STUDYING CAN BE BEAUTIFUL

Is studying bugging you? Do you have trouble remembering names, dates, facts, figures, and the location of the library? Dear friends, it need not be so. All you have to do is master the simple art of mnemonics.

Mnemonics, as we all know, was invented by the great Greek philosopher Mnemon in 526 B.C. Mnemonics, incidentally, was only one of the many inventions of this fertile Athenian. He is perhaps best known for his invention of the staircase, which, as you may imagine, was of inestimable value to mankind. Before the staircase, people who wished to go from floor to floor had to leap from springboards. This meant, of course, that aged and infirm persons were forced to live out their lives, willynilly, on the ground floor, and many of them grew cross as bears. Especially Demosthenes, who was elected consul of Athens three times but never served because he was unable to get up to the office of the of oaths on the third floor to be sworn in.

But after Mnemon's staircase was invented, Demosthenes got up to the third floor easy as pie and took the oath-to Athens' sorrow, as it turned out. Demosthenes, his temper shortened by years of confinement to the ground floor, soon embroiled his countrymen in a series of senseless and costly wars with the Persians, the Visigoths, and the Ogallala Sioux. He was voted out of office in 517 B.C., and Mnemon, who had made his accession possible, was pelted to death with fruit salad in the Duomo.

 ${f B}$ ut I digress. We were discussing mnemonics, which are nothing more than aids to memory - catchwords or jingles that help you to remember names, dates, and places. For example, any student of American history surely knows the little jingle:

Columbus sailed the ocean blue In fourteen hundred ninety two.

You see how simple a mnemonic is? There is no reason why you can't make up your own. Say, for instance, that you are proceeding with American history.

The Pilgrims landed on Plymouth Rock In sixteen hundred twenty, doc. (This jingle is especially useful to medical students.) The next important event is the Boston Tea Party. Let us compose a rough-and-ready couplet about that: Samuel Adams flung the tea

Exchanges Celebrate Halloween

Various houses held annual exchanges Wednesday evening, as Halloween was celebrated at the University of Idaho.

The Tri-Delt and Delt exchange was held. at the women's house, Everyone dressed as a hobo and ate dinner on the dining room floor. Entertainment was furnished by pledges of both groups, followed by dancing in the dining room.

Betas and DG's held their Halloween exchange at the Beta House DG pledges put on a fashion show entitled "What Bob Beta would wear." The Beta pledges then entertained with their rendition of "Halloween Around the World." A trip through "Spook Alley" was next on the program, with dancing and cider to top off the evening.

"Pajama Game"

The Alpha Chi-Sigma Nu exchange took place at the Sigma Nu House, where the Alpha Chi pledges put on a skit, "The Pajama Game." Dick Newell and Kent Al sager pantomimed the records "Sewer Song" and "Yellow Rose of Texas." Apple-bobbing and dancing followed.

Forney Hall girls were guests at Willis Sweet, where about 50 couples enjoyed a dinner exchange. After bobbing for apples the students danced.

Pi Phi's started out their exchange with the ATOs by going over to the ATO house and bringing the members back. The brave one went through a "Spook Alley" equipped with obstructions, wet sheets, and bloody pieces of liver. Two contests were held, with Kris Anderson and Dewey Ibson winning the "mask contest" and "Mert and Mat" winning the jitterbug contest.

Kappas and SAE's held their exchange this year at the SAE. The pledges had dinner at the SAE house and the members ate at the Kappa's. Several games were played and then apple-bobbing and dancing followed.

Band Plays

The Gamma Phi and Phi Delt dinner and dance exchange was enlivened by the music of Jim Mercer and his band. For entertainment, the Phi Delts provided a reading and a comedy skit. Another reading was given by the Gamma Phi's. During the dance, refreshments of doughnuts and ci-
