but everyone had a good time."

Netmen Close Season With 4th In ND

The Idaho tennis team closed its season by slipping into fourth place of Washington State to close out a season by slipping into fourth place and eight losses.

The netmen, who were unable to win a match in Northern Division play, picked up their only win of the season when they stopped Eastern Washington in their first match of the season, 7 to 0.

Coach Frank Young said he felt the team played better tennis than last, but that the competition was much tougher.

The University of Washington was extremely strong as the Vandals won only one game against them in their meeting at Moscow. The Huskies went on to take their seventeenth consecutive ND tennis title by outlasting Oregon State at Corvallis last week.

The netmen will lose seniors Sonny Long and George Heiber, but will have lettermen Dick Smith and Dave Cummins returning for next year's squad.

Each of these boys were consistent winners in their events during their school's competition this season. They will each run the 100 and the 220 yard dashes. Dickinson was a steady winner in the broad jump but will not be entered in that event for this meet. Dickinson also has one of the highest season point totals for state track, averaging about fifteen points per meet last season.

From Lewis-Clark Normal School in Lewiston, Brian Hepler will throw the javelin and Del Fox will toss the 16-pound hammer for the Jaycee's squad.

WSC Men
Also entered with this team will be Jim Richards, in the broad jump and the hop-step-and-jump; Frank Brown, shot put and discus; Burl Grinols, shot put and discus; Darrell Pearson, javelin; Bob Duncan, 440 and 880; Jerry Kenaston, pole vault; Max Reder, two mile and three mile runs; and John Midtho, 880, all of whom are from WSC.

Midtho has also qualified for the NCAA meet and not eligible to pick up points at Missoula. Stiff competition is expected for the sprint men, Gary of Idaho, and Dickinson and Gustafson of Lewiston, as Don Brandt, Skline Conference champion has run a 9.5 second 100 yard dash and a 20.8 second 220.

Idaho State Amateur Golf Tourney To Go At Moscow

The tournament, which will decide the Idaho state amateur golf championship, will be played on the University course and the Moscow Elks club course.

According to Dr. W. E. Boyer, president of the Idaho State Golf Association, present plans call for the first nine holes of the qualifying rounds to be played on the Elks course and second nine on the University course. From there on the qualifiers will alternate from course to course, with the title matches in all flights set for Saturday.

This is the first time the Idaho title has been decided on a Moscow course. The last time the tournament was held in North Idaho, in 1954, it was held at Hayden Lake.

The tournament which is expected to attract nearly 200 golfers presents a problem on housing and eating, but according to Boyer it has been worked out satisfactorily by utilizing catering spots available at the University and in Moscow.

Boyer also stated another problem has been to provide transportation between the two courses which are three miles apart; but he stated this problem is now whipped, so those who plan to enter need have no worries.

Howard Cops Batting Honors With .298

Jim Howard, big senior co-captain of the Idaho baseball squad, took team batting honors for the season, as the Vandals closed one of their best seasons in years with a 16 and 15 record.

The Vandals, who were barely edged out of fourth place in the Northern Division by Washington, finished the conference with a 4 win and 10 loss record. The team composed of a large number of promising sophomores split their four game series with Washington, beat Oregon one game, and hapded Washington State, the ND champions, one of their three losses.

Howard, who cracked out 25 hits in 84 trips to the plate to record a .298 batting average, led all of the regulars but was out-hit by Ralph Lower and Jim Throckmorton, neither of whom played regularly.

Lower, who started the season at third base and played outfield later in the season, hit an amazing .541; and Throckmorton, a reserve outfielder, hit .364 for the season.

Following close behind Howard was centerfielder Duane Moore who collected 29 base hits in 101 at bats. Co-captain Ron Braden, left field, was third among the regulars with .284; and first baseman Ray Copeland hit .266 for the fourth best average.

In Northern Division batting Howard's average shot up 50 points to .348, and Braden posted a .297 average. Lower got five Vopat hits in 11 trips to top all Vandal batters a .455 in ND play. Moore tied Howard for the most number of runs batted in as both accounted for 18 Vandal tallies. Copeland got 16 RBIs, and Outfielder Wally Brown and second baseman Jim Chrisman each accounted for 14. Infielder John Sullivan, who missed the first half of the season because of a bad knee, made every hit count as he drove in 7 runs with 8 hits.
